MIDLAND HORSES SWEEP EIGHT RACES TO OPEN TWO-DAY CARD

CROWD OF 500 FILE INTO PARK

Much Excitement as There Are Spills And Challenges

Before an estimated crowd of 500 paid customers eight scheduled races that were carded Saturday as the first of two Labor day programs were unreeled, intermixed with one special race for juvenile riders, a performance of a circus stallion, as well as thrills that came in the form of three riders being thrown and several thrilling dope upsets keeping the crowd in the grandstand at constant attention.

For the first time in the history of a race meeting in Midland when horses from the surrounding area were entered, not a "foreign" horse topped first money. Midland horses, in several instances out of the reckoning as regarded the favorites, swept away from the barrier, ran under good control to the back stretch and then draw away from challengers to win by well-defined distances.

Several Foreign Horses In all except two races, foreign horses were entered, and in each instance one of these bobbed up as the favorite. Just as promptly as the crowd's fancy inevitably turned to the sleek, proud animals from out of town, Midland horses thundered into the home stretch with the money riding on their distended nostrils.

One of the races was particularly thrilling, the fourth, three horses running under the wire with their shoulders pressed hard together in what was difficult to distinguish from a dead heat. Major, beautiful chestnut gelding of the King and Goodman stable, broke into the dope in the first race when Buck King kicked him in a close first over Gander, long-legged horse of the same color that was ridden by Davis for John Dublin. The favorite, Headlight, a fast three-year-old chestnut gelding of the A. Roberts stable, Anderson up, ran a poor third. Gray Boy, B. W. Floyd horse, would not start in time to finish with the field.

Dope Is Upset Tomcat, Clarence Scharbauer entry, Darden up, leaped away on top, held the advantage all the way to the back stretch, then pounded down the home stretch for a total elapsed time of 25:06, to daylight Ayrshire, three year old gelding of D. Davis, Fort Stockton breeder. Lee Anderson, Ft. Stockton jockey, handled his mount nicely, but Darden, after having thrown himself clear of the plunging, rearing Tomcat three times when that temperamental mount acted up before the race, was off fast and was not to be headed. Rusty, well known to Midland race fans by the former cognomen of Custer, ran third. This was a G. Bloss entry, Dutch Mayfield up.

The Jelly-Bean handicap, recognized for months as one of the box office attractions, was better filled and more interesting than ever. Incidents of chief note were the four-

Carol Goes Wooing

King Carol II, upper left, of Rumania, in the role of a 1931 "Miles Standish," has sent his good friend, M. Manolescu, lower left, as his "John Alden," to Rome to seek the hand of Princess Maria Francesca, 17, right, youngest daughter of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, in his behalf. If the suit by proxy wins favor, the marriage would take place soon, with coronation ceremonies for both King Carol and the new queen early this winter. Carol's coronation has been delayed due to failure to effect a reconciliation with his divorced wife, Queen Helen.

SEVERAL INTERESTING PROGRAMS TO BE HELD THIS FALL; LEADERS PLAN TO KEEP COMMITTEES BUSY

MONDAY RACES

Monday will see a reenactment of the Saturday card, when the Vets of Foreign Wars stage another eight-race program, beginning at 3 o'clock. Wednesday will see special matched races between Midland and Fort Stockton horses. Both days promise to fill the large grandstand with fans, especially Labor day. Stores will be closed and special publicity has been sent out asking Midland people and those from throughout this trade area to attend.

Votes for Pastor Are to Be Cast

Blanks were mailed members of the First Baptist church Saturday along with letters asking them to write on the blanks the name of their choice for pastor and bring their votes to the church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock when the votes will be counted.

It was pointed out that in the hurry mailing the letters so as to reach members Saturday some name might have been accidentally overlooked, but this will make no difference in the voting, as every member is urged to attend Sunday morning and cast his ballot for any preacher he wants called to the church pastorate.

Keeping something doing in Midland all the time is the ambition of civic leaders here, and a program of activity for the fall months considerably larger than that of perhaps any other town in Texas Midland's size is already laid out. The fall season is opened with the county races. The next event is the horse fair, sponsored and financed by the Midland chamber of commerce, with Miss Genavieve Derryberry, county home demonstration agent as superintendent. The chamber is sponsoring a fall style show for Oct. 6 at the Ritz theatre for benefit of Midland dry goods and clothing stores. On Nov. 6 and 7 Midland laundrymen with the cooperation of the chamber of commerce are bringing to Midland the West Texas Laundry club convention. For the benefit of every business house, clerk, employe and professional man and woman in Midland, the chamber of commerce will conduct on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1 and 2 at Midland the greatest merchants institute ever held in Midland with a national authority as the speaker.

During these three months, Trades day activities will be carried on with increasing vigor. Midland will participate directly in the Breeder-Feeder movement program, and will initiate new activities from time to time as well as carry on routine work calculated to maintain Midland as one of the best towns its size in the United States, and certainly in Texas. (See PROGRAMS page 6)

KILGORE, Sept. 5, (UP)—The East Texas oil field was reopened today with 1,800 wells each restricted to a production of 225 barrels daily.

Troops, who have been occupying the field under martial law since August 17, remained in reduced numbers. They will continue patrolling the field until the railroad commission supervisors are able to control the field without the aid under the new prorotation order.

East Texas crude is now bringing 68 cents per barrel. Operators were unable to sell at any price when the field closed.

Soldiers May Be Limited to Sixty

KILGORE, Sept. 5, (AP)—The East Texas oil field, dormant under military rule since August 17, reopened at 7 o'clock this morning. Occupation by militiamen may be continued indefinitely, only with a skeletonized force of probably not more than 60 men and a few officers.

The pool is producing under the railroad commission's new allowable of 225 barrels per day per well.

POLICE BELIEVE DAETH SOLUTION IS UNDERSTOOD

HOUSTON, Sept. 5, (UP)—Police today believed C. A. Jones and wife were slain to avenge the death of Johnny Cherris, bank robber, whose body was found in the Brazos river. A. J. Jones, brother of C. A., was charged last night with the Cherris killing. Another man was sought today.

Jones made a statement yesterday in which it is believed that he and the other man took Cherris for a ride because Cherris threatened Jones' death over a debt.

It is believed that Jones and his wife were killed after Cherris' death by his pals.

Solution of Mystery Near

WACO, Sept. 5, (UP)—Solution of the mystery surrounding the shooting of O. L. Jones, Waco automobile salesman, on the highway six miles north of here, seemed a step nearer today with discovery that he stopped at a Hillisboro cafe on his ill fated trip.

The cashier of the cafe said a man answering Jones' description stopped there Thursday night to drink coffee and buy cigarettes and said he was alone.

TUESDAY IS SET AS DAY

Legislation Sought To Save Farmer And Soil

HOUSTON, Sept. 5, (AP). Governor Ross S. Sterling late today announced that he would call a legislature special session Tuesday noon to enact legislation to conserve the soil and to reduce cotton acreage next year.

He said his official proclamation embodying the statement issued here would follow shortly from Austin. He said he was convinced that the majority of Texas cotton growers and their legislators desire an emergency law and that he was glad to act in their behalf.

Solons Arrive At Agreement

AUSTIN, Sept. 5, (UP)—Agricultural Commissioner J. E. McDonald said today that 21 or 31 state senators had joined 110 representatives agreeing to cotton restrictive legislation, constituting a clear majority of both branches.

McDonald requested that their statements be sent to the governor at Houston immediately so his decision about calling a session need not await his return to Austin.

At Houston, Governor Sterling said he was unable to understand how 21 senators had agreed.

South "Sounds" Appeal for Aid

HOUSTON, Sept. 5, (AP)—Governor Sterling said in regard to calling a special session to consider cotton control legislation: "The voice of the people is sounding thru the South in a clamor of distress, seeking relief from their gravest agricultural crisis of modern years. Cotton prices are lower than the cost of production, and over-production threatens an even greater demoralization of the market. The background looms as a black shadow of soil deterioration menacing oncoming cotton farmers."

District Court To Open Monday

MAIL ORDER LOVE

A little common sense would prevent so many tragedies. The five murders which Harry F. Powers, of Clarksburg, W. Va., committed wouldn't have taken place if two women had refused to let his flattering phrases play upon their vanity.

But somehow or other there is a woman now and then who has an idea that she is really the woman of his imagination for which the man who advertises is searching.

When she finally meets the man and the romance takes a personal turn, the fact that its foundation has been built on shifting sand doesn't give it much room on which to stand.

Powers, who preyed upon a foolish sentimentalism which some women have, in order to obtain their property and bank accounts, is a dastardly coward, of course.

There have been pitiful stories told of women who have been afraid that their communities would think that they were unsought because they hadn't married, and who plucked a Beau Brummel from any tree.

But the two women whom Powers confessed that he murdered weren't the only two who were gullible. Scores of letters from others are pouring into the Clarksburg post-office in which others admit that they, too, received long distance calls from the matrimonial advertisements of the slayer.

Now and then someone criticizes the younger generation. Heads are shaken because the girls of today are supposed to have considerable more knowledge of life than their grandmothers had at the same age.

THE PRICE OF COMPETITION

Reno divorce courts are operating under force blast. Other cities are operating marriage bureaus under the same tempo.

There is something tragic in this. There is something cheap about it. True, the machine age has brought it about. We can not have highly organized lives and medieval romanticism.

Yet, it would be pleasant to believe that some phases of love and life had not been warped by the whip of competition and the necessity of efficiency. A price must be paid, but it would pay to consider what price it is worth.

HUMANISM SURVIVES

When the members of the new British cabinet went into session the other day every man was wearing a sprig of heather on his coat lapel. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald had brought it from the Scottish Highlands.

But if the heather has charm it will come from its influence, simple and wholesome, on the group of statesmen who were great enough to be interested in the commonplace, for a few minutes.

Washington Letter

Many Views Set Forth on World's General Disarmament Conference, but It All Depends On France.

WASHINGTON.—Washington has a consistent record of becoming over-enthusiastic about the probable achievements of prospective arms conferences, but it must be admitted that the capital is not exactly caroling its optimism concerning the world's first General Disarmament Conference which is scheduled to begin on February 2 at Geneva.

Nevertheless, there is a general feeling that the conference will be tremendously important and that this is no time to blunder into a complete or comparative flop as seemed to happen in the case of the Geneva and London naval conferences. That is why the world's statesmen have been exchanging views for many months, why Secretary of State Stimson has been touring the European capitals and why this government is not disposed to demand that the conference be held on schedule unless everyone is convinced that the result will be reasonably successful.

The optimists are those who believe that the principal obstacles can be eliminated this fall and that the general necessity of reducing national budgets will combine with a better spirit of international good will to attain definite arms limitation and even a small proportion of reduction. No one fondly anticipates any drastic general arms cut, but the rosy view among informed persons is that a concrete reduction can be agreed upon.

Pessimists believe that the conference will be postponed and that the attitude of France, which has caused so much trouble in various international conferences of the past, will prevent the disarmament movement from getting anywhere in the near future. Even these pessimists, however, do not believe the conference will be permitted to begin and then break up in a fight.

President Hoover's intense interest in disarmament is well known. This government's official attitude is that it hopes the conference will be held in February and that it is ready for the parley. High officials, however, have indicated that this feeling of hope and readiness meant no anxiety on our part to hold the conference promptly in any event.

They want, first, to see a rapprochement between France and Germany and, second, a naval ratio agreement between France and Italy. Everyone concerned has been trying to bring about the Franco-German rapprochement. Everyone, according to the understanding here, has faith that it can be achieved. Great Britain is at least as anxious as we are for arms reduction and can be depended upon to go to great lengths in the attempt, although her recent political developments have increased uncertainty about the conference.

France is to some observers, the military bully of Europe and to others is quite right and reasonable in maintaining her heavy armaments and armies while refusing to co-operate with other powers in the ways they desire. Whichever way you look at it, however, France is the most likely stumbling block in advance of the general conference. Her general attitude is that no other country, especially Germany, shall ever again be in a position to do her harm. Her position in demanding security is strengthened by the fact that her need of budget reduction is not as serious as that of other countries.

Senator Borah recently pointed to France's large army and her existing unprecedented security and declared she must stop gumming things up by further demands. One reads and hears that if France doesn't play ball now she will be dangerously isolated among the powers. That seems more than ever a weighty consideration in view of the world's present state. The threat has been hurled at France during past international conferences, but France, after telling the other powers where to get off, has always emerged cock of the European walk.

The only thing that can stop the conference now, one is told, is an announcement by any large power that she will not attend.

Letter to the Editor

Editor Reporter-Telegram:—

Please allow me to make reply to your editorial found in the issue of September third, relating to the subject of churches in business.

I readily agree with the sentence that read, "It is too bad that it is necessary for a minister to have to devote such a large percentage of his time to what might be called extra curricular work." I do not agree with the statement that "when it becomes necessary to choose between such a mission or letting the church suffer financially, it is much the wiser choice." This is a wonderful loop hole for the layman to use in order that he will not have to pay any of his own money into the channels of the church.

Allow me to quote a few sentences from the Christian Century of August, 19. "That's one way of heating the sifting system—buy gas from us and lower your church assessment. If the church runs a filling station at all for profit, even without such a cross appeal to the parsimony of its members, the vicious principle is there. If a filling station, why not a grocery store, and a meat market, a taxi service, and an ice cream parlor and soda fountain? In fact the church might become a purchasing agency for everything that its members may want to buy from automobiles to zwieback. If the management were good, perhaps the church could make money enough so that church assessments might be not only lowered but entirely obliterated and dividends returned to the members. It is even conceivable that membership in such a church might come to command a price, like seats on the stock exchange. To make the plan seem attractive one must forget what its successful operation would do to the popularity of the church in the community and to the prestige of religion, and its effect upon the tradesmen who are already having trouble enough to earn a living without having to meet the unfair competition of enterprises which can undersell them because they are managed gratis by men who are paid for preaching the gospel. The luckiest thing that can happen to this church's filling station is that it should fail."

It is true that Jesus Christ was a carpenter, but after he entered the ministry he gave his life to the erection of buildings not made with hands eternal in the heavens. His interest was in the building of a spiritual temple in the life of every individual.

A church that is wide awake spiritually will not have any trouble meeting its financial obligations even in the face of the most severe period of depression.

TUESDAY NIGHT LAST REGULAR GAME OF THE NOCTURNE LEAGUE

High School's Cleated Doggies in Dire Necessity for Practice Field

SPECULATION NOW TURNS TO THE PLAY-OFF

Tuesday night will close the night playground ball season. Last actors are Scruggs Buick vs. Texas Electric and Reporter-Telegram vs. De Luxe Laundry. There is a mathematical chance Scruggs Buick one game to the front of The Reporter-Telegram in his half, might not even go into a playoff with the Texas Electric, first half winner; inasmuch as the Buicks must play Midland hardware another game, a game lost by rain earlier in the season. Should the newspapermen win and Scruggs lose both the latter's remaining games, the Newsies would be winners of the last half.

Monday night games bring Rexall Stores and Bell Telephone company together in the first game, Cowden-Epley and Midland hardware in the second.

Dates for the playoff of the first and the second half winners have not been set, but an announcement

Southwest Football Starts on Thursday

DALLAS, Sept. 5. (UP).—Thursday, Sept. 10, the southwest football barrier will be lifted and seven schools will open training periods. Conference teams have seventeen inter-sectional games scheduled, Texas, Texas Christian and Southern Methodist universities loom as favorites.

If the University of Texas Longhorns repeat, it will be the first time in the history of the southwest conference that a southwest eleven has won two consecutive titles.

in that regard is expected to be given by league directors Monday.

The season about to end has been the most successful period of amateur sports, or any other sort except for that under the direction of the high school, ever held in Midland. More than 140 players are either on regular berths with the eight clubs, or have been with them. Greater crowds have attended than ever went to see baseball games played in Midland, even when the city was a member of the West Texas League.

No plans have been made for a revival of the sport once the season is over, all thoughts wandering to the approaching football season and, following that, to basketball. A league will be formed in the latter sport, possibly taking in Odessa and Stanton.

REPORTER-TELEGRAM IS BARELY ABLE TO BAT OUT WIN; FORDMEN SCRUB SUD BUSTERS CREW 18-12

In a last-inning batting orgy that "could not possibly win," but which did win, Reporter-Telegram snatched a game with Rexall Stores from the fire Friday night, winning 12-11.

The win left the Newsies with burned fingers, however, and distinctly lacking in the required punch they had been supposed to have stored against a pennant comeback. For the club, granting Scruggs Buick loses one of its remaining two games, by winning Tuesday night from the De Luxe Laundry would go into a playoff with the Buicks for the last half gonfalon. But the club, playing with the turgid lock-step of Friday night, would not win from the Laundry.

As it did for five straight games in a row before hitting a series of easy wins recently, the Newsies batted out their win at the last minute, after the score had piled up 11-1.

Cowden-Epley walked away with its game with De Luxe Laundry, taking the top end of an 18-12 score. W. Whitmire kept up his hitting streak, getting three out of five trips. H. Whitmire got the same number of blows, R. T. Whitmire hit two for two, H. Drake three for four and Moore three for four. Cowden-Epley is one of the finest defensive clubs in the circuit and has a good line of hitters that are in the right batting order.

Howard, Northington, H. Whitmire and W. Whitmire hit home runs.

SPORTS REPORTS

BY R. C. HANKINS

Fols, we hope no one will think us rankly sacrilegious, but we're a convert to a new school of religious thought. An apostle walked up to us the day before this Sabbath and told us the Lord must be with The Reporter-Telegram, referring to that club's win Friday night over the walloping Pill Rollers of the Rexall Stores. That club, reinforced by one of the finest trios in the league, Crawford, Ronald Morgan and Bill Hurst, jumped into a lead in the first inning when Will Morgan's first born cracked out a drive that was blowing retreat when it passed over Bill Blair's head in deep left, and never gave it up until the last inning, when Calhoun rolled into the plate after getting on base with a breezy single. Rountree scored the winning run, getting on base with a hit, advanced on a passed ball and racing to the plate on a hit that bounced off the conspiring bat of Bill Blair, who hit four times out of five trips during the night.

The 12-11 score was not the only not game this lowly Pill Rollers club had played the Newsies. So far as we can remember it has been one of the toughest clubs all season for the boys who use the hunt and peck system. We were in there and knew Reporter-Telegram apparently has trouble hitting Sneed, yet good fielding of the Rexall team against the Newsies is marked. Pill Rollers make many errors against other clubs, but never drop and boot balls against the Reporter-Telegram. It may be funny to others, but it's a nerve-racking ordeal for the boys of Scotty Gemmill.

FEAR IS EXPRESSED UNLESS PLOT IS GIVEN

To see Midland's husky football men working out each afternoon, directed by coaches who not only know football but get out there in football togs and actually run plays themselves until their pet methods are firmly impressed on their charges, the fans would believe that Midland's chances of a Class A championship are more than words. But—something the fans have not noticed with the concern it is due, and which the school board evidently cannot conciliate with necessity—the Bulldogs do not have a practice field that is worthy of a club that is about to cross the door stoop into faster company, into Class A football.

Head Coach L. K. Barry predicts a mediocre season and much failure on the part of the fans to understand it. He puts it in a simple manner. "Recently acquired coaches and myself recognize that the high school squad has almost everything as regards well-balanced material," he said, "but we lack one of the most necessary factors—a good practice field. So far we have been bogging up in soft plowed ground and just soft enough to let the cleats take hold will assure us a fighting chance at the Class A district championship, but to continue with what we have will almost certainly make for a berth outside the first division."

Coach Barry has asked for a better practice field. He has assured that, barring unseen impediments, the granting of such a ground will give him the chance he wants—the bringing of the championship to Midland in the first year the club is allowed to pull off Class A honors and don the pants of Class A.

When you pick up the Big Spring newspaper and see a column headed "Here and There" and signed "By Mark," you'll be looking at the composition of one Marcos J. Williamson, whom you all know well. Won't it be jolly ripping to hang the joy hooks in an old Midlander now of Big Spring after the high school Bulldogs kick up the dust and run wild over the Big Spring club? When we are forced to bring up the painful incident of Midland putting over the greater course wanted to bet on a horse race but offered no lifesaving green with the little threads running along its limp length. He offered a check instead, which caused the other man to turn up his nose. This horse racing is causing more suspicion than the atmosphere around a glue factory. Homer Epley knows his business at ball games as well as in his private office. He was rooting for one club at the diamond the other night. That club persistently lost. What does Homer do? Why, changes over to the winning club and dances with glee every time it chased in a run!

Who is the best hitter in the Nocturne at present? One of the Whitmires, the one who bats left-handed, hit three homers and a triple in one game the other night. He is with the Fords of Cowden-Epley. Bill Blair of Reporter-Telegram has hit eight times out of the last ten trips to the bat. We'll have to look into the percentages. Albert Riley has a mare that weighs about 500 pounds, but is built on an 800-pound frame. Her ribs look like they have been riveted in place and a bit of hide pasted over them to prevent rusting. She can run 10 feet a second, taking 10 steps the while. The saddle has a broken horn, looks like the aftermath of a moths' convention and other such like descriptions. Riley stretches out over his horse's head like Ichabod beside Gunpowder and, under pressure, can last, boot and bat an additional 10 inches out of his nag over the 100 yards. Timber Floyd and a bunch of the stable boys tried to get takers to a bet three men could outrun the nag in a mile relay. One man at the

RESIST this temptation!

With the first cool whiff of Fall weather, many well-intending folk begin to economize on ice. This is false economy of the most treacherous sort. First, because ice is needed more than ever during the changing seasons to keep refrigerators at a safe, even temperature. Second, because outside weather is the most inconsistent and unreliable refrigerant ever known. Third, because the negligible cost of ice is nothing compared to the health and well-being of you and your family. To obtain the many advantages of ice refrigeration, use ice freely the whole year 'round. Don't take a chance for the sake of a few cents.

length lead of T. Paul Barron on Ft. Worth and the cropper taken by Dr. D. K. Ratliff when Nancy, chamber of commerce entry, plunged wildly at the start and grew unmanageable. Another feature was the failure of the favorite, Headlight, to run better than third. Cotter Hiett rode the horse well, but the mount had been used in the first race and appeared tired. Charles Yonge on Rusty ran second. So excited was the timer that no record was kept. Distance was over the 220-yard route.

The fourth race was featured by the entry of only one foreign horse, Miss Harkey, Jim Harkey stables, Lee Anderson up. The mare ran third when Anderson failed to pass Fatima. B. W. Floyd mare, D. Mayfield up, to the left in the home stretch and was caught in a pocket when he made a desperate effort to cut to the right. Fatima won in 40.2. Monte, Tom Nance entry, Pete Patterson up, winning second and the Harkey mare winning third. Fatima's nose was a bare six inches first under the wire.

Maude F. Wins Hightone, the highly touted Ft. Stockton race animal matched for a special race Wednesday with a dark horse of the Nance stable was easily beat by Maude F. B. W. Floyd horse in the fifth race over the 3-8 miles distance. D. Mayfield put his mare out front several lengths before the back turn was reached and Lee Anderson could never overtake the lead. Mayfield's clever handling of Maude F. B. W. Floyd was the chief reason for his win. Miss Midland, E. Bryant entry, Geo. Darden up, was third. Time: 38.2.

Piccolo Pete, restive half-mile horse of the B. Bryant stable, threw Pete Patterson and delayed the start for several minutes in the sixth event, the half mile. Finally facing the starting line, he was off to a clean lead of a length and was never seriously challenged until the field swept into the home stretch. Fox, John Dublin entry, Darden up, was second and Flapper Fanny, A. Roberts horse, Anderson up, was third. King Tony, brown gelding of the B. W. Floyd stable and well reputed for his ability as a pole horse ran last. Time: 53.7.

George Keith Cops The seventh race, a mile and one-half relay between B. W. Floyd and D. Mayfield entries, was a distinct disappointment. Duce Mayfield riding his first mount Flax pulled his animal up in order to allow Norman Woody riding for the Floyd stable to control his bucking mount and get in the competition, was edged out on the first lap and thereafter didn't "choose to run." He ended the last lap in a walk long after Woody had unsaddled his mount. Time was: 3:42.

Pete Patterson, riding George Keith for Gerald Bloss, upset the dope bucket in the 5-8 race by winning by inches from Schoolboy, Walter Hightower's favorite, Lee Anderson up. Old George, formerly big-time race horse, pounded along in the dust from the favorite several lengths behind but gradually closing the gap with his locally matchless stride, challenged just as they came out of the first turn and went to a length's lead on the back stretch, holding this lead until the home stretch was reached. Schoolboy made his challenge, ran wide coming out of the back turn but made up a few feet only to be nose-out under the wire. This was by far the most thrilling race of the day.

Spikes Removed From New Road

Spikes have been hand picked from the Midland road to Seminole, Hobbs and Lovington.

The Midland chamber of commerce who worked under the supervision of a former Andrews county commissioner to gather the spikes from that segment of the road in Andrews county which was built on the old Midland & Northwestern railway dump.

So many spikes were buried in the sand of the road that autoists feared to use it. Many people ruined tires on the spikes and complaint from oil men, ranchers and farmers was loud.

Various plans to get the spikes removed were tried without success until finally the Midland chamber of commerce made a bargain deal to have the old railway irons removed by hand. The road is reported practically free of the huge nails now.

We are not trying to crowd, but have just read where Williamson said he could never again mark bold face heads on the sport page, reading in great letters "MIDLAND WINS AGAIN." With the gentleman's indulgence, we'd like to tip you off to what our Midland-Big Spring banner is expected to read: "HELL HOUNDS OF BARRY NIP SLUGGISH HEELS OF BIG SPRING STEERS IN ASTONISHING DISPLAY OF SPEED AND AGGRESSIVENESS; BIG SPRING SPORTS WRITER ALLOWED WEEK OF SICK LEAVE!" Stay right in there, Marcos, and pull for that club. That's the spirit that will pull the cash customers, and the tinkle-tinkle of dinero will be as sweet in the district this year as the sound of a heavy boot meeting an inflated ball.
