COLORADO MERCURY FALLING

Snow Drifts 15 Feet In Places; Train Is Marooned

DENVER, Jan. 14. (UP)—Steadily falling temperatures today brought bitter cold to the snow-covered Rocky mountain region. A train carrying 12 passengers stalled 10,000 feet above sea level in Southern Colorado. The railroad tracks were reported blocked by drifts 15 feet deep in many places. The temperature at Butte, Mont., was 20 degrees below zero. An automobile caravan was attempting to reach Ramah, N. M., following an infant's death. An epidemic is feared.

Smith Announces For Re-election

The Reporter-Telegram has been authorized today to make public announcement of the candidacy of W. R. (Bob) Smith Jr. for re-election to the office of district attorney for the 70th Judicial district. Smith needs no introduction to the people of Midland county. He has held the office nearly three years and has appeared here in court many times in the role of prosecutor. He is a native of West Texas, a graduate of Austin college, Sherman, and of the law school of the University of Texas. He has practiced law nearly eight years, and served for one term in the state legislature, representing the El Paso district. He did not run for re-election but at the expiration of his term came to Odessa, at which place and at Midland he has lived for the past five years. Smith says that if the people of the district see fit to keep him in the office for another term, he will continue his determined effort to enforce the laws properly and thoroughly, but with fairness to all concerned.

Andrews Test to Be Spudded Soon

Digging the cellar and slush pit were developments this week at the new test by the Fuhrman Petroleum corporation in Andrews county. The well will be drilled on the F. Boner land, 1,320 feet from the north line and 440 feet from the west line of section 24, block A-43, public school land. J. E. Lucas, who is to have charge of drilling the well, moved his family from here to Andrews today.

Wants Abandoned Baby for Her Own

While officers seek the parents who deserted a 6 1/2 pound baby girl at a Stanton tourist camp, Mrs. J. E. Moffett wife of the physician who examined the infant soon after it was found, hopes that they will never be found. Mrs. Moffett wants the baby. She tells her friends repeatedly of its beauty and sturdy body. And she has no small children. She takes care of the child herself. The child was found two days ago after a man had registered at the camp and drove away four hours later. Officers believe the child was born in Midland.

All men, strangers and visitors, who have no regular Sunday school connections are cordially invited to attend, Haight said.

Accused Officer

Held on board a warship at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, above, is one of four persons charged with the murder of a native. The latter had been named by Mrs. Massie as one of five men who attacked her.

Frank Elkin's Idea Is Adjudged First

Frank Elkin won the Reporter-Telegram letter contest for the best ideas of what Midland should do in 1932. Elkin's article on the need of a grain sorghum feed mill, small elevator and an abattoir won the unanimous decision of the judges, Addison Wadley and George D. McCormick. The award is a year's subscription to The Midland Reporter-Telegram. All entry letters appeared in the newspaper of Jan. 3. The chamber of commerce is working now on Elkin's idea for the establishment of feed yards here. The project would be of great value, it is believed, to cattlemen and farmers.

Mrs. Patterson's Sister Is Buried

Funeral services were conducted in Sweetwater this afternoon for Mrs. Elizabeth Glass Hord, 71, sister of Mrs. T. S. Patterson, who died at her home in Sweetwater at noon Wednesday. Mrs. Patterson was accompanied to the funeral by her husband, and daughter, Mrs. Joe Youngblood and Mr. Youngblood. Mrs. Hord had been a resident of Sweetwater since the early eighties and was the wife of Judge H. C. Hord, pioneer Sweetwater attorney and Nolan county democratic leader. A long illness, climaxed by a stroke of paralysis last week, proved fatal.

Butler Fined for Cotton Foraging

One of two men placed in jail Wednesday on charges of stealing cotton and feed from the W. E. Eason farm on the Frank Elkin place, six miles east of Midland, was fined $10 and costs in justice court that afternoon, and the other is still being held. C. L. Butler was the one fined. Baston Massey is being held. Butler absolved Massey of blame by his testimony, but Massey told Sheriff A. C. Francis his tracks would not be found in the Eason field because he had "sacks on his feet." Less than $5 worth of unginned cotton was taken, court officials said.

Two Counties Seek Services for Agent

Two counties are trying to get Miss Genavieve Derryberry to become their home demonstration agent. She recently resigned from duties in Midland county. Clay county has bid for her services and a county of District 4 has asked the district agent to send Miss Derryberry there. Her resignation takes effect on March 1.

Do Mexicans Smoke Loco in Cigarettes?

After all, it may be loco instead of marihuana that occasionally makes some of the residents of the Mexican quarter get boop-oop-peepoish or its equivalent in their language. Persistent search had failed to reveal trace of marihuana weeds here but some say that the loco weed has much the same effect when smoked. Ranchmen are well acquainted with loco. Horses and cows eat it and seem to go crazy. They run themselves gaunt in search of it, once they have tasted it. They pass up good grass in their search for loco. One ranchman said he had seen Mexican of this section, taking dried loco weeds into their homes. Marihuana selling in Midland has been kept close under cover, as the laws are unusually strict on those who are found in possession of the weed. Several Mexicans have worked in good faith with officers in a search for marihuana weeds, but none has been discovered here. When one of the plants is discovered it will be sent to Texas A. & M. college for certain identification. Marihuana weeds as they would grow in Midland when once identified could easily be spotted by officers thereafter. Right now, no officer here is certain he could tell the weed if he saw it.

Mock Classification Talks, Rotary Theme

Take-offs on classifications of a number of club members were outlined in a humorous speech by Paul T. Vickers at the Rotary club today, revealing startling confessions on the part of those who were his subjects for discussion. J. E. Hill gave information on the local school system, showing that an additional credit had been granted Midland high school by the state department on account of the high grades made by graduates in their first college year. Extemporaneous talks were made by several members; Elliott H. Barron was in charge of the program.

Admits Slaying

Bischoff signed a detailed statement of his actions during the five days which followed little Marian's kidnapping Dec. 17. Bones of other possible victims have since been found in his basement.

"Bad Negro" Arrives; Hard Working Man

Warned by Nolan county negroes that the sheriff's department here might expect some sort of an eruption in Midland's negro quarter simultaneous with the arrival of one A. D. Darby from Sweetwater, deputies kept a sharp lookout and this week found the newcomer. He was hard at work in a cotton patch. "Them low class niggers at Sweetwater done got down on me," he said. He professed to be a good negro and one who likes to work. "Whenever you get out of work just blow out of town," Deputy Fish Pollard advised. The negro grinned broadly and said he would.

Program Presented At Prayer Meeting

An impressive worship program was conducted at the regular prayer meeting service held Wednesday night in the Methodist church. After several songs were sung by the congregation, the following young people presented a short playlet entitled "The Cost of Voluntary Christian Service": Audrey Tieknor, playing the part of Christianity; Virginia Hawkins, Pauline Ashmore, and Ruth Long playing the parts of three girls in the play. M. D. Johnson Jr., played the part of Father Time. Phyllis Hag sang a solo at the close of the play, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Harvey Powlledge. The congregation then sang a song as it was being illustrated on the screen. The devotional talk was made by the Rev. E. C. Calhoun, pastor, and at the close of the service a man united with the church on profession of faith.

Has Plenty of Dresses, Yet They Cost Only $20 a Year; Makes Them Herself

Plenty of new dresses for the year—and at a cost of less than $25! Most women cannot understand that. It was Mrs. J. E. Wallace of the Prairie Lee community and an individual wardrobe demonstrator for 1931 who did all this at such low figures. To begin with, women's club work under the supervision of the home demonstration agent, Miss Genavieve Derryberry, is offered an expensive range choice of wardrobe demonstrations. A woman may elect to make her clothes for $25 or less, or $50 or $75 or clothes. Mrs. Wallace entered the first division. So much did she cut down on expense that she didn't buy patterns, but had the demonstration agent use "foundation" patterns; that is, the goods were cut while being fitted to the body. And she utilized old materials. These are counted at the rate of new cloth of the same kind and at prevailing prices. Laborist two cents. is counted at 25 cents an hour. Mrs. Wallace's report to the demonstration agent follows: "I signed as a wardrobe demonstrator in January. I made a tailored street dress of pandora print, costing $1.75 and being valued at $5. The dress won third place. Other dresses followed. "My wardrobe was just a little dark closet when I started. With the help of the demonstration agent, we made it lighter. The inside wall was the outside of the old house and could not be painted, so I canvassed and papered it with white paper, put shelves closer together, installed additional shelves, painted shelves, door and floor—and all at the cost of $1.09. "The total cost of my clothes entering the work as a demonstrator is $20.32." And Mrs. Wallace, born on George Washington's birthday, says the figures are exactly correct, even to the cent.

RED GILES MAY RETURN IN CUSTODY

Sheriff Francis Has Issued a Request To Hold Him. Red Giles, wanted by Midland county officials, is facing the prospect of going from one county to another these days. Lodged in jail in Amarillo a few days ago when burglar tools were said to have been found in his car he was later released only to be claimed by Panhandle officers. Sheriff A. C. Francis telephoned Panhandle this morning. He was told that Giles was about to make bond on the Panhandle charge. "When he does hold him for me we want him here," he charged. Giles was convicted in Midland county on a liquor law violation charge.

Pipe Being Pulled At Weekley-Cowden

A pipe was being pulled in the Well at No. 1 Cowden early this afternoon to ascertain if the last string of tools had been recovered. Fishing tools, which were lodged with the drilling tools at 3,070 feet December 13, were recovered Tuesday evening. The gas in the well was reported unchanged by the removal of the fishing string. No. 1 Cowden is credited in some quarters with being high structurally and is being watched more closely than any wildcat in the Permian basin. The test is 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 33, block 43, township 2 south, Ector county.

Directors Report Friday on Drive

Directors of the Midland chamber of commerce will meet Friday morning to make reports on the membership campaign now in progress. Today is the last day for this particular canvass. The directors are inviting all persons interested in seeing Midland continue her forward steps to join. They point out that it is popular in Midland to join the chamber. The records show that only two business houses of any size refuse to support the organization. Many oil men, nearly all cattlemen, and professional men are doing their share to keep Midland going forward, and the directors now soliciting memberships are inviting all who may not now be members to get into the class of boosters and do their share of work and financial support. The reports will be made Friday morning at 8 o'clock at a meeting in the private dining room of Hotel Scharbauer. "Names of new members will be added to the published membership rolls so newcomers to Midland may know those who are evidencing their faith in the town by their support of community progress," a statement said.

Widow Gets Seat

Mrs. Hattie Caraway, above, senator of Arkansas, following a special election of Jan. 12. She will be the second woman to sit in the U. S. senate. Mrs. Rebecca Felton of Georgia having served one day several years ago.

No Different from Man's Job, Our New Woman Leader Says

By ROBERT TALLEY, NEA Service Writer. (Copyright 1932, NEA Service, Inc.) WASHINGTON.—A woman's job in the senate isn't to represent the women and children of the United States or to attempt any special missions, for there are none that a man cannot perform just as well. Her first few weeks as a senator from Arkansas has convinced Mrs. Hattie Caraway, only active woman senator in the nation's history, of this. She has had only one predecessor, Mrs. Rebecca Lattimer Felton, of Georgia, to whom a chivalrous southern governor gave a special one-day complimentary appointment back in 1922. "People often ask me," says Mrs. Caraway, "if I'm not planning to become especially active for measures and appropriations in behalf of women and children. Well, I am not; there's no need to. "The men in the senate are just as much interested in such welfare matters as a woman would be. And why not? They are fathers, they are interested in children just like the mothers are. I know in my own case, my husband worried just as much about our three boys as I did. It is likely, of course, that a woman may be better informed on such matters, but I am sure the men have the interests of the women and children just as much at heart."

Wind Cuts up At Odessa Tues.

ODESSA, Jan. 14.—The heavy windstorm late Tuesday night did considerable damage in Odessa. Several light coverings on the city's white way lighting system were broken, screen doors torn off their hinges, shingles torn from roofs of two houses, and a large plate glass window in one of the business houses smashed. FIVE-DAY WEEK. A five-day week in the executive headquarters, the divisional headquarters offices and all district superintendents' offices, effective Saturday, Jan. 9, was announced today by the Western Union Telegraph company. This action, taken with the approval of employees, is equivalent to an eight and a third per cent reduction in present salaries. The five day week and the reduction will not apply to employees who handle messages, and who constitute the majority of Western Union employees.

NEGRO IS BELIEVED MURDERER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (UP)—Washington, Maryland, Virginia and Pennsylvania police today combined in a hunt for George Crawford, 45, negro, ex-convict, and an unidentified negro as suspects in the slayings of Mrs. Spencer Isley and her maid, Mrs. Buckner, at Mrs. Isley's Middleburg, Va., home. Crawford was formerly employed on the Isley estate. Police learned that Mrs. Isley feared Crawford because of her belief that he burglarized the house recently. The woman was found fatally beaten with a hatchet and a boot jack. Their bodies, with skulls crushed, were found early Wednesday morning by Paul Boeing, Mrs. Isley's brother, in a cottage on the 200-acre estate where she kept her string of fine hunters. Boeing had spent the night a few yards away at the massive colonial manor house which Mrs. Isley had leased until Sunday to Katrina McCormick, daughter of Ruth Hanna McCormick, former Illinois congresswoman. When Boeing entered the cottage for breakfast he found the body of his sister, widow of Spencer Isley, Milwaukee banker, on the floor of her bedroom. She apparently had been beaten down in the midst of a terrific struggle. In a nearby room the body of the maid, Mina Buckner, 60, lay across the bed. Joined by Brigadier-General William Mitchell, former assistant chief of the army air forces, and a leader in the Middleburg-Warrenton social colony, police began a search for George Crawford, the negro ex-convict, a former employe on the estate. He was sought after it was disclosed that Mrs. Isley believed he broke into her house on Christmas eve. She then expressed fear of him and asked associates for advice. Bertie Neal, a negro, was held for questioning after reports that she had been with Crawford. She denied this, however. Mrs. Isley went to an anti-prohibition meeting in Upperville about eight miles from her home, returning about midnight. When Boeing entered the home, he found both women clothed ready for her bed. Mrs. Isley's rings were on her fingers and a purse nearby, containing a folder of bills, was undisturbed. The only thing missing was a small automobile, taken from the garage.

NO OTHER DONATIONS

"One of the main reasons I don't cut my chamber of commerce subscription is that I am never asked for any additional donations during the year." This was a statement made Thursday by a leading Midland business man.

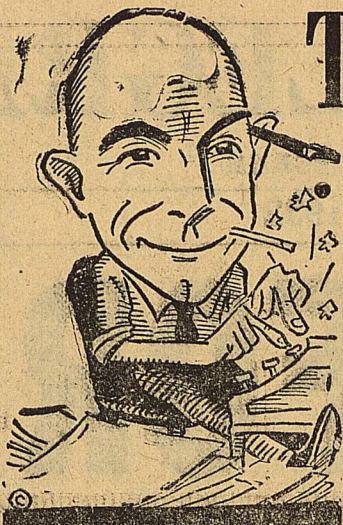

The Midland chamber of commerce has an enviable record for the handling of its financial affairs. In fact, chambers of commerce throughout Texas, and in some cities much larger than Midland, have copied the Midland plan.

Through the continuous membership campaign no new general campaigns are held each year as in some cities. Only little campaigns are held to enlist newcomers and to give opportunity to people who may have changed their minds and decided to do their share of community work rather than ride the skirts of others.

For nearly eight years under the present chamber of commerce management no additional collections have been taken. The one annual campaign coupled with the continuous memberships finances the work.

Sometimes a merchant may think he is paying a good deal to pay $10 a month, but if he did not pay regularly, he would likely have been asked for $50 for the barbecue, $10 for the Christmas celebration; $25 for his share of trade promotion and would have been charged for fair exhibit space, and at the end of the year would have paid more than $120. The truth is the Midland plan will save the business men money if they continue their present generous and wise support.

Meet Mr. Meek At Ritz Today

Meek by name—but by nature, Donald Meek, for twenty years a stage and screen favorite, most recently seen with Nancy Carroll in "Personal Maid," like to have his own way. The picture shows at the Ritz today.

He is violently opposed to driving an automobile, and, although he has owned many during the past twenty years, he has never driven a mile. He has never learned to drive, so that Mrs. Meek has had to do all the chauffeuring for the Meek family, while Mr. Meek reclines happily by her side and enjoys the scenery. He gets away with it.

But then, in the Meek family, Mrs. Meek happens to be a motoring enthusiast, whose hobby is automobiles and driving them.

Comeback for Old Mining Town Fails

SAN FRANCISCO. (UP).—Bodie in Mono county, is not to "come back."

One the "wildest, wickedest, mining camp in the west," where vast fortunes in silver were made, Bodie's "come back" is doomed because the big mining syndicate of William H. Crocker and Frederick W. Bradley of this city, has abandoned seeking ore in the flooded lower levels of the old mines.

Bradley, a mining expert, said that even with silver at a higher price, Bodie can no longer yield the white metal in the paying quantities it did 60 years ago.

SAN FRANCISCO. (UP).—"And I once loved that microbe."

She claimed Dean not only stole her affections from her husband, but filched 12 decoy ducks, a pair of rubber boots, a smoking jacket and a bath robe from her house while she was at Reno getting a divorce so she could marry him.

Judge Steiger found Dean guilty of the ducks and robe charge. "Love," he said, "is intangible and the defendant is not legally guilty of theft in this charge."

LOST 20 LBS. OF FAT IN JUST 4 WEEKS

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at City Drug Store or any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle, and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back. (Adv.)

Reviews of Four Texas Books Are Given at Club

Another phase of the Fine Arts club course, "Fine Arts of the Southwest," was presented Wednesday afternoon when a program dealing entirely with Texas writers was conducted by Mrs. Jack Hawkins and Mrs. Van Camp.

The club met at the home of Mrs. Roy Parks, who was assisted by Mrs. Winston Borum. Miss Leona McCormick gave a complete review of "Vagabond of the Brush Country," by J. Frank Dobie.

Using a bit of local color in a chapter dealing principally with Midland and Odessa, Miss Thelma White gave an extremely interesting review of J. Frank Dobie's "Cornado's Children."

Mrs. Hawkins reviewed "Land of the Journey's Ending," and Miss Stella Maye Lanham presented "Conquering Our Great American Plains," by Stuart Henry.

Newbury Medal Books for Children Are in Library

Every edition of Newbury Medal books is on the Midland county library shelves for the use of children.

These books were awarded the Newbury medal by the Children's Librarian for being the most distinguished contribution of the year to literature for American children. The list included "Story of Mankind, Van Loon, 1921; 'Voyages of Dr. Doolittle,' Lofting, 1922; 'Dark Frigate,' Hawes, 1923; 'Tails from Silver Land,' Finger, 1924; 'Shen of the Sea,' Chrisman, 1925; 'Smoky, the Cow Horse,' Jones, 1926; 'Gay-Neck,' McKergel, 1927; 'Trumpeter of Krakow,' Kelly, 1928; 'Hitty, Her First 100 Years,' Field, 1929; 'The Cat Who Went to Heaven,' Coatsworth, 1930-31.

Room Colors Unless you have plenty of big, spacious windows, don't paint or paper the walls of a room in a dark color. Creamy white and pastel shades will make a dark room look brighter.

Wednesday Members Observe Bible Day With Program

Bible day was observed by members of the Wednesday club at a meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. Andrew Fasken.

Papers read by Mrs. M. R. Ha, leader, and Mrs. W. G. Whitehouse were of unusual interest to the club. Mrs. Hill related the lives of the missionaries, Livingston and Moffat. The explorer, Stanley, and the empire builder, Rhodes, were discussed by Mrs. Whitehouse.

Members attending were Mrs. J. M. DeArmond, Frank Elkin, Hill, S. R. Preston, Clarence Scharbauer, E. Russell Lloyd, Whitehouse, and Fasken.

For Buffet Supper A buffet supper which is extremely easy to prepare consists of club sandwiches, plenty of relishes and some sort of deep dish dessert. Arrange the sliced chicken, tomatoes, lettuce, bacon and salad dressing on a plate and put the electric toaster at one end. As fast as the toast is made, give three slices to each guest and let them make sandwiches themselves while the toast is hot.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

Addison Wadley Company's Semi-Annual Clearance Sales Are the Outstanding Bargain Events of All West Texas

Sales, held at the end of each season, for a purpose. To clear out the past season's stock, convert this surplus merchandise into cash, to make way for the New Season ahead.

ANYTHING YOU BUY AT THIS SALE MUST BE SATISFACTORY, or your money will be refunded. That is one of the reasons for the success of these semi-annual bargain sales is the knowledge that anything you buy here is a bargain or you can get your money back.

Remember, please, that nothing will be sold at sale prices until 8:30 Friday Morning, January 15th, and that this sale will close promptly at 8:30 Saturday night, January 23rd.

NO APPROVALS

At least, for the first few days, there will be no approvals. We have found this necessary for the reason that to permit garments being taken out on approval, during January Clearance Sales, we often find so much of the stock out on approval, that we miss business. HOWEVER, we will refund the money on any merchandise that may be returned promptly.

DO organize. Eventually, after the women present discussed prevailing styles in shoe heels, whether good looking milkmaids should carry umbrellas to the cow lot, and will eggs go up do you thing? they settled down to naming girls and women who can do their shopping on a basketball court.

Bear in mind, Junos, another meeting has been set for 6 o'clock Friday afternoon. In the meantime, a bunch of you will have been telephoned and acquainted with the fact. Knowing that few responsible people crack the paper on this page, and fewer read the output of Mr. Sports Reports, the women voted unanimously to inform through the medium of the hello girls those they wish to get into the proposed league.

Just a reminder: do you remember how we all grinned when we learned the women wanted to organize a playground ball league last year? And do you remember further that the more graceful sex eventually got together a loop that rushed the men's league by way of comparison in crowds?

We wish to acknowledge delivery of a package of chewing gum from Prof. W. W. Lackey, big package, delivery boy and all. To get matters exactly straightened out, Prof was caught chewing gum himself and wanted to incriminate jointly the office charged with uncovering the evidence.

And to the phemate who sent the green tie: Considerate and all, but wasn't it all a joke of sorts? Come out to see us and you will see that Bo-Peep has a new green collar. But the note was nice, at that.

Some criticism among the fairer sex followed our inadvertent remark about men being glad women would play basketball here because mark about men being glad women other instead of driving over men on the streets. While we admit something of the figure-of-speech attitude we took in the matter, we might be pardoned for pointing out a little historical chronicle.

Even the ancient Romans had to worry about women's driving. The first traffic law on record was passed to give women unrestricted right to drive their chariots through the streets of Rome. This was in 396 B. C. The old Romans were rather urbane about the affair, pointing out that they gave the women traffic rights to streets because the streets were of the one-way kind. With all the culture they possessed in that day they must have known that every street is one-way when women step on the gas—or grab up the reins. In reality, what the senators did was to give the women the fashionable streets where they could drive and look at the price tags in windows—and men took to the crowded houseposts, going places by jumping from one house to another and thankful that this was safer than walking in the streets where the women were in charge.

When Julius Caesar tried to stop some of the congestion by issuing an order to his traffic officers restraining anyone driving from entering the market place at the Circus Maximus for 10 hours after sunrise, he was letting himself in for some more trouble. He found varicous and sundry deputations of the fair sex trying to get past his secretaries. After Lydia or Poppaiee or some of the floosies of those times had pulled the makeup kit and had worn down his resistance with the perfumes of the time, he gave in. A fat Roman told in the public baths the next morning that two senators, a poet and a swordbearer, had been run down by women. Naturally, everybody was sorry to hear about the swordbearer getting hurt, but what could anyone do? Julius had to build a row of buildings clear up to the circus so the men could get in at all.

We notice from a national survey that men's play on the golf links decreased 29 1-2 per cent last year, while women's play increased 17 1-2 per cent. A modern result of men's fear of women's driving, we take it.

Bobby Campbell of Breckenridge is not the only one who gets calendars. His description of a lass clad in a string of beads was fetchingly done (the lass' mind you, being pictured on a calendar), but we believe he should have seen the one M. M. Seymour of the Ever-Ready service station, managed to save for us. A good looking girl and a generous length of exposed silk stockings and a propitious wind (you cannot see the wind) and an appreciative farmer looking on. The whole is framed and covered with glass and, in order that we can tell when the ensemble is about to go up in flame, a thermometer is attached. We keep a paper cup filled with water nearby. The water is just as good for throwing on the faces of fellows who get too warm when visiting the art gallery.

Several school ma'ams were down for a squint yesterday afternoon. We wonder how they heard of the picture so soon. Anyway, the office is keeping a sharp eye on its insurance premiums and has double-checked with the sheriff's office to see whether everything is legal and all. The sheriff said it was, but the D. A. said he only wanted to see us hang it then he would come by and file a charge and confiscate the picture.

Meetings similar to the one in Big Spring will be held in all of the seventeen districts of the Baptist organization. Few changes are being made in these committee heads.

Woman Leader--

of your husband's pet measures—such as his anti-lobby bill, etc.?
A. No, I will leave those matters to men who are better informed about them than I am.

Modest and unassuming, Mrs. Caraway has sought to efface herself ever since she came here for her first sessions in December, following her appointment by Governor Purcell upon the death of her husband last fall. Apparently the tragic circumstances under which she inherited the office—Senator Caraway's death was sudden—have caused her to prefer the background. Day after day she has sat at her little flat-topped desk in the senate chamber—neighbors to such prominent figures on the democratic side as J. Ham Lewis of Illinois and Joe Robinson of Arkansas—and has never yet uttered a word except for votes. Usually she is seen writing on a note pad.

Mrs. Caraway's first vote was cast in the election for president pro tem of the senate, in which she voted for Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, as against Senator George H. Moses, republican choice.

The only major measure on which she has had a chance to vote thus far was the Hoover moratorium. She voted against it.

Mrs. Caraway lives in her Maryland home on the outskirts of Washington with two of her three sons. They are: Paul, 26, who was graduated from West Point in 1929 and is now stationed in Washington and studying law at Georgetown university, and Bobbie, 16, senior in the local high school. She frequently gets to see her other son, Forrest, 22, also a West Point graduate, as he is stationed at Fort Washington, Md., which is close by.

Her days begin at 8 o'clock when she leaves home with Paul and Bobbie and drops them off at school on her way to the capitol. She spends an hour or so in her office, attends senate committee meetings—and then, when the senate convenes at noon, goes to the floor. She remains there until adjournment, usually about 5 p. m.

There are a lot of strange letters that a senator gets, too. In addition to their own constituents, people from all over write in to urge this, that or the other, ask a favor, request support for a cause, etc.
But one letter quite different from the rest came to the woman senator from a young girl in Pennsylvania, the wife of a man who had lost his job. A baby was coming, she said . . . things were desperate . . . her husband was out of work . . . she didn't have any clothes for the baby . . . could Mrs. Caraway please get some baby clothes and things somewhere and send them to her?

The package left on the next mail.
