COOPERATIVE PLAN OF GOVERNMENT AND COTTON GROWERS IS ANNOUNCED

The secretary of agriculture Henry A. Wallace, Administrator George N. Peek, and Co-administrator Charles J. Brand of the agricultural adjustment administration, with the approval of the president, announce the following plan of cooperation between the government and the cotton growers of the United States for bringing supply and demand into better balance and for bringing prices to the parity contemplated by the law.

Through the instrumentality of the federal and state farm extension services, vocational teachers, volunteer committees set up in the cotton belt, and other available agencies, the administration will ascertain to what extent the producers of cotton are willing to take out of production lands now planted to cotton in accordance with its proposals. The willingness of the producers is to be expressed in the form of signed offers prepared in conformity with regulations prescribed by the secretary of agriculture.

Within a period of time to be prescribed and published by the secretary these agencies will confer with such producers for the purpose of presenting the proposals of the agricultural adjustment administration and of ascertaining to what extent such producers will sign binding offers for the reduction of (See GOVT. Plan Goat Roping, Bronc Riding on July 4 Card

Plans for a short program of goat roping and bronc riding were being arranged today, to be added to the July fourth Lions club race meet. Cary Wilson, L. E. Cook, Henry Currie and Claude Whatley offered to furnish goats, the ropers to put up entrance fees and "rope for the job." Ropers interested in the event were advised to be on hand with their ponies.

Cook also said he would bring in one or two broncs. Wilson and other bronc riders offered to ride for a "hat collection." Lions officials quickly approved the feature, making the statement that anyone not wishing to donate to the riders was free not to do so. It was pointed out that a number of spectators would be glad to make the additional contribution as the entire race meet is being staged as a benefit affair to defray cost of eye glasses bought for needy Midland county children.

Marion F. Peters, working with the general committee of the Lions club, was starting today on an active campaign to secure donkeys for the Lions-Rotary donkey polo games.

The program, when last checked, over by committee, was as follows: Half mile race, three horses required to enter, $5 entrance fee, purse $30 with entrance fees added, divided 60, 30 and 10 per cent.

Three-eighths mile race, three to enter, $5 entrance fee, purse $25 with entrance fees added, divided 60, 30 and 10 per cent.

Quarter mile race, three to enter, $5 entrance fee, purse $20 plus entrance fees, divided 60, 30 and 10 per cent.

Jelly Bean race, no purse, distance either one-eighth or quarter mile, to be decided by riders.

King pony race, distance and fees to be decided by riders, winners dividing entrance fees as may be agreed.

The goat roping, bronc riding and donkey polo will be staged between races, having the program moving at all times with minimum of delay and assuring ample entertainment for the 50 cents admission charge.

FIREMEN ENJOY CORPUS MEETING

Returning from Corpus Christi, where they attended the 57th annual convention of the State Firemen and Mechanics association, Midland volunteer firemen, including Assistant Chief W. B. Stanifer, L. D. Bayless, E. B. Patterson and C. B. Lyson, reported a constructive program staged by visiting "smoke eaters" and interesting entertainment along the water's edge, where most of the activities were held.

The convention was held at the Plaza hotel, with many prominent speakers from the state taking part on the three-day program. Representatives from 236 Texas towns attended.

Excitement reigned over the assembly when a large shark was killed in a swimming pool on the beach, the first one to enter the swimming place in six years. Some of the Midland firemen saw this huge fish when it was dispatched.

The Midland men were taken on several boat trips in large launches, and especially were thrilled at the deep sea fishing. One party happened on an 8-foot tarpon. Midland firemen engaged in boat races, but did not enter competitive truck runs. Races on the water were in both the motor and sail classes.

Mineral Wells will be host to this association next year.

BLOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL OF COUPLE NOT APPREHENDED

Hammered Foreman Of Prison to Death On Wednesday

MERIDIAN, June 22, (UP).—James Anderson of Fort Worth and Clarence Raines of Centerville, two of four Gatesville reformatory youths who killed W. J. Leonard, prison foreman, with an axe yesterday, were captured on the White ranch at noon today. Bloodhounds led a posse in surrounding the pair in a wooded area.

The other two, Willard Scott of Oklahoma City and Grady Applegate of Wood county were believed to be nearby but dogs had not picked up the trail.

Other youths told Superintendent J. H. McLellan they saw the four leave in Leonard's automobile. The missing youths were Grady Applegate of Wood county, Willard Scott of Oklahoma City, Anderson and Raines.

Leonard, 48, was found unconscious in a corner of his shop with his head battered. Reformatory officials said an axe apparently was used in the attack. He died half an hour later. The door of the shop had been locked. Leonard had been employed at the reformatory for 14 years.

Officials, who immediately started a search for the missing youths, said they had been working in the blacksmith shop.

Superintendent McLellan said the four youths would be charged with murder when caught.

The youths, all dressed in khaki, were hunted last night by reformatory officials, aided by officers in various towns north of Gatesville.

The Leonard car was found abandoned at Meridian, and a search for the fugitives immediately was begun in that area.

The accident happened at the Big Spring takeoff, two miles north of the Dick Knox home in Martin county.

WHEN LUCK IS KIND

The big ambition of the small investor has always been to "get in on the ground floor." Too often, especially in recent years, the investor who tried to do that has stepped into an open elevator shaft and dropped into a sub-basement; but the goal is reached once in a great while, and when it does happen the results are spectacular.

The late Horace H. Rackham, who died in Detroit recently at the age of 73, was one of that small, fabulously fortunate group who got in on the ground floor with Henry Ford. In 1903 he invested $5000 in the Ford Motor Co.; in 1919 he sold out for $12,500,000.

That is the sort of turn to fortune's wheel that the optimistic investor always remembers. To be sure, it doesn't happen very often. But it happens occasionally, and the memory of it will be green, probably, as long as there are investors—and stock salesmen.

TURN ON THE LIGHT

O. P. Van Sweringen's complaint to Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the Morgan investigating committee, that "these investigations are terribly destructive," is a somewhat belated revival of the kind of cry that financial and industrial titans used to emit every time the government tried to find out what was going on behind the scenes.

It was used repeatedly during the Teapot Dome probe. It was raised when the Senate tried to get a picture of Insull's political expenditures in Illinois. It seems to represent a blind feeling that no abuse can possibly be as bad as it is kept secret as the effect of its revelation will be on the public mind.

The depression has helped us to get past that notion; we have stopped thinking that the worst thing we can do is to displease the very wealthy. And the country's response to Mr. Van Sweringen's complaint will probably be an undignified and derisive, "Oh, yeah."

TOSCANINI AND THE NAZIS

Nazi leaders in Germany are enraged, according to cable dispatches, because Arturo Toscanini, famous New York orchestra leader, has refused to conduct performances at this summer's Wagnerian festival at Bayreuth. Toscanini cancelled his contract because he opposes the Nazi anti-Jew policy.

The interesting thing about it all is that the Nazis are now explaining to the German people that Toscanini "has escaped the effects of the great and well-organized anti-German propaganda."

That, of course, is one way of looking at it. But why cannot these Nazi chieftains understand, or admit, that it is their own actions which constitute the greater part of this "anti-German propaganda"? When the Nazis came to power, Germany had more friends in foreign nations than at any time since the war. If she has lost a great many of them the blame rests on what the Nazis have done, and not on any cooked-up wave of propaganda.

WOMEN DRIVERS

The old argument about whether men or women are better automobile drivers gets a new fillip in figures compiled recently by the National Safety Council. These figures seem to give the women a good talking point; for they show that while one out of every 21 male drivers is sooner or later involved in a crash, only one in every 86 women drivers comes to grief.

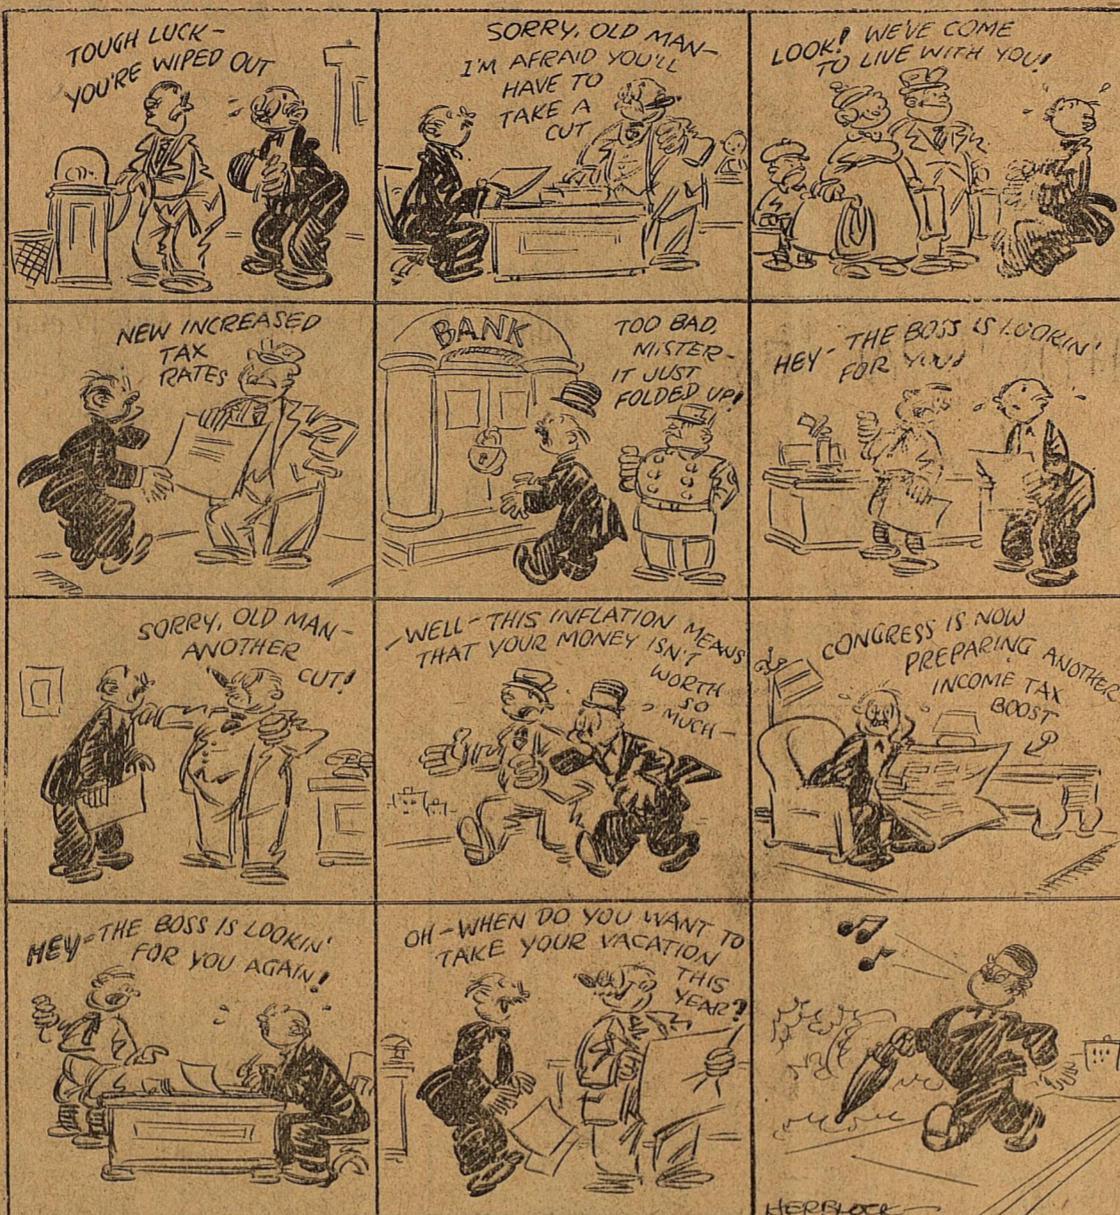

All of this probably won't settle the argument. It will go on, probably, as long as we continue to drive cars. The petulant male has a way of remembering every odd bit of jolting he has ever seen a woman commit on the highway; and no matter how many statistics you feed him, he will always have a way of saying "Those women drivers!" that will reflect his own unconquerable feeling of superiority.

Heigh Ho-It's a Great Life!

Under the Dome Of the Capital

By GORDON K. SHEARER United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN, (UP)—Just who has the right to name a national democratic committee from Texas is now a matter of dispute.

R. T. Craig, editor of the Athens Review, took the matter up directly with Chairman James A. Farley. Farley holds that only a democratic national convention can change a national committee.

He wrote Editor Craig: "The fact of the matter is, Mr. Craig, that neither the democratic national committee nor the state organization of any state have any power to change a national committee."

"If you will refer to the precedents which have been set up in the past and which constitute the code of procedure for the national committee, you will find that each member of the national committee is not an officer of the state but an officer of the national democratic convention."

"When elected a member serves until the next national convention and the chairman of the national committee is not authorized to accept a member's resignation or to give credentials to a new member who may be nominated by a state committee."

"This is the reason why I took no action in the matter to which you refer."

Chairman Farley may be right. He probably is, but in the past Texas has not followed that rule.

Former National Committeeman Tom Love was named by the state democratic executive committee. Present National Committeeman Jed C. Adams was named by the state democratic convention, according to the recollection of old politicians here. The selections may have later gone through a formal ratification by the national democratic convention but the original choices were made by the state committee and the state convention, respectively.

Love had been defeated for national committee by William Poindeexter. Later Poindeexter resigned when Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson first was elected governor and Adams was elected by the state democratic convention held at Austin.

Maybe the committee and the convention couldn't do it but they did do it.

If Farley's contention is correct there would be a strong chance of a committee vacancy much of the time. It is four years between national conventions. If a committee member should die, move from the state or refuse to serve, there would be a vacancy.

Senator Morris Sheppard's acceptance of the dry leadership in the campaign for election of delegates to a ratification or rejection convention indicates there will be a lively campaign before the vote is taken on Aug. 26.

Former Governor Dan Moody may be on the stump for the dries as well as Senator Sheppard.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson and Lieut. Gov. Edgar Whit may be out speaking for the realists.

Whether it is because a new broom sweeps the dry because of cynicism for the work, the forces of the state relief commission are setting an early rising example for other state employees. Relief offices are open at 6 a. m. Frequently the staff is there at that hour and hard at work. It's the busiest spot about the capitol. Director Lawrence Westbrook files to Washington. Mayors and county judges flit in and out. Telegrams go out and typewriters click at high speed.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson predicts it is going to be the busiest branch of the state government and that Austin will see more activity centered about the capital in the next year than it has since war days.

A feeling that there may be a special legislative session before September still lingers about Austin. Governor Ferguson and her husband are firmly determined to tread without deviation the path President Roosevelt marks out for industrial recovery. If he suggests state legislation immediately, they would not hesitate to issue an immediate call.

Not since the early days of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson's administration has her office been so crowded as in the recent two weeks.

The outer office daily presents a scene almost like those so common in January until former Governor Jim Ferguson told the crowds there were no jobs to be had.

Now there is again some prospect of employment being at the governor's disposal. Wholesale changes in the highway department personnel are not unlikely. The Texas Rehabilitation and Relief Commission is an expanding organization. Its work is calling for increased forces.

The governor's announced policy of leniency toward convicts with good records, particularly liquor law offenders, brings a horde of clemency seekers to the office.

Many members of the legislature are also among the governor's visitors. They are here for follow-up work on bills they put through the legislature. They come to urge the governor to approve them. Some are summoned to answer objections made to their bills.

The Texas senate may lose its only woman member. Possibility that Miss Margie Neal of Carthage, will be tendered a post in Washington under the new administration is frequently discussed at Austin.

She was co-director of the Roosevelt and Garner campaign in Texas and, if she wishes it, entitled to recognition from the administration.

Reports reaching Austin say that E. J. Levy of Center, former county attorney of Shelby county, is likely to be a candidate for the place now held by Miss Neal.

She May Become King Zog's Queen

Baroness Franziska de Janko (above), prominent leader of Albanian society and well-known in German and Austrian social circles, is betrothed to King Zog of Albania, according to Continental rumors. Reports from Vienna say a definite announcement will be made in the fall.

Didn't Cost Much, Says World Fair Party From Here

By HOWARD BARRETT

ABILENE—The Century of Progress exposition at Chicago is simply colossal and any attempt to describe it is a waste of words.

That was the sentiment expressed last week by Mrs. Paul Vickers to Midland, member of the party of 117 West Texans returning on the Sunshine Special from four days and nights at the exposition. It was echoed by other members of the group piloted to Chicago on the Gib Sanderfer special section.

A view of the modernistic architecture, a direct contrast to anything known in architecture in this section, which predominates in even the smallest buildings on the huge exposition grounds is worth the cost of a ticket to Chicago, in Mrs. Vickers' estimation. A view of the exhibits assembled from everywhere and which include virtually everything known to science, transportation, electricity, communication and nature is an education in itself.

"It's a liberal education if it does nothing but show one how little he knows," Mrs. Vickers declared. "And it's a certainty it will do just that. In fact, it seemed to me that the things shown there were altogether things of which I knew absolutely nothing—which is what a world's fair should be."

Seeing the exposition can be made just as expensive or almost as cheap as one wishes to make it. Mrs. Vickers, who is the wife of one of the Midland chamber of commerce secretary and has had quite a bit of experience in showing people around, was the leader of the Midland party of 19 who made the excursion.

She believes her group set some kind of a record for spending four days in Chicago, seeing everything in the exposition grounds and every worthwhile point in Chicago. It cost less than $20, including meals and all other expenses except transportation and Pullman quarters to and from Chicago and while there. West Texans no doubt are interested in how it was accomplished.

"Everyday we would pool an equal amount of money," Mrs. Vickers explained. "The people in my party wanted me to look after the details, so I did."

"We visited the grounds, got the lay-out of everything. Then we started visiting the exhibits as we came to them. When we became tired from walking we would hire a wheel chair for one dollar each per hour and kept going, with not too their own boss. Bob Preston says it's been a long time since he ran across the jealous type of man who sprinkled pepper on the dance floor.

A Midland woman got sore at her husband because he said everybody ought to listen twice as much as they talk, having two ears and one mouth.

I remember Frank Stubbeman as a very clever speaker, but for the life of me I can't remember anything I've heard him say in a speech.

When Arkansas first came here from Arkansas a group of town boys surrounded him and asked him if there was any more fools in Arkansas.

"Yeah, but they don't stand around in bunches like this," he replied.

When a local man was drafted for the army, he remarked that the Germans never did anything to him and if they did he had forgiven them.

Pete Flanagan, who is a staunch wet, bares his head every time he hears the band play "Little Brown Jug."

The man who was advised to leave town if he wanted to do something for the community finally got something constructive accomplished. He resigned as chairman of a committee, giving his place to a man who knew how to conduct the job.

West Texans wishing to visit the exposition at a minimum cost. It will be a lot can happen between the trip just completed—transportation and sleeper to and from Chicago and sleeper while there at a maximum rate of $39.75 for lower berth single. Other accommodations will be proportionately lower.

Better Shooting for Fall Season Is Seen

POST (UP)—Young prairie chickens and quail are hatching out in large numbers over the South Plains of Texas according to O. D. Cardwell, deputy game warden for this section.

"I have seen lots of young quail this spring," he said. "Of course, it is too early to tell how the crop will be a lot can happen between now and fall shooting. There have been lots of prairie chickens hatched out. I hope for better shooting this fall."

Not a Mishap The entire party of 117 was piloted to Chicago and back to West Texas without a minor accident or even slight illness. Not a single person was incapacitated for a moment on the trip—but there were many aching feet.

"West Texans going to the fair should take the advice of those who've been," Mrs. Vickers said. "Don't go equipped only with high heeled shoes. Take low-heeled ones for walking—either golf shoes or others equally comfortable. If they're thinking about going by car they had better think again. Traffic in Chicago is not like traffic in Midland or Abilene. Four lanes of cars traveling forty miles an hour each direction on Michigan avenue is too much for me. And there's not a moment parking allowed in the loop district. Parking runs high—one dollar per night and twenty-five cents per hour in the daytime in most instances."

Weather Cool West Texans shivered throughout the three first days there. The temperature on the afternoon of arrival was sixty degrees. It lacked two degrees reaching that the next day. The third day was warmer, but far from hot. The thermometer reached seventy degrees Thursday, the fourth day. The return trip began at noon Friday.

Gib Sanderfer, who sponsored the tour, announced in Chicago that he would conduct another tour beginning July 2 for the benefit of

OUT OF BOUNDS

By HELEN WELSHIMER

YOUR garden isn't well-behaved. Your flowers haven't manners. Defiant flags run anywhere. To wave excited banners.

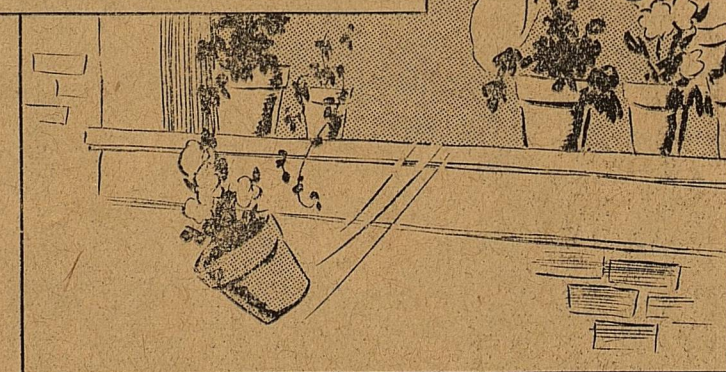

STRAY pansies hide beneath the trellises and window sills. And dandelions and clover GO tumbling on bush-bordered lawns. The patchwork's nice and crazy. Most any place you look you'll see A hyacinth or daisy.

MY garden spot is orderly. The landlord has allotted A window ledge designed to hold Six tulips, nicely potted.

YOUR flowers' pranks are innocent. Mine have a dreadful habit. Each crook picks out a head to hit. Before my hand can grab it.

ITS spattered some crosspatch's hat. I'm giving up my garden. I'm getting much too bored and tired Of begging people's pardon.

Low-Carroll Film at Ritz

"I Love That Man" is the glamorous title of the swiftly-paced drama of a woman's devotion which comes to the Ritz theatre Sunday, featuring Edmund Lowe, Nancy Carroll, Robert Armstrong, Lew Cody, Warren Hymer and Dorothy Burgess. It is Charles R. Rogers' latest production for Paramount and was directed by Harry Joe Brown.

Lowe emerges as the slickest confidence man that ever made a play for dollars and dimes in a perfectly grand love story. Nancy Carroll is excellent as the woman who won't take "no" for an answer.

Man Was Attacked, Bitten by a Fish

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (UP)—R. W. Lochrie believes he is the only man living who has been bitten by a goldfish. The piscatorial attack—to make the story better—occurred in the basement of the Lochrie home.

During heavy rains, and there have been many here recently, the Lochrie basement has acquired from six inches to three feet of water. When Lochrie entered the basement after a particularly heavy downfall to retrieve some gadget for Mrs. Lochrie, he felt a nip on an ankle. He reached down and pulled from the water a goldfish. Search disclosed several other goldfish. Where they came from is still a mystery. The Lochries never kept the "fish bowl" variety and still don't believe it rains goldfish.

Fourteen Servings Of Fruit Should be On Menu Each Week

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is a continuation of the subject "Food Needed for a family of Five for One Year."

Fruit is most essential to the diet. A well-known nutritionist states that the fruit required for a family of five for one year totals 1436 pounds, that is, 906 pounds fresh or stored, 250 pounds canned and 300 pounds fruits and fruit juices.

Two servings of fruit each day or 14 servings each week should be provided. This does not count preserves, jams and jelly. Of these 14 servings each week, seven should be raw, three should be of tomatoes, oranges, lemons or grapefruit and four may be of other fruits. The budget will average about 120 tomatoes and 150 other fruits.

Fruits may include peaches, berries, figs, citrus fruits, pears, watermelon, grapes, apricots, rhubarb, quince, apples, cantaloupes, tomatoes, plums and cherries.

Many people prefer berries, grapes and some tomatoes put up as juice for beverages. For "other fruits," dried raisins, peaches, prunes, apricots, dates or figs may be used.

A half-acre fruit plot can at least 400 feet of row space for tomatoes and 10 or 15 for rhubarb in the garden should supply a family of five enough fruit most years. Where citrus fruit is grown tomatoes or other fruits may be left out if desired. Where no fruit is available on the farm, substitute tomatoes by devoting at least 600 feet of row space to this crop.

Crowell Delegation To Cowboy Reunion

CROWELL—Crowell, which in the middle nineties was headquarters for a number of big cow outfits operating in Foard and adjoining counties, will have a delegation of old cowhands at the Texas Cowboy reunion at Stamford July 3, 4 and 5.

Heading the delegation will be J. H. (Jimmie) Olds, former R2 cowhand and later boss of the same company's STV outfit in Foard county. Olds was noted for his skill with a rope and his ability to handle wild cattle in the cedar brakes that lay in the STV range.

He roped in reunions and cowboy contests at Quanah, Seymour and Haskell 35 years ago. He will rope in the old timers' calf roping contest at Stamford this year, where he will meet and renew acquaintance with J. Ellison Carroll against whom he roped in the earlier contests.

Another old timer who expects to attend is Bud Harrell, 75, who has been a cowboy since he was 13 years old, and won a prize recently in a saddle horse contest at Crowell.

Reach for a Lucky

—for always Luckies Please!

Why shouldn't I say nice things about Luckies?

I must confess that I enjoy smoking more and more. Maybe it's because I started with a cigarette that suits me right. Luckies are so very mild. I like the fine taste of their tobaccos—and because I'm so sensitive to personal daintiness—for, after all, my cigarette touches my lips—I particularly welcome the added assurance of purity which "Toasting" affords. Whenever I hear comments about cigarettes—I always say, "But Luckies are different." And then I would say some nice things about "Toasting". To hear me you'd think that I discovered "Toasting"—but that's just my way. I like to root for things that please me. And certainly—"Luckies Please!"

Roving the Reservation

With the Indians
BY JESS RODGERS

It was only right and proper that Odessa should win the game here Sunday and go back home with 60 per cent of the gate receipts—as at least 60 per cent of the crowd was from Odessa. It is regrettable that no more local people attend the games here, but the condition probably is due to the fact the team is not winning.

Doc admits making an error when he went in to pinch hit in the ninth inning of the last game but he says that he made a bigger mistake than that when he gave George Elliott, skipper of the Odessa club, 60 per cent of the five dollars change he took out to the game.

Simultaneous with the news of the Midland protest of a loss to Iran came the report that Iran went down before Wink Sunday by a 15-5 count. Midland players were not seriously interested in winning their protest and were not depressed when informed that they probably would not do so. But news of Iran's defeat gave them all a feeling of joy. It seems Iran is one club they like to see lose.

Local players are determined to defeat Iran next time they play if it is the only other game they win this season. Their chief grudge is over the water that was given to them by the Iran management. There should be plenty of good water in that town.

Odessa, believing in the adage that practice makes perfection, has a game carded for each of the next four days. Among those it will play are Ackerly, McCamey and the Midland Mexican club.

The Indians will journey to Big Lake for a game Sunday and if they intend to start winning this season this should be the time to start. The Reagan county team has won only one game, and this against the lowly Cranemen early in the season. If the Indians lose this game your editor would appreciate an alibi for it, as all know odds have been used explaining why the locals have lost four straight.

Doc has announced he would give a bonus to the man that led the local club in hitting and so far it is a two-man battle between Estes and Collum. At the present Estes is ahead, boasting a .571 average against an even .500 for Collum.

Speaking of Collum reminds me of the time he was playing in a small West Texas town and found

Marrying Preacher Says Love Does Not Conquer Depression

WELLINGTON, Tex. (UP)—The Rev. J. H. McCuiston, "the marrying preacher" of Hollis, across the border in Oklahoma, self-advised as "cheerful at weddings; tender at funerals," has evidence to show that love does indeed conquer all—even a depression.

The gray-haired Baptist preacher, who considers performing a wedding ceremony "one of the most noble deeds with which humanity has ever been blessed," found 1932 the best year in his marrying career, with 1933 giving every indication of holding up the pace. Last year Rev. McCuiston joined 124 couples in wedlock, and reported 36 weddings for the first four months of 1933.

He did note on probable effect of the depression, however — "hot" checks given for fees.

"You wouldn't think a couple would want to start their married life by giving a 'hot check,'" he complained. "Well, some of them do."

Not only that—some are willing to ask a preacher to marry them for nothing. During the past two years McCuiston has performed 25 ceremonies for which he got either bad checks or nothing.

But the business, in which McCuiston started some 12 years ago by performing a public wedding ceremony in connection with a tent show, has been fairly good through the years.

He estimates that he has performed 361 marriage ceremonies since moving to Hollis. Of that number, 432 were performed since the Texas "gin-marriage" law went into effect four years ago. Repeal of the law this year, he said, "naturally will hurt my business. Many Texas couples, unwilling to accept the regulations imposed by the law, went over the border to McCuiston to get married."

The "marrying preacher" is also a married preacher—has been for himself on third base with a chance to score the winning run if the man following him at the bat got a hit. Knowing however, the batter was likely to strike out, Dewel was hoping for some other way to reach home when all his hopes were suddenly answered in a most unique way. From left field and across third base swept a small whirlwind headed directly towards the home plate. Dewel stepped into the big middle of it and when the opposing pitcher looked for him on third he had already crossed home plate.

Once more Skipper informs us he has a new pitcher and catcher signed. Timmons is the pitcher, while the catcher is supposed to be someone named Stice. Stice supposedly hails from Hobbs, N. M., and is supposed to be a first string catcher. If reports are true that Hobbs defeated Seminole 5-3 in a six-inning game he should have no trouble making the local squad.

Negro Attorney Is Candidate for Rep.

GALVESTON, Texas (UP)—When voters of this and other counties of the seventh congressional district go to the polls June 24 to elect a representative they will find the name of Thomas Dent, Galveston negro attorney, on the list of candidates.

Dent, political observers say, has been thrust into the race to muddy the political waters. Few seem to think he will poll a large vote but many believe he may split the vote sufficiently to throw the two Galveston candidates out of the running.

In this district are Galveston, Chambers, Liberty, Folk, Montgomery, San Jacinto, Anderson, Walker, Houston and Trinity counties.

Nine candidates aspire to the office made vacant by the death of Rep. Clay Stone Briggs. Besides Dent they are Charles W. Thompson, son-in-law of W. L. Moody, Jr., Galveston; Theodore Stubbs, Galveston attorney; Nall Colson, Conroe; R. E. Biggs, Liberty; J. B. Clegg of Trinity; Nat Patton, Crockett; J. D. Pickett, Anderson; and Julian Greer, Elkhart.

Ordinarily, with "favorite sons" from almost every one of the outlying counties in the race, a Galveston winner is assured because the Galveston county vote is by far the heaviest in the district.

In spite of this, Galveston gamblers are making no bets.

The race has several local angles which are peculiar. While W. L. Moody, Jr., the island's richest man, is supporting his son-in-law verbally, his contributions to Thompson's campaign fund have been very small.

Shearn Moody, son of W. L. Moody, Jr., and brother-in-law of Thompson is known to be vigorously opposed to Thompson's candidacy.

However, the Moodys frequently lose election battles.

Another unusual situation is the question of negro votes. The city party, or anti-Moody faction, boasts openly that it has controlled negro votes almost solidly in days gone by.

Observers are wondering whether the negro vote can be controlled at this time or if the negroes will flock to the support of one of their own race. There are some 5,000 negro votes in Galveston county. It is conceded generally that if either Thompson or Stubbs can poll a fair vote in Galveston, one will be elected.

Thompson, formerly president of the Galveston chamber of commerce and more recently a department store owner, has appealed to voters of the outlying counties with a strong agricultural platform and plans for a Trinity river navigation project.

Fallon, state senator from Houston county, is held to have a good chance should one of the white Galvestonians lose. It has been rumored that Pickett is about to withdraw in Patton's favor.

Gen. Johnson Once Searched for Villa

EL PASO (UP)—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, selected by President Roosevelt to administer the national recovery act involving the $3,800,000,000 public works program, once beat the brush along the Rio Grande for Mexico's elusive bad man, Pancho Villa.

He was captain in Uncle Sam's army then and already had won the reputation of a trouble-shooter. Weeks in San Francisco as a lieutenant in charge of the quartermaster administering relief to the earthquake victims of 1905 was part of his early training for difficult assignments.

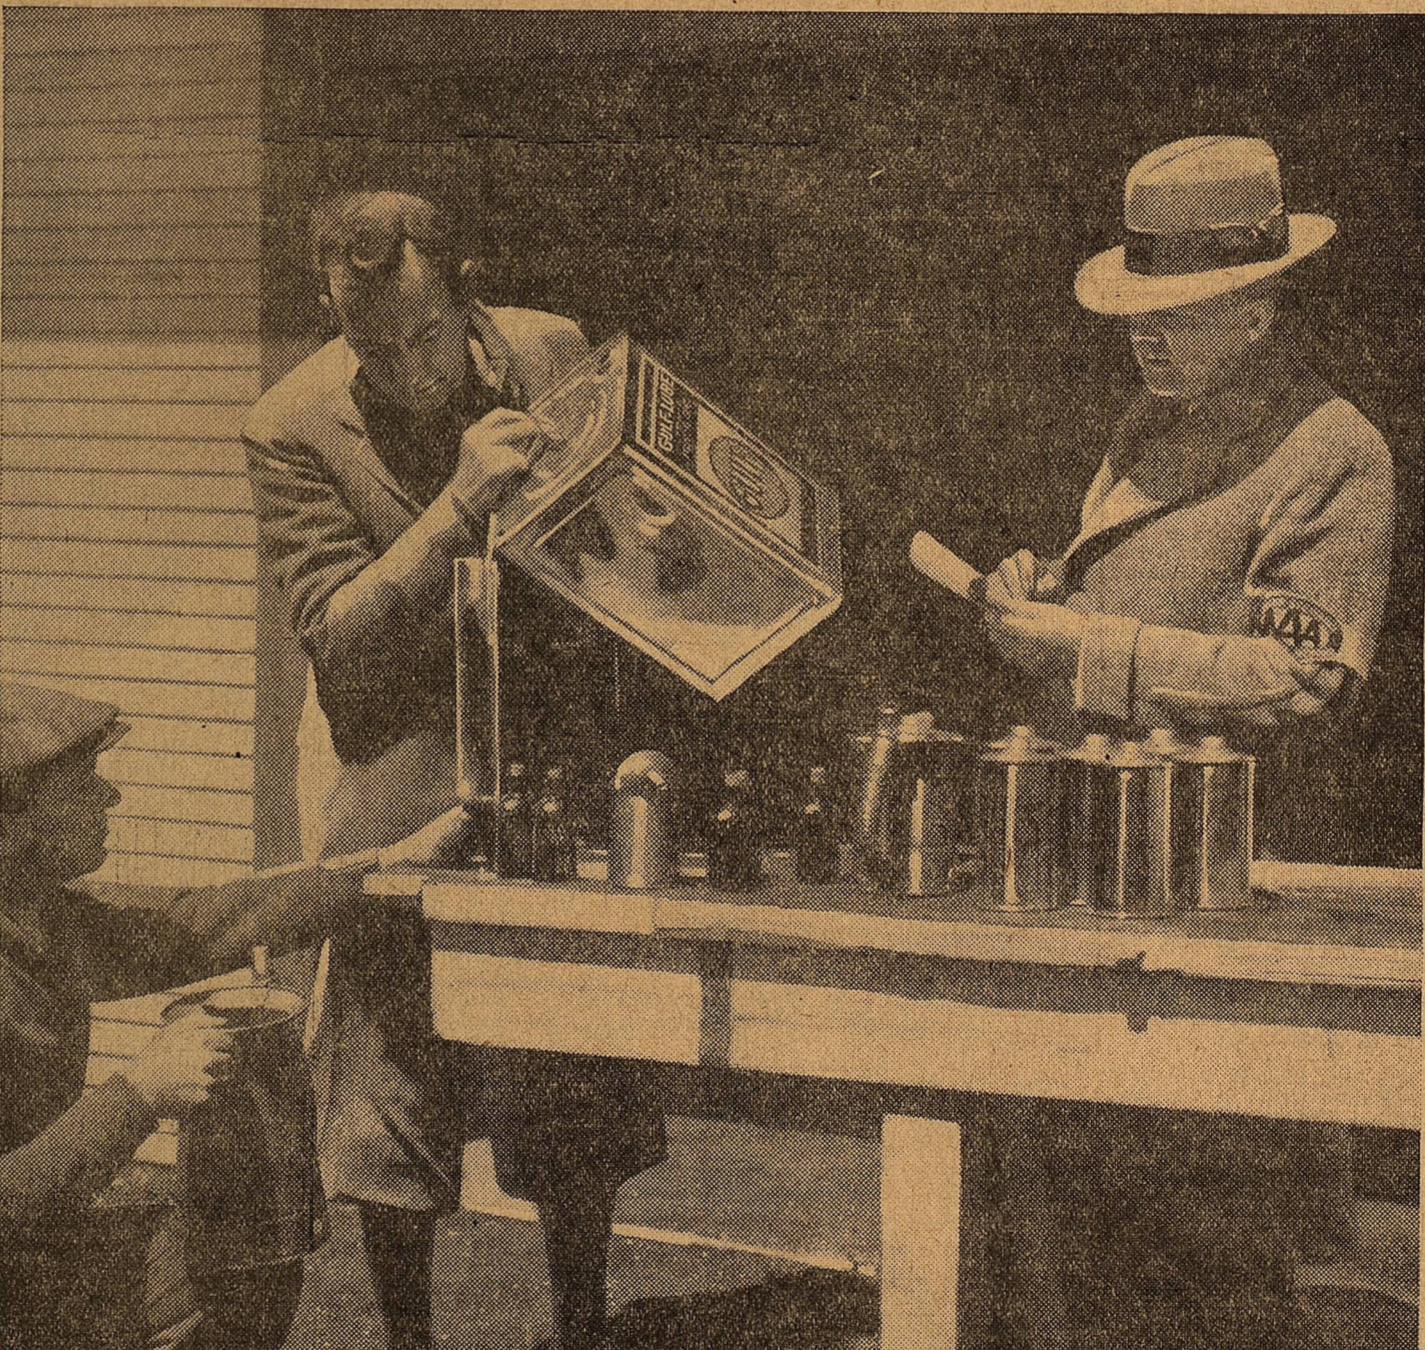

During the World war as a brigadier general he participated the draft and had applications ready weeks in advance of the authorization legislation.

In civil life he is an attorney and manufacturer. His legal knowledge gave him the position of judge advocate of the Mexican expedition hunting Villa.

As an attorney he became general counsel for the Moine Plow company and later the trusted adviser of Bernard M. Baruch, an acquaintance met on the War Industries board.

New motor oil shows America how to get 28 1/2% more miles per quart

MEASURING THE EXACT AMOUNT OF OIL placed in each of the test cars. Representatives of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association tested Gulf-lube against leading brands of 25c oils in 6 borrowed cars—and Gulf-lube stood up 28 1/2% longer before a quart of oil had to be added.

Gulf-lube wins amazing test with borrowed cars of different makes

SIX AVERAGE CARS—from new to several years old—were borrowed from their owners and placed on the Indianapolis Speedway.

In these cars, representatives of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association tested four of America's leading brands of 25c oils.

In a 4-day grind around the track, at a constant speed of 45 miles an hour, these cars tested each of the competing oils.

And, at the end of the test, Gulf-lube had beaten every oil in every car! In Car No. 2, for example,—when oil "C" was replaced with Gulf-lube, consumption dropped from a quart every 652 miles to a quart every 1447 miles!

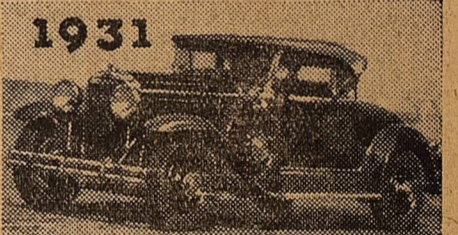

And, averaging the figures for all cars, Gulf-lube cut the oil costs on these cars 28 1/2%!

Buy less oil—get better lubrication

Switch to Gulf-lube now. You'll buy less oil. And you'll get better lubrication. Try it! It's the finest motor oil a quarter ever bought. Get it at any Gulf Station.

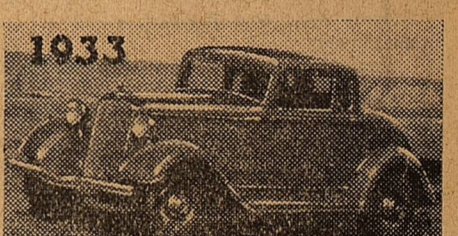

1930
3 YEARS OLD—One of the cars borrowed for this test run had piled up thousands of miles on its speedometer—yet Gulf-lube cut its oil consumption to the bone!

1931
2 YEARS OLD—Pistons and rings in this car had never been replaced—but that made no difference to Gulf-lube! For Gulf-lube outlasted every competing oil tested in this car by a wide margin!

1932
1 YEAR OLD—This roadster was in good average mechanical shape, with pistons and rings well "broken in" but not worn. And again Gulf-lube carried off top honors against other leading 25c motor oils!

1933
BRAND-NEW—This car's mileage was little over 1000 miles. Rings and pistons were tight and oil consumption was low. Yet even in this almost new car, Gulf-lube lasted 37.4 more miles per quart than the average of the competing oils!

deadline designated by the judges, but on the first two attempts to put the animal across the deadline the riders holding the herd will turn the animal back on him. Each time the animal is turned back, it is more difficult to cut out the next time. Speed, as well as the skill of the horse and rider, will be considered in judging.

Rivalry of House Flares as Result Of Race Meeting

Ever since printing became a commercialized art there has been an unwritten code of civil war between the "front" and the "back"—which means the editorial and business offices of a newspaper are separated from the composing and press room by more than a wooden partition.

Until this week the only evidence of a "split" between the South and North factions of The Reporter-Telegram was a conversational habit of keeping the institutional story alive, both ends of the house worked together.

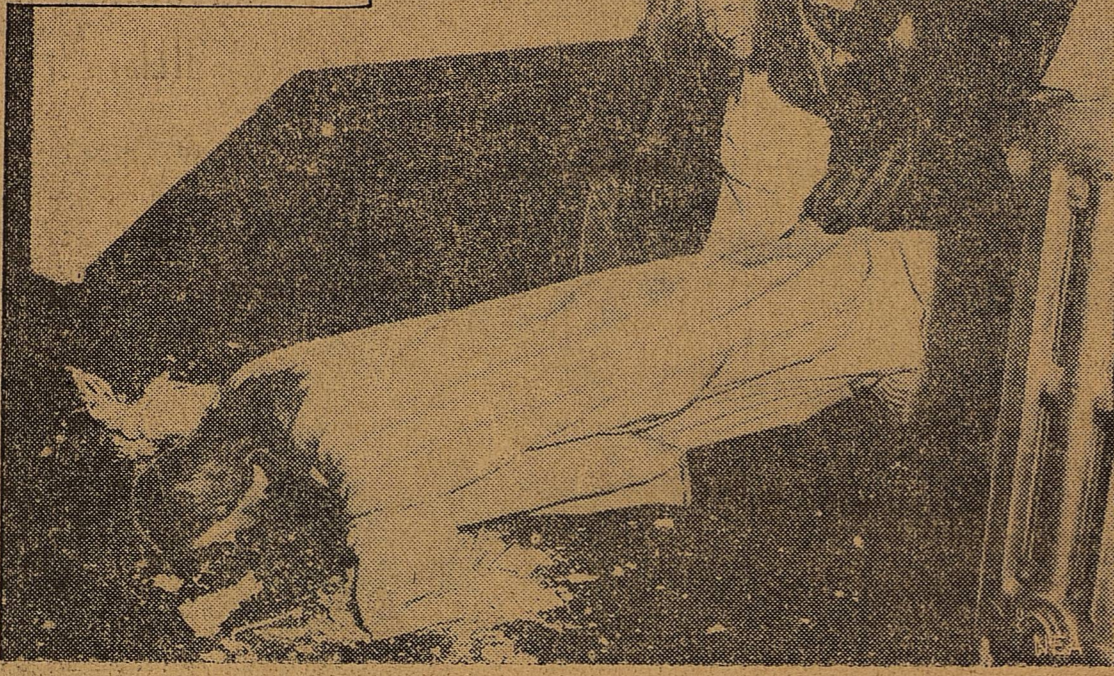

But the heads of the two departments, the publisher in the front and the foreman-pressman in the back, became innocently arrayed against each other. Sam Warren, foreman in the back shop, was tearfully told to come out for baseball, so he found pug and announced his entry in the Jelly Bean race, which will be ridden July 4 by "Gentlemen Riders." The fact the publisher has ridden in these races since their beginning two years ago and is one of this year's riders brought the hiatus between shop employees to a head. The Coco Cola bet have caused the bookkeeping department to lose additional hair.

Warren will fork his 175 pounds across Lee Cook's big dun gelding, but the publisher, who rides at a 145-pound weight, has not said what he will ride. In the past he has ridden Ford Worth, a dun owned by Clarence Scharbauer, and has come under the wire first each time.

Jimmy Nolan, who started the Gentlemen riding event, Dr. D. K. Ratliff, who enjoyed the distinction of being unhorsed in one race, and Cotter Hiett, who has always been a close challenger at the finish line, are others who will go to the barrier for the special event.

and these first few days of official summer has been pleasant, maximum mercury readings for the last three days reflecting this with an average high of 91 degrees and an average low of 62, but Midland people sigh for rain—if it takes torrid temperatures to bring it.

A release received here this morning from the district department of agriculture weather bureau at Amarillo gave the following weather, livestock and range report for the week ending June 20:

Week cooler with showers confined to eastern New Mexico, western border of West Texas and the region of San Antonio to Corpus Christi. Range dry and short over western Oklahoma and northern and central Texas Panhandle. The range and livestock are in fair to good condition over central-west, central and southern Texas, to fair elsewhere.

Weather cooler with showers over western Texas Panhandle latter part of week. Row crops need rain except locally.

Wyoming: Week warm and dry, crops need rain badly; range condition good to excellent in most sections; feed reported plentiful except in extreme south-eastern portion; stock condition good to much improved except some shrinkage in extreme southeastern sections; moderate to heavy irrigating in northern and southern portions.

Arizona: Warmer nights and light showers improved general conditions; water supply low to fair but improved; range and stock condition poor to fair in northeast and south portions and fair to good in east portion with fair elsewhere.

Utah: Livestock and ranges fair but need rain; alfalfa hay cutting beginning generally.

ECTOR MAY HAVE NEW PRODUCERS

Addition of the third and fourth producers in the newest Ector county pool five miles west of Odessa is in prospect today or Friday. Fred Turner et al. No. A-1 Addis is spraying oil with 7,000,000 cubic feet of gas while drilling at 3,910 feet in lime and Waggoner Western corporation No. A-1 Addis is unloading to test from total depth of 3,970 feet with saturation most of the way from 3,914 to 3,981 feet.

Both prospective completions are in section 35, block 43, township 2 south, T. & P. railway survey, the same section in which L. C. Harrison et al. No. 1 Addis, the discovery producer, was drilled.

The first showing of gas in Fred Turner et al. No. A-1 Addis was obtained at 3,822 feet. A showing of oil was reported at 3,829 to 3,840 feet. Gas increased to 2,000,000 cubic feet at 3,868 feet, to 4,000,000 cubic feet at 3,886 and to 7,000,000 cubic feet with a spray of oil at 3,902 feet.

Waggoner Western No. A-1 Addis, a rotary hole, had slight saturation in cores from 3,914 to 2,929 feet, "good" saturation from 3,929 to 3,945 feet and slight oil saturation from 3,959 to 3,961 feet.

Turner et al. No. A-1 Addis drilling by Shira & Davidson of Fort Worth, developed its oil spray at 3,902 feet, 281 feet in the brown lime topped at 3,671 feet and at that point is 982 feet below sea level.

Waggoner Western corporation No. A-1 Addis southwest of the Harrison et al. No. 1 Addis producer, had its first saturation in core at 3,914 feet, which is 996 feet below sea level and about 450 barrels daily after a shot.

A. W. Cherry et al. No. 1 J. Lee Johnson, wildcat test in Ector county, about seven miles northwest of the newest producing spot, and in section 41, block 43, township 1 south T. & P. railway survey, has not been reported since reaching 4,070 feet in lime. The test had a showing of oil from 4,025 to 4,030 feet.

Gov't Plan

The administration will submit to the producers for acceptance or rejection the following proposal which, if and when signed by growers and by the secretary, will constitute a contract:

(a) That the producer agrees to take out of cotton production a certain acreage now planned to cotton.

(b) That as a consideration for the abandonment of such acreage, the grower shall receive one of the following:

(1) A cash payment with cotton option as stated in such offer signed by the producer. The amount of such cash payment is to be on a per acre basis, subject to the regulations prescribed by the secretary, and in accordance with the following schedule:

GENERAL MOTORS HAS GOOD MONTH

General Motors sales company representatives from Big Spring, Ft. Stockton, McCombs, Odessa, Stanton and Midland met at a meeting held Wednesday at the Scharbauer hotel, to show that in May more automobile business was done by that company than in any month since May, 1931.

"Dealers in West Texas sold 47 per cent more cars than over the same period of last year, and the prospects for additional gain not only look bright, but appear to be assured," according to Harry Payne, sales promotion manager of the El Paso business zone, Payne, together with C. C. Gason and T. E. Brenits, Jr., were in charge of the Midland meeting.

The purpose of the meeting was two-fold: to present the new sales campaign for the company's products, and the organization of a "accounting managers club" together with necessary instruction for those organizations.

Justice of Peace Fined Self $5

WILKINSBURG, Pa. (UP)—Justice of the Peace George B. Shields adheres strictly to the penalties listed in the traffic code for motor violations. So strict is he that he fined himself $5 for driving through a red light, but appear to be assured, according to Harry Payne, sales promotion manager of the El Paso business zone, Payne, together with C. C. Gason and T. E. Brenits, Jr., were in charge of the Midland meeting.

The purpose of the meeting was two-fold: to present the new sales campaign for the company's products, and the organization of a "accounting managers club" together with necessary instruction for those organizations.

Enlisted in Burgess William M. Turner's campaign to check motorists driving through a certain borough red light, Shields inadvertently drove against the light himself.

When a passenger in the car called the fact to his attention, Shields returned to his office, pleaded guilty and paid the fine.

MATTEN NEVER HEEDED ADVICE OF HIS FRIENDS

Jimmy Matten has listened to the advice and counsel of well-wishers and more cautious elders who looked askance at his dare-devil stunts most of his life.

And to all whether it was his anxious parents or a ground crew swarming over a plane in which he was to make a dangerous flight, he quoted lightly his favorite bit of grim philosophy, "There's no chance of coming out of this world alive anyway."

He was christened with the imposing name of James Joseph Matten. From knee pant days in Freeport, Ill., where he was born, he has been known as Jimmy.

Matten, tall and athletic, spent time shall be advanced to the secretary of agriculture. Benefit payments will be made promptly after producers have complied with their agreement.

VII
Land taken out of production may be used for the production of soil improvement or erosion preventing crops or food and feed crops for home use.

VIII
The work of carrying out the foregoing plan has been assigned to Chester Davis, director, production division, C. A. Cobb, chief, cotton production section, and Lawrence Myers, economic adviser, agricultural adjustment administration. The state and federal extension services, under the direction of Dr. C. W. Warburton, will cooperate in carrying out the field work as will the extension services of the various states.

many years at the stick of an airplane before he became a world-famous aviator in 1932 when he and Bennett Griffin attempted a round the world flight to beat the record of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty.

He learned to fly in the army. Spent three years in Hollywood flying in war pictures including "Mexican Angels." Unheralded and unknown he flew over straight terrain—over Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, Japan and Siberia. He pioneered flying in the hot near-tropics of Mexico, barnstormed over Texas and the Southwest.

When he and Griffin poised their machine at the starting line for a world flight he was a young man, old in flying experience.

Army Trained
The army training was at the flying school at Kelly field, San Antonio. He resigned from the army in 1925 after three years experience and for the next three years flew in Hawaii. From that flying in Hollywood he was graduated to the ranks of a test pilot for the Stinson Airplane company.

Some prominence was given him when he piloted the first refrigerator ship, transporting fish in Mexico. Eventually he became a mail pilot between Tampico and Mexico City.

In 1930, he became chief pilot for the Carl Cromwell line between San Angelo, Fort Worth, Dallas and San Antonio. When Cromwell was killed in an automobile accident, Matten bought his Lockheed plane which he used in attempting the round the world flight with Griffin. This plane had been bought by Cromwell on Sloan field, Midland. Cromwell asked Old Man Lockheed what he'd take for the ship and Lockheed, thinking the man a wage-earning cowpuncher, named the list price for the machine. Cromwell wrote a check with his knee for a desk and Lockheed had to take a train home to California, for another plane before continuing his eastward flight.

1,400 Mile Flight
He used the same plane in a 1,400-mile flight into Alaska to be used as a refueling plant on Reginald Robbins' unsuccessful Seattle-to-Tokyo non-stop flight attempt.

Matten returned to the scenes of his first training experience, San Antonio, when he and Griffin planned the attempted world flight together by a solo trip. One of his first training experiences, blind flying, and tested the ship for its gas and oil consumption, wing lift and speed.

They took no radio aboard and "Century of Progress" their plane, when they left New York and when they partially wrecked the plane in a peat bog in Russia, it was several hours before they reached a point where they communicated with the outside world.

Russian Wouldn't Help
Matten's ground crew counseled him about learning Russian in event of such an incident.

"A flow of Russian language wouldn't get me through a fog," Matten joked. "Give us good weather and it will be like eating mush with a tablespoon."

The two returned to New York by boat and began planning for another round-the-world flight. This time it would be a solo trip. One of the other would have to remain at home. They flipped coins to name the winner. Matten won.

Matten recently established a non-stop record between New York and San Angelo.

Hardened Muscles on Ranch
To harden his muscles he visited a big Texas cattle ranch. One experience caused him to remark it was safer to fly a plane than bulldog cattle. It occurred after his horse had pitched him and he was chased by an angry bull. Matten made the fence, but the bull was at his heels.

Matten married when he was flying in the movies. His wife, a sister-in-law, Mrs. Muller of Dallas, and his 55-year-old widowed mother, were together in Fort Worth when he and Griffin left New York for Europe and around the world.

"Be calm. Hold tight," was the laconic message from him. At none of his daring flight stunts have they been present. It is his wish that they remain at home.

Spain's Richest Man Is In Jail
MADRID (UP)—The richest man in the Peninsula, Don Juan March Ordinas, completed one year in jail today. He has been held without trial.

All of his millions could not keep him out of prison, neither could his parliamentary immunity, for the Cortes voted to suspend it. March is a deputy from the Balearic Isles.

The two Ministers of Finance that the Republic has had—Indalecio Prieto and Jaime Carné—described March as an arch-enemy of the Republic.

The charges against him are that he bribed the then Dictator, General Primo de Rivera, to obtain the Moroccan Tobacco Monopoly in 1926. Pleas of his lawyers and physicians for his release on bail, or to serve his arrest at home, have proved unavailing.

Counsel insists that the charges against him are unjust, declaring that it was well known that he gave the donations to the then Queen Victoria Eugenia for the construction of a sanatorium in Majorca, and made other donations and a "loan" to a Madrid military newspaper at the instance of Primo de Rivera, but that none of this constituted a bribe.

SUES BICYCLE COMPANY
FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—A bicycle ride has led to a $960 damage suit filed in court here. E. J. McCann alleged his son James Clark, 17, was injured when he was thrown from his bicycle. The accident was blamed on a bicycle company for faulty repair of the wheel.

Pheasant Drowned While Taking Swim

KANSAS CITY, (UP)—Goofus, a Chinese pheasant, has taken his last plunge. The unusual bird, until his life was cut short, amused and bothered workers at a farm near here by his love of the water.

Daily, Goofus would set bravely out to swim in a small lake. Always he would shriek for help when approximately half across the lake and would have to be rescued.

Time after time he was rescued just in time and nursed back to health. The last time rescuers arrived too late. Goofus was pulled from the water, but the endeavors of the rescuers to resuscitate him were futile.

About six cents of every 15 cents spent for cigarettes in the United States is paid to the federal government in taxes.

What Makes a Safe Tire? ... I KNOW!

ARE you willing to risk your life on advertising statements claiming blowout-proof and unblowable tires? One manufacturer gives as the reason for claiming blowout-proof tires—the use of one ply of another color—another, a patented "no breaker" construction—a mail order house, high stretch "elastic" cords, etc., etc. Actually the fundamental cause of a tire blowout is the flexing of the tire which causes friction of the fibers in the cord, resulting in heat and causing the rubber to soften and the cords to deteriorate.

There is a reason why Firestone Tires have won the 500-mile Indianapolis race for 14 consecutive years, the most grueling tire test. The reason is the Firestone patented extra process of Gum-Dipping which saturates every fiber and insulates every cord with pure rubber—which gives strength to the cords and prevents friction and heat in the fibers. This year 42 drivers in this race equipped their cars with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires and not a single driver had any tire trouble.

Race drivers know why Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires are safer and not subject to blowout and will not risk their lives on ordinary tires. Your life and the lives of your family are often in danger at the high road speeds of today and you should not take greater risks than the race drivers who make sure that they have the best and safest tires they can buy—Firestone.

Come in today. We will give you a liberal trade-in allowance for your old tires on new Firestone High Speed Tires—the safest tires in the world.
