PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 13.—Republicans held a slight lead in the fight for the governorship and the first congressional district seats—both far below majorities of two and four years ago—and candidates in the second and third congressional districts were nip and tuck as returns from more than half the voting precincts in the state were tabulated at midnight.

The Vote

The Vote The vote was: Governor 383 precincts out of 632: Martin (R) 56,327. Brann (D) 52,576.

First dictrict, 86 precincts out of Beedy (R) 16,029; Connolly (D) 14,033.
Second district, 104 precincts out

Nelson (R) 23,200; Moran (D) 22,478; Bonney (Ind., R) 1,207. Third district 214 precincts out of Brewster (R) 25,406; Utterback 25.426 (D) 25,426.

The rock ribbed republican state—not in 18 years has it had a democrat for governor or in congress—saw its large majority sliced into by an organized democracy with candidates for practically every state and county office.

VOTERS IN EIGHT STATES GO TO THE POLLS TODAY

Voters in eight different states prepared to cast their ballots in pri-mary elections today, with political leaders eagerly scanning the results of the first interparty contest of the year yesterday in Maine as the weather man watches his barometer.

Only state and county offices were involved in the Maine election, but party leaders keenly watched the outcome for signs of any political tides that might wash into the presidential contest in November. Primaries were scheduled today in Arizona, Colorado, Louisiana, Michigan, New Hampshire, Vermont, Washington and South Carolina, and voters will file into the polls tomorrow for the Georgia primaries.

chancellor tried to forestall it by decreeing the dissolution of the legislature. He was thwarted by Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Reichstag speaker, and, as a member of Adolf Hittler's national socialist party, one of the bitterest enemies of the Von Papen regime.

After the members had expressed their lack of confidence in the ministry by a vote of 513 to 32 the Nazi speaker read the decree of dissolution. But he declared afterward it was invalid because it was signed by a defeated government. On the other hand, the ministry contended that the legislature was legally dissolved.

THE WAISTLINE BATTLE LINE

Waistlines—always a troublous problem—are back in the news. They are, it seems, the chief news of the new fashion season and about them wages a controversy. Shall the feminine waistline be placed just below the armpits as Paquin, Chantal and Maggy Rouff—all famous designers —place it or shall it drop well down on the hips as Jean Patou—equally celebrated—insists it shall be?

This is the great fashion controversy of the fall. Disinterested observers who consider the subject trivial should remember what the short skirts-long skirts argument did to the nation, what the tempest over Empress Eugenie millinery did to household peace and tranquility.

And now American designers have come forward with the announcement that the normal waistline is the most artistic and becoming. That makes three choices of waist-

Meanwhile, what is Mrs. Average American to do about the situation? A waistline she must have, and with Paris in disagreement who is to tell her where it shall be? Waistlines are battle lines and even on the sidelines anyone can see there's trouble ahead.

E buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world-but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"-so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words-"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."-RALPH WALDO EMERSON. Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?

R. A. Stewart of Fort Worth, whose request to the executive com-mittee to refuse to certify Mrs. Fermittee to refuse to certify Mrs. Ferguson because of fraud was turned down by the committee earlier in the day, was a speaker. He said that his law partner had seen tramps taken from freight trains in East Texas and herded to the polls, where they voted. He said that in four counties, negroes were allowed to vote, contrary to instructions from the state committee. Stewart said that according to an investigation by Sam McCorkle of Mexia, Sterling was the nominee by 10,000 votes after the illegal votes had been thrown out. He added it was his opinion that such action would increase Sterling's lead to 25,000.

ed into both of these extravaganzas that are exactly opposite, but which is no secret with the fans who pay nicely seem to meet the exigencies of whatever situation may arise. The no-foul rule was suspended for the first bout—and Schmeling won on a foul. The decision handed down in the second affair by which Sharkey became champion, was unbelievable, nearly every newspaperman at the ringside scoring Schmeling as the winner.

The tour of Primo Carnera was a great education to the exploiters of boxing outside of New York. The Venetian nightmare was built into a major attraction on the theory that such a man-mounain not only could not lose financially but physically as well. His handlers vigorously saw to it that the theory was put into practhat the theory was put into prac-

GREAT LITTLE FIXER

And, of course, Carnera eventually was suspended for malpractice—but suspensions do not mean a great deal nowadays, and he has been reinstated and everybody is happy.

Blondie herself went through it Blondie herself went through it all with an acquired grace. She made the best of every situation, neither losing her sense of balance nor her good humor. Her penthouse was beautiful and in good taste, she rode to the theatre in her own Rolls-Royce and her parties were the talk of the town.

But today there was a sense of uncertainty about Blondie as she walked into her luxurious drawing room, adjusting a huge pearl earring. Blondie was stunning in black velvet lounging pajamas as she joined the Locke Twins, those two dancing boys who had set Paris wild and were now making America dance-team conscious. dance-team conscious.
"Pearls for tears," said Paul as handed her a glass of champagne. "They're nice," said Albert. "Who "Lurline," replied Blondie.
'I thought you weren't speaking."
'We're not."
