House Passes Bill Extending Time For Paying Auto License Fees; More Time On Ad Valorem Taxes Asked

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS: The National Whirligig

WASHINGTON By Paul Mallon

Britain and France found out lately about Mr. Stimson's little international poker game on debts.

That explains the curious maneuvers you have seen recently from Paris and London. Poker Dick is a forthright man compared to the writers of official in-lane dispatches lately from Paris.

She can not be a party to that trick because she has an agreement with France.

Considerably more bluffing will be done before anybody shows his hand.

The French were on the verge of saying last week when they spoke to what Stimson was doing.

Our officials are certain payment will come from Paris before Feb. 4.

Program—A big public works program may be the inflationary step to grow out of the current Harrison hearings.

The boys have not decided definitely on it yet but that is what they have in mind to offset all this currency inflation stuff.

Other ideas will be added before the inauguration address.

AUSTIN, (AP)—By a vote of 128 to 3 the house Wednesday passed a bill to extend the motor vehicle registration fee payment period to March 1.

AUSTIN (AP)—A bill to relinquish penalties and interest on delinquent ad valorem taxes accrued on December 31, 1932, was introduced in the house Wednesday by Rep. Morrison of Terrell.

Public hearing on the bill introduced in the legislature seeking to obtain $500,000 of state funds to repay farmers of Howard and neighboring counties for losses due to pink bollworm regulations.

When that hearing is opened scores of farmers from this section ought to be on hand to give the committee a first-hand insight into the facts.

Let us hope that public sentiment will be applied so strongly to this bill this time that it will be passed by both houses of the legislature without amendments designed to kill it.

Another matter that Howard county should pay special attention to is redistricting; congressional, state senatorial, state representative and judicial district revision bills.

Rep. Harlee Morrison of Terrell has filed with the house clerk a bill providing redistricting for state senatorial purposes.

In its original form it ought to be brought by Howard county. We now are in the extreme south end of the large 30th district, which includes most all South Plains counties.

We ought to work through our representatives in the legislature to have a district carved that would place us with Mitchell, Martin, Andrews, Midland, Glasscock, Dawson, Gaines, Ector, Borden and perhaps Nolan and Scurry counties if possible.

Howard county is in the extreme western edge of the eleventh supreme judicial district, the extreme eastern edge of the sixteenth congressional district (the largest in area in the U. S.)

Other ideas will be added before the inauguration address.

House Votes For Repeal Of Marriage Law

AUSTIN, (AP)—By a vote of 93 to 38, the house passed a bill to repeal the law requiring three days' notice of intention to wed and physical examination of bridegrooms.

Supporters of the law claimed that the agitation for its repeal came from Texas ministers and county clerks along the border who were displeased with losing the marriage fees.

Man Arrested For Slaying In Lubbock

Accused Also Identified In Local Robbery

Lubbock Sheriff Makes Good Promise Given In Campaign

The pledge on which Sheriff Tom Abel was elevated to his first term as chief peace officer of Lubbock county has apparently been made good.

Abel's platform in recent elections was that he would have the slayer of Robert Tharp, former McMurry College athlete and assistant manager of a Lubbock grocery store, in custody within thirty days after he took office.

Paul Mitchell, alias Paul Masters, the accused slayer is now being returned by Lubbock deputies from Kingsville where he was arrested twenty-nine days after Abel's accession to office.

Mitchell has been positively identified from a photograph as the man who robbed the High School grocery here October 14, the night before Tharp was slain in a similar hold-up at Lubbock.

A signed statement by an Amarillo youth, who is being held in Lubbock as an accomplice, implicated Mitchell as the slayer and the man who made the raid here.

Employees here positively identified Mitchell as the man Tuesday, Abel, Deputy Sheriff Cap Moore, and John Zeller, state inspector of weights and measures, passed through Big Spring Tuesday enroute to Kingsville to return Mitchell to Lubbock.

Abel was here two weeks ago investigating in an effort to link the Big Spring and Lubbock robberies. It has been the belief of the Lubbock and Howard county sheriff departments that the man who held up the High School grocery here was the slayer of Tharp.

Mitchell, 24, was formerly a mechanic in Amarillo and is wanted in Tulsa, Okla., as a suspect. While being treated for gunshot wounds suffered in a gun battle with officers, Mitchell escaped from a Tulsa hospital.

Man Burned Severely At Local Dairy

Mrs. H. A. Pace Dies Wednesday Morning At Hospital

Mrs. H. A. Pace, wife of a Big Spring dairyman, was fatally burned and J. D. Cross, a helper, seriously burned as the result of a fire originating in a gasoline stove in a dairy plant east of town Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Pace died Wednesday morning. Cross is confined in a local hospital where he is suffering from burns about the arms and chest. Little hope was held for Mrs. Pace's life from the time she was rushed to the hospital Tuesday afternoon following the accident.

Mr. Pace said Wednesday that flames enveloped the two white Crows was working on the stove. Services will be held for Mrs. Pace Thursday 3 p. m. from the Methodist church with Dr. J. R. Spann in charge.

Howard would Be Placed In State Senatorial District With Counties To East By Terms Of Proposed Law

Howard county would be placed in the twenty-eighth state senatorial district with Taylor, Nolan, Mitchell, Jones, Fisher, Scurry, Borden, Dawson, Gaines, Martin and Andrews, county under provisions of a redistricting bill prepared by Rep. Harlee Morrison of Terrell and filed Monday with the clerk of the house.

Howard now is in the thirtieth district being located in the southwestern corner of a district which includes more than 20 South Plains counties, including Lubbock, Hale and Lamb, the most populous counties of that section.

Considerable opposition was expected to develop here against Morrison's bill as originally drafted. Howard county, many of her citizens feel, has been penalized too much in the past by being placed in the edges of various legislative and judicial districts.

Of the counties included in the district with Howard in Morrison's bill Scurry, Taylor, Nolan, Mitchell, Fisher and Jones now are in the twenty-fourth district represented by Wilbourn E. Collier of Eastland, who defeated Senator Oliver Cunningham of Abilene in the last election.

Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Andrews, Martin and Howard counties, included in the proposed new 28th district with the six counties now in the 24th district now form the southern section of the 30th district.

Morrison's bill would retain Dallas, Harris and Tarrant counties in districts to themselves, as at present, and the other large county, Bexar, also is assigned to a senatorial district. At present that district includes Bexar, Kerr, Kendall and Bandera counties. The bill, in its provisions for district No. 2, groups all the oil counties of East Texas.

The districts as designated are as follows: 1—Bowie, Red River, Franklin, Titus, Camp, Morris and Cass. 2—Marion, Harrison, Gregg, Upshur, Wood and Smith. 3—Panola, Rusk, Cherokee, Naconoches, Shelby, San Augustine and Sabine. 4—Newton, Jasper, Orange and Jefferson. 5—Tyler, Polk, Angelina, Trinity, Houston, Leon, Madison, Walker, Montgomery and San Jacinto. 6—Anderson, Freestone, Henderson, Van Zandt, Kaufman and Rockwall. 7—Lamar, Fannin, Hunt, Delta, Hopkins and Rains. 8—Grayson, Cooke, Dent and Collin. 9—Dallas. 10—Ellis, Navarro, Hill and Johnson. 11—McLennan, Limestone and Falls. 12—Robertson, Milam, Lee, Burleson, Brazos, Grimes and Washington. 13—Harris, Liberty, Chambers, Galveston, Brazoria, Fort Bend and Waller. 14—Austin, Colorado, Wharton, Matagorda, Jackson, Lavaca, Victoria, Calhoun, Aransas, Refugio and Goliad. 15—Travis, Williamson, Bastrop and Fayette. 16—Bell, Coryell, Bosque, Hamilton and Jones.

Brown Orders Air Mail Line Discontinued

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A number of changes in the air mail service went into effect Wednesday over opposition of the house post office committee.

The committee approved a resolution Tuesday asking Postmaster General Brown to halt on the changes until it could complete an investigation of the air mail service. Brown did not comply.

The changes included discontinuance of the San Antonio to Big Spring service in Texas.

Bird Hunter Kills Branded Coyote

LAMESA, (AP)—Bill Creighton, local hunter, reports that while on a bird hunt before the season closed he killed a branded coyote.

The animal had a brand on the right side and a V was cut in the left ear. The right ear was cropped and the tail cut off.

Creighton, who was with E. P. Dickie and C. D. Williamson of the William Dickie Manufacturing Co., of Fort Worth, said the brand was new to him.

A Scandal in Tammytown

A dispatch from New York City leaves the impression that to vote for the man of your choice in Tammany-ruled Gotham is a minor crime of scandalous proportions. Two federal grand juries and a New York county grand jury are investigating the recent municipal election in which John P. O'Brien, the pride of Tammany, defeated his republican opponent, Lewis H. Pounds, by a substantial vote. The victory of O'Brien, if we understand the dispatches right, is not the fly in the ointment. Investigators are examining thousands of rolls of paper from the automatic voting machines in an effort to determine just how many votes Joseph V. McKee received. McKee, who took over when Jimmie Walker went out, received more than 150,000 votes—every one of them written on the ballot by honest burghers who believed him the best man of the three. It seems to be a crime in New York to carry a pencil into the voting booth with you and write in the name of your candidate. You're supposed to pull a lever and "vote 'er straight."

Robinson called a caucus and got Tydings out to line. Aside from being untimely his resolution was also impracticable. Tydings was finally convinced of that fact and agreed to withdraw the resolution. Republicans refused to let the Democrats out of their hole so easily. They screamed for a vote and finally got it in indirect way.

Investigation

Personal trouble has broken again among members of the senate stock market investigating committee. The boys are threatening to make a scene about Chairman Norbeck's employment of Mr. Pecora as special counsel. They claim he is getting more than the $300 per month minus the 1-3 per cent general government salary cut. The matter is not important, except as further evidence of how that committee has functioned from the start.

Hoarding

The increase in hoarding during the last few weeks is not nationally significant. Authorities here attribute it to bank failures in the Chicago, St. Louis and California districts—not in those cities but in the districts surrounding. Other districts showed less hoarding.

Silver

The silver vote in the senate was not important as it appeared. The move was made by western silver boys who knew they did not have a chance. They did not care for the bank bill and took that opportunity to air their silver views. They were surprised they got 15 votes. That does not mean the senate is conservative as against inflation.

Notes

More cagey than the others in the Roosevelt entourage is Prof. Moley. He talked with newsmen for an hour during recent state department visits and said exactly nothing. Huey Long has no close friends on the senate committee investigating the late Louisiana election. The investigation was started by republicans and the democrats will probably have to go to bat for Huey whether or not they want to. Former Governor Byrd would succeed Glass in the senate but Walsh's successor is in doubt. One of the things Walsh wanted to know before taking the post was who would succeed him. The $700,000 cut in prohibition appropriations will not hurt enforcement materially although the department is up in arms about it. Every department howls when cut but if you think this cut makes any difference try taking a drink on Main street.

Discipline

The Stock Exchange made a record for itself by suspending six members in one day. The victims were by no means small-timers. They represented two of the most important member houses dealing in bonds.

Unfair competition was at the root of the punishment. By tipping page boys the houses in question got quicker service on quotations. Also an item of $15,000 for entertainment of customers entered into one case. This expense was interpreted as a rebate to customers which is strictly prohibited.

Investigation

The appointment of Ferdinand Pecora to mop up on the senate's stock market investigation causes no faster heart beats locally. Pecora is an able lawyer with first rate Tammany connections and knows how to obey orders. There is no chance of a prima donna act for him. The investigation is expected to continue along trivial lines.

Oil

Oil people are up in arms about a certain company which is a party to the proration agreement but has been piping quite a bit more oil than its quota calls for. They have found out that taxes have not been paid on the surplus production and the internal revenue office has been tipped off. The scrap will be kept out of the public eye if possible.

Aviation

A lively fight is brewing in the aviation field. General Aviation (owned by General Motors) has announced plans which would give them the whip hand in the whole industry. They have reckoned without Mr. Cord who has ambitions of his own. The Cord company has some 26 million dollars which it has accumulated out of successful stock market operations and these funds may come in handy for war chest purposes. Cord has no intention of being submerged by default.

Passports

One Levine, alias "Dr. Norman," has spread as much embarrassment among German officials as in official circles at Harvard. His arrest as Lecturer Normano has aroused vigorous inquiries as to how the appointment of a handler of forged drafts for nearly a million dollars was possible. How about his credentials? He had a Nicaraguan passport. It was so genuine that it had been bought through a German government agency. Despite his decidedly Gallician accent that made him a Latin-American anywhere if he observed the one restriction im-

A young people's institute scheduled to be held at the church has been postponed.

Fireman Nearly Make New Speed Record

CANON CITY (UP).—Local firemen came close to hanging up a new record for speed in getting to a fire recently. The garage, next door to the firehouse, caught on fire and the ladders were on the job in 10 seconds flat. It was the second best run the department has ever made. The record was established several years ago when a blaze started in the firehouse. At that time the department made a record that can never be beaten. The best that future firemen can hope for is a tie.

Engaged Woman Gets Salesman's Insurance

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UP).—A woman engaged to marry a man has an insurable interest in his life, according to a ruling handed down recently by Circuit Judge Leonard D. Verdler. The ruling resulted in a $15,430 judgment in favor of Mrs. Alice Schaeffer of Chicago on a damage suit for non-payment of a life insurance policy in which she was the beneficiary. The policy in question was taken out on Dec. 6, 1920 by Earl E. Leonard, a traveling salesman engaged to marry Mrs. Schaeffer. In the policy, she was listed as "Alice Leonard, wife." Leonard was killed in an accident on Nov. 4, 1921, just prior to their marriage date. Testimony in the trial brought out that the couple was forced to postpone their marriage to meet the requirements of Illinois law single a year after the decree is granted.

Religion Is Series Of Attitudes Says Doctor

HOUSTON, Texas (UP).—Religion, according to Dr. Horace M. Kallen, is a series of attitudes—fear, awe, love—that one generation transmits to another, and sometimes it serves as an opiate. Dr. Kallen, noted New York psychologist and leading exponent of pragmatism, expressed that opinion in a lecture here recently. When asked if he agreed with Karl Marx that religion is an "opium" for the people, he said: "Religions arrive in times of crises, and often function when nothing else will. Religion serves as an opiate when you have lost something dear, because it helps you bear that loss. If you fear death, it serves as an opiate on that dread. In calling it an opiate, however, you must think of the word opium only its effect and meaning, and not in its delusion."

Demand For Passports Shows Decline In 1932

ST. LOUIS (UP).—Twenty per cent fewer persons obtained passports for travel in foreign lands in 1932 than in 1931, records of the United States District Court here show. Last year 63 St. Louisans obtained passports, while in 1931 there were 1,008. May, when 350 passports were issued, and April, with 353, were the most popular months. October, with 21, was the least popular.

CHAPTER XX

The new show, "Heigh-ho," was practically ready to begin the road tour when Jim Blaine telephoned Sheila one morning in great excitement.

"I want you to have dinner with me," he said. "I've some news for you."

"What is it?" Sheila asked, instantly alert. The news must be good news because Jim's voice was as cheerful.

"Well, for one thing, Marion Randolph's out of the show. Oh—it happened suddenly! She's on a train now going west as fast as the engine can carry her. A sudden release from contract, she said, because of an offer from Hollywood. Mr. Abbott was so kind! But you know the line they hand out when they're fired!"

"An offer from Hollywood?" repeated Sheila. "That wouldn't allow her to break a contract. And who's Mr. Abbott?"

"He's the fellow who put up most of the money for this show. Didn't you know that? He's a friend of Miss Randolph's—or was! I guess that's over now. It seems she insisted they should fire me and instead he fired her. Anyhow—that's the story that's going around. The final crack-up was staged in her dressing room with the door ajar and half the cast heard it. She wanted him to get rid of me and Abbott said he would accept her resignation. So she's out now and I'm in."

"That's fine," Sheila told him. "I mean it's fine for you. Too bad for Marion to be out of a job because they're hard to get these days. Marion really was good in that part, too."

"Well, aren't you the sweet child!" Jim was grinning and Sheila knew it even though she couldn't see him. "Wasting sympathy on someone who made you lose your job?"

"I'm glad she didn't make you lose yours, Jim," Sheila said, laughing a little, too. "Even Marion won't get all the breaks and it never does anyone a lot of good to be so catty."

"You'll never know from experience," Jim said comfortably. "But what I called up to say is this: It's with the same producers. Your contract would hold, I should think, and it would be great to have you in the show!"

Sheila objected. "I couldn't do that—even if they offered me the part. I like the show. I'm in now, you know. And I like the road. We're leaving in a couple of days, you know. But it was nice of you to suggest it, Jim. I appreciate it."

"In half an hour I suppose half the actresses in New York who are out of work will be in the wings trying to get that role," Jim

That was either very sensible or very tragic. Sheila wasn't quite sure which. She was silent and Myrt, helping herself to more toast, was silent too. After a little she said:

"I suppose this sounds funny, coming from me, but I guess my setting days are over. Anyhow, George wants to be able to take me out now and then for the evening. This way I'll be free every other evening. The shop has some swell little models you'd like, Sheila. Better come and look them over."

"I will, Myrt. I need some things."

"Did I hear you turning down a Broadway job?" Myrt went on warily.

"You heard me turn it down to someone who hasn't the right to offer it to me. He just thought there was a chance I might be able to land it."

"You're still crazy about going on the road?"

"I guess so."

"Well, you know your own affairs but I guess you're just like George when he bought that new car. Wouldn't listen to anything I said."

"A new car? Oh, Myrt, that's fine!"

Myrtle's and George's romance had begun years ago. Myrtle, having stage aspirations, had refused to consider marrying George, who played the role of patient, plodding sweetheart to perfection. George had reappeared as a solid, prosperous individual with just a touch of patronage in his air when he regarded Myrt, well past her first youth.

"You'd better marry him, Myrt," Sheila suggested. "You'd better say 'yes' when he asks you."

"If you mean—"

"Myrt rose. "Is that the doorbell? I'm expecting the man from the cleaner's."

It was the doorbell and both girls hung over the balustrade with that cheerful expectancy a ringing door bell always arouses. They could hear Mr. plodding sweetheart along the hall, feel the gust of cool air as she opened the door and hear her ejaculations.

"Glorious! All those flowers? No, I don't know if she's home or not. Wait a minute. Sheila! Are you home?"

"I'm here," Sheila called. "Come on down, Myrt. Let's see who it is."

"I'll send them up," shouted Myrt.

Accident Fatal To Baylor U. Student

WAXAHACHIE (UP)—Blinding lights of an approaching automobile and rain on the windshield were given as causes of an unavoidable automobile accident on the highway between here and Italy, Texas, which resulted in fatal injuries to Jack Jones, 20-year-old Baylor University student of Mart.

Jones died in a Waxahachie hospital at 11:30 last night, three hours after the accident.

Charles Weathered, Waco, a fellow student of Jones' at Baylor, was seriously injured.

The two youths were pouring gasoline into the tank of Jones' automobile when they were struck by an automobile driven by Sam Gerber, Frost, Texas. No charges were filed against Gerber.

Jones suffered a broken back and both legs were fractured. Extent of Weathered's injuries is not determined.

Gerber told authorities the youths hid from view the rear lights of the disabled car and that an approaching automobile blinded him. A light rain covered his windshield.

The two youths were riding when the car ran out of gasoline. The girls were jarred but not injured. Funeral services for Jones will be held at Mart tomorrow.

He is survived by his parents, Mr and Mrs. C. E. Jones, and a younger sister, Charlotte.

D. A. R. To Dedicate Granite Memorial

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—Indian Territory Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, on February 22 will dedicate a granite marker commemorating the centennial of Washington Irving's visit to Fort Gibson.

The site near Okay, on the Verdigris River, where U. S. Highway 73 crosses the K. O. & G. railroad, marks five historical spots—the original road to Texas through which the first party of Crookes coming to this country landed, the head of navigation on the Verdigris, the Irving Trail, and the old Oange and Creek Indian agencies.

The marker is a granite slab, two feet high, three feet wide and 16 inches thick, suitably carved.

Phooey! Worry, worry and anything else connected with this business. Bucket may be known by: Personality, Line, Claudine, and minus a basketball. These identifications will guide you to none other than Lomax Leon Fuxxy Bucket Hare, the boy who had a night mare and talked about Claudine. Not comparing Claudine with a horse but just the same he dreamed of a night horse. When Mack came in and bopped him with a pillow Bucket said, "And there came up, the Fairy Prince, Bucket, known as Leo, the lion hearted, and dashed off on a donkey known as a white steed and bore his princess, Claudine, off to Coahoma to see the Steers beat itan."

No more Black and Gray. That's the way with these colors. William Gray and Madeline Black have called it a day and walked out on each other. Someone said they met outside and walked home together though. From all signs the Quixie Be King had better watch Gene Acuff cause the Black shadow is around. This looks like an endurance contest. Speck and Dot are going on their year and one-half of steady going. Dot-Speck is going some to say nothing of Dorothy. He heard it in Crane; Fern Petty of McCamey said Hello to lots, but especially R. V.; Slue Foot Hiram Little catches himself a dame in McCamey; Billy Widmayer has an entirely new victim, Bucket's Claudine; Such publicity, Claudine! the South Warden tries to kill the little Goodman girl by climbing a chair from the balcony instead of a paper wad; What did T. As seen anywhere: Rick-Jane affair about to unearth; Jake Morgan and Betty Barker, just hanging around; Dorothy Rockhold stepping out with J. C. Pickle during week-end, and Caroline trying to persuade Walter Bunker to crawl so she could have a four legged animal to take to the Scavenger party; all the boys discussing Bonnie Miller except Jack Dean and he has just finished. McCamey Girls Team Takes Tourney Title

The feminine division of the McCamey eagles came through with living colors in the annual Trans-Pecos tournament Friday and Saturday, winning from Big Lake 34-18 in the finale.

In the preliminaries, Crane defeated Rankin 17-14 and Big Lake downed Kermit 22-17. McCamey and Big Lake won the semi-finals by beating back Barnhart and Crane respectively.

Iris Twyford of Big Lake was named the most valuable feminine player while Claudine Trice of Crane and Opal and Geneva Haver of McCamey tied for runner-up choice.

"Oh! My English notebook! Where is my notebook paper? My new fountain pen is gone." How many times have you heard this cry or you yourself actually been through the experience?

The Wheel desires to start a movement against such practices. No one knows what has become of the missing articles, but they are gone. This is a disgrace to our school. A recent visitor to our school noticed the locks on the lockers. He asked what they were. He was surprised when he was told that they were to prevent the loss of their contents. It seems that here he came from they have open lockers and things are never disturbed from the time they are put in them until removed.

Can't the lockers in high school be that safe? Can't one put a valued article in his locker and find it there when he returns? Why not establish an honor system individually? Let the students have a pride in telling others that articles in lockers are safe as they would be in their own home.

ON TO AUSTIN

The last few years the Steers have established a reputation as a winning basketball team. It is not outstanding news when they win a game. They are expected to win. But when they lose a game, they have the usual discouragement from the fans and students. Certainly the Steers have had their share of winnings, and it is only natural to lose once in a while.

From fact-checked history there is the record of only one Steer team reaching the pinnacle of a chance at a state title; that was year before last's basketball team. Since then, we have won our district but advanced no further.

This year the Steers have branded themselves as potent state material by their outstanding victories. So far the students have given them fair support. The Wheel wishes to start the slogan "On to Austin." The support of the students is needed. If we ever win, now's the time. Let's support them with our unanxious support.

Dramatists Plan Three Plays Soon

Miss Brown, R. V. Jones and Ola Mae Hartman Directors. The Dramatic Club held a meeting Wednesday and discussed the work on the three plays that will be given in the near future. "Household Hints" a farcical sketch, directed by Ola Mae Hartman, describes a young girl who takes all the household hints that she finds in magazines and puts them into use. Her match-making brother, George, very proud of his talented sister. He brings a bachelor friend. Ois Tweed home and the things that happen to him create one laugh after another.

Bud Frumble, the young girl, is played by Polly Thomas, George, her brother, is played by T. F. Collins. Ois Tweed, the bachelor, is played by Melvin Legg. The part of Aunt Eulalie Frumble is taken by Elnora Guthrie.

The other two plays are equally as interesting according to Miss Nell Brown the sponsor of the Dramatic Club. "A Pair of Lunatics," is directed by Miss Brown and "Dreams," is directed by R. V. Jones.

Steve Ford, Jr., Host To Friends

Steve Ford, Jr. entertained his friends with a very interesting and exciting scavenger hunt at his home in Edwards Heights, Saturday night.

The prize of box of candy was awarded to Maxine Thomas, Sim O'Neal, Marguerite Tucker and Lane Hudson. They were the two couples that found the most articles and were the first to arrive at the Ford home with their loot.

Roll Call System Is Called Success

The system of roll call now employed by the teachers has been inaugurated with success. It is now a permanent part of the school's procedure for the student's presence to be checked every morning at the first period and the first ten minutes of each morning at the first period each afternoon by his first period teacher.

Eight Make 'A' Average

Only One Boy, Harry Jordan, Among High Ranking Group

Through the check-up of the Wheel, it is found that the average run of grades is a B. The majority of the students had A's and B's with a few C's which pulled down the average of a great many students who otherwise are A and B pupils.

In a check-up Tuesday it was found that seven girls and only one boy made an A average for the past semester. In that number there were three seniors: Jane Tinsley, Erin Ely, and Ruth Cotten. The others were Harry Jordan, Margaret Tucker, Dorothy Dublin, Junior; Fern Smith, sophomore, and Bobby McNew, freshman, Margaret Wade, a junior from Colorado, also made an A average at that city.

Following is the record available Tuesday afternoon as compiled by the Wheel: Last 6 weeks of term: Straight A: Erin Ely, Marguerite Tucker, Eva Mae O'Neal, Harry Jordan, Margaret Wade, Fern Smith, Dorothy Dublin, R. Six High Scorers In Typing Compete At Colorado Friday

The six pupils who had the highest individual record in typing for this year met their competitors of Colorado last Friday afternoon in the first practice contest. Big Spring had the highest average in speed, but owing to the new state rules for grading in accuracy, Colorado won the contest.

The ranking of the six participants now is: Let team: Mona Jean Turner, Margaret McDonald and Nell Tinsley; 2nd team: Ruth Mellinger, Dorothy Payne, and Dorothy Dublin.

Shots From The Showers

By TOM BEASLEY. Big Spring High basketballers coped another trophy Saturday night from their host team, the McCamey Badgers, 24-31. Big Lake and Iran taking third and fourth places respectively.

Big Spring's prowess was recognized in selection of the all-tournament boys' team by sports writers and participating coaches, the local team placing Hare and Townsend on the all-star five along with Gambill of Big Lake, Russell of Iran, and H. Barnett of McCamey.

Homier Barnett, McCamey's star center, was awarded a trophy as the best all-round player of the meet.

It is understood around Big Spring that Elmer Cross, San Angelo sports writer, is praying for the day when George Brown will die of old age and give the San Angelo Bobcats a chance to compete for basketball laurels.

Mr. Cross expresses a great desire for a team like the Big Spring club. We are quite sure he does. He's not the only one. The Steers haven't lost a single tournament since George Brown has been coach.

It's too bad Blundy got so worked up over the Steers' absence at San Angelo's tournament. There's no use in Big Spring's wishing all of the trophies, but we do wish the Bobcats could have made the McCamey meet.

Tournament for the basketball championship of the western half of District 8 will be held at Colorado February 17 and 18. Last year it was staged in the Big Spring gym.

Rooms will be provided for the coach and ten players who have been certified by the county athletic director as county champions.

Drawing will be held at 4 p. m. immediately after. A 25c fee must be paid to R. D. Green of Abilene for each player entered.

Trophies to winning teams, and also to members of the all-tournament team will be furnished.

Senior Student To Lead Orchestra

Elmo Martin, a senior, has definite plans abroad for organizing an orchestra which will play under the name of the High School Orchestra. Big Spring High School has been without a music organization for several years. These students who are interested in the organization feel that it will fill a definite need in the school.

Prospective members of the orchestra are: Mary Settle, piano; Bill Dehlinger, cornet; Evelyn Jones, cornet; Pete Butts, guitar; Paul Warren, saxophone and clarinet; Bill Thomas, saxophone; John Wayne Brown, bass; Dwayne Ory, drums; Howard Whitehead, clarinet; Sim O'Neal, clarinet; John A. Vines, vocal.

The regular members of the orchestra will be chosen from them. Proposed plans call for a practice session every Tuesday night.

Exhibition Game Dropped On Eve Of McCamey Meet

The Big Spring basketballers won the annual Trans-Pecos basketball tournament at McCamey Saturday night, noosing out the Badgers 34-21.

After dropping an exhibition game 34-14 to McCamey Thursday night, the locals staged a comeback to swamp Odesa 54-14 in a first round of the tournament opener Friday morning.

The locals capped the championship in the first half. The Bobcats led 9-2 in the first period, and 20-8 at the half. The Badgers threatened the third quarter as Reed and H. Barnett teamed together in a scoring spree. In the fourth period Smalley sank a goal from the sideline to narrow the margin 33-30. With less than half a minute to go, Leo Barnett dropped in a free toss to counter 31-28, but Hare retaliated with another, the locals leading 34-31 at the end.

Big Spring topped Big Lake by the narrow margin of 34-31 in their semi-final.

The Big Lake-Odesa and McCamey Fort Stockton clashes featured the first day's games. Good crowds attended with all games moving along smoothly.

Big Spring led 13-7 at the quarter, 27-9 at the half, 44-11 at the third period and ended on top 64-14.

McCamey defeated Fort Stockton 40-13 after the Badgers had downed Crane 36-7 earlier in the day.

Big Lake stopped Odesa 44-22; the Iran Braves dumped Rankin 41-29. The Ramblers stopped Barnhart 24-14 in their first round games.

The Iran Braves fought McCamey to a standstill in a major portion of the semi-finals, weakening in the last few seconds of play to give the host team a 29-25 victory. The game was a neck and neck affair that seasawed from start to finish.

In the sub-championship, Big Lake beat back Iran 44-25 for third and fourth honors respectively.

Magician Gives An Exhibition

Laurant, the magician, brought forth desires from the student body as they watched him perform his magic tricks to return some of their own lost articles which have mysteriously disappeared.

Laurant, recently returned from the Orient, devoted the majority of his program to the performing of oriental conjurer's magic.

Laurant was presented through the auspices of the English Department before a large crowd. Students from all the ward schools, High school, and Junior High attended.

His tricks consisted of the disappearing acts of cloth, rings, and pigeons. His rope cutting and ring entangling were the features of the program. During the performance he called several students to the stage for aid and featured them in acts.

David Hopper, former Big Spring star athlete was invited for winter football training at Baylor University. He was a star in football, basketball, and track while attending school here. Here's luck to Hopper. We hope he goes over in a big way.

Buren Edwards, student at Texas University, was invited to write track. He was a star in track and basketball here.

Bill Stamford has made the Longhorn Band at Texas University.

The Daily Lariat, Baylor University: Slang? You Betcha! Yes, Baylor students use slang, there is no denying it! Probably the ten most popular phrases are: 'Nertz', 'O Kay', 'Scram', 'Whaa Suction', 'You're Telling Me', 'Gripes', 'Hot-Cha', 'Ain't It So', 'Don't Be Silly!' and 'Goleha, Baylor'.

These 10 expressions occurred the most number of times in this given by a large number of students on the campus, and were chosen to be sent in answer to a request from president of the Funk & Wagnalls Company, who are making a survey of college slang.

Baylor College, Belton, Texas: We see where Doctor Hardy speaks in chapel on the subject of "How do you waste your time." He remarks that high school students who linger at home and do not enter college some where immediately following graduation are wasting their time. Then also there are those who enter but do not take advantage of the opportunities which college offers.

Then he asked: How do you spend your leisure moments? Do you spend your time in idle moments, in careless conversations, discussing idle rumors, reading trashy books, sleeping, or things of that kind?
