COUNTY BONDS ALL SOLD AND DELIVERED

MANY JOBS THAT COULD BE LET NOW HAVE BEEN GIV-EN TO HOME PEOPLE

The last preliminaries in the road building program has been attended to. All demands have been met and all requirements have been fulfilled, and all the work attendant upon making the start has been assiduously prosecuted, until now the judge can say "we are off." For Judge DeArmond and the commissioners court this week has been a very trying and painstaking job. They have taken a great interest in this enterprise, have been very careful to do things right, so we may be fully satisfied in the knowledge that we are going to get a good road and that as speedly as it can be built.

It is understood that all positions to get on the work. Day labor will be in demand, and applicants for most any kind of work that there is to do. will have a chance to get on.

Pretty much the same progress, we understand, has been made in Ector, Martin, and Howard counties, and soon now the most gigantic piece of public work is to be started that has could not be needed more.

SUGGESTIONS ON THE GOOD OF FOOTBALL

HAS TENDENCY TO KEEP BOYS IN SCHOOL, WRITES A CONTRIBUTOR

It's not a growing tendency, but ever since the game of football has been played, there has been a strong sentiment against it and without doubt good reason, but will it be outlawed?

It is a diversion that the young men and boys going to school enjoy, they are interested in it, there is an enthusiasm and excitement about the game that is irresistible and it will keep the boys in school and they will graduate. This is very noticeable in our own school. Some years back when the game was not encouraged, we find that nearly all the graduates were girls, but this year, with a tolerably good football team, built up in the past two or three years, we find that quite a number of boys will finish, more than in any previous year, or two years combined. What about the personnel of this class, or the class next year? You will find them fine, husky young men, some of them will weigh a hundred and eighty pounds. Most of them will get advantage of a good high school education, and probably many of them go on to college. Football and other competitive games is the main reason for these boys staying in school and being satisfied; they are not kickers and knockers as most of them formerly were, but they are good, loyal, interested students.

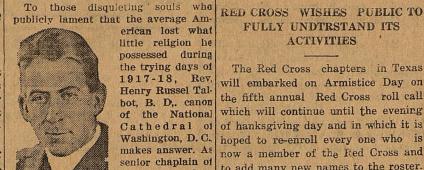

The girls also take a great interest in football and baseball but more in football. They pin ribbons on their hero and look with pure admiration on his manly form, and impressive notes of religion, there was in the fact that many former service mer bearing. PLAN FOR CANADIAN LEGION

War Organizations Approve Proposition to Amalgamate All Veterans Similar to American Body.

The amalgamation of all war veterans of Canada into a Canadian Legion to be founded on principles similar to those of the American Legion has been approved by officials of the various war organizations. More than 10,000 leaders in the veterans' associations have pledged their support of the merger.

It has been shown that one organization can operate more effectively and at less expense than a half a dozen organizations with a common interest and purpose. The merger will make possible a closer co-operation between the veterans and the Canadian government, which has already spent $84,000,000 in the establishment of returned soldiers on land. A recent report shows that 27,000 individual ex-service men have been benefited by the laws, the objects of which were soldier re-establishment and the development of the agricultural resources of the dominion. Under the law, any ex-service man eligible from a military standpoint, having seen service overseas, may apply for loans up to the maximum of $7,500 for the following purposes: For the purchase of land, $4,500; for stock and equipment, $2,000; for permanent improvements, $1,000. No better car than the Nash has ever been built to sell under two thousand dollars.

For power, comfort, durability, economy, the Nash is superior to any medium priced car you can buy.

For accessibility the Nash has all of them bested; the starter can be removed in five minutes, the generator can be removed in ten minutes, all other parts equally accessible.

For simplicity the Nash has no equal, having sixty-four less moving parts than other cars. The chances for trouble are greatly reduced.

Better cars are being built and Nash is building them, both four and six cylinders.

Card of Thanks

Since the operation upon our little son, Lloyd, some three weeks ago, many Midland people have extended to us such kind attentions as to call forth our most profound gratitude, and we take this method of expressing our appreciation. We do not know words that would adequately express our profound thanks to these people and to our attenive physician, but we do know our hearts are filled with the deepest thankfulness. Beside our physician, we wish expressly to mention the kindnesses of Mrs. Gentry, Mrs. Geo. Shelborne, Mrs. W. F. Anderson, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Luther Holman and Mr. Fielder.

How Buick Accessibility Saves Owners Time and Money

Buick cars are built so they can be operated with a minimum of expense. If a part needs attention it is easily accessible. For instance, adjusting or putting a new fan belt on a Buick is a job that is handled by the owner in a few minutes. Buick invites comparison.

It was Mrs. Wheelock who success fully opposed the making of the Amer-Ican Legion strictly a man's organization. As a result there are today several women enrolled as Legionnaires and several posts composed altogether of ex-service women.

Mrs. Wheelock began helping the United States win the war as early as 1916 when she started a campaign to obtain stevedores and coal heavers for the navy. She caused to be presented to congress petitions for adequate preparedness and is accredited with having through her own efforts recruited 16,000 men for the navy. AMONG "BIRDS OF PASSAGE"

Editorial Asserts West Point Will Continue to Turn Out Crop of Second Lieutenants.

That the "second looie," of whom there were so many during the war, is more or less an institution of ac tive warfare is shown in an editorial from the American Legion Weekly under the caption "Birds of Passage." It follows:

"Burled in the recent official list of the number of army officers of all grades who have contrived to survive the congressional guillotine appeared this inconpicuous entry:

"Second lieutenants (all arms), 233. "Only 233 second lieutenants left! And once there must have been that many thousand. Who shall now deny ertainly while it lasted they bloomed like so many hardy perennials, emerging full blown from the training camps and finally from the ranks, for was not the top sergeant only a little lower than the angels? "After the Armistice, when divisional and regimental shows began to appear all over the A. E. F., the second lieutenant won fresh immortality in the quips which Mr. Bones passed to Mr. Tambo, and vice versa. It was a token of his popularity—for humanity does not poke gentle fun at what it hates.

That is the basis on which we ask you for your patronage

POST NAMED FOR LIEUTENANT

First American Artillery Officer to Die in Action Is Honored by Surviving Comrades.

The first American artillery officer to die in action in France has been honored by his surviving comrades, who have named their post of the American Legion in New York in his honor. The post, which comprises members of the old First division, is known as the Jeff Feigl post. Jefferson Feigl was a first lieutenant of Battery F, Seventh field artillery of the First division. He was twenty-two years old, and had entered the service of his country immediately upon his graduation from Harvard university.

A year after the death of the young officer on the field of battle, his personal property was sent to his parents, Colonel and Mrs. Feigl, who reside at the Biltmore hotel, New York. In a hand-bag was a letter addressed to his parents, which Lieutenant Feigl had written a short time before he was killed. In the letter he forecast his death, and said, "Dame Fortune couldn't have picked a more gentlemanly manner for me to make my ex-

Miss Laura Johnson Honored

On last Thursday afternoon the son was the scene of a delightful affair when Mrs. Luther Tidwell entertained in compliment to Miss Laura Johnson, the bride of the week. The rooms were beautifully decorated with a profusion of chrysanthemums and a great crowd of friends who love the bride for her many admirable qualities of character were there in response to the invitations. The honoree who had been down town shopping with her mother, was finally coerced to Mrs. Brunson's upon some pretext and as she entered the room Miss Lydie G. Watson played a march and she was led to a decorated chair in the corner of the living room. Miss Nellie Elkin then gave a dainty little reading, "The Blind Archer," after which little Allen Lawrence and Doris Tidwell who could certainly have marched triumphantly off with the cake in a perfect babie's contest, entered dress-ful things, which they presented to the smiling and blushing bride. After the lovely gifts had been admired and Miss Johnson had tenderly shown her appreciation for this wonderful expression of the love of these friends, the hostess, assisted by the girls of the house party served the most delicious salad plates.
