AMERICA REPENTS TOWARD WILSON

Slowly he drags his way, trying pathetically to stand erect, across the aisle of the theatre and into the box. A hush falls on the vaudeville audience of young and old, foolish and wise. And there are awkward breaks of emotional applause, and many people rise to their feet in respect. There is silence and there are tears in many eyes.

Last Saturday, the applause swelled. And after the show, the audience swarmed into the street and made a tremendous demonstration as Woodrow Wilson crept into his car. And there was a queer, bitter-sweet smile on his face as he raised his hat to his fellow citizens.

The most curious demonstration was the day the unknown soldier was buried. Wilson was invited to ride in the procession with the officials of state. He chose to ride in that part reserved for private citizens. The long, impressive march of regiments and banners went by the silent crowds in the avenue. Then came the beloved remains. Then president, generals, admirals, statesmen—in silence all these passed. Then came the private guests, amongst whom was Wilson in his carriage, doing honor to one whom he had called to war and to death and in defiance of the spirit of this funeral occasion, but probably to be expected as a normal reaction of the emotions of the moment, a shout went up as the crowd beheld this tragic figure hunched in his seat. Men cried: "Wilson, Wilson!" and waved their hats, military guards came to the salute, and people looked at each other in amazement and said: "It is Wilson," as if it were some one back from the dead.

Perhaps the age that has so swiftly befallen him dims the poignancy of this ironic situation in Washington. Perhaps the pain of that terrible fall from such great heights has dulled his heart to lesser griefs. But Woodrow Wilson anyway is coming back into the love of his countrymen.

"SAVING OF MONEY NATION'S STRENGTH"

In a letter to Stuart W. Wells, president of a Minneapolis, Minn., bank, who had requested an expression on the subject of thrift and systematic saving of money, the Hon. Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, said:

"It has always been a firm conviction with me that ability to save money is one of the essential elements in individual success. The economic habits of the people are a fair index to the economic strength of the nation. I know, therefore, of no more influential effect that could be made upon American society than that the practice of saving money should become universal.

"In continuing the treasury savings movement after the close of the recent war it was the object of the treasury department that the economic habits developed in America during the war might be made permanent and that the saving and safe investment of money might become a universal practice. Let me assure you that any effort on the part of the banking institutions to improve the financial condition of the people through the saving of money has the hearty indorsement of the treasury department."

CALIFORNIA BUYS WESTERN CATTLE

COAST BUYERS ACTIVE IN VIEW OF THE PRESENT LOW PRICES

Thousands of head of beef cattle will be shipped from the ranges of West Texas, New Mexico and Arizona during the next thirty days, according to information coming from West Texas. All of these shipments are for California markets, and are the result of the presence in those sections of prospective buyers for all classes of live stock.

Information indicates that the purchasers have been anxious to take advantage of the present low prices and poor demand; but, it is pointed out, the better posted cattle growers have held back their stock for more attractive prices which they believe will be a lively California market after Jan. 1st.

Authorities point out that cattle growers who can collect and deliver their cattle after the first of the winter rains in California, are confident that they will be well repaid for waiting. This assumption is based on the fact that the market there always shows more strength after the first rains.

Advices indicate that thousands of calves either have been shipped or have been contracted for to meet the unusual demand for veal by the present California market.

Live stock growers report that shipments will be made in Texas from Midland, Pecos, Toyah, and El Paso; in New Mexico from Las Cruces; and from the following points in Arizona during the next month for the Pacific coast:

Seligman, Hubbard in Coconino County; Parkinsville, Williams, Belmont, Flagstaff, and late in November another shipment of 1,500 head from Hibbard.

The principal California operators in the Midland Country have been the California Dressed Beef Company, which has shipped several train loads from here during the past few months.

DR. BROOKS WILL SPEAK TO COLLEGE AUDIENCE

Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor University, will go to Dallas for the week-end, to address a city coliseum audience along the general line of the individual worth of citizenship. Dr. Brooks will be the principal speaker at this city of Dallas mass meeting which comes as the climax of a week of Thanksgiving activities. The meeting is being fostered by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce. The purpose of the meeting is to impress the individual citizen of Dallas with his worth as a citizen and to show him the responsibility that is his as an important unit of the community. The meeting at which Dr. Brooks will speak will be presided over by George Waverly Briggs, vice president of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce. It will be largely a Thanksgiving meeting in which a massed chorus will render Thanksgiving and old-fashioned melody songs. The whole city of Dallas will be in attendance, it being the hope of city officials and the Dallas Chamber of Commerce to make the affair one of the biggest community gatherings in the history of Dallas and Texas.

DECISIONS RELATING TO TICK ERADICATION

To help in finishing the fight against cattle tick, which it is expected will be concluded within a few years, the United States Department of Agriculture has published Department Circular 184, State Laws and Court Decisions Relating to Cattle Tick Eradication. The information contained was obtained from official publications of State laws and from court reports. It is believed that familiarity with the tick eradication and related laws will be advantageous to officials entrusted with the enforcement of laws and regulations pertaining to such work, and to the movement of cattle under quarantine for ticks which transmit Texas fever. Although ticks have already been eradicated from a number of States, the laws and decisions of these states have been included to show the legal authority under which the work was successfully conducted. The states included are Alabama, Arkansas, California, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

Give the help the kidneys need. Aid the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Midland people endorse this remedy.

Mrs. S. C. House says: "About four years ago I was troubled with pain in the region of my kidneys. At times I would have a headache and would get very dizzy, especially on getting up in the morning. My back felt lame and sore and I had a drowsy feeling. I started taking Doan's Kidney Pills which were recommended to me and one box greatly relieved the pain in my back and the other troubles left. Occasionally now I find by taking a few Doan's that my kidneys are kept in fine condition."

RED CROSS ROLL CALL CLOSED YESTERDAY

An odd case of first-aid was required of a newly installed Red Cross nurse at Bendena, Kansas, recently, according to advices from that town.

A deaf man, who was endeavoring to help the woman clerk in a grocery store carry a sack of flour from the store room to his waiting automobile, inadvertently caught the drag-hook in her finger and dragged her instead of the sack of flour across the floor. His back was turned, and being too deaf to hear her cries, he did not know of the accident until he turned to lift the flour into his machine. The hook was so deeply imbedded in the woman's hand that surgery was necessary to remove it, but the Red Cross nurse was able to relieve her pain with first-aid at once while a surgeon was being summoned.

Red Cross nurses in the chapters of the Southwestern Division where public health work is conducted are constantly having just such calls as this, and frequently find themselves the only available help in serious emergencies. In many of the Red Cross chapters employing public health nurses the work is financed by the receipts from the annual roll call. The roll this year closed yesterday simultaneously throughout the United States, having been on since Armistice Day.

serve System shows a reserve ratio of 71.8 per cent, as against 71.4 per cent a week previous and further gain of $7,000,000 in gold. The best commercial paper can be sold at 5 1-4 per cent and the call rate has fallen to 4 per cent. The same conditions exist in London. The reserve ratio of the Bank of England is rising and the market rate for short time bills has fallen to 3 3-4 per cent.

The case of money and the renaissance of hope are, as I expected, gradually inducing the purchase of other securities than bonds. A prominent New York banking firm is now advertising the attractiveness of preferred stocks and shrewd speculators are in a quiet way buying the low-priced common stocks that are to be picked up on the Stock Exchange and elsewhere.

The railway shares that pay no dividends are, however, still neglected, and it is in this quarter that the greatest opportunity of profit is probably to be found, for it is plain that the position of the American transportation industry is rapidly improving, now that the managers are tardily coming to realize that high rates work a reduction of both traffic and profits. Their recognition of this truth is evidenced by the reduction of 10 per cent in the rates on farm products outside of New England, and, while the permanence of this reduction for more than six months is made contingent upon an order from the Labor Board that will permit of an equal reduction in wages within the same period, it is a safe bet that the old rate will not be re-established. The next step ought to be a reduction in passenger and Pullman rates. There are intimations that it is being considered.

There are many indications that commerce and industry are once more upon an even keel. Bank clearings for October were $30,263,000,000, as against $38,768,000,000 last year, the difference being more than accounted for by the decline in prices.

Distributive trade is normal, though not booming. There is every prospect of a good Christmas business.

SEES IN THRIFT HABIT SIGNS OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP

One of the banks of Minneapolis recently conducted a thrift campaign to encourage the people of that city in the practice of systematic saving of money and wise investment. Newspapers of the city devoted much space to the subject, and considerable publicity was given to a message from the Hon. Calvin Coolidge, vice president of the United States. The vice president said:

"The conveniences of modern civilization have been secured solely by means of the accumulation of capital. Modern conditions have been established by saving of money. It is this which has built great cities, laid out spacious avenues, established sewer systems, constructed railroads, provided gas and electricity for daily use, and developed the whole economic system of modern society. Money is not to be saved for its own sake, but by reason of the additional power for service that it gives to its possessor. The combined savings of the people are the only support of modern civilization.

"There is another reason for saving money and that is because in most cases it is likewise the foundation of character. It is the result of self-control, in the first instance, and of the use of sound judgment. A spendthrift is of no value to himself or to the community in which he lives. The dissipation of capital is the dissipation of the power for public service. The accumulation of capital is the accumulation of power which results not only in serving one's self but in the promotion of the public welfare. Where there is capital there is employment. Where there is more capital there is more employment and higher wages. Among the real benefactors of the race have been those who, by self-control and organization, have accumulated capital which has been put to the service of their fellow men in the ways already mentioned.

"Saving is representative of good citizenship. It is difficult to imagine a thrifty man who is a bad citizen. There is nothing that so contributes to the stability of society as the general ability to own a home, which results from saving."

LIVESTOCK TRADE STRONGER IN K. C.

Chas. M. Pipkin, Kansas City market correspondent, writing from there last Monday says packing house employees late last week decided to accept a wage reduction of 5 to 10 per cent without a strike. Today receipts were light for this season of the year, and with Thursday, Thanksgiving holiday, supplies for the week will be below requirements. These conditions improved demand materially and the market ruled strong to higher. Cattle were strong to 25 cents higher, hogs up 15 to 25 cents and lambs strong to 15 cents higher.

Receipts today were 12,000 cattle, 8000 hogs, and 4500 sheep, compared with 23,000 cattle, 8000 hogs, and 6000 sheep a week ago, and 15,300 cattle, 15,750 hogs, and 16,300 sheep a year ago.

Cattle receipts today were about half those a week ago, and 3000 less than a year ago. At the same time quality of the fat cattle was the plainest of the season. Killers were in the pens early and bought freely as long as there were any steers that carried fat. Prices ruled strong to 25 cents higher, exceptions more. Some 1300 pound steers, "warmed up" from grass, brought $7 and were the best offered. Most of the other steers sold at $5.50 to $6.75. Cows and heifers showed about the same advance as steers, and were in active demand. Calves were 25 to 50 cents higher, and bulls up 25 cents.

Today's light receipts of thin cattle forced country buyers who have been waiting for lower prices into an active trade and prices rose 15 to 25 cents. Indications are that the big runs of stockers and feeders are near an end for this year. On the other hand a large number of thin cattle are needed to take care of feed.

Hog prices today were up 15 to 25 cents, mostly 15 to 20 cents. Early last week it looked as though packers would succeed in reducing hog prices to the 6 cent level, but receipts are not holding up to expectations and demand continues large. Today the top price, $7, was paid for light and the bulk of the offerings sold at $6.60 to $6.90, packer top $6.90. Pigs sold up to $7.50. Ewes sold at $3.50 to $4, and native lambs at $8.50 to $9. The market was quoted strong to 25 cents higher. Trade was active. Feeding lambs are scarce and in urgent demand.

Trade in horses and mules was practically unchanged compared with last week. Dealers do not expect much change in conditions soon.

SEA ISLAND AND EGYPTIAN COTTON

We have received a number of requests for information regarding Sea Island and Egyptian (Arizona) cottons, and where seed can be secured, etc. It is not practical to attempt to grow these varieties commercially in Texas, advises J. B. Beers, in charge of the cotton classing work, extension service, A. & M. College of Texas, and U. S. bureau of markets co-operating. They are very late maturing cotton with very small bolls and require twenty-two to twenty-four hundred pounds of seed cotton to turn out 500 pound bales. These cottons cannot be ginned successfully on our ordinary saw gins, but have to be ginned on roller gins. If some Texas farmers desire to grow staples, we suggest the Foster or Snowflake varieties. Seed of these varieties can be bought in the State. After all is said and done, however, if farmers in a community will all plant one variety of a good hard 1 and 1-8 cotton and have it ginned on a community gin to avoid mixing the lint, to say nothing of keeping planting seed pure for the next year's planting, they will find their marketing problems solved to a great extent, because we are in a position to put them in touch with many exporters, who will send representatives to buy their cotton at fair premiums, if it is good, hard 1 1-8 cotton and in large enough quantities to interest shippers in coming to local communities. There is no question about this—it has been done season after season in various sections of the State.

NAVIES CHIEF CONCERN OF DISARMAMENT PARLEY

Since England and France have no intention whatsoever of allowing an examination of the title to their Chinese possessions, no particular blame attaches to Japan for standing pat on Korea and Manchuria. But it is not at all impossible that Japan, realizing the strength of the opposition she is encountering, will return Shantung and eastern Siberia after having taken the property and concessions she wants in these regions, the return being contingent upon recognition of her newly acquired "rights" and holdings in the returned territory.

Such a proceeding may enable the three maritime powers to arrive at an understanding concerning new naval construction. Not that they will scrap their navies or any vital part thereof, but they may agree to preserve in the future the relative naval strength each will attain upon completion of its present building program.

To put it tersely, the Washington conference can not remove the causes of friction in the Pacific Basin; it can not bring about a reduction in armaments. The best it can do is to place a limit upon the future growth of the three great navies. Nevertheless, even this small accomplishment will be worth while.

SUPPOSED POTASH BED IS DISCOVERED

This week Smith No. 1, five miles west of Colorado, passed through 50 feet of red salt, supposed to be carnalite, a member of the potash family. This is the second well in Mitchell County showing red salt. The other was six miles farther west. The red salt was found at about 1,000 feet.

Conway No. 1, drilling below 3,120 feet, still is in oil sand. The drilling water question has been solved by taking over a farmer's water well.

Morrison No. 2 is drilling below 2,500 feet, having set casing at 2,450. At about 2,500 another oil sand was found.

Sloan et al. are rigging up on survey 31 between Westbrook and Iatan. They will spud about the end of the week.

Foster No. 2 near Iatan, is drilling. Coleman No. 1 will resume drilling as soon as water is available.

MUCH BIG GAME IN BREWSTER COUNTY

It has been impossible for the news gatherer to keep pace with the accounts of the big game brought in by Alpine nimrods the past few weeks. Bear meat and venison have been as common as beef and mutton. At the home of Mr. McMurray this morning three large deer carcasses were hanging up, mute monuments to the unerring aim of the huntsmen. Sam Harmon killed a fine black bear on the Jackson-Harmon ranch this week. A party of hunters headed by Col. Allan Palmer yesterday returned from the mountains near Alpine with a black bear weighing more than 100 pounds. The Avalanche is advised that no less than a dozen bears have been killed by hunters of Alpine the past week and venison has become a "drag" on the market.

The mountains of Brewster County are said to teem this season with big game, but hunters have been careful to observe the game laws, the while having the finest of sport.—Alpine Avalanche.

RELIEF WORK OF THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

False teeth and wooden legs are more expensive now than formerly, according to a Red Cross relief worker in one of the recent Southwestern Division disasters. One man who two years ago paid $75 for his artificial leg, found when he lost it in the Colorado flood last June that he would have to pay $90.00 to replace it. False teeth also are more than fifty per cent more expensive than before the war, the same relief worker said, and the man in San Antonio whose glass eye was lost during the flood of September in that town had to pay thirty per cent more for a new optic than the one he lost cost.

The Red Cross disaster relief organization tries to replace all such necessary human equipment if the loss has occurred as a result of the disaster on which the Red Cross is working, according to Red Cross disaster relief officials, and all sorts of ridiculous requests are made. Many times women ask to have their false hair replaced, and one woman even went so far as to ask to be provided with a "make-up" outfit.

One old lady asked for a Bible, which was given her. Jewelry, pictures, bric-a-brac, and certain types of hair combs, eye glasses, and even a shaving mug and a pencil sharpener are on the list of requests of disaster victims.

According to Red Cross disaster relief workers, the Red Cross is not able even to consider the replacement of luxuries, such as pianos, talking machines or automobiles, unless such articles were a means of livelihood to the persons of desiring them. If, for instance, a music teacher lost a piano, replacing it would be putting tools of her trade in her hands, just as much as giving a sewing machine to a dressmaker or a kit of tools to a carpenter.

The effort in all disaster relief work conducted by the Red Cross is to put the victims of the disaster on the road to complete physical and financial rehabilitation through their own efforts and not to make them objects of charity by indiscriminate and injudicious giving.

FEDERAL LAND BANK MAKING LOANS HERE

"Three banks out of twelve have loaned more than the Houston bank," comments Mr. Gossett. "But for the homestead law, the Houston bank would have loaned an equal if not greater amount than any in the system. The homestead law denies the owner of a 200-acre farm, or less, the benefits of the system, except as to unpaid purchase price, which limitation does not apply to farmers of any other State."

In other words, a man owning a farm of 200 acres or less can borrow money through the Federal Land Bank of Houston only in the event that his property is not entirely paid for, and then only in a sum sufficient to remove the indebtedness.

Save for this exception, land owners can borrow anywhere from $100 to $10,000, dependant upon the valuation placed upon the land they offer for security. Thus, a stockman who has notes on live stock falling due may, if he owns his land, borrow money to meet the obligation on his live stock.

The loans from the Federal Land Bank run 33 years at 6 per cent interest, with the privilege of paying them off in five years or anytime thereafter without additional cost. Whenever a loan is paid off under one-half of one per cent on the unamortized time up to five years.

Our Mr. Karkalits has had the Federal Land Bank agency almost since the bank was organized, and at this time he is especially anxious to be of assistance to any one who is eligible to loans from his institution. We don't know just how much up to now Mr. Karkalits has been instrumental in lending to our people, but a number of loans have been approved lately, and will no doubt go through. Mr. Karkalits is anxious to assist you to a loan, and you may put your case up to him and he will be enabled to tell you what to expect.

Loaning activities were entirely suspended for more than a year, or from January 1st, 1920 to July 1st, 1921, because of litigation which cast a cloud upon the validity of farm loan bonds and rendered their marketing impossible. Following a favorable decision by the supreme court on February 28th, this year, it was necessary to have new bonds engraved, submitted to the several land banks and returned to the main office.

Between May 1st and November 1st, the system expected to sell and deliver to the public practically $100,000,000 in farm loan bonds, according to Judge Charles E. Lobdell, farm loan commissioner, who reviewed the accomplishments of the Federal Loan Banks and the substantial services rendered to agriculture in the United States since its organization in a communication addressed by requests to Senator Kenyon and made a part of the Congressional Record.

On the other hand, the Federal Land banks now are functioning steadily and distributing directly to the farmers, at the lowest prevailing rate of $150,000,000 a year, which is fortified by the sale of bonds, so that such production can safely be undertaken for the next several months without additional sales.

The system in making loans to the amount of $413,506,190 has collected interest and amortization payments in the sum of $53,067,322.27 and up to October 7th had taken just one bad debt loss of $200.

It is increasing its capital at a rate exceeding $600,000 per month, its surplus at the rate of $200,000 per month, and its gross assets at a rate of more than $13,000,000 per month.

The system is now the largest mutual farmers' organization in the world, and if the present rate of progress can be maintained for five years, it will be the largest financial institution in the United States.

"It is, without meaning to draw any comparison, one government agency which deals directly with the farmer for his benefit," says Judge Lobdell, "and it is now loaning directly to farmers in excess of $12,000,000 per month on most liberal terms and at a rate at least 2 per cent per annum cheaper than other agencies."

"It has more than 139,000 indirect farmer stockholders, and is paying 3 per cent semi-annual dividends on its stock."

Such an institution is calculated to help immeasurably, and products of the Midland Country need help as never before. Then see Mr. Karkalits and you may be eligible to a loan that will save you a lot of worry.

OPTIMISM STIRS WEST TEXAS MEN

whole tone of the Ballinger meeting sustains him well in his conclusion.

J. F. Hartford, the livestock manager of the Post estate at Post City told how he and other men in Post City had and were feeding cattle that were not only topping the markets at Fort Worth and Kansas City, but were making money. This, it was pointed out, had been done in the face of a declining market, when the feeders of the middle west were going broke and the ranchers round about them were losing value in their cattle faster than the range could put the weight on them.

All this, Mr. Hartford said, was done with Texas products that were not handled by any sort of middleman, but everyone produced upon the farms of West Texas and capable of being produced in most every county of West Texas. Milo maize, kaffir corn, ground up stalks and all, with cotton seed, produced, he said a feed lot ration that surpassed everything so far developed as a fattening food for cattle. He said that he had paid $30 for yearlings and $60 for two-year-olds and fed them feed at $12 a ton and shipped these cattle to Kansas City after feeding them 104 days and made $30 a head on the yearlings and $17.50 for the two-year-olds.

Resolutions were passed demanding a West Texas A. & M. College, proper representation in the legislature and in the conventions of the Democratic party and suitable tariff protection for West Texas products. The report of the manager, Porter Whaley, showed that the organization had increased in membership in the last year, despite the hard times and the loss of a great number of members in the oil field towns.

MIDLAND VICTORIOUS OVER ROSCOE TEAM

The last football game of the season was played yesterday on the Midland field, Midland high school vs. Roscoe high school. The score was 39 to 7 in favor of Midland. It was an interesting, spectacular game, so said, there being some fast players on both sides. It is greatly to be regretted that Bryan Hull, of the Midland eleven, sustained two broken ribs early in the game, though it is good to know his hurts are not especially serious. The Reporter man does not know the merits of the game and so must forego a detailed account thereof.

Jack Biard and R. V. Hyatt returned Wednesday from Dallas, where they attended the big Shriner's meeting, on there for several days. Both are musicians and played in the Shriner band of 101 pieces. They visited Bonham while away.

A Timely Suggestion

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the winter is over and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the first indication of a cold appears and before it has become settled in the system. There is no danger in giving it to children as it contains no opium or other harmful drug.

SURPRISED AT FT. STOCKTON OIL FIELD

In its last issue the Fort Stockton Pioneer says:

Dr. J. A. Udden, State geologist, accompanied by his assistant, E. B. Stiles, and Mr. Gustaf Truedson, of Lund Sweden, the latter a geologist of wide renown in his native country, were visitors here the first of the week, and during their stay made a general tour of the Fort Stockton oil field.

Dr. Udden made a geological survey of this section of the country several months ago and rendered a report of his findings which has had not only wide distribution in oil circles, but has been the direct cause of engendering a widespread interest in the field.

During this trip Dr. Udden did not have sufficient time at his disposal to devote efforts to acquiring additional knowledge, other than that which came under his observance in the course of a hurried automobile drive to various points of the field, but it is most gratifying to learn that he expressed himself as being pleasantly surprised to see the progress that has been made in development work.

Dr. Udden is generally accredited with being a geologist of exceptional talents. Too, he is ultra conservative in giving expression to his opinions seldom permitting himself to indulge in rhapsodies regarding the development of any specific area into a proven oil field; and when he gives utterance to any views, which may be construed as encouraging phrasing, they are accepted by his auditor at their full worth. Knowing that it is characteristic of Dr. Udden to refrain from unmerited eulogies, and knowing too, that he is prone to be non-committal and averse to being quoted unless his precise wording is used, the local men, who were of the party that made the trip over the field with him, care not to violate the confidences Dr. Udden reposed in them by making public any statements he made regarding the field, although they do not feel it savors of betrayal to say that Dr. Udden was apparently agreeably surprised and, it appears to be the consensus of opinion, that any addenda Dr. Udden may choose to furnish as a supplement to his original report will prove of inestimable worth to the Fort Stockton field and to the operators who may desire to secure additional finances for development purposes.

TOYAH-BELL WELL NOW A SETTLED PRODUCER

All doubts are now brushed aside and the fact of the discovery well of the Pecos field, the Toya-Bell, being really a paying producer is well established says the Pecos Enterprise in its last issue. The only thing that has prevented it from being a big flowing gusher for many days is the lack of sufficient gas to keep it flowing. It flows by heads as sufficient gas accumulates to lift it over the top—and these heads are coming closer together and with more force as the drill is being sent further down below the 4400 foot mark.

The latest report on the well, reaching the office just before the Enterprise goes to press is that five big heads, one right after another have shot the oil clear over the derrick.

Even as it stands now, should drilling be stopped, the well is a good paying producer, according to B. Ramsey, general manager of the company. He is satisfied with the production that is there now but says that drilling is continued in an effort to get enough gas to make a continuous flow of it.

Mr. Ramsey declares that there is all the oil in the well that pump could lift out even should the gas fail, making the well good for regular production of at least 1,000 barrels per day.

And further Mr. Ramsey is of the opinion—and his opinion is backed by that of other men—that by tubing cell it will flow. But drilling is being continued in the search for more gas and with the probability also of striking another big producing sand. It is now in a dark formation that is identical with the famous Pennsylvania oil sand that makes the big producers in the Ranger and Breckenridge fields.

This oil is believed to be of sufficient quality to command a price of at least $3.00 per barrel. With the production already reached interest is causing other and bigger companies to make purchases here and much is heard in the offices of Pecos concerning drilling contracts in the making and it is believed that many more wells will be started in this vicinity shortly. The Texas, one of the big four companies of the United States entered the field this week and they have bought several different tracts in the Pecos field.

B. Ramsey, manager of the Toyah-Bell well closed a deal yesterday for more acreage close to the well and it is said he paid a fancy price for the same.

The pipe line to the Santa Fe tracks at Arno have been completed and the Toyah-Bell people ordered a lot of four inch pipe yesterday from Ranger to complete the loading racks.

Dee Murphy returned Tuesday night from a business trip to St. Joseph, Mo., to which point he accompanied a shipment of steers—his and J. T. White's. Accompanied by Mrs. White and Miss Thelma, he leaves for the New Mexico ranch the latter part of this week.

MARSHAL FOCH TELLS HOW HE WON THE WAR

A member of Marshal Foch's party now visiting in New York, tells this story:

At a banquet in Paris, shortly after the war, an intoxicated guest insisted on coming up to Marshal Foch to say:

"Tell us how you won the war, Marshal. Tell us how you put it over?"

The Marshal four times smiled good naturedly, but raised a hand eloquent of his wish to say nothing.

But the intoxicated person made a fifth try, beseeching the great Generalissimo to tell the assemblage just how it was done, and the Marshal finally decided to reply.

Taking up a glass of water from the table he turned to his annoyner and said:

"By drinking only this, my good fellow."

SOMETHING ABOUT THE SILENT PARTNER

The Harriman National Bank of New York, under the title "The Silent Partner," has sent out the following pamphlet to its depositors:

The stress—the tenseness that has come to all business men in these past months of deflation, reduction and terrific strain—has led to a considerable let-down, physically, resultant to the continual harrowing pressure that has been put upon the individual—the live-wire, the main-spring of almost every big organization. Banking institutions have begun to realize more than ever before, what a life, insurance policy, at the risk of the business, means, not only to the individual who is insured, but to the company of partners in whose name the policy is taken. It tends to soothe, to render quiescent, to put to rest the big fear of what might happen should the strain find the weak link and the link should break. It moreover makes manifest a greater degree of confidence in the concern that looks ahead, and is so far-sighted as to take physical conditions into account and builds up for itself in quarters where it seeks credit, an additional amount of approved endorsement and confidence which it otherwise may lack. The silent partner—the life insurance policy—is never ill, is never failing at the crucial moment, and is an ever source of comfort in the stormy, worrisome days in which all mortals have their full share.

Institutions extending credit where the business is more or less subjected to the activities of the life of one most important individual, makes note of the additional protection afforded not only the concern itself through policies taken out at the risk of the business, but are, moreover, inclined to extend favors in many ways—a preference equivalent to preferential balances carried upon their books.

Stocks and bonds—even Liberty Bonds—may depreciate, but a life insurance policy is always worth par.

IN LIST OF "FIRST" WOMEN

Mary O'Toole, Washington Auxiliary Member, First Female Judge in District of Columbia.

The list of "firsts" to which Miss Mary O'Toole, Washington, D. C., is entitled, indeed places her among the "first" women of America.

In order of recency: Miss O'Toole is, by President Harding's order, judge of the municipal court in Washington, and the first woman judge likewise to perform a marriage ceremony in the District. She was the first woman member of the Washington Chamber of Commerce's board of directors and the first woman member of the board of directors of a District of Columbia bank. She organized and was the first president of the Woman's City club of Washington. She was one of the first woman attorneys in the country.

Miss O'Toole is a native of Ireland, from which, after a high school education and at seventeen years of age she emigrated to the United States. As secretary to Judge Wheeler, Steuben county, New York, she became interested in law and competent as a court reporter. Later she went to New York city, and entered a Wall street firm as a chief clerk, continuing to study law. She joined the government forestry service in Washington to complete her law studies on the side.

Immediately after she joined the Vincent B. Costello post of the American Legion Auxiliary in Washington, the president asked her to become first vice president. She had to decline because of her court duties.

LEGION MAN AS LIFE SAVER

William Heineman of New Jersey Post Rescues Six Men and One Woman From Drowning.

For saving the lives of six men and a woman, all trapped in a treacherous undertow at Rockaway Beach, N. Y., William Heineman, wounded in action during the World war, will be able to wear a Carnegie medal alongside the Croix de Guerre he won.

A length of rope and an automobile tire inner tube made it possible for Heineman to effect the rescue of the woman after a life guard and five other men had failed in their attempts. Swimming out to the woman, the wounded man placed the tire about her neck and she was hauled to the shore. Then Heineman rescued the six men, themselves caught in the undertow and battling for their lives.

Reaching the shore, the young veteran fell exhausted. He refused medical attention, however, and declined to tell anything about himself. He served overseas with the old Sixty-ninth New York, later the One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Infantry, Forty-third Division. He is a resident of Greenville, N. J., and belongs to the local post of the American Legion.

TO HAVE ACTRESS FOR BRIDE

Engagement of Charles H. Duell, New York Legion Man, and Lillian Tucker Announced.

The engagement of Charles H. Duell, New York, and Lillian Tucker, artist who appeared last season in the theatrical success, "Three Faces East," has been made known in Paris, where Miss Tucker had been sojourning.

Duell is a son of the late Judge Charles H. Duell of the United States Customs Court of Appeals and a cousin of Ellhu Root. He served during the war on the naval destroyer Wilkes, operating from Queenstown. He was a delegate to the first convention of the American Legion at St. Louis and later organized the Tonkers (N. NORTHCLIFFE GIVES WARNING ON NIPPON

WOULD DOMINATE THE FAR EAST, MUST BE OPPOSED, PUBLISHER SAYS

A warning that Great Britain, the United States and France must stand firmly together in opposition to Japan's attempts to control the Far East, was given by Viscount Northcliffe in an interview with the United News upon his arrival at Shanghai from Peking recently.

Among other striking declarations resulting from the noted British publisher's study of conditions in the Pacific, are these:

"Unless Japan leaves Shantung, there can be no hope of peace in the Far East.

"The Anglo-Japanese alliance has aided, not deterred, Japan in accomplishing her militaristic ambitions.

"Great Britain, America and France must be prepared to refute any attempt by Japan to carry out the ambitious program she has so efficiently begun.

"If you look at a recent map of the Far East, showing all the alternations during the Anglo-Japanese alliance," Northcliffe said, "you will find that Japan controls Eastern Asia, north from Shanghai, including Southern Saghali, dominating the Merkulov government at Vladivostok, and controlling Dairen, Tsing Tao, Chemupio, Shantung and Port Arthur.

"Japan is supreme in Tsing Tao and along 400 kilometers of railway which traverses China's sacred and richest province, from Shantung to Tsinan Fu, where there are barracks and a wireless station maintained within a hundred yards of the Tien Tsin-Pukow railway.

"It is a very strategic locality where the Japanese troops are maintained. They swagger about the district fully armed, in true Prussian fashion, as though they owned it.

"In addition, the Japanese have interior stations, such as the wireless at Hankow, where both infantry and cavalry are also maintained near the iron mines. Imagine foreign troops with wireless stations at Pittsburgh.

"Japan is willing to leave Shantung—if hard pressed. Unless Japan does leave Shantung there can be no hope of peace in the Far East, which means peace for the world.

"Great Britain, at Wei Hai Wei and Hong Kong; America in the Philippines, and France in Indo-China, must be prepared to refute either military or economically, any attempt by Japan to control the Far East and carry out the ambitious program she has so efficiently begun.

"Fine words mean very little to Japanese diplomats. Remember that one of the objects of the Anglo-Japanese treaty was to preserve the independence of Korea. Where is that independence now?"

"The whole story of the Anglo-Japanese agreement is one of promises which have been broken. Under that agreement Japan swore to support the 'open door' policy. The door is closed today by subsidized railways, plus steamship lines controlled by the Japanese government.

"The Anglo-Japanese alliance has aided, not deterred, Japan in accomplishment of these militaristic and economic ambitions. So many secret agreements have been made that Chinese statesmen tell me they fear abrogation of the Anglo-Japanese pact will be followed by a secret agreement affecting Great Britain, America and Japan. This statement is a part of the propaganda spread by the Japanese.

"Japanese propaganda is wonderfully efficient in China. I should not like to say how many newspapers printed in China are controlled by Japan. In addition, there are a number of quite ably conducted Japanese newspapers, printed in English, such as North China Standard, which at first glance misled even me. It looks exactly like a well made-up American morning daily. It gives a great deal of American and British news and also runs a number of American features.

"The reaction to the news from Washington here is that the Japanese delegates seem to have hypnotized the conference. This may be due to the severe condensing of the American and British news due to the high cable tolls.

"This conference is the first check to the Japanese military party. When the first invitation was issued, they balked at it. Now they hate it. The patriotic Chinese look to it with hope, but they distrust their delegates whom they believe to be under Japanese influence."

RETURN OF PROSPERITY DEPENDS UPON THRIFT

Thrift is mankind's way to progress. It is the only way. No other way has ever been marked out or followed. The thrift instinct is in mankind. As this instinct has been developed in the individual and in nation, progress has been noted. France paid the Franco-Prussian war debt by acquiring the habit of individual savings. Thrift is quite as fundamental to good government as it is to individual well-being, and our government is now taking the lead by making sweeping reductions in expenditures. For over two years the United States government has balanced its budget, current receipts against current expenditures, and has had a small surplus each year to apply to the reduction of the national debt. On the basis of daily treasury statements the government has reduced its national debt by $2,672,592,523 between August 31st, 1918, and September 30th, 1921.

Restoration of prosperity in this country depends upon thrift. The government has provided a means of individual savings and investment that is safe and certain through the issuance of treasury savings securities, which yield interest at 4 per cent, compounded quarterly, when held until maturity. These securities can always be redeemed on short notice at more than their original cost.

The Husband: "Look here, my dear, won't you wait to take some fiction with you to pass away the time?"

The Wife: "No, darling—you'll be sending me some letters, won't you?" —Sketch.

PLAN FOR CANADIAN LEGION

War Organizations Approve Proposition to Amalgamate All Veterans Similar to American Body.

The amalgamation of all war veterans of Canada into a Canadian Legion to be founded on principles similar to those of the American Legion has been approved by officials of the various war organizations. More than 10,000 leaders in the veterans' associations have pledged their support of the merger.

It has been shown that one organization can operate more effectively and at less expense than a half a dozen organizations with a common interest and purpose. The merger will make possible a closer co-operation between the veterans and the Canadian government, which has already spent $84,000,000 in the establishment of returned soldiers on land.

A recent report shows that 27,000 individual ex-service men have been benefited by the laws, the objects of which were soldier re-establishment and the development of the agricultural resources of the dominion. Under the law, any ex-service man eligible from a military standpoint, having seen service overseas, may apply for loans up to the maximum of $7,500 for the following purposes: For the purchase of land, $4,500; for stock and equipment, $2,000; for permanent improvements, $1,000. If on incumbered land, the ex-soldier is entitled to loans amounting to $5,000; if on free land, to loans amounting to $3,000. In the case of purchased land the settler must pay 10 per cent of the cost price of the land as a guarantee of good faith.

DEFENDS THE DISABLED MEN

Medical Director Decries Statements Regarding "Fakers," and "Compensation Chasers."

In an appeal for the proper care of disabled veterans of the World war, Dr. Thomas W. Salmon, medical director of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, takes occasion to decry the statements regarding "fakers," "goldbrickers" and "compensation chasers."

"Let us not be misled by this loose talk about fakers," says Doctor Salmon, who is a member of the American Legion Hospitalization committee. "Of course there are such men among those who apply for relief. But you will find them everywhere; in business, in colleges, in politics and even in the churches."

Doctor Salmon, in his plea for complete and efficient care of the disabled men, answers the assertion that there are 6,000 empty beds in the government hospitals. He explains that beds alone cannot cure the disabled and besides, he says, most of the 6,000 empty beds are needed to constitute the reserve that every hospital with an active service needs.

Allen-Johnson Wedding Solemnized

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton David Johnson was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday evening of last week when their daughter, Laura Lee and James Stacy Allen were united in marriage by Rev. W. A. Smith, pastor of the Methodist church, who used the ring ceremony beautifully and impressively in the presence of only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends. The interior of the home was artistically decorated in immense chrysanthemums. The ceremony was performed in the cozy living room, the bride and groom preceded by the officiating minister entering to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Lydie G. Watson, and which softly melted into the tender notes of Love's Dreams as the sacred vows were being plighted. The brunette type and charming presence of the bride was greatly enhanced by her lovely wedding gown of navy blue crepe back satin.

Just following the ceremony and loving congratulations, the guests were invited to the dining room where much merriment was offered by the cutting of the wedding cake, when the groom cut the ring, Mr. Johnson the dime, Mrs. Tidwell the wish-bone, Miss Alma Brunson the thimble and Miss Lydie G. Watson the button. The most delicious ice cream and cake were then served. A profusion of lovely gifts were given Mr. and Mrs. Allen, thus attesting their popularity. Among these was a chest of silver presented by the Methodist church, where they are both loyal and active members. The bride who has been teaching in our city schools since her graduation, is a young woman possessing many graces of mind and character. Mr. Allen is a young man of highest principles and ability. He saw long service during the world war and likewise has a host of friends who wish him and his lovable bride as they start toward the east, with hearts fond, and sunlit souls a long life of prosperity, a life made beautiful and warm by their mutual love and by the richest blessings of Heaven.

Library Receives Handsome Gift

Mrs. Margaret D. Watts, who was in Midland last week winding up her affairs, preparatory to leaving for her new home in Ohio, presented the Library with a gift of which the members are exceedingly proud and deeply appreciative. This handsome donation so generously bestowed was a set of World's Best Literature consisting of sixty volumes and a large number of other books. This gift is much appreciated not only for its intrinsic value, but also for the motive which prompted Mrs. Watts who has been known and so greatly loved in Midland since girlhood's halcyon days to bestow this gift upon the town who will continue to claim her as its own.

Mrs. Jax Cowden was hostess this week at a very attractive meeting of the Wednesday Club. Mrs. DeArmond was leader and the subject for discussion was Greek Folk Stories. The following very interesting papers were contributed:

- Nature in Great Folk Stories—Mrs. Holt.
- Reading—Old Greek Stories Retold—Mrs. Thomas.
- Selections from Keats Eudymion—Mrs. Rowe.
- Round table discussion.
- References to Greek Legends in English Poetry—The Club.

Just note the "cast of characters" in "The Womanless Wedding," to be found in another place in The Reporter. The event is staged for the night of Dec. 1st, in the Baptist church. How about Mr. Geo. Gray as a dainty little flower girl? There is a lot of it like that, and—oh, you'll get your money's worth! Tickets on sale at the City Drug Store.

Mrs. W. W. Wimberly was called to Plainview on Friday of last week by a telegram announcing the death of her brother, Mr. Otis Reeves. A wide circle of friends unite with The Reporter in an expression of deepest sympathy to Mrs. Wimberly and other sorrowing relatives in this hour of their deep affliction.

Dr. J. F. Haley, who has been in our city for the past six weeks attending to business, will leave the first of the coming week for his home in the Alamo City. Many friends as well as relatives, regret Dr. Haley's departure, and will always cordially welcome him upon his return visits.

Mrs. W. F. Boyett, mother of Mrs. Clyde Ingham, and who for the past five months has been in Lordsburg, N. M., for her health, stopped in Midland last week as she was en route to her home in Hugo, Okla., and was the guest of Mrs. S. A. Ingham.

Miss Essie Cowden was hostess to the Alpha-Omega Club last Saturday afternoon, at which time this galaxy of congenial girl friends had a most delightful time. During the social hour the hostess served the most delicious salad course.

Mr. N. Y. Bigham returned from Abilene Monday where he had been to attend the funeral of his brother,

Mr. Ed Bigham. A host of friends with The Reporter offers sympathy to Mr. Bigham in this hour of his sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Haag and children left Wednesday for Sweetwater to spend Thanksgiving with relatives.

Miss Frances Elkin left Wednesday evening, to spend Thanksgiving in Dallas.

Mrs. J. B. Gray, of El Paso, was the attractive guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. G. Gray, the early part of the week.

GOOD BREEDING NECESSARY FOR POULTRY SUCCESS

One man said, "Egg production must be bred into hens before it may be fed out of them." In other words hens must be well bred before they will be most profitable even though they are well cared for. This principle was well demonstrated at the Texas Experiment Station, Substation No. 10, College Station, in an experiment using 340 pullets of medium quality but not from the highest bred stock; 17 pullets whose sires were bred for highest production, and whose dams laid well but whose breeding was not known; and 15 pullets whose sires and dams were of the highest breeding, they having been trap-nested and pedigreed for many years.

The results of the past years trapping at the Station show that of the 340 pullets of medium breeding, only 5 or 1 1-2 per cent laid over 200 eggs before November 1st. Of the pullets from pedigreed cockerels and unpedigreed hens, 3 or nearly 18 per cent laid over 200 eggs before that date. Of the 15 pullets from pedigreed cockerels and hens, 5 or 33 and 1-3 per cent laid over 200 eggs before November 1st. A number of the pullets from this last class are from Texas No. 4, the hen that laid 261 eggs her second laying season and has laid 191 eggs her third season and is still laying. She has two months to complete the third year. She laid 24 eggs during the month of October of this year.

The pullets at the Texas Experiment Station now are all from pedigreed cockerels and a number of them are from pedigreed cockerels and hens. These are all single comb white leghorns.

The feed given these fowls is not a complex mixture of feeds that are expensive. The fowls receive whole milo for grain, together with a dry mash made of one part each of bran, shorts and tankage and two parts of ground milo.

Sour milk plentifully fed will take the place of tankage; but the hens should have all they will eat of the sour milk. They have free access to water, oyster shells and green feeds at all times.

Supt. W. W. Lackey, of our city schools, left last night for Dallas, to attend the State meeting of public school teachers.

J. P. Inman has been somewhat on the sick list this week. He lost Wednesday from his business, but is again on the job.
