Japanese Demand Chinese Evacuation of Tsitsihar Area

SPORADIC FIGHTING RESUMED

Terminus of Railway Owned by China, Note Says

PEIPING, Nov. 14. (P)—General Mah Chan-Shan, Chinese commander of the Nonni sector, informed the Manchurian headquarters today he had received a Japanese demand that he evacuate Tsitsihar by Nov. 25.

The Chinese commander reported he had informed the Japanese that it must be "a further mistake" about the evacuation demand. It pointed out, it said, that Tsitsihar is the terminus of the Tsitsihar-Koshan railway, a Chinese line.

Sporadic Fighting Is Resumed

By The United Press. Sporadic fighting was resumed in the Nonni river district today as the Japanese delivered an ultimatum demanding the withdrawal of Chinese troops opposing them in the Tsitsihar area of Manchuria by Nov. 25.

General Shigeru Honjii, Japanese commander, said he intended to open the road line to Tsitsihar and keep it open. He charged that the Chinese were receiving aid from Soviet soldiers. Moscow denied this.

Chinese Note Points Finger at Japs

NANKING, Nov. 14. (P)—The Chinese government sent Namoru Shigemitsu, Japanese minister, a long note today, charging the Japanese with complicity in Tientsin rioting. The note accused authorities of the Japanese concession with having allowed undesirable elements to attack on the Chinese city. It also alleged that arms and ammunition for rioters emanated from Japanese sources. The Chinese government holds the Japanese government responsible for the uprising.

Dawes Outlines French Reaction

PARIS, Nov. 14. (UP)—Ambassador Charles Dawes, who is to represent the United States at a League of Nations council meeting Monday, conferred with Foreign Minister Aristide Briand today after which Dawes sent a code message to Washington outlining the French reaction to American plans of solving the Manchurian conflict.

In Revival

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (P)—Without putting his foot on New York soil, Foreign Minister Dino Grandi will go direct on his ship Monday to Washington, there to begin his momentous conversations with President Hoover.

He will be taken from the liner at quarantine and will entrain for the capitol from New Jersey. The Conte Grandi, which is bringing Grandi, his wife and six Italian experts to this country, was originally scheduled to dock at 9 a. m. Monday.

Grandi Well Named, Claim. NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Signor Dino Grandi, Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs, who comes to the United States to confer with President Hoover, is well named.

He is built on the grand manner. Tall, broad-shouldered, he looks more like a grand signeur who has stepped out of the pages of medieval Italian history than the picture one usually draws of a Fascist leader.

He is young. Only 35. He bubbles over with good humor and his even white teeth flash through his silky black beard.

He speaks several languages, among them English, which he can be expected to speak particularly well in his conferences here. In his clever way he says, "I am a realist, like you English speaking peoples. Your language echoes your way of looking at things. You say what you mean. You waste no words. And that is the way to talk."

He is in the Alpine infantry in 1915 at 19. At 20 he was a lieutenant. At 22 a captain. At 23 he was elected to Parliament but was declared ineligible because he was not 25. He allied himself with Mussolini, became a driving force in the Fascist movement, and today is Premier Mussolini's foreign minister.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (UP)—Those features of Italian and American foreign policy which reflect a common interest and purpose are expected to be emphasized amid entanglements by the visit to Washington of Italian Foreign Minister Dino Grandi. His arrival marks the continuation of talks between him and Secretary of State Stimson begun in Rome last summer. For the United States, the conversations promise to enlarge its world influence by making Washington all the more a Mecca of statesmen and in some respects a forum comparable to the League of Nations. For Italy the visit recognizes its large part in world affairs and alignment in the orbit of nations which already have secured American cooperation through visits of their leaders here. Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain laid the basis for naval accord here. Premier Laval of France created accord on the gold standard and war debts. Italy and the United States have developed similar interests recently in naval policy, disarmament, war debt adjustments and maintenance of the gold standard. The sympathetic support Italy gave America in some of these matters in European diplomatic circles recently was of great importance. It will be recalled that Mussolini pledged unconditional support for the Hoover moratorium before any other nation. In return Italy has need of close friendly relations with the United States; first, because she has no close ally among the larger European powers to offset the French alliances, and secondly, because of financial accommodations which the United States has made her and can make in the future. Italy is indebted to the United States to the amount of $2,072,000,000 in war debts and $400,000,000 in industrial loans. Italian bonds have held up well on the New York exchange despite the depression.

ALLRED STUDIES ANSWER

Trade Commission Is Defending Charge Against It

AUSTIN, Nov. 14. (UP)—Attorney General Allred's office today was studying a reply to the reported federal trade commission's denial of Allred's charge that the commission abetted oil companies violating Texas anti-trust laws.

In a suit seeking ousting of 17 oil companies and organizations, Allred claimed a pledge was made by oil companies as follows: "We the undersigned announce to the federal trade commission and to the public that we will adhere to rules embraced in the national code of practices for marketing of refined petroleum products."

Christian Pastor On Church Program

The Rev. Howard Peters, First Christian church pastor, will go to Sweetwater this week to attend the district convention of Christian churches. The Midland minister is on the program for an address on the preeminence of Christ in evangelism. The convention lasts two days. It is expected that several members of the Midland Christian church will attend the convention.

Injured Puncher Slightly Changed

The condition of Lee Reynolds, who was seriously injured while riding the A. P. Hill range some time Thursday and left to wander dazed until a searching party found him before the following dawn, appeared only slightly changed Saturday.

He appeared to have brief moments when he was conscious, but gave no information as to how he had been hurt. Reynolds, about 50, set off Thursday on his horse. He had not returned at noon and his horse wandered in later in the day, riderless. A search was instituted at once, with no success. After midnight several ranchmen to the southeast began getting telephone calls and they drove to the Hill ranch in their automobiles, formed a line, 25 cars of them, and spread out across the pasture in search.

Jay Floyd found the missing man, wandering about without understanding where he was or seemingly what had happened. He was brought to the Calloway hospital.

Drug Corporation For Odessa Soon

ODESSA, Nov. 14.—Application has been made for the organization of a $20,000 drug corporation here, according to word received from H. D. Cody, former drug man of Odessa. This new corporation is composed of Odessa and San Angelo interests, who were to meet here today to complete arrangements. Practically all the stock has been subscribed for and now the interested parties await the granting of their charter.

Late News

Midland Man Grows Ponderous Potatoes

One sweet potato weighing 5 1/2 pounds is on exhibit in the window of the chamber of commerce. Its little brother, weighing only 4 1/4 pounds, lies by its side. The potatoes were grown on land belonging to Frank Elkin, at the old nursery. Their grower gathered at the rate of 200 bushels per acre and sold them wholesale at $1 per bushel. These potatoes are not "nigger chokers" which sometimes grow larger, but are the Porto Rico red variety, delicious baking potatoes.

Where Half the World Agrees to Arms Holiday

The nations and their possessions, with a population of more than half that of the world, who have officially notified the League of Nations that they are willing to observe the one year's armament holiday are shown on this striking map. More than half of the 61 countries invited to participate in the arms truce proposed at the last league assembly have agreed. These include both the United States and Russia who are not members of the league. Russia, however, has placed restrictions upon her agreement.

The nations which have signified their willingness to observe the truce are: Albania, Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Canada, Chile, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Egypt, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Great Britain, Holland, Hungary, Ireland, Italy, India, Japan, Yugoslavia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, Rumania, Russia, Siam, Sweden, Switzerland and the United States.

TELLS OF PLAN TO HIKE DEMAND FOR TEXAS MEAT

Frank P. Holland Jr., publisher of Texas Farm & Ranch and president of the Texas Breeder-Feeder association, and his brother, Marsh Holland, manager of Hollandale farms at Dallas, conferred with Midland chamber of commerce officials Saturday when they stopped here en route to Marfa.

Holland is now working on a plan to increase the demand for Texas-fed meats with the aim of advancing the price to the rancher or feeder. Choice fed beefs sold as high as 11 cents in Chicago and Kansas City this week, while packers offered a top of only 7 cents for just as choice Texas fed beefs, it is pointed out. Holland enlisted the working aid of the Midland chamber of commerce to help the rancher and feeder through the campaign he is planning.

The Dallas publisher declared the Breeder-Feeder movement was now one of the biggest things in Texas and was certain to mean millions of dollars to ranchers and farmer feeders. He paid tribute to the work done by the Midland chamber of commerce through its work on the proposition.

Former Officer, Editor Acquitted

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 14. (AP)—Richard E. Enright, former New York police commissioner and Henry Knight Miller, former editor of Psychology magazine, today were cleared of any connection with the promotion of the Universal Oil and Gas company, United States District Attorney Herbert Hyde announced. Enright and Miller were indicted with 17 others, including Jack C. Walton, former Oklahoma governor, when the government charged them with illegal use of the mails to promote stock in the oil company.

INJURIES ARE NOT SERIOUS

Man Who Flees Scene Being Sought by The Police

Frank Flood was shot Saturday night, and was carried to a hospital for treatment of a bullet wound in the hip.

Extent of his injuries pending an x-ray examination. The bullet entered his hip and apparently did not lodge. He did not seem to be seriously wounded.

A man whose name was known to officers was being sought in connection with the shooting, which happened in front of a small eatery eating place belonging to W. O. Hayes.

Details of the shooting were lacking but assertedly Flood and the man sought by officers had an argument that, about 30 minutes later, was culminated by the shot. Flood fell to the ground beside the restaurant.

The other man ran away immediately. The fugitive's wife was said to have gone in search of him, seeking to influence his giving himself up. Those gathered about the place said they did not see a gun on Flood's person.

On the operating table, Flood kept up a continual flow of talk while surgeons probed his wound. He assisted nurses in moving his huge bulk, and calmly smoked one cigarette after another.

Eight Women to Captain Drive

Eight prominent women of Midland have been appointed captains in the Red Cross campaign which opens next Thursday in Midland. They are Mmes. C. A. Goldsmith, Clarence Schaubert, Foy Proctor, George Abel, J. M. Edwards, Homer W. Rowe, Holt Jowell, and R. J. Moore.

Other prominent women and leading welfare workers will be soldiers helping these captains get subscriptions to the Red Cross. The campaign will last through next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The campaign next week is expected to be by far the largest ever conducted in Midland, due to the fact that nearly all of the money subscribed will be spent for welfare work in Midland.

The eight captains will name 50 additional women this week to work with the captains. So far, the response to the call for workers has met unanimous agreement. People are glad to serve because in doing this solicitation work they are helping the poor and needy of their own city. W. Ily Pratt, general chairman, said Saturday.

FIFTY-FIFTY ADVERTISING

One of the great tobacco companies has started something entirely new in advertising, developed around the fifty idea, which, in turn, is founded on the theory that a fair split is always honest and sportsmanlike.

You may be interested in knowing that not one cent was paid to Miss Blank for the above endorsement.

Fair exchange is no robbery. The movie star gets her name and photograph in hundreds of newspapers of general circulation—something which could not be had in the magazine devoted especially to the film industry.

Such endorsements, in times past, have been generally regarded as just so much paid propaganda, and therefore worthless.

GIVE TO BANISH NEED

The pitiful little 13-year-old who was rescued from the windowless Washington street closet where her father and stepmother had confined her seems to have attracted the kindly attention of most of the nation.

News events like the one that has built itself up around her are not entirely good for us. They stir our sympathies, to be sure, and they help us to realize how black and dismal a child's life can be made.

This youngster's situation was exceptional—in one sense. There are not, luckily, many children situated precisely as she was.

Ask any social service worker to tell you about the way some children have to live in our biggest cities. Get some mine union representatives to tell you about the lot of children in some of the nation's coal towns.

Then, when you have done that, see if this pathetically unlucky little girl in Washington was really much worse off than thousands upon thousands of her brothers and sisters.

We don't ordinarily bother our heads much about these other children. We would rather pour out our moral indignation over individual cases that get on the front pages.

From one end of the country to the other, about now, charitable organizations are appealing for money. If the case of this Washington youngster oppressed you—just remember, when you have a chance to contribute to one of these fund campaigns, that your money will be helping some other children who are not very much better off than she was.

Washington By Rodney Dutcher Letter

John Baker Hollister, Successor to Nick Longworth, Has Had a Life Brimming with Public and Political Activity.

WASHINGTON.—John Baker Hollister, who was elected to succeed the late Nicholas Longworth in the first congressional district of Ohio, is still a young man but he has been active enough in Republican affairs to justify his party's confidence.

Hollister is 40, a Cincinnati attorney, a World War veteran, and an ardent wet.

He graduated from the Cincinnati public schools, spent two years at St. Paul's college, Concord, N. H., and was awarded his Bachelor of Arts degree by Yale in 1911.

After a year abroad, studying in Munich, he returned and entered a law firm at Cincinnati.

In 1916 when the United States instituted the Citizens' Military Training camps, he went to Plattsburg.

"I readily admit the part patriotism played in moving me to enlist," Hollister explains his temporary vacation from the bar, "but at the time I was also courting a girl who lived in Boston."

The girl, Ellen West Rollins, became Hollister's wife Aug. 15, 1917, the day he was commissioned.

After being made lieutenant in August he soon received a captain's commission and, in the fall, was sent to Fort Sill.

In September he left for France and there commanded Battery B, 4th Artillery corps. Later he was with the Third Battalion in South France.

It was after the Armistice he met Herbert Hoover, in Paris when the future president of the United States was directing the American Relief association. From January to June, 1919, Hollister led a semi-diplomatic career surveying the economic condition of Lithuania, Latvia, Poland and part of France.

After his return in June, Hollister became a member of the law firm of Taft, Stettinius & Hollister. As candidate on both tickets in 1921 he won a place on the board of education. He was re-elected in 1923.

During this time he served as president of the union board of high schools, chairman of the finance committee and as one of the board's two members on the coordinating bond committee.

He is a trustee of Robert E. Bentley Post, American legion, at Cincinnati, and a member of its first council. He also holds trusteeships in the Cincinnati Orphan Asylum, Babble's Milk Fund, and the Seventh Presbyterian church.

He is counsel for the Cincinnati Battalion of Crusaders, a national organization against the 18th amendment.

He also devotes time to the executive committee work of the boy scouts and the colored industrial school. Hollister has three children, Anne Montgomery, 13; Alice Keys, 10; and John B. Jr., 5.

His production is said to be far advanced in the realms of sheer beauty and dramatic strength. In this new film Herbert Brenon has achieved what he considers the ultimate in screen perfection.

Brenon is the most definitely assertive individual in motion pictures. He is his severest critic. He doesn't pander to ego and vanity. A picture is either good or bad—his own included.

Many who have seen "Transgression" have been unable to express its great dramatic power and vivid treatment in terms of mere words. For the first time in many years, real life is portrayed on the screen in all of its ramifications.

CHARGES OF THE HEAD OF THE NAVY LEAGUE SHOULD HAVE TURNED IN A REPORT UPHOLDING THE PRESIDENT.

The charges voiced by the Navy League's president were wild, on their face; that the gentleman was speaking out of turn could be deduced as soon as his statement was read.

Indeed, now that the smoke of battle has died away, it is possible to wonder whether President Hoover needed to take any notice of the accusation in the first place. A propaganda organization is expected to attack any public official who does things of which it does not approve, and most people pay very little attention.

"Prohibition" Enforcement Difficulties Here, Too!

Convict Workers in Model Prison May Win Union Cards

NORFOLK, Mass. (NEA)—Opportunity in the tangible form of a union card is the hopeful prospect now being held before inmates of the Massachusetts State prison colony here. When the great gates clang behind free men, those who learned unionized trades will have an unprecedented opportunity for "coming back" in the outside world.

Numerous labor leaders favor the Norfolk plan, but it actually has been put into effect through the cooperation of Howard A. Gill, superintendent of the colony, and E. A. Johnson, president of the Massachusetts State building trades council. After weeks of planning they reached an agreement.

Each year inmates or prison labor employed as helpers assisting the civilian mechanic labor will be recommended as candidates for membership in the respective crafts unions, and credit will be given such candidates for proof of previous craft training received at the State prison colony according to the programs of instruction and examination in such crafts approved by the State building trades council.

Which means, simply, that prisoners who have proved proficient at certain crafts, under the supervision of union men, have the chance of becoming union members upon their release. It is an important step in answer to the old problem of what to do with the discharged prisoner who honestly wants to win his way back in the ranks of decent society.

There is no easy road to success for the individual. Possibly only a few men will be awarded union membership for work done in prison. But men who complete their prison sentences before finishing their trades instruction will not have wasted their time. For the courses are conducted on a system of credits for training received which can be carried out into civil life. There a former convict should be able to finish his course and secure union membership much sooner than a beginner could do.

Built Own Prison The prison colony here is a relatively new type of venture, based on modern ideas of penology. Thus far all the work done has been in construction. Three buildings are finished, with many more to follow, all within a concrete wall that is 20 feet in height and surrounds more than 35 acres of land.

Prison labor has played a large part in constructing the walls and buildings. Various types of shops are being installed, and Superintendent Gill hopes that the union plan may be extended to these shops.

"Prisons should be designed for treatment as well as security," he declared. "Prisons should aim to return the individual to society better fitted to meet the demands of that society than when he entered it."

"The teaching of certain trades has not met the problem up to the present time, although it has helped. Many prison activities prove to be experience that is useless when the men get outside again."

Splendid Pupil Regardless of Poor Vision

A Midland boy, Walter Elkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Elkin, has received the honor of being "one of the most pleasant and well liked students in Sul Ross college," said a feature article appearing in a recent issue of the Skyline, the college paper.

The article continues: "With his ever-ready smile, jolly, companionable spirit, and friendly nature, he is one to be envied for his cheerful outlook on life. Who ever saw Walter with the gum sour look that many people seem to think is a necessary asset to life? No one.

"Although handicapped by an impaired vision, Walter is a masterful saxophonist, having played two years with the world famous Simmons Cowboy band. Incidentally, he is a music major, and intends to teach music in later life.

"Despite the fact that his lessons must be read to him, he makes grades that should shame others who make poor grades and have far less excuse for making them. He is almost what one would call an ideal student. He is quiet and attentive, and has never been known to "cut" a class unless it was absolutely necessary.

"Walter has attended two other schools besides Sul Ross. He has attended Clarendon Junior college at Clarendon, and Simmons university at Abilene. This is his second term in Sul Ross, and he plans to get his degree at the end of next year.

"In an interview with a representative of the Skyline, Walter revealed various interesting facts connected with his private life and inner thoughts. He indicated that eating and sleeping are the two joys of his life. In his spare time he indulges in his most vicious dissipation, middle-de-winks.

When asked about marriage, Walter replied that he never did intend to get married, but that his father said that one, too. "However," said Walter, "with all of these pretty coeds running around unattached during football season, I can't really be held responsible for what I do."

Two First Prizes at the State Fair Is Excellent Record of Midland Farm Women This Year; Also Wins Ribbon

Two first prizes at the Dallas State fair were won by Mrs. S. H. Gwyn, prominent Midland county farm woman.

Mrs. Gwyn took first prize in the state on hooked rugs. This blue ribbon was awarded the Midland woman in a field of dozens of entries.

The Midland woman also won the blue ribbon for the best street dress. Besides the honor of defeating the whole State of Texas in these contests, Mrs. Gwyn did well financially.

She sold the rug for $15; won $4 as a prize at Dallas and won $3.50 as a prize from the Midland chamber of commerce at the Midland County Farm fair. The street dress which cost less than $3 won for Mrs. Gwyn the equivalent of $38. She won $3 as first prize at Dallas and won a $35 trip to Texas A. & M. college awarded by the agricultural committee of the Midland chamber of commerce.

Mrs. Gwyn is a member of the Busy Bee club and it was in this club working under direction of Miss Genevieve Derryberry, home demonstration agent, that Mrs. Gwyn became the champion rug and dress maker of Texas. Miss Derryberry, who organized and works with this club and others in the county, says for one woman to win two first places in hand work departments of the state fair is unprecedented.

Chrysanthemums and roses formed lovely decorations for the rooms of luncheon tables. The autumn motif was further seen in the tallies and favors, the latter being wrapped in rich colors of the season.

Favors were awarded to Mrs. A. B. Cooksey, for high guest score and to Mrs. J. B. Thomas for high club.

The group entertained included Mmes. C. C. Duffey, J. M. Caldwell, Homer Rowe, William Simpson, J. B. Thomas, Allen Tolbert, A. B. Cooksey, J. D. Young, Arthur Yeager, Harvey Conger, Andrew Fasken and W. G. Whitehouse.

Diamodean society is one of two social organizations on the campus for students in the academy and those receiving bids to either are considered unusually honored.

Miss Cowden, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cowden, is a senior in the academy and a transfer from Ward-Belmont college.

Couple Feted at Many Parties in Colorado Mr. and Mrs. Rawlins Clark, who were married yesterday in Colorado, were entertained at many festive functions before their marriage in Colorado.

On Friday, two lovely parties honored members of the bridal party with Mrs. D. M. Logan, mother of the bride, hostess at a luncheon and Mrs. H. H. Broadus hostess at dinner in the evening.

Listed among the parties for Mrs. Clark during the past two weeks were a gala shower given at the Baptist church by the Young People's department; a shower by the Contract Bridge Builders, of which she was a member; a shower by the Business Girls' Sunday school class and a bridge party given by Miss Loyse Price, member of the party. The announcement party on Nov. 4 was given by Miss Edna Mae Powell.

TEXAS BATTERS TCU TITLE HOPES IN SMASHING 10-0 DECISION

SMU WINS IN 2ND PLAY OF HARD SCRIMMAGE

A team hopelessly out of the Southwest conference running, Texas university, hopelessly defeated the TCU pennant bubble Saturday when the Longhorns staged a vicious fight to score a placement goal, touch-down and added point to tumble the proud purple under an ill-fated 10 points.

The Littlefield charges thus left to SMU, who defeated Baylor by a scant 6 points, leaders in the circuit—the only Southwest conference club that has not lost a game this season, and one of the few in the nation. SMU and TCU play the Saturday following Thanksgiving day, and the best the Christians can do is beat SMU for a pennant tie.

The holding of SMU by Baylor to six lone points was the greatest surprise of the season, even greater than Texas' convincing lead of TCU. Speedy Mason ran most of the length of the field on the second play of the game for the score.

Arkansas did not play.

Cowden Gets Big Laugh Out of Old Account of Dash

The following story that relates of a football game played 20 years ago meant little to most Midland people who read it in a large state newspaper Armistice day:

"WACO, Nov. 11.—Baylor 12; TCU 0.

"Baylor defeated Texas Christian university today in a well-played football game, in which both teams did valiant work, but the locals proved their superiority by making two touchdowns, one in the second quarter and another in the last.

"Cowden made the first touchdown by making a 30-yard run around left end and Fouts made the last one by carrying the ball around right end for five yards after it had been worked up by line bucks and short end runs. Little kicked both goals."

One Midland man, however, could really appreciate the story. The "Cowden" mentioned is J. Ellis Cowden.

His father, W. F. Cowden, refused to allow his son to go away to school if he played football, so Ellis played under the name of "Cowan." He was already being described as a star before he wrestled a victory over Baylor from the Horned Frog team as described above.

Cowden played right end and made the touchdown referred to above on an end around play. Getting safely past the TCU forward line, Cowden broke away from his interference, ran off from it side-stepped, stiff-armed and hurled his way through a broken field that is still listed as one of the most brilliant runs ever made by a Baylor Bear.

BISHOP FINDS THAT JINXES PLAYED A BIG PART IN DISTRICT 4 ON ARMISTICE

By CURTIS BISHOP

"Jinxes" provided thrills, aplenty for the fans of District 4 Armistice day as the six clubs went through a complete conference schedule. One of the jinxes was very much in evidence as Mike Hicks galloped 38 yards to give the Sweetwater Mustangs a victory over the hitherto unbeaten, untied and unscored upon Big Spring Steers, and the other was rudely shattered as Harry Taylor's San Angelo Bobcats ran rough-shod over the Colorado Wolves 57 to 12. In the third district clash the Midland Bulldogs broke into the win column by bobbing a field goal, which has become almost a lost art and scoring a touchdown to nose out the McCamey Badgers, the cellar occupants, 10 to 6.

With the exception of 1929 the Mustangs have a clear run of victories in their Armistice day clash with the Steers in recent years, and not even the greatest club ever gathered together by a Big Spring coach could shatter that tradition Wednesday afternoon on Newman field before the largest crowd this section of the state interscholastic league has ever seen. Hennig's red-jerseyed Mustangs stole all of Bristow's off-tackle smash thunder as Mike Hicks and Ney, Sheridan romped to 11 first downs, and the heavy Sweetwater line smothered the efforts of Dennis, Heblson and Flowers, the same three gentlemen that had carried Big Spring to the fore of the state scorers.

At San Angelo, where the Bobcats met the Colorado Wolves, another "jinx" was tested and found wanting. In all of his six years of coaching experience Harry Taylor's clubs had as yet to win an Armistice day game, but it was little more than a stiff workout for the Conchones as they swamped Taylor's former proteges 57 to 12.

With the meeting between the Bobcats and the Mustangs, another undefeated club of the district, set for Nov. 21, it seems that the curtain will fall upon championship play early in the season for District 4. Hennig's charges will go into the fray top-heavy favorites to oust the Angeloans from their joint hold on the top ladder, but indications point to another such battle as was staged on Newman field Wednesday.

The Midland Bulldogs should raise themselves a notch higher in the conference standing at the expense of the Colorado Wolves, while McCamey and Big Spring will be idle until Thanksgiving day.

Bristow's "point-per-minute" club, holding that remarkable average no longer, still have a mathematical chance of copping the championship. Should the Bobcats turn back Mike Hicks, Ney Sheridan and company, in their contest Nov. 21 and the Bobcats conquer Harry Taylor's charges Turkey day on the Steer turf the district would be thrown into a triple-tie with two additional games necessary to decide the championship.

Standing through the Armistice day games:

Team	Won	Lost	Pts.	Opp.
Sweetwater	3	0	92	6
San Angelo	3	0	96	12
Big Spring	3	1	175	7
Midland	1	2	10	53
Colorado	0	3	18	164
McCamey	0	4	6	156

Although held scoreless for the first time this year, Tack Dennis, Big Spring triple-threat back, was apparently "in" as far as scoring honors in District 4 are concerned as a result of last week's play. Delker, San Angelo full back, replaced Captain Bill Flowers of Big Spring as the second scorer and Harrison of the same club staged the biggest individual gain of the week.

Player	T. EP.	Tot.

SPORTS REPORTS

By R. C. HANKINS

An antedated headline in the Big Spring Herald: "Both Teams Unbeaten in District." In case the head still stands, it might be shipped over to Sweetwater or San Angelo. The Mighty Steers looked sadly lacking in what it takes to be a real grid team. The first time worthy opposition was hit, puff! went the air out of the sails. In the Sweetwater Reporter is a newspaper picture upside down. The fact that the young man on desk was none other than Coach Obie Gordon Bristow, who is declared to be "upside down after the 7-0 game."

Have you seen the statistics on that game?

Passes attempted: Big Spring 13; Sweetwater 7.

Passes completed: Big Spring 2 for 45 yards; Sweetwater one for seven yards.

Passes intercepted: by Big Spring 3 for 8 yards in returns; Sweetwater six for 33 yards in returns.

Punts: Big Spring (Dennis) 11 for an average of 46.9 yards; Sweetwater (Sheridan) 12 for an average of 38.9 yards.

Punt returns: Big Spring (Schwarzenbach) 6 for total of 41 yards; Sweetwater (Hicks) 8 for total of 65 yards.

First downs: First half, Big Spring 4; Sweetwater 3. Second half, Big Spring 2; Sweetwater 8; total, Big Spring 6; Sweetwater 11.

Gained from scrimmage: Big Spring, 116 yards, by Dennis 51; by Flowers 13, by Heblson 38, by Forrester 8, by Coburn 7. Sweetwater, 270 yards, by Sheridan 129, by Hicks 103, by Baugh 19, by Wood 39, by Wilson 15.

14th from scrimmage: Big Spring 12 yards; Sweetwater 28 yards.

Penalties: Big Spring three for 15 yards; Sweetwater six for 30 yards.

Here's something worthy of note. Tack Dennis, ace of the Steers, made the following remark before the game. Lots of high school players should study it:

"Contrary to what the public has been led to believe I do not consider this as a personal battle between any member of the Sweetwater team and myself. It makes no difference to me who scores the greatest number of points on either team just so our total is more than the Mustangs' I will give every-thing I have every minute I am in the game to help the other ten men on our team win a victory for the Steers."

Now we don't want to rob Coach Barry of his imposed title, "Sherlock," but we've an idea about the burning of that bonfire in Sweetwater last week. In case you've forgotten, the great pile was touched off a night or so prematurely. In a great "box" that takes preference over the banner line of the Sweetwater Reporter, it is said that there is not sufficient evidence to pin the offense on Big Spring students. Knowing the Big Spring chamber of commerce and the Sweetwater board of city development tactics as we do (aren't all commerce bodies the same?) we'd assume they and the Sweetwater paper are wise to who set fire to the heap and that SCHOOL AUTHORITIES KNEW BEFORE HAND IT WOULD BURN.

A great way to inflame the fancy of the turnstile public, and the box deploring the "unfortunate" happening appeared before the game with the announcement of another bonfire. Gathering of trash and setting it off is not a great advertising cost, after all. You notice how fast the town got together and found more rubbish. The board of city development officials snickered up their sleeves at the clean town and the opaque joke on the public. Then the Sweetwater paper comes out and half way pins the blame on Big Spring. It wouldn't risk making a whole town sore at Sweetwater had there been no agreement beforehand, or so we're inclined to believe. Pretty slick—and other towns may fall in line. There are several county seats who would welcome a good courtesious burning just to get the customers through the gates to a football game, and, at that, the county seats would not lose too much except a disturbing air of moth balls and the smell of whis-kers as some official woke up too late in his chair to escape getting

MONDAY MAKES OR BREAKS THE SIMMONS BOYS

ABILENE, Nov. 14.—The coming week will either make or break the Simmons university Cowboys.

With two games on tap, the Cow-boys are to have a busy time trying to keep their perfect record in the Texas conference intact. For both of the games are conference affairs and will wind up the T. C. schedule for the Simmons men.

Austin college will furnish the opposition on Monday at the Simmons stadium. The Kangaroos, after a victory over Southwestern, are hoping to upset the rampaging Cranfill-men. They have a big, hefty team and a powerful and flashy runner in Joe Lillis, all-conference half. For the past three seasons the Kangaroos have beat Simmons. Last year they were the only team to accomplish the feat.

On Saturday Howard Payne's Yellowjackets will come to Abilene. The jacks are not bothering to keep it secret—they fully expect to stop the mad parade of the Cow-boys toward the conference flag. This contest is calculated to bring one of West Texas' largest football crowds within the gates.

In spite of injuries suffered in the T. C. U. game, the Cowboys have been playing the most brilliant football in their history within the past three weeks. In the last two conference games, played against Southwestern and Trinity, they have scored 99 points while their opponents were getting nothing. The Cowboys are also unscorred on for the season outside of Southwestern conference opposition.

The Cowboys started out rather inauspiciously at the first of the season, but each week has seen development. Les Cranfill, the young gridiron wizard, has quickly turned an unorganized lot of material, much of which was new and inexperienced, into a powerful offensive football machine. The lines put out by Potts Anderson at Simmons in the past four years have always been tough on defense. Now that Cranfill has perfected an attack, the Cowboys should indeed be hard to stop in their remaining games.

WIZARD CONTROL OF BUICKS LATE AUTOMOTIVE YEN

The principles of "Wizard control" will be demonstrated at all Buick showrooms the country over today, when the new Buick Eight for 1932 is shown for the first time.

"Wizard control" has aroused much discussion since the preliminary announcement of the coming of the new Buick. It results from a sensational new method of car control featuring a button-controlled automatic clutch, with improved free wheeling, and a new synchro-mesh transmission with silent second gear, said to represent the finest engineering Buick has ever attained in a unit of this kind.

The presentation includes an extensive line of 28 models, the most complete line ever built by Buick, grouped in four series, with smart, modish bodies by Fisher and a score of brilliant engineering features.

In the new body design, a skillful handling of the radiator lines has achieved a slim, fleet body, enhanced by chrome heading on the radiator shutters and chrome-plated streamline headlamps with fender parking lamps in a harmonizing design. Dual trumpet-style horns, synchronized in tone and placed on each side of the radiator below the headlamps and door-type ventilators, instead of the usual louvers, give further luxuriousness to the design.

The new Valve-in-head straight eight engines provide optional high compression, capable of improved performance, while improved starting, carburetion and fuel supply system, and improved oil temperature regulator, and a new vacuum pump pioneered by Buick, giving positive windshield wiper action at all speeds, are other important features.

Vacuum from the intake manifold, always available when the engine is running, operates the automatic clutch. It is controlled by a touch of the foot upon a floor button, making possible smooth gear shifting without use of the clutch pedal, with instantaneous change back and forth from free wheeling to conventional control, as desired.

The conventional clutch pedal is retained, and yet it need not be used in shifting gears, save when making a cold start or perhaps when parking in close quarters. Free wheeling is obtained simply by depressing the button and releasing the accelerator. Release the button or depress the accelerator, and the clutch engages again, making positive connection with the engine.

Houston-Dallas Time Cut Down

Auto time between Dallas and Houston has been reduced to six hours by completion of Federal Highway No. 75 which is a concrete road with the exception of 10 miles of graded road at Palmer according to word from Miss Geneva Carr, manager of the highway information service of the Dallas chamber of commerce. The new road is concrete and is from 18 to 20 feet wide. The Dallas chamber of commerce, through Miss Carr, is a good friend to Midland in helping advertise this city as a stopping point for tourists, according to officials of the local chamber. Miss Carr keeps a supply of Midland literature to distribute to interested tourists.

Salt Top Reached In Cowden Test

The first definite marker, top of salt, was logged at last report in Weekly Oil corporation et al. No. 1 Elliott, Cowden, Ector county wildcat test, at 1,545 feet, or 1,426 feet above sea level, elevation being 2,971 feet. The test is now drilling below 1,950 feet in salt.

A test drilled by Wentz on the Harrison ranch and in the center of the southeast quarter of section 3, block 43, township 3 south, three miles south and one mile east of Weekly et al. No. 1 Cowden, topped anhydrite (Rustler) at 1,535 feet and the formation changed abruptly at 1,545 to salt.

Indications are that Weekly et al. No. 1 Cowden is 86 feet lower on the salt than Penn No. 1 Cowden and 117 feet higher than the Wentz failure to the east.

From the logs of wells drilled previously in the area of the Permian basin and in Crane, Ector and Andrews counties, the lime highs are found slightly east of salt highs.

Here's Chance to Get Pet Buffalo

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah. (UP)—If somebody would like a nice, shaggy 1,200 or 1,300 pound buffalo for a pet (but not to eat), he need only ask.

One hundred buffalo from the famous herd in Yellowstone National park will be actually given away. They can be used for anything, but must not be killed.

The last buffalo calf crop brought the herd up to 1,200—and that's just 100 more than the range forage within the buffalo reserve can stand.

Park officials hope that most of the applications will be from zoos and from superintendents of game preserves.

Lake Water Level Raised to 87 Feet

BALBOA, Nov. 14. (UP)—Canal officials have ordered the water level of Gatun Lake to be raised to 87 feet. The rainy season is now drawing to a close, with the customary heavy downpours, and more than 2,500,000,000 cubic feet of water will be impounded into the lake during the next 40 days.

Eighty-seven feet is the highest lake water mark that can be maintained with safety. Heavy rains are causing officials of the Canal no concern as 75,000 cubic feet of water per second can be disposed of through the spillway.

BRITISH DOLE FACES SEVEREST TEST THIS YEAR

LONDON, Nov. 14. (UP)—More doleful than ever and $575,000,000 in debt, Great Britain's unemployment insurance fund is meeting its severest test this winter, sustaining 2,750,000 jobless and their 5,500,000 dependents.

Launched in 1911, the fund has been extended and altered in 25 successive Acts to meet needs. Now almost universally known as the "dole" because of the increasingly large share borne by the government itself, the fund has reached the end of its borrowing from the Exchequer, which obtained the money from the Post Office Savings banks deposits. Henceforth the inevitable deficits will be paid by grants from the Exchequer out of current revenue.

The cost of sustaining the unemployed this year is estimated at $975,000,000 of which the government must pay approximately two-thirds. The employers, workers and Exchequer are each contributing 20 cents weekly for each insured worker now working. In addition, the government is paying the entire cost of transitional benefit and also is underwriting deficits between contributions and benefits.

Drastic Changes Four drastic changes have been made in the scheme to balance the budget. These changes, consisting of a 10 per cent reduction in the weekly benefits, a 25 per cent increase in weekly contributions, limitation of benefit to 26 weeks in a benefit year and the removal of anomalies aroused widespread disapproval and provoked disorderly demonstrations.

Labor Party leaders argued that the dole reductions have reduced one-third of the unemployed from the status of pauperism. If food prices continue to rise as a result of the suspension of the gold standard, they assert, the reduction will amount to 25 per cent in purchasing power, and imperil the standard of living of the jobless.

The new rates of benefit range from $3.66 for adult men and $3.30 for women, to $1.38 and $1.14 for boys and girls aged 16, respectively. The rate for adult dependents is $1.92 and for child dependents is 48 cents, the latter not affected by the economy cuts.

How Distributed The Ministry of Labor administers the fund through 417 employment exchanges and 748 branch employment offices.

Any worker who is involuntarily unemployed and has qualified by having paid his insurance for 30 weeks during the past two years, is entitled to receive the regular insurance benefit, based on the contributory scheme.

In addition, there is the Transitional Benefit for those who have exhausted their insurance scheme benefit rights. This expense is borne by the government and will cost more than $110,000,000 this year.

Under the new regulations, all persons who have drawn benefit for 26 weeks, are thrown on to the Transitional Benefit and must now prove their requirements by submitting to a "needs test" conducted by the Public Assistance committees.

Under this new arrangement it is expected that the number drawing Transitional Benefit this winter will be approximately 1,000,000, or twice as many as before the new arrangement was effectuated.

There is still another form of relief, called Public Assistance Relief, or Poor Law Assistance. It is administered by the local authorities, empowered to raise local taxation to provide for their distressed unemployed, who cannot qualify for the insurance benefit or transitional benefit.

Flying Aces In Big Spring

BIG SPRING.—The girl known as the Queen of Daredevils reached Big Spring Thursday. She is Jesse Marvin, a nationally-known as Lady Redbird, a 20-year-old aviatrix and parachute jumper of Wichita, Kas., and survivor of hundreds of acrobatic performances from airplanes.

She is the headliner of the Flying Aces, who will perform in a field eight miles west of Big Spring in Highway No. 1 today beginning at 2:30 o'clock under auspices of the local post of the American Legion.

The feature 'stunt' of the young woman is performed as she sits on the top wing of an airplane while it goes through barrel rolls. It is claimed she is the only person who has ever attempted the stunt.

With Lady Redbird are several daredevils. The troupe includes sixteen people, using five airplanes and a balloon, all of whom will perform today.

Much interest is being shown in the old-fashioned balloon ascension which was abandoned some years ago because of the great danger. The star of the stunt, known as the Falling Meteor, will ride the balloon to an altitude of 2000 feet or more and cut loose, descending with a parachute.

Jimmie Woods, Ed Sherard, and Jack Euler, three war pilots, lead the list in this company. With specially constructed ships they go through a variety of stunts, including parachute jumps, air races, balloon bursting contests, serpentine cutting, wing walking, stunting contests and other events.

The management of the troupe has guaranteed to the legion that it will go through all events as advertised.

General Pleased With Coast Guns

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (UP)—The "big guns" guarding the coastline of the United States against foreign naval invasion are the best in the world, Maj. Gen. John W. Gulick, Chief of Army Coast Artillery, reported to Secretary of War Hurley.

This assertion was the brightest spot in Gulick's annual report, that lamented the lack of high-power shells for practice, which, he maintained, was necessary to maintain high standards of gunnery. Starting last July 1, the Army cut down its ammunition allowance as an economy measure.

Gulick told Hurley he had inspected all Coast Artillery activities within the United States, the Panama Canal zone, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands during the last year. He said the foreign stations were "in excellent condition." Despite his praise of the "big guns" guarding America's harbors, Gulick thought the "general situation" as to sea-coast artillery material "is still far from satisfactory."

The artillery chief expressed distress with the results of an experiment made in the Canal Zone recently to find out how fast the 14-inch guns there could be shifted from one end of the canal to the other. He said one such rifle was moved from Fort Randolph to Cutlebra island within nine hours.

Zowie! Marx Bros. In "Monkey Biz"

Yes, the Marx brothers have names which sound like those of other folks, but even their best friends won't call them by those names. And to each other they are known even in the cloistered quiet of Marx family life, as Harpo, Groucho, Chico and Zeppo.

Harpo's real name is Arthur; Groucho's is Julius; Chico is Leo, and Zeppo is Herbert. There is a fifth Marx brother. He is called by his brothers and everyone else as Gummo. But his real name is Milton.

Although they speak to each other in private life as Harpo, Zeppo, Groucho, and Chico, the mad maniacs of filmdom are never heard to utter these names in the screamingly funny movies they make. This has held true in "Cocoanuts," "Animal Crackers," and now in their latest humority, "Monkey Business," at the Ritz theatre today.

"Monkey Business" presents the brothers in a story that has to deal with stowaways and yegmen aboard an ocean liner. The four brothers are the stowaways and practically anybody is a yegman. It all winds up when they come ashore and rescue Zeppo's girl from the clutches of bootleggers in an old barn.

Powdered Coal Runs Engine

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (UP)—An internal combustion engine that uses powdered coal as a fuel, instead of gas or fuel oil, will be described at the Third International conference on bituminous coal, which will open in Pittsburgh today under the auspices of the Carnegie Institute of Technology.

The inventor of the engine, Rudolf Fawilkowski a German engineer, and president of the Kosmos Engine works, Gorlitz, has written a paper describing the engine. The paper will be read by Prof. Willibald Trinks of the Carnegie Tech faculty, who visited Fawilkowski.

Powdered coal is not the only fuel on which the new engine, known as the Rupa motor, will operate. According to Professor Trinks, the inventor has successfully operated the engines on various vegetable meals. These meals may be produced by the farmer himself from plant residues, corn stalks, leaves, pine needles, rice, coffee, hulls or from vegetable residues of oil factories.

An 80-h.p. Rupa motor was operated on the extraction residues and ground kernels from the manufacture of olive oil. Wood meal may also successfully be used for fuel, the inventor says.
