Junior High School Operetta, "The Saucy Hollandaise," Is One of Best Commencement Presentations of Year

Beginning fifteen minutes ahead of time because no more seats were available in the auditorium, students of the John M. Cowden junior high school were presented in a musical program and operetta Thursday night at the high school building.

"The Saucy Hollandaise" was the title of the operetta, featuring the secret of how Holland was preserved from devastation by flood.

Songs and choruses, with participants in Dutch costumes, brought forth much applause. Groups in costume represented ladies of the court, sailors, villagers, sailor dancers, Dutch dancers and English dancers. Mrs. A. J. Florey Jr., played the overture and accompaniments.

Principal characters, aside from the group choruses, included Robert Rankin, a "tough old salt," Mark Dorsey as Hans the tinker, Mable Lee as the prince, Mary Elizabeth Newman as Meena, the cheese girl; C. A. Goldsmith as Doctor Quick, who performed an operation in trephining; Robert Howe as the king, Annie Johnson as the queen, and Isabel McClellan as the princess.

Musical and feature numbers on the program, besides the operetta, included a piano solo by Virginia Lee Smith, first honor pupil of the seventh grade; vocal solo by Mrs. Jack Hawkins; song by Fred Gordon Middleton, and choruses by a select group of junior high school students.

Chorus groups included Vivian Arnett, Virginia Boone, Edna Mae Elkin, Marie Garrett, Olivia Hallmark, Rae Elizabeth Price, L. A. Kiebold, Sam Midkiff, Clinton Bufington, Pate Cope, R. D. Hamlin, Billie Funderburg, Robert Prothro, Joel Weathered, Anna Beth Bedford, Robert Cowden, Ina Bess Hicks, Nelda Jem Hicks, J. W. Jones, Kelly Jones, Willie Mae Mercer, Marvina Paul, Vida Harrison, Jennie Stewart, Doris Tidwell, Dorothy Lou Speed, Anna Louise Robertson, Johnny Journeycake, Edwin Ferrell, Brooks Roberts, Dudley Cooksey, Paul Hyatt, James Franklin Cowden.

In Regal Mode

The Princess Aga Khan made a stunning model for the regal costume which won her first prize in the "Super Elegance de Cote D'Azur" competition held recently at the Hotel Negresco, Nice.

Her gown was a sumptuous lace in the softest of the new spring greens, richly embroidered with sparkling diamonds, and moulded beautifully to the body, flaring below the hips. It sponsored the toe-tip length, with no train and a simple decolletage in front, with a low one in the rear. Matching satin, lined with silver, made her long, fitted evening cape which was collared in black fox.

South Ward P. T. A. Closes Year With Program

Closing a successful year's program, members of the South Ward Parent-Teacher association met Thursday afternoon for a program and business meeting.

Reading of the Congress prayer opened the afternoon. Other parts making up the splendid program were: song, "Auld Lang Syne"; reading by Mrs. Paul T. Vickers; piano solo by Katherine Collins; reading by Jimmie Noland and dance by Rose Kincaid.

Pupils of Miss Goliday's room will be honored with a picnic given by the P. T. A. as a reward for having the most mothers attending the association meetings during the entire year. The affair will be held at Cloverdale park next Tuesday afternoon. The picture was again won by the room yesterday.

At the social hour ice cream and cake were served to members and several visitors.

Dinner-Bridge Affair at Pelphrey Home Is Compliment to Joi De Vie Club

Bringing to a close the social season of the year, a lovely dinner-bridge complimented members of the Joi De Vie club at the home of Mrs. W. O. Pelphrey Thursday evening.

Presiding hostesses were Meses. John Dublin, J. R. Martin, Foy Proctor, Charles Klapproth and Pelphrey. Yellow tapers in silver holders flanked a pretty centerpiece of poppies, verbenas, larkspur, roses and snapdragons used to emphasize a color note of pink, yellow and white at the dining table overlaid in Italian cutwork.

Contrasts Make California the Movie State; All Locale Needs Found Within 100-Mile Radius, Says Great Director

"Extremes and contrasts procurable in the state of California are more than anything else responsible for its holding the motor picture industry," declares Frank Lloyd, famous director.

"The lowest dry land, a spot in Death Valley, and the highest mountain peak, Whitney, in the United States are in California, about eight miles apart.

"The hottest spot in the United States during the summer, and one of the coldest, if not the coldest, are also within the state's boundaries.

"Death Valley is the driest spot on the American continent. A section of Northern California is one of the wettest, with over sixty inches of rainfall per year.

"Desert and ocean are fifty miles apart. Land devoid of vegetation and land bearing not a few, but thousands of acres of the greatest living things on earth, the giant redwoods and sequoias, are less than a hundred miles apart.

"A river in Southern California is a typical Western dry creek. Rivers and lakes and swamps abound in the Northern part. Along the coast is every known variety of coastline except the mangrove swamp, which is obtainable down the Mexican coast."

Lloyd's latest picture is one of Canadian locale, "The Right of Way," which is at the Ritz theatre today and Saturday, with Conrad Nagel, Loretta Young, Fred Kohler and other favorites in a big special Vitaphone version produced by First National.

Choice Cooks' Corner

Tomato and Spinach en Casserole

A very healthful lunch, and one that is very simple to arrange, centers around spinach and tomatoes which are prepared together in a casserole. All you need to do is place a layer of first one, then the other vegetable in your casserole, until you come to the top of the dish. Of course the vegetables must be seasoned before they are used. Scatter dry toast crumbs or cracker crumbs over the top, flake it with butter, and bake in a moderate oven. It will require less than half an hour for cooking.

Cream Chicken Puffs Make any sort of puff that you prefer. Just before serving time slip them in the oven to heat. In order to keep them from getting too dry and hard on top, sprinkle them with a little cold water.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Tomato juice cocktails, steamed rice with apricots, thick cream, blueberry muffins with grape jelly, Canadian bacon, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Spanish spinach and tomato en casserole, baked potatoes, corn muffins, fig tarts, milk, tea.

DINNER: Creamed chicken puffs, French fried potatoes, creamed celery, pear and cheese ball salad, hot rolls, macaroon custard, coffee.

Serve one puff on each plate, salt and generously filled with creamed chicken. Lay a sprig of parsley or a cross of pimento strips across the top.

Peas and mushrooms are delicious when served with the chicken in the patties. One chicken will feed more people, too, if you combine it with them.

SPORTS REPORTS

We find a beautiful picture on our desk this morning, "Derby Winners at a Glance," and among them Omar Khayyam. How some people would like to see that famous horse. But how about looking over his beautiful colt? Within a few weeks you won't have to wait long, for the Buchanan-Bloss stables here own Marconi, a son of the famous stallion. He is leased out now to another stable, while the Midland stable concentrates on winning with Foreign Relations, the horse that lacked only a fifth-second of tying the track record of Riverside park, Kansas City, this week.

George Buchanan bought the horse while he was in New Orleans recently, and he's a winner, don't think he isn't.

About the derby, though: Who will win it? Mate? Twenty Grand? Pittsburgher? Equipoise? Spanish Play? Or will some outsider make derby history? Only one man we suspect of knowing more about it than anyone else. "Thin Space" Baxley. He knows all past history, with records, etc., of all the principal tracks. He slept on a saddle blanket when he was a kid, in the shadows of the Louisville classic's track. He thought all varmints were horse flies until he reached the age of discretion a couple or more years back. Anyway, Bax tells us the first derby was run in 1875, Aristides winning. For 27 times have favorites won. Regret was the only filly to win, 1915. Sir Barton was the only maiden to win, 1919. Omar Khayyam, sire of the Midland horse, Marconi, was the only imported winner. Old Rosebud set the derby record, 2:03 2-5, 1914. Man o' War never ran in the derby. Father and son winners were Halma and Allana-Dale. Isaac Murphy and Earl Sande each rode three winners. To sum it up, Bax says Twenty Grand will win the classic this year, and that 47 colts, 8 geldings and one filly have won the derby in past history.

And, finally, Bax says derby is pronounced "darby," not "darby." Just say it through your hat, as it were.

Bax forgot to mention one interesting fact; Donerall won the derby in 1913, and paid $184.90 for a $2-win ticket.

A bit more of the summing up: LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 15. (UP.) It has been a long time since an outsider came thundering down the stretch to win the Kentucky derby. With the favorite victorious in four out of the last five races, Saturday's 57th running of the historic derby today appeared a more open affair than any since Black Gold finished in front in 1924.

The post-time favorite has won the derby 27 times. Since 1926 only one horse, Clyde Van Dusen, game son of Man o' War, has been able to beat the favorite. In 1929 Clyde Van Dusen, a second choice, won the derby on a muddy track, while Blue Larkspur, the favorite, finished fourth.

Bubbling Over won in 1926, Whiskery in 1927, Reigh Count in 1928 and Gallant Fox in 1930—all post-time favorites.

However, there hasn't been a winner since 1914 to pay less than even money. Old Rosebud, the 1914 winner, paid 4 to 5. The shortest paying winners were Hindoo, 1895, and Agile, 1905 each at 1 to 3.

One of the biggest prices ever paid on any derby was in 1913 when Donerall came rolling home at $184.90 for each $2 bet.

The present record for the derby is 2 minutes, 3 2-5 seconds, made by Old Rosebud 17 years ago. Bubbling Over four with two-fifths of a second of this mark in winning the 1926 race. The derby originally was a mile and a half race but was reduced to a mile and a quarter in 1896. The biggest field that ever started in the derby was in 1928 when 22 horses went to the post in the race won by Reigh Count. The Reigh Count's purse of $55,375 is the biggest in derby history.

Only two jockeys have ever won as many as three derbies. Earl Sande rode Zez in 1923, Flying Ebony in 1925 and Gallant Fox in 1930. Isaac Murphy, negro jockey, had the leg on Buchanan in 1884, Riley in 1890 and Kingman in 1891.

Only one filly, Regret in 1915, and one imported colt, Omar Khayyam in 1917, have ever won the derby. Seven geldings have won the historic race, the last being Clyde Van Dusen two years ago.

Dispatches out of Louisville show some pessimistic forecasts. LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Prospects of a slow track reduced the field for the Kentucky derby to 11 candidates Thursday.

Additional rain Wednesday almost definitely eliminated Boys Howdy, H. C. Hatch's 3-year-old, from the annual running of the race: HORSE—JOCKEY—"Twenty Grand"—C. Kurstinger "Surf Board"—L. McAtee Mate—C. Ellis Ladder—L. Schaeffer Equipoise—R. Workman Pittsburgher—C. Corbett Sweep All—E. Pool Inco—S. O'Donnell Spanish Play—W. Fronk Up—C. McHugh "Anchords Aweigh"—E. Steffen "Greentree entry.

Theo Ferguson won his singles match with W. Godbey, 6-2, 6-0, and it now appears certain the singles playoff will be between the hard-smashing Electrician and Clinic's hope, Frank Stubbeman. Stubbeman is small, but deceptive. He places the ball where they can't, to put it ungrammatically but geographically. In other words, he uses his mind when he goes into a match—driving east by looking west.

Fritz of The Reporter-Telegram was playing Schow of Barrows this morning. They have been trying to decide their match all week, and each managed to take a set. This morning, about 10 bells, they were playing a deuce set, or a deuce of a set, depending on how you think of it.
