St. Louis Cardinals Will Try to Cop Big Series Today

STARTERS ARE PAUL AND LEFTY

Both Pitchers Hurlled In First Game of World Series

Neither side had scored in the first four innings, and only three hits had been made.

The World series leading Cardinals, back in their home lot and staking everything upon the youthful shoulders of Paul Derringer, were arranging themselves early this afternoon for making a supreme effort to end the annual battle of the American and National leagues.

Minister Back From Successful Revival

Prison System Is Now Best Managed

AUSTIN, Oct. 9. (UP)—Governor Ross Sterling says the state prison system now is the best managed of all state departments.

"They have $50,000 worth of canned goods put up ready for the winter, have cut running expenses and have the farms in good shape," said the governor after returning to Austin from a trip to the Imperial prison farm.

Morale of the prisoners is much improved, the governor said. "They know that if they earn a parole, they will get it."

One of the requirements the governor insists upon before pardoning or paroling a convict is that some reputable person guarantee him employment.

JOE GRAHAM DIES AT LOVINGTON; A PIONEER RANCHER

"Uncle Joe" Graham, pioneer cattleman of Lovington, was reported today to have passed away, having suffered yesterday from an attack in conjunction with an illness which has kept him confined to his bed for two years.

His son, Johnson Graham, was taken to Lovington yesterday by Lum Daugherty of Midland. Upon his return here last night Daugherty said that little hope was held for recovery of the cattle man.

No information as to burial services had been received here at press time.

Four Cities Refer Gas Rates to SRC

AUSTIN, Oct. 9. (UP)—Four cities now have their local gas rates before the gas utilities division of the state railroad commission for a ruling.

They are Wichita Falls, Borger, McLellan and Colorado. Others are expected to reach the commission as a result of resolutions adopted by the Texas League of Municipalities suggesting that numerous cities take concerted action to reduce rates.

Rate-fixing lies originally with a municipality, the governor provides that if the utility is dissatisfied with the rate-fixing of the city it can appeal to the state railroad commission. Then it must post a bond to refund any excess except in force above the rate fixed by the city if the decision finally is in favor of the municipality.

NEW BILL WILL AID FARMERS

So Says Robinson in Interview After Conference

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (UP)—Senator Robinson, senate democratic leader, said today after calling at the White House that the Hoover administration will adopt a generous policy toward farmers who are unable to pay their drought loans.

Robinson said that each individual case would be treated on its own merits when application for loan renewals are made.

TOMBSTONE SET FOR ITS ANNUAL BIG HELLDORADO

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., Oct. 9. (UP)—This old mining town, with its "hell roasting" days, is about all the old town has left.

Once again bearded miners will go on the prowl and the crash of six guns echo through the dusty streets during enactment of 10 of the episodes of the camp's bloody history.

Just outside Tombstone is "boot hill" cemetery—a place where men who died with their boots on were buried in unmarked graves.

For a long time Tombstone remained the seat of vast Cochise county. But a year or so ago an election transferred the county seat to the town of Bisbee.

So now the old town lives mostly on its tourist crop. Through the years the curious drop in to see "boot hill," the execution square where frontier sheriffs meted out punishment and various other places of interest.

For a long time Tombstone remained the seat of vast Cochise county. But a year or so ago an election transferred the county seat to the town of Bisbee.

Governor Pans "Easy" Public

AUSTIN, Oct. 9. (UP)—Work rather than a gift of food and shelter should be the object of the Texas committee on unemployment, Governor Ross Sterling believes.

"If the government is going to support everybody, who is going to support the government?" he asked in discussing appeals for governmental aid.

Texas will have two organizations dealing with the problem. The recent session of the legislature authorized a committee of nine, three each to be named by the governor, the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE DUE FOR DISCUSSION

By RAYMOND CLAPPER, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (UP)—The first serious discussion of unemployment insurance in congress is expected to take place during the coming session, a debate which may eventually decide whether the government is to adhere to its traditional policy of leaving unemployment problems to individuals and industries, or embark upon a program of public control.

The force of the arguments for unemployment insurance and of the emergency relief proposals, will depend somewhat upon the outcome of the fund raising campaigns to be started by community chests and other local agencies October 19. If an adequate total is raised, the administration's contention that local agencies are able to take care of their problems will be materially strengthened and the pressure on congress for relief less severe.

In any event, however, bills will be introduced for full payment of the veteran adjustment compensation certificates, for creation of a federal unemployment insurance fund, and countless measures of similar nature.

Immediate full payment of bonus certificates has been urged by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The American legion voted against full payment of the certificates at its Detroit convention. There is slightly more than $2,000,000,000 outstanding in bonus certificates, which would be redeemed under such procedure.

Unemployment insurance will have harder going as it is still supported chiefly by a small group of progressives. To large numbers it is the "dole" against which President Hoover has warned so frequently.

Most federal unemployment insurance plans propose one-third of the contributions alike shall come from workers, employees and the federal government.

Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Republican, Wis., is expected to advance the proposal which will be supported by the senate insurgents.

COMPROMISE

WEBSTER, Mass. (UP)—Frank Niemiec's penchant for having his hair close cropped caused his wife no end of embarrassment when they went to social functions.

She asked a district court judge to put him in jail for five days so he would have to leave his hair grow, but an out-of-court settlement was said to have been reached.

What? No Boy Friends?

It's no use, boys—you might as well stay away from Vienna. For when Fraulein Sea Menzler (above), Viennese beauty, was described by Austrian newspapers as "the embodiment of sex appeal," she indignantly denied the implication that she was a vamp. She says she has no boy friends.

HEARING HERE TO RESOLVE TROUBLE ARISING FROM ASSERTED DRUGGING OF TWO YOUNG MEXICAN SENORITAS

Every House Here Singed in Fires

Every house in Midland is singed every time another house or business building is burned.

It is metaphorically true that if a house burns on the south side, even as far out as Belmont addition, it will slightly burn a house in West End.

It's this way: Every house that burns jeopardizes Midland's good fire record and could easily cause the insurance rate to advance.

The fire prevention committee of the chamber of commerce, headed by Clinton Myrick, calls on every boy and girl and every father and mother to be careful with matches, turn off gas jets, see that all light cords are well insulated, never throw down a lighted cigarette, and in every other way do his part to prevent any fires in Midland.

GRAPES TO FAIR

Mrs. S. H. Gwyn is this year exhibiting grapes and hooked rugs at the Dallas State fair.

Gwyn grapes have won first prizes in former years at the West Texas fair at Abilene and several exhibits of her vegetables and peaches have won first prizes at the state fair and West Texas exhibits.

Mrs. Gwyn has also won premiums on her hand work.

MARKET LOSS IS REASON

Alfalfa Bill Loses in Prediction of Prices

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 9. (UP)—Nineteen Oklahoma flush oil fields, comprising more than 3,000 wells, which have been shut down under martial law since August 4, are to be reopened to production tomorrow, Col. Cicero Murray, the governor's cousin, announced today.

When the fields were closed it was announced that they would stay closed until oil reached the price of a dollar a barrel.

Opening tomorrow the oil will be sold under a price schedule from 46 to 70 cents a barrel.

Makes Claim To First Plane

HAVELOCK, Neb., Oct. 9. (UP)—Thirty-four years ago, G. A. Hughes drew the plans for a flying machine. In 1902 he completed a model plane and sent it into the sky.

Hughes challenges any airplane manufacturer today to show any item of major importance that has been developed in airplane construction which does not hinge on some of his plans.

In bolstering his claim that he was the original inventor of a plane to navigate the air, Hughes says, "I built 62 model planes. Finances handicapped him, he says, from carrying his project through."

He applied for a patent on his queer-looking machine—a box-like contraption with a wingspread of nine feet—in 1899, several years before man actually flew.

Hughes demonstrated his plane at a fair in Wray, Colo., in 1898. His model flew successfully.

Organize People by Tens of Millions for Washington Bicentennial Celebration to Be Held in U. S. Next Year.

Editors Note: This is the second and last of two stories on the George Washington Bicentennial Celebration and how the entire nation will participate in it.

WASHINGTON. — Six hundred thousand (600,000) George Washington Bicentennial committees, devoted to honoring Washington in as many ways as they can think of in every town and cross-roads during the nine-month celebration next year, is one aim of the Bicentennial Commission here.

The commission is a barrage of questionnaires, pep letters, George Washington literature and celebration programs at 49,000 postmasters, 110,000 city officials, 232,000 churches, 190,000 fraternal, civic and patriotic societies, 250,000 school buildings, 700 farm groups and so on. It is trying to get them all card-indexed and to see that they get organized.

More than 6000 city and town committees already are formed, plus the committees for all states and territorial possessions. The municipal or village committees are the important ones and they co-ordinate the work of the minor committees. Over 6000 letters a day now leave the national Bicentennial offices here, but that's only a starter and it doesn't count a great tonnage of literature, posters and other ballyhoo.

Congressman Sol Bloom, the director, began by sending a long questionnaire to more than 49,000 federal postmasters. He demanded the population, names of the mayor and the most prominent citizens, the names and presidents of all amusement parks, civic and patriotic organizations, social clubs, names of all churches and their pastors, all school boards and schools, young people's groups, bar associations, men's fraternal societies, women's group and automobile associations.

The Bicentennial commission is trying to organize people for this celebration by groups of tens of millions. For instance, they expect 40,000,000 members of fraternal and sports groups to take an active part. And at least 10,000,000 boy and girl members of 4-H clubs, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Y. W. C. A. and other junior organizations.

Then it adds up all the church members and says they will actively participate, too. Finally it takes the entire population of the country and ascertains that all but those who are hopelessly bedridden will attend some ceremony, pageant, service or special exercise in honor of George Washington at some time during the celebration period. Shut-ins will get it by radio.

There's no space to tell about the prolonged national Bicentennial cherry blossom fete in April, the Bicentennial marathon to be run from Mount Vernon to the Monument "with detours to historic points," the Fourth of July celebration which will center around the Declaration of Independence up at the Library of Congress, Lafayette Day when 3000 visiting French veterans will march in a huge veterans' parade, Fraternal Day in October when all American fraternal groups hold a big ceremonial here, Columbus Day and another large pageant, Armistice Day here under American Legion supervision with pilgrimages from everywhere, or Farmers' Day, Nov. 19, when the national farm organizations will stage festivals and a national harvest demonstration. Or about the various state anniversaries of independence or admittance to the Union.

But they do say that more than 500,000 Masons will be in this vicinity for the dedication of the George Washington Masonic Memorial at Alexandria from May 9 to 13. And no week will go by when some national organization isn't having a convention with Bicentennial features, or some group of foreign blood isn't celebrating its special day or some large group of folks isn't putting on a demonstration of one kind or another.

AIR MAIL INCREASES
 WASHINGTON.—Air mail and express postage on American air lines increased during the first six months of this year 514,716 pounds over that carried during the corresponding period of 1930, the U. S. Department of Commerce has announced. This increase was divided into 500,000 pounds of mail and the remainder express.

KEEPS WATER FROM GAS
 WASHINGTON.—The U. S. Army Air corps has adopted a new device to separate water from gasoline and oil in airplane engines. The device, known as a "segregator," works on the natural tendency of these fluids to separate due to the difference in their specific gravity. It was invented by an air corps sergeant and is not to be offered commercially.

Aimee's Love Story
 © 1931 NEA SERVICE INC

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth of six stories on the amazing events in the love story of Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, the Los Angeles evangelist, who recently embarked on her third honeymoon.

By LAURA LOU BROOKMAN
 NEA Service Writer
 As though written in letters of flame across the sky, Aimee Semple McPherson's name blazed before the nation in May, 1926.

With it was coupled the name, "Kenneth Ormiston."
 Whether these two were in love, whether they did occupy a bungalow at Carmel-by-the-Sea for 10 days during the time the evangelist was believed to be kidnaped, whether Aimee and Ormiston deserve a place among the world's most daring lovers or were the persecuted and innocent victims of circumstantial evidence, has never been proven.

The facts were presented in a most sensational court trial. From so curiously harmless objects as the following was the net woven which emmeshed the evangelist in scandal, legal prosecution, and blackest ridicule:
 A penciled grocery list.
 An unfinished sermon.
 A strand of red hair caught in a boudoir cap.
 A white silk tassel.
 A green bathing cap.
 A pair of woman's shoes.

Ormiston was the radio engineer at Angelus Temple, Mrs. McPherson's tabernacle, containing the largest auditorium in the world for religious gatherings.
 The Temple radio broadcasts each morning and concludes with a recital of sacred music at midnight. On the stage there is a concealed telephone connecting with the radio tower and during the singing Mrs. McPherson usually calls up her radio operator to learn how her voice is being received. She often talks several minutes thus.

She and Ormiston met personally for the first time on the steps of the Temple. Aimee offered to drive the radio operator home in her car. She had always been interested in the subject of radio and she discovered the engineer was a man of both charm and intelligence.
 Their work threw the two together. Gossip was bound to follow. In January, 1926, Aimee left Los Angeles for a "tour of the Holy Land." It was said she went to try to cure the headache caused by her love for the radio operator.

Her loyal followers at Angelus Temple denounce such suggestions as monstrous in the same way they have denounced every other derogatory statement about "Sister Aimee."
 Mrs. McPherson returned and was welcomed with a gala celebration. Thousands met her at the railroad station. Her services in the Temple were more attended.

A few weeks after her return, the afternoon of May 18, Aimee and her secretary, Emma Schaeffer, went to one of the Los Angeles beaches. Mrs. McPherson, wearing a bright green bathing suit and cap, went in swimming while the secretary read a book in their tent.
 Presley Miss Schaeffer, mended across the sand, screaming for help. At one moment she had seen her employer floating far out in the water; at the next she had disappeared.

Newspapers rushed extras that the woman preacher had drowned. Skiffs, coast guard cutters, divers, airplanes and dynamite were used to find the body. The faithful from the Temple took up the hunt en masse. Many brought coats and blankets and camped overnight on the beach. The most devout expected to see "Sister," triumphant over death, marching to them across the waves.

 Memorial services were held and collections taken.

Then, on June 22, not only Los Angeles but the entire country was electrified by the news that Mrs. McPherson had turned up at Agua Prieta, Mexico, across the border from Douglas, Ariz.

"God has resurrected me from the dead," she affirmed and related a spectacular tale of being kidnaped. She said a man and woman known as "Rose" and "Steve" had transported her in a closed automobile from the California beach to a shack in the Mexican desert where she was held captive until her escape.
 Officials searched for the kidnapers; found no one. They combed the desert but could find no shack to answer Aimee's description. They looked at the clothing and shoes Aimee wore and declared them new.
 Back to Los Angeles came Mrs. McPherson to appear before the county grand jury and swear under oath that her kidnaping story was true.

Then it became known that Ormiston, the radio operator, was missing and been since the evangelist's disappearance. There were whisperings of scandal.

Aimee answered them in court when at the conclusion of her testimony she asked and received permission to address the jurors. She said:
 "I would not work with one hand for 17 years and, just as I saw my dearest dream coming true, sweep it over. And as for falling in love, I am in love with the work I do and if I ever do fall in love it will be after Mr. McPherson is dead, because I do not believe in marriage after divorce, and if I did, it would be with an evangelist who could help me in the Lord's work."
 "There might be a baser motive. I almost blush to mention it in the jury room but some might think of it. They say the waters of the mind are like the waters of the sea, that cast up strange things; and that I might be in trouble of some sort, and had to go away and come back. I would like to say, although I apologize for having to mention such a thing, that I had a thorough examination upon coming home, although that was not necessary, as the history of my case for 12 years back would show that such a thing would be absolutely out of the question."

On July 20, District Attorney Keyes announced the case was closed. Aimee's cohorts of the Temple were more jubilant than ever. They declared their leader had won against the hosts of the Devil.
 It was two days later that a woman of mystery—a woman whose name to this day remains shrouded in secrecy—entered the office of the chief of police at Monterey, Calif., with the information that Aimee Semple McPherson and Kenneth Ormiston had together occupied a bungalow at Carmel-by-the-Sea for 10 days.

In a few hours the deluge had descended!

NEXT: Aimee denies Carmel story in court. Evidence includes a trunk of feminine finery, a strand of red hair in a boudoir cap, and the "Wuff" love letters. Her congregation remains faithful and after a sensational trial the case is dropped.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

Folks, I believe that the grocery man who puts his prices in the paper instead of on his window is going farther to serve the public. It doesn't take much merchandising to paste a bunch of prices on the window, a cent or two under the fellow who sets the pace, but comparatively few people are going to see it anyway. The merchant who carries his message boldly to the public in a newspaper ad is playing a fair game with the college boys and with his competitors. Look in the paper today for your week end grocery items.

Herb Rountree is feeling blue. He reports that two or three Midland students attending colleges are not yet getting the paper. He hates for them to be so far away from home, where even a hint of what's going on in the old home town would bring happiness, and not be getting the paper. Herb says he just can't see how parents of these college boys and girls can fail to subscribe for the paper for the school year.

A story going the rounds is that a young man went to see a Scotchman, who was in business. He asked the Scotchman if he could marry his daughter.
 "I regret that I cannot see my way clear to allow you to marry my daughter at the present," he said, "but let me have your name and address and if nothing better turns up in the near future you may hear from us again."

Seen on the highway was a hitchhiker who had the following sign on his back:
 "Pick me up or I'll vote for Hoover again."
 The hitch-hiker says he surely isn't having any trouble picking up rides.

Pepper Martin is now being boosted for president. His opposition may be determined by taking a poll of Athletic fans.

Old Harry Neblett never was known to stutter and when you look at his ad today you'll see that he is nothing if he isn't plain spoken.

WOOD WON'T BURN
 PITTSBURGH, Pa.—A wood that won't burn has been developed near here in the laboratories of Dr. P. G. von Hildebrand, well known chemist. Because of its flame resisting qualities, it is thought that this lumber will be of great value to the building industry. The chemist first reduces the wood into a fibre, treats it with his method, and then presses it back to lumber again. It is said to be as strong as steel.

County Nurse Speaks on Child's Health at P-T A.

Miss Martha Bredemeier was the principal speaker at the North Ward Parent-Teacher association meeting Thursday afternoon.

PARIS, Oct. 9 (UP)—This is the day and the hour of lace. Lace that shows and lace that is there but doesn't show. Chantilly and Venetian laces are boon companions of heavy white satin and crepe dresses—saying nothing of the velvets whose affections they have acquired this winter.

Fine thread laces, all hand made and cobwebby are designed for the sheerest and most expensive underwear, and it is put on with exquisite embroidery. Often the pattern in the lace is outlined with a colored thread matching the chiffon of crepe de chine or peau d'ange forming what little body part there is to the garment called a "step-in" or a "slip" or a "combination." This gives more steadiness to some of the most delicate laces and increases their lifetime.

Among some of the most famous "point" laces being used on both frocks and lingerie this season are: Point d'Argentan, almost a wedding veil lace; Point d'Alencon, still finer in thread weaving; Point de Flandre, threads a little flatter giving the lace more body, a bird and scallop design the most popular; Point de Flandre but with the thread rounder. It combines a scallop terminated by a three-leaf clover alternating with a seven petaled flower; Point Angletiere, a medallion pattern with a swan surrounded by a cross design and fern fronds.

About 20 per cent of Chosen's 54,532,100 acres is under cultivation, Japanese owning nearly one-half of the tilled land.

INDUSTRY FILLING UP

WASHINGTON.—The ranks of aviation's manufacturers are rapidly filling, according to a recent report of the Aeronautics Department, of the U. S. Department of Commerce. The Aeronautics Trade Directory shows a listing of 2818 manufacturers, an increase of about 200 over last year. This listing includes plane, engine and parts manufacturers.

HIGHEST PORT IN U. S.
LOS ANGELES.—The highest airport in the United States has been erected in California. It is located on South Fork Meadows in Inyo National Forest, and has an altitude of more than 9,000 feet. It is expected this landing field will be of great help to pilots making trips over mountains in the southern part of California.

NEW INSTRUMENT

The radio has not only revolutionized entertainment, and molded the entertainment tastes of a nation, but it has also made possible many innovations in the field of musical instruments. One of the most unusual of these is an instrument known as the Octavin, which owes its existence to radio broadcasting, for the very simple reason that only the sensitive microphone could catch and amplify its soft, whispered tones. Ross Gorman, one of the most versatile musicians on record, playing twenty-seven instruments, introduced this novel device during broadcasts of B. A. Rolfe, and the Lucky Strike dance orchestra, and its unusual tone, something like that of a muted flute has become widely popular.

Radio listeners who have heard the Octavin's unusual tone during a Lucky Strike program, have probably wondered what manner of instrument it was. Mr. Gorman described it as looking something like a clarinet, chopped in two, though it is made of brass instead of wood. Its tone, he said, comes out the side, through a bell shaped funnel, instead of the end, as is usual with most of the wind instrument family.

AIR LINER SAFER

WASHINGTON.—American air lines flew more than 20,000,000 miles during the first six months of 1931 and suffered only five accidents, three involving deaths of passengers. There were nine passenger fatalities during this period, a decrease of 13 over the same period of 1930. Power plant and aircraft failures caused over 40 per cent of the accidents, it is reported.

FRENCH EXPORTS UP

PARIS.—Despite business conditions, French aviation exports are increasing steadily. During the first five months of 1931 the value of aviation exports was about $3,225,000, as compared with $3,209,000 in the corresponding period of 1930. Land planes constituted nearly all of the plane exports.

PASSENGER RECORD

NEWARK, N. J.—Proof of the popularity of air travel was strikingly demonstrated here when the Newark Metropolitan Airport set a record in handling passengers of the air lines operating on the field. About 1741 passengers took off or landed here in two days to set the record.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

KEEPING BEAUTIFUL (An Editorial)

During the summer many improvements have been made on our building. The woodwork, floors and parts of the walls have been repainted. Many new supplies have been bought.

We should be careful not to abuse the building in any way. We should always leave erasers and chalk on the boards. Many are inclined to shake the ink out of their fountain pens upon the floor. We should always be sure that ink is far enough back in lockers that it will not fall out when getting books out in a hurry.

All know Midland high school is noted for many things, of which is the neatness and beauty of the school. Visitors and new pupils have remarked upon the care given the building by students. Let us keep this tradition.

—Roberta Dunagan.

ELECTION OF STAFF

The members of the junior class met Monday afternoon, Oct. 5, to elect officers for the Midland High News. The members of the staff are as follows: Editor-in-Chief, Bessie Dale; associate editor, Roberta Dunagan; sports editor, Fouché Pollard; society editor, Viola Ingham; humor and feature editor, Fount Armstrong.

NEWS ITEM

Outside readers for the advanced Spanish and Latin classes have been ordered.

The Rev. James McCall, pastor of the Church of Christ, spoke to the high school Monday morning in assembly. He used several interesting stories for illustrations.

Coch Barry explained some point about football during the assembly Tuesday morning. There should be an increase of the number of students present at the games in the future as a result.

Frank Stubben spoke to the student body Wednesday morning on fire prevention. He urged that each person be more careful not only during fire prevention week, but all the time.

John Bonner was a chapel visitor Thursday morning. He made an interesting talk on memories of Midland and Midland high school.

PEP SQUAD NEWS

Attractive pep squad suits have been chosen for the Crane pep squad this year.

The Iran pep squad has an effective organization this year. Their officers were elected last year.

Oessa has another good pep squad this year. It is reported to be better than last year. Miss Una Ernest is their sponsor.

It is reported that Stanton has about thirty in the pep squad. The leaders are Eunice Thorndon, Melba Wilson, and Ben Scott. Miss race Loveless is sponsor.

NUTRITION EXPERIMENT

The Home Economics III class is carrying on a nutrition experiment that is proving interesting. White

SYMPHONY SEASON

EL PASO, Texas.—The El Paso Symphony orchestra will present the first concert of its second season on Nov. 14. H. Arthur Brown, musical director, has announced. Five concerts are scheduled. Tentative dates for the remaining four are Dec. 13, Feb. 15, March 21 and May 2.

Brown, who is professor of music at New Mexico A. & M. college and southwestern representative of the Juilliard School of Music, New York, is enthusiastic about the prospects of the orchestra for this season.

Every instrument of a modern symphony is included in the organization which has 55 members. Many of the musicians have been members of symphony orchestras in other cities of the country. Soloists have been obtained for each concert. Professor Brown, who is an excellent violinist, will play the solo program at one concert.

rats are used to prove the value of various foods in furnishing vitamins, minerals, carbohydrates, fats and proteins. At the beginning of the experiment the rats were weighed, and weights are recorded twice a week. The experiment is proving that rats fed on milk, vegetables, whole cereals, meat, cheese, eggs, and fruits or foods containing all the necessary foodstuffs are gaining weight and growing much more rapidly than those fed on a deficient diet of white bread, potatoes and refined cereals.

THE TATTLER

Things around Midland high are beginning to brighten up since school started, and so is "romance." I guess all the new teachers are glad Mr. Lackey is getting a new car.

All the girls seems satisfied since El Paso has gone home.

We all wondered why the parking signs out front were bent over until we saw our "Andrews bride" sitting on one talking to Ham the other day.

It is peculiar why every boy in high school has a sore lip.

Bill Hogsett is reported to be running around with the new girl from Abilene.

Herman's and Dorris' romance is still coming along. Herman's opponent, J. E. Hill, is not gaining any headway.

Bettie Ruth Golladay seems to enjoy English period immensely; we wonder why.

PEP SQUAD

Approximately 65 girls were to be in uniform for the Midland-Stanton game today.

It is worth the price of admission to a game to see the band and pep squad perform between halves, many say.

Recent additions to the squad make a total of approximately 75.

They will again be in action next week at the Big Spring-Midland game.

TACKY PARTY GIVEN

A tacky party was given Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Clint Dunagan. Guests played games and Conrad Dunagan told ghost stories. Nell Wayne Carlisle was voted the "tackiest" in the contest, and was presented with a huge stick of candy as a prize. Her costume was a blue calico dress with a big apron, a big hat, high top shoes, and to complete the costume, she carried a large handbag. Refreshments were served: Nell Wayne Carlisle, Roberta Dunagan, Nannie Bell Truax, Katie Bell Long, Bessie Dale, Nola Faye Meadows, Charline Parrott, Laura Schulz, and Dorothy Hines, Theo Cosper.

HISTORY OF SALT LAKE

Many years ago while stage coaches and covered wagons were in use in Texas and there were bandits, a robbery occurred south of Midland. A group of rich people traveling in wagons was to pass a lake, Salt Lake. Robbers waited for the train. It was held up, and all but one killed. He escaped and, with the money in kegs, buried it in the lake. Parts of wagons still remain. Many people have dug in this lake to find the money but it is supposed that someone found it and left the country for fear that someone would lay claim to it as a relative of someone in the party.

But he forgot to account for one thing—an emergency exit of the insects. They came pouring out the second hole and attacked him from the back. He quit hammering and ran.

FAR-AWAY VISITOR

CANYON. (UP)—A visitor from India holds the record for having traveled the farthest distance to visit Palo Duro park, located in Palo Duro canyon, 12 miles east of here.

The park, opened last May, has attracted nearly 40,000 persons from all parts of Texas and from almost every state in the union. In addition to the Indian tourist, visitors have registered from Scotland and Germany.

SPORTS REPORTS

By CUB SENIOR Stanton Sports Writer

At this present p. m. Buffalo stock is considerably down upon the eve of Coach Hyde's charges entering the kennel of the Midland Bulldogs. Reason for the Buffs "low barometer" is due to the fact that there was hardly a member of the first string squad that emerged from the Big Spring Steer game without injury. Those suffering bad injuries are Wilson, Capt. Kelly and Bloomer, three of the mainstays of the Buff machine, while the balance of the crew is nursing more or less injuries.

This is the scribe's view of the situation and no doubt, spreading it out in cold type publicly, he has placed himself in a direct line to receive a barrage of criticisms from the camp of the local Buffalo fans.

With all the discouraging factors that attach themselves to a very crippled condition of the first string men, and especially, those who are stars among them, the Midland citizenry can stake its last dollar that Stanton fans and the Buffaloes will be in there fighting to the last ditch despite the gloomy atmosphere that hangs over the Buffs prospect for winning this afternoon's performance over the canines.

This department loves football better than he does a stack of buckwheat cakes and maple syrup on a blizzardy morning in January. From that the reader will no doubt accuse us of being more than intimately infatuated with the sport. But he does not admire the sport when it is played by a Class A team a squad that is supposed to set an example for Class B teams to follow, resorts to methods that penalize the referee to assess penalties for playing "dirty ball." A recent encounter was staged between a Class A team and Class B team in a neighboring town, that during the progress of the game fifteen penalties were assessed against the Class A squad, most of them for playing "brute" class of ball, the total yardage lost by the team amounting to 150. To cap the climax, the referee had to expel from the playing field a player of Class A for serious infraction of one of the rules that governs the cleanliness of the game. A Class B team that plays the game according to the first class sportsmanship as it is written in the Sport Book as does the Stanton Buffaloes, is not due to receive the cruel treatment they did at the hands of the Big Spring Steers.

Says Claire Burcky:

The eyes of the football world are turned to a rectangular patch of turf in Chicago, where on Saturday, Oct. 10, Hunk Anderson's Fighting Irish encounter perhaps the strongest Northwestern football machine Coach Dick Hanley has yet assembled. If Notre Dame is to escape defeat for the third straight season, she must make it known in this game.

It will take more than the mention of a magic name in football to bring the Irish a victory over the Wildcats. Not even the presence of Hunk Anderson and Jack Chevigny will do it. It will take deadly blocking and tackling of the body bruising kind to hold in check a Purple eleven that bristles with strength—can Notre Dame do it? Well—

They are saying that Anderson has welded Kosky, Kurth, Culver, Yarr, Hoffman, Mahoney and others into a puncture-proof line second to none in the last decade of Notre Dame history.

There are reports, too, that Chevigny has rivaled Schwartz, Sheek-el-ski, Koken, Branchau, Munhy and half a dozen other nimble-footed and witted youths into a ball-carrying outfit no less talented than the Four Horsemen—

But, and this is important, there

Average TCU Player Is 178 Pounds And Is 20 Seasons Old

FORT WORTH, Oct. 9.—Weight, 178 pounds; height, 5 feet, 11 inches; age 20 years.

With these figures one has a description of the average football player on the 1931 squad at Texas Christian University.

If you don't care for averages, you may take the squad as a whole and find that the 42 men weigh 7,498 pounds, measure 250 feet and 11 inches in height, and are 873 years old.

End seems to be the most popular position as nine men are out for the wing job. There are seven candidates each for the quarter, half and guard positions. Only two aspire to play center.

Adolph Dietzel, "Too Tall" of basketball fame, leads the squad in height with his 6 feet, 6 inches, with Paul Snow, quarter, bringing up the rear with 5 feet, 8 inches. There are 24 men on the Frog squad who measure 5 feet or better, so Coach Schmidt ought to be able to find a few men who can reach up and snare passes.

Eighteen members of the squad are freshman numeral men, seven have been squad members before without lettering, while 15 of the old letter men are back to try for a second football championship for T. C. U.

Twenty-one Texas towns and two out-of-state addresses are represented on the Christians' roster. Jewel Wallace, fullback, hails from Carrollton, Mo., while John Kitchen, another full, calls Okmulgee, Okla., home. Fort Worth contributed 11 players.

Simmons U Cuts Prices for Games

ABILENE.—A 50 per cent reduction in the price of tickets for football games at Simmons university this season has been announced by the athletic council at the university.

"We are making this move," the management said, "in a spirit of cooperation, taking into consideration the general reduction of prices and incomes over our section of the state this year."

Reserved seats, under the new scale, will go for 75 cents and other seats for 50 cents.

CLASSIFIEDS SAVE MONEY

seems to be need of a directing genius from the mold that shaped Stuhlschmied and Carideo. Unless one is found, and very soon, much of Notre Dame's knockout punch may be wasted in useless sparring.

Jaskwich and Murphy are quarterbacks. Neither can be classed as a field general with Stuhlschmied or Carideo, but such expertness would hardly be necessary. Both are fine kickers, passers, and blockers. Either could play quarterback on a lot of teams. Yet neither Mr. Jaskwich nor Mr. Murphy measures up to the type whose keen knowledge of plays and coolness in moments of stress carry the team over the top in the crises. This quality is developed in some others are born with it. At any rate, Notre Dame will be without in when they pile into the Wildcats.

Northwestern is in much the same straits as Notre Dame. The Wildcat line is big and powerful and experienced. The backs are fast and heavy and shifty. The quarterbacking is not what it was when Lee Hanley called signals. What Potter and Lewis, best of the Northwestern inexperienced field generals, will do in the heat of battle with the Irish is yet to be seen.

The Wildcats took Nebraska in the first quarter of the season's opener. The Irish got more stubborn resistance from Indiana and had to battle far into the second half to gain a decisive edge. Nebraska may or may not be stronger than Indiana.

Besides, comparative scores can't be counted for much in a football game where bitter rivals are concerned.

I've been carried along with an impression I got from a statement by Hunk Anderson. Hunk said: "If we can get by Northwestern, we will have comparatively clear sailing for the rest of the year." If the Irish can get around the Wildcats, I'll be practically convinced they've got another unbeaten year.

Missouri Wives Pick Best Hubby

ATLANTA, Mo., Oct. 9. (UP).—Husbands of Macon county are due to receive a lot of public praise due to receive a lot of public praise preceding the novel "Best Husband" contest to be held in connection with a community celebration.

In fact, male vanity hereabouts might rise to bothersome heights were it not for the fact that most of the praise will probably be retracted by wives in the privacy of the home.

Wives must do all the ballyhooing for their husbands in the contest, and there are husbands who doubtless will be somewhat surprised to hear themselves praised. Here are some of the questions wives must answer:

Is he satisfied with the meals you cook?
Is he kind to your mother?
Does he kick when you go through his pockets?
Is he addicted to musical instruments?
Does he ever cast sheep's eyes at other women?
Does he remind you about the biscuits his mother used to make?
Does he still call you sweetheart?
Does he take you to church?
Does he think he's the whole show around the house?
Does he growl when you buy new clothes?
How does he act up when your relatives camp on him?
If you had the thing to do over, would you take him again?
What makes you think he's the best man in the county?

ExCaddy Gets His Revenge in Match

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 9. (UP).—The golfing world is fully aware by now of Tom Creavy's ability. But they know little of the newly-crowned Professional Golfer's association champion's career before he won the title at Providence, R. I., by defeating Denny Shute, 2 and 1.

Nor do many know that when he trounced Gene Sarazen in the semi-final round of the tournament he satisfied a long-standing desire to avenge a rebuke hurled by Gene while Creavy was caddy-ing.

The incident occurred at the Oak Ridge, N. Y., golf links during an exhibition match in which Sarazen was participating. Sarazen got into a difficult position and asked his caddy what club he should use.

Creavy, standing near Sarazen's caddy, interposed with: "Try a mashie niblick shot."

Sarazen, already irked by his adverse playing, turned on Creavy. "What do you know about golf? Where did you learn the game?"

From then on, Creavy said, he was determined to show Sarazen how much he did know of golf. He met Sarazen four years ago in the metropolitan P. G. A. tournament, but was defeated. He gained sweet revenge when he eliminated the Long Island Italian in the national play by 5 and 3.

After caddy-ing for some time at Oak Ridge, Creavy became assistant to Willie Macfarlane, former national open champion, at the same club. Subsequently he was assistant to his brother, Bill Creavy, at the Bonnie Briar club, Larchmont, N. Y. Last year he was engaged as a professional at Long Lake, N. Y.

NEEDLEWORK AGAIN

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—Since the middle ages, needlework, that most of all delicate crafts for feminine hands, has flourished most beautifully behind convent walls.

The well-born young lady of our grandmother's time sent her trousseau to be made, her household linens to be marked, to the French convents. Finely embroidered articles are still among the first things female travellers think of bringing home from abroad.

It is rather a waste of trunk space as far as Houston travelers are concerned. That same craftsmanship is practiced here in at least one convent. At the Convent of the Good Shepherd, more than 100 girls, under the care of sisters are learning the art of needlework.

Brilliant Cast In Grand Film

Six young featured players who have recently been acclaimed for their brilliant work in recent talking picture hits comprise the cast assembled by Charles R. Rogers for his production of "Millie," opening Sunday at the Grand theatre.

Helen Twelvetrees chosen to play "Millie" has assured herself of a place among the stars with her performances in "Her Man" and in "The Cat Creeps."

Lillian Tashman, who created such a sensation in "Gold Diggers of Broadway" and just recently completed a featured part in "One Heavenly Night" with Evelyn Laye will be seen as "Helen."

Robert Ames was one of the outstanding hits in two of the year's biggest pictures "The Trespasser" with Gloria Swanson and "Holiday" with Ann Harding.

James Hall, whose name completes the featured members of the cast, added new laurels to his already outstanding career with his performance in "Hell's Angels" and in the comedy "Maybe It's Love."

"Millie" was adapted from Donald Henderson Clarke's sensational best-selling novel of the same title.

Cream Station Is Opened by Stanley

Announcement is made today by the A. W. Stanley Self Serve grocery that cream is now being bought and shipped from Midland daily, providing a new outlet for cream from Midland farm and dairy herds.

Stanley has formed a connection with the Mistletoe Creameries of Amarillo whereby the regular market price is being paid.

WHEEL CHAIR TOUR

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UP)—Half the distance of a coast to coast wheel chair tour was completed when Abraham Applbaum arrived in Columbia.

The 22-year-old adventurer has been paralyzed in his legs since childhood. He left New York City June 29, inspired by a curiosity to see his country.

So far Applbaum has had only one crack-up. A woman motorist, on the outskirts of Indianapolis, ran into him and bent a rim on his chair.

The free wheeling traveler says he averages 65 miles a day. He was delayed 16 miles east of here by a flat tire and lost half a day.

NOT ACROBATIC

AUSTIN, Oct. 9. (UP)—Governor Ross Sterling of Texas will not try to rival the acrobatics of Governor William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray of Oklahoma. He recently denied any intention of standing on his head as the Sooner governor did.
