Bulletin

DALLAS, Dec. 8. (UP)—Attorneys battled today in the trial of Toy G. Woolley over testimony of a gun salesman that a shotgun could be fired without having the trigger pulled.

LITTLETON, O., Dec. 8. (UP)—Donald D. Smith, 30, farmer, confessed today to the slaying of Mrs. Donald Jr., 3, in a fit of jealous rage, police announced.

Possibility of paving many Midland residential streets at a "ridiculously low price" and affording property owners a chance to improve and beautify their premises and considerably alleviate the local unemployment problem, was held out in a suggestion made at a called meeting of the city council today.

Councilmen unanimously voted to approve the plan offered by Ralph Earson which, briefly is this: Property owners will be invited to contract with the council offering to grade and gravel the streets, or to lay 40-foot paving with curbing on a caiche base, the property owners agreeing to pay costs only of material. Free labor would be furnished and it is believed the state might furnish supervision.

Approval of such a project has been secured from state and federal departments, and it "up" to Midland residents to make their own decision. As most of the work would be "hand labor," an avenue would be opened for many to find employment. It is believed.

Mayor Goodman will be out of the city for several weeks, his family moving to Chicago for the winter, and the school year. He plans to be here about the middle of January, but will get out all letters to property owners and those asking estimates on paving costs before going to Chicago sometime next week.

Medicinal Whiskey Status Unchanged, At Least in Texas

Formal repeal of national prohibition caused no change from the method used here for the last three months in handling medicinal liquors. And no change is expected.

That the physician is in active practice and is not a narcotic addict; That a careful personal examination be made of the person to whom a prescription is issued.

That the doctor not be financially interested in the drug store where the prescription is filled; That prescriptions not be given for more than a pint of alcohol at any one time.

The "pint of alcohol" is interpreted to mean one pint of any liquor. The "at one time" phrase has never been definitely settled. Some take this to mean one pint a day but the law simply says "one pint at a time."

Medicinal liquor, exclusive of the prescription cost, sells here at from $1.50 a pint for alcohol and $3.50 and $2 for blended whisky to $1.50 a pint for the genuine aged in the wood and unblended brands. The blended whiskey contains wine, brandy and whiskey to bring its proof to 90, a druggist explained.

AMERICAN AUDIENCES NEED A VOICE

If there is anything this country needs, it is a person who will be brave enough to lead the American audience out of its state of placidity and forbearance. For if there is any group of individuals that has suffered from the strain of all sorts of public speakers, it is the American public. The other day came the climax, the final stinging blow, to this great tolerant tribe. Eva Le Gallienne and Ethel Barrymore, leading actresses in their own right, rose before a meeting of Philadelphia women and hurled a bolt of temperamental rebuke at them. It was unexpected. It was devastating. It left the audience cowed and dazed. All the comment that could be heard from the women, as they left the auditorium, was a vague "impudent" and "insolent," to ease their feelings. No one got up at her seat to berate either of the speakers. They simply took it, as nearly every other audience has taken it from year to year, without protest. Of course, this is an extreme case. But in its extremity it is an excellent example of the lengths to which speakers will go in haranguing their listeners without incurring their open displeasure. It shows how docile, how unprepared, how tractable the American audience is. Yet it should not be so. No speaker is infallible. No public character—not even the great Barrymore—is perfect. Yet speakers do not hesitate to tell their audiences from the rostrum things they might think twice to utter on the same level. They do so, safe in the knowledge that not one of that placid mass before them will have the courage to get up and challenge their remarks. Some day a liberator will arise. Some days someone will lead the American audience out of its lassitude, toward a type of expression so sorely needed to protect itself against the declamations of self-appointed authorities.

WORKS BOTH WAYS

A citizenry imbued with the spirit of '76 is needed, if the country is to cope successfully with gangsters, according to the International Police Chiefs' Association in recent convention. The police chiefs ask, in effect, that every citizen "put himself on the spot" and banish all fear of testimony against gangsters. And citizens, on their side, plead with police all over the country to afford every protection to the person daring enough to take such risk. It undoubtedly is true that scores of citizens who could give evidence against racketeers and gangsters are held back from such action by fear of consequences. And rightfully so. No man or woman cares to invite a shot in the dark, just because he did his civic duty, especially when he suspects that a policeman is likely to look the other way because the shooting was done by someone "in good" with the Big Boss. Give our citizens protection and they will do their part. But the police have been far from diligent enough in their pursuit of gangsters to give us the confidence we need to step up to the witness stand and tell our stories without fear of deadly reprisal. One reads of Edward Floyd, aged almost 13, that he has built himself an automobile, with a gas tank holding a pint of gas, for $13; and, says Edwards with justifiable pride, "she can go eight miles an hour." Some who have started cautiously across an apparently empty country road and narrowly escaped being run over, will wish that Edward had the making of all automobiles.

LEGALIZED BETTING IN TEXAS GOES FORWARD WITH ADDITIONAL INTEREST

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—Legalized betting on horse racing is catching on rapidly in the Lone Star State. Success of the recent 21-day Arlington Downs meet, which saw a $2,795,335 turnover in the parimutuels, is furnishing the stimulus. Other tracks and other tracks now are in prospect. The second racing event in the state since betting was legalized last spring opened Thanksgiving day at Epson Downs, at Houston. Its opening date was slightly over a month after the close of the Arlington Downs races, Nov. 11.

San Antonio Plans Track An order also has been issued for preparation of the state fair race track at Dallas for possible use next year. At San Antonio, there is a movement to establish a track in that city.

In addition, the Arlington Downs track already has announced a meet for next spring, from March 29 to April 21, another 21 day event. The management, encouraged by the large crowds which saw its fall meet, is raising the price of its purse for the spring meet and is offering a $10,000 added purse for the feature race, the Texas Derby. The minimum purses probably will be about $700 to $800.

Average attendance at the meet was 9,000 daily, with its largest day attracting 35,000, which overflowed the stands and grounds. The track and stands both are being extended.

Derby Training Ground Owners of the Arlington track hope to make it a training ground for the Kentucky Derby and East-coast tracks. The spring meet will come between the New Orleans spring events and the Kentucky Derby. Announcement of the spring Arlington meet also inaugurates a program for semi-annual races at the track.

The governor's step in naming Guy T. Waggoner, who with his father and brother own the Arlington track, as State Racing Commissioner is heralded in sporting circles as a great step toward putting Texas racing on a par with the best in the nation.

CONFUSION ENDED ON BRAN

New Ruling Corrects All Labels

To protect the buying public, the United States Food and Drug Administration has advised that every package of cereal labeled "Bran" state on the label exactly what it contains.

Before this ruling, even part-bran products were sometimes mistakenly referred to as "Bran." It was not easy for the purchaser to distinguish between a cereal that was entirely bran, or all bran with flavoring, and another that was mostly wheat.

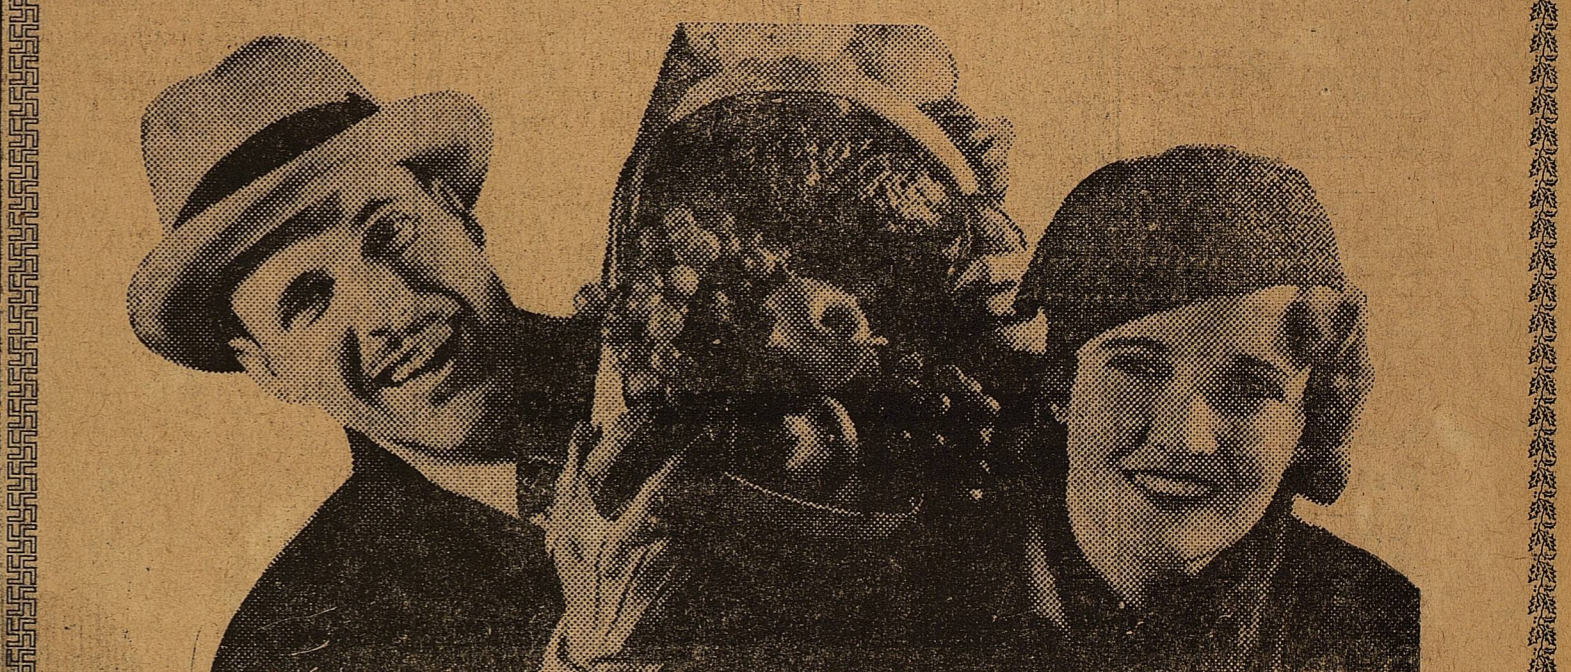

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is labeled "ALL-BRAN Deliciously Flavored with Malt, Sugar and Salt," a statement which describes the product fairly and honestly.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has won millions of friends because it corrects most types of common constipation safely and pleasantly. It furnishes generous "bulk"—needed to promote normal elimination.

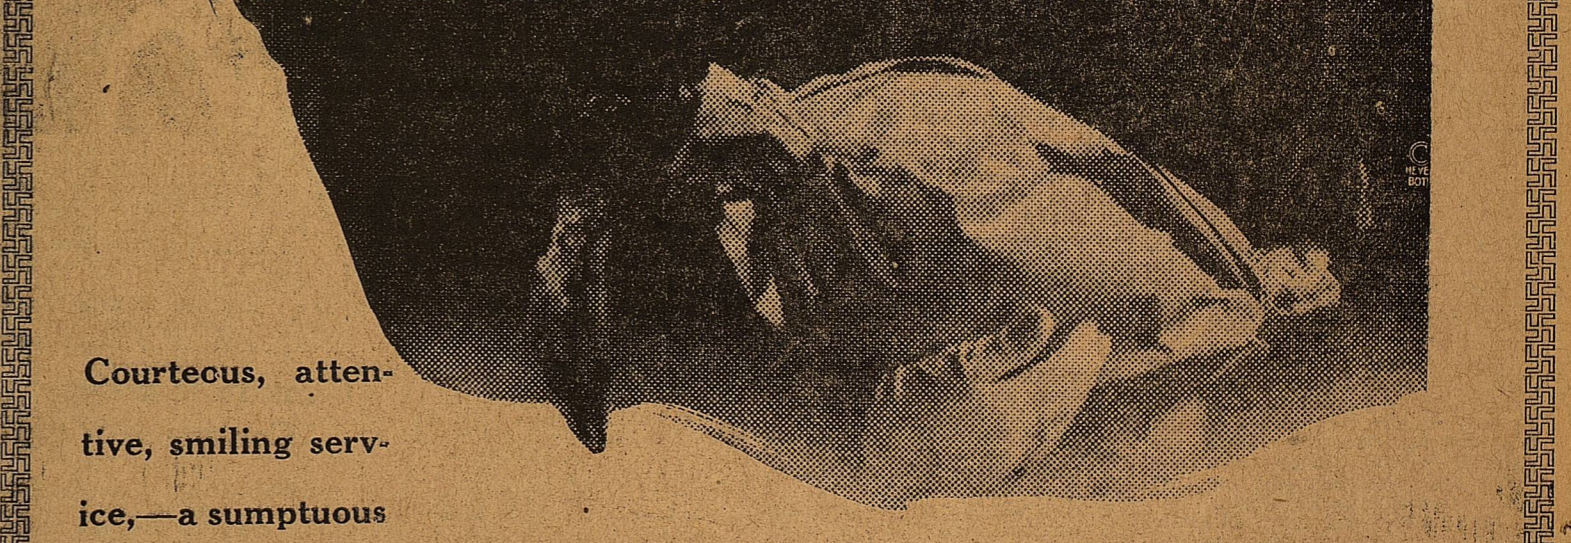

However, ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all." Certain types of intestinal disorders should be treated only on a physician's advice.

When you buy a bran cereal, for the relief of constipation, read the wording on the package. The facts are there! Make sure by asking for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It furnishes "bulk" in concentrated form for satisfactory results.

Sensational Hit

Mae West, who "scorched" the nation with her first starring picture, "She Done Him Wrong," became a national idol, and then took Paris by storm and revolutionized feminine styles, comes back to town Saturday night with her new picture, "I'm No Angel."

It is booked for showing preview Saturday night, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Ritz theatre.

From every standpoint, "I'm No Angel" is a better picture than its predecessor. Miss West is even more colorful as Tira, the Million Dollar Beauty, who tames savage lions and men with equal facility, than she was as the diamond bedecked Lady Lou Fararamount in the second production of its greatest star an excellent cast, smart direction and gilded mounting.

Mae sings seven "scorch songs," dances the midway, as a remarkable dancer in which she moves everything except her feet; puts her head in a lion's mouth; utters a succession of breezy wisecracks which probably will be heard everywhere, as was "Come up and see me some time"—until another West picture brings us some more Westisms.

"I'm No Angel" is a superior picture to "She Done Him Wrong" because it was written directly for the film by Miss West. It takes her on a magnificent journey from a dancer in a cheap carnival show to national fame as the gorgeous Tira, Million Dollar Beauty, courted by society men.

Since Miss West has set the winter fashion mode, it should be duly chronicled here that in "I'm

No Angel" she does not wear the extreme gown of yesterday, as she did so charmingly in her previous picture. She appears in smartly modish clothes of the day—that is, when she is not making a handsome appearance in silken tights—and she always presents a luscious, eye-filling picture.

Her supporting cast is well chosen. Cary Grant, who was her "tall, dark and handsome" in "She Done Him Wrong," plays a similar role in the new attraction, and gives his customary good performance. Kent Taylor plays a second lead. Edward Arnold and Ralf Harolde have notable roles. Gertrude Michael is Mae's love rival. Dorothy Peterson, Russell Hopton, William B. Davidson, Irving Pichel and Walter Walker round out the cast.

Wesley Ruggles, who directed "Condemned," "Cimarron" and "College Humor," handled Miss West most capably.

SNAKE OF DREAMS REALLY EXISTED IN THIS RATTLER

KERVILLE, Cal. (U.P.)—A snake such as is associated usually with bad dreams was killed near here recently by Bill Walker, Jr., of Keville.

The reptile, a rattlesnake, was six feet one inch long, weighed 25 1-2 pounds, had 14 rattles, and was an albino. Its eyes were pink and its body a mottled pink and red.

The snake's body was sent to University of Southern California for study.

BURGLAR WAS POLITE

SEATTLE (U.P.)—A polite burglar entered the apartment of Harold Pebbles, attorney, Mrs. Pebbles heard the door open and she shouted for him to leave. "Beg pardon, madam," was the midnight caller's answer and he departed.

NEW FORD V-8 for 1934

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The New Ford V-8 for 1934 will be on display tomorrow at the showrooms of Ford dealers. Surpassing even the great Ford of 1933 in economy, beauty and comfort, it is truly the car of this modern age—the culmination of thirty years Ford progress. It combines the proved performance of the V-8 cylinder engine with two important new features—Dual Carburetion and perfected Clear-vision Ventilation. See it and drive it at the first opportunity.

OUTSTANDING IMPROVEMENTS IN THE NEW FORD V-8

BETTER PERFORMANCE. Greater power, new speed, quicker acceleration, smoother performance, more miles per gallon especially at higher speeds, and quicker starting in cold weather—all these result from the new dual carburetor and dual intake manifold. New waterline thermostats enable the engine to warm up more quickly and to maintain an efficient operating temperature. Added engine refinements reduce oil consumption, further improve operating economy and reduce maintenance costs.

NEW VENTILATION SYSTEM permits clear vision, prevents drafts and provides desired amount of fresh air in any weather. Individual control for front and rear side windows. When ventilation is desired the window glass is raised to the top. Then the handle is given an additional half-turn. This slides the glass back horizontally to form a narrow slot, as illustrated.

Through this slot air is drawn out by the forward motion of the car. This simple ventilation system maintains draft-free circulation, insures passenger comfort, prevents fogging windshield in cold or stormy weather. Both windshield and cowl ventilator can be opened to supply additional air needed for comfortable warm-weather driving.

DISTINCTIVE NEW APPEARANCE enhanced by the newly designed chromium-plated radiator shell and grille, new hood louvers, new hub caps. Interiors are attractive, with new tufted upholstery, new mouldings, new cover-type headlining, new instrument panel, new arm rests, new hardware. Swivel-type sun visors in De Luxe bodies prevent glare from front or side.

FENDERS IN COLOR. On De Luxe cars fenders are in color to harmonize with body colors—wheel colors optional. New enamel finish on all bodies and fenders has greater wearing quality and more enduring luster.

GREATER RIDING COMFORT results from increased spring flexibility. The spring leaves are newly designed for quieter and easier action. Shock absorbers are improved. Seat cushions are deeper, with new, softer springs. New type individual bucket seats provide increased comfort for front-seat passengers in the Tudor Sedan. Adding to comfort is the new driving ease of the 15-to-1 steering gear ratio.

PRICES REMAIN LOW—Tudor Sedan, $535, Coupe, $515, Fordor Sedan, $585, De Luxe Tudor, $575, De Luxe Fordor, $625, De Luxe Coupe (5 windows), $555, De Luxe Coupe (3 windows), $550, De Luxe Roadster, $625, De Luxe Phaeton, $550, Cabriolet, $590, Victoria, $610. Factory Workers Hold Best Seats At Soviet Opera

MOSCOW. (U.P.)—The Soviet ballet and opera houses this season have revived the pre-revolutionary institution of box-holders and seat-holders.

Instead of grand-dukes and millionaires, however, favored boxes and seat are held exclusively for the season by various factories. Deserving workers see the best "udarniks" or shock-brigades, occupy the reserved places as a reward for their loyalty.

The "diamond horseshoe" in the Bolshoi Opera-house in Moscow, including the imperial box in its very center, now is reserved for the entire season by the workers of local factories. Similarly certain seats in the orchestra section are set aside for specific plants.

Theatre Inscriptions

Neat placards on the back of such seats, or on the doors of boxes, carry inscriptions such as these:

"Seat belongs to shock-brigades of Rodsky Factory."

"Reserved for the Electrical Factory."

Ordinary theatres as well as the ballet and opera are adopting the same system of reservations. Thousands of workers, who never have ventured into a theatre, thus are "initiated" into the arts as a reward for particularly devoted work.

The ballet and opera, especially, frequently are a brand-new experience for the new occupants of the diamond horseshoe. Many of them are fresh from the villages, without sufficient city clothes. They sit a little bewildered in the red-plush seats amidst the gilded glories of the Moscow Opera-house.

Hard to Detect

The real "proletarian," who has lived here a long time, feels entirely at home at the ballet. He usually arrives with his wife or girl-friend, both dressed in their holiday best, and are not to be distinguished from the official workers, engineers and officials around them.

The days when workers and peasants came to the theatre in their work-clothes practically are over. It is no longer considered "bourgeois" to dress neatly. Theatre audiences in Russia are in consequence not as picturesque as they were in the early years of the revolution, but much cleaner looking.

Collectors of Tin Soldiers Mobilize

PARIS. (U.P.)—Ten thousand soldiers have been mobilized quietly at the Invalides and silently go through their maneuvers within these gray and ancient walls.

Mobilization has been successfully effected by the Society for the Collectors of Tin Soldiers, and there is no branch of warfare not represented in the daily exhibit now open to the public.

Visitors to the mobilization grounds will find the infantry, artillery, siege artillery, trench mortars, ambulance units assembled in full battle equipment and ready for action. They also are machine gunners, engineers, cavalry and field artillery.

Review of Uniforms

One section of the exhibit of tin soldiers is devoted to a perspective of French uniforms from Jeanne d'Arc up to 1933. There are cross-bows and pikes and chainmail of Jeanne's soldiery. The perspective leads through Francois I and II and Henry IV and through Louis XIV's war with Holland—blue and white uniforms, flaring coats, lace cuffs, business like swords and long awkward looking pistols.

Louis XVI's period is represented in infantry alone by uniforms from 49 regiments; those of Picardy, Normandy, Erie, Blaisois, Navarre, Poitou, Bearn, Ile de France, Lorraine, Burgundy and others. There are detachments from several of Louis' artillery regiments and eight cavalry platoons, including the Royal-Allemand.

Napoleon's Soldiers Here

The French Revolution and Napoleonic periods are represented and several individual collections give perspectives of French soldiery through various periods, not to mention examples of non-French troops Russian, Austrian, Mexican, Swedish, Irish and Scottish mercenaries.

As for the drama of the tin soldier exhibition at the Invalides it is evident in action scenes, accurately produced to the finest detail. There are reproductions of the battle of Valmy in 1792, and the terrific charges across a meadow of Napoleon's Grenadiers at Aena are startlingly lifelike. The warfare at Chemin des Dames and Verdun and the Battle of Waterloo are depicted with great movement.

Red Bean and Rice Rank Among the Famous Foods

NEW ORLEANS. (U.P.)—The most famous dish in New Orleans, famed for its French and Southern cooking, is composed of red beans and rice according to Gaston Alcotire, of the Hotel Monteleone restaurant.

"The beans," said Alcotire, "should be soaked all night and then cooked to a point where they are creamy and no longer like beans. Seasoning is important and ham is most frequently used as seasoning for red beans here."

Ten Cents Worth of Seed Resulted in Record Crop

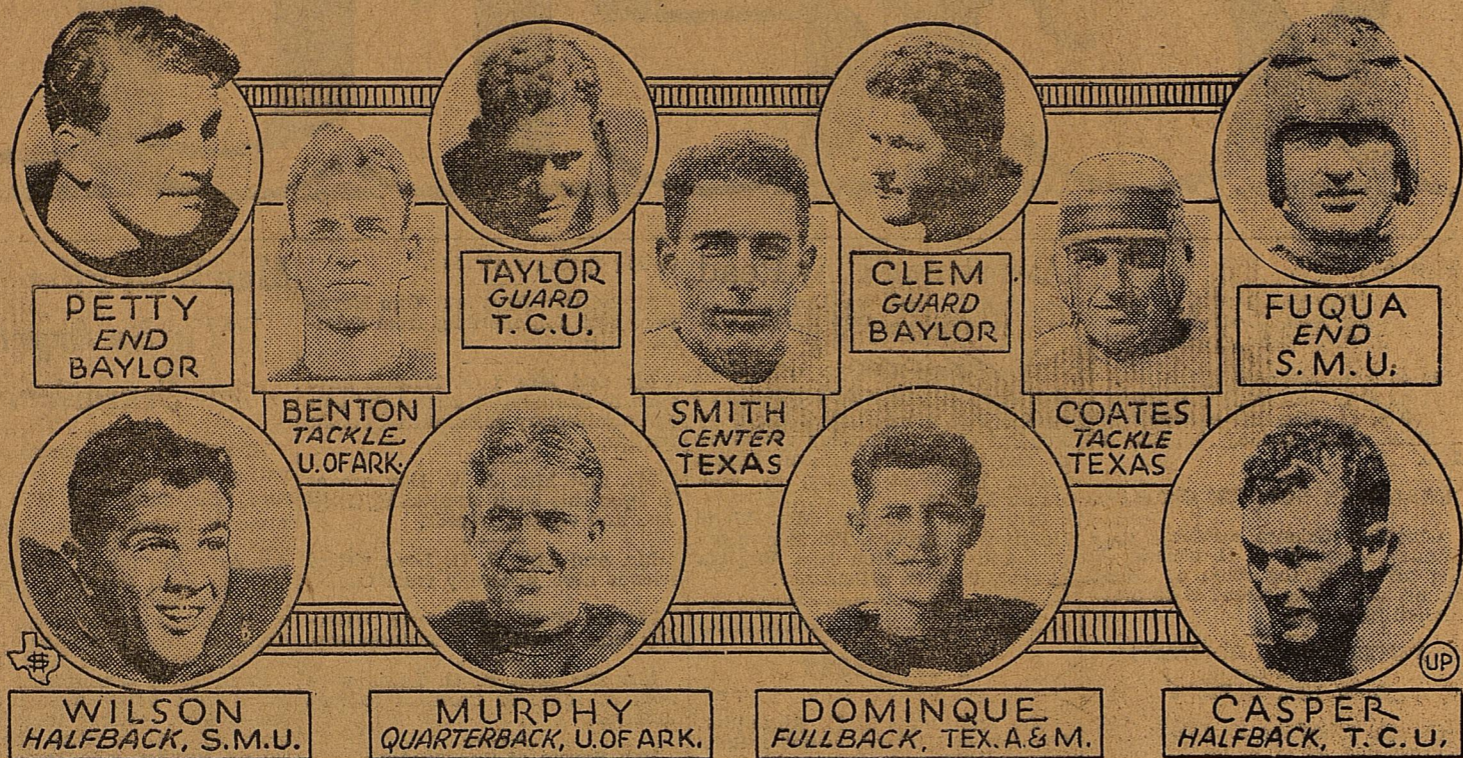

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (U.P.)—Christ Freeman, a farmer, planted ten cents worth of turnip seed, that grew into a crop which was considered record breaking.

Some of the turnips weighed 6½ pounds with the "scrubs" ranging downward to four pounds.

Freeman said that when he plied the turnips from his ten cent investment he could hide a motor truck behind the vegetables.

Among all young women who die between the ages of 15 and 30, one out of four dies of tuberculosis—a human sacrifice to ignorance and indifference. Money paid for Christmas Seals helps spread the knowledge that saves lives.

Texas News Photo—United Press All Southwest Conference Team

Here is the All-Southwest conference football team for 1933, selected by the United Press and Texas News Photos as a symposium of opinions of the coaches and sports writers of the conference. Murphy, stellar Arkansas quarterback, and Clem of Baylor were only men to receive unanimous choice. Fuqua of S. M. U. was closely pushed for his position by Rucker, rangy Arkansas end, and James of Texas A. & M. by Kitchen of T. C. U.

and Witt of Rice. Domingue's fine playing in the Aggie-Tulane game early in the season had much to do with his selection. Hilliard of Texas and James of Baylor, who made the U.P.-T.N.P. all-conference team last year, ran

Nine Famous Men Who Won Battles Over Tuberculosis Are Sponsor Xmas Seals

NEW YORK. (U.P.)—Nine distinguished Americans, all of whom at one time or another have won a personal battle with tuberculosis, are sponsoring the twenty-seventh annual Christmas seal sale which started throughout the country on Thanksgiving day with 2,084 local associations participating. The announcement was made here today at the office of the National Tuberculosis Association.

Members of the national committee are: Eugene O'Neill, playwright; Roger W. Babson, statistician; Harold Bell Wright, novelist; Irving Fisher, political economist; Charles Wakefield Cadman, composer; Will Irwin, author; Hobart Bosworth, motion picture actor and director; and Dr. William Charles White, chairman. Dr. White is president of the medical research committee of the National Tuberculosis Association.

In consenting to act, several members of the committee accompanied by their acceptance with personal statements.

Will Irwin: "Glad to act on your committee of ex-tuberculosis victims. I am proud of my victory."

Irving Fisher: "The financial loss from tuberculosis to the people of America, estimated at hundreds of millions of dollars a year, is a wholly inadequate measure of the cost of the disease in terms of broken homes, blasted hopes, poverty and pain. The twenty-seventh annual Christmas seal sale this year offers a chance for all to share in solving this community problem."

Roger W. Babson: "Despite the declining death rate from tuberculosis since the beginning of this century, the disease still kills more persons between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other. It is imperative that the preventative measures successful in the past be continued if the ground gained is to be held."

Hobart Bosworth: "The ten years I spent in winning tuberculosis was the best investment I ever made. I am amazed when I think of the progress made in knowledge of prevention and cure, which the little Christmas seal makes available to everybody."

Harold Bell Wright: "As one who knows from experience what it means to come face to face with the white plague, I am glad to give my aid in the campaign to conquer the disease."

Charles Wakefield Cadman: "The years have proved that this work does inestimable good."

In announcing the formation of the committee to sponsor the Christmas seal sale, the chairman, Dr. White, said the members were outstanding examples that tuberculosis is curable and that its prevention is of great importance to society. "Tuberculosis is no respecter of persons," said Dr. White. "It still kills more people between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other disease. This is true despite the reduction of the ravages of the disease to one-third what they were when the first Christmas seals were sold."

What the world would have lost and had the members of this committee been born a generation earlier, when the disease was almost universally fatal, is evident from the mere recital of their names. What it has actually lost in the premature death of others such as Robert Louis Stevenson, Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Frederic Chopin will never be known. But there can be no doubt that the world has lost many scholars, dramatists, musicians, writers, and actors who never lived long enough to find their way to fame.

"There is hope that science sometime will provide a specific cure for the disease. But all we have, so far, is hope, and certain definite promise from one of the new knowledge that has recently been gathered. We are often disappointed by finding things happens to the germ in the laboratory that do not happen, unfortunately, the same way in the human body. One of the problems of tuberculosis has been solved, we need to redouble our efforts along the lines which have already achieved great success: early diagnosis, followed by treatment based on rest, fresh air, sunshine, and nourishing food."

"The experience of the members of this committee," added Dr. White emphasizes again the need for preventive work with children. Most of the group had tuberculosis at their early youth. It is an interesting fact that their average age today is fifty-eight years."

The committee members are drawn from every section of the United States. Dr. White lives in Washington, D. C.; Mr. O'Neill's home is at Sea Island, Ga.; Mr. Babson's at Babson Park, Mass.; Mr. Wright's at Tucson, Ariz.; Prof. Fisher, New Haven, Conn.; Mr. Cadman, La Mesa, Calif.; Mr. Irwin, New York City, and Mr. Bosworth, Beverly Hills, Calif.

BEAUTIFUL LEAF PICKED

MONTREAL. (U.P.)—A leaf from a red maple, sent in by Mrs. C. McConnell, of Fredericton, N. B., has been awarded the first prize in the nation-wide "Most Beautiful Maple Leaf" competition conducted by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The leaf was selected as the "most beautiful" from more than 10,000 leaves.

Halstead street, Chicago, is seven miles long, on it live representatives of practically every race in the world.

New Ford V-8 Model Shows Smarter Lines Colored Fenders and New Ventilating System

Refinements in the design of the radiator and hood and more luxurious interior appointments feature the appearance of the new Ford V-8 for 1934. Colored fenders are standard on all de luxe cars. Dual intake carburetion and dual intake manifold give greater power and speed to the engine, increasing flexibility and smoothness. Gasoline and oil economy is also increased. A clear vision ventilating system prevents drafts and provides the desired amount of fresh air in any weather. Ventilation may be controlled by passengers individually. The easy riding qualities of the Ford

V-8 have been increased by the use of more flexible springs, improved shock absorbers and softer seat cushions. Illustrated are: (top) the de luxe Tudor sedan; below (right), rear compartment of the de luxe Fordor sedan showing the ventilating slot and (left), the attractive front end.

SWISS ARMY TO SPEND MILLIONS

GENEVA. (U.P.)—The Swiss Federal Council has decided to spend about $25,000,000 equipping and modernizing its fighting forces. The expenditures will be partitioned over 25 years.

This program has been hastened, it is believed, because of the revelation of alleged German plans to invade Switzerland in the event of another war with France.

Fears that World Disarmament Conference might fail also are responsible.

The program calls for the expenditure of $24,500,000 on airplanes, tanks, motorized artillery, cannons, heavy and light machine guns. Six heavy machine guns will be added to each Swiss battalion, while all other equipment will be increased, or modernized.

Eighty new airplanes will be bought some time during the next 25 years. Switzerland already possesses 175 modern planes, whose pilots are noted from their excellent training in mountain flying.

Switzerland's army, although conscript, is one of the best in

HEROINES ARE MADE-NOT BORN-MARRIED A COMIC ARTIST

THE NEWS HAS JUST COME TO ME, BY DIRECT WIRE FROM THE CUCKOO CLOCK, THAT YOU BOUGHT A GOLD MINE FROM YOUR BROTHER JAKE!

What Has Happened

Buck Garrett, Production Manager of the Walling Steel Company, prevents a plot to force Parker, one of the chief stockholders, out of the company through hammering down the price of steel. Instead, he and Parker went into a combine to get control of the plant. As a result, Walling was forced out, as was also his partner, Grenaker.

Buck became president of the firm but Kay, Walling's daughter, refused to see him until Parker explained the situation. Then Buck and Kay made up and were ultimately married. After the honeymoon, they went to live in New York, where Buck played the stock market forcing the price of steel up and consolidated one company after another.

Chapter IV

As Kay entered her husband's office Buck smiled at her. He quickly finished his telephone conversation and turned towards his wife. "How did you find your way this far downtown?"

"I came to see you for lunch." "I can't, dear," he said earnestly and started to explain.

"I know," she said thoughtfully. "Buck put his bent finger under her chin and lifted it, grinning. "Come on, what else is troubling you?"

Key became grave. "I got a letter from Dad this morning." "Well?" he asked curiously.

She handed him a letter and indicated the second page from which he read the typewritten paragraph. "I was surprised when I was shifted to the Crane Steel Company in Pittsburgh. The Braddock plant has been closed down. Was back last week and the town was absolutely dead. Closed the home conversation. Evans down here with me."

"Why didn't you tell me, Buck?" Kay asked.

"I forgot all about it. Your father's all right, though. He's holding the same position in Pittsburgh." Kay looked at him an instant. There was a slight fear in her eyes that Buck was slipping away from her.

"I'm thinking of Braddock, Buck," she said. "How could you close the mill and throw all these men you used to work with out of a job?"

Buck frowned slightly. "It'll be tough for a time, but they'll drift along to other mills. They can stand it." He grinned. "I got knocked around plenty."

Kay was thinking of her home. "There won't be much left of the town." Buck shrugged his shoulders. "Those small mills were too scattered. We're getting better results with production centered in Pittsburgh."

"You forgot the things you said to them the day we started our honeymoon," Kay reminded him.

FOOTBALL SKETCHES

By R. C. HANKINS

As this is being written, several tons of grid stars who played in the vague past were about to eat light lunches and start for the high school locker rooms to dress for the afternoon's gallop against former collegiate satellites of Stanton. There was little surprise kindled by the showing of the Midland club in workouts, as it had been generally understood that several of the locals who now go through the prosaic formalities of earning a living for their families once carried the heavy responsibility of leading great universities and colleges in conference running. Some of them remember what it was to find their pictures in the state press with monotonous frequency. Some of them, possibly, were just football players in the fast company in which they ran—but just as valuable, nevertheless, in paving the erratic road that led to touchdowns.

Several of these fellows we have had the pleasure of watching in big games, and have learned officially of several others. We saw Henderson and Lingo rip a heavier TCU club on a long afternoon and make the Purple look like a patient in the psychopathic ward. "Avogadro" Nicholson, TCU end for three years, played most of a whole afternoon in the Kansas State backfield one game several seasons ago. Holtzman, new man with the Humble here, has played plenty one can tell, but who can get him to say where? If he wears the same jersey, watch out for No. 39 this afternoon. Restley can do nearly anything with a football. He ran under the colors of New Mexico A. & M. and so on with others.

STATE TEAMS TOE STARTING MARK IN RACE

The first of eight Texas Intercollegiate League bi-district championship football games will be played this afternoon and tonight when four of the 16 class "A" district champions swing into action.

This afternoon at San Antonio, the Corsicana Tigers, defending state champions, will take on the powerful Brackenridge high Eagles of San Antonio. Corsicana won the district 11 championship for the fourth straight year. Brackenridge won the district 12 title. By virtue of playing on their home gridiron, Eagle field, the Brackenridge aggregation rules a slight favorite over Coach Johnny Pearce's Corsicana Tigers.

Friday night at Corpus Christi, the Brownsville district 16 champions will be battling against Corpus Christi, champion of district 15. The Brownsville lads, because of their playing in a weaker district than their experience, are looked upon by critics to lose. Corpus Christi rates as one of the strongest teams in bi-district competition.

Sunday afternoon games follow: Abilene (district 2) at Pampa (district 1). San Angelo (district 3) at Bowie, El Paso (district 4). Dallas Highland Park (district 6) at Wichita Falls (district 5). Fort Worth Central (district 7) at Dallas Tech, Dallas (district 8). Tyler (district 10) at Greenville (district 9). Port Arthur (district 14) at San Jacinto, Houston (district 13).

Speaking Of Reconstruction

Farm Column

The 1934 cotton acreage reduction campaign is to be launched in the next few days, according to information received by county agent S. A. Debnam. A series of community meetings are planned for next week for the election of committees, who will handle the local situation for each community.

The number of committees has been reduced from the number used in 1933. Hence the necessity of electing those who will be active in the campaign next year.

The 1934 acreage left out of production will be compensated for in two ways: That is, by a rental payment of three and one half cents per pound for the average lint production on the individual farm for the years 1929, 1930, 1931 and 1932. In addition to this a bonus of at least five dollars per bale will be paid for 40 per cent of the average number of bales produced from 1928 to 1932. In other words, if the farmer produced 100 bales in 1928, $5 per bale will be paid on sixteen bales. This means that the bonus will be paid on about 65 per cent of the production in 1934.

Land taken out of cotton can be used for growing feed or food crops for home use. Debnam says Midland county has two advantages under the proposed plan, one being the increase per acre average yield that we will get by not having to use 100 per cent of the best years; the other being the fact that we will have use of this land in production of feed crop for immediate and future years. Had such a program been in effect last year, and the acreage in this land reduced, the other being the fact that we will have use of this land in production of feed crop for immediate and future years. - 1 lb. grapefruit peel or citron
- 1 lb. peaches or black walnuts.
- 1 lb. candied pineapple
- 1 lb. candied red watermelon rind or cherries
- 3 lbs. seeded raisins
- 1/2 lbs. figs or currants
- 1/2 lb. brown sugar
- 1/2 c. fruit juice or sweet pickle syrup
- 6 eggs
- 1 lb. flour
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp. cloves
- 1 tsp. nutmeg
- 1/4 tsp. allspice
- 1/2 tsp. salt

Wash and dry currants, cut citron and pineapple in 1/4 inch cubes leaving cherries and nuts whole. Cream the butter, sugar and beaten egg yolks. Mix flour and spices. Add four and eight ounces alternately. Add fruit and mix nuts. Mix thoroughly. Last of all add beaten egg whites, mix dough thoroughly and place in baking pans which have been lined with butter paper which has been oiled. Cover the top of the pan with heavy brown wrapping paper which has been oiled. Tie the paper securely around the edge of the pan to prevent water getting into the cake. Place the pans in the cooker and pour boiling water into the cooker half way up the pans. Place the top on the cooker, but do not fasten clamps.

Yucca Donates 200 Toys to Deserving Children of City

Many Midland kiddies who otherwise might have been disappointed at having old Santa visit them when he makes his annual tour Christmas are now assured that they will receive a visit from him after the Yucca theatre's annual toy matinee yesterday afternoon.

A large assortment of toys were brought down as admission to the show. There were big dolls, small dolls, rag dolls, paper dolls, air planes, automobiles, scooters, five wagons, teddy bears, dishes, cooking utensils, balls, puzzles, in fact about every sort of toy any child could imagine. It is estimated that there were approximately 200 toys received at this matinee.

The toys were turned over by Manager Hal Grady to the boy scout under the leadership of L. H. Tiffin, who will repair them and in turn present them to the local welfare board for distribution to needy and deserving children of Midland.

"Only Yesterday" Reveals Intimate Problems of Today

Is a woman's love more lasting than a man's? What of the man who loves—and forgets? Should a woman keep silent when her happiness is at stake? In the modern age there is a stigma on the unwed mother?

These questions, and many others, are prompted by the story of "Only Yesterday," John M. Stahl's universal drama which comes to the Yucca theatre at a preview Saturday night and for regular showings Sunday and Monday, with Margaret Sullivan, John Boles, Billie Burke and Reginald Denny in featured roles.

Miss Sullivan and Boles spend together one evening of delicious happiness—and his regiment is suddenly called to France. A child results from their infatuation, but when the father returns from the war he fails to recognize the girl who has borne her cross proudly, happily and with confidence of the future. Too proud to go to him with her story, she sees him married to another, and waits for the day when recognition will come. Her life is a tragic story of sacrifice on the altar of love.

But eventually this saga of heart throbs comes to a startling conclusion, and so comes to an end the tragic story of a broken heart and an unconquerable spirit. "Only Yesterday," said to be the crowning achievement of the career of John M. Stahl, is announced as the most ambitious Universal production of the year.

BLIND WOMAN GOT POT

QUANAH, Tex. (UP)—Deputy Sheriff Main Owens took a group playing a marble machine in a downtown cafe for their word recently after leaving a heavy hand over their pile of silver. In reply to a request if they were gambling, the group claimed it was a collection for the blind. One of the players accompanied Owens to where a blind woman played and sang. The money was dropped in her tin cup.

The term "Duranian" first was used in India years ago to describe the child of a Hindu mother and a Portuguese father.
