NEW THEORY IN TRUNK MURDER

Woah, Now!

Charging that she refused to marry him after inducing him to resign his pastorate, the Rev. Bartholomew J. Chudacek (below), former Johnstown, N. Y., minister has sued Betty Randolph (above), former musical comedy actress, in New York for $50,000 for breach of promise. She denied his accusation at the trial of the suit.

Killed Babies

His mistake cost the lives of 75 babies in a hospital in Luebeck, Germany, and now Dr. George Deycke, above, is on trial charged with homicide caused by negligence. In his testimony he admitted that his advocacy of the use of anti-tuberculosis serum was a "scientific error" and declared his readiness to be sentenced if the court held him responsible.

"Oh-h Grandma!"

If the word "grandmother" conjures up a picture of an elderly woman sitting with her knitting before an open fireplace, take a second look at Mrs. Marjorie Huton, above. She, an American residing in Paris, is the winner of a newspaper contest conducted to find "the world's youngest looking grandmother."

TROUBLE DATES TO JULY '31

Federal Court Busy On Injunction Suit

DURANT, Oct. 26. (UP)—Thirty Oklahoma national guardsmen today occupied the strip around the free Red river bridge here with orders to keep the span open to traffic.

Meanwhile, federal court of Muskogee was passing on an injunction suit sought by the Red River Bridge company to close the bridge.

Lieutenant Colonel John A. McDonald was commanding the troops who were ordered here today by Governor William H. Murray.

Murray took similar action at the bridge last July, declaring the strip under martial law.

BIG ATTENDANCE EXPECTED TO BE AT OIL MEETING

FT. WORTH, Oct. 26.—At a gathering in Dallas Tuesday morning, oil men from all sections of Texas will join in a discussion of some plan whereby the curtailment of drilling activities in the East Texas field may be accomplished.

The meeting, sponsored by the Texas Oil and Gas Conservation association, is called for 10 o'clock at the Baker hotel. Drastic curtailment or total abolition of drilling in East Texas is regarded as necessary by members of the association if the field is to be developed on a profitable, economical basis.

Continued drilling, officials of the organization point out, will be conducive to additional physical waste and early dissipation of the vast pool. It is proposed, at the Dallas meeting, to evolve some plan of an acceptable nature for presentation to the state railroad commission.

That body, in its efforts to promote conservation of the oil and gas resources in East Texas has the support of the association and Tuesday's discussion will develop along lines designed to be of the greatest benefit to the commission. Plans for the meeting were laid by the executive committee of the association which, headed by Chas. F. Roeser, Fort Worth independent, represents more than 200 major and independent oil men in the state.

The association's membership was said to be solidly in support of the effort to curtail drilling activities in East Texas. A blanket invitation to attend the meeting was extended to every person, oil man or otherwise, interested in conservation matters.

Tomcat Matched in Rankin Race Today

Tomcat, three-year old chestnut gelding belonging to Clarence Schreiber, winner of various quarter and three-eighth mile races here since his appearance as a two-year old, is being run this afternoon at Rankin against Will Nix's bay Billy Sunday.

Pete Patterson is riding Tomcat and the Rankin horse will carry equal weight. The race is for a quarter mile on a straight track. A number of Midland men went to Rankin today to see the match.

Stanton Woman A Crack Shot

STANTON.—Mrs. J. E. Moffett demonstrated her ability to shoot straight one day last week when she shot a running coyote at a distance of 125 yards with a .22 calibre rifle. The shot took effect just behind the shoulder, sending the coyote for several additional yards.

She is having the pelt dressed and converted into a rug.

Stanton Golfer One Under Par

STANTON.—Hey, you boys, who have shot par, look here! Judge Glaser, former county judge and ex-officio county superintendent of Martin county, one day last week while strolling around on the Stanton golf links, shot a 35 one below par, the lowest shot that has ever been made on the local course.

At that rate the judge is headed for Class A competition.

Fort Worth Officer Shoots 2 Mexicans

FORT WORTH, Oct. 26. (UP)—Jesus Elizando, 30, and Domingo Rizo, 30, were shot to death today by E. H. Arledge, policeman.

TRUCKMEN LOSE OUT IN COURT

Trucks Using Hiways Placed Under RR Commission

HOUSTON, Oct. 26. (UP)—House bill number 335, placing trucks using state highways under the railroad commissions' jurisdiction, was held constitutional today in a decision by three federal judges.

The ruling denied a temporary injunction asked by truckmen.

HUNGER PARADE STORMS CAPITOL; NO INTERFERENCE

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 26. (UP)—Three hundred ragged, unkempt marchers paraded through the streets here today yelling and singing and making impromptu speeches, demanding unemployment relief.

The police watched, ready to prevent any violence but did not interfere with the parade.

The marchers planned a mass meeting to ask Governor Henry S. Caulfield for a special session of the legislature to enact unemployment relief, furnish free textbooks for children, no eviction for not paying rent and a three-year moratorium on farmers' debts.

The marchers reached the capitol last night after a long trek from various points.

MEXICAN PARENTS LOSE IN PLEA TO SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (UP)—Parents of children of Mexican descent today lost a fight to prevent Del Rio, Texas, authorities from segregating children from white children of Anglo-Saxon descent.

The United States supreme court rejected the appeal from Texas courts which denied an injunction. Citizens, who brought the appeal, held that the proposed segregation would deprive children of equal rights.

Tree Planting By Scouts Friday

A tree planting ceremony held by the boy scout troop 54 Friday evening at the First Baptist church will be dedicated to the late Theodore Roosevelt, one time president of the national boy scout council, whose birthday is Tuesday.

The ceremony, to which the public is invited, will be brief. Buster Howard, troop scoutmaster, will preside.

Al Capone Stuff Pulled in Hobbs

HOBBS, Oct. 26.—After a running battle in which several shots were fired into a fleeing car, Deputy Sheriff John Fields and Jim Shepherd arrested Hughie McClure and Bud Lankford and placed them in the Lovington jail.

McClure and Lankford are alleged to have taken Frank Snyder "for a ride," thus emulating Al Capone and other big city gangsters.

According to the arresting officers, the trio have been engaged in the whiskey business and McClure and Lankford accused Snyder of double crossing them, and decided to take him "for a ride." During the trip Snyder received a head wound from a small calibre revolver, the bullet glancing from his skull over the left eye causing only a scalp wound. Snyder then was taken to his hotel on West Carlsbad avenue and told to be out of the city by daylight or they would get him.

Officers were notified, resulting in the arrests.

Laval and Stimson in Conference

Pierre Laval, swarthy, stocky, white-tied prime minister of France, is shown here, left, in an auto with Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson after Laval's arrival at New York City on his visit to the United States to confer with President Hoover on joint action to re-establish the equilibrium of the world in the present economic crisis.

Laval landed at the Battery and paraded to New York's city hall, where he was given America's first official greeting. A nice understanding of Laval and the U. S. president has been announced.

As Mrs. Judd Surrendered

METHODIST CHURCH FILLED FOR CHOIR PRESENTATION GIVEN IN MEMORY LATE CHOIR DIRECTOR

A presentation of the 25-member First Methodist church choir that was really a memorial service for the choir's late director, Mrs. Marion F. Peters, attracted crowds from most Midland churches. Two churches where services had been announced, the First Baptist and the First Christian, made announcements Saturday that no services would be held.

Just as Mrs. Peters had arranged the program, it was held. She had been working for the presentation, the third of the choir within a year, before receiving fatal injuries in the wreck of a truck carrying a church group on a picnic. Miss Lena Solomon, new director, adhered to the plan worked out by Mrs. Peters.

MRS. JUDD TO RETURN TO PHOENIX

Woman Steadfast in Contention of Defense

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26. (UP)—Sheriff James McFadden today advanced the theory that the bullet, which lodged in Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd's hand, first passed through the body of Miss Hedvig Samuelson, one of the two women slain by Mrs. Judd.

Mrs. Judd threw the defense into a confusion by agreeing to return to Phoenix after her husband and attorneys had sought to prevent extradition. She steadfastly maintained a self-defense story.

Woman Took One Last Fling at Joy

By JERRY McLAIN

NEA Service Correspondent PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 26.—Did Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd plan the murder of the two women whose bodies were found in trunks at Los Angeles a week before the crime was committed?

Did she, after making a calm decision, then proceed to try to erase the terror of it from her mind by a sudden series of gay parties?

This theory was one held here by friends of the woman suspect after they had carefully recounted the events which immediately preceded the crime.

And their theory is substantiated by stories of wild parties given at the Judd apartment, of frequent calls to the drug store for more ginger ale and of feverish gaiety there on the Thursday night and Friday morning, just a few hours before Mrs. Agnes Arn Leroi and Miss Hedvig Samuelson were slain.

Mrs. Judd, known as a quiet and home-loving woman, was having one last fling at happiness before she brought her little world crashing about her, those who advance the theory, say.

If this theory is true, there can be no doubt that the two victims were in complete ignorance of these plans. Mrs. Leroi attended the party at the Judd apartment which started Thursday night and lasted well into the following morning. This affair was described by neighbors as decidedly hilarious.

Friends of Mrs. Judd here find it hard to believe that the person they knew as a quiet little woman could have committed the murders.

According to Dr. M. I. Leff, physician of Glendale, near Phoenix, Mrs. Judd was a "level-headed woman of considerable intelligence."

"I have known Mrs. Judd for some time and never regarded her as being the least bit insane," he said. "She visited us in Glendale on several occasions and always seemed perfectly normal. I could scarcely believe it when I read she was suspected of having committed the murders."

J. J. Halloran, wealthy Phoenix lumberman, whose car was seen in front of the Judd apartment frequently, said that he had never seen Mrs. Judd display any signs of insanity and that she always seemed in complete control of herself.

Horses Matched in Tryouts Yesterday

Cowboy park was the setting for horse race tryouts Sunday afternoon, four local mounts being run in heats of an eighth mile each. C. E. Trammell's paint Nettie Harrison, Alvin Roberts' chestnut gelding Headlight, Ulysses Barber's blue filly and Claude Whately's sorrel horse were run. Details of the placing of the mounts were not obtained, although the Roberts' horse was reported to have won in a heat with the Barber and Whately mounts and the Trammell mare was said to have beaten the Whately horse in a matched race.

THE PURITAN STRAIN

The Puritanism of colonial New England has come in for its full share of criticism in the last few years. Low-brows have jabbed at it for its fondness for restrictive rules of conduct; highbrows have attacked it for its intellectual and artistic barrenness.

But the strain is still strong in American life; and now and then we discover that it possesses all of its old vitality, turned into new and more productive channels.

There died in Cleveland a short time ago Samuel Mather, a direct descendant of the famous Puritan Mathers of colonial Massachusetts.

Those early Mathers are familiar to every schoolboy. What school history book fails to record the piety of Cotton Mather and Increase Mather, back in the days when the Massachusetts Bay settlement was young?

Now the Puritanism of this family, through succeeding generations, died out—or, rather, changed its form. This Samuel Mather was not a theologian, like his predecessors. He was one of the greatest of the nation's industrialists.

Beginning his business career in the years immediately following the Civil war, Samuel Mather helped to build up the enormous industrial kingdom that stretches from Cleveland to Pittsburgh. Great fleets of steamers appeared on the lakes because of his enterprise. The iron regions of Minnesota and upper Michigan were developed by him and his associates.

All in all, the man was one of the most useful industrialists the nation has produced.

But the interesting thing about him, just now, is the fact that he was the modern representative of one of the famous of the old Puritan families.

Colonial Puritanism may have been hard, narrow and sterile. But it was possessed of tremendous energy, and it has transmitted that energy to its descendants. In its early career it gave a growing nation its intellectual and religious key; in later years, losing its dour austerity, it provided most famous of the old Puritan families.

LOVING A GARDEN

A man can get into trouble in a great many ways these days; but one of the oddest way of all, surely, is that discovered by the New Yorker who landed in police court because he tried to take home a bucketful of soil from a city park.

This man, it developed, wanted to grow some geraniums in pots on the fire escape outside of his apartment window. To do this he had to have some dirt, and the city park seemed the handiest place to get it.

But it all proved sadly illegal, the would-be gardner had to go to court, and the fire escape remains, presumably, unadorned with flowers.

The desire to have a flower garden is one of the oldest and most universal of human impulses. But the man who lives in a metropolitan apartment house must, apparently, learn to stifle it.

CLEAR MINE STRIKE PICTURE NEEDED

Theodore Dreiser's action in organizing a committee of U. S. senators and private citizens to go into the Kentucky coal fields and investigate conditions there may prove a move of considerable value to the country at large.

From all reports, something rather startling has been going on in those coal fields. When 34 miners are under indictment for murder, it is obvious that a large package of trouble has been opened by someone; yet there has been such a confusion of charges and countercharges that it is hard for the man in the street to tell just what may be wrong.

If Mr. Dreiser's group can give us a clear picture of affairs it will be performing a real public service.

Come on with the feed, Mr. Farmer. We allow you four cents a bundle on your subscription, new or renewal, and you will keep up with the home county and town every day for a whole year for only 125 bundles of maize or hegira.

Ily Pratt, sent word to me that if my column is as popular as I claim it, is I can get people to come after some of those turnip greens up by the city hall. The turnip patch was planted through efforts of the welfare association for the benefit of those who need greens and turnips. Ily said today that the greens are growing so rank that they need to be thinned out, and anybody from the mayor on up or down can have some by coming after them. I intend to have some of those greens myself and I'll bet there will be some more coming after them when they read this. You don't have to be broke to need turnip greens and they are there for you.

Lovely Mrs. Sills To Use Songs Never Before Been Sung

ABILENE, Oct. 26.—Doris Kenyon Sills, who is touring the United States in concert returned this fall from a trip to Europe that combined a concert tour with research and study. Most of the time, Miss Kenyon was with Yvette Guilbert in Paris and with Elizabeth Major in Montse. Her experiences with Guilbert was an experience that she will never forget, she says.

For use in "Lyric Silhouettes," the costume recital which she will give in the United States, Mrs. Sills brought songs and sketches some of which have never been used before. One copy from the British Museum is of the Elizabethan period, with the pure music and witty lyrics of that time. Another is a Greek song found by a British savant in his travels and copied by him from an ancient frieze. She also found some very interesting Hungarian folk songs, and several from Spain and Turkey.

Mrs. Sills sings these songs in their original language. Her voice is a very agreeable and resonant soprano, fully capable of the modulations necessary to the interpretation of a dramatic role, and her ability as an actress promises a more than enjoyable performance.

This lovely and talented singer will be in Abilene November 4 for the Fall Music festival which the Civic Auditorium association of Abilene is sponsoring.

O. E. Cook and E. L. Benson, Abilene cattle buyers, spent Sunday evening here transacting business.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Bucy and children, Ralph Davis and Martha Jane, spent Sunday visiting Mrs. Bucy's mother, Mrs. Lige Davis, and sister, Miss Georgia Davis, in Big Spring.

Louise Kenney, Mildred Noland and Dorothy Howell spent the week end visiting on the Woody ranch south of town.

Let's talk Straight from the Shoulder

WHAT you want in a cigarette is taste. You want mildness... smoothness...and satisfying pleasure when you smoke.

All right then . . . get this straight.

CHESTERFIELD pays top prices . . . yes, and a premium for the ripest, mellowest, sweetest-tasting leaf that grows.

The curing and conditioning is done by specialists . . . men carefully trained in handling these fine tobaccos.

IN BLENDING, also, Chesterfields are different.

Instead of merely mixing the tobaccos together . . . we cross-blend them. It's like making a new and better-tasting kind of tobacco. That's how we get that Chesterfield flavor. Milder...and a more pleasing aroma.

Cigarette paper? Only the purest that's made is good enough for Chesterfield.

PICK UP a package. Note its clean appearance . . . free from heavy inks. It's moisture-proof, too.

And three big factories at Richmond, Durham and San Francisco—operating under the strictest sanitary standards—rush them fresh to you. Good . . . they've got to be good. Because they're made that way. And most important of all . . . you can taste this goodness in the cigarette. You can tell it in the smoke.

Light up, Mister! Try Chesterfield.

Let the cigarette do its own talking. You'll get the whole thrilling story, in just two words . . . "They Satisfy!"

"Yes Sir - Mild yet they Satisfy"

THESE ARGUMENTS!

GRAND HAVEN, Mich.—Arguments happen in the best of regulated families, but the one conducted by Henry T. Vanderbosch and wife was the oddest ever seen in these parts. Henry was arraigned in court on the charge of trying to run down his wife with the family automobile. He explained that he was chasing his wife around a vacant lot with the car in an effort to catch up with her and confine an argument.

Ice cream, as far as is known, was first made and eaten during the 16th century in Italy.
