FIRE INSPECTION FINDS STUDENTS VERSED IN DRILL

Inspection of schools and the business area was made Wednesday by eight Midland business men representing the chamber of commerce fire prevention committee headed by Claude O. Crane.

John P. Howe, George D. McCormick, John O. Nobles and Crane inspected the schools in the morning, and Luther Tidwell, Howard Hodge, Charlie Nolan and John Mitchell were scheduled to meet at Mims & Crane's office Wednesday afternoon to begin the business area inspection. Trips will be made later to the Mexican and negro schools. The Rev. Edwin C. Calhoun made a talk at junior high school, and Lucille McMullan gave a reading. Fire prevention poster and theme judging of school work will start on Thursday. The chamber of commerce will award prizes to the winners.

Thursday. The chamber of commerce will award prizes to the winners.

A report made by Chairman Crane on the basis of observation of the following points is quoted:

Do steam pipes reach woodwork anywhere? Is clothing allowed to touch radiators when hung in cloak rooms? Are paper towels found in boiler rooms? Do doors open outward? Are fire exits locked during school hours? Are basements kept so free of hazard that Midland does not contribute to the charge that 67 per cent of school fires originate in basements? Are ceilings fire ward? Are ceilings fire ward.

It is pointed out that if a farmer and b per cent of school fires originate in basements? Are ceilings fire resis-tive? Are janitors' rooms clean? Are fire extinguishers readily available? Are fire drills held?

was found in splendid condition. The fire drill was exceptionally good for so large a building, taking only one minute and three seconds to clear the building and close all windows and doors.

North Ward School The physical condition of the building is good, considering the age of it. The premises are clean and in order. The fire drill here was given without any previous warning and the children cleared the building and closed the windows and doors in 50 seconds. "Mrs. Thomas is to be commended on her good management," Crane said.

South Ward School

The condition of this building is good. The fire drill here was given without warning and the building was cleared and all doors closed in 58 seconds. "Mrs. Bounds is also to be commended as principal of this building," Crane said. "Our schools after this inspection were found to be free from any com-mon fire hazards. The entire school faculty from the superintendent to the janitors in all schools are on the job and are trying their best to make the various buildings safe for the children," Crane concluded.

TRIAL BY JURY HITS A SNAG

Every criminal trial which involves a person who often figures in newspaper headlines is apt to bring about a situation in which it is almost impossible to get a jury satisfactory to both prosecution and defense.

A prospective juror is asked if he has "read about this case in the papers." If he is literate enough to make a decent juror, naturally he has. Then he is asked if he has formed an opinion on the case, from what he has read; and, naturally, he usually says that he has. Thereupon is a person who of the early exponents of incomplete the papers. I was cut fishing one day, with a friend, and we ran out of bait. We had about decided to go home when we spied a big water moceasin that had just caught a frog. We grabbed the frog before the snake could swallow it, but the reptile looked so broken up over it, that my friend gave him a nip out of a bottle we him a nip out of a bottle we happened to have with us, and the snake went away. We cut up the frog for bait and started fishing again. We had caught two or three when my friend felt something twitching at his there was the snake with an-

I came upon him one morning in the jungle, just as he observed a small monkey up in a tree. Evidently he desired the monkey for dinner. He grasped a large stone in his mouth, wrapped eight or ten feet of his tail around a tree, then swung the rest of his body in a huge circle, like a slingshot. In a few seconds he let the rock go and hit the monkey right between the eyes.

I captured the snake, which was the largest I ever saw, and made a pet of him. He became very fond of me. Every night he would coil up near my fire, and I'd sleep on him. You can't imagine a more comfortable bed.

I never saw this snake stretched to his full length, so I don't know just how long he was. All I know is that I once stepped on his tail and it was two days before he felt it.

One Sure Way to End Coughs and Colds

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold ac-tion; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, creosote is recog-nized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for per-sistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing ele-ments which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any coughor cold, no matter of how long standing in the system. ing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Askyour druggist. (Adv.)

one toe out from under the downy, jerk it back, throw a shoe at the alarm clock, eventually take to a cold tub, turn out the dog, grab a piece of toast, show up late at the office—and explain one was under the impression there was only one day to this week, Saturday. For that's the day we trek along the eastward rolls of the Bankhead to Sheridan town, y' know.

We see where a young man named Woodrow Wilson, last year's flaming mamie of the Stanton backfield, is cutting capers, and what capers! Ing mamie of the Stanton backfield, is cutting capers, and what capers! for the School of Mines. He must have made about 20 points individually against Wayland. He does all the passing, punting and ball lugging if you may judge what you read—which most of the time you cannot.

The only time he scored and he put the oval in scoring distance several times, was when he unreeled nine yards to pass the last parallel. As a result, his mates fight their hearts out to block men out of his way. When Sheridan makes a gain, it is a matter of eleven men gaining. What could be nicer?

Comes a letter from Sul Ross anent the frosh team there. A couple of Midland slimes are listed, Johnson and Hill. We infer these are the "Red" couple. We noticed. however, that neither was listed with the crack prospects. Later on, maybe.

Midland's coacnes drill the necessity of team play and unselfish unity. Despite Sweetwater's machine-play, the Mustangs cannot defeat Midland by many points if every man will carry out his blocking assignment to the best of his ability. Football games in the main are lost by poor tackling and blocking, not directly because the winning club is heavier or more experienced. heavier or more experienced.

Just by way of entertainment, we read the play-by-play account of the Sweetwater-Lubbock game, or "Another Exploit in the Life of Red"
