Two Charged With Murder Following Officer's Shooting

POSSE IS IN SEARCH FOR MORE

Harve Bolin Is Shot Down As Arrest Is Tried

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 22.—Charged with the murder of Harve Bolin, veteran Plains peace officer, Lee Peabworth lies in the Baptist hospital at Clovis, N. M. A hospital attendant said he was shot over the left kidney, and that although his condition is serious, he will probably recover.

Peabworth was captured at the Diamond ranch, twelve miles southwest of Tatum, N. M., about noon Saturday by Sheriff Beverly of Lea county, New Mexico and his deputies, Dow Woods, C. Shannon and Don McComb. With Peabworth was Stanley Headrick, who is held in jail at Fortales and will be charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of the Plainview officer.

The arrest of Joe Jones, son-in-law of Peabworth was to be made, District Attorney J. C. Crumpton of the 9th New Mexico District said. Jones, he said, will be charged with murder, officers believing he, too, participated in the shooting although he did not flee with the others. The tragedy which ended the life of Harve Bolin and resulted in the serious wounding of another deputy Sheriff, R. L. Hollis of Portales, is a sequel to the robbing of the Olton State bank at Olton on July 15. Indictments were returned in the 64th District court at Olton Saturday. Judge Charles Clements stated, Lee Peabworth, Jack Sullivan, H. C. Hunsucker and Henry Reed were charged jointly with robbing with firearms, L. E. Silcott, cashier of the bank, of $3,650.

Reed was taken on the night of August 18 at the farm of Bob Norfleet, northwest of Plainview, where he was arrested as a suspect in the robbery of a filling station at Tahoma and lodged in the jail at Plainview. Within twenty-four hours he stood under indictment also in the Olton robbery.

Early Saturday morning six officers from Lamb and Hale counties and Roosevelt county, New Mexico, went to the ranch of Lee Peabworth, forty-eight miles southeast of Portales, N. M., with warrants for the arrest of Peabworth, Jack Sullivan and H. C. Hunsucker. They arrived there about three o'clock. In the posse were Sheriff Bob Crim and his deputy, Bob Miller of Littlefield, Harve Bolin, who had been employed as a special deputy by Lamb county, District Attorney Meade F. Griffin of Plainview and deputies Sheriff Jevan and Roosevelt county, Jack Howard and R. L. Hollis.

They laid in waiting until inmates of the ranch house began to stir about the place. Peabworth left the house and went down to a corn field. He returned to the barn. Others came out to assist in the chores.

The officers moved on the barn, hoping to make arrests while their suspects were unarmed. Bolin, Hollis and Miller moved between the house and the barn and an order to "throw up your hands" was shouted by the officers. An immediate volley of shots was the reply Bolin was shot in the head, over the right eye and fell dead. Hollis was shot in the mouth and the right thigh and his condition is critical. The officers opened fire and the bested took cover behind feed troughs and the pumping at them. The fire was kept up as officers had exhausted their ammunition. Leaving the scene of the shooting, Peabworth and it is thought two others, fled in the car. When Peabworth and Headrick were taken by officers later in the day Harve Bolin's 30-30 Winchester and his pistol were found in the car. Bolin, officers on the raid said, is believed to have been killed before he ever fired a shot.

Fifty Texas and New Mexico officers participated in the search that resulted in the two arrests. Peabworth and Headrick were taken by officers later in the day Harve Bolin's 30-30 Winchester and his pistol were found in the car. Bolin, officers on the raid said, is believed to have been killed before he ever fired a shot.

FERGUSON RALLY HERE TONIGHT

Jim Ferguson Charged Gets Rebuttal From Ely

W. R. Ely, chairman of the state highway commission has again in vigorous terms branded as false and ridiculous James E. Ferguson's repeated charge that there is a shortage of $112,255,607.85 in the highway department.

Ely quotes a letter from Moore Lynn, state auditor, addressed to Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, as authority for saying that $18,916,840.25 of Ferguson's charge is based on the unique accounting theory that one to whom funds have been entrusted must be required to account for spending funds that have not been spent, but that are actually on hand in cash or invested in securities.

Ely further states that $23,022,649.05 of the shortage charged is grounded on the wholly unwarranted assumption that cash expenditures for bridges, equipment, administrative salaries, general expenses, tax refunds, maintenance of the state highway patrol, and other legitimate payments made by the highway department are not allowable as a credit against funds received.

The larger portion of the claimed shortage, $71,395,484.71, Ely said, rests on an erroneous assumption as to the length of time roads have been maintained, erroneous figures as to the number of miles maintained, totally incorrect figures as to the number of miles of various classes of roads constructed, and wholly imaginary figures as to the cost of both maintenance and construction. It might be said here that the present commission has both repealed and maintained roads cheaper than the Ferguson administration.

Ely quotes the state auditor's letter to the highway engineer as follows: "As requested by you orally some ten days ago, and by letter of August 19th, we have prepared from the records of the highway department and the comptroller's office a detailed statement relative to the charge of James E. Ferguson that there is a shortage of $112,255,607.85 in the highway department."

"Our audit of the state highway department, in connection with which preliminary report has been rendered, covers only the period of September 1, 1929, to August 31, 1931. It has been necessary, therefore, that figures used in the statement submitted, applicable to the period not covered by our audit, be submitted as reflected by the records of the state highway department and the comptroller's office."

"In this Ferguson Forum of June 30, 1932, under the heading 'Who Got the 100 Million?' James E. Ferguson makes a number of wild calculations and misstatements, and ends up with the wholly unjustified conclusion that the state highway department 'is at least $112,255,607.85 short and to the bad.'"

"Ferguson's conclusions as a whole are arrived at by omissions, misstatements, and misstatements. The errors in his statement, explained in detail later, may be summarized as follows: "He is wrong in his statement of cash to be accounted for to the extent of $17,837,074.09. He leaves out entirely the cost of more than 57 miles of bridges at a cost of $13,621,668.55. He conveniently overlooks and leaves out entirely disbursements for purchase of equipment, for administrative salaries, expenses, and overhead, directly authorized by the legislature; and for refund of motor bus seating costs maintained by the state highway patrol, research work, etc., amounting to $9,400,980.50.

For Governor

Fred W. Davis Will Begin Speaking At 8:30

"I will make an appeal, not a fight, when I take the platform tonight for Mrs. Miriam Ferguson."

This was the promise of Fred W. Davis, Austin speaker, formerly the commissioner of agriculture for six years during the Jim Ferguson and Hobby administrations, and director of warehouses under Commissioner Terrell. Davis will speak at the Midland court house lawn this evening at 8:30.

He will be introduced by Mrs. John Haley, who has been one of the strongest Ferguson supporters in Midland for the past several years.

With Davis, a lay speaker, is Chester Freund of Austin, owner of the 22-section Scratch ranch in Andrews county. Freund will not speak, but is giving every unofficial support possible to the Ferguson campaign led to his friend, Texas. "I will not make a political oration," Davis said. "I will give my reasons for support of Mrs. Ferguson and my objections to the platform of her opponent."

"I will deal very little in personalities, for personalities are of minor importance in comparison with the campaign platform."

"I wish to make an appeal, not a fight."

Charles E. Odons, Gladewater man who formerly led at McCamey, was introduced at this morning in the presence of Mrs. Ferguson's campaign, and said he would speak this afternoon at 2:30 at Odessa, going this evening to Monahans for a night's rest.

Ferguson would win in the gubernatorial race by a comfortable margin.

NOTED SCHOLAR OF SIMMONS U. SUCCEUMS TODAY

ABELLENE, Aug. 22. (UP).—Dr. Oscar Henry Cooper, 80, head of the Simmons university department of education, and co-author of a bill to establish Simmons University, died here this morning after illness which has lasted a month.

Dr. Cooper was a nationally known educator. He had held various offices in societies of educators and was the author of several text books.

Overwhelming victory is assured Railroad Commissioner C. V. Terrell, his supporters believe, with the recent announcement of Roy I. Tennant, that he would cast his vote for Terrell in the run-off election.

Mr. Tennant opposed the present chairman of the railroad commission in the first primary, piling up a high vote which carried him to third place in the final count. Terrell is running for his second full term as a member of the commission. He carried over 185 counties with a total ballot that gave him an overwhelming lead over his closest opponent.

"I would like to express my sincere appreciation of Mr. Tennant for his announcement that he would vote for me in the run-off," Terrell said as soon as he read Tennant's announcement.

"I want to assure Mr. Tennant and the great number of voters who supported him in the first primary that when I am re-elected, I shall continue to conduct my office with the same high purpose that I have followed in the past."

In his statement, Tennant said that he did not want to try to dictate to his friends but rather than give the impression of riding the fence, he was declaring publicly that his vote would go to Terrell.

"During the latter part of the run-off campaign, Terrell announced he would make at least five speeches at strategic points over the state. More will be made if his duties at Austin permit. He will confine these addresses to outlining the functions of the railroad commission and the vital part it plays in the operation of the state government."

MRS. MCCORMICK BETTER CHICAGO, Aug. 22. (UP).—Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, today was reported to be "much stronger" although physicians held little hope for her recovery.

RFC LOAN SUM GIVEN OUT TODAY

$55,000,000 to About 400 Borrowers in Late July

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (UP).—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation loaned or allotted $55,000,000 to more than 400 authorized borrowers during the last ten days of July, a report made public today despite protest of the administration.

South Trimble, clerk of the house, revealed that the president's representative had telephoned him last week protesting making the report public. Trimble advised in reply to Representative Treadway, republican, of Massachusetts, who complained that the clerk ordered the data published "to gain favor with Garner" that "such a charge is ridiculous."

CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR STILL USE OLD PLANS

BY SAM D. HALLES DALLAS, Aug. 22 (UP).—Campaign tactics of the two candidates for governor in the Texas election, the run-off show marked contrasts. Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband-advisor, James E. Ferguson, both former governors, are following their first primary plans, but Governor Ross S. Sterling's camp has made several changes.

Despite the small army of Sterling speakers and the week-end joint appearances of the Fergusons, the run-off is lacking in color and fire that marked that of 1926 when Mrs. Ferguson lost to Dan Moody and that of 1930 when she lost to Sterling.

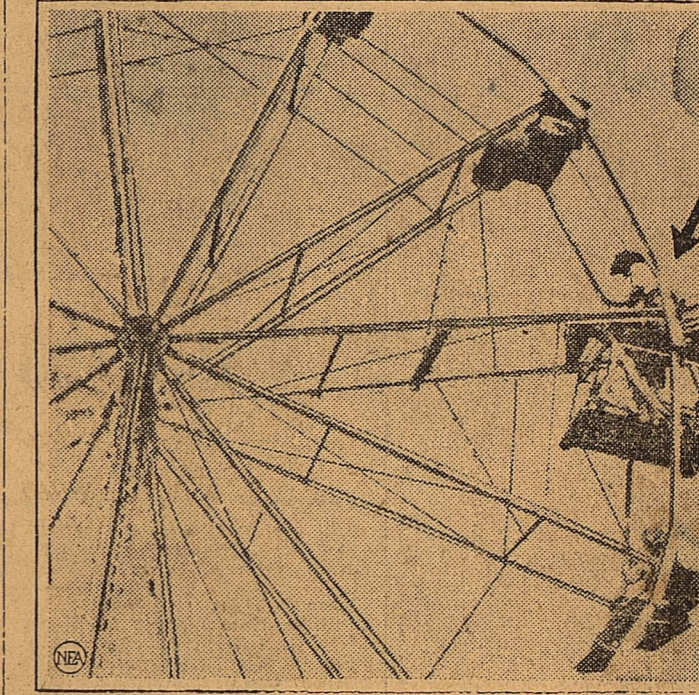

Probably the most human touch given the run-off has been the entrance of Mrs. Sterling, exponent of simple home life, into her husband's campaign, who she calls "the crusade against power without responsibility." The hustings now have two balanced teams of husband and wife.

Sharing in interest with Mrs. Sterling's participation is the marked change in Moody's tactics since the July 23 primary. Though Sterling's campaign executives are making greater use of Moody's political experience in managing the campaign, he is still making a number of speeches.

In the first primary campaign his speeches were so fiery and so largely devoted to reviews of the "lie" of James E. Ferguson that some Sterling supporters felt renewal of the Ferguson-Moody feud hurt the governor's cause.

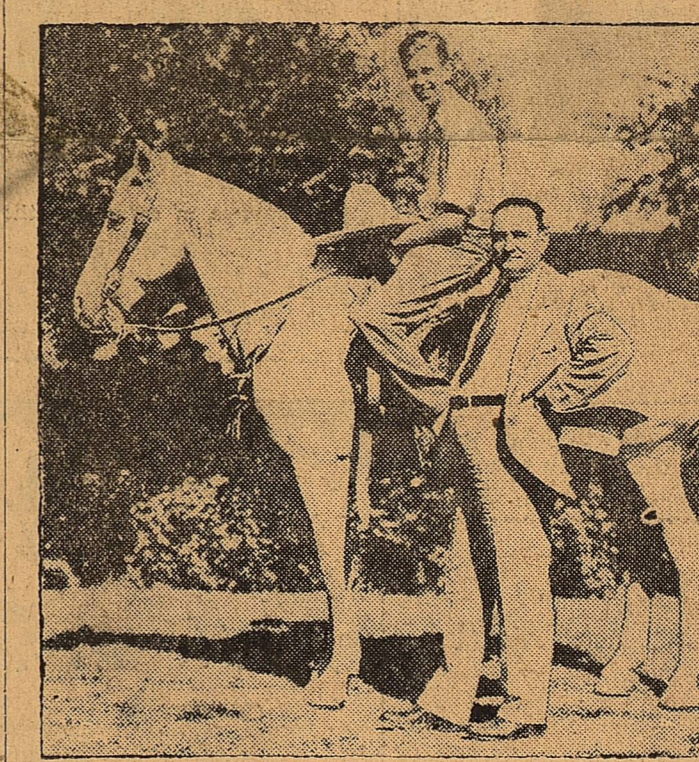

Moody is one of probably a 1,000 speakers working for Sterling in spheres ranging from the entire state down to precincts and city blocks. The Sterling forces are carrying out the "schoolhouse" campaign they agreed upon at their Fort Worth rally recently.

Cowboy and Pony Take Sky Ride

The cow jumped over the moon had very little on Cowboy Willis Fisher's pony which, with its own astride, took a ride on a ferris wheel at a fair at Georgetown, Tex. Fisher and his mount are shown here (indicated by arrow) as they made the daring trip, just to prove it could be done. On the first attempt, the pony slipped partly off the improvised platform and fell as the platform neared the ground, but Fisher mounted again and the second trip was made successfully.

New Rough-Riding Roosevelt?

Here's John Roosevelt, youngest son of the Democratic presidential nominee, all ready for a gallop on the snow-white mount presented him by Democrats of New Mexico upon the occasion of visit to Albuquerque. Beside him is Mayor Clyde Tingley of Albuquerque, who for good measure of hospitality, threw in the ten-gallon hat on John's saddlehorn.

Misunderstanding Is Feared by Gov. Sterling

AUSTIN, Aug. 22. (UP).—Rangers who swept into East Texas Sunday from the Rio Grande and other parts of the state returned home to their stations today, leaving East Texas law enforcement to Ranger Captain Tom Hickman and a North Texas company of ten men.

Details of the mysterious movement of practically all of the Rangers into the oil fields were guarded with silence here. It was unofficially reported that protests caused Governor Sterling to countermand his order placing the Rangers in the fields.

The Rangers were cooperating with District Attorney John E. Taylor of Gregg county, it was admitted here. Whether Taylor asked for the general Ranger movement was not disclosed.

It was denied here that presence of the Rangers was due to the run-off primary next Saturday. The Austin American said that the governor's withdrawal was due to fear that their presence might be misunderstood as an attempt to guard the ballot boxes.

Praises Water Carnival Here

The scout program could be advanced considerably if all towns could offer similar programs to the Buffalo Trails carnival, according to a letter from Charles E. Paxton, area chairman, to John P. Howe, Midland district chairman.

I wish to thank you on behalf of the Buffalo Trails carnival for the splendid program you afforded the boys on the 16th," he began. "From information gathered from the boys who participated, it was probably one of the best meets they have had in some time."

"If all the towns in our council would afford like programs, we would have little trouble in advancing the program."

"I wish you would thank all the others boys for me for their part in this splendid meet."

FIRED MEN TAKE RELIEF WORKER, RELEASE LATER

CHARLES CITY, IA., Aug. 22. (UP).—Miss Marion Stull, overseer of the poor, was abducted from her office in the city hall this morning by a crowd of unemployed. The woman was carried screaming downstairs to an automobile by a mob of dissatisfied job seekers. Search was started immediately and she was found, released, at Alta Vista, thirty miles from here. The abductors had fled.

Introduces Men At Stanton Rally

Mrs. J. E. Kelly, associate editor of the Stanton Reporter, presided at the Stanton rally in Stanton Saturday afternoon and introduced the speakers. Mrs. Kelly praised the spirit of the people in coming out to hear the "truth" about state affairs. The Midland speakers were highly complimentary of the audience at Stanton, declaring the Martin county people gave them a respectful and attentive hearing.

MIDLAND GOLFERS HUMBLE SECOND SAND BELT GOLF LOOP LEADER

SWEETWATER LOSES TO LOCALS HERE IN SUNDAY PLAY 25-18; BIG SPRING DROPPED DECISION SUNDAY BEFORE

While Midland was losing out of town matches in the Sand Belt golf association a few weeks ago, members of the club used to say, "Wait till we play on the home course."

Yesterday, for the second consecutive Sunday, the logic of that forecast was proved. Midland beat the league leading Sweetwater club 25-18, after beating the second place Big Spring club 25-10 the week before.

Colorado, believed to have stepped into second place Sunday, although official results of other Sand Belt play had not been received, will be in Midland for a match Sunday. The clustering of games at Midland is due to Midland's having to play games away from the home course earlier in the season, due to a lake forming on three fairways during a rainy season.

Soudworth's 76, beat Frank Day's 75, one up on 20 holes, and Wadley's 76 beat Billy Moran's 78, one up on 18, to give Sweetwater low ball one up on 18 in the first brackets.

C. L. Jackson lost to Ed Hennig, one up over 18, but Delo Douglas beat Shaw, 6-5, and Midland won the low ball match one up over 21 holes in the second bracketing. Douglas played a nice game, being three down before reaching the turn and coming back with a great display of golf form.

In the third foursome, Beall beat Arch Thomas, 3-2, but E. M. Miller, continuing a winning streak he has exhibited most of the season, won from Ditz, 7-3, Miller shooting a 39 and 38 to post the second lowest round of the day. Midland won the low ball match 4-3.

Joe Chambers beat Allen 3-1 and Harry Adams was in the unusual position of drawing a bye in the fourth foursome, one of the Sweetwater golfers failing to show up. The visitors believed that a player would be here to substitute for a regular who was unable to come. Midland won the low ball match 5-4.

The performance of Miller is cited by members of the Midland club as particularly outstanding. He has been the most steady player of the season, and is playing regular competitive golf for the first time.

Jess Willard, At 49, Wants Shot at Jack

LOS ANGELES.—Jess Willard, world heavyweight boxing champion from 1915 to 1919, wants just one more fight—with Jack Dempsey. The mammoth Kansan, who won the title from Jack Johnson at Havana, Cuba, April 1915, never has been satisfied with the result of the battle at Toledo, July 4, 1919, when he was literally butchered by Dempsey in three rounds. He points out that now, at 49, he is not aged as much in the ensuing years as has Dempsey, who is 37.

Willard staged his last comeback nine years ago when he knocked out Floyd Johnson and then was knocked out by Luis Firpo.

Furthermore, Ferguson uses wrong per mile costs in his calculations. He uses $5,000 per mile for cost of gravel and shell roads, that

Ferguson uses the ridiculous figure of $14,784.40 as the cost per mile of bituminous surface roads. This type cost the Ferguson administration $13,617.26 per mile, and has been built by the present administration at an average cost of $10,574.35 per mile. Grading and drainage structures, 4,763.14 miles, at $7,436.20 per mile, $35,419,676.97

Gravel shell, etc., 797.05 miles at $8,152.92 a mile $6,503,174.67

Bituminous surface, 764.41 miles at $10,574.35 per mile $8,083,138.18

Asphalt surface, 782.56 miles at cost of $13,267.25 per mile $10,382,422.20

Concrete and brick, 2,433.83 miles at cost of $24,152.79 per mile $58,783,793.44

Total completed highway construction, 9,541.59 miles at cost of $11,172,205.76 Less decrease in incomplete construction, $2,337,264.07

Cash disbursements for construction, $116,634,941.69

"The above statement shows that the total disbursements for highway construction was $116,634,941.69. Ferguson, however, computes the total construction cost to be only $84,172,754. He is wrong this time by $32,462,187.69—and, as usual, in his own favor.

He is wrong by $39,933,297.02 in his computations of maintenance costs. In computing maintenance cost Ferguson uses only 14,343 miles as the mileage subject to maintenance. This figure, used by Governor Sterling in his published platform, very clearly referred only to improved highways and could not be interpreted as representing total mileage in the state highway system subject to maintenance. As a matter of fact, there was an average of 19,300 miles subject to maintenance during the five and one-half years period from January 1, 1927, to June 30, 1932. Ferguson figured maintenance costs on 3,966 miles less than the actual mileage to be maintained. Furthermore, he made his calculation cover only a five year period, thereby giving no consideration to maintenance cost for an entire half year.

"Far more serious than the misstatement of mileage is his use of only $300 per mile per year as maintenance cost. During the fiscal year 1930-1932 under the Ferguson administration, it cost $13,936,943.44 to maintain 18,214 miles of highway, at a cost of $765.18 per mile. Since 1928-1926, the present highway commission has brought about a steady decrease in maintenance costs. During 1929-1930 there were maintained 18,350 miles for $12,580,185.10, at a cost of $685.56 per mile. During 1930-1931, there were maintained 18,647 miles for $10,597,439.16, at a cost of $568.32 per mile, a decrease of nearly $200 from the per mile cost under the Ferguson administration.

"During the five and one-half year period from January 1, 1927, to June 30, 1932, the records show that the highway department has maintained an average of 18,309 miles of highway at an average cash disbursement of $800.28 per mile, making an average yearly disbursement of $10,990,581.28, and a total disbursement for the five and one-half year period of $60,448,197.02. Ferguson's misstatement arrives at a cost of $21,514,900. His error this time is $38,933,297.02 in his favor.

"He did not add his own figures correctly, and is wrong again by $400. This error is so small, we dislike to mention it, but in order to balance with Ferguson's claimed shortage it is necessary to point out the fact that in his own computations he did not succeed in adding his figures together to get the right answer."

Chevrolet Shows Sales Increase

An increase of 16 per cent in the sale of new cars and trucks in the first 10 days of August over the same period of July was reported by Chevrolet dealers, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor company, announced today.

In the period, dealers' stocks of used cars were substantially reduced and stocks of new cars in the field also showed a slight recession, the Chevrolet president stated.

BURGLARY HOT WORK

SAN ANTONIO (UP)—Even robbers find their summer's work in Texas very warm. One thief stole seven electric fans from a hotel here, police reported.

CURTAIN STARTLES HIM

Ever since he utilized 56 different pieces of apparatus in a single broadcast of one of the police dramatizations that are heard over a nationwide network every Tuesday evening during the Lucky Strike Hour, Tom Curtin is constantly confirming a suspicion rampant among members of the staff of the New York N. B. C. that he is a walking kit box of sound effects.

Only last week when he was phoning one of the NBC executives, the whole office at the studio was brought to its feet by the shriek and wail of half a dozen police sirens.

The executive jumped away from the phone. "What was that?" he shouted from a safe distance.

Curtin's explanation that he was calling from police headquarters where he digs his cases for radio dramatization out of the files and out of the memories of detectives who worked on them, was only half believed. He had to further point out that he was nearer an open window when a fleet of emergency cars dashed by within a few feet of him raising an ear splitting din.

Nevertheless, they still think at the NBC that he has become so steeped in crime and crime detection that radio alarms, sirens and machine gun sallies just ooze out of him.

Shooting

He is survived by his widow and 10 children, 9 daughters and 1 son. They are: Mrs. Henry A. Cavett, Ollon, Nell, Farwell, Wynona, Juanita, Gladys, Wilfred, Charlene, Dorothy Nell Constance, and Harvey Samuel Jr., all of Plainview.

A brother, John Bolin, Salem, Oregon, and a sister, Mrs. A. L. Quillen Phoenix, Ariz., also survive. Definite funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, pending the arrival of the brother in Plainview, and interment made in Plainview upon being notified of Bolin's death, but it was stated by members of the family that funeral services would be conducted in Plainview, and interment made in Lockney, by the side of his parents.

Love Birds Owned By King George

LONDON (UP)—King George has some love birds, he recently revealed himself.

Accompanied by the Queen, he was visiting the Royal Hospital and Home for Incurables, at Putney, when he noticed at the bedside of one of the patients, two lovebirds in a cage.

"I have some love-birds," he said. "I am very glad to see the patients are allowed to have such things." During their visit, the King and Queen went to the top floor of the hospital to shake hands with the oldest patient, Mrs. Elvey, 93.

Mrs. Elvey was excited. She shook hands and then said to the King: "It is such a special occasion, perhaps your Majesty would be kind enough to shake hands again."

Smilingly, the King shook.

Gold Teeth Are Sold for Food

CHICAGO (UP)—Appearance and comfort go by the boards when a man is hungry, according to pawnbrokers and jewelers.

In a growing stream, men and women are bringing in old gold, mostly from teeth and bridgework, to sell so that they may eat and live.

Prices vary, but a pennyweight averages about 55 cents. One tooth weighs about a pennyweight, while a piece of bridgework runs from three to four. A pennyweight is only one-fifteenth of an ounce. It would take a large number of gold teeth, fillings and bridges to net a man $2.

However, other bits of jewelry contribute. Old gold and platinum wedding rings, watches and gems are all offered for sale. Since only the actual gold or platinum has value, usually a collection of rings and metals nets less than 25 cents. Two years ago platinum was worth four times what it is today. Filled gold is valueless. So are gold spectacle frames because only about one out of 1,000 really is gold.

Purchases are resold to the government or wholesale houses. It takes 10 days before it can be sold, in order to check whether it has been stolen or not. Reports must be made to the detective headquarters on every purchase. And when a man has to esch his teeth to eat, 10 days may be too long to wait.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The lesson-sermon subject was "MIND" in all churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, August 21.

"The Lord hath been mindful of us: he will bless us," was the golden text, from Psalms 115:12.

Included in the service were the following passages from the Scriptures: "Who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counselor? For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever"—Romans 11:34,36.

Citations read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, embraced the following from page 143:

"Mind is the grand creator, and there can be no power except that which is derived from Mind. If Mind was first chronologically, is first potentially, and must be first eternally, then give to Mind the glory, honor, dominion, and power everlastingly due its holy name."

ELECTION SUPERVISORS

The election law (Article 2842) authorizes "any one-fifth of the candidates whose names appear on the official ballot, on or before the day preceding the election, to agree in writing signed by them upon two supervisors of election. The two persons so selected are required to take the oath as election officers, along with the presiding judge of the election before the opening of the polls. They must be qualified voters of the county and election precinct in which they serve and subject to none of the following disqualifications:

1. Must not be a holder of an office of profit or trust under the United States or this state, or in any city or town in Texas (except a notary public), nor have held such an office within the last 30 days.

2. Must not be a candidate for office.

3. Must have paid poll tax.

While the election is being held they are required to remain in view of the ballot boxes until the count is concluded. When any voter permanently disabled from marking his own ballot is assisted by the presiding judge of the election, they are required to be present to see that the ballot is marked in accordance with the wishes of the voter, but such supervisors must remain silent except in cases of irregularity or violation of the law while so in attendance. It is also their duty to see that each ballot is correctly called, and if they note any fraud or irregularity whatsoever in the conduct of the election, they are required to report it to the next grand jury.

JUST IN GRATITUDE

MINERAL WELLS (UP)—An aged man who knocked at Mr. and Mrs. Ashur Cohen's door and asked for food, was so grateful at their response he gave them an edition of the Vicksburg, Miss., Daily Citizen, dated Thursday, July 2, 1864, and carrying the news of the Civil War.

It was printed on wall paper, and the man said he was the paper's editor. The publisher was J. M. Swords.
