The state was attempting to prove that Bouknight hired a gunman to kill Edwards. The state was attempting to show that Edwards was murdered in order to obtain other papers.

SHEPPARD WILL INTRODUCE THREE BOOZE MEASURES

By TOM MAHONEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (UP).—Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas will reintroduce in congress three bills aiming to place additional teeth in the prohibition law. The second will make the use of wine bricks illegal.

"Wine grapes, however, and not wine bricks are the problem," said Senator Sheppard. "The bricks are new and get a lot of publicity but they are only an 80th of the amount involved."

His bill on this point will eliminate Section 29, Title 2, of the National Prohibition Act of 1919. This now reads: "The penalties provided in this act against the manufacture of liquor without a permit shall not apply to a person for manufacturing cider and fruit juices exclusively for use in his home, but such cider and fruit juice shall not be sold or delivered except to persons having permits to manufacture vinegar."

From Section 33, Sheppard would strike out the following: "But it shall not be unlawful to possess liquors in one's private dwelling while the same is occupied and used by him as his dwelling only and such liquor need not be reported, provided such liquors are for use only for the personal consumption of the owner thereof and his family residing in such dwelling and his bona fide guests."

Senator Sheppard also would change the law to place the burden of proof on the possessor in liquor actions. He will introduce his bills in the first week of the session in order to get early committee action on them. He was unable to do this at the short spring session.

Though opponents are revising all the exploded arguments of a decade ago and spreading propaganda everywhere in an effort to give the impression that prohibition is a failure, I don't believe there is the slightest chance for any repeal measures," said Senator Sheppard. Senator Sheppard will make a trip to Texas before returning here for congress in December. He will visit his home at Texarkana and make the principal speech at the dedication Nov. 22 in San Antonio of the Wm. Alexander Fraser chapel and bird sanctuary, a Woodman of the World project. Senator Sheppard is treasurer of the organization.

Poppy Sale to Be Staged by Legion

On Armistice day, Midland will burst out in crimson bloom wearing hand-made duplicates of the poppies of Flanders fields. Woods W. Lynch post No. 19 of the American legion has ordered a generous supply and the legion auxiliary, headed by Mrs. Eddie Cole, will be in charge of the distribution.

Legion Commander Joe Seymour says the poppies coming to Midland have been made by disabled World war veterans who are receiving treatment in the United States veterans' hospital at Legion, Texas.

For each 1000 poppies made the disabled veteran receives $10 which is at once sent to his wife and children for their care and support.

Veterans, while in the hospital, receive only a small disability allowance. They are given food, shelter, clothing and medical treatment but their families on the outside may be hungry and cold. Many patients worried by this condition are greatly retarded in recovery and some even leave the hospital to try to make a living for their families with the result that their disabilities are increased and in the end wives and children suffer greater disaster.

Only one cent of the amount paid for each poppy goes for the relief of the patient's family but it serves the double duty of relieving his anxiety and removing his family from the list of local charities. Of the balance, a small part is used to pay for material while the rest, amounting to about 95 per cent, remains with the Midland legion post and the legion auxiliary to be used for the relief of local veterans and their families.

Flat as a Pancake

Appearing here like a huge bird at rest, this airplane—with a retractable landing gear that wouldn't unfold when the pilot tried to land—gave Assistant Secretary of War F. Trubee Davidson a narrow escape from injury. Though the plane was damaged when it came to earth at Mitchell Field, Long Island, neither Davidson nor the pilot was hurt. The landing gear was reported to have jammed while the craft was in flight and the flyers were faced with the problem of taking to their parachutes or landing on the body of the plane. They landed, the plane skidding 50 feet.

50 to Assist Red Cross Drive Here

More than 50 Midland people will assist in the Red Cross call which is to be held in Midland this month. W. Ily Pratt, chairman of the campaign, is now at work naming committee workers.

Most of the 50 will be women and girls, but he expects to have one group of men solicitors. The extra large number of workers is being named because this campaign is expected to raise money to care for charity work in Midland. Only 50 cents of the first dollar paid by each person will go to Red Cross headquarters. If a man gives $25 to the Red Cross this year, $24.50 of it will remain in Midland to help feed needy children, buy clothes for worthy people who are suffering and provide medical medicines.

Responses have already indicated that Midland people will subscribe liberally this year, as what they pay they are paying to help the poor of Midland, leaders in the campaign say. All over America people are giving "fill it hurts." It is considered in many cities a good investment to pay liberally to charity so as to prevent trouble from unemployed. Senator Couzens gave $1,000,000 for welfare work in Detroit. Many gifts of $5 to $50 with an extra large number of $10 gifts are expected in Midland.

Manchurian Crisis Reveals That Japanese Cabinet and Premier Have Little Control Over War and Navy Movements.

WASHINGTON—There seems to be a marked difference between the Japanese scheme of government and our own.

Japan, it is believed here, has the only government in the world in which the military members of the cabinet can ignore the policies of the civilian members.

Of course, no one in Japan admitted that there was a real war on. What Japanese soldiers were doing in Chinese territory was described as "troop movements."

Recent policy disclosed when this government refused to join the League of Nations.

Japanese military and navy officials are in most cases descendants of the old feudal caste and have a large popular following.

Editor's Note: This is the eighth of 12 exclusive stories on Thomas A. Edison by Major William Joseph Hammer, his scientific associate and lifelong friend...

By WILLIAM JOSEPH HAMMER Lifelong Friend and Scientific Associate of Thomas A. Edison, as Told to Willis J. Ballinger

Years ago the United States commissioner of patents spoke of Edison as "that young man who keeps the steps of the Patent Office hot with his footsteps."

One day he said to Hammer: "You say better posted on my life's work and on my inventions than any of the men I ever had around me."

The following inventions may fairly be recorded as Edison's greatest: His universal stock ticker. His automatic telegraph—a device by which 3500 words a minute are sent from New York to Philadelphia...

Edison was never a good business man. Whenever he made any money he immediately sunk the winnings in a score of new enterprises.

"My greatest achievement," said Thomas A. Edison of this famous "Jumbo" dynamo which weighed 30 tons and dwarfed previous models.

Edison's safety fuse, a strip of lead and tin alloy which utilized and opened an electric current when a short circuit occurred...

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

Out at El Paso the boys of the School of Mines have voted that the girls should share half the expense of dates.

What I said about my personal interest in the turnip patch the other day brought forth another sucker. Sherlock Holmes wrote me a letter, claiming complete knowledge of the identity of the Town Quack.

I quote you in the issue of the 27th, inst., as follows: "I have a personal interest in seeing these turnip greens up by the city hall called for."

What personal interest under the sun would you have in this turnip patch except a fear of a certain odor that might be brought forth from said patch and wafted suggestively by a southeast breeze towards, to and around the coop of a certain duck's satiating radius...

SHERLOCK HOLMES: P. S. In case you might want to talk this over with me further I will be at the Coffee Shop tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock with a turnip in my hip pocket.

Halloween Season Reigns at Many Gay Festivities

Many Clubs and Organizations Take Part in Individual Parties During Week End; Crowds Attend Carnival

Halloween frolics galore crammed the social calendar throughout Midland Friday and Saturday with every age and group enjoying the season at gay parties.

Fortune tellers, goblins, witches, cats, spooks and ghosts reigned in their merry fashion at the individual parties and the huge Parent-Teacher carnival held all day Saturday and evening.

Many of the groups favored the old-fashioned spook parties with their horror chambers, dark halls, and all kinds of weird pranks.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Ruse Friday evening spent a jolly time at bridge which was enlivened with surprising ruses.

Chrysanthemums were pretty floral appointments while black cats, witches and pumpkins furnished decorations about the lights and windows.

Selection of bridge partners was done by the men who revved the hands of the women, who were standing behind a sheet, thus choosing their partner.

The evening's prizes were won by Mrs. Andrew Northington and Mr. H. W. Mathews.

Silver holders and orange candles centered the foursome tables while a lovely candelabra holding the orange candles was on the larger table in the dining room.

Following the dinner, lights were turned out and weird ghost stories were related by George T. Abell and W. C. Kinkel.

New Mode Gives Sleeves a Puff

There's reason to suspect smart young things of having "something up their sleeves" these days, for even street frocks have wide and elaborately cut puff or leg o'mutton sleeves. Two examples are shown here. At the left is a canton crepe of bright Spanish tile with a surplice blouse and loose puffs over the elbows. The brown crepe frock at the right has wide cuff-like sections and a shawl-sash collar of novelty effect.

HARRISON'S 51-YARD SPRINT ALLOWS ANGELO TO WIN OVER DOGS

THREE PERIODS SCORELESS WHILE TENACIOUS STAND EXHIBITED BY BOTH TEAMS; FINAL SCORE 7-0

By JAMES P. HARRISON
Special Staff Writer

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 31.—Midland Bulldogs swept San Angelo supporters off their feet with an unexpected strength this afternoon and, save for a 51-yard run by Bill Harrison in the third quarter for a touchdown and a goal by Delker, the game would have been a scoreless tie.

Midland weakened in the third period after fighting on even terms with the Bobcats, but held twice in the fourth period when Angelo needed only one yard for touch-down.

McCall, Pinnell and G. Booth were great in the line, smearing Angelo plays and throwing backs for losses. Harrison and Delker showed up best for Angelo. Burris intercepted a pass in the first quarter on the Angelo 40-yard line and raced to the 15-yard line. The Bulldogs could make only five yards and lost the ball on downs and their only chance to score.

Most of the first quarter was on even terms, with Burris and Harrison making only a few sensational runs. Most of the second quarter was played in Angelo territory, with McCall playing the best game of his career, getting practically all the tackles, both on his side and at the opposite end.

Angelo started a drive after the kickoff in the third quarter that started on their own 35-yard line and ended on Midland's 16-yard line with a fumble. The teams battled near the center of the field, when Harrison ran through the entire Midland crew for 51 yards and the only touchdown of the game.

Angelo displayed a wonderful offense in the fourth quarter and threatened twice. Harrison placed two punts on the Midland one-yard line but Sherrod punted back for 50 yards each time, standing 10 yards behind his own goal line. The Midland forward wall held when in the shadows of its own goal.

Every play but one in the fourth quarter was staged in Midland territory.

The game ended with the ball in Angelo's possession on Midland's 18 yard line and the score San Angelo 7, Midland 0.

The starting lineups:
Midland San Angelo
McCall (33) Gilbert (30)
Left End Beck (72)
G. Booth (17) Left Tackle Colton (27)

Sweetwater Wins 57-0
SWEETWATER, Oct. 31.—While the Bobcats of San Angelo were edging out Midland in one of the hardest fought games every staged in the Concho county's arena, Sweetwater was trouncing McCamey in Sweetwater, 57-0.

Oddly enough, that was the same score Big Spring, the other district titular favorite, scored on the Badgers eleven of Coach Clyde Parks.

Three clubs, McCamey, Colorado and Midland have lost each of their starts in district competition, while Sweetwater, San Angelo and Big Spring have won each district game.

Big Time Football Calls for Divers Things

Here is a trick that guards of big league football teams have to be able to perform. It is a cross between Pepper Martin's slide into second and George Coleman's dive from a 10-foot springboard. The three shown above are adept at making a path for a ball-carrier via this method. Captain Sam Horwitz, Chicago guard, is left, above. George Dille, Northwestern guard, is diving through the circle. Below him is Frank Nordy Hoffman, six feet two inches and 204 pounds of Notre Dame guard talent.

SPORTS REPORTS

By R. C. HANKINS

Using more than three teams, Big Spring high school defeated Colorado, 79 to 0, bringing its record to eight straight victories without being scored upon, while amassing a total of 398 points.

Without the services of Captain Bill Flowers except for five minutes, Bristow's men uncorked a pass offense for the first time, with Tack Dennis flinging in all directions. Three of twelve touchdowns were scored on pass plays. Dennis, with four touchdowns and five extra points, ran his season's individual record to 137 points.

First downs were Big Spring 23, Colorado 8. Big Spring completed eight of 15 passes for 173 yards. Schwarzenbach, who never carried the ball except on pass plays, scored three touchdowns. Harkins of Colorado suffered a broken arm in the first quarter attempting to tackle Dennis.

The Steers' next game is scheduled at Sweetwater November 11, and is expected not only to be by far the hardest of the season, but also one of the greatest high school games in the state this year. The only other game on the schedule is with San Angelo Thanksgiving.

The above is just another weekly awhile, punt awhile then fill the air full of footballs. And those that fall in reach of Big Spring ends and halves will be caught. We expect to be there to see for ourselves.

Our contemporary, Marcos Williamson, mentions doffing his hat to several ponies, Baugh, Sheridan, Hicks and Wood. He mentions, however, that the mighty rambler, Mike Hicks has been stopped many times this year, that he is not so hot even when he sits on a radiator. True enough, he avers, Wood is good at annexing the extra points, "but that means Sweetwater must plant the ball across the last stripe." That to Mr. Williamson is something to laugh at.

Ironhead has turned Christian. Rather than go to Big Spring for us and pick up the various happenings of the Big Spring-Colorado race riot, he decided to quit us cold and journey over to San Angelo where he expected more of a dead heat. At last reports, he had not consented to make a speech over the radio. Our stool pigeon, Mr. Harrison, was Hotel Hilton manager for the day, made so by Dusty Waller when he learned Jim was bounding in his toy coupe in that general direction. Dusty was planning to make our friend Prof. Lackey an after lunch grammar McGNamee for the hand-peg squad broadcast, but Prof. opined as how he'd rather be captain of the bell hops.

A letter from our estimable sports writing friend, Blondy Cross, who writes by day and knocks over the Concho boxing fraternity at night: "Wish you could be here and compare Delker to Dennis and Heblson, also to compare Harrison to Flowers and Dennis." As this column of prosaic matters is being written, Harrison and Delker have not yet donned the molskin for the afternoon sprinting and ramming, respectively, but we have set aside Delker as more powerful than either Heblson or Dennis at the line, but in some manner cannot figure Harrison's 140 pounds against either Flowers or Dennis. True enough, he may be another Albie Booth—but the Big Spring pair is hard to beat. When all's said and done, Harrison may be the very vandal who steals the stripes off the Midland boys' panties.

Two Marfa boys received bone breaks in the game the other day with Balmorhea. Red Ramsey had a broken arm and dislocated collar bone. Tim Martinez sustained a broken leg. To cap the trouble, another lad, one Eustis Speed, fell down stairs and broke a collar bone. We are watching for what will happen to the pep squad leader when she bends over to lace her shoes.

Wilson, Buffalo fullback, won the Pecos-Stanton engagement Friday afternoon at Stanton. He intercepted a pass from a Pecos Eagle in the second quarter of the first half, dashing 53 yards for a touchdown. Kelly, captain and left half-back, kicked goal to make it 7 to 0 and that's the way the score stood at the end of game. This gives the Buffaloes the first conference game of the season in class B, district No. 8. November 6 the Wink Wildcats play at Stanton.

Millard Cope, Sweetwater sports writer, gives you a bit concerning Whattaman Hicks:

"Poor old Mike Hicks. The big bruiser may not get to play in the Big Spring game. The poor fellow (who really is one of the best players in the state and could make a monkey out of this Tacky Dennis if he were in shape) has been on the sidelines a lot with a charley-horse.

"Mike has been a disappointment to some of the fans, but don't let that worry you. He's still right in there and has every ounce of our support.

"For one thing the fans have led Mike to believe he is a failure on a play unless he makes from 25 to 50 yards. And old Mike has been doing his dead level best to do just exactly that. In one or two games he averaged around 15 yards every time he took the ball and against Abilene he averaged 5 yards every time he got his hands on the pigskin. We'd like to see Dennis do that.

"But the thing is Mike probably has been a little over-anxious to get started, just to please his friends, and has become a little nervous. As soon as he waits for the ball just about in the same manner that Bobby Jones smacks the golf ball—relaxed, slow and easy—he'll be touchdown bound every time he gets the inflated bag."

Lily Damita Is In Grand Film

"Thank goodness I'm back where I belong!"

Thus spoke Lily Damita, featured player in "The Woman Between," when the last shot on the picture was made.

She flashes through the smart society of New York, its fashions and its foibles in Radio Pictures' "The Woman Between," coming to audiences at the Grand theatre, with O. P. Heggie, Lester Vail, Ruth Weston, Anita Louise, Lincoln Stedman, Miriam Segar, and Halliwell Hobbes heading the cast.

She directs the organization of one of Fifth Avenue's smartest shops, she saves a family from ruin, she makes the most of every delicate, subtle moment.

"And I love it, love, love it," she cried, after she had seen some of the pre-showings of the film. "It's my best talkie. Victor Schertzinger is a marvelous, wonderful director, and you'll like me as Julie. I'm sure."

The picture came to Midland only a week following the New York premiere. It is one of the best pictures of the year.

Advertising is her television. Advertising gives her complete advance information. Quietly, in a congenial corner of her home, she thinks and determines before she buys. YOUNGEST OF US GENERALS IS NOW CHIEF OF POLICE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Happy Glassford is perhaps the most unusual chief of police any large city ever had.

As Brigadier-General Pelham D. Glassford he was the youngest American general of the line during the war.

As a talented artist he retired from the Army last July at the age of 47 to enjoy the rest of his life painting pictures.

But they wanted a man to reorganize and revitalize the demoralized police force of the capital, so they plucked on this man whose life-long smile and consistent friendliness have caused him to be tagged "Happy" ever since his days at West Point.

Well—He's Been Arrested
Glassford didn't like that idea much when his old friend and superior, Major General Herbert B. Crosby, who is the District of Columbia commissioner in charge of police affairs, put it up to him. But he consented finally on the theory that the job promised plenty of "fun and action."

Action, energy and never-failing good humor are his weapons as he takes over this really tough job. Of police experience he has had none whatever.

"What do you know about police forces?" he was asked.
"Well," he pondered, and then suddenly brightening, "I've been arrested. Once I drove through a stop signal and another time I was arrested for speeding on my motorcycle."

He thinks he can rely importantly on "common sense" to carry him through. He expects to see to it that both the police and the people he get a square deal from each other. He believes you can put morale and efficiency into a police force as easily as you can instill it into an army.

Faces Tough Task
It's a tough job. The capital city's police prestige is near the bottom, thanks to third degree scandals, frameup scandals, and many other assorted scandals. Crosby wanted a chief who would "sell the force to the public" and appease congressmen whose favorite sport is to "expose" the Washington police.

"Happy" is six feet and three inches tall, wiry, blonde and youthful.
He was born in New Mexico and his home is in Arizona, where he was recently offered the post of state adjutant-general and where he has a ranch. His father was an army officer and he was an art student here in his youth.

At the age of 17 he entered West Point and was the youngest member of the graduating class of 1904. He has always served in the Field Artillery—in the United States, the Philippines, Hawaii, the Mexican border and France. He has been an instructor and an assistant professor at West Point.

"My idea of discipline is not the kind obtained by oppression or coercion," says Glassford.

"Discipline to me means getting subordinates into a frame of mind where they are not only willing but eager to carry out instructions. Discipline resulting from fear of punishment is the worst kind of discipline, although every commanding officer must insist that his orders be carried out."

NEW CREDIT BANK OPENS IN WALL ST. AREA

By DEXTER H. TEED
NEA Service Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Headquarters of the National Credit corporation, the Hoover-conceived organization for loosening up the frozen assets of the country's banks by raising some $800,000,000, is now doing business in the same rooms where assets of America's worst bank failure were liquidated.

Officers of The Bank of United States debacle have literally been shoved into a corner, and now the new constructive scheme is taking its place with high hope that confidence will be restored and the rout of the depression started.

The headquarters offices are on the sixth floor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York at 33 Liberty street only three blocks from Wall street, in the heart of the financial district of America.

Even with half-height partitions erected in one end of the floor space, a sweep of bare concrete walls and pillars extends in the opposite direction. If necessary, officers say, it will be easy to expand as more room is needed.

Though possibly a billion dollars will be handled indirectly, not one cent will ever be in the offices. It will all be represented on paper, and as dozens of stenographers, young executives and assistants labor diligently to make the plan operative, money will flow in and out only by symbols.

The 12 directors of the gigantic corporation may never see the offices. They are back in their own Federal Reserve districts directing their own organizations as suggested by President Buckner.

KILLER COYOTE SHOT FROM SHIP

Fort Stockton Flyers Succeed Where Hunters Fail; Big Lobo Downed With Seventh Shot

FORT STOCKTON, Oct. 31.—Hunting by airplane, though not entirely unheard of, is not as yet a generally popular sport, to say the least. But it was resorted to with success last week in this country as a last hope of getting rid of an outlaw coyote which had been taking heavy toll of sheep on the Pryor and Wilson ranch, sixteen miles east of here.

Ray Baumgardner and Pete Duncan, joint owners of the black and orange "Swallow," put an end to the life of the killer at 5:30 on the afternoon of Thursday, Oct. 22. Baumgardner piloting the plane and Duncan doing the shooting.

The big coyote, which was thought to be part lobo because of his unusual cunning, had been killing from three to seven sheep every few nights, reaching a total of 50 sheep before his ultimate capture. The 15-section pasture, which was the scene of his raids, had been combed for 10 days by a party of eight men on horseback. These men are the best hunters and trappers in the district, with J. E. Hill as foreman. They had not tried setting traps for the coyote, as experience had taught them that the clever wolves almost invariably dug them up or sprang them, and this killer was plainly very cunning, slipping through their lines in spite of all they could do.

Pryor and Wilson had spent over $200 in the ten days; the hunters had used the utmost vigilance; but each day brought fresh evidence of the killer. He killed purely for sport as he never ate his victims.

The north side of the 15-acre pasture is flat and brushy, with the characteristic mesquite, sage, and cactus growths. The south side ranges up into bluffs, offering better hiding places for the animal.

Each bank can draw on the central fund up to the amount subscribed even if it has not paid the entire amount. Banks in need can have more than the subscribed amount to meet an emergency if other banks in the district agree.

So the headquarters here will be simply executive offices with President Buckner watching every development around the country. Working around him is a small staff which will be gradually increased as necessity arises.

Already bankers temporarily out of work because of the depression are seeking positions with the new corporation. If it weren't for the steady clatter of typewriters and the incessant scanning of long sheets of paper, it would appear like an employment agency. But it gives the office a business-like aspect even before the work is fairly under way.

Janet and Charlie Team at the Ritz

Whatever the reason, Janet Gaynor has the happy faculty of becoming more charming and more effective in every picture she makes.

Her latest vehicles, "Merely Mary Ann" now showing at the Ritz, is no exception to this rule. As the little drudge who blossoms out into an heiress she gives a genuinely remarkable performance and one that contrasts vividly with that of her famous co-star, Charles Farrell, as the sarcastic and bitter composer who learns, almost too late, what love is.

At the risk of being mobbed by ardent Gaynor-Farrell fans, it must be stated that this famous team has acquired a polish, a finesse, that makes their work even more enjoyable than in their earlier triumphs. Both players seem more sure of themselves, more sincere in their characterizations.

Grandi told me:
"When I was over in America a year ago, it suddenly struck me that as two of the most important countries in the world were America and England, it might be a good thing to learn English. I came to admire the language because it was the tongue of reality. All nouns and verbs—an action language. No florid adjectives and adverbs. So I learned it, as you see. I told my chief, Premier Mussolini that it would be a good thing if we could introduce in our Parliament a law forbidding all adjectives and adverbs. We could do the business necessary so much quicker."

QUAKE DAMAGE
According to Sgt. Griffin, who is in charge of the airport in Marfa, the earthquake felt in that section several weeks ago seriously damaged the large gas tank at the flying field, necessitating the installation of a new tank. It is believed that the force of the quake opened the seams in the tank during the earthquake. Damage was not discovered right at once as the leakage was small unless the tank was full of gas. The new tank will be placed above ground, according to the sergeant.

FAMILY FAST PICKERS
Bill Smith and wife and twin daughters, about 18 years of age, picked in five days a total of 6,527 pounds of cotton on the Elmer Bizzell farm last week. The Smiths live in Abilene and have picked Bizzell's crop for five years. Their last week record was more than 1,300 pounds per day for the family, or 320 pounds per day each.

COTTON BEARISH
Cotton ruled in a narrow channel last week, fluctuating between 6.59 for December to 6.85 and closing on 6.63 Saturday. General sentiment is slightly bearish awaiting the government report of Nov. 8.

OIL ASSOCIATION MEETS FRIDAY TO ROUND OUT PLANS

FORT WORTH, Oct. 31.—Meeting here next Friday afternoon, members of The Texas Oil and Gas Conservation association will perfect a permanent organization, elect officers and lay plans to carry on their fight for conservation of Texas' natural resources and stabilization of the oil industry.

Issuing invitations to more than 2,000 members to attend the session, Charles F. Roeser, acting president, urged their presence because of their "close personal interest" in the association as an agency seeking to better conditions in the industry as a whole. The meeting will get under way at the Texas hotel at 2:23 p. m.

Organized six weeks ago at a mass meeting in Dallas, the association has been operating on a temporary basis. Supported by independent and major operators, land, lease and royalty owners, it sponsors a program seeking equity for all oil interests, conservation to the utmost of the state's natural resources, and enforcement of all conservation laws.

A committee representing the association two days ago presented Governor R. S. Sterling with an actuary plan to replace the per well production plan. The allowable production would approximate four barrels per acre.
