Widow Dach, Awaiting Death in Chair, on Hunger Strike

FAST EXTENDED FROM ARREST, A 30-DAY PERIOD

Third Woman Given a Death Sentence in Texas

LA GRANGE, May 26. (UP).—The "Widow Dach," condemned to die in the electric chair for the murder of Henry Stoeber, 58, farm hand, is on a hunger strike in the Fayette county jail. She had not eaten since her arrest a month ago, refusing offers of food and drink. Only one woman, Chippita Rodriguez, ever was executed in Texas. She was hanged in 1863 in San Patricio county for the murder of a horse trader. Mrs. Clark Uhr was sentenced to death at San Antonio in 1931 for the murder of her paralytic husband, but the sentence was commuted. Mrs. Dach, stolid German farm woman who speaks little English, confessed to killing Stoeber because he attacked her and mistreated her children. She burned the body in a pit from which officers dug it last month and said she shot Stoeber as he slept. The defense announced it will ask a new trial.

NO VACANCY IN MIDLAND SCHOOLS

All teachers in the Midland schools have been re-elected and every one has signed acceptance to return. This does not apply to the Mexican school and the negro school where only one teacher in each is required at the beginning of those schools. It is possible for the same additional teachers to be available when they are needed. This wholesale return of the faculty has happened only once in the history of the Midland schools, since on former occasions, though all were re-elected, one or more resigned before the opening of the fall term of school. It was pointed out last fall by the president of the school board, Dr. Jno. B. Thomas, that the wholesale return of the faculty was of great advantage to the pupils and the schools as a whole, since each teacher would take up the work where it was dropped in the spring and would not be required to become familiar with the names and faces of pupils, not to say with their teachers and surroundings, and it is recognized by educational authorities that continuity of policy and tenure of service are two essential requirements for building a strong educational system. While the assignment of teachers will not be announced until some time in August, it is expected that few if any changes in assignment will be made. Each teacher is an expert in his field, has been selected for a special work, and has been assigned to the field in which he has specialized. Perhaps a determining factor in holding so large a per cent of the faculty is the fact that the Midland schools are in good financial condition and have been able to pay teachers and principals. The board of education has not borrowed any money in four years, has been able to meet all obligations promptly, and has won enviable recognition for management of the school's business.

Mrs. Thompson Is Victim of Death

Death from a heart ailment claimed Mrs. Henry Thompson, 42, while she slept last night. It was not known she was dead until 6:30 this morning, and a physician was called immediately. He pronounced death as having been about 11 o'clock last night. For two years Mrs. Thompson had suffered almost continually from extremely high blood pressure and had been to Martin several times for treatment by Dr. Howard Smith. Funeral arrangements are pending arrival of two brothers and three sisters. Mrs. Thompson was a widow and had no children. The daughter of the late Henry Thompson, Miss Helen Thompson, now married, was to arrive at Midland this afternoon. Mrs. Thompson was prepared for interment by the Barrow mortuary.

MAX BAER SET FOR HIS BOUT WITH THE HUN

By BILL BRÄUCHER, NEA Service Sports Editor ATLANTIC CITY.—Max Baer, a restless, eager, likable boy. The same Max Baer, a throwback to some prehistoric day when men lived in caves. Mike Cantwell, his trainer, expressed it, as he rubbed the rippling, ropey muscles of the 24-year-old giant who lay on the training table before him here the other day. "Look at him now would you?" said little Irish Mike. "Can't you see a guy like that crawling out of a hole in the ground, finding himself a club and hunting a snake for breakfast?" Physically, Mike had spoken the truth. There is much of the muscular perfection of the gorilla about this playboy of the plains, who is to meet Max Schmeling June 8 for the right to a championship chance. "Just feel that stomach," Mike asked. Max tightened the muscles to accommodate the inquiring scribe. Under that brown skin were long, lithe cables as hard as steel.

There was another impression of the Cro-Magnon snake mauler when, during a workout, one of Baer's sparring partners happened to hit Max on the chin. The "likable" boy became a snarling bundle of fury, tearing into his enemy with teeth bared and gleaming.

How did Baer happen to begin fighting? "In a dance hall," was his matter-of-fact reply. "We had an argument over something or other (he did not say a lady was involved), and I just reached down to the floor and pulled up one of those Johnny Risko swigs with all my might. He went out like a light."

How did he happen to enter the ring? "Well, that dance hall fight gave me the idea I'd like to get on as a boxer. So they got me a fight about four years ago with Chief Caribou. (See MAX BAER, page 4)

NAZIS IN THE EUROPEAN CAMERA NEWS

This was the gory condition of a wax figure of Germany's Chancellor after youths assaulted it with red paint in Madame Tussaud's famous wax museum in London, England, and hung a sign reading "Hitler the Mass Murderer" about the effigy's neck.

Hardly had Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, Hitler's "good-will" envoy to England, placed a wreath at Britain's cenotaph to her war dead in London as pictured here, than someone snipped off its Nazi swastika. Shortly thereafter a Socialist parliamentary candidate carried off the wreath and threw it in the Thames. Dr. Rosenberg suddenly returned to Berlin, his mission a failure.

Forty thousand cheering Germans, including high government officials, jammed the square opposite the University of Berlin as students hurled into the huge bonfire pictured here 20,000 volumes branded "un-German" by the Hitler government. All over Germany similar pyres consumed the writings of German and foreign authors held inimical to the Third Reich.

ASKS SUPPORT BY SENATE OF HOUSE MEASURE

Calls for Refund to Cotton Men of Worm Area

Organization of the Texas Pink Boll Worm Quarantine Refund association was perfected Thursday night at a meeting at the court house of 98 business men, farmers, county officials and chamber of commerce leaders from 12 counties. H. P. Davis, secretary of the Pecos chamber of commerce and an ardent worker for the bill, vice president. "On an organization plan suggested by Paul T. Vickers, secretary of the Midland chamber of commerce, who presided at the meeting, a director of each county affected was elected and five directors-at-large were chosen. They will form an executive committee. The association Thursday definitely committed itself to one object at this time—the urging of the state senate to approve the house pink boll worm bill already passed by the state representative. The delegates were unanimous in agreeing that should be the only business matter, besides organization, to be considered now. Directors elected were: El Paso county, Jack Cantrell; Presidio, Dark Dalpatrick; Hudspeth, J. J. Thomson; Pecos, E. J. Rixie; Reeves, J. B. Woolfork; Ward, Judge J. H. Booger; Ector, Grady Bell; Midland, W. W. Wade; Martin, J. S. Blackford; Howard, C. T. Watson; Dawson, Carl R. Rouse; Big Bend, Judge J. S. Lamar; Martin county, Judge C. C. Stapleton; Hudspeth county, R. C. Sparks; Presidio, Hal Burnett; Pecos county, J. L. Shoemaker; Dawson, Dawson. On analysis of the situation made by Ivey, who has collected an enormous amount of statistics and is credited with having put in many weeks and several hundred dollars of his money to try to get the farmers repaid for money they have spent under the quarantine. Ivey is a farmer, ginmer, compress owner and a banker at Fabens, he gave the group present Thursday night a picture of the situation showing losses sustained in the various counties. Judge Webb of Odessa made an impassioned speech telling why the debt to the farmers should be paid and describing work done while he was a legislator. His trusts were frequently applauded. J. H. Booger member of the pink boll worm commission; E. B. Borron of Imperial, Hal Burnett, one of the hardest working of the farmers, also of Imperial, Jack Cantrell of El Paso, Bob Hamilton and Judge Lamar, Stanton, Davis, Pecos; and J. S. Blackford, Martin county farmer, were others who spoke. The nominating committee was composed of Burnett, Cantrell, Davis, Lamar, and Shoemaker from Odessa. Six county judges and several commissioners, four members of commerce officials, several bankers and big business men, several ginners, and about 15 Midland farmers, besides farmers from elsewhere were in the audience. On vote of the association, the Midland chamber of commerce sent the following telegram signed by L. J. Levy to Senator Ken Reagan: "Representatives of 12 West Texas counties in meeting Thursday night urged senate to approve house pink boll worm bill. Please convey this plea from 98 men of 12 counties to senate. Dr. Roth makes it necessary to pay this debt or farmers face severe suffering."

DISCLOSURES IN WAKE OF PROBE OF MORGAN MANIPULATIONS SHOW HALF OF COUNTRY SERVED BY UTILITIES

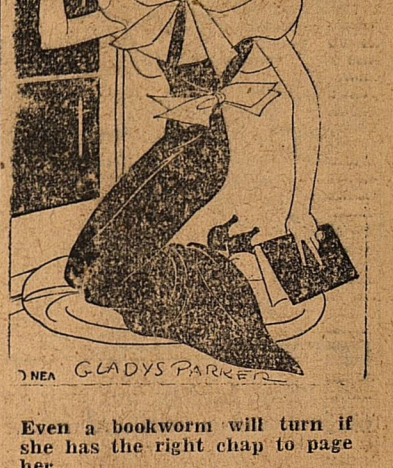

WASHINGTON, May 26. (UP).—It was revealed in the senate investigating committee hearing today that the Morgan controlled holding company, the United corporation, holds stocks in utilities serving practically half the population of the country. Ferdinand Pecora was continuing the inquiry of Morgan and company into the fourth day. DAVIS NOT TO RESIGN, LEARNED GENEVA, May 26. (UP).—It was learned definitely today that Ambassador Norman H. Davis will not resign his post because of the disclosure that J. P. Morgan lent him money. The nominating committee was composed of Burnett, Cantrell, Davis, Lamar, and Shoemaker from Odessa. Six county judges and several commissioners, four members of commerce officials, several bankers and big business men, several ginners, and about 15 Midland farmers, besides farmers from elsewhere were in the audience. On vote of the association, the Midland chamber of commerce sent the following telegram signed by L. J. Levy to Senator Ken Reagan: "Representatives of 12 West Texas counties in meeting Thursday night urged senate to approve house pink boll worm bill. Please convey this plea from 98 men of 12 counties to senate. Dr. Roth makes it necessary to pay this debt or farmers face severe suffering."

Dusty Waller's Mother Is Wed

EL PASO.—Mrs. Ada Willingham Waller and Judge Irbly Dunklin of Fort Worth were married Monday evening in the study of the Rev. Clarence H. Horner, rector of the Church of St. Clement, at 8 o'clock. The wedding was of quiet detail, with only Mrs. Dunklin's son, Horace (Dusty) Waller, manager of the Hilton hotel, and Judge Dunklin's nephew, H. C. Horsley, chief inspector of the border patrol, present. Judge and Mrs. Dunklin will be at Mrs. Dunklin's apartment, "Top o' Hill," for a few days prior to moving to Fort Worth. They will return here in a short time to be at the apartment for the remainder of the summer. Waller was formerly manager at various times of the Scharbauer hotel at Midland, the Hilton at Abilene, the Baker at Mineral Wells, and assistant manager at the Jefferson at Dallas.

Sweetwater Chuck Wagcn Feed Here

The famous Chuck Wagon association of Sweetwater will climax a year of publicity and activity by holding a chuck wagon dinner at the Roy Parks ranch, according to a letter from John M. Hendrix, wrangler, manager of the Sweetwater board of development, and former Midland man. The dinner will be during September, and all cattlemen of West Texas will have a blanket invitation. Such a dinner was given in Midland a county last fall, and many ranchmen attended. ATTEND CRANE PROGRAM Supt. W. W. Lackey and several members of the high school faculty attended a dramatization of the history of Castle Gap, as taken from J. Frank Dobie's "Coronado's Children," Wednesday evening at the Crane high school. The party, driven in rain most of the way.

JIM FERGUSON'S STATUS WOULD BE GREATLY CHANGED UNDER PROVISION OF LATE BILL FAVORABLY REPORTED

AUSTIN, May 26. (UP).—The house committee on constitutional amendments reported favorably today the proposal making impeachment no bar to public office, which would permit former Governor Ferguson to run again. The referendum date, however, was changed from August 26 to November 6 next year. Governor Ferguson today signed the delinquent tax bill providing relief from penalties and interest on taxes delinquent February 1 of this year. They may be paid up to November 30 with one per cent penalty, gradually rising thereafter.

Miss McMullan Is Chosen for Beauty

Miss Janie McMullan, 17 year old Midland high school girl, was given first place among 15 beauties who paraded on the Yuca theatre stage last night in a beauty pageant and fashion revue. The girls appeared in colorful evening gowns, sport clothes and 1933 bathing suits. Mrs. Marjorie Miller, a blonde, received a big "hand" from the audience when she appeared in a colorful colonial gown. Mrs. Callie Jo Johnson also was a favorite with the audience, in her chic old-fashioned riding suit. Dorothy Howell appeared as "Miss America of 1864" and received much applause as an old-fashioned bathing beauty. Charline Parrott, also a high school girl, won second place in the contest. Miss Parrott represented the Prothro studio. Miss Loretta Hudson, blonde who represented the Llano Beauty shop, was given third place and Mary Pliska, blonde, won fourth. Miss Pliska represented the Midland School of Beauty Culture. Miss McMullan, represented the McMullan Dept. store. The four contestants will compete tonight with out-of-town beauties in the annual New Mexico beauty pageant staged at Roswell, where the "Queen of the West" will be named and given a free trip to the World's fair at Chicago. A number of "juvenile bathing beauties" appeared on the stage, and Mabel Lane Johnson was awarded the prize from the Prothro studio. Miss Francis Burris, student of the Vickers Dance studio, will appear in a special dance number, titled, "All American Girl" tonight. A new screen bill has been announced. The beauty pageant is being staged under the direction of David Daniels, managing director of the "Queen of the West" revues, Roswell.

Washington Flyer Ill at Hotel Here

Lieut. T. M. Lowe, Washington airman, is remaining in Midland until his physical condition improves. He became ill here the early part of the week while returning to the east from the army air corps exercises on the west coast. The lieutenant is flying an O38-F, a new production ship turned out by the Douglas factory. The plane is a two-place enclosed cabin job and is described as being particularly fast. The former model O38-E was different from the improved plane only in a few particulars, including engine improvements and a two- rather than a three-blade prop. Capt. Heard, flying a Douglas O25-C, landed at Sloan field today, en route to Wright field, Dayton, Ohio, from Santa Monica, Calif.

Baseball Meet Postponed Thurs.

The meeting of managers of the six towns of the Permian Basin Baseball league, set for Crane last night, was postponed until Thursday of next week, according to Manager David M. Ellis of the Indian club here. Failure to inform all managers caused the meeting not to be held, he said. The circuit nabobs will decide on the application of Odessa to enter the league. LOYAL WORKERS PARTY Members of the Loyal Workers B. Y. F. U. are asked to meet at the Baptist church Saturday night at 8 o'clock for a "half-way" party.

New Proration Plan Outlined

FT. WORTH, May 26. (UP). Fred C. Sealy of Houston, executive of the Texas company, suggested before the three judge federal court today a new way for proration in the East Texas field. He would take the cubic feet of oil structure, multiply by the acreage and give each operator proration on that figure based on total allowable for the field.

FILLIES BATTLE MEMORIAL DATE FOR TURF TITLE

By MAX RIDDLE, NEA Service Turf Writer The Queen of the Turf! Top Flight or Tred Avon! which shall it be? That question will be answered on Memorial day when the famous Whitney filly meets the great gray mare from the barns of Silvester W. Labrot in a match race at Belmont park. Many an argument has waxed to the invective stage over the relative merits of these two famous race mares, and now it seems the argument is about to be settled, for the two of them will carry even weight of 118 pounds over the mile route. Two years ago, when Top Flight was a two-year-old, she immediately caught the fancy of the entire racing world. With dazzling ability she galloped through the year unbeaten, winning seven straight races and $219,000. No mare had ever won so much; no horse of any sex had ever won so much as a juvenile. When Top Flight went into winter quarters she had eclipsed everything accomplished by a two-year-old of her sex. With seemingly one bound she leaped into the select band that includes Ruthless, Miss Woodford, Artful, Beldame, and Regret. The famous Man o' War mares, Edith Cavell and Beldame, were forgotten. Even Princess Doeren was shoved into the background. And in two years of racing Top Flight never has been defeated by a member of her sex. Tred Avon, however, finished ahead of her in a race against colts. Tred Avon never got as much publicity as did her famous rival but her record is a proud one also. Artful gave the peerless Synchrony the only defeat he ever suffered. Edith Cavell defeated the mighty Crusader in the Pimlico cup, and the following year gave Display a licking in the same event. Tred Avon is that sort of a race mare. For example, she gave both Equinox and Mable a beating in the Washington handicap last fall. As a three-year-old, Top Flight was utterly unable to cope with the colts. Four times she essayed the conquest and each time she was out of the money. But she was at all times superior to the fillies, (See FILLIES BATTLE, page 4)

Baseball Game Played Today

A practice game between the Indians and the Mexicans will be played beginning at 6 o'clock this afternoon. Play will be called on the west side diamond, near El Campo Moderno. All are invited. No charge will be made. McCamey will be in Midland Sunday for play on the Permian Basin Baseball league schedule. A charge of 25 cents will be made for attendance. "The club needs financial support now more than ever," Skipper David M. Ellis said. "We are faced with having to pay for more equipment we shall have to buy, and if any one will donate a bat or a small amount of money it will aid us considerably. "We still encounter difficulty in impressing the public we cannot maintain a league on a free gate. Everyone must pay, except the wives of players, or we will have to throw in the sponge."

Pilgrims Also Had Beer Taxes

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (UP).—Beer taxes today are somewhat larger than those imposed by the Pilgrim Fathers. When the General Court met January 2, 1646, a tax of two shillings was levied upon each hoghead of beer. A hoghead is equivalent to about 13 barrels of beer as now sold.

SUPPORTING PRESS FREEDOM

Newspapermen are bound to be interested in the new law put into effect in New Jersey recently, under which no court, grand jury or other inquisitorial body could require any reporter to divulge the source of confidential information used in news articles.

This law simply recognizes what has long been the code of the news-gathering profession; that a reporter is in honor bound to protect the person from whom he gets information of legitimate interest to the public.

Courts and grand juries have frequently tried to compel reporters to reveal their sources, and in most instances they have failed. All too often they have made the attempt simply because the reporter in question had made public something that certain highly placed folk wanted concealed.

While he is quite ready to approve the expenditure, if necessary, of the entire $5,200,000,000 asked of Congress for the purpose of putting the country back on its feet, the average citizen nevertheless hopes that economic rehabilitation will be accomplished as economically as possible.

Those two south side boys who got two bits from Slim Newton for driving Big Lee's cow out his garden, then got a couple of jolly-pops from Lee Haynes for throwing the cow in the pound, overlooked one other form of remuneration.

Arthur Yeager said when he used to live at Eastland he bought a second hand car but it was hard to drive the bargain. Over in Western Kansas, they are turning out street lights in some towns on moonlight nights.

Dr. Charles H. Mayo says people are going through life at too fast a pace, to which any speed cop will testify the same thing.

I deny that I said a certain woman here in town talks too much and has a big mouth. I merely said she has an open countenance. If you have put in much time around court houses, you probably have noticed that juries often look more suspicious than the defendants.

PASTURE CUTS BILLS
LAGRANGE—A permanent pasture has cut the feed bill one-fourth and increased butter sales $2.50 per week for W. L. Taylor of the Bridge Valley Community in Fayette county. He figured the feed bill can be cut three-fourths in May and the milk flow increased, because the cows will hardly go into their stalls for the grain at milking time when they are getting all the grass and clover they want.
Mr. Taylor has a 10-acre permanent pasture developed for his registered herd of Jerseys as a demonstration with W. H. DuPuy, county agent. Because the pasture is getting so good the herd can't keep it grazed down. Mr. Taylor plans to divide it into several smaller pastures and start a pure bred beef herd. Included in the pasture is a former 20-acre dense thicket made into good pasture by clearing out and sowing to dallis, rescue and Bermuda grass, and to burr and yellow blooming sweet clovers. He has also budded the pecans in the thicket to improve varieties for supplying shade to cattle and an additional revenue from pecan sales.

VIVA! EL CANTORO! THE SAMUEL GOLDWYN Production.

Eddie CANTOR in 'The Kid From Spain' with LYDA ROBERTI and THE GORGEOUS GOLDWYN GIRLS.

Girls, Girls, Girls In 'Kid from Spain'

With beauty a glut upon the Hollywood market, one would naturally conclude that the assembling of a chorus for a picture would require about a week's work.

Three songs, in which the electric blonde comedienne, Lydia Roberti, joins Eddie, enable them to tell you what happens "In the Moonlight" of "What a Perfect Combination" he and his partner are and looking each other in the eye, in song to ask each other. "Look What You've Done!" against a background of lavish beauty, beautiful girls, tuneful music and spirited dance.

Roving the Reservation With the Indians

Roving the Reservation! That not only describes the position I play with the local club but also portrays the character of the club and the condition of the field.

The locale is large enough for a reservation and the outfield greatly resembles one. (One abandoned several years). However it is being improved daily. Everyone has read how the Indians were always coming from behind to attack at the first opportunity for a victory, and if that is not characteristic of the local club then I am Lindbergh.

Right now Midland can boast the strongest baseball club that it has had since it used to brag of its Moore, Sanguinet, Kallina, Boken and others. No small amount of credit for this should be given to Doctor Ellis for the time, money and effort that he has put out.

In Warren, Stevens, Moreno and Collum the Indians have an infield that any club in the league would like to possess. Warren is in a batting slump at present, but the fact that he has batted clean up for two years on the local club is proof he can hit.

In the outfield the club has Estes, one of the league's best hitters, particularly against right hand pitching, and without a peer as a fielder. Hill who is hitting better than 500 in six games, Cook who is also hitting the ball hard along with Girdley in reserve, Girdley is in a batting slump that he seems unable to shake off but when he does it will be interesting to watch the struggle for position that is going to force one man to remain on the bench.

Ellis has two reliable relief pitchers in Bill Howard and Gene Rodrick but as long as Brown continues the pace he has set they have small chance of breaking into the line-up. A club well worth watching. Why not come out Sunday and have a look-see?

PERMIAN BASIN LEAGUE Standings. Iraan 3-0, Midland 2-1, Wink 2-1, Big Lake 1-1, Crane 0-2, McCamey 0-3.

Special Preview For Press Given At Yucca Theatre

Stirring enacted, brilliantly conveyed and directed, and telling a story which will reach the hearts and probe into the minds of millions of Americans. "Gabriel Over the White House" was unveiled at a special preview this morning for the press and for special guests on the Yucca screen as the most sensational, vigorous, timely and realistic motion picture produced since the era of the talkies.

Walter Huston, in a performance that will be the talk of the country, enacts the president who comes to the White House as a bluffing, back-slapping, insincere politician and subsequently meets with an accident, which changes him almost overnight into a man of integrity, resourcefulness and the iron ability to take control of a baffling series of obstacles involved in the chaos of a nation plunged into economic uncertainty, riddled by gangsters and thwarted in its demand for payment of European debts.

Walter Huston gives a performance magnificent in its penetrating quality and forceful conviction. Karen Morley, looking more stunning than ever, gives a warm, human touch to the role as the woman in the White House, and the screen newcomer, Franchot Tone, is splendid as the president's secretary.

Other delegates present sent messages to senators from their districts. The next meeting will be in Pecos at a date yet to be set.

winning the Acorn stakes, Coaching Club American Oaks, Ladies' handicap, the Alabama stakes, and the Arlington Oaks. All told, she has won 12 of 16 races, and $275,900. "Tred Avon did not race at two, and missed many of the valuable stakes. But in three years of running she has won 20 races, been second 12 times, and has been third in seven. The gallant gray has asked no allowance for sex. In the Washington handicap, she not only gave Equipoise and Mate a beating, but White Clover II, Rehoboth, St. Brides, Pike and two others.

At first I was scared. Guess I was a little bit of a coward before that fight. But when I saw the fellow come into town I knew I could lick a bird like that. "You should have seen his make-up. A straw hat dating back to 1902 was perched right on top of his knob. He had one of those long coats with pearl buttons and had on tan button shoes. How could I miss?"

He has not come to measure money but by the fun it will buy—except for that home he bought for his parents with his first substantial ring earnings. The rest he has spent like a Dempsey. "I'll have to see it before I believe it," he replied. "Since then the boy who wrestled pigs on his father's ranch, and worked in the butcher shop at Livermore, Calif., has been "in the lights" more than once—and in the newspapers. He has not come to measure money but by the fun it will buy—except for that home he bought for his parents with his first substantial ring earnings. The rest he has spent like a Dempsey.

THREE CHAMPS TRY COMEBACKS IN NATL. OPEN

Three former National Open champions are glad to return to Chicago for the Open championship this year—Hagen, Sarazen and Farrell—for each won his first major title in that district.

When the Open gets under way June 8, at North Shore Country Club, near Glenview, Ill., it will mark the fifth time since the tournament was organized in 1894 that the Chicago district has played host to the big golf classic. And it will mean that two former winners, Hagen and Farrell, are trying to hit the comeback trail.

Having experienced the necessity of length over the whole course, players are likely to press off the 17th tee, and may find themselves out of bounds on the left or in the rough to the right. Its length is 423 yards with a green well guarded by traps and surrounded by trees.

New Devices for Nation's Planes

An ingenious rubber "overshoe" which keeps the wings of an airplane free from dangerous ice formation is one of the remarkable new developments of commercial aviation told by Ben Hibbs, staff writer for The Country Gentleman, in an article "Paths Across the Sky," appearing in the May number of that publication.

Formation of ice on planes in flight," Hibbs reminds his readers, "has always been one of the serious risks of aviation. Building up on the front edges of the wings, ice changes the contour of the flying surface, upsets the aerodynamics which keep a plane in the air. It isn't the weight of the ice which does the damage. There is no danger so long as the front edges of the wings can be kept clear.

The home hole of 437 yards has a very narrow fairway with bad rough and trees on either side. Unless the tee-shot is to the left, the second must carry over double trapping of the hardest kind.
