PART WORTHY WOMAN MURDERED

DONNA MURDER CASE QUARTET IS SENTENCED

Defendants Alleged Involved in a Death Plan

RIO GRANDE CITY, Oct. 29.—(UP)—The jury in the Donna murder plot returned a verdict of guilty and gave two years sentences each to A. F. Dargel, E. J. Farnsworth, L. F. Schultz and W. H. McClelland. The jury deliberated for 19 hours.

Defense motion for a new trial was set for argument at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The defendants were alleged to have conspired to kill several politically invincible fellow townsmen.

APATHY OF THE PUBLIC THREAT TO CIVIC MUSIC

BIG SPRING.—"Many of our citizens are going to feel very badly during the winter, when they find that they are unable to attend the concerts to be given by the Midwest Texas Civic Music association, on account of their negligence in acting this week," said Dr. P. W. Malone, the president. "Response thus far indicates a lack of interest on the part of many who should support this cultural movement in our city. We are proud of our municipal auditorium, but of what good is it unless it is to be put to some use? Civic music can not be put over with a limited few—it requires support from all, to make it possible to have some fine concerts, as other cities have. In every city from Big Spring, cities support great music and are proud of it. It is a regular part of the civic life and many of our new residents have missed it since their residence here. If we fail in this, I fear it will be a long time before anything of real cultural nature will succeed here."

Dr. Malone, Dr. W. B. Hardy, and Herbert W. Costi attended an organization meeting for Civic music in Midland Wednesday, held at the Scharbauer hotel, which was attended by a number of the prominent citizens of that city and they were greatly pleased and committed to be a part of this movement in West Texas and pledged unqualified support.

"The reason for no ticket sales to the individual concerts," said Dr. Hardy, one of the organizers of the movement here, "is the fact that we must know at once just how much money we have to spend for an attraction, then engage the companies, and additional box office sales will mean more money for the already engaged and the money in the bank to pay for them."

Headquarters located in the Settles hotel will be open each day until 5:30 p. m.

The National Civic Music association is proud of the fact of the support and active interest of leading business men in the various cities where civic music is in operation. Such names as Hon. Franklin Roosevelt of Albany; Eli Sanger, Dallas; W. K. Stripling, Ft. Worth; W. M. Gregor, Wichita Falls; Herman Ochs, San Antonio; Carl Weeks, Des Moines, Ia.; Dr. Charles Mayo, Rochester, Minn.; Arthur F. Nelson (former mayor), St. Paul; and many others of national prominence. These men realize the importance of such a thing in city life and generously support it with their time.

Civic music does not require any guarantee—the membership dues provide all the money—and the dues entitle the member to at least three fine concerts, without additional cost.

Jim Says Eating Is of More Value

FT. WORTH, Oct. 29. (UP)—Texas is more interested in "when do we eat" than in "pretty faces and political ballyhoo," James E. Ferguson said prior to going to Ennis for a speech Saturday afternoon. He was scheduled to appear with Mrs. Ferguson in Fort Worth Saturday night. Ferguson was confident that Mrs. Ferguson will be elected, conceding that Bullington has a chance to win only in Tarrant, Dallas, Taylor, Potter, El Paso and McLennan counties.

San Angelo Swamps Dogs, 61-0; Reid Gallops Often

She'd Like to Be Good!

She's one of movieland's best bad girls, but she'd rather be good. So Wynne Gibson is demanding that her studio give her a chance to prove she can be a nice girl, too. She's been a menace to men, as pictured here, in all but one of her films. And she's getting notorious, not famous, she complains.

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 29.—Led by Quarterback Herbert Reid, who scored five touchdowns and passed to Tucker for another, San Angelo ran wild over Midland here today, 61-0. It was the second victory for the Bobcats, undefeated in District 3, and the Bulldogs' third defeat. Deiker made one touchdown. Carruthers, center, intercepted a pass for another, and Linticum ran back a punt 35 yards for the final cutoff and kicked goal after reserves had taken charge in the quarter. Deiker converted in six of eight attempts. Midland never threatened to score during the two first downs from scrimmage to San Angelo's 29. Hallman, A. Sherrod and Hogsett played best defensively for the visitors. Score by periods: 7 20 27 7-61 Midland 0 0 0 0-0

Much Cane Syrup Will Be Cooked

Syrup production in Midland county promises to exceed by 50 per cent last year's output, and cooking pans are at a premium. At least 5,000 gallons will be made, according to the last estimate. Farmers report much success with Japanese ribbon cane. M. W. Whitmore has cane that is well over 10 feet tall. A. C. Francis' cane is averaging 1400 pounds to the acre, or about seven tons. R. D. Hamilton's crop will average about 100 gallons to the acre. Midland county syrup is high in sugar content, due, it is explained, to lack of extensive rainfall and to the richness of the soil.

Held on Alleged Assault Attempt

ODESSA.—A hitch-hiker, judged to be between 30 and 35 years of age, an alleged World war veteran, and member of the recent Bonus Army from California, is being held in the Ector county jail on a statutory charge, in connection with an alleged assault, at a camp on a twelve year old traveling companion in a tourist camp here Wednesday afternoon. Officers were called by the lady in charge of the camp, when she questioned the girl, after seeing her hiding around the camp, and presumably running from the man. The girl was brought to the court house, where she gave a full account of the alleged attack. The child says she is an orphan, who was taken from an orphanage in Iowa by the man, whom she says is her step-father, and had, according to her story, hitch-hiked this far with him, on their way to California. She says she is a house living, but is the wife of another man.

Becherer, whose station is at the corner of Mainfield and Wall, has lived in Midland for nearly five years. He is a former army flyer, having been graduated from Brooks and Kelly fields.

Long Named Head Of Odessa C. of C.

ODESSA, Oct. 29.—J. T. Long, local representative of the distribution department of a major oil company, has been elected to serve his third term as president of the Odessa chamber of commerce, according to an announcement here today. The election took place at the first meeting of the newly elected board of directors of the organization, last night. Long succeeds himself in office. W. B. Rees, cashier of the First National bank, was named vice-president, and Geo. T. Kesler, local postal employe, treasurer. The position of secretary-manager of the chamber, made vacant by the recent resignation of R. D. Shinkle, was filled at the meeting, although a number of applications were received. A man was chosen to succeed Shinkle, should the office be filled in the immediate future, but the board remained in doubt as to the advisability of securing a secretary at this time. The matter was deferred to a later meeting.

25 ADDITIONAL GUARDSMEN SENT TO ETEX FIELDS

Sterling Is Uncertain About Special Session

AUSTIN, Oct. 29. (UP)—Governor Sterling announced today the dispatch of 25 additional soldiers to East Texas and the closing of every well down to the allotted 40 barrels per day. "I do not say I will not call a special session," he said, "but at this time I do not think there is a situation calling for it." He left the impression that there will be no session until federal decree is issued at Sherman and there is opportunity to see if the field can be controlled under it without a new law.

A floral caprice, "Blue Bonnets Awaken," will be given by a group of women. These women will wear snow white Martha Washington dresses and wigs. The number is said to be one of the most popular of the entire opera. It is a sextette for women's voices.

He said that President Wilson would have made Charles Evans Hughes secretary of state, then he and Vice President Marshall would have resigned, elevating Hughes to the presidency.

Odessa Sheriff Has New Mastiff

ODESSA.—Whether it was due to a sense of balance or just to an irony of fate that Sheriff Reeder Webb chose as a successor to Bootlegger, the late lamented court house pet, a police dog, no one knows. However, the successor in the sheriff's affections to the flopped bulldog, Bootlegger, made his appearance. He is a seven-month-old registered German police dog, named Big Boy. If Big Boy is to live up to the precedent set by the canny Bootlegger, he has his job cut out for him. Bootlegger was possessed, it seemed of almost human intelligence. He could open a car door with his teeth, climb into the seat and close the door after him. He would run into the house and bring out a gun, shoe, glove, or any other desired object. In fact he displayed almost human intelligence. His chief delight lay in ice cream cones. His pet aversion was being called a "big Swede," in answer to which he would sit up and growl menacingly. Bootlegger died from eating a number of small sharp bones.

HAD FIGURED IN COURT SUIT FOR $200,000 ESTATE

House Ransacked in Effort to Find Documents

FT. WORTH, Oct. 29. (UP)—The bruised and battered body of Mrs. Lilly Hamilton, 40, was found today in the bedroom of her home. Three fingers of one hand had been bitten or torn off and there were signs of a terrific struggle. The coroner said a head blow had caused her death. Mrs. Hamilton had filed suit last July for half of the $200,000 estate of the late Charlie Rotsky, land owner, claiming that she was his common law wife. The suit had not come to trial. Copies of papers filed in the suit were found immersed in a tub of water at the rear of the home. Her trunk had been ransacked. A bloody hammer and a meat cleaver were found in the kitchen.

MARKET MIND OF TEXAS IMPROVES OVER PAST YEARS

AUSTIN.—Perhaps the most significant thing to be learned from the economic events of the past three years is the necessity of becoming market-minded in the consideration of the possibilities for effective operation of business enterprises. The distinctive position Texas has attained in the oil industry but even more than that, because of the dominance of Texas in the oil industry in the immediate future, yet it is of even greater importance to become market-minded in dealing with the economic potentialities of this vast industry.

To become market-minded is to recognize the complexities of the intricate web which makes up our present-day economic structure; it is also to realize that the economic structure through this web of economic structure is that any impact upon it in any industry and in any part of the world is sure to have its effect upon every element of that complicated structure. Whatever seriously affects the orderly flow of goods and services in the stream of supply and demand will come largely its effects in a very wide disturbance of business conditions; and it is these business conditions that so markedly affect the market structure of our economic life. Men in the oil industry who know are beginning to give more thought and attention to the buying power of the users of petroleum products. Increased consumption of these products will come only through increasing such buying power—which is but a short way of stating that expanding markets will come largely through economic recovery and growth. It can be shown also how the growth and expansion of "buying power" of the market can result and probably will result in a marked decrease in unemployment not only in Texas but elsewhere. Also, increased employment is a very important factor in increasing the general buying power and in the improvement of the general business situation. The position of the oil industry in Texas is one of great importance. It has been stated by those in a position to know that the oil industry in Texas gives direct employment to 120,000 people and that more than 500,000 in Texas depend upon this industry for a livelihood. In addition there are in the state thousands of filling station operators and oil field supply and equipment enterprises who are dependent upon the oil industry and thus upon the market for oil products. There is also the very large sums paid by the oil industry into the tax funds of the state. Furthermore the leadership of Texas in the refinery industry (See MARKET MIND page 6)

15-Months Infant Discovered With Poisonous Snake

A 15-months-old girl comes forward to dispute the inarticulate claim of Carter Ross Bennett, eight months old, of being the most fearless baby of the area. While the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bennett merely played with a poisonous scorpion and, later, lay four feet from a buzzing four-year-old rattlesnake, Emma Sue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Cowden, caught a venomous hogsnore reptile and squeezing its neck so that all it could do was wriggle ineffectually. The mother saw the child and screamed, which frightened the baby into dropping the snake. The hoghead, so called from its head resemblance to a pig, glided away in the grass. These snakes are supposed to be slow to anger, biting only when tormented. They are said to be extremely poisonous. The incident happened at the ranch house of the Cowdens, 32 miles from Midland.

ENFORCEMENT WITHOUT GUNS

A London magazine recently contained an article in which it was urged that the city authorities turn down proposals to equip London policemen with weapons, on the ground that such a step would incite criminals to carry arms also; and the news is interesting on this side of the water chiefly as a revelation that the police of the world's largest city have not so far found it necessary to carry arms on their ordinary tours of duty.

The reason, probably, is that the British policeman is backed up the law far more effectively than any officer in this country. When he makes an arrest, there is no district leader slipping in to police headquarters to get the charges against his man dropped; there are not a thousand loopholes in the criminal law by which an unscrupulous lawyer can free his man; there are not a lot of criminals who go untouched because they have influence.

The British cop very truly represents "the majesty of the law." He does not, as a usual thing, need to carry a weapon with him.

Some of the citizens thought this morning that Addison Wadley and Frank Haag had been in a fist fight; but the news soon got out that they rode to Lubbock and back in Prof. Lackey's rumbly seat, seeing the Tech game. It wasn't the ride over, it was the ride back in the motor that put them in the bottom of the car and banged them up.

The city health officer at El Paso announces that the time of the year has rolled around again, when people should cut out so much kissing. He says there are from 10,000 to 12,000 kids in El Paso, and that kissing is one of the most common cold carriers. Of course, Midland doesn't have such a population, but it might put up a good showing for cold scattering, in the percentage column, just for the winter months. It would suggest that all kissing be administered to the back of the neck.

CLARK GABLE AND JEAN HARLOW ARE CO-STARRED IN OFFERING AT YUCCA

One of the most anticipated productions of the new movie season comes to the Yucca theatre starting today with the co-starring appearance of Clark Gable and Jean Harlow in "Red Dust," a filmization of the Wilson Collison play.

CLARK GABLE

Gable, who still retains his title as the screen's most popular male star, and Miss Harlow of the sensational platinum blonde tresses, first appeared together in the racketeer melodrama, "The Secret Six," the story of which was laid in a large American city.

In "Red Dust," the locale is the picturesque region of Cocain, China, with Gable playing a hardened plantation foreman who has forced himself to become a gangster as a result of an effort to remain superior to his environment of deadly fever, tropical heat and treacherous natives.

To Miss Harlow falls the role of Vantine, born to the tropics, hard-boiled, perfectly at home on the plantation and equal in strength and animal pugnacity to the men. It is when the beautiful wife of an engineer comes to the plantation and is involved in a love affair with Gable that the jealous and fiery nature of this savage-like creature asserts itself and brings the action of the plot to a dramatically compromising situation.

Much of the advance praise of "Red Dust" emphasizes the perfect casting of this picture, Gable being perfectly fitted as the brutal rubber plantation overseer who is constantly engaged in vicious fights with his subordinates and thinks nothing of giving the coquettish Miss Harlow a slap across the face. Miss Harlow, likewise, is said to have a role that is even more made-to-order than her recent effective portrayal of "Red Headed Woman."

The "other woman" of the dramatic triangle is played by Mary Astor; Gene Raymond is seen as Gable's rival and the remainder of the cast is made up of Donald Crisp, Tully Marshall, Forrester Harvey and Willie Fung. The picture was directed by Victor Fleming, who scored with "The Wet Parade" and the Douglas Fairbanks success "Around the World in 80 Minutes."

Ruth Chatterton, Geo. Brent at Ritz

As his fifth directorial effort for First National Studios within two years, William Dieterle was awarded the Ruth Chatterton picture, "The Crash," adapted from the novel "Children of Pleasure," by Larry Barrato, which comes to the Ritz theatre today.

The direction of a Ruth Chatterton picture is conceded to be one of the highest honors on the First National lot. The selection of Dieterle to guide the destinies of the second starring vehicle for Miss Chatterton, following her sensational success in "The Rich Are Always With Us," is proof of the deserved recognition this talented director has gained since his ability was first demonstrated in "The Last Flight," the post-war story starring Richard Barthelmess.

George Brent, recently married to the star, who appeared with Ruth Chatterton in her last success, "The Rich Are Always With Us," is again her leading man. A typical Chatterton cast supports the star, including such distinguished players as Paul Cavanagh, Harold Albright, Henry Kolker, Lois Wilson, Helen Vinson, Barbara Leonard, Ivan Simpson, Richard Tucker and Virginia Hammond.

Games suggestive of Halloween were played. A fortune-teller received the guests in his tent. Pirates, army officers, clowns, gypsies, cowboys, geisha girls and Gandhi danced.

Decorations and refreshments bore out the Halloween motif.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Duard Scott, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Holster, P. Paul Barron, James P. Harrison, Herbert Allen Rountree, Mrs. L. B. Hankins, Celeste and Alma Lee Hankins and R. C. Hankins. Illness kept several from the party.

FOOTBALL SKETCHES

By R. C. HANKINS

We don't know any more about the following letter than you. Speed Bennett, who signs himself graduate athletic manager of Carnarie collegian stationery that shows a beautiful picture representing the college administration building in 1929 and only a shack in 1932 and advertises Greta Nissen as a teacher in the department of sexology, has the following to say:

"With so much being said and written about the 'forgotten man,' it is time for something to be done about the 'forgotten college.' I am writing you in the spirit of sport in the hopes that you will pick up the cudgels for dear old Carnarie.

"We have been overlooked by the leading university elevens, in their schedules for the present season. If we don't soon get a work-out our Rackety Rax team is going to get stale. We have only one game on our big schedule and that is with those low-lifers out at Lake Shore.

"Fordham, Pennsylvania, Notre Dame, Southern California, Tulare or Yale are some of the elevens we want."

"Of course we don't really blame these teams for passing us up. We did a lot of damage last year. But this year the rules have been changed, and while they do cramp our style we have, nevertheless, banded hitting in the cinches, arm locks and head holds. Tossitis, our full-back, who has at last learned to read, says in the paper that four men have already been killed this year under the new rules, and said if the 'moldering' is to go on, he'd like to do a little of the maiming himself.

"Maybe you can do something for Carnarie, the Puce and Green.

whose Rackety Rax team must get some action, if it's only a crocheting tournament."

A. Wadley of the long established golfing firm of Wadley, Roetger, Barrop & Tolbert, decided those Notre Dame "B" squadmen looked good enough. When the kamblers of South Bend trotted out on the field to play Texas Tech he rubbed his whiskers with one hand and fingered his bank roll with the other, we are told, and not only bet on Notre Dame, but gave six points to show his confidence. Then Tech proceeded to snow Notre Dame a thing or so about the famous shift pay of the latter institution, beating the visitors 39-0. About the Midland persons saw Tech run the B squad ragged. A pass for 58 yards was completed for the education of the 3,000 fans. Only the punting of Cavendar, halfback, kept the score from being worse. A Stanton boy, "Speedy" Motiet, loped 24 yards for one of the touchdowns when he intercepted a pass.

Here is a significant note: "The Notre Dame institution sent only a group of lesser lights to Lubbock, only the first 35 men of the Ramblers' squad of 140 was chosen to go east for the Pittsburgh game, the next best squad getting the call to take on Lubbock."

FLASH: Odessa called off its Saturday visit with Colorado.

Ablene finally got in motion, the Elephants tramping the strong Brownwood Lions 20-6. And the Oil Belt race proved more interesting as Breckenridge swamped Eastland 20-0.

How's this for performance? Two kickoffs were returned for touchdowns within 31 seconds accuracy to The Associated Press. The game was between Tech high and Jefferston high, one run being 80 yards, the other 82.

Decatur won the western division of the junior college loop Friday by taking a 3-0 decision over Weatherford, last year's state champion. The game was played in mid field most of the afternoon.

Chas. Green tells those who have kept their subscription paid on "The Sweetwater Reporter" that San Angelo can run backward and beat Midland." Jack Hawkins, writing in The Pecos Enterprise, says Pecos is rated slightly lower than Midland, but that the "glorious chance" is realized for giving the Doggies a beating.

Some notes from T. C. U.: Buster Brannon, signal barker for the Purple and White, celebrated his birthday last Saturday against Austin college when he scored three touchdowns against the Kangaroos. To bring his season's total to 25 points, Brannon was celebrating his 23rd birthday. Hubert Dennis has missed only two try-for-points-after-touchdowns this season. He made 12 perfect goals from placement out of a possible 14. Both misses occurred when Dennis was trying to kick into a strong wind.

Records are seldom placed on the books for minor events, so due to the fact that no records are available, Red Oliver may lay claim to two gridiron should-be records. In his three years of intercollegiate football competition Oliver has received three kick-offs and has returned every one of them for at least 30 yards. Only one of the three has failed to be a touchdown. Against S. M. U. in 1930 the carrot-top took the opening kick-off and raced 85 yards for a tally. Against L. S. U. in 1932 he again received the opening kick-off and raced 85 yards before being stopped, some ten yards from the goal line. Against Austin college last Saturday the flaming red head ran another kick-off back for 83 yards and a touchdown.

In the Frog-Kangaroo game, Oliver was in the game less than 30 seconds and scored 12 points. This feat has never been heard of before and may be a record. As soon as Oliver would make a touchdown he would toss aside his helmet and run for the bench. He was in the game for only two plays.

Market Mind--

should serve to increase the degree of oil-consciousness and market-mindedness of the state. Not only is Texas the leading refiner among the states but the petroleum refining industry is the largest of the states manufacturing industries; moreover oil refining apparently points the way not only to state expansion in oil refining but also to the development of other industries for which Texas produces large quantities of raw materials and for the effective development of which the state possesses many distinctive advantages.

In order to gain a better perspective of the position of Texas in the oil industry, it may be well to emphasize the fact that of the 48 states as is producing more than a quarter of the world's production of crude oil and nearly a third of the total oil production of the United States, whereas during the ten-year period 1901-1910 Texas oil production averaged only one-tenth that of the United States and as late as 1921-25 Texas was producing somewhat less than one-fifth that of the nation; these proportions are all the more significant when the increase in the total volume of production is taken under consideration.

"BEAT MIDLAND" CRY OF PECOS; GAME NOV. 4TH

PECOS.—"Beat Midland", memory reviving chant of the Pecos Eagles, was resounding again over the campus or the Pecos high school, this week as the Eagles gather all of their strength for their game with the Bulldogs at Midland.

Time was when Pecos' season was a success if they won only a single game during the year—their annual run-in with the Midland aggregation.

And fundamentally, conditions haven't changed very much.

The Bulldogs have had a so-so season this year, looking like the proverbial million dollars at times and on other occasions not looking so well. However, they are still a Class A team, and ordinarily a Class A outfit, even a poor one, has easy sailing against a strong Class B aggregation.

Pecos believes it will be different. Pecos is out this year to avenge all those times that a scrubby Pecos team fought its way out only to lose to a too powerful, too strong Midland aggregation. And Pecos has the power and the brains and the fight to do it if the Eagles will go in earnest, right every minute of the time, ask no quarter and yield no quarter, and do their best.

Chinese Intermarry With Moro Girls

MANILA, P. I. (UP)—Marriages between Oriental immigrants and Moros are increasing in Mindanao to the extent that a mixed-blood class of appreciable numbers is being created.

These marriages are so frequent that they promise to make important inroads into the pure stock of non-Christian Malays of the Southern Philippines.

Marriages between Chinese immigrants and Moros are common. Japanese in Davao also are reported to be taking Moro women as wives.

Teopisto Gutierrez, director of the insular bureau of non-Christian tribes, estimates that there are more marriages between Chinese and Moros than between Christian and non-Christian Filipinos.

He said most of these Sino-Moro marriages are between Moro women and Chinese men of the merchant class.

Both Chinese and Japanese, Gutierrez declared, frequently acquire land grants in the name of their Moro wives.

Although no official figures of marriages between Chinese, Japanese and Moros are available, Gutierrez believes inter-marriages between the two peoples are rapidly increasing.

PLAN MODIFIED

HOUSTON, Oct. 29. (UP)—The Humble announced modification of the recently promulgated plan to purchase 60 per cent and to store 40 per cent of oil. Hereafter, the company will purchase all of the oil of company royalty owners on company leases.

GRID STAR IMPROVED

BIG SPRING.—Paul "Mike" Roberts, husky Steer tackle who was taken from the Sweetwater-Big Spring game after purchase of a portion of the brain, has been removed to his home where he is recovering rapidly.

Roberts will likely return to school Monday after a week's absence.

MINISTER RETURNED

PECOS, Rev. C. V. Williams, pastor of the Methodist church, has been returned to Pecos for the ensuing year. The conference met at Roswell.

Rev. Williams is extremely popular. No other Methodist pastor has ever been left in Pecos by the conference for as long as four years.

Nearly 500 brands of tobacco are now being grown in the British Empire.
