Destructive Hurricane Moving Into Mexican Interior

Balloonists Rescued From Canadian Wilds

Haggard and exhausted by their ordeal, Ward T. Van Orman and Frank Trotter, balloonists lost for more than a week in the Timagami Forest Reserve, 100 miles northeast of Sudbury, Ontario, are shown above as they were being brought back across Blue Lake toward civilization. Paddling in the rear of the canoe is James Barrett, line repairman, who found the missing men after they chipped down a telephone pole. Van Orman sits next, and beside him is Trotter. Harrison, another of the rescue party, is in front of the balloonists, and Frank M. Burns is wielding the paddle in the bow.

DEATH OF A PRE-WAR DIPLOMAT

Viscount Grey of Fallodon, dead at 71, won a place in history which will certainly be secure but which is not entirely enviable.

It was Grey who, as foreign secretary in 1914, took England into the war; and as the English ever since 1918 have been nourishing a slow suspicion that the war caused practically all of their troubles, it is not surprising that this veteran diplomat suffered a kind of eclipse in his last years.

For Grey will stand for a long time as an epitome of the kind of diplomacy that was so common before the war—the kind that thrived on secret agreements, secret understandings and the jargon of what H. G. Wells has called the "great power game."

Prior to 1914 the average Englishman calmly assumed that England could not be embroiled in any European war unless the people of England as a whole wished to be embroiled. It was Viscount Grey, as much as anyone, who had to dispel this illusion.

Like practically every other chancellery in Europe, the English foreign office saw the war coming long before it actually arrived. It is possible that the ease with which all the diplomats saw its approach was one of the reasons why it finally came. But at any rate the British foreign office, having visioned war from afar, got ready for it by making certain agreements with the French foreign office concerning united action against Germany.

Thus, when the storm clouds finally broke, the people of England did not have a free hand. Their diplomats had committed them in advance. When Grey laid the whole situation before Parliament, there was only one answer that could be made. To all intents and purposes, it was impossible for England to remain neutral. The invasion of Belgium rallied Englishmen to the standard but the die had already been cast.

Now to recount all of this is not to condemn Viscount Grey. He was an able, sincere and patriotic man. There is no doubt that he actually wanted peace. He did his best according to his lights, and it was hardly his fault if his lights were wrong.

It is the kind of diplomacy he represented that needs condemnation. The World War was a product of that diplomacy; and a world which is still suffering from the war can hardly be blamed for concluding that that diplomacy was an expensive sort of luxury.

EDITORIAL NOTES

A member of the so-called "brain trust" has evolved a plan to encourage the spending of money by placing a lowered valuation on that portion remaining on hand at the end of the month. Of course, it is intended to apply to all, but will not the average family man be inclined to look upon it as a bachelor tax?

British ornithologists are unable to identify a strange bird that winged past a speedboat traveling sixty miles an hour and rapidly left it behind, but there seems to be a possibility, judging by the speed with which it covered its course, that it was a Blue Eagle.

The letter writer and not the motorist had his innings during a recent "free-air" week in Italy. To popularize the use of postal planes, all ordinary mail addressed to points in Europe was dispatched by the faster transportation.

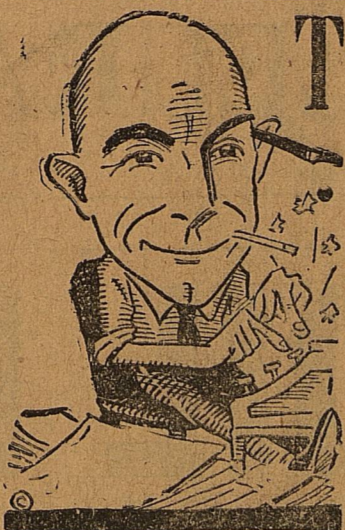

The National Council of Seventy-six, noting that crime is costing the United States annually $13,000,000,000, also points out that the solution of the problem lies in education. The fact that this total means $100 yearly out of the pockets of every man, woman and child should drive home to each the lesson designed for criminals, that "Crime doesn't pay!"

A perfectly tuned bell produces not only one tone, but a chord of five distinct notes. That alarm clock, then, must be tuned to a fault.

An American on a ship was putting out some big yarns. "Talking about ants," he said, "we've got 'em as big as crabs out West. I've seen 'em fight with long horns which they use as lances, charging each other like savages."

"They don't compare with the ants I saw in the East," said an inoffensive individual nearby. "The natives have trained them as beasts of burden. One of 'em could trail a ton load for miles with ease. They worked willingly, but occasionally they turned on their attendants and killed them."

But this was drawing the long bow a little too far. "I say, old chap," said a shocked voice from the corner, "what sort of ants were they?"

"Elephants," replied the inoffensive individual.

Modern Sir Galahad Victor in Duel Over Lady Love, Stranger

ASHEVILLE, N. C.—A gallant stranger who fought a moonlight pistol duel over a girl who doesn't even know him intrigued police here recently.

They had the story of Jack Moody, a 26-year-old filling station attendant who said he incurred an abdominal wound in the romantic encounter, but they were anxious to learn the other side.

Moody was under $500 bond charged with dueling—a charge that has not graced North Carolina court records in recent years. They wanted to place a similar charge against Moody's assailant, but

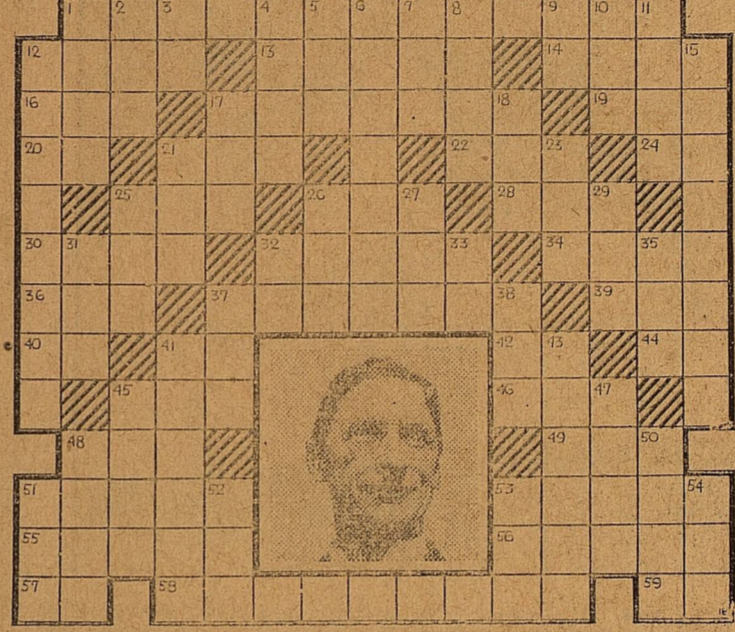

The twentieth century cavalier, with the modern that is supposed to go with chivalry, has thus far succeeded in keeping his identity a guarded secret. Here is Moody's story: A few days ago the young Sir Galahad took him to task for his attentions to a girl whose name the police, who are a little gallant themselves, decline to divulge. They fought—with fists.

Then they met in the business district and clashed again. Moody drew a gun.

So it was agreed that they go back to the exclusive Beaver Lake residential section to settle their differences.

They went in the stranger's car. Moody found he had but two cartridges in his pistol. The cavalier offered to give him some, but they wouldn't fit. So he thereupon disposed of all but two of his own cartridges.

Standing back to back in the moonlight, the two youths paced 20 steps, whirled and fired. The stranger missed his first shot, but the second hit his mark. When Moody regained consciousness, the stranger and the car were gone.

RAILROAD JUNKED

AUBERRY, Calif. (UP).—Hopes and dreams of pre-war "Empire Builders" who invested more than $1,700,000 in their scheme, have vaporized into plain "junk." Junk dealers are tearing up the San Joaquin & Eastern Railroad and hope to sell its locomotives, cars and rails to Japan. The 72-mile line was laid with buoyant hopes of profit in 1912. Decreased business led to its abandonment recently.

a light forever burning a Voice that is never stilled

NIGHT comes on and spreads a blanket of darkness upon sleeping cities and towns. Here and there a lone policeman. In the distance a clock tolling the hour. In the dark silence of the night, there is one light forever burning... one voice that is never stilled. That light is the light in the telephone exchange. That voice is the voice of your telephone. A city without telephones would be a city afraid—a city of dread. For the telephone brings security. Its very presence gives a feeling of safety and nearness to everything. In times of stress and sudden need it has a value beyond price. In business and social activities of a busy day it is almost indispensable. The wonder of the telephone is not the instrument itself but the system of which it is the symbol... the system which links your own telephone with any one of eighteen million others in the United States and thirteen millions in other countries. Every time you use your telephone you have at your command some part of a country-wide network of wires and equipment, and as many as you need of a great army of specialists in communication. There are few aids to modern living that yield so much in safety, convenience and achievement as your telephone.

Miss Miller Gives Rules in Candying Fruit for Women

A candying fruit demonstration was held in the assembly of the county court house recently by Miss Myrtle Miller, county home demonstration agent.

The orange and pineapple that were candied will be used later in the making of fruit cakes and the decoration of Christmas boxes.

Miss Miller says candying is a simple matter if the following rules are followed:

- 1—Preparation of fruit for cooking. Puncture cherries, figs, kumquats, loquats, crabapples and apricots, through and through in several places with a silver fork; peel pears and peaches; core or pit and cut in half. Cut pineapple in rings as for canning or use the canned product. Fruit for candying should be firm, ripe but not soft. Candied fruits may be used instead of the fresh fruits.
- 2—If fresh fruits are used, cook carefully in water until tender. Avoid breaking the fruit. Place the cooked fruit in a pan or stoneware crock or other convenient vessel.
- 3—Prepare the sirup of corn sirup or glucose, 1 cup, and water 2 cups. Heat this to boiling and pour back on the fruit.
- 4—After 24 hours pour off the sirup and to each 4 cups add 1-2 of sugar. Heat to boiling and pour back on the fruit.
- 5—At intervals of 24 hours repeat this process adding 1-2 cup of sugar to each four cups of sirup each time until the sirup becomes very thick and of the consistency of thick honey. Leave the fruit in this sirup for about one week.
- 6—Remove the fruit and drain it. Place it on a coarse galvanized wire screen or hardware cloth and allow to dry for about one week in a room where a draught or breeze will strike it.
- 7—Pack in pasteboard or wicker boxes or open jars. Do not use sealed containers.

Misses Jess Edith and Nell Wayne Carlisle have gone to Denton where they will attend Texas College for Women (C. I. A.)

Miss Ella Mae Newland left Saturday afternoon for Lubbock, where she will enter Texas Tech.

Miss Georgia Bryant has returned from a trip to Dallas and Cedar Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Terry of Lovington, N. M., are spending the week end in Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Wallace of Alpine are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stanley. Mr. Wallace will return to Alpine Monday and Mrs. Wallace will join him later in the week, at which time she will enter Sul Ross.

CHAIN STORES PAID $19,181

HELENA, Mont. (UP).—Montana's chain store license tax yielded $19,181 to the state in the first six months of the current fiscal year. Chief Clerk John J. Jewell of the state board of equalization reports. By far the majority of the 5,044 licenses issued were for single stores, 4,174 of them being in this classification.

TROLLEY RACKET DEVELOPED

WASHINGTON (UP).—Petty thieves here have initiated a new racket to the detriment of the one-man street cars of the capital's suburbs. The trick is to jangle the trolley off the overhead wire and grab the coin box while the motorman is replacing it.

A safe car makes a safe driver.

Henry Ford, Dearborn, Mich.

A safe car has great influence toward making a safe driver. Car faults will magnify driver faults several degrees, whereas freedom from car faults will go far to nullify many serious driver faults. Car safety depends on two sets of factors: first, what the car itself can do to avoid trouble; second, what protection it can give when trouble comes.

In the Ford V-8 the factors that prevent trouble may be summed up in two words—steadiness and obedience.

A steady car is one that runs straight and does not weave or wobble or "hunt" all over the road. Our reliable steering gear, our special type of springs and our X-type frame with 4 full-length side members, instead of 2, keep the Ford V-8 steady.

Our car hugs the road because its center of gravity is low. It is steady on curves or sudden turns, due to our transverse springs which prevent the car from leaning or rocking or tipping as it makes a turn or a sudden necessary swerve in driving. A car that does not go easily around a curve without swaying or tilting, is not a safe car.

An obedient car obeys its accelerator and brake instantly. There is no lagging at the start, no uncontrolled momentum when you want to stop. Instant response when you release the power is as important as instant response when you apply the power.

Now, should accident unfortunately occur, the car's protective qualities come into play. In the Ford V-8 they are these:

Safety glass eliminates a whole range of danger. Every Ford windshield is made of safety glass. Every Ford de luxe model has safety glass throughout.

Our one-piece, all steel, superlatively strong body resists shocks and strain, and affords the highest possible protection to its occupants, and that strength and protection is as great and firm the last year you drive your car as it was the first.

Our welded, all-steel spoke wheel (not the common built-up wire wheel) resists disabling shocks and tends to insure the car remaining upright and thus preventing further danger.

There are 40 different kinds of steel in your Ford V-8, each developed for use where it will produce the greatest safety—first for prevention of danger—second, for protection from danger.

SINGING WOOD, WHITNEY ENTRY, WINS BELMONT FUTURITY

EQUIPOSE THIRD IN JOCKEY CLUB CUP RACE

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (UP).—Mrs. John Hay Whitney's two year old, Singing Wood, carried home the money in the $100,000 Belmont Futurity, America's biggest paying horse race of the year, Saturday afternoon at Belmont Park, out of a field of sixteen starters.

The Whitney colors flashed to the front almost at the start of the six and three-quarter furlong race, keeping safely in the lead although challenged to the finish by A. B. Gordon's Sir Thomas, winner of second place, and C. V. Whitney's Ronstabout, which ran third.

Time of the race was 1:21, the winner paying his owner a purse of approximately $80,000 of the $104,000 total.

The Belmont futurity is important in that its entrants compose largely the field which will seek honors in the Kentucky Derby next May.

The futurity was the fourth race on the afternoon program, the fifth being the Jockey Club Gold Cup race of two miles distance.

Equipoise, third in money winnings for all time and highly rated to win the cup race, was outdistanced by Dark Secret and Gusto on the muddy track.

Dark Secret, ridden by Hank Mills, was put out in front at the start, easily setting the pace and holding the lead. Equipoise, ridden by Sonny Workman, appeared to be able to move up from second place

Indian Frolic Is Called off

Because of several players' having been out of the city, the death of H. V. Jones, who was assisting in the preparation of the barbecue and the threat of rain, the annual out-door frolic for the Indian baseball club was called off, announced Dr. David M. Ellis, business manager for the club.

Among those players who were not enabled to be here were P. and L. Cook, Gilbert Brunson, the Whitmore boys, Levellen, Ed Estes and Wayne Hill.

CREWS BATTLE BLISTER RUST

MISSOULA, Mont. (UP).—Crews engaged in exterminating blister rust in national forests of northern Idaho will use 40 tons of cotton twine—or some 56,000 miles of the currant and gooseberry plants also will use approximately 225 tons of chemicals in spraying wide black currant plants which grow along stream bottoms. Eradication of the currant and gooseberry plants is sought in the rust infected areas, since these plants commonly act as carriers.

Golfers on the course at Jinja, near Lake Victoria, East Africa, are allowed to remove balls from hippopotamus tracks without penalty.

at any time. However, Gusto came from ten lengths back, challenging Equipoise on the home stretch in time to force him to tire, allowing Dark Secret to win. Gusto was second and Equipoise a poor third. Time was 3:25 1-5.

Old Shell-Damaged Churches Repaired As the Years Pass

PARIS, (UP).—A reminder, both grim and poignant, of the consequences to France of the World War comes in the laconic announcement that the "reconstruction of the shell-shattered churches is progressing normally."

At the present time only 601 churches of the 2,626 destroyed or damaged during the war, remain to be repaired or replaced, and it is expected that this work will be completed before the end of 1933.

The Society for the Aid of Devastated Churches in France will spend 612,000,000 francs in the reconstruction of these 601 churches. This group, which raises funds by popular subscription, has been responsible for the repair or replacement of 670 churches in the devastated districts.

Most of the churches rebuilt are those small, simple edifices in what now are sleepy and tranquil villages and hamlets. Many of these worshiping places were reduced to dust by a single shell, or collapsed in mining or aerial operations.

The larger churches, such as the cathedrals of Rheims, Amiens and Verdun, have been restored by other commissions, in the work of which Americans generously have contributed. One of the largest donors since 1919 has been John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

The government has seen fit, however, that certain churches are purposely not to be rebuilt. Some of these ruins flank the well-traveled route Strasbourg-Nancy-Chalons-Rheims, where the fury of the German onslaught in the later years of the war leveled scores of smaller edifices. A number of these are being left in their demolished state to remind succeeding French generations as well as visitors of the material costs of the war to this nation. These giant piles, lifting their shattered spires upward, flank the main railroad lines between Paris and Strasbourg.

FISHING SEASON GOOD

ASTORIA, Ore. (UP).—Despite the fact that five weeks of the fishing season were lost in a drastic fishing strike, the 1933 fish pack from the Columbia River area eclipses the 1932 pack both in size and value. Cannerymen packed 256,700 cases in 1932 and 320,250 this year. Value of the pack this year was $3,600,000, of which fishermen received approximately $1,500,000.

Live minnows can be kept by placing them in running water at the same temperature as that from which they were obtained and feeding them on bread crumbs and soft scraps.

TRAMPING IS POPULAR

WASHINGTON (UP).—Tramping—long popular in most foreign countries—is enjoying a renaissance in the national parks of this country, according to the Department of Interior. More and more people are putting aside their cars when they enter the parks and seeing the sights on foot, the department says. In Sequoia Park alone during July more than 15,000 persons signed the park trail registers.

SNUBS BERLIN

MADRID (UP).—The famous panish cellist, Pablo Casals, has rejected an offer to join the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, declaring his refusal was intended as protest against the anti-Semitism sponsored by the German government.

ONTARIO CROP YIELD BETTER

TORONTO, Ont. (UP).—Although grain crop yields in most countries in Ontario are not expected to be heavy as in normal years, the quality is better than first anticipated. In many countries threshing is well under way, while in others it is nearing completion. In most cases the yields vary from as little as 15 bushels an acre to 50 bushels, in the same districts. All, however, are below normal in volume.

Gaynor and Baxter Teamed in "Paddy," Showing at Yucca

JANET GAYNOR

Warner Baxter is co-starred with Janet Gaynor in "Paddy, The Next Best Thing," the Fox picture that started on Sat. prevue at the Yucca Theatre. This is the first time in two years that the popular stars have been teamed, the last previous occasion being "Daddy Long Legs." Miss Gaynor, who has just completed "Adorable," with Henry Garat as her starring partner, has the title play the part of Lawrence Blake. Janet's role is said to be in striking contrast with anything she has role in "Paddy" and Baxter will play. Her dialogue will have a flavor of Irish dialect.

Harry Lachman, who has won critical favor by his first American production, "Face in the Sky," directed and Edwin Burke adapted the play for the screen.

Nutty Comedy Is Opening Today at The Ritz Theatre

After seeing "Three-Cornered Moon" which opened last nite at the Ritz Theatre for a run of two days, this reviewer must pause to catch his breath and look up a few synonyms for hilarious, gay, frolicking, joyous, diverting.

Diverting, maybe, is a good word to apply to the characterization of Claudette Colbert, Richard Arlen and Mary Boland who hand out a thousand laughs when the grim reality of the depression catches up to them and brings them face to face with things for the first time. It will divert your attention from your own troubles and convince you that everything will soon be hot-totsty. So there's an uplift to this comedy, too.

Miss Colbert is charming and amusing. Arlen is exceptionally romantic in a straight role, the kind of a man you will love. Mary Boland, in the most unadorned comedy role of the season, is the head of the family of Rimplelegs (as nutty as their name) and is totally irresponsible from beginning to end. To her, "everything is nice." And everytime she tries, in her silly way, to cheer up her brood with a "that's nice" and a cup of coffee, you laugh.

The brood includes Tom Brown, William Bakewell and Wallace Ford, three amusing sons, one a college boy, one trying to be an actor and the other being run ragged by a little vixen played by Joan Marsh. Then, of course, there's Hardie Albright, as an indigent author who moves in to sponge off the Rimplelegs and proves himself as "nutty" as any of them.

There are 50 comets constantly circling about the planet Jupiter.

Next to a Camel Chevrolet gives most miles per gallon

No argument about the camel. When it comes to miles per gallon, there's nothing in all the Gobi desert—or anywhere else—that can beat him. No argument about the Chevrolet either. It's the most economical form of full-size transportation on wheels.

More miles on a tankful of gas. More miles on a filling of oil. More miles without worry and trouble and repair! And they're smoother, safer, more comfortable miles, too, due to all these features exclusive to Chevrolet in the low-price field: A cushion-balanced six-cylinder engine. Fisher body. Fisher steel-plus-hardwood construction. Fisher Ventilation. Starterator. And many more!

Travel in comfort and save as you go. Save with a new Chevrolet. In addition to being America's most economical car, it's also America's most popular car, as well!

Esthonia Citizens Alarmed by Nazis

REVAL, Estonia (UP)—The rapid growth of National Socialism in Estonia, fostered by a vigorous propaganda campaign and watched by a friendly Berlin government, has given rise to persistent rumors of a Nazi coup against the present government.

The Social Democratic press, alarmed at the increasing strength of the movement has emphasized the rumors. According to the rumors, the attempt against the government is to be carried out with the aid of the military, which allegedly along with public institutions and federal bureaus, has been honey-combed with "cells" such as those employed by the German parent party in its campaign to Nazify industry.

Forecasts for future developments are difficult in view of the somewhat cloudy government position, but observers are convinced that unless official action is definite, the nation faces severe political disturbances.

Curiosity Almost Kills Girl's Pet

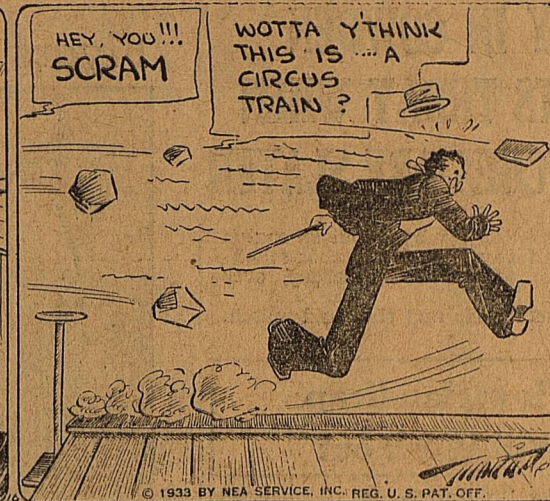

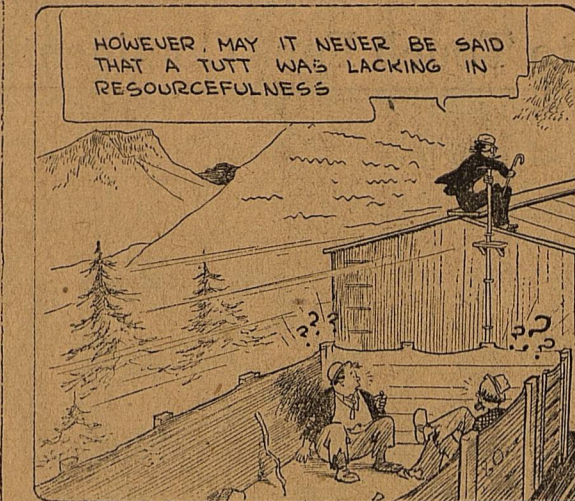

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP)—Curiosity didn't kill the cat in this instance, though it probably would have but for the interest taken by Philip N. Merian, city engineer, and George Muller, his assistant. The men were on an inspection tour when they saw a girl running along the walk, a kitten in her arms. The pet had shoved its head into a sardine can, and was unable to extract itself. It was nearly suffocated when the engineers cut the can away with pruning shears.

PREHISTORIC JEWELRY FOUND

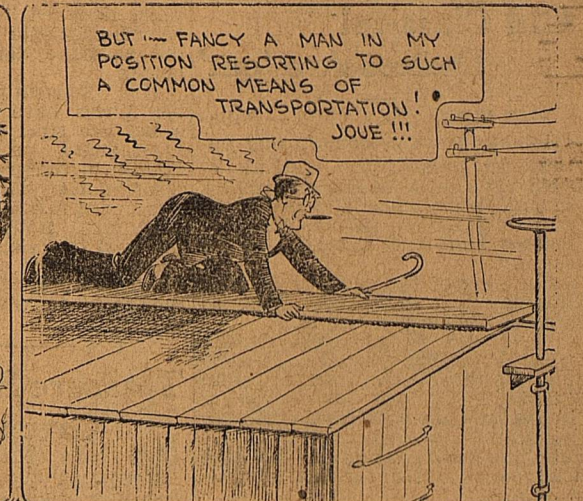

TUCSON, Ariz. (UP)—Precious prehistoric jewelry, including 1,149 pendants, was discovered in opening of 14 rooms in the ancient Indian city of Kinshaba, near Fort Apache, according to a report of archeologists received here. Dr. Byron Cummings, of the University of Arizona reported that a large shell pendant as large as my hand, encrusted with 300 nicely cut rectangles of turquoise.

There are no definite records to show that Stratford-on-Avon was the birthplace of Shakespeare.

Old Classical Dances Are 'out'

PHILADELPHIA (UP).—Philadelphia has not shown any enthusiasm towards the revival of such old dances as the schottische, square dance, polka and quadrille, according to Al White, dancing teacher here since the turn of the century.

Speaking of the contrast between this city and the Middle West, as regards dancing, White said:

"A return to such old dances, which has taken place in the Middle Western states, would please dancing instructors. It would be a return to dancing that emphasizes grace and minimizes action. It would restore dignity to dancing and remove it from the field of acrobatics."

Steel Highway Guards Helpful

PITTSBURGH (UP).—A broad new market for steel products may be developed as result of tests of two new types of highway guard rails, designed to guide a motor vehicle back into the highway without excessive damage to the machine.

The conventional post-and-rail fences have been replaced by a net-like steel guard and a steel band guard on two Allegheny County highways for tests.

Automobiles which crash into the new guard rails are not damaged, it is claimed. Both the wire net barrier and the steel band, the latter about 10 inches wide, prevent automobiles from coming in contact with the posts to which they are attached.

Treasure Stories Given Refutation

WASHINGTON (UP).—Centuries-old American Buccaneers of 300 years ago spent most of their time drinking British rum rather than burying treasure, according to reports from a recent Smithsonian Institution expedition.

While visiting one of the Bay Islands of the Honduran coast, the Smithsonian party found the ruins of an old pirate "hide out" which had flourished in the days of the

FIRST ROUND OF PLAY IN COWDEN CUP TOURNEY STARTS TODAY WHEN TWENTY-ONE MATCHES ARE SLATED

Beginning of the first round of the Cowden trophy handicap golf tournament begins at country club today, with 21 matches scheduled. These matches must be played on or before Wednesday, over the 18-hole route.

Entry of 66 golfers will result in five rounds and the final match, the latter to go 36 holes.

Handicaps, set by a committee made up of C. L. Jackson, Harry Adams, Arch Thomas, Bill Simpson and A. Wadley, range from one (Jackson being the only one listed) to 18 (eight being listed in the maximum handicap classification).

Final play will be on Oct. 8. The big trophy won last year by Frank Day will be offered. Day is not here to defend his championship, having moved to Amarillo. Harry Adams, last year's runner-up, will play under a handicap of 9.

For the convenience of those who might not have read the play in the first round, the bracket is reproduced below (11 golfers were shoved into the second round as they drew byes):

Jackson and Walsh
Thomas and Riley
Tolbert and Bailey
Conger and Scruggs
Hyatt and Lewellen
Wadley and Moran
Miller and Norris
Tiknor and Harrison
Vance and Nicholson

Spanish Main. Natives of the village, who, according to the Smithsonian, are descendants of the Buccaneers, spend their time hunting for treasure.

Instead of treasure the scientists found only hundreds of old British rum bottles scattered along the sides of a creek and an alleged treasure cache, which they decided was, most likely a pirate rum cellar. So far as could be learned nobody ever has found any of the legendary buried gold.

The expedition, which traveled by airplane, mule and Indian dugout canoe, equipped with outboard motor, later explored parts of the Honduran jungle where they found sharks that live in fresh water 200 miles up the Patuca River.

Frog Passes Best Kangaroos, 33-0

SHERMAN, Sept. 16.—Displaying an effective passing attack, the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs opened their 1933 grid season here last night by defeating Austin college, 33-0.

Delicate Touch For Diving Bell

SEATTLE (UP).—A diving bell, invented by E. E. Nomura of Seattle, that has crushing power of 800 pounds in either arm, yet can grasp the most delicate china cup without breaking it, soon will be used in salvaging lost treasure.

The bell now is in operation in the waters near Anacortes, Wash., where it is being used in raising the big Bahada, which has withstood the attempts of other apparatus.

The bell is shaped like a pear. It accommodates one man. The top has four port holes. Two arms are attached from its sides, joined at the elbows and wrists, with interchangeable sets of fingers. The bell is made of steel seven-eighths of an inch thick and has withstood all pressure tests.

I have acquired Frank Edsall's interest in the New Deal Boot & Shoe Shop and am now operating it alone. Your patronage will be appreciated—materials of your selection—first-class workmanship—you must be pleased.

Radio-Stage Show At Ritz Wednesday

Manager J. Howard Hodge of the Ritz theatre announces that he has secured for a personal appearance on his stage for one day only Wed. Sept. 20 Sheriff Loyal Underwood and his "Range Riders," the outstanding cowboy organization on the air today, coming direct from radio KNX "The Voice of Hollywood."

The Sheriff as he is known to hundreds of thousands of radio fans throughout the entire West, Alaska and Canada for his production of the Arizona Wranglers, has gathered about him a number of cowboys who for the passed four years have been playing in pictures with Tom Mix, Hoot Gibson, Buck Jones, Tim McCoy, Ken Maynard and other Western stars and has built up a musical organization of singing and playing buckaroos that have proved the sensation in the theaters of Southern California.

The group is stopping here en route to Dallas, where it is billed for an engagement on the Paramount-Public circuit. It is only through Mgr. Hodge's affiliation with theatre organizations over the country that he was able to get the stage show. He says that never has there been such an array of stage and radio talent on a Midland bill.

There will be only two performances, matinee at 4:15, night at 9. The regular picture program will be held in connection. Matinee prices 10 and 25c, night prices 10, 25, and 35c.

Tight 'Bo Injured By Night Passenger

MONROE, La. (UP).—When Bracton Sizemore, 19, of Hodge, La., dropped down on the Illinois Central railroad tracks here for a "snooze," he was slightly holed de combat from a round with John Barleycorn, police declared.

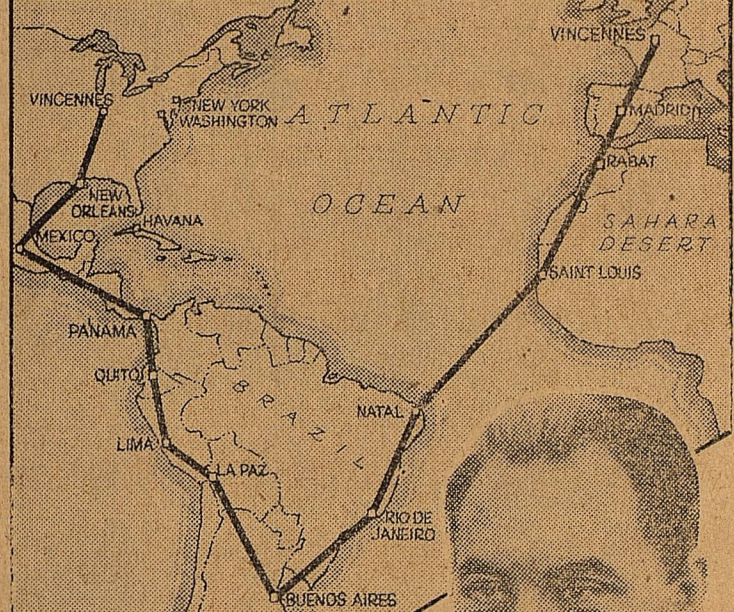

He awakened to find a train racing over him, and his left hand and right foot crushed into shapeless masses of flesh and bone. His foot and hand were amputated.

Sizemore was en route to a conservation camp near Bastrop, after a visit home, with a party of friends, when the accident occurred.

Wager Races Again Popular

LONDON (UP).—Matches between race-horses for substantial wagers, the origin of the "Sport of Kings" in this country, are regaining favor. Time was when the racing manuels were full of such items as: "The Duke of Berkshire matches his gray filly against Lord Dashiell's brown colt over a distance of one mile for a wager of One Thousand Guineas."

Such an amount was small in the 17th and 18th Centuries, and whole fortunes have been staked on races between famous horses. With the advent of regular racetracks and programs, these sporting matches went out of fashion.

Now they are becoming popular again, and there have been several in the last few years.

The most recent was this summer when Lady Durham's two-year-old, Montez, beat the Duke of Norfolk's two-year-old, Quicksilver, over five furlongs, by three lengths. The stake was $1,000, and Montez was an 8 to 11 favorite.

In June there was a contest for a purse of $1,100 between Lord Carnarvon's Pamos and John Arthur Dewar's Brother-in-Law, the latter carrying off the prize.

The last big match took place six or seven years ago. It was for

DON'T BE A ONE-EYED MOTOR MENACE

To drive with one light is to endanger yourself and other drivers—in the city or in the country. That's why we say—have your lights inspected and carry extra bulbs wherever you go. We'll inspect your lighting system and repair it—at low cost. Drive in today and let us put your car in "safety-first" condition—while you wait.

ONCE MORE

The best is none too good for America

Even during the year's when price meant everything and quality often was forgotten, men frequently asked us, "Haven't you got something a little better?"

Now times are different. They want to see the best right at the start. We like to show it because we know the best in the most economical and the most satisfactory in the long run. Ask us to show you
