Big Spring Boy Surrenders After Fort Worth Shooting

WOMAN FATALLY INJURED

Says Boy Shot When He Was Warned About Girl

FORT WORTH, Sept. 10. (UP)—Mrs. Martha E. Elliott, 45, was perhaps fatally wounded today when shot in the right side at her home. C. E. Johnson, 22, of Big Spring, surrendered.

Mrs. Elliott said the shooting followed her ordering Johnson from her house. She said he paid attention her recently married daughter.

COWBOY LIFE IS PORTRAYED IN A LECTURE BY HALEY

"Some Cowboy Chronicles" was the subject of an address by J. Everts Haley, secretary of the Texas Historical society, before the Fine Arts club of Midland at a luncheon today. As a special courtesy, the club adjourned after its luncheon to the hall occupied by the Rotary club, giving the two organizations the benefit of the visitor's lecture.

The speech dealt vividly with life in the old west, sketching the works of writers who have portrayed the western cowboy in his true being, and was touched throughout with witty and interesting sketches from works of Chas. Siringo, Ross Sente, Chas. M. Russell and Andy Adams. Haley, in bringing out interesting phases of books by these authors, paid tribute to the writers who, through familiarity with the true life of the cowboy, have been able to omit the cheap and maudlin plots of the typical magazine "western story" and to portray the every day life of the cowboy.

Two More Firms Enter Fair Booths

Two more business houses, Midland Hardware company and My Bakery reserved space at the Midland county fair exhibit hall Wednesday. The space was checked off by a chamber of commerce official in good exhibit vantage points. This brings the total of exhibitors for the fair Sept. 25 and 26 to 24. There are other good spaces available which will be free to all Midland business houses.

Strader's Sister Dies in Abilene

Mrs. H. O. Strively, sister of W. H. Strader of Midland, and mother of Mrs. J. Harvey Clark of Abilene, formerly of Midland, died yesterday morning in Abilene after a long illness.

Oil Values Ward County Increased

Values of oil lands in Ward county have been fixed at $2,000,000 above last year's values, while other previous assessments have been decreased in the county. The values were fixed by Thomas Y. Pickett, a tax assessor of Dallas. The oil valuations were of $4,200,000.

Three Cars of Cans May Be Used Here

Midland county people will use more than three car loads of cans, for canning vegetable and truck products this season, it was predicted today by T. L. Beauchamp, of the Midland Hardware company. He declared that in no previous year had there been such interest on the part of people in canning their own vegetables here. Many are taking advantage of the welfare association's plan of cooperative canning, it was said.

Whitney Heir and Bride-to-Be

They're in the matrimonial limelight. The engagement of Cornelius Vanderbilt (Sonny) Whitney, heir to one of the nation's greatest fortunes, and Miss Gladys Crosby Hopkins of Stratford, Pa., has been announced. Here they're pictured together at Saratoga Springs, N. Y. It will be Whitney's second marriage.

MIDLAND RACE HORSES POSITIVELY OUTCLASS FORT STOCKTON STABLES IN SPECIAL MATCHED RACES HELD

Irrespective of the mystery surrounding just who "Scotty" and "Marie Dressler" are, their obvious unfamiliarity with the names under which they ran or their suspected connection formerly with "big time" was clearly evident by their performances in a couple of what were advertised before hand as races that they could run under any name—"Slouch" or "Summer Creeper" or what have you. And could burn the back stretch with the same dazzling pace they stage down the home stretch.

For yesterday's races were races only in the courteous use of the term. Scotty, ridden by W. G. Anderson, veteran jockey whose identity was and is kept as closely shrouded as those identities of the Nance horses, won the three-eighths under restraint, in the fast time of 37 seconds flat, a full six lengths to the good of Hightone, Dick Davis' Fort Stockton horse. A few minutes later, devoid of preliminaries—unless the betting of a "daylight" clause might be reckoned, Marie Dressler, the same jockey up, romped in home anywhere from seven to eight lengths ahead of Ashire, the other much publicized Stockton horse.

Winners Not Challenged
Positively, the difference in the horses was pitiful. Hightone and Ashire can run—no doubt of it. But neither has learned to fly, except to "fly the track" as they round into the stretch; and nothing short of wings and a special wind-resistance cowling fitted over their eager noses would have aided them in their races with Scotty and Marie Dressler.

Phillips Plant to Make First Runs

First runs of gasoline from the Phillips natural gasoline absorption plant near Crane City to new loading racks on the Santa Fe at McCamey are scheduled to be made about October 1. Right-of-way for a three-inch welded line to McCamey has been cleared over a distance of 25 miles. The Phillips plant has a capacity of 75,000 gallons daily, but proration and low crude prices have cut actual production to half the figure.

Even Deaths Are Depression Hit

EL PASO, (UP)—The depression has hit the undertaking business here and apparently has had something to do with the birth rate. Undertaker G. E. Maxon believes that during periods of depression there are fewer deaths than when business conditions are good. "Every depression period that I know anything about has shown a decrease in the death rate," Maxon said. "Why that should be is hard to explain."

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 10. (UP) All available policemen here today sought two negroes, who last night assaulted Miss Vera Smith, 23, stenographer, after shooting her fiance, Ted Nodurt, 28, of Fort Worth. Both were in the hospital today. Nodurt's condition was critical. He was shot through the neck and one vertebra broken.

The negroes surprised the couple as they sat in a parked car on a quiet street, robbed them and ordered Nodurt to leave. They shot him when he refused, dragged the girl out and assaulted her.

Posseman Drops Dead
When they released her, she drove Nodurt to the hospital and collapsed.

J. P. King, 43, manager of the Continental Oil company filling stations here, dropped dead today searching for attackers of Miss Vera Smith, who was parked with Ted Nodurt, Continental employe.

Physicians said Nodurt would die of bullet wounds.

Assistance Offered Breeders, Feeders

Cattlemen of Midland who have feeder calves they would like to have fed out by local farmers on the shares, can obtain names of interested farmers from the Midland chamber of commerce.

Several Midland farmers who have surplus feed crops have already indicated they would be interested in feeding out calves on a share basis. The Midland chamber already has made one such contact between farmer and rancher and will be glad to use its offices further, if desired.

Grid Rules Must Be Carried out

Regulations adopted in the last meeting by the executive committee of this Class A football district of the Interscholastic league will figure in the next meeting to be held, Sept. 15. W. W. Lackey, superintendent of the Midland school system, says. Coaches and other school representatives who attend officially will be required to show observance of the rules and to present records to substantiate this.

1. That the superintendent of the principal represent each school by one vote at the executive meeting.
2. That Big Spring be chosen as the meeting place of the executive committee.

4. That the committee go on record as opposed to schools assuming responsibility for physical disabilities on the football field and for hospital and medical expenses connected therewith.
5. That each school be assessed a five-dollar fee for expenses of the district committee.

10. That a district information blank for each player be filled out and furnished to all the member schools.
11. That these blanks, properly filled out for each player, be furnished each school before the first district game.
12. That traveling expenses be paid on a two-year reciprocal basis. (See GRID RULES page 6)

HOPE FOR FLYERS IS NOT HELD

Steamship Reports a Motor Drone Over Sea Wed.

SEATTLE, Sept. 10. (UP)—No word has been received from Don Moyle and Cecil A. Allen, Tokyo to Seattle flyers, though the steamship Arctic K. Baldwin reported hearing the drone of an airplane motor off the coast of Alaska yesterday. The plane carried only enough gasoline to keep them aloft 49 hours. They have been missing nearly 70 hours.

VISITING JUDGES TO BE HERE FOR COUNTY FARM FAIR

C. T. Watson, secretary of the Big Spring chamber of commerce, who is generally conceded to be the best agricultural secretary in Texas as among the best in other lines, will be the judge of the Midland County fair Sept. 25 and 26.

Watson agreed to come when seen at Big Spring Wednesday by Miss Genavieve Derryberry, home demonstration agent. Miss Derryberry went to Big Spring to get County Agent Bush to assist her in getting data on feeds for exhibits. The Midland agent has obtained Miss Vada Floyd of Sweetwater, Nolan county home agent, to judge the women's exhibits at the Midland fair. Both of these are donating their services except for the nominal transportation expense to be handled by the Midland chamber of commerce.

Insane Negro Piano Expert

HASTINGS, Neb. (UP)—There's music in the soul of "Mac" McPherson, 70-year-old negro in the state hospital for the insane here. And it's good music.

Twenty-seven years' confinement in the sanitarium has not taken from McPherson his love for the piano, his ear for music and the nimbleness from his fingers. He suffers from paranoid insanity—an incurable disease. He is violently insane on all subjects except music, and on this he can talk constantly and intelligently. He is a master at the piano, playing the classics mostly and overtures from the world's famous operas. Jazz, he doesn't like.

WRECK VICTIMS SAME

"About the same" was the physician's report on the conditions of Rudie Lee Lowe and Ray Coleman, the most severely injured victims of a truck accident near Cloverdale park Monday evening.

Prince's Principal Partner

The Prince of Wales, who always prefers American dance music, apparently prefers American dancing partners, too. Anyhow, smiling, dark-eyed Irma Cherry (above), appeared frequently at dances with the vacationing British throne heir at Biarritz, famous Riviera resort.

Judge to Speak, Teacher to Sing

District Judge Charles L. Klapproth, well known West Texas lay speaker, will address the congregation at the Baptist church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The general public has been invited to hear Judge Klapproth preach.

Tomcat Gets Unruly

Tomcat, Clarence Schabarauer's 3-year-old, winner of first, second or third in every race he has run since his maiden entry July 4 a year ago, has turned into one of the flashiest quarter race horses in this part of the state. Tomcat, however, became a little unruly at the starting post in his most recent races and, as one jockey said, "will have to be broke" to show up at his best.

Two-Year-Olds Flashy

Two-year-old entries this season were rated largely as to their showing in the three-eighths distance. Floyd's Paloma, a neat brown filly, won the race September 5 with a time of 40 1/5 seconds. Tom Nance's Monte, chestnut gelding, won the event the second day with time of 39 3/4. The judges' stop watches showed. Monte ran second to Paloma on the first day. Both two-year-olds have been regarded as money contenders from their first appearance on the local track and are expected to go into the three-eighths race for "threes" and up as favorites when they come back to (See RACES OVER page 6)

When another meet rolls around.

Floyd's King Tony, 16 hands high and a good polo animal, won the three-eighths Labor day after Maude F. just sold by the Floyds, became lame. King Tony will continue as a likely money contender if used in the three-eighths or the half.

Keith Without Competition

Booger Bryant's Miss Midland showed well in the three-eighths race on both Saturday and Monday but has yet to get off to good starts. More training may put her up to a winner when the next meet is held.

George Keith, thoroughbred entry of Gerald Bloss, whenever a five-eighths race can be arranged, seems without a competitor for that distance. He won the half mile in a matched race Labor day.

HOOVER WORKING ON CREDIT PLAN WITHOUT BOARD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (UP)—President Hoover is considering a plan of expanding the cotton and wheat markets' credits without consulting the farm board.

He is conferring with senators, representatives, brokers, and bankers, however, on the program shaped by Chairman Eugene Meyer of the federal reserve board.

UNBORN BABY MAY BRING MAN INTO LAW'S CLUTCHES

HOUSTON, Sept. 10. (UP)—Police hoped today that Barney McGaneagal's baby, yet unborn, will bring him into the arms of the law.

McGaneagal is charged with the murder of John Cherris, Dallas gangster, who was shot and killed, then thrown into the Brazos river. McGaneagal's whereabouts are unknown as his wife awaits the birth of a baby here.

Materials Arrive For Carbon Test

Materials are on the ground for a second carbon dioxide test in Torrance county, New Mexico, block 12-7-7, near the discovery well which is making 400,000 cubic feet of the non-inflammable gas from a depth of 1300 feet. The new well will be drilled by the Estancia Valley Carbon Dioxide company, a subsidiary of the J. B. Witt Oil and Gas company, which drilled the first well.

SOLONS ACHIEVE NEARNESS

Compromise Bill Not To Influence Long-ites

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (UP)—Prospective cotton legislation narrowed today to a sharp fight between proponents of the Huey Long plan of no cotton in 1932 and a compromise of the senate bill limiting planting of cotton to one-third of tilled soil.

Texas Share Is One-Third

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (UP)—Texas' share of the 1931 cotton crop is nearly one-third, federal estimators reported here today.

SYMPATHY HERE

Almost 100 per cent sympathy with the Long cotton plan is given by Midland, Odessa, Stanton and Big Spring farmers, J. N. Wells, Midland man, claims.

Wells said an unofficial canvass was taken of farmers in Midland county. One hundred planters were talked with and only three were not in full sympathy with the Louisiana governor's plan.

Big Spring Sends a Ship

BIG SPRING, Sept. 10. — "Big Spring wants less cotton." With those words flashing from the sides of a speedy Curtiss-Robin monoplane, N. W. McClesky, local insurance man, and E. O. Price, banker, with Don Teel, veteran local pilot and flying instructor at the controls, took off at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Austin to attend the statewide cotton rally that evening.

The movement to send this unusual "entry" to the rally, at which all living former governors of Texas will be present, was started by McClesky and H. F. Taylor, who favor the Long "no cotton" plan. Price is understood to be favorable to a reduction in cotton acreage.

It was pointed out that several hundred Howard county farmers had voiced approval of cotton curtailment, many favoring the Long plan and many a 50 per cent reduction.

For this reason, it was considered proper by those who made possible the chartering of the ship, that Big Spring be represented at the rally. (See COTTON page 6)

THE AMERICAN GOLIATH
Urging a closer study of public expenditures on the part of tax payers, the West Texas Today magazine for September publishes the following editorial:

Taxation and public expenditures have been referred to as our "fastest-growing industry." Analysis of the figures show ample grounds for such a claim. Since 1913, public expenditures for federal, state and local governmental purposes have increased from three billion to twelve and a half billion dollars per year.

Governmental expenditures per capita have increased since 1913 from $30.24 to $99.23. One person out of twelve is now on the public payroll, while in 1913, it was one out of twenty-five. Fifteen percent of our national income now goes to support the government, while in 1913, seven percent of our national income was consumed by taxation.

Approximately the same trend of increased expenditures appears in our own local and state government. State expenditures have increased from about $2 per capita in 1913 to over $12 per capita now—a six hundred per cent increase in expenditures with about a fifty per cent increase in population.

All of the above has occurred in face of the fact that expenditures in private business during the last few years have been greatly decreased. Salaries have been cut, services have been discontinued; consolidations have been made, and everything possible has been done in private business to reduce costs.

Let us get the horse before the cart. Let us get interested in the operations and organization of government, in the services of the government and in the appropriations being made.

JUSTICE FOR THE GUN-TOTER
The criminal who carries a gun is in a different category than other lawbreakers. He is intrinsically a killer.

County Judge Barnum of Syracuse, N. Y., almost always gives a gunman the limit. His comments usually are: "Although the court can often feel sympathy for the man who steals, the criminal who makes his living with a gun has no place in our society."

Washington Queen Marie Said to Be Most Remarkable Woman
By Rodney Dutcher Letter

The first of two exclusive stories on the life of the Dowager Queen Marie of Rumania.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—It was to be expected that a granddaughter of Russia's czar on one side and of England's Queen Victoria on the other, should become the most remarkable woman of modern times. And so there is nothing surprising in the fact that Queen Marie of Rumania, the "Mother-in-law of the Balkans," who was married off at 17 to a prince whose language she could not even speak and whose country she had never visited, rose steadily to prominence and power to become the world's best known woman of her day.

The blood of two of Europe's foremost royal families mingled in her veins. Her grandfathers, uncles and cousins were on almost every throne. In her girlhood she had known nothing but the atmosphere of royalty; as a young woman, she preserved, fostered and expanded it.

The war soon found her as a Red Cross nurse ministering to the sick and dying in military hospitals. It found her, too, on a certain night when the invading German army was sweeping on Bucharest, clasping to her breast her dying 3-year-old son, Mircea, her youngest. Morning dawned, the sobbing mother was holding in her arms a waxen white little body from which the soul had taken flight.

Golden-haired, blue-eyed and tomboyish, she left her home in England when 17 to marry Crown Prince Ferdinand, a man almost twice her age and whom she had never seen. It was no choice of hers; it was a marriage for reasons of state as royal marriages usually are.

Her father was Queen Victoria's second son, Alfred. Her mother was the Grand Duchess Marie Alexandrovna of Russia, the only daughter of Russia's emperor. She was brought up in England as the British daughter of the Duke of Edinburgh, who for a time stood near succession to the throne.

A vivacious, athletic girl who was fond of horseback riding and outdoor sports, she became at 17 the bride of a 23-year-old foreign prince who had had only one love affair in his life and had been disappointed in that. When old King Carol I died in 1914, her husband—his nephew and heir—ascended to Rumania's throne.

The young Prince Ferdinand's early love affairs, strangely enough, closely paralleled the more recent amorous adventures of their son, now King Carol II. Ferdinand fell in love with Helene Vaccaresco, one of the queen's ladies-in-waiting, and sought to marry her. Helene was beautiful and as intelligent as any woman in Rumania, but, alas, the daughter of a 23-year-old foreign prince.

When hard-boiled old King Carol heard of the plan his outburst shook the palace rafters. If Prince Ferdinand married a commoner, he stormed, it would cost him the throne. Ferdinand finding the promise of the throne more compelling than the lure of a pretty face, chose the throne and the marriage plans collapsed.

Not so with Queen Marie's eldest son, now King Carol II. Faced by a almost identical situation in his love for Madame Lupescu, a red-haired adventuress, he eloped with her—without benefit of clergy—and let her throne go hang. Later, after his father's death, he returned to Rumania and boldly sat himself upon the throne which he now occupies, after deposing his small son, ex-King Michael. He had within him the flicker of romance inherited from his father, but his determination came from his mother's side.

Apparently sored on the world by his blasted romance with his first love, Prince Ferdinand had little to offer his charming young bride when she arrived from England in 1893. In her own memoirs she has described those early days in the palace as miserable.

"So there I was," she wrote, "married at 17 to a man I knew little about and sent to a country I knew nothing about at all. I was a shivering little mortal with fair hair and blue eyes in a country of dark people who did not look like me or feel like me, who did not speak the same language or think the same thoughts." "I felt eyes glaring at me wherever I turned." No wonder that year later when her daughter-in-law—Princess Helene—was disconsolate over young Prince Carol's desertion of her for Madame Lupescu, Queen spoke as she did.

"I am wretchedly unhappy," Helene complained bitterly. "All queens are unhappily married," philosophically replied her mother-in-law. "It was far more miserable here during the first few years of my married life than you will ever be."

stockings for my wife yesterday. Anyone desiring to burn his home should do so before October 4. That is the beginning of fire prevention week and to have a fire on or after that date will not look good.

I keep hearing things about those jelly-bean races. M. M. Seymour, it seems, had to rent a saddle. When he went to Tate's saddle shop to work up a deal. Tate asked him if he wanted a stock saddle or a polo saddle. "What's the difference?" Seymour asked. "Well, the stock saddle has a horn and the polo saddle doesn't," Tate advised. "Just give me a polo saddle," Seymour said. "I don't think the traffic will be thick enough to need a horn."

Seymour won fourth place the first day and third place the next, but his mare, Molly Malone, failed to impress Bob Patteson with her racing blood. He jumped Seymour about not getting a faster horse. "That mare was a seven-eighths thoroughbred," Seymour told him. "Wothelth was the other eighth?" Patteson asked.

It has leaked out that Tom Nance's horse, Scotty, was named for Andy Pasken. Tom expects to name his next horse Croppie, for Fred Turner. "Buy a dollar's worth of cotton goods" is the slogan started by a Memphis, Tennessee, paper to relieve the surplus cotton. I've done my part. I bought a pair of silk

There are exactly nine steps to the well-done manicure: (1) remove the liquid polish; (2) file, (3) buff with dry polish, (4) soak in soapy water and apply cuticle remover, (5) brush with soapy water and dry, (6) apply liquid polish, (7) use nail white under tips, (8) apply cuticle oil and (9) wipe with towel to remove oil. Blouses of lace and chiffon will be worn with the new fall and winter suits. The school girl's woolen frocks should have a linen or pique collar this fall.

The weave of the knitted sport costume gives it its style this season. Plain colors are more fashionable than mixtures. Velvet is a leading fabric for formal gowns. It may be trimmed with lace or narrow white fur banding. Buckles and buttons are important among the new trimmings. Black suede opera pumps boast large cut steel buckles. Brown suede pumps have buckles which simulate wood.

Brown suede gloves for sport wear have cuffs of leopard fur. Touches of bright red, green and purple leather adorn the new handbags. Paris is showing its approval of corduroy as an autumn fabric. The French designers offer suits of corduroy in bright, deep colors.

Co-Workers Make Lists of Women Not Attending S. S.

Co-Workers, women who are in a contest with the Men's Bible class, spent Wednesday evening listing the names and forming committees in an effort to have a record-breaking attendance at the class Sunday morning at the Baptist parsonage. The contest now stands with the men 8 points ahead. Women expect to pass this number next Sunday which will be the third Sunday of a month race. The meeting was held on the lawn of the home of Mrs. E. Witty. Following the business ice watermelon was served. Any woman in Midland who is not attending Sunday school elsewhere, is invited to the Co-Workers' class.

GOD SMILES

By Vera Penick Lively

I think I saw God smile today
At some good deed that was done;
When He did, the clouds all scurried away,
And out came the shining sun.
A robin in a nearby tree
Chirruped a song of cheer,
'Twas a melody so full of glee,
That, breathless, I paused to hear.
And a flower that grew beside the way
Was waving gaily to and fro.
I know that it was the Master's smile
That caused the clouds to go.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hodge of Abilene will arrive today and remain for the opening of the Grand theatre of which he is owner. They will be guests of their son, J. H. Hodge, manager of the new theatre and Mrs. Hodge.

Recipe for Barbecue

Chops and steaks and rather thick slices of ham may be barbecued. These, of course, take less time; 30 to 40 minutes will be enough time to allow. When the meat is put on, the fire should be brightened up with a little more fuel at the beginning so that the meat will brown nicely. The meat is swabbed frequently with a barbecue sauce. The National Live Stock and Meat Board furnishes this recipe for the sauce. It is sufficient for 10 or 12 pounds of meat which will be enough for about the same number of persons, if their appetites are good, and whose isn't when a meal like this is in prospect.

Barbecue Sauce

- 1 pound butter
 - 1 quart water
 - 1-2 cup vinegar
 - 1 small onion, chopped
 - 1 clove garlic, minced
 - 1 tablespoon Tobasco sauce
 - 1 1-2 tablespoons salt
 - Black pepper
 - 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
 - 2 teaspoons dry mustard
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 3 tablespoons chili powder
 - 1-2 cup tomato catsup
- Bring the ingredients quickly to the boiling point; then simmer for 30 minutes. Swab this sauce over the roast about every ten minutes.

CAR OWNERS DEMAND VALUES —not Claims!

GUM-DIPPED CORDS
Every cord in Firestone Tires is Gum-Dipped. This patented extra process penetrates every cord—coats every fiber with pure liquid rubber. Gum-Dipping increases the flexing life of the cords—minimizes internal friction and heat—increases the strength of the tire body—and gives longer tire life. Only Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires give this Extra Value.

TWO EXTRA CORD PLYS UNDER THE TREAD
This patented construction of Two Extra Cord Plys under the Tread in Firestone Tires insures a stronger bond between Tread and Cord Body and greater protection against Punctures and Blowouts. This new, improved "wall cord" construction antiquates the old-fashioned cross-woven fabric construction used by others.

6 CORD PLYS UNDER THE TREAD

MOTORISTS are finding the Greatest Values in Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. Ever since Firestone and Firestone Dealers began advertising the true facts about tire quality and construction and actually demonstrating the Extra Values in Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, distributors of special-brand mail-order tires have grown bolder and bolder with misleading claims and comparisons in the desperate effort to interest car-owners.

Car owners bought more Firestone Tires in May, June and July, than in any like period in history. This clearly shows that car owners are interested in Firestone Extra Values and are not interested in comparisons based on an almost obsolete tire size—confusing laboratory analyses—meaningless definitions—impractical challenges with unfair claims of twenty-five per cent savings—and deceiving price comparisons.

Why risk a tire of unknown manufacture when you can get the Extra Quality, Extra Strength, and Extra Safety of the special patented construction features of Firestone Tires—Gum-Dipping, and Two Extra Cord Plys under the Tread?

You get these Extra Values—plus our Service and the DOUBLE GUARANTEE of Firestone and ourselves—at no more cost!

Drive in today.—We have sections cut from Firestone Tires, special-brand mail-order tires and others.—See the evidence.—Take nothing for granted.—Judge for Yourself.

SCRUGGS OR REPORTER-TELEGRAM? TONIGHT DECIDES THE ISSUE

BUICKS PLAY THE HARDWAREMEN AT EIGHT

Scruggs Buick must play Midland Hardware a protested game missed because of rain earlier in the half of the playground ball season, managers ruled yesterday, and the meeting of the clubs was set for this evening at 8 o'clock.

The decision culminated a noisy session that, for lobbying and soap box oratory, had the silver issue, the tariff and several other historically recorded battles wiped off the slate.

As the matter stands, or as nearly as the arrangement can be understood Midland Hardware agrees to face the Buicks without the services on the mound of their ace, Joe Byron.

At any rate, and this is one arrangement that was actually settled, the game will be played. Should the Buicks win they go into an undisputed playoff with Texas Electric first half champs, for the pennant. Should they lose they must play the Reporter-Telegram for the right to meet Texas Electric.

The relative strength of the two clubs cannot be estimated today, as it is not known how many players will be recruited, if any, by the Buicks. Bob Scruggs told a sports writer yesterday his club is badly crippled by losing of players and that a playoff would almost necessitate a period of recruiting. He intends to use about five of Midland Hardware's men, it is understood.

Yesterday's meeting was held at the Cowden-Epley Motor company.

Lamesa and Big Spring Football Fri.

By JOE PICKLE
Big Spring Herald

BIG SPRING, Sept. 10.—An annual battle that has almost grown traditional will open the football season here Friday when Coach McCollum of Lamesa unleashes his Tornados to spend their fury on the local steers. Odds favor Big Spring because of more and heavier men coupled with the at-home advantage. Lamesa has a more inexperienced team than does Big Spring.

The Tornados, flushed with a victory over an all-star team composed of collegiate players, will be no easy mark for the Steers. In the last meeting of the two squads, the city to the north of here administered a severe drubbing on the hides of the Steers.

Battling on a brand new playing field, the game is expected to be unusually fast. The Steer stadium gridiron has been sodded during the summer months and a grassy playing surface will greet the football visitors.

Coach McCollum announces the following line-up for the Tornados: Treadway, fullback; Moore and Cox, halfbacks; Marr, quarterback; Medlin and Keger, ends; Borden and Boswell, tackles; Jordan and Gable, guards and Womack, center.

The Big Spring line-up as selected by Bristow will probably shape up as follows: Schwarzenbach, quarterback; Hobison, fullback; Dennis and Flowers, halfbacks; Hopper and Coats, ends; Armstrong and Roberts, tackles; Sanders and Orr, guards, and Dyer, center.

SPORTS REPORTS

By R. C. HANKINS

Nothing traversed the wild ether this day except chatter of the scribes about football. As for ourselves we'd just as soon hear the pigskin racket as to waste time remembering the fiasco that came in the form of a couple of races at Cowboy park yesterday afternoon. The Nance stable entries ran so fast we could not hold George McCormick's glasses on the field—its lenses are powerful, but the Nance horses were so far in the lead one had to watch the field with naked eyes.

While McCamey is slaughtering former convictions of sports writers and getting reams of publicity about its decisive beating of Marfa, Midland too will have something to think about. For Austin high of El Paso is bringing a team here that is plenty tough-footed, judging from the following:

"The Austin high team of El Paso rated as the El Paso football favorite this year, has a backfield candidate who plays the game barefooted and is being taught for the first time to wear cleated shoes. The lad is a son of an army officer who was stationed in the Hawaiian Islands. There he played football with the Hawaiians, shoeless. He punts from 30 to 40 yards with the bare foot. Bob Ingram, El Paso scribe, informs."

We remember that last year when Midland thoroughly trounced the Austin school in football that the good work was assisted by blocking of punts. Several of the boys got shoes in their faces while doing so. Imagine the discomfiture of the barefooted one in getting his toes nails clipped to the quick by the strong teeth of a charging lineman—but, more than that, how do you think the poor devil of a Midland grifter would feel to find someone had stuck a toe in his mouth? Rough stuff was born on the gridiron, but getting a toe stuffed down one's throat is a new wrinkle, so far as we know.

So far as Bloddy Cross' criticism against the Star-Telegram's picking of Brownwood as a strong contender for Class A honors in its district is concerned we have no rebuttal; but when he fails to leave Midland out of consideration when he mentions clubs that can beat Brownwood, we wonder if he isn't forgetting a rather light but powerful and fast club? Says Blondy:

"The staid old Star-Telegram informs that Brownwood is the football favorite in district 4. Such is characteristic of the Cowtown scribes, ever bubbling off about something of which they know little. As the average West Texas man knows, Brownwood isn't in district 4 and if Brownwood were in the district Brownwood would lack considerable of being the favorite. Sweetwater, McCamey, and San Angelo each no doubt is capable of defeating Gene Taylor's light and inexperienced squad by a topheavy score."

A sports writer should keep at the press table whenever possible. The San Angelo scribe refereed a mat bout between Dutch Mantell and Joe Reno the other night and besides getting slugged, was on the south side of a fall with the grapple. At any rate, he's the only scribe of them all who has gone to the mat with the following, petting contingent.

The Standard carries the following insights:

"Bill Flowers, Big Spring jack rabbit back, was badly hooded heavily last fall by Bob Campbell, then sports writer of the Howard county daily. Flowers is, with the squad this year, but the Big Spring correspondent tells us Obie Bristow has a snappier backfielder than Flowers in a young fellow named Dennis, probably one of Obie's Oklahoma recruits.

"Mike Hicks, the Roscoe Rambler who is pouring his 190 pounds daily into a Sweetwater uniform this fall, knocked himself out the other afternoon during scrimmage exercises. Hicks was lugging the hide, running low and lifting his knees high. Wham! Michael suddenly smacked himself in the jaw with a knee and went out like a cucumber, according to the Sweetwater Reporter."

Marcos Williamson opines the "old man's game of golf is about to be taken up seriously by the youngsters". As if the juveniles hadn't been at it for years. All the golfers we know look ruefully at their clubs around the teeing off places, hunting new places where Junior has been hitting rocks.

We don't play polo any more hereabouts, for some reason associated with the depression. Texon and San Angelo are riding each other's clubs of the ball. They split a couple of engagements the other day, alternating honors in 6-5 scores.

C. W. Post told us he had an unusual round at country club the other day. He didn't refer to lowering his score to 54, but to the fact that he shot a six on every hole!

B. H. McClain, remembered as the superintendent who said in print last year that all sports writers should be beheaded, or something of the sort—that their morals are not always conducive to the right sort of sports following, to be exact, will call a meeting of the district football committee for Sept. 12, at 10 o'clock. He asks in letters to member schools that cards be in hand for exchange and that everyone be ready to act on transfers, as well as being up to date on various and sundry matters. "We are ready to clear decks for the season," he said.

Hitting The Stride Again

And it's a Grand and Glorious Feeling as the comic artist says, when the store is busy as it has been this week.

Just like old times again. But, as Mr. Postum says:

There Is a Reason

This store is full of wonderful New Fall Merchandise of every description and the values are what is bringing the business.

Not in twenty years has GOOD merchandise been sold as low as we are selling it today.

The lot of Dresses that we have at TEN DOLLARS, special this week, are indeed wonderful. If you have not seen them, do not fail to do so.

The special offering of Three Pairs of our regular $1.95 Stockings for $4.95 has brought customers this week and we shall continue this offer throughout the week.

The Pure Thread Silk, 45 gauge Cradle Foot, full fashioned Stocking that we offer at $1.00 the pair is, we believe, the best Dollar Stocking in the whole state. Sizes 8 to 10, and all the new fall colors.

And Remember, PLEASE, that Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the 17th, 18th and 19th, are DOLLAR DAYS and we tell you frankly that we have never had and you have never seen such wonderful values in wanted merchandise as we will offer then.

Truly, we are trying to serve you in such a manner as will build this business back and it is gratifying to see the response we are having. We appreciate it.

"Trying to Serve You Better."

at the turn. Ashire, looking on from a distance up the stretch, required two and a fifth more seconds to cross under the wire.

Welfare Benefits

Results of the races were surprising to most of the fair size crowd, it appeared. The preponderance of betting seemed to be on the Midland horses, but there was plenty left for backing the Stockton horse in the second race. It is perfectly safe to surmise that few expected to see the Stockton horse so completely out-classed, even after the veteran jockey showed up with his light weight. But that Scotty and Marie Dressler could have easily won under impost, even had the Stockton horses held tightly to the rail all the way around the turns, was evident.

The welfare association received $86.36 in receipts from the races, which were especially matched several days ago. Judges were Fish Pollard of Midland and Tom Jones of Odessa; timers were Cap Wallace of Midland and Bill Nix or Rankin; foul judges were A. C. Francis of Midland and Ed Doty of Pecos. John Dublin was starter.

Graduated Tax Is Suggested

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (UP)—A graduated tax on cotton to bolster an acreage reduction bill was urged today by former Governor James E. Ferguson.

He said in the Ferguson Forum that such a tax would support the J. J. Olsen cotton bill restricting 1932 planting to a third of this year's. He urged a tax of 10 cents per bale on the first five, $1 on the next five, $2 on each of the next ten bales and $10 on all over 20 bales.

Races Over--

Mount Comes Back

John Dublin's two-year-old entry Sept. 5, Wolf Chaser, sometimes called Bill or Bill Forehand, ran fourth in the three-eighths, only to win the quarter mile free for all on Labor day. Wolf Chaser's time in the quarter was 27 flat, a second faster than the cowpony race was won by Headlight on the second day and one fifth of a second faster than Major won it the first day. Wolf Chaser is green and shows strong possibilities in the quarter mile event.

Flapper Fanny, three-year-old mare owned by Alvin Roberts, may have hit her stride when Lee Anderson rode her as a good third in the half mile race Sept. 5. On Labor day she was run in the three-eighths, winning third. With rigid training, she should take on stamina enough to stay in the purse money in the half.

As the Guesses Go

Major, four-year-old cowpony from Leon Goodman's ranch, ridden to a win by Buck King Sept. 5, may or may not be a contender in the quarter race. One would guess that he is too good a horse to bring back to the track and that cow work or polo may claim him. Headlight, who won the race for Alvin Roberts Sept. 7, King up again, is of somewhat the same classification. Only three years old, he has the "bottom" and strength that marks him for the kind of cowpony or polo horse that good money is paid for.

Maude F Goes

The fans undoubtedly regret the departure of Floyd's Maude F from the local track. A consistent money winner in the three-eighths, she took that event September 5 over Hightone with time of 38 1-5 seconds. Some said Hightone was not stretching out, but his race against the Nance horse Wednesday seemed little faster if any. Maude F has been sold to a Louisiana polo man.

Visiting horses here in the recent meet, sponsored by the Vets added much to the interest of the two-day program. Hightone and Ayeshire of the Dick Davis string, Fort Stockton, ran second in the three-eighths and quarter races Sept. 5 but did not appear Monday on account of having matched races for Wednesday. Denness Redden's March B, of Colorado, also was a splendid animal among the visiting horses.

And Last of All

Any treatise on the Midland race ponies would be incomplete without honorable mention for "Old Fort Worth", 10-year-old dun horse belonging to Clarence Schaubauer. He carried his jolly bean jockey to win first place each time he appeared on the track. An old roping horse, he responded to the touch of spurs at the start by leaping off two or three lengths ahead, easily maintaining or increasing his lead as he flattened out down the home stretch. His appearance in two quarter mile races Labor day dispelled any belief that he was good for only a spurt. He was formerly used in the rodeo arena by Tom Burnett at Fort Worth. Lane Deupree brought him to Midland, selling him to Schaubauer several years ago.

E	A	R	N

By using the letters A, R and E, in addition to the M and N originally given, the square above can be filled with four words reading alike both vertically and across.

They roll so quick and easy with good old P.A.

Take a little P.A., spread it along a makin's paper, and do your little roll. Notice how quick and easy they roll...and how they stay put. No fuss or muss...no spilling around. Prince Albert is crimp-cut, the ideal form for rolling.

And listen . . .

No home-rolled cigarette ever tasted like that before. Cool and wonderfully smooth, with a taste that can't be put into words.

Prince Albert is better tobacco for home-made cigarettes and better tobacco for pipes. Jimmy-pipers the world over say that the way to get the most out of a pipe is to put P.A. into it. That's putting it as plainly as can be. Get some P.A. today. Smoke it either way. Do that!

—AND HERE'S THE BEST PAPER. A book of the finest cigarette-papers the world ever produced. Made expressly for R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company by Bolloré, France's foremost maker of finest cigarette-paper. RESIST this temptation!

With the first cool whiff of Fall weather, many well-intending folk begin to economize on ice. This is false economy of the most treacherous sort. First, because ice is needed more than ever during the changing seasons to keep refrigerators at a safe, even temperature. Second, because outside weather is the most inconsistent and unreliable refrigerant ever known. Third, because the negligible cost of ice is nothing compared to the health and well-being of you and your family. To obtain the many advantages of ice refrigeration, use ice freely the whole year 'round. Don't take a chance for the sake of a few cents.

the first hundred yards, cut in sharply but without interference, appeared to let the gap close slightly as he managed his horse carefully on the sweep into the stretch and gained at every stride until the wire was passed. Hightone "flew the track" at the turn into the stretch and came down in the faster going, hopelessly outclassed. Ridden by a jockey who weighed several pounds less than the Stockton rider, the sorrell gelding was under close restraint all the way, yet appeared to gain at every stride in the back and home stretches, required to be gingered only on the home turn.

Marie by Herself The second race was more of a farce than ever. Marie Dressler acted up at the post and wanted to bound away. It could be more than assumed through field glasses at the moment that the mare was well acquainted with her jockey, for his hands stole around her neck in a caressing manner that quieted her, and she visibly reacted to his persuasive talk. The mare was at the outside position and was closely lapped at the back turn. She was running under tight rein, however, and could easily have moved up at the first asking. Just as the imported jockey had figured, Ashire ran wide at the turn and the mare was shot through the opening. Down the stretch she came, galloping well within herself but making fast time of it, to a win so pronounced that the stands went wild. From the clamor one might have fancied the race a race instead of a stampee. Marie Dressler ran the quarter in 25 flat, remarkable for the Midland track and more especially when it is considered that she was held tightly except for the brief moment her jockey took to put her out front
