Machine Guns Called Into Play to Stop Escape

MARQUETTE, Aug. 27.—(UP).—Dr. A. W. Hornbogen, prison physician, is known dead and four convicts are believed to have committed suicide today following an outbreak in prison here.

Hornbogen was slain as he started examining three convicts who entered the prison pretending illness.

A guard and two trustees were wounded trying to defend Hornbogen.

The convicts escaped to the prison factory where they erected a barricade. Policemen from surrounding points aided the prison officers, using machine guns and tear bombs on the barricade.

Authorities were unable to explain how the prisoners got guns.

A guard, Joseph Dowling, was wounded in the ensuing riot. Guards prevented disorder spreading to other parts of the jail.

Mexicans Hurt as Car Is Overtaken

Nine members of a Mexican family were given emergency treatment at the Midwest hospital-clinic late Wednesday afternoon following a wreck of their automobile on the highway six miles west of Midland.

The family was en route from El Paso to Kansas City. The car was a complete wreck, the accident having occurred when the steering mechanism went wrong.

The Mexicans were still in town today, the father having sustained a dislocated elbow and other members of the family slight cuts and bruises.

New Members Are Taken in Rotary

Induction of three new members in the Rotary club here made up a part of the luncheon program today, W. I. Pratt giving a black-board talk on the history, principles and plan of organization of Rotary International and of local clubs.

The new members are Wm. H. Blair, manager of the Ritz theatre, J. W. Pyron, superintendent of the Gulf Pipe Line company, and J. S. Mitchell, manager of the Southern Ice & Utilities company.

Mrs. B. T. Smith, talented singer, entertained the club with a series of songs, Mr. Smith playing the violin accompaniment and Wallace Wimberly the piano. Messrs. Smith and Wimberly played a novelty violin and piano number.

Investigation Shows Money Given Cannon

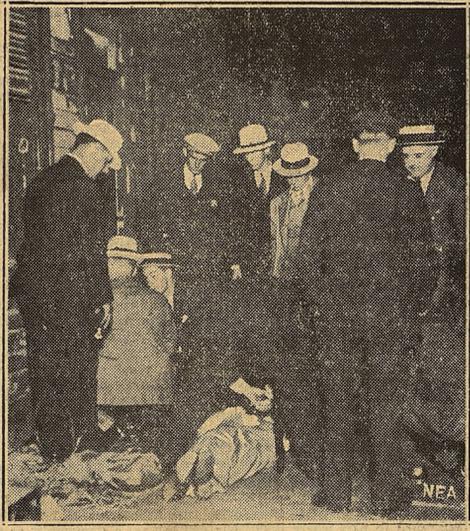

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. (UP)—The senate campaign fund committee, investigating activities of Bishop James J. Cannon Jr., in the 1928 presidential campaign, revealed today that Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, New Jersey republican leader, donated $10,000 to Cannon's anti-Smith fund.

C. Beaton Slump, former secretary to Coolidge, testified that he aided Cannon in soliciting contributions from E. C. Jameson, New York capitalist.

--And Gang Guns Claim Another

Echoes of a police-bandit gun battle in which six were killed and 11 others wounded in New York had scarcely died down when three alleged gangsters were stood up against a wall and mowed down by the fire of underworld enemies. Here you see police beside the body of Anthony Ferrari, 25, who was killed. Ferrari's two companions, Angelo Curran, 20, and Murray Leonardi, 21, were seriously wounded. Believing he betrayed the other two by leading them to the execution spot and that he was shot only because he accidentally stepped into the line of fire, police arrested Leonardi on a charge of homicide.

FAT LIONS WIN NIPPLE DRINKING CONTEST; POTATO GOLF IS PLAYED

The Lions club gala affair at Cloverdale park Wednesday afternoon will long be remembered as an outstanding event of its kind, members who attended say.

It was a picnic lunch and took the place of the regular luncheon at Hotel Scharbauer, funds ordinarily used to defray expenses of the weekly meeting being shifted to the wading pool fund.

Plenty of laughs were brought by numerous games.

The first game was a soda pop drinking contest. The contestants were handed bottles with nipples on them.

Donald Hutt managed to get a tooth into his nipple and won by a swing from Roy Parks, with O. B. Holt coming up along with Rev. Edwin C. Calloun.

The crowd was next entertained by a group of men in a three-legged race. Dr. D. K. Ratliff and Jim Flanagan won by a foot, being closely pursued by M. T. Hill and Curtis Bond as partners and Tom Inman and Holt Jowell.

A potato golf game was indulged in by Mr. and Mrs. Elliott F. Cowden, Mr. and Mrs. Foy Proctor, Mrs. M. C. Ulmer, Mrs. George Glass, Judge Chas. L. Klapproth and M. M. Seymour.

Judge Klapproth crossed the finish line two full strides ahead of his closest opponent, after having been given a substantial lead by Mrs. Ulmer.

The last game played was called the "honeymoon special", in which Dr. H. Klapproth and Frank Stubbeman were prominently noticeable. Doctor Klapproth was called away and his place was taken by Doctor Ratliff. They were assisted by Mrs. M. F. Peters and Mrs. Edwin C. Calloun.

The judges declared this race a tie. A general get-together preceded the games and the spread of basket lunches followed the riotous feasts.

Numerous children enjoyed the wading facilities of the Lions pool during all the events.

BACK FROM TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Hendrickson returned to Midland early this week from a month's tour of the western portion of the United States. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Crump, also of Midland, who left them at Spokane, Wash., for a trip into Canada and Alaska.

Places of interest visited on the trip were Yellowstone park, Glacier park, Lake Louise, Canada, Spokane, Salt Lake, and the Grand Canyon.

FARMERS COME FOR CONFERENCE

Majority of County Farmers Meeting Here Today

BATON ROUGE, Aug. 27. (UP)—The Louisiana house of representatives in a special session today unanimously approved the no-cotton bill, giving Governor Huey P. Long the first victory in his campaign for a year's cotton holiday.

The bill was sent to the senate. It provides for fines for persons attempting to grow cotton next year.

Indications pointed to attendance by the majority of Midland county farmers at the meeting this afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock, at which expression was expected to be worked out with reference to proposed legislation in Texas to control cotton planting in 1932.

County Judge M. R. Hill issued a call for the meeting Tuesday, after numerous farmers had approached him with a desire to hold such an assembly, and allowed two days in which to get word over the county as to time and place of the session.

Business men of all lines were urged to meet with the farmers and to express themselves on the subject of a cotton ban for 1932. Argument on both sides of the question was expected, as street talk has indicated that there are proponents for and against control by legislation.

One group of farmers issued a call for a meeting of all who grow truck products, or who market butter, eggs, milk, vegetables, poultry or any sort of home grown produce. This session is to follow the cotton meeting and a full attendance of interested parties is requested.

LINDBERGH GET HIGH HONORS

PUBLISHER, HELD FOR RANSOM, IS BACK HOME TODAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 27. (UP)—John J. Lynch, wealthy racing paper publisher, was reported to be back home at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, today after he was held a week by kidnapers who threatened to kill him unless a $250,000 ransom was paid.

Authorities hunted Al Capone for questioning about reports that he acted as a go-between in paying the kidnapers $50,000 for Lynch's freedom.

Capone is not suspected in the abduction but is sought so the identity of the kidnapers can be revealed.

Orders Capone's Arrest

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Pat Roche, the state's attorney's chief investigator, ordered the arrest of "Scarface" Al Capone for questioning in connection with the kidnaping of John J. "Jack" Lynch, Chicago gambler, for $250,000 ransom.

Roche did not disclose what information he had learned to cause him to seek the gangster's arrest. Several days ago, however, friends of the kidnaped man were reported to have sought Capone's aid in seeking the release of Lynch.

Market Steady On All Classes

FORT WORTH, Aug. 27.—Cattle receipts reached 3,300 today including 1,300 calves. The market on all classes of cattle and calves was about steady. Grassers brought around $4.00 and $4.50. One load of short fed steers brought $6.50. Three loads of well finished strong weights brought $8.25.

A part load of choice fat yearlings brought $8.50 with butcher heifers bringing $5.50. Good fat cows went up to $3.75 with butcher grades around $2.75 and $3.00. Low cutter sorts brought $1.25 and $1.60.

Several cars of stock cows remained at $3.25 and $3.50 and some good stock steer calves were at $5.60. Weighly slaughter calves were around $4.75 and $5.50.

WILLIAMS INDICTED

AMARILLO, Aug. 27.—An indictment charging murder was returned today against John F. Williams, under bond of $5,000 in connection with the fatal shooting of O. B. Stanley, Donley county farmer, at Williams' residence here Saturday night.

J. P. Ferguson returned last night after spending a week in Weatherford and Fort Worth. His mother, Mrs. Jennie Ferguson, of Weatherford, returned with him for a visit here.

FIFTY HORSES IN TRAINING; HAVE OTHERS EN ROUTE

Fifty horses were stabled at Cow-boy Park today, in training for the race meet September 5 and 7, but it was estimated that from 15 to 20 others would be working on the track before the close of the week.

Additional horses had been brought in during the last two days by the Floyd, Soharbauer-Dublin, Nance, Bryant and Dick Davis stables and a string of horses was expected to arrive any time from Plainview from the Zimmerman stables.

Walter Hightower has made reservations for two horses and a number of individual entries are expected this week.

Three Escape Jail Lamesa Wednesday

LAMESA, Aug. 27.—South plains officers were searching for three escaped prisoners who, early Wednesday, dug their way through the ceiling and one wall of the third floor of the Dawson county jail in a break for freedom.

George Borham, charged with swindling, E. M. Owens charged with forgery, and Kid Mitchell facing a theft charge, are the missing men. A fourth man, J. R. Guntef, remained in the open cell, refusing an invitation to accompany the trio.

After prizing the steel door to the inner cell, the men climbed onto the radiator and used a broom handle to beat through the plastered ceiling of the run around. After reaching the attic they removed bricks from the side wall of the building by use of a stove lid and slid to the ground on a rope constructed of blankets.

Body of Aviator Is Found in Lake

DALLAS, Aug. 27.—Searchers late Wednesday found the body of Reuben D. Newton, 29, aviator, who was drowned Monday night in White Rock Lake with Marian Louise Craig, 17, of Whitewright.

The two were members of a family picnic party including Newton's wife and daughter and Miss Craig's brothers, and had gone rowing in Newton's boat. Miss Craig's body was recovered that night, floating in the lake. Newton's shoes had been removed, indicating he was trying to swim ashore when he became exhausted and drowned.

Investigators still were attempting to locate the metal rowboat, the theory having been advanced that it possibly was struck by a motor boat.

EVENTS SWIFTLY STAGED

Program Full During Day; Continues After Lunch

Mayor Leon Goodman gave an address of welcome to the crowd of 300 scouts, scoutmasters and accompanying citizens of the area when they assembled at the Ritz theatre for a free picture show early this afternoon.

Approximately 300 boy scouts and scout officials splashed in the cooling waters of Pagoda pool, sat en masse through a free show given through the courtesy of Bill Blair, manager of the Ritz theatre, lined up single file for a barbecue that would have fed 200 more—and otherwise ran through program events of the most successful scout rally and water carnival of the Buffalo Trails council this year.

Preliminaries in events of the water carnival had practically been completed at noon, and all except one bracket of the five entered in water polo had played first rounds. Four swimming events had been completed, and entrants in diving had been cut down to 12 by a process of elimination that carried contestants through four dives—swan, jack knife, back and one optional.

Afternoon activities started with a show at the theatre. Mayor Leon Goodman addressed the body in a brief speech of welcome. A parade, led by Wallace Wimberly and the only scout band in the council, led over downtown streets followed by a return to Pagoda pool and resumption of water carnival events.

In the 20-yard free style swim for scouts under 110 pounds, Woodrow Echols of Troop 61, Barstow, was first; Bobby Wall of Troop 61, Wink, second; Lindon Smith of Troop 10, Colorado, third.

In the same weight classification, 20-yard breast stroke event, Robert McKinney of Troop 51, Midland, won first; Laddie Chase of Troop 10, Colorado, second; Billy Fundenburg of Troop 54, Midland, third.

For boys over 110 pounds, Thomas Jones Williamson, Troop 1, Big Spring, was first in the 20-yard back stroke; Allen Dorsey, Troop 51, Midland, second; Lloyd Dyer, Troop 61, Barstow, third.

In the same weight class, 40-yard breast stroke event, Allen Dorsey, Troop 51 Midland, was first; Owen Galbraith, Troop 42, second; Clyde Thomas, Troop 1, Big Spring, third.

The water polo preliminaries were exciting and gave, even in the limited first rounds, a rough idea of what clubs would go into the finals. All bracketed clubs except 52 and 4, played during the morning; Wink's Troop 63 drew a bye. Eleven clubs were entered.

INSANITY IN CRIME

Trying to figure out the degree of mental responsibility possessed by men accused of crime is always a tough job. We have made it a good deal tougher by tackling it wrong end to.

A psychiatrist, addressing the bar association of a large American city the other day, pointed out that the courts, in common with most of the rest of us, have a faulty idea of what insanity really is.

"America," he said, "has put intelligence on a pedestal and has neglected to recognize that the greater part of life is emotional control. It is a misconception to base a knowledge of right or wrong on intelligence. Academically trained persons may be subnormal in emotional control."

When we look for signs of insanity in a criminal, then we look in the wrong place. We ignore the man's emotional processes, and inquire only to his intellectual side. If he seems to have a normal intelligence, we at once decide that he is fully accountable for his actions—entirely forgetting that an emotional whirlwind can break down the barriers and turn a highly intellectual man into something very like an out and out lunatic.

Who has not witnessed or read of a criminal trial in which the prosecutor, attempting to prove that the defendant was mentally sound, pointed out that the crime itself was so complicated, so carefully planned, that a man of defective mentality could not possibly have committed it? That plea is a commonplace of the criminal court room; and yet, as this psychiatrist reminds us, how little it means! A man's mental processes may be faultless—but some quirk on the emotional side can transform him into what we call a maniac.

THE CIGARET LAW

A sarcastic comment by an exchange remarks that if the new cigarette law is enforced at all officers will have to spot smokers on the street, present a search warrant, and then examine the package the smoker carries to ascertain whether or not it has the proper stamps affixed.

Intended for humor, the comment aptly illustrates the carelessness of present day lawmakers in framing legislation, one big contributing cause to the lack of law observance by the American people today.

Instead of studying the efforts of such a tax law, and providing for its enforcement in a definite, orderly way, the state treasurer is compelled to appeal to peace officers throughout the state to aid him in collecting the tax. Moreover, every retail dealer who has a stock of cigarettes on hand faces the prospect of having to remove the air-tight container on every package and affix the stamps.

There are a number of ways that will suggest themselves to any normal mind whereby this extra cost, and labor, and confusion and uncertainty could have been eliminated and the application of the tax made more efficient and more respected.

AIRPLANE VS. TRAIN

Railroad passenger business has declined enough in the past decade to cause many gray hairs to sprout on the aching heads of railway executives. Now comes Frank Hawks to add a few more to the crop.

Flying from Chicago to New York in three hours and 49 minutes, Captain Hawks knocks 16 hours off the fastest scheduled railway running time between the two cities.

Of course, Captain Hawks in a crack speed plane is a great deal faster than a large passenger-carrying airplane. But his trip shows the potentialities of aviation. If and when the time comes that airplane companies offer regular four-hour service between New York and Chicago at rates no higher than railroad rates, the railroad men will find themselves with a new and extraordinarily difficult problem on their hands.

Kentucky Mountaineers Still Wash One Another's Feet as Christ Did For His Disciples 2000 Years Ago

By NEA Service

MAYKING, Ky., Aug. 27.—In this reckless age, with its ever-increasing crime, organized gangs and easy virtue, many believe that the goodness, humility and brotherly love that Christ taught are on the wane.

But in this tiny village, in the Kentucky hills, there lives a group of simple, pious folk who still cling to the belief that he is greatest who serves well his neighbors, even in the humble task of washing another's feet.

Members of the Thornton Baptist church of Mayking still obey the letter of the command laid down by Christ 2,000 years ago when he said, "If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet."

When Christ called his disciples to him for the Last Supper, the night before he was crucified, the Scripture says he took bread and broke it, and then some wine from the eastern vineyards, explaining that the bread represented his broken body and the wine his blood.

"This do in remembrance of me," he said, and most religious bodies still observe the command of holy communion.

Christ also took a towel and basin and washed his disciples' feet. Some of them objected, for it was such a lowly service, usually performed by servants. Many churches today have come to the belief that he did this simply to teach humility.

The feet washing and communion practices started soon after the organization of the Thornton church about 1800. The call goes out several days before the service. One woman in the congregation is asked to prepare the bread. A man obtains the wine. Another woman, sometimes two, bring the towels and soap and basins.

The men line up on a side of the church, and the women on the other. As the sermon starts the congregation sings, "Brethren We Are Met Again." Women wash women's feet, and men perform the service for men. It is a request favor, too. People are given the privilege of saying for whom they will humble themselves, and the party for whom they do returns the gesture.

This church, regarded as the most influential in the mountain territory, belongs to the order of Regular Baptists, sometimes called "Softshell Baptists."

G. Bennett Adams, present pastor of the church, grew up in the footwashing custom. His great grandfather, John Adams, was pastor of the church more than 90 years ago. After that, his father, Billie Adams, occupied the Thornton pulpit. Billie Adams was shot from ambush at the beginning of the Civil war and David M. Maggard acted as pastor for 20 years during which he stressed the importance of the annual foot washing.

Wickersham Commission Actually Setting Forth Startling Conditions in Fearless Reports, But Unfortunately Must Depend Upon Politicians to Improve Conditions

WASHINGTON.—Senate investigating committees have been razed for years with allegations of muck-racking, but none of them ever went on such a long and protracted panning party as the National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement.

That's the Wickersham commission. It investigated and reported on a dozen or more aspects of observation, enforcement and the general administration of justice and found more things rotten than were ever discovered in Denmark.

Considering all the brains and effort that went in to the reports, both from commission members and able research experts and investigators, it is not strange that they seem to be getting little attention from politicians who would have to act to make various changes the commission has urged. The commission was Herbert Hoover's baby, most widely ballyhooed of all the genuine Hoover commissions, but one learns at the White House that not even the president has been reading the reports since the commission got off to a bad start with its two prohibition reports—one forced from it as a political emergency and the other badly manhandled to conceal its import.

Nevertheless, the commission's fearlessness in its last nine or ten reports has been almost as startling as some of its discoveries.

It found there was no adequate observance or enforcement of prohibition, that there had been a steady increase in drinking and an unprecedented regime of corruption. Present enforcement, it said, represented little more than local option. Seven of 11 members favored changing the laws and the rest were admittedly doubtful whether prohibition would ever be enforced.

A large proportion of police chiefs and their subordinates was reported to be mediocre, untrained and unfit, nearly always owing their jobs to politicians. The commission said that in large cities the alliance between criminals and corrupt politicians controlled in part where it not entirely control the police forces.

Widespread systematized police brutality and cruelty has been charged and a wealth of proven evidence of third degree tortures detailed in the report on lawlessness in law enforcement. The police were found to disregard civil rights "very generally."

The federal government, according to the commission, has no adequate system of juvenile justice, classes child offenders with adult criminals, tries them with inadequate machinery, often keeps them in jails where "the situation of filth and misery is impossible to convey" and eventually incarcerates them in institutions where they are likely to be flogged, shackled and drenched with cold water.

The American prison system was reported to be inadequate and inefficient, its discipline often cruel and inhuman.

The report on prosecution held that the prosecuting system of the practical purpose, were non-existent and that the only statistics both adequate and comparable on a national scale were those of the federal decennial census on the populations of penal institutions.

Everyone has been attacked in these reports except criminals. For in addition to either sharp or damning criticisms of judges, police, prosecutors, wardens and other officials, the commission has taken frequent slaps at the attitude of the general public.

Patou Resists Trend Toward 1860 Styles

PARIS, Aug. 27. (UP).—There is never anything indefinite about the fashion ideas and edicts of Jean Patou. And for the season 1931-32, when being definite has been one of the hardest things dress-makers have been called upon to be, due to the wavering between the past, present and future epochs in millinery and the mode, Patou has planted his feet firmly on certain positive principles. He will speak for himself.

"I have not allowed myself to be influenced by the fashions of 1860-80, which are the keynote of the new hat fashions. Dresses cannot follow a caprice of fashion as easily as hats. The hat is a relatively inexpensive object which has the privilege of becoming old-fashioned in a few weeks.

A dress should last several months, and should also permit its wearer to live her life without being hampered in her movements.

"You will see many blouses from my collection. They are made in the colorings usually seen in Persian art; Persian red and green. They are often embroidered in that very fine chain stitch.

"A very personal note of my collection is the systematic elimination of the black of which I have been too fond in the past, substituting for it morning, afternoon and evening, a magnificent shade in the range of dark nigger browns, called 'Carou' to be exact.

Sports Wear "For sports there are few woolen sweaters, but waistcoats, and blouses. For golf, traveling, motoring or walking, and even shooting, there is a series of practical garments specially studied with a view to the purpose for which they are intended. The afternoon dresses are nearly always of silk and often of printed silk. The new and leading note is the use of Persian embroideries to finish off a neckline, or the replacing of the entire dress, by a Persian tunic worn over a skirt of the same shade as the coat. These tunics are sometimes of embroidered satin, sometimes of broche.

"For evening gowns a great deal of satin, much fleur de soie and velvet. Also a new note, some dull fabrics called by the silk weavers 'Peau d'Ange.' Evening wraps will be long, or three-quarter length, trimmed most part with martin, or sable, but their characteristic is to be less enveloping than last season."

Mrs. W. F. Fahrenkamp and age; 135 is normal for a man of 65. A reading under 110 is considered low. Life insurance companies will accept applicants with a reading of 100 or over. A low pressure after 50 is the best sign that a person will live a long life.

Blood pressure in women is on an average ten points lower than in men.

The person with essential low pressure may be the tall, slim, dyspeptic type. He tires quickly, and sleeps poorly. He is subject to headaches and dizzy spells.

High blood pressure is cause for immediate concern. It affects the muscles of the heart by overtaking their strength. Sometimes high blood pressure is caused by disease of the kidneys or of the thyroid.

Emotional stress is an important factor. Worry, unpleasant incidents, quarreling and excitement are followed by a rise of from 30 to 40 points.

The person with high blood pressure must take no exercise except with the advice of the physician. —Hygeia.

Helpful Health Suggestions

By Martha Bredemeier Blood Pressure Denotes State of Health Although persons with blood pressure somewhat below normal have been found by life insurance companies to have increased length of life, abnormally low pressure may be the sign of disease. It is noted in anemia and in infections of the sinuses, tonsils, teeth and gallbladder.

"TOASTING" expels SHEEP-DIP BASE naturally (Black, biting, harsh irritant chemicals) present in every tobacco leaf

"They're out—so they can't be in!"

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many Crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for trees, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

NANCE STAGES SUNRISE HORSE RACE MEET FOR CROWD OF 100

Tri-City Tennis Tournament at Big Spring Sunday to Draw Net Stars

PATTERSON RIDES FLAXIE TO WIN HERE TODAY

Tom Nance staged a two-year-old race for a crowd of 100 spectators at sunrise today, five ponies from his own stables running so close together in a quarter mile and 70 yards that the owner still was unable to decide which horse to send back to the ranch. As a result, all five will continue to be trained for the September 5 and 7 races at Cowboy park.

Flaxie, two-year-old chestnut filly, Pete Patterson up took an early lead from her No. 2 position galloping in two lengths ahead of Monte, two-year-old chestnut gelding, Norman Woody up. Woody drew the outside position but on the initial spurt outdistanced everything but Flaxie.

Miss Fresno Shows
Miss Fresno, brown filly, Gerald Bloss-up, was a good third and was overcoming a more or less poor getaway by coming up on the others on the straight-away.

Lee Anderson rode Clara Bow, chestnut filly, in fourth and George Darden, mounted on Rio Rita, handsome bay filly that hitherto had shown little desire to run, was crowding them all on the finish, although she "drove them in."

Tom Thornton, Nance's foreman on his south ranch, was in his glory. It was he that had raised the first and second winners and his head was set on Flaxie for a winner. Nance, it was believed, had been par-

LIBERAL IN CABINET

LONDON.—The Marquesse of Crewe has been appointed secretary of state for war in the new national government, it was announced Wednesday. Lord Crewe is a veteran statesman and diplomat. He is a Liberal. He has served in various cabinets as lord president of the council, lord privy seal, colonial secretary, secretary for India and president of the board of education. He was ambassador to Paris from 1922 to 1928.

Parade Is Staged
Mrs. Nance's handsome four-year-old chestnut mare, Sweetie, led a parade in which to two-year-olds walked from the stands in their positions, galloped half way round the track and were walked back to the starting point. John Dublin was suited me; they were all mine."

Miss Fresno, brown filly ridden by Bloss, and winner of third place in the race, is high spirited and made an attempt to become unruly at the starting post. Apparently "mad" she failed to produce her accustomed speed on the start and held back as Flaxie made a better getaway, giving Patterson the rail before the west turn was reached. Flaxie, on the other hand, displayed steady behavior of a veteran of the track, heading for and sticking to the rail, and running in low, long strides.

Men, women, boys and girls filled a portion of the grand stand, showing the keen interest attendant upon the approaching races to be staged under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars September 5 and 7.

SPORTS REPORTS

I wouldn't swear to it, but I have been told authoritatively that baseball fans will see the league's best pitcher in action tonight for the last time.

Chewning (and it was from him that I received the information about his going) is leaving for Borger within the next day or so. His Scruggs Buick aggregation will meet the Bell Telephone bunch tonight.

This Chewning boy is not just a jinx; he can naturally throw the swollen ball in a wicked way and that is all to his credit.

Captain Lloyd Burris and his bellying crew will be digging in next week for a strenuous season of football.

The Midland players must get it into their heads that they are facing a critical period in the career of M. H. S. athletics. They are in a new conference and there are no lame ducks playing around in it.

I am glad that Coach Barry has not seen fit to establish a training camp this season.

A camp is all baloney. It does the fellows good to get out in the open and knock around a bit, but there are too many disadvantages that offset the open-air idea.

Mosquito bites, fights, hard beds, bum food and very little football are characteristic of training camps of the average high school.

My idea of getting plenty of exercise during the summer is to get a job on a ranch or a farm and pouring it on.

A player has a chance to pick up a little money and at the same time build up more muscle and physical resistance than he can get in a thousand training camps.

Coach Barry should have his tactical bag chock-full of real football. He has been attending the coaching schools at A. & M. and Texas Tech. Football de luxe is discussed and displayed at these two schools and a fellow can pick up worlds of information.

I wish to take a definite stand right now on this eligibility business.

I like to see the same played on the square or not played at all. There is too little at stake to have to pack a .45 or a machine gun around ready to blow anybody to pieces.

I think every coach in the conference should clean his head of the knowledge he has of certain players being ineligible. The mentors should get together before the season starts—not after—and thrash out the biggest question that confronts football today: eligibility.

Of course, it may be that as the season develops the eligibility of a certain player might be discovered. That's a different proposition.

The thing I want to get away from is when a coach knows that another team is playing ineligible men and allows them to play all season only to raise a howl when it is all over and win a championship that way. That's all bunk!

The best dope I can figure out is that Sweetwater is the strongest of the loop. There is a pretty tough bunch there and it will take more than a small snarl from the Bulldogs to clean up on them. They come here for the Thanksgiving game and my prediction is that fans will see the best game in many a day.

I don't know much about the Angelo team, but I do know that Harry Taylor and Ox Keyes will put out a good team with the abundance of material there.

McCamey seems to be getting weaker as the weeks roll along. Too many players have been moving away.

The strength of Big Spring will depend entirely on Obie Bristow, former Oklahoma star and All-Missouri valley man.

If Eristow plays Bennie Owen style of football, he may get into trouble, even though the Owen style has won many games.

I am studying Midland's chances for a conference championship and will blow off a little later about that.

NUMBER ONE MEN SINGLES MATCH IS FEATURE

Big Spring will be host to the Tri-City Tennis tournament players Sunday when the local group and those of Lamesa and Big Spring clash.

Midland will have an excellent chance to knock Big Spring from top position, local men believe.

Some of the Lamesa players are on their vacations at present and the lineup of that city is not known.

Theo Ferguson of this city will meet H. B. Dunagan of Big Spring in the first of the singles. This game will start at 9 a. m. sharp. These two men are number 1 in their respective cities.

Frank Stubbeman of Midland and Curtis Bishop of Big Spring will fight it out in the second game, which will be followed by Oliver McCrary of Midland versus Joe Davis of Big Spring.

Doubles Scheduled

The last singles match will be between W. D. Godbey of Midland and Howard Smith of Big Spring.

The first match in the doubles will find Ferguson and McCrary paired against Dunagan and Bishop, Godbey and Stubbeman will take on Geo. Dabney and Melborn Barnett.

The standing of the clubs at present is:
Big Spring ..... 833
Midland ..... 807
Lamesa ..... 782

Throughout the Entire Year...

Four people have purchased the Buick Eight to every one buyer of any other of the thirteen eights in Buick's price range during the twelve months since its introduction. This four-to-one preference—in days when America is scrutinizing values more closely than ever before—fully confirms the value leadership of The Eight as Buick Builds It. It is this outstanding value which causes 89 per cent of all Buick owners to buy Buicks again and again.

*Buick has sold four times as many eights as the next most popular eight in its field, August 1, 1930, through July, 1931, according to official figures by R. L. Polk & Company.

QUILT 125 YEARS OLD

INDIANOLA, Ia. (UP)—A quilt, 125 years old, made by her great-grandmother, is owned by Mrs. A. F. Conroy here, and is reminiscent of frontier hazards. The maker of the quilt, Drusilla Mace, was captured by Indians when she was a little girl, after they had killed her parents. The Indians sold her to a French family and 12 years later her uncle traded a yoke of oxen for her.

FOURTH FAIL AS DRIVERS

HARISBURG, Pa. (UP)—One-fourth of the applicants for automobile operators' licenses in Pennsylvania fail to qualify in the tests given, the Pennsylvania State Highway Patrol has indicated. In the first six months of 1931, 103,454 applicants were examined. Of the total, 77,702 were qualified as licensed operators and 26,252 failed.

New Way to Catch Bait

DANBURY, Conn. (UP)—A policeman who broke up a suspicious looking huddle near the court house discovered a scientific way to capture "night crawlers" for fishing bait. Inventive youngsters had discovered that an iron bar, attached to a wire plugged into the electric light circuit and stuck into the ground brought up the worms in large numbers.

Emperor Lays Cornerstone

ADDIS-ABEBBA, (UP)—With a silver trowel and all due pomp and circumstance, Ras Tafari, King of Abyssinia, laid the cornerstone of the new government wireless transmitting station here, recently. He was watched by members of the government and foreign diplomats. The station is to be constructed by an Italian company.

Old Meteor Moved

HARPER, Kan. (UP)—A meteor which fell here "about fifty years ago" has been moved to "Rose Cabin" the summer home of Mrs. Fannie Shriver. It has been placed in her flower garden. The meteor, which weighs more than a ton, resembles red graphite.

DORNIER SHIP ENDS FLIGHT IN GOTHAM LANDING

NEW YORK, Aug. 27. (UP).—DO-X, the world's greatest heavier-than-air machine, landed on the Hudson river today, ending its cruise from Europe. The plane carried 60 persons from Miami on its last lap of the flight which began nearly a year ago.

RECOVER BURIED PAPER

BRainerd, Minn. (UP).—A manuscript, guarded for 20 years by the earth and a maple tree, containing the names of the classmates in the eighth grade of the Lowell school in 1911, was recovered recently. The paper, yellowed with age, but with the writing still legible, was taken from a bottle. The bottle had been placed under the soft maple tree 20 years ago. Since that time the tree had decayed and was ordered removed by the Brainerd board of education.

strong swimming and goal shooting of Allen Dorsey, who scored three goals, piled up a 4-0 win over Troop 53, to lead off. Two two-minute periods were played during these preliminaries. The surprising strength of the Midland troop placed it on par with the strength of Troop 1 of Big Spring, which easily defeated Troop 10, 5-0. The Big Spring lads, led by "Toddy" Williamson, quickly scored their first three goals then saved their strength. These clubs meet in the second round early this afternoon. Interest is pronounced inasmuch as Williamson and Dorsey, leaders of their respective teams, made the highest Red Cross life-saving scores of the council, each taking an even 94.

Troop 61 won from Troop 54, Midland, eliminating that club 1-0 in an extra period. Neither club came close to scoring in the first two periods. Owen Galbraith scored two of Troop 42's goals to throw out Troop 8 from the first round.

Troops 52 and 4 play their first round bracket in the first event of the afternoon.

Following in quick succession (for the boys have been well handled by Scout Executive A. C. Williamson and his aides), 20-yard back stroke for boys under 110 pounds, 60-yard free style for boys over 110, diving finals, water polo semi-finals, 80-yard relay for boys under 110 pounds, 80-yard relay for boys over 110 pounds, water polo finals.

Committeemen were well organized and "handled every detail perfectly," as the scout executive said. "I have never seen a rally and carnival conducted faster and with more organization."

Scoutmasters and boys from a distance said the session was the most enjoyable they had ever attended. The day was perfect for swimming, a hot sun pouring down and only a light breeze noticeable.

Big Crowds Look On Bleachers that line the interior walls at Pagoda pool were taken up and all parking space filled during the morning, as crowds continued to arrive to view the water carnival. An even greater crowd was expected at the diving and polo finals in the afternoon.

Despite the fact boys were continually diving into the pool from banks and boards, and leaping from swings and trolly, not the slightest accident was reported. Life guards were stationed at every few feet around the pool and watched closely. A five-minute attention blast of A. C. Williamson's whistle signified a check-up. All boys were paired, and these caught the hands of their "buddies" and were easily checked.

A record in feeding the 300 boys and officials was probably made, less than 40 minutes being required before scouts were coming through the lines for a "second helping."

Committees Praised

Edwin C. Calhoun, general chairman of the scout rally, was strong in commendation of committeemen and citizens who assisted in entertainment today. Holly Roberts, C. E. Gann and Alvin Roberts prepared the meat and beans in excellent manner. Curtis Bond gave the use of his ovens at My Bakery for cooking and sold bread for the rally at cost. Joe Roberts contributed the use of his trucks for transportation from pool to town and return. Chas. Berry headed the serving committee. Lynn Butler prepared eighty gallons of lemonade. R. V. Lawrence and Alvin Hicks secured and prepared tables for feeding the boys.

John Howe, vice president here of the Buffalo Trails council, worked with all committees, giving assistance where needed and aiding Chairman Calhoun in directing the work of the rally.

Rotan Here Early

A troop of scouts from Rotan made first appearance here today, arriving at 5 o'clock this morning. Several came by train at 8:46, but the majority were weaving through the traffic on the highway, arriving here in large numbers around 9 o'clock.

Following the dinner at noon today, a free picture show was given by the Ritz at one o'clock, after which a parade through the city streets, headed by Wallace Wimberly's scout band, was to precede the afternoon's swimming meet.

TWO MEN WITH SAME NAME

MADISON, Wis. (UP).—While his wife was away on vacation W. C. Bartels was astonished, angered, and worried to read in the paper that he had been arrested and fined $10 for "one-armed driving." Realizing that she might receive the news with similar feelings, Bartels hurriedly interviewed court officials and policemen to ascertain who had been using his name on an evening when he had been visiting at a neighbor's home. He learned in time to notify his wife first, that a Milwaukee salesman legally entitled to the same name was the one really arrested.

Cat Knows Its Vegetables

PORTLAND, Me. (UP).—A vegetarian cat is owned by S. D. Crosby of the Highlands, Knox county. The unusual pet lives almost exclusively on a raw vegetable and fruit diet.

"Chances" Is Film To Show Importance Of Field Artillery

The part played by artillery in the World war is depicted vividly in Douglas Fairbanks Jr.'s initial First National starring vehicle, "Chances", which Alan Dwan directed, and which comes to the Ritz theatre Friday and Saturday.

Although only a small portion of the picture shows actual fighting on the front, Fairbanks enacts the role of an officer in the Royal Horse Artillery from beginning to end. The screen play is based on A. Hamilton Gibbs' thrilling story of two soldier brothers who love the same girl.

"The part played by artillery in the war," said Capt. J. S. Scott, technical adviser on the picture, "never has been portrayed on the screen. There were often times when guns were huddled over long miles of front, laying down a terrific barrage behind the enemy lines.

"The belief that artillery was a safe job far behind the lines is grossly erroneous. The light artillery was usually but a hundred yards behind the lines and more greatly exposed than the infantry in the trenches. Even the heavy artillery which was farther behind the lines, was always the target of enemy artillery. The light artillery would sweep the battle front with shrapnel. We have one scene in 'Chances' where the infantry has retreated behind the guns, leaving the artillery to defend the front line with shrapnel. This happened often during the war when the enemy were advancing."

AIR PASSENGERS INCREASE

CLEVELAND, O. (UP).—An increase of slightly over 11 per cent was shown in the passenger air traffic flown by the U. S. air mail, passenger and express planes of the Trans-American Airlines corporation in July over the June figures, within the Mid-Western area embracing Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland, and 15 other cities in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana. An increase in air express volume was also indicated by the July report.

Two Scholarships Offered

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (UP).—Two scholarships annually for the next 100 years will be awarded to Williams College students from the sale of 200 first-edition copies of Mark Twain's "A Dog's Tale". Irving S. Underhill, Buffalo, N. Y. book collector, is the donor.
