Local Women Baking Cookies For Military

All women of the community have been invited to help in a cookie 'bake-off' to benefit the U. S. armed forces serving in the Persian Gulf. A spokesperson said, "Let's send a real home town expression of support to assure them we care."

Women wishing to bake on Friday, November 23, should be at the First United Methodist Church at 9 a.m. Contact Billie Downing for additional information.

This will be followed by a second bake day on Monday, November 26 at the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church. Contact Mary Ann Ramirez about this day.

If you cannot bake, but can help wrap and package the cookies, be at the churches on either day. If you prefer to bake at home, take your cookies to one of the churches on the appropriate day.

Ingredients will be purchased from the Jennislipper Armed Forces Badge project, but donations of ingredients would be appreciated. You may like to donate flour, sugar or butter flavored Crisco. All help will be appreciated, according to the spokesperson.

Make your Thanksgiving complete by remembering these men and women who are away from home during this holiday season.

LAZBUDDIE LONGHORNS WIN BI-DISTRICT TITLE--In fast and furious six-man football action Thursday night, the Lazbuddie Longhorns defeated the Meadow Broncos to win the Bi-District title. Next week, the Longhorns will meet the winner of the Friday night Guthrie-Miami game. Coach C. W. Williams will be announcing the game site and time the first of the week following a meeting with the winning coaches. (Journal Photo)

'Horns Down Meadow With 66-44 Victory

The name of the game is "football" and Kirk Jesko is the "Man of the Hour," following the Lazbuddie Longhorn-Meadow Bronco playoff game Thursday night for Bi-District Honors. The Longhorns got off to a rather slow start, but gathered steam as they went along, and won the game on their home field, 66-44.

Taking the opening kickoff, the Longhorns failed to move the ball, and were forced to punt it away to Meadow.

The Broncos quickly put a drive together, and managed to move the ball 41 yards before losing the ball to the 'Horns on a fumble.

Taking advantage of the Meadow fumble, Kirk Jesko, a Lazbuddie junior, rambled for 60 yards to paydirt. The Longhorns went out in front, 8-0 after the PAT was good.

This disrupted Meadow momentarily, and they again made only four plays before the Longhorns recovered the ball on a quarterback sack with 3:36 left in the first. Paul Williams sent a pass to Matt Cozby, who scored from 32 yards out and the PAT made it a 15-0 game for the Longhorns.

Meadow came back quickly on two runs of 11 and 66 yards before Bronco Cody Andrews romped in from 66 yards out at 3:19 of the first. Their PAT was good and they were only seven points behind, 15-8.

Four plays later, on a 33 yard pass from Paul Williams to Kirk Jesko, the Longhorns scored again, with 2:32 left in the first quarter. The PAT was good, and the Longhorns pulled ahead 23-8 against the Broncos.

Meadow struck again in the first quarter when Cody Andrews again scored, this time, from the 31 yard line with :34 left to play in the first. At the end of the first, it was Lazbuddie, 23 and Meadow, 16.

Going into the second, the Longhorns again had the ball, and at 9:22 of the second, Kirk Jesko added another six points, making it into the end zone from five yards out. The extra point attempt was successful, and the Longhorns pulled further away from the Broncos, with a score of 30-16.

The rest of the second quarter became a see-saw action, as both teams stiffened up their defenses and the ball went back and forth and back and forth.

Late in the second quarter, with just :15 before halftime, Jesko slammed through again, and again from five yards out to make it 36-16. The PAT failed and as the clock ran out in the half, that was still the score.

MISD Hires New Superintendent; Assumes Job Here January 4

Wednesday morning, Cindy Purdy, president of the Board of Trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District introduced MISD's new superintendent to the local news media in a special news conference.

Mrs. Purdy said, "The board has worked very hard for the past few months in a long process to find a new superintendent. We worked very hard to find the right person," she added. "We appreciate the media, community, students and board who helped, and appreciate all the effort by the community."

The board president said the new superintendent, Bill Moore, will assume his position in Muleshoe on January 4.

He is coming to Muleshoe from the Bryan Independent School District.

Moore said he is very excited about the opportunity to join the team in Muleshoe. He said his wife, Trish, is also a school teacher, teaching Chapter I.

They are the parents of twin daughters, Julie and Jenny, 20 years of age. Julie is completing her studies at Texas A&M, where she plans to become a second grade school teacher. Jenny is married, and lives in Houston. She is completing her studies at the University of Houston in speech therapy. Her husband is a food technologist with Boeing, working with the Space Program.

Moore is a native of Abilene, but has lived in Lubbock, Big Spring, Clovis and Bryan. His wife is originally from Plainview.

He commented, "This is one of the most exciting opportunities of my life. I am very impressed with the teachers and with the kids, and am ready to begin working with them."

His teaching career started out in Big Spring, where he taught math and was a coach. He then went to Bryan and then to White Oak, returning to Bryan in 1984 as an assistant principal in high school. He was then named a junior high school principal and later named assistant principal.

City-Farm Week Puts 'Light' On Agriculture

As consumers, we may not give much thought to where our food comes from, other than the supermarket. But perhaps we should, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Carl Anderson said that Nov. 16-22 will be observed as National Farm-City Week.

"This is an appropriate time to recognize achievements of the risk-takers of the nation's food and fiber crops," he said.

Anderson said that farmers, rural townspeople and city residents who work in some phase of agribusiness all help to make the nation's agricultural production system a big success.

"This annual activity marks the seven days leading up to and including Thanksgiving Day and is an observance to honor the country's greatest resource -- its people," Anderson said.

He said the income of about 23 million Americans -- roughly, about one job in every five -- depends on efficient production on farms and ranches.

"This makes agriculture and agribusiness the nation's number one employer," Anderson said. "Together, these people comprise the agribusiness complex, which reaches far beyond the farm gate to impact all consumers."

Anderson said U. S. Department of Agriculture figures show that American consumers spend more than $375 billion annually on foods produced by our nation's farms and ranches.

"This money buys more than 400 million tons of fruits and vegetables, meat, poultry and dairy products a year," he said. "But only about one-fourth of this amount actually pays for the raw food product and represents the farmer's share of the food dollar."

IT WAS A BIG BEER BUST--Early Thursday night, the Bailey County Sheriff's office, with two Texas ABC officers looking on, 'busted' and poured out 1,776 cans of beer behind the Bailey County Law Enforcement Center. Here, Deputy Sheriff Benny Clifton has just burst a can, and beer is spurting from the can. The beer is confiscated liquor that had accumulated in the Bailey County Law Enforcement Center. Heritage And Horizons

4-H Conference Theme

With the theme on "Heritage and Horizons," the 44th annual conference of the national Association of Extension 4-H Agents was held November 3-7 at the Greenbrier in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia.

The conference was designed for Extension educators who help youth utilize and build on the strengths of the past, cope with and find pleasure in the present, and anticipate and prepare for the future.

The annual conference is the only national professional improvement program for Extension 4-H professionals. Participating in the conference was Kandy K. McWhorter, Bailey County Extension Home Economist. Approximately 700 Extension 4-H agents, specialists and administrators from throughout the nation attended the conference hosted by West Virginia's 4-H professionals.

Participants took part in seminars on "Peer Pressure Reversal," "Trends of Today: Effect on Tomorrow's Volunteers," "Empowering Teens," and "Reaching and Teaching Minority Youth."

In addition, the conference featured six hours of workshops and three hours of poster sessions devoted to the latest research in communications, educational design, youth development, youth program management and volunteerism.

Keynote speakers included Dennis Goin, director of educational programs for Edge Learning Institute; the Rev. Leon H. Sullivan, president of the International Foundation for Education and Self-Help; Dr. Leah Hoopfer, deputy administrator for 4-H and Youth with the U.S. Department of Agriculture; and Judith Jones, director of the National Center for Children in Poverty.

Goin discussed how people can continue to grow despite the changes taking place around them. His talk on "A Human Becoming" focused on how one develops self-image and self-esteem to enhance performance.

The Rev. Sullivan spoke on the relevance of heritage in looking at the problems of today and in preparing to meet challenges of the future.

"Today's Children: Face the Facts" was the theme of Jones' presentation. Hoopfer issued a visionary challenge to the youth development professionals.

4-H is the Cooperative Extension System's informal educational program for young people. The program is a cooperative effort of youth, volunteer leaders, state land-grant universities, federal-state-local governments, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The mission of Extension's 4-H program is to assist youth in acquiring knowledge, developing life skills, and forming attitudes that will enable them

High Risk Persons Need Flu Vaccine

With flu season near, officials at the Texas Department of Health (TDH) have urged anyone who may be at high risk of infection to seek immunization. People most at risk of the potentially deadly disease, are those 65 or older, persons with chronic respiration, or heart problems and children weakened by disease.

"Influenza, which occurs most often from December through April, kills about 20,000 individuals in the United States each year--most of them in high-risk categories," said Robert D. Crider Jr., director of TDH's Immunization Division. Crider said that persons 65 and older constitute one of the risk groups hardest-hit by influenza and its complications.

"Fewer than 30 percent of Americans in high risk groups receive the recommended annual injection of influenza vaccine," he added. "We believe that one reason older people fail to be vaccinated is their unfounded fear that the vaccine can actually cause influenza. The truth is that a vaccinated person may still contract some strain of flu, but not from the vaccine. If that happens, though, the vaccine usually helps lessen the severity of the case."

High-risk categories include the following people who are most likely to develop complications from influenza:

- Persons 65 years old and older.
- Residents and employees of nursing homes and other facilities treating chronically ill patients of any age.
- Adults and children with chronic heart or lung disorders, including children with asthma.
- People under medical care for chronic metabolic diseases, kidney or blood problems or weakened immune systems.
- Children, 18 and younger, who are receiving long-term aspirin therapy, which can place them at risk of developing Reye syndrome after influenza.

"We strongly recommend influenza vaccinations for all people in these high-risk groups especially if they are pregnant women or international travelers," Crider advised. "People infected with the human to become self-directing, productive and contributing members of society.

4-H programs are conducted for 4.5 million youth in 3,150 counties of the United States, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, Micronesia and Northern Mariana Islands. In addition, 82 other countries have similar programs to 4-H.

immunodeficiency virus (the virus which causes AIDS) also may be at increased risk for flu complications."

In addition, physicians, nurses and other health professionals should be immunized against influenza to avoid spreading the disease to their patients, according to recommendations from the Centers for Disease Control.

"TDH and the American Lung Association already have reminded health professionals and others in close contact with high-risk people to be immunized, both for their own protection as well as for others," Crider said.

"As early as July we advised physicians to offer vaccine to their patients during routine clinic visits, beginning in September and throughout the influenza season--typically December through April," he said.

Crider explained that all unimmunized residents of chronic-care facilities, such as nursing homes, should be immunized immediately. In addition, high-risk persons who are hospitalized any time from now through March and members of their households are encouraged to be vaccinated, he said.

He added that influenza vaccination is necessary yearly, because immunity declines with time. Also, since flu strains and vaccines against them differ from year to year, only the vaccine for the current season should be used.

The vaccine for the 1990-91 season is designed to combat the A/Taiwan, A/Shanghai and B/Yamagata strains.

Creative Living

by: Sheryl Borden

Information on quick storage ideas and making classic casseroles will be the featured topics on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, November 20 at 12 noon and Saturday, November 24 at 2 p.m. (All times are Mountain.)

Linda Funk, representative of the Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board in Madison, WI, will share some classic casseroles from America's heartland--Wisconsin. The idea is to cook the dish once, but serve it twice by varying the meat or vegetables!

Mary Ellen Payne, New Mexico Cooperative Extension Service in Las Cruces, will discuss the importance of efficient and easy to install storage items in the house. Some of the units can be made at home, but she'll also show an array of items for storage that can be purchased in a favorite hardware store.

On Tuesday, November 20 at 9:30 p.m. and on Thursday, November 22 at 12 noon, "Creative Living" will demonstrate making a Colonial Rug, describe cooking seafood, and making quick Christmas decorations.

Pam Aulson is the owner of Patch as Patch Can and lives in Glen Cove, New York. Ms. Aulson will show how to make a Colonial Rug by braiding scraps of fabric together. This is a terrific way to "recycle" useable cloth from worn out clothing.

Marilyn Rose, spokesperson for the Bureau of Seafood Marketing with the Florida Department of Natural Resources, is going to discuss and demonstrate some of the major cooking methods for seafood. She'll also explain the "10-minute" rule about cooking seafood and show an interesting fish measuring gadget. Ms. Rose is from Plantation, FL.

Tracy Moxon is a freelance home economist and lives in Windsor, CO. She will show several simple Christmas crafts that kids can enjoy making in preparation for the holidays.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show is carried on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, CO. Viewers can request copies of materials offered on the show by sending one 25 cent stamp for each handout requested. Send the stamps, along with your name, address and booklets requested to:

He is the grandson of Wannie Frazier of Muleshoe and Winston and Sarah Burkhardt of Battle Mountain, formerly of Muleshoe. He is the great nephew of Nelda Merriott.

A 1987, graduate of Battle Mountain, Burkhardt was born in Muleshoe and lived there until he was four years old. "He loves to visit Muleshoe and has spoken of making Muleshoe his home after his military service" said Mrs. Merriott. "Perhaps he will."

Burkhardt completed his basic training at Camp Pendleton in San Diego. He was sent to Saudi Arabia from El Toro, which is near Santa Ana, Calif. He has served in Japan and Korea.

Leon Sullivan, well known for his Sullivan Principles-a Code of Ethics for companies operating in South Africa; Dennis Goin, a motivational speaker who teaches people how to deal with change; Judith Jones, Director of National Center for Children in Poverty who addressed children in poverty program issues; and Leah Cox Hoopfer, Deputy Administrator for 4-H and Youth with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, who addressed "Facing the Future."

Firewood?

It's time for many to burn wood again in stoves, heaters and furnaces.

Wood is traditionally bought by the cord. A cord of properly dried hardwood equals in heating capacity (when properly burned) 130 gallons of no. 2 fuel oil.

One can price oil to determine relative cost.

Wood should have been cut six to ten months before burning.

Wood burning has disadvantages. It requires storage space, is often a hauling problem. Wood fires must be regularly stoked and controlled.

They can be inefficient, or dangerous. They mean ash removal problems.

But the home using wood for heat isn't at the mercy of a power company, the weather, or a delivery truck.

Mrs. Savuto Explains Prescription Drug Program

Muleshoe Jennyslippers met at noon Tuesday for their regular bi-monthly meeting. Pat Langfitt called the meeting to order, followed by the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting by Bobbie Harrison. Norma Bruce gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Langfitt announced that donations are being taken for new Christmas decorations for Muleshoe. Donations are being accepted from both businesses and individuals. These donations may be dropped off at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Nominations were taken for officers for the coming year, some of the names submitted by the nominating committee have declined. Those being nominated are Evelyn Peet and Ruby Green, president elect; Eddie Lou Woods and Donna Kirk, treasurer; and Joyline Costen, secretary.

Tickets for the annual barbecue, which is being held during the bazaar were passed out to the members. Tickets are $6 each and may be purchased from any member or at the door during the serving hours.

Jerri Savuto spoke to the group on the Prescription Fund, a new program set up to help with prescription drugs for those who are unable to pay. Recognizing the need for the fund, Mrs. Savuto, an employee of Muleshoe Area Medical Center, went to the Ministerial Alliance and although they have another program they didn't have a fund of this kind. So Mrs. Savuto turned to the churches and eventually back to the Ministerial Alliance, who helped set up a fund for this program. Donations are needed and may be given to the Ministerial Alliance and will be administered through the First United Methodist Church. Mrs. Savuto stressed the fact that she will screen all applicants and check to see if there is another program in which the applicants qualify, before the prescriptions are given. "This is not a long term thing, only acute cases will be considered" she stated.

Terry Snell reported on the Care Package program and reported that the first boxes had already been sent, with more packages to be sent at a later date. Donations may be dropped off at boxes in various businesses around Muleshoe.

Mrs. Kidd, Chamber of Commerce manager, reported that the Christmas parade is scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 1. The theme of this year's parade is "Christmas, Old and New."

MISS JENNIFER MICHAEL

Bridal Shower Honors Miss Jennifer Michael

The fellowship hall of the Calvary Baptist Church was the scene of a bridal shower Sunday, Nov. 4 honoring Jennifer Michael, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Rick Michael, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church. Miss Michael is the bride elect of Joe Kirby of Ft. Worth.

Guests were greeted by the honoree and her parents between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. and registered by Nicole Alanis.

The entire congregation was invited into the fellowship hall where Connie Alanis and Jan Springfield served sandwiches, chips, dips, coffee and tea. It was reported that everyone enjoyed an informal slide show featuring the honoree as a baby and her childhood.

A cake, inscribed with the names of the couple, Joe and Jennifer and their wedding date, Nov. 23, centered with a miniature pink-topped gazebo with a tiny bride and groom inside, was also served. Crystal appointments were used.

The serving table was covered with a white lace table cloth with a pink underlay and was accented with a large pink silk floral arrangement in a vase. The honoree's corsage consisted of pink silk roses in white satin. Miss Michael carried a single long stemmed rose.

The ladies of the Calvary Baptist Church and Jan Springfield served as hostesses and gave individual gifts.

Friendship Club

The Friendship Club met Monday, Nov. 12 in the home of Pauline Guinn. The meeting was called to order by Ms. Guinn, president.

Eight members answered roll call. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and a treasurers report given by Gladys Darsey, secretary/treasurer.

During the business session, the members discussed and voted to disband the club. "It was a hard decision to make, since we had been together for many years, but due to age, health problems and winter coming on it was thought best to disband" said Maud Young.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Olene Watts, Adelyn Swafford, Gladys Darsey, Jewell Griffiths, Maud Young, Sammie Ethridge, Kathryn Cole and Pauline Guinn, hostess.

The Christmas party will be on December 11.

The meeting was closed with a prayer by Maud Young.

held the Broncos and the ball went back to Lazbuddie on downs. Putting a drive together, the 'Horns marched downfield for 70 yards in seven plays before Luis Gonzales slipped through from the four and also made the PAT to take the Longhorns to a 44-16 lead.

At 5:09 of the third, Meadow wasn't through and took over once again. The Bronco's Fidel Villalpando found Vincent Garcia with a 52 yard TD pass, but the PAT failed, and the Broncos kept the game alive, with the score going to Lazbuddie 44-Meadow 22.

It became Lazbuddie's time to score from 52 yards out when Paul Williams found Luis Gonzales open for a 52 yard TD pass. Gonzales also made the extra points, and Lazbuddie pulled out to a 52-22 lead.

Seven plays later, with 1:27 left in the third, Meadow scored again, this time on another Villalpando-Garcia pass, and the extra point attempt was good, to bring the score to 52-30, with Lazbuddie's lead diminishing.

On a pass interception, Garcia scored from 23 yards out for the Broncos. The time was 1:10 of the third, and the Broncos took the score to 52-36. This was the score at the end of the third.

Going into the fourth and final stanza, a couple of Meadow penalties helped the Longhorns on another drive. Kirk Jesko scored from two yards out with 8:45 left in the fourth, but the PAT failed. It was Lazbuddie 58-Meadow 36.

Meadow took over, and managed four plays before fumbling the ball to Lazbuddie. Lazbuddie then lost the ball back to the Broncos, who made five plays before 'Horn Luis Gonzales intercepted the ball.

At 2:45, Lazbuddie made their last score when Luis Gonzales scored from the four. The PAT attempt was good.

Meadow took over, and with 1:16 left in the game, A one yard pass from Travis Andres to Fidel Villalpando was the final score in the game. The PAT was good.

For the rest of the game, it was just defensive action for both teams.

Lazbuddie will play the winner of the Guthrie-Miami game which was played Friday night. Going into the Friday night playoffs, the Guthrie Jaguars had not lost a game this season.

For Friday night, the Longhorns had 268 yards in the air and 275 yards rushing for 543 total offensive yards.

Kirk Jesko had 194 yards and five touchdowns in the games. Paul Williams completed 11-22 passes.

Anderson said about $280 billion, or three-fourths of each food dollar, pays for having the food assembled, inspected, stored, graded, processed, packaged, transported, wholesales and retailed. This is often termed the marketing share of the food dollar, he said.

In Texas, Anderson said, farmers and ranchers in 1989 rounded up $11.2 billion in agricultural receipts, up two percent from 1988.

"This has kept Texas in second place nationally in cash receipts, behind California, which had farm receipts of about $17.7 billion," he said.

Farmers and ranchers often are at risk, however, and droughts or late freezes reduce yields. Last year, Anderson said, Texas producers saw net income decline by two percent, from $3.67 billion in 1988 to $3.60 billion.

Anderson said Texas continues to rank first among all states in sales of cattle and calves, sheep and wool, goats and mohair, cotton, farm acreage and values and number of farms and ranches.

Farm-City week has been observed nationally for the past 36 years, said Warren Newberry of Waco, the Texas representative to the National Farm-City Council Inc.

Newberry said more than 15,000 communities across the U. S. took part in the Farm-City Week observance last year. Newberry had a long career with the Texas Farm Bureau before his recent retirement.

Thanksgiving History Outlined By Combest

By: Congressman Larry Combest

While the fourth Thursday of November is traditionally Thanksgiving Day, its celebration has not always been observed consistently. A long time ago, people set aside various special days to give thanks for military victories or for deliverance from evil or epidemics of sickness. The first Thanksgiving service on the shores of the New World by colonists was on August 9, 1907. Settlers in present day Virginia gave thanks for the survival of their small company each December 4, beginning in 1619 -- until 1622, when Indians almost killed them off.

The first Pilgrim Thanksgiving happened just as our history books said it did: in Plymouth Colony in 1621 -- but probably in mid October. The Pilgrims never set a regular Thanksgiving Day, but they still celebrated in the years that followed.

Only during the Revolutionary War did Americans of the 13 colonies agree on one day for celebration: but it was December 18, 1777. After the revolution, President George Washington declared that thanks for this new nation should be given on Thursday, November 26, 1789.

Thanksgiving was finally on a regular schedule after magazine columnist Sarah Josepha Hale won her 36 year argument for a national holiday of Thanksgiving with an 1863 editorial asking if it would not be "...more truly American, to become national in unity when we offer to God our tribute of joy and gratitude for the blessings of the year?" Timing of the divisive Civil War finally worked in her favor, and that year President Abraham Lincoln declared the last Thursday -- the fourth Thursday in November -- as a national day of Thanksgiving. Tradition was then established with the last then established with the last Thursday in November reserved for Thanksgiving. Things went just like clockwork until the calendar showed that in two out of every seven years, there would be five Thursdays in November. That is when the confusion -- and some politicking began.

Early in 1939, a university professor called on President Franklin Roosevelt, and his attention to the fact that there would be five Thursdays in November that year. Since most of the time the fourth Thursday was the last Thursday of the month, people were used to the fourth Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day. The President not only decided to have the 1939 celebration on the fourth Thursday in November, but in the following years, to move Thanksgiving earlier -- to the second Thursday in November.

However, FDR was lobbied hard by small storekeepers who felt that the long-awaited fifth

Thursday that year would signal a shorter traditional start for Christmas shopping, and shoppers crowded out of the big department stores would go to the smaller stores.

Also, the local symphonies complained that thousands of organizations forced to arrange definite dates a year in advance would suffer by FDR's unexpected change in the Thanksgiving celebration.

A 10 year old girl had a more practical consideration "...the Pilgrims started it and if it hadn't been for the Pilgrims, North America wouldn't be here and you probably wouldn't be our President today." Then she added a more personal pitch for the fourth Thursday by writing, "...it sometimes comes on my birthday."

When President Roosevelt proclaimed November 23 as Thanksgiving Day in 1939, governors in many other states declared that their states would celebrate on the 30th -- the fifth Thursday of the month. FDR finally gave up in 1941 with a public law that settled the matter: the fourth Thursday in November would be the permanent national day of Thanksgiving.

No matter when we celebrate, Americans always sense when the time is right for Thanksgiving. Our thanks is never limited to just one day when we think of the many blessings we are grateful for.

Some Homeowners May Pay Taxes In Installments

Homeowners 65 or older may now pay the taxes on their current homesteads in four installments. Most elderly homeowners received their home tax bills this month.

Leon Willhite, executive director of the State Property Tax Board, explained the purpose of the new installment payment option authorized by state law beginning this September.

"In past years, older homeowners had to pay their entire home tax bill before the normal February 1 delinquency date or pay a penalty and interest on the unpaid amount. This was a hardship for many elderly homeowners with fixed incomes," Willhite said. "This new provision gives them the option of spreading out that payment," he said.

To set up installment payments, 65-or-older homeowners must pay at least one-fourth of their 1990 residence homestead taxes before the February 1 delinquency date. Then, three equal installments are due before April 1, June 1, and August 1.

If all installments are paid on time, homeowners will not be charged penalty of interest for late payment, Willhite said. However, those who fail to pay an installment on time must pay penalty and interest on that installment.

Homeowners 65 or over who are interested in arranging installments need to contact their tax collection office for each taxing unit--county, city, school district--at the address on their tax bills.

This new provision does not apply to any past home taxes already delinquent or other types of property.

Texas Universities To Recruit Minorities

Fifteen Texas institutions of higher education received commendations from the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board's Educational Opportunity Committee for increasing their Black and Hispanic enrollments by at least 1 percent from fall 1983 to fall 1989.

Certificates of recognition were presented at the Coordinating Board's October quarterly meeting to: Sam Houston State University; Texas A&M University; four colleges from the Dallas County Community College District: Brookhaven, Eastfield, North Lake and Richland; Navarro College; North Harris County College District; the Central and South Campuses of San Jacinto College; Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf; Tarrant County Junior College District's Northwest Campus; Weatherford College; Western Texas College; and Texas State Technical Institute-Sweetwater. "We congratulate each of these campuses and hope that all state institutions of higher education will experience significant success in attracting Black and Hispanic students to their campuses," said Patricia Prather, Vice-Chairperson of the Educational Opportunity Committee.

The presentations followed a report on the progress of the Educational Opportunity Plan to expand Black and Hispanic access to higher education. The Plan was approved by Gov. Clements in April 1989 to replace the federally monitored Texas Plan which expired in 1988. The new plan addresses minority student recruitment, enrollment and retention; minority faculty and staff employment; minority representation on governing boards; and enhancement of institutions serving large minority populations.

According to the staff report, Black and Hispanic enrollment has grown from 18.7 percent in 1983 to 22 percent in 1989 at Texas public universities and from 26.7 percent in 1983 to 29.4 percent in 1989 at Texas public community colleges and technical institutes.

"We are pleased with the steady progress our institutions have made to recruit and retain Black and Hispanic students," said Kenneth H. Ashworth, Commissioner of Higher Education. "Given the plans we have received from the campuses, we expect to see even greater progress under the new plan," he said.

For more information, contact Elaine Adams, Assistant Commissioner for Educational Opportunity Planning, 512-483-6140.

Kiwanis News

By R.A. Bradley

Fifteen Kiwanians, three honorary Kiwanians, Jon Keith Turner, Robbie Clapp and Chad Johnson, and Kiwanis Sweetheart Marsha Wilson met Friday morning at the La Placita Cafe.

A good fellowship and breakfast was enjoyed by all present. It was sure good to have sweetheart, Marsha, back after having to miss last week.

We thought that since football season was over that your Fridays might not be so long, but basketball is here and your Fridays will still be as long as ever.

Marsha, you and the other cheerleaders work harder than the young people involved in athletics. If you wonder if our youth stay busy? I don't see how they get everything done for most of them. We are very proud of all of you so please keep right on working real hard. Marsha, the Kiwanis Club is always proud of you.

President Glen Morris called the meeting to order. Mickey Merriott led the club in the pledge to our flag. Lyndon Huckaby gave the invocation. Scott Churchman, who has been looking for a friend, after giving Huck a bill for his monthly dues, then gave Huck the friendship coin to see if Huck can find a friend. Huck, you have two weeks to find a friend since the Kiwanis Club will not meet next Friday because of the Thanksgiving holiday. We all should be proud and thankful, always, that we live in this country and the high plains of Texas.

Today, we came up with two programs, but only used one. Don Clapp, who is employed at the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge had the program. Don told some of the history of the Wildlife Program.

The Muleshoe Wildlife is the oldest in Texas. It consists of 5,809 acres and was established in 1935. At first, there were quite a few ducks, geese and other water fowl that used the Wildlife Refuge, but since the lakes have dried up pretty much, it is used by the Sandhill Crane.

They like shallow water so they can stand out in the middle of the lakes and be protected from danger. There are over three million ducks and other water fowl that winter in the Panhandle of Texas.

The Sandhill Crane is one of the smallest number of birds that winter here. They have one of the longest migration routes. They spend their summer in Northern Canada, Alaska and even Siberia and winter in Texas.

The Sandhill Cranes mate for life and the hen will lay two eggs. Most of the time there will be only one chick that will survive. The first chick that hatches will most of the time peck on the youngest until it dies. Both male and female take turns in watching the nest.

Don, thanks for a nice, informative program. All Kiwanians, be present November 30. No meeting, Friday, the 23rd. Have a good Thanksgiving and let us truly be thankful for what we have. We above all else, live in the best country and the best part of this country, so be proud and thankful.

Global Market Determines U.S. Loans

An emerging global market will play a part in what interest rate you pay for a home mortgage and the amount businesses spend for loans to build new facilities.

"There's been a globalization of finance," said Dr. Stanley Block, a Texas Christian University finance professor.

With the move toward a global market in recent years, the U.S. Federal Reserve, which influences domestic interest rates by adjusting the prime lending rate, has been under increasing pressure to offer competitive rates for international investors.

Block said the Fed at one time could adjust the prime with little concern for how Tokyo or London would react. But now, customers from around the world are vital to the United States.

Should the Fed push the prime too low, international customers will shop in other countries for a better investment return. Raise it too high, and U.S. home mortgages and business loans may become unaffordable.

"We're highly dependent on foreign capital flowing into the United States, and part of the determining factor in whether that capital comes into the country is the level of interest rates in the United States," Block said.

While U.S. businesses seeking less expensive capital to fund expansion as well as investors seeking higher profits have hoped for lower interest rates, Block doubts any future cut would be sizable.

"Interest rates may fall some, but they're not free to fall by a large amount. If they do, Japanese and European investors will withdraw their investments from the United States," Block said.

Block noted the financial environment has grown tighter and said a large drop in interest rates would likely mean bad news.

"I don't think you'll find a two-to three-percentage point drop unless the U.S. economy actually goes into a recession," he said.

For some kids the truth about Santa is he's not coming.

You can change that. You can make sure Santa comes to kids in shelters, in children's homes, in hospitals, in families that just can't afford Christmas. Become a Sunbelt Santa. Bring a new unwrapped toy to any Sunbelt Savings branch where you see the bright red Sunbelt Santas banner between now and Christmas. Call 1-800-527-5165 for the address of your nearest Sunbelt branch. We'll work with community organizations to make sure your gift goes to the right boy or girl. The children won't know the presents came from you. Or from us. But they will learn the real truth. That somebody cares.

SPC To Offer Agri-Business Management Course

A community service short course to help farmers and ranchers develop the financial management skills they need to be considered for commercial credit began Tuesday (Nov. 13) at South Plains College.

Agri-Business Management and Recordkeeping, the first in a series of three six-month courses, will meet 7-9 p.m. Tuesdays through April 30, 1991, in the SPC Science-Agriculture Building, Room S-110.

Instructor is Ron Presley, instructor in agri-business at SPC.

The 48-hour course will include instruction on basic farm records, loan application, basic accounting principles and principles of financial management for farm families. It is open to any interested person.

Tuition is $48 and cost of a textbook for the course is $42.50 plus tax.

Participants should bring note-taking materials.

"The way that loans are made to family-sized agricultural producers is shifting away from direct loans by the Farmers Home Administration to guaranteed loans by commercial banks," explained Presley. "Many commercial lenders have expressed concern about the management abilities of some family-sized operators who are trying to apply for commercial loans, citing the lack of effective financial reporting documents and management skills."

"As a result, many borrowers are having difficulty 'graduating' into the commercial credit market. To address these issues, a farm financial management training program targeting the needs of such borrowers has been developed by Texas Rural Communities, Inc., in association with the Farmers Home Administration and the Farm Credit Bank of Texas.

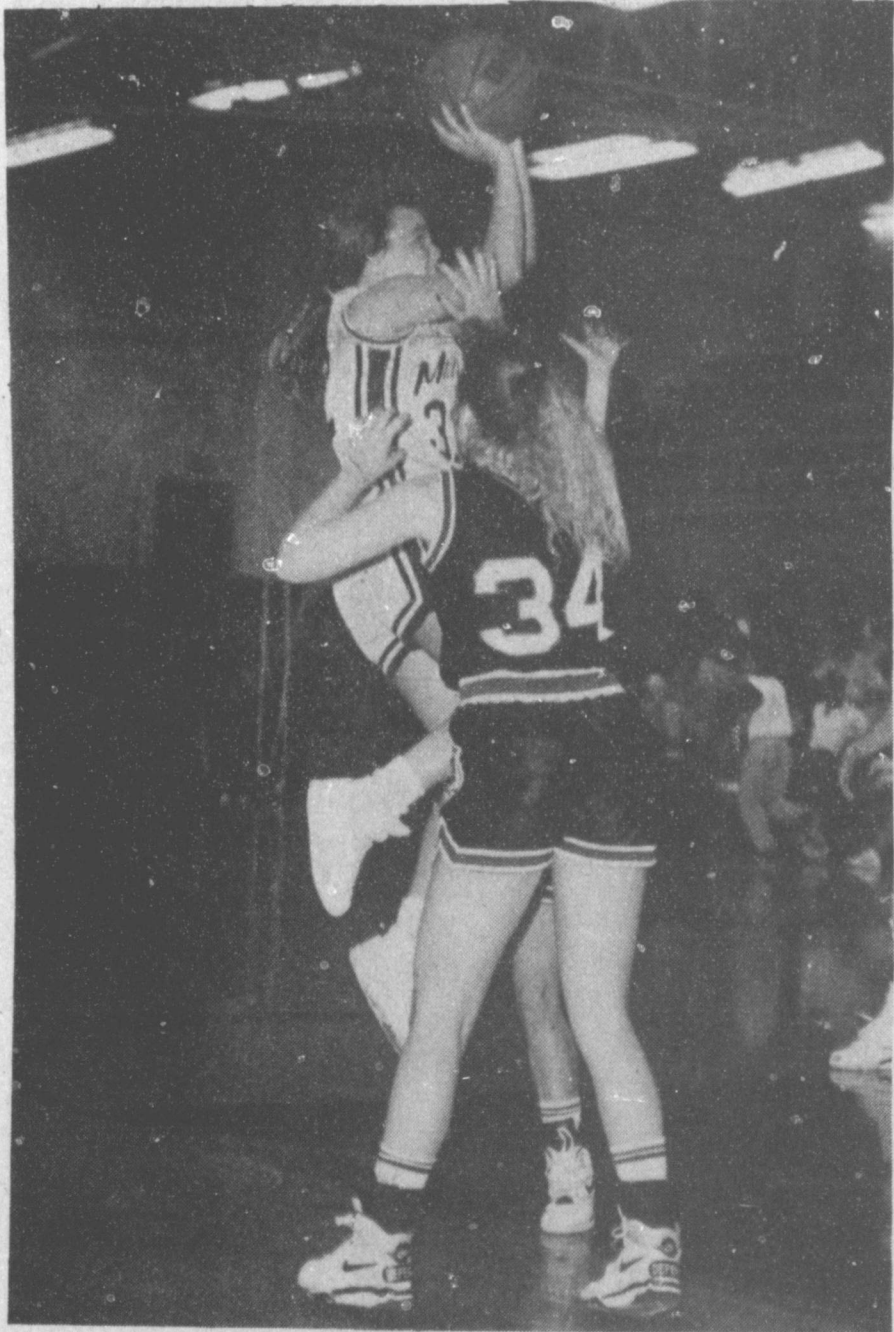

"South Plains College has joined a network of community colleges across the state who, through the farm financial management training program, will provide these potential borrowers with the management skills necessary to competently manage a farm operation," he added.

The program will initially emphasize basic recordkeeping and the creation and analysis of standard financial statements and will then progress toward the areas of farm and ranch management and marketing as they relate to the financial side of an operation, said Presley.

In the upcoming months, two more courses will be offered, targeting advanced accounting concepts, marketing of agricultural products and the credit market. They are designed to help participants make the final step into the commercial credit market.

Interested persons can reserve a place in the class by contacting the SPC Continuing Education Office at 894-9611, ext. 341.

Getting something for nothing is the life work of some individuals.

Gas. It's A Natural Way To Protect Our World.

Leading scientists tell us that increased use of natural gas could dramatically improve the quality of our environment. Gas is the cleanest burning of all fossil fuels. So, unlike other fuels such as oil and coal, natural gas doesn't emit high levels of carbon dioxide into the atmosphere. These pollutants are believed to be a major cause of many of the environmental problems facing us today.

One way in which natural gas is now being used to help reduce air pollution involves the injection of gas into coal burning facilities. This procedure can result in reducing nitrogen oxide emissions by as much as 60%.

So, when it comes to heating your home this winter - or cooking your food or heating your water - natural gas is the way to go.

Natural gas. It's clean. Dependable. And environmentally friendly. That's why, gas is a natural.

Precious SIGHT

No price is too high to pay to protect the eyesight of ourselves and our children. Good eyesight is an absolute necessity in the earning of our livelihood, in the school work of our children, and in the enjoyment of all of life.

But there is another type of sight which in these times is often neglected — spiritual sight. We and our children need to be established and grounded in the love of God and His commandments, and to rely on Him. We need to meet His requirement of loving our neighbors as ourselves, thus making a better home life, community life and a better world. Psalms 34:8 reads, "O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in Him." Attend the church of your choice

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
 THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

SMILES
 Who Pays
 The preacher came along and wrote upon the signboard:
 "I pray for all."
 The lawyer wrote underneath: "I plead for all."
 The doctor added: "I prescribe for all."
 The plain citizen wrote: "I pay for all!"

No Co-operation
 "Look here, private, this man beside you on this fatigue detail is doing twice the work you are."
 "I know, sarge. That's what I've been telling him for the last hour, but he won't slow down."

Better Make Sure
 The surly old miser fell ill, and in a panic sent for the local clergyman, although he had never done anything to help the parish.
 "If I leave $50,000 to the church," he croaked, "will my salvation be assured?"
 "It wouldn't be certain," replied the clergyman, "but it's well worth trying!"

Changing Times
 A teacher asked her class the difference between a primitive man and a modern man. Johnny replied: "When his wife talks too much a modern man goes to his club. A primitive man just reaches for it."

The Teacher
 "Now, if there's anything you want," said the landlady, "just let me know, and I'll show you how to do without it."

Prescription, Please
 Doctor--You have a bit of a chill. Go straight home and drink a good stiff shot of whiskey.
 Patient--Er--would you mind letting me have that in writing?
