ONE OF HISTORY'S GREATEST TRAGEDIES IS REVEALED

The tragedies of history are usually expressible in terms of things that did not happen.

Publication of secret messages in the diplomatic files at Washington shows that Germany and Austria sought at Washington shows that Germany and Austria sought to make peace in January of 1918, and that their effort and 35 cents to the grandstand at the Ozona rodeo and race meet and the Ozona rodeo and race meet and failed because they were unwilling to surrender to the entire American program.

Chancellor Hertling of Germany, it is recorded, told the Reichstag a fortnight after President Wilson had published his famous Fourteen Points that Germany could make peace on that program—with certain exceptions.

Germany, said the chancellor, could not agree to those points involving overseas colonies, evacuation of occupied territories and creation of a free Poland. The other points Germany could accept.

**

Midland used to do it and could do so again. People would rather come here to see a real show than to go to the more out-of-the-way places, and the ropers and riders would rather be here than anywhere. However, any two or three men, or one organization, can't put on a show of that kind. It takes the united cooperation of the cattlemen and the business men with finances and work, with the cooperation of all other branches.

Ine Fourteen Points called for open peace covenants and an end of secret treaties, removal of trade barriers, freedom of the seas, disarmament, readjustment of colonial claims in the interests of the inhabitants of colonized territories, evacuation of all occupied French, Russian and Belgian territory, restoration of Alsace-Lorraine, a realignment of Italian frontiers suffered barriers, and a profit besides.

The last two times they had rodeos here, a group of fifteen or twenty men put up $100 cash apiece in the bank and issued checks for another $100 each. They never had to cash the second check, got the first back and a profit besides. alignment of Italian frontiers, autonomy for Austro-Hungarian minorities, evacuation of occupied territories in the Balkans, autonomy for minorities in Turkey, an independent Poland and the organization of a League of Nations.

Germany, then, was ready to accept most of these items—but the ones she was not ready to accept were in some ways the most important of all.

At that point of time—the dawn of 1918—Germany's Germans Honored rulers felt it wiser to stake everything on a last offensive rather than to surrender on those crucial points. Similarly, the Allied leaders preferred to go on with the war rather than to recede from their original demands.

Those decisions were a death sentence for hundreds of thousands of young men. They brought civilization measurably nearer to collapse. They paved the way for those injustices in the Versailles treaty which today are a tremendous menace to world peace and world stability.

Is it not one of the great tragedies of all history that ing, erected as a memorial to German pioneers who settled in Comal county in the 1840's, were placed papers and articles relating to many phases of contemporary life. They included: that peace movement of January, 1918, could not come to

NEWER AGAIN

Any time you let a ridiculously low price or big promise induce you to buy some packaged product which you have never used or even heard about, you run the risk of disappointment.

Even though you are told the product is "just as good" as the one you like and always ask for, it pays to be careful. Many unfamiliar packages urged upon you today contain cheap merchandise!

Not all manufacturers are guilty of producing it. The blame rests on few, who, in an over-ambitious attempt to make your dollars buy more quantity, have sacrificed quality in their goods.

But in spite of today's bewildering array of "would-be" bargains, it is still easy to buy wisely and get your money's worth.

Now, as always, you'll find the real bargains among the brands you know-by your experience, through their advertising, or by the reputation of their makers. Many manufacturers of these dependable brands have recently announced worthwhile price reductions—honest reductions based on lower manufacturing costs, not on lower quality.

"I hated to break out of that jail," Dick said, "but those 18 years against me were just too much." He thanked Poole, who handles inmates of the jail, for courteous treatment received while he was behind the bars. "But those 18 years in the pen were just more than I could stand," he reiterated.

One prominent business man remarked that at the piresent rate, it would not be long until a local municipal 100-piece band could easily be mustered out of ex-members of the Midland high school band, and several here have advocated keeping a band together throughout the summer months for playing band concerts each week.

Such a room, ample for rehearsals and provided with shelves for the $5,000 worth of instruments which the high school band uses each day, could be easily and wisely incorporated into the plans of the proposed physical education plant, it is believed.

Those who are familiar with the use of a building believe that it must, however, be on the high school campus, convenient to classes, both or boys and girls, which go daily and hourly to lessons in health and physical education. Such an arrangement would be in keeping with the

After you've tried Humble Motor Fuel, will you please use this card (it requires no postage) to give us your frank opinion of its per- formance in your car?	I have tested Humble Motor Fuel for performance in my car and have the following comments to make:
H U M B L E OIL & REFINING COMPANY D 34489	NAME ADDRESS STREET AND NUMBER GITY

Performance Check Cards similar to the one reproduced in this advertisement were distributed to Texas motorists by Humble Service Stations. Thousands of them have been returned to the Humble Company at Houston.

When Humble Motor Fuel was announced six weeks ago. we made no exaggerated advertising claims for our new product. We said to the motorists of Texas, "Test Humble Motor Fuel in your car; compare it with any regular priced gasoline you have ever used; then tell us what you think of it." . Literally thousands of Texans have tested Humble Motor Fuel. They have sent us their comments on Performance Check Cards which they secured at Humble Service Stations. . Many of them say: Humble Motor Fuel develops more power than other regular priced gasolines. • Many of them say: Humble Motor Fuel has a quicker pick-up and smoother acceleration than other regular priced gasolines. • Many of them say: Humble Motor Fuel has eliminated the knock from my motor. . Many of them say: Humble Motor Fuel gives more miles per gallon than other regular priced gasolines. And all of them say: Humble Motor Fuel definitely delivers smoother performance. • The Humble Company knew these things were true when Humble Motor Fuel was introduced to the public. But they were not used as "advertising claims;" nor are they advertising claims today. They are voluntary statements from your friends and neighbors, on file at the Humble Company's home office in Houston and photostatic copies of the cards from your city are on file with the local Humble agent who will be glad to show them to you on request. They prove the definite superiority of Humble Motor Fuel over other regular priced gasolines with the only worthwhile test-the test made in your own car under all sorts of driving conditions. • This unanimous acceptance of Humble Motor Fuel by the motorists of Texas leads us to repeat a statement we made earlier in this series of advertisements: The Humble Oil & Relining Company will never allow its products to take second place.
