Growers, Merchants To Meet Jointly For Parley

Free marketing grounds for Midland county gardeners and truck raisers were offered Saturday by Frank Elkin.

Elkin volunteered to let the farmers use the space in order to assist in a movement initiated by the agricultural committee of the Midland chamber of commerce to assist the farmers in marketing their produce this year.

It is planned to hold a joint meeting of gardeners and truck growers with grocersmen at an early date so that the vegetable producers may learn requirements of grocers to insure sale of local products.

Heretofore, it is pointed out, no effort has been systematically made to standardize home grown products and no definite marketing plan was used, hence, even though grocers wished to use home grown products they were handicapped.

Such things as standardized packages, time of offering products for sale, relation of price to demand, freshness of vegetables, creation of outside markets, grading of vegetables etc., will be taken up at the meeting in an attempt to help work out plans for the benefit of the producer, the grocer and the consumer.

Acreage in gardens and truck patches is about 25 per cent greater here this year than probably ever before. Since farmers have been asked about reducing cotton acreage, Midland people are called on to make a sincere effort to cooperate with the farmer by using home grown products, on the other hand, it is pointed out, a home market can not be created at Midland or anywhere else in such a city as Midland without cooperation of farmers in standardizing their offerings and otherwise making them attractive to the buying public.

Little Replanting In This County

Comparatively few Midland county farmers have found it necessary to replant crops, according to leading farmers.

Those who have replanted have done so because of failure to cover seed sufficiently deep. Farmers realized that a good season was in the ground and evidently believed more rain would follow soon after planting. Rain falling to fall, some of the seed dried out, farmers say.

PLAYED TO ALPINE ON SATURDAY

Ft. Davis to Hear a Program; Return Made Today

ALPINE, May 23.—Appearing in concert with a finished grace that surprised this picturesque college town, the Midland high school band, choral and glee clubs won further commendation tonight.

The pride of the Midland school system, the crack 50-piece band, played with a sectional harmony not found even when in competition with other Class B organizations at the recent West Texas high school band meet at Abilene, when it lacked a fraction of only one point in winning first place for the region championship.

Execution of the changing tempo of the new famous "Knight Errant Overture" was particularly excellent, and brought many compliments from Sul Ross musicians. Lighter numbers of the band brought a torrent of applause, as did the appearance of the glee and choral clubs.

Gracious as the Alpine audience was in the auditorium of the teacher's college, the reception was no less marked outside the concert hall. Midland students were given a reception and dinner at a swanky lodge in the afternoon, and students were given lodging. Girls were assigned to dormitory rooms, while boys were invited out by prominent Alpine families.

Joe Seymour Jr., son of the attorney that name, is well known as a bit fiery of temperament.

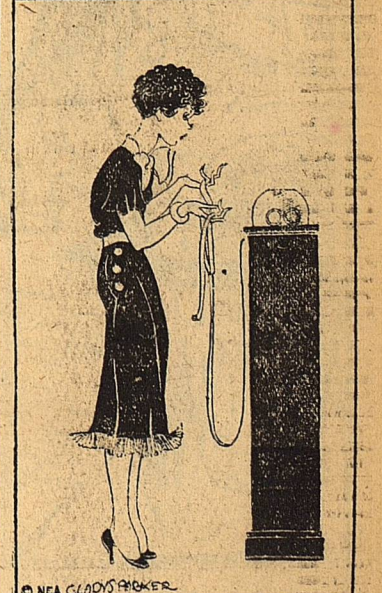

"You shouldn't be like that," his father told him the other morning.

"Aw, what's the dif?" the son asked, shrugging aside the implication he carried a chip on his shoulder.

The father, being an attorney, knew how to answer that. "You see, everything you say sounds a bit off-brand, like you felt bad or something of the sort. When I hear you talk like that I'm reminded I should call you Joe Crab Seymour."

But the boy, being an attorney's son, had an answer. "Listen, big boy," he said, "don't forget the 'Junior!'"

UNMASKING GANGSTERS

Attorney General John J. Bennett Jr., of New York, has very little use for the current effort to paint the city gangster as a bold, capable and efficient super-man.

Mr. Bennett went into Greene county, in the Catskills, after Jack "Legs" Diamond had been shot down while promoting his racketeering enterprises there. After looking into things thoroughly, he had this to say:

"Here in Greene county we have found Jack Diamond and his gang to be the cheapest sort of cowards. And all of them everywhere are nothing more."

Diamond has admitted, from time to time, that he is a great man. Mr. Bennett, studying the man's record, called him "a cheap, boasting criminal with no courage, a man who gained power only because his thugs spread fear."

So much for Diamond. Turning to the larger problem of gang outlawry in general, Mr. Bennett declares:

"Racketeering has grown in seriousness to a point where there can be no more delay in stamping it out. It must be dealt with now and dealt with finally. We have found that Diamond had laid elaborate and amazingly vicious plans to prey on every legitimate enterprise in the Catskills."

Mr. Bennett's summary is admirably concise. It ought to be repeated in every city in the land; for it emphasizes two very important truths.

The most important one is the second—that racketeering has grown to an unbearable extent and must be driven out of existence at once. There is no sense in underestimating the menace that it holds for American institutions. It is outlawry on a greater scale than we have ever had it before.

But there is a lot of comfort in Mr. Bennett's other truth—that the gangster is a coward and a rat. Why has it taken us so long to realize this?

It should have been self-evident. The gangster's favorite way of killing a rival is not by fair fight, as was the case with our western outlaws; it is the shot in the back, delivered by treachery. He gets frightened easily. Every big city has reporters who have exposed gangland's activities—and not one of them has been harmed. Nobody molested Mr. Bennett in the Catskills. Pat Roche in Chicago has never been hurt. The federal officials who took the Capone gangsters into court for income tax frauds have not been molested.

The job, in other words, isn't nearly as hard as it looks. All it takes is courage and ability. Any city whose prosecutors and police officials have those two qualities can quickly drive all of its gangs to cover.

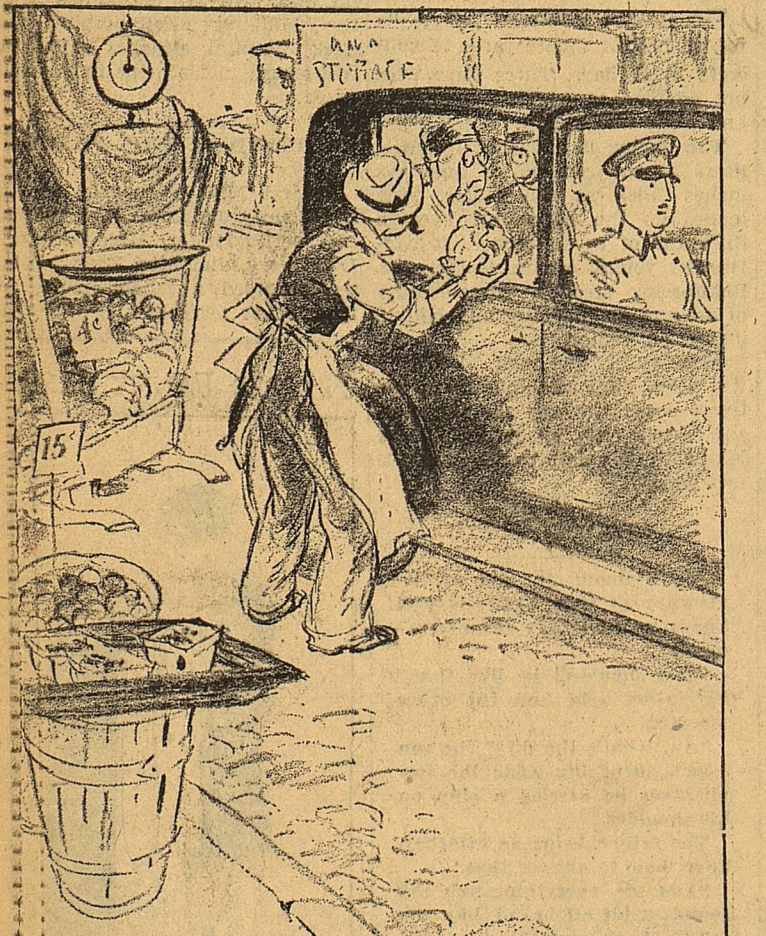

THE DIRECT PRIMARY

A Wisconsin politician, speaking before a legislative committee that was considering a bill to restore party nominations for caucus, recently declared that the direct primary is the blame for the rise of such men as "Big Bill" Thompson, the former mayor of Chicago.

No responsible party, he said, would nominate such a man, but in a direct primary demagoguery and bluff can put him over. Hence, to get better candidates, we should do away with the direct primary.

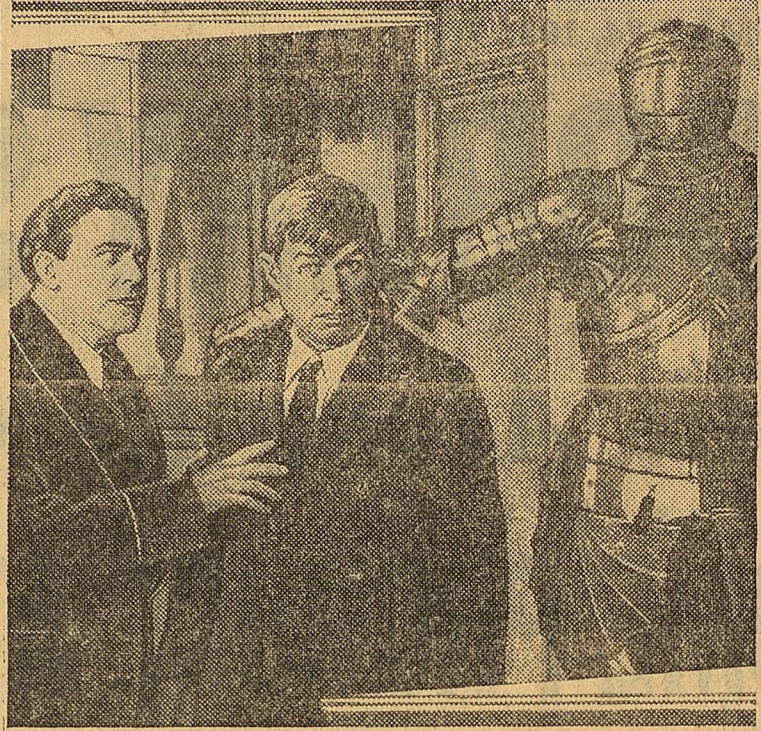

This argument isn't particularly new, but it has a plausibility that makes it bob to the surface every now and then. However, the fact that a clown can win a nomination occasionally is simply one of the chances we have to take in a democracy. The remedy is a wider education of the average voter, not a return to the favorite instrument of the machine politician.

I was reading in a newspaper the other day about a group of husbands who were telling of the embarrassing moments they had suffered because their wives had said the wrong thing. A neighbor had hanged himself in the attic and this particular man and his wife later made a call on the bereaved wife who lived in a big house. It was some time after the funeral. Various things were discussed, just to keep up the conversation and the widow mentioned that she had done a big washing that day but it rained so she couldn't hang out the wash.

"But that shouldn't bother you," said the wife innocently, "you have such a nice attic to hang things in."

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir: We have traveled the country over but we have never found such real hospitality as has been offered us by Midland people and Texas ranchmen.

We were wrecked eight miles west of Midland, going fast, skidding, causing the car to turn over twice. Kind folks gathered us four, some thrown over a hundred feet from the wreck; gave us first aid until the ambulance came. We were rushed to the Thomas hospital where we were given the best of care by Dr. Thomas and Dr. Klapproth, but nothing could be done for our darling little girl. Her head had been crushed. Here we were seriously injured, heart-broken over the untimely death of our child, stranded nearly 2,000 miles from home, but right away Midland folk gathered in, offering their services. Mr. Moran kindly gave the grave lot, Mr. Schow the use of his funeral parlors. Beautiful flowers were sent in, cars were loaned, and many of the good folks of the town went to the cemetery and softly sang "Nearer My God to Thee" while the little one was lowered into her grave. Her mother and father lay suffering in the hospital, not only of their many injuries, but the loss of their darling. A great future for her was planned. She was beautiful, and bright, walking, dancing, talking before she was a year old. Without the good folks and their heart-felt sympathy for us I don't know what we would have done.

People of all stations and creeds came offering their help and hospitality in time when it was needed most. For all offerings and kindness we are thankful indeed. From the heart of a grief-stricken mother and a crippled father come words of thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Vincent Hughes, Thomas Hospital-Clinic.

BRACE OF BASEBALL GAMES CARDED AT BIZZELL EMPORIUM TODAY

Lights for Nocturne League Installed; Diamond Dedication May 28

ODESSA TO ENGAGE PV; ICEMEN AND FIREMEN PLAY

Odessa's baseball team plays Elmer Bizzell's Ruralites this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Bizzell park. The last meeting of these clubs brought the Bizzellmen the narrow end of a 3-0 score.

Southern Ice and Firemen play in the night cap, or so arrangements were being made to include. These clubs were chased from the field last Sunday by a windstorm that tossed pebbles at players, spectators and umpires alike.

This afternoon represents the second Sunday of play in the new park, which was dedicated by a rough and tumble game last week that has not been settled yet. The Busher-Coits and Bizzellmen came to verbal blows over an alleged miscue at third base.

Chester Sheppard, star second baseman for the Busher-Coits, broke his leg as he slid into a base, and Bennie Bizzell, elongated home run socker for the Pleasant View nine tore an ankle painfully.

SPORTS REPORTS

The finale to the playground ball league was accomplished Friday afternoon as the Texas Electric Service company staged a remarkable scoring punch to defeat the Scruggs Buick outfit, 17-6. It was recognized during the first half that the Electricians were the strongest club in the circuit, but weakness due to illness of several players ruined their chances in the second half. Towards the close of the session, however, the big guns got their eyes trained on the outfield territory again and blasted out two wins in the last two games, one of them swaying the championship into the lap of The Reporter-Telegram.

Friday's box score:

Electricians—	AB	R	H	E
Hodges, 3 b	5	2	1	0
Parrott, lf	5	2	2	0
Northington, ss	5	2	1	0

win, but the match may not be decided in straight sets. "Doc" Brown forfeited to Stubbeman and McCrary to Godbey, the former leaving town and the latter unable to reach the village from somewhere over the trade area.

Standings in the association:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Ferguson	8	0	1000
Stubbeman	7	2	.777
Godbey	5	3	.625
McCrary	4	3	.571

Patterson	1	4	.250
Schow	1	6	.142
Klapproth	1	7	.125

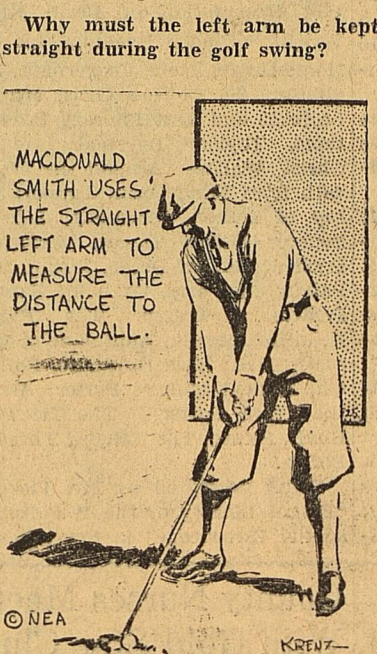

Ferguson has written Big Spring letters, asking for doubles and singles matches here next Sunday. The four highest ranking men in the tabulation above will likely form the two tennis doubles, while every man of the above may engage in singles matches. It is not definitely decided that Big Spring will be here, but negotiations are under way. It is understood that Big Spring made the overtures several weeks ago, and that the locals begged off until conclusion of the association schedule.

Six championships in as many years since the organization of the Texas conference is the record of Simmons university in Tennis. When Dan Steakley, little Simmons ace, won the singles title of the conference at Brownwood last week, he kept the record intact for the Cowboys of not falling once since 1928.

winning either the singles or the doubles tilt or both. In 1928 the Cow-boys got a flying start by taking both singles and doubles. Earl In-Heath, c, person was singles champ and paired with Raymond Deberry in winning doubles.

For the next three years Deberry established an enviable record by winning the singles title every season. In 1930 the Cowboys dropped the singles, but Dan Steakley and Harold Moore teamed to win the doubles. This year Simmons regained the singles championship.

GOLF as the STARS play it by ART KRENZ

Why must the left arm be kept straight during the golf swing?

Many golfers misunderstand the term straight. It is not actually stiff but only suggests straightness. Stiffness must be avoided.

The straight left arm acts as a measure to gauge correctly the distance to the ball. It is absolutely necessary that the left arm be straight at impact. Any bend will result in heeling, topping, missing and many other faults which are the result of the club traveling beyond or inside the intended line of flight.

The hub of the swing, the left shoulder, is connected to the club by the straight left arm. This lengthens the swinging arc, giving one a long sweep at the ball. Any bend at the top of the backswing will result in a choppy downward stroke cutting down the arc and thereby losing distance.

TEXAS ELECTRIC MEN STRING LINES

Lights were installed Friday and Saturday for the night playground ball league, and balls were thrown and batted around in order to test play under them.

Changes were recommended when it was found that balls in the short fields were indistinct. Several drops will be hung over the diamond, and reflectors changed so as to focus more light in the outfields.

Texas Electric Service company linemen made the installation.

The first game will be played under the lights May 28, between Rotarians and Lions. Formal dedication is set for that night.

Regular schedule of the night league starts teams pounding away at the shadowy ball in the early part of June.

No admission will be charged at games but the hat "will be passed." The lights must be paid for and it is hoped that this "unofficial charging" will bring in the amount necessary.

Eight clubs are entered in the first night ball league.

cellent service recently of the volunteer department would be appreciated. The men who answer fires expend much money in having clothes cleaned of chemicals and stains received while fighting fires for property owners. In appreciation for this and the service given by the smoke eaters, donations occasionally find their way to the department.

One would believe from the way Dick Frazer and John Drummond went after balls in the outfield of the Texas Electric-Scruggs Buick game Friday had a bet up. But, no matter how they tried, the balls fell as hits. It seemed that balls rained when they started after an air tight game. But the Buicks scored only three runs.

Managers of clubs in the playground ball league are called by President C. Calhoun to meet Monday evening, 8 o'clock, at served early Sunday morning a few minutes before the motorcade falls in line for the return trip through Fort Davis and the Davis mountains to Midland.

Ft. Stockton Concert
A large crowd was waiting for the Midland school trekkers at Fort Stockton. A concert was given on the streets by the band and the crowd milled about the players, warmly applauding and yelling for "More!"

The trip was made without incident, except that school students, tired with the constant strain of the past few weeks, evidenced keen enjoyment at the unhurried pace and constant change of scenery. An unofficial poll showed that a large per cent of them had never been in this section of the state before. We reached Alpine at 3:15 p. m., and broke rank upon orders. As soon as possible, all repaired to quarters assigned, there to dress for the afternoon entertainment. Out-in-town members of the party went to hotels.

120 on Trip
Approximately 95 students and 25 townspeople made the trip. Aside from the concert, the most eagerly awaited thrill of the journey remains—the trip through the natural beauty of the rugged Davis mountain chain, the scenic delights of Limpia canyon and the remarkable ruins of the old forts at Fort Davis, some of the roofs of which cling to the battered walls. Some of the forts are inhabited, and a motion picture company, headed by Jack Hoxie, holds a lease allowing picture companies on location to use this background as a lot.

Band Makes Record
This trip, like that of the recent goodwill trip of the band to Odessa, Crane, McCamey and Rankin, has done much to stimulate good relations throughout this area. But, remarkable as the trip is and the former trip was, Superintendent Lackey and Band Director Shrader point out a record accomplished by the band prior to the good-will trips. The two school of-

Rural Schools Graduate Studies

Graduation exercises have been held at two rural schools, Prairie Lee and McClintic.

Graduation exercises for five seventh grade and four tenth grade students were held Thursday night at Prairie Lee, and two plays were given Wednesday night, a one-act play, "Don't Give up the Boat," and a two-act play, "The New Minister Arrives."

The Prairie Lee school is taught by nine months, and had an enrollment of 81. Teachers, Mr. and Mrs. D. Boone Lacewell and Miss Margaret Carpenter will attend summer school at Canyon during the summer, Miss Carpenter going only the last term.

The McClintic school taught through the eighth grade, and had an enrollment of 10 students.

Valley View schools close with exercises Friday night. About 60 students are enrolled. A. C. Fleming is principal.

IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. H. L. Hoover of McCamey was admitted to the Midland hospital-clinic for medical treatment yesterday. She is the daughter of C. F. Trammel and a niece of C. E. Trammel of Midland.

ROADS ARE FAST

Midland county roads are in excellent condition. Due to recent lack of rainfall, only maintenance work is being done on them.

COURT TO CLOSE DOWN MONDAY IN KIRKLAND TRIAL

VALPARAISO, Ind., May 23. (UP)—Court will adjourn Monday after the defense and prosecution have rested in the cases of the trial of Virgil Kirkland charged with the murder of Arlene Draves.

Kirkland's account of a strip poker party led the state to call five rebuttal witnesses and the defense one.

The prosecution's witnesses were Elsie and Ed Draves, sister and brother of Arlene, who contradicted Kirkland's version of the happenings at the poker and liquor party.

Health Courses Are Better Attended

Lectures of the county health nurse and her assistant before women's clubs and school assemblies is continuing with greater encouragement, Miss Martha Bredemeier says. The lectures are coupled with demonstrations, and the entire county is receiving benefit from the course.

Last week lectures were given before the Sunflower club, at south ward, Stokes, north ward, Prairie Lee, Cotton Flat. This week nurses will speak at Valley View and at two schools of the city.

"We want more women at the courses," Miss Bredemeier said. "Attendance improves all the time, but we still need many more women and girls."

The lectures are arranged in the following order: "The Pre-School Child," "Communicable Diseases," "Tuberculosis," "Diet and Weight," "First Aid," "Nursing of the Sick," "Pre-Natal Trouble," "Infant Care," "The School Child," and "Personal Hygiene."

Four Students Get Special Medals

Special medal awards for students of the Midland public schools this year were presented Thursday evening to Ina Bess Hicks, Thurman Bryant, and Georgia McMullan. Ina Bess received two medals, the general excellence medal offered by the school board and the scholarship medal given by the First National bank. Thurman Bryant was given the general excellence medal for boys when Dick Verdier, who had a slightly better average was disqualified because of having won it before. Georgia McMullan won the scholarship medals for the high school, offered by the Midland National bank.

Lister on the medal report were 19 students, from whom winners were selected. These students, with averages as compiled by the superintendent of schools' office, follow: (It will be noted that several of the names appear in more than one list.)

SINGING CONVENTION

An "all day singing and dinner on the ground" is to be held at Stanton Sunday, May 31, when the Mid-West singing convention meets on its regular fifth Sunday schedule.

CHILD AVID READER

Tom Estes, 7, made an enviable record in school this year. Besides completing his grade with high marks, he read 11 books all by himself. He is a son of Commissioner Jack Estes of Precinct 2. This is his first year in school.

COURT LAWN IMPROVES

Grass on the lawn of the court house will be matted by the first of July, County Judge M. R. Hill believes.

The lawn will be one of the most beautiful in Texas before fall, as more than 900 shrubs have been set out and trees from the old lawn were preserved when the new building was erected.

EQUALIZATION BOARD

The Midland county commissioners court will sit as a board of equalization June 9, the day following the regular meeting date, County Judge M. R. Hill said.

Signs Change!

A father who would not have his child operated upon at the request of the public health nurse, Miss Martha Bredemeier, just because the "signs weren't right", decided the other day that the zodiac was again "straight", and that the child might be relieved of enlarged tonsils.

The operation was done, and the child is improving in health, the nurse said.

Special Plans for Scouts Worked Out

The most ambitious plans Midland has ever made for boy scouts were outlined at a special meeting of executives, troop committeemen and other leaders Friday morning at the chamber of commerce.

Plans deal with giving a limited number of scouts work so that they may make the trip to encampment grounds, 18 miles south of Balmorhea in the Madera canyon.

About 60 Midland boys are expected to attend. Ninety boys from Big Spring have announced they will go. Thirty of these boys are expected to be in camp during the second week, June 15-22, at the time Midland scouts will be encamped. The others plan being there the first week, June 8-15.

The Rev. Edwin C. Calhoun is in charge of preparations here. Guy Brennen, scoutmaster, and Wallace Wimberly, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 52, and Alvon Patterson of Troop 51 have announced they will attend with their troops. The other Midland troops will have special officers with them, it is planned.

Life in camp will include familiarizing scouts with scoutcraft. They will follow routine procedure. The week should give scouts relaxation, healthful exercise and be a moral aid to them, Mr. Calhoun said.

A. C. Williamson, scout executive, and Marcus J. Williamson, field representative, were at the meetings.

Pythian Meeting

Full attendance of Knights of Pythias Monday night is urged by Chancellor Commander John Bonner, as grand lodge representatives and local officers will make reports.

Attending

"Things of vital interest to our subordinate lodge will be presented for consideration of the membership," a letter to members reads.
