Airtight Case Being Built up Against Murder Suspects

BODIES OF 3 MURDERED MEN ARE LOCATED

Officer Finds Trace Of Bodies While Crossing Creek

FORT WORTH, July 13. (UP)—Officers are preparing an airtight case against O. D. Stevens, M. D. Howard, W. D. May, and M. T. Howland in the murder of J. B. Rutherford, Dallas, Texas, Rutherford of Abilene and Jack Sturdivant of Eula.

The bodies of the men, missing since last Saturday, were found last night under a bridge of the Trinity river. They were bullet riddled and badly mutilated in an effort to prevent identification.

Officers say the dead men were murdered when they sought to collect $2,000 apiece as their share of the $70,000 postal robbery here last February.

Stevens has been described as the master mind of the ring, and also has a narcotic charge against him as the result of the finding of a $50,000 dope cache on his farm near Handley.

The killing is believed to have taken place on a hay farm, which adjoins that of Stevens.

The Howard brothers of Fort Worth were also implicated in the mail robbery.

They will be asked for the quartet when they go to trial, the district attorney said.

GAMBLER NOT HURT; POLICE QUESTION HIM

O'Connell Junior Is Still in Hands of Abductors

LA GRANGE, Ill., July 13.—John Factor, millionaire market plunger, held prisoner 12 days by kidnapers, was released here Wednesday night after payment of his friends' ransom of $200,000, United Press learned today.

Factor was restored to freedom a short distance from the local police station. He was driven to a street car line in a machine escorted by two automobile loads of hoodlums and directed to the station.

Factor was unshaken, ill-kept, and appeared exceedingly tired. Police Sergeant Eugene Cortesi said his friends had arranged the ransom but that Factor did not know the exact amount paid.

Federal officials in Chicago, however, learned that $200,000 had been demanded and were of the opinion the demands had been met.

Earlier in the evening, Mrs. Rella Cohen Factor, wife of the victim, indicated the sum had been paid when she asked federal officers to withdraw from the case stating Factor was expected home "soon and unharmed."

Factor immediately communicated with his wife by telephone and when word was flashed to detective headquarters in Chicago that he had been freed, Chief of Detectives William Shoemaker asked that he be detained for questioning.

Detective squads and federal officials were immediately dispatched from Chicago, 14 miles east of here. Pending their arrival, local police refused to permit questioning of the speculator. Federal police are starting a war on kidnaping, called by Melvin Purvis of the department of justice, "unprecedented."

"The market operator whose recent success is said to have inspired his seizure for the huge ransom, said he was 'little the worse' for his captivity of a dozen days, one of the longest extortion captivities of recent record."

PRESTON RESTRAINS MORGAN CONST. CO.

A temporary writ of injunction was granted Sam R. Preston, Midland cattleman, by District Judge James T. Brooks of the 32nd judicial court of Texas, Big Spring, this week against the Morgan Construction company, restraining that company from alleged trespassing on sections 35, 26 and 25 and on other lands known as the H. C. Beal ranch, which lies in Midland and Martin counties, from operating machinery set up for taking of gravel from a pit there and from hauling gravel and other materials through the property.

LAST RITES ARE READ OVER V. C. RAY OF MIDLAND

Last rites were read over Virgil C. Ray, 75, Midland cattleman and commission man Wednesday afternoon, and his body was interred at Fairview cemetery.

The Rev. Winston F. Borum traced the career of the victim from his earliest life in Midland to the moment when his automobile overturned north of Odessa Sunday, resulting in injuries to Ray and to two boys, El Paso, both of whom died as a result. Ray's death was Tuesday afternoon, Sacra's Wednesday morning.

Earl Ray, only son, will follow in his father's steps, saying he will take up the commission business where his father left off. He has been trained from infancy by his father in the cattle business. He will be the sole supporter of his mother and a 12-year-old sister.

SUCCUMBS EARLY THIS AFTERNOON AT SAN ANGELO

Others Injured When Car Overturned Improving

Rep. B. Frank Haag of Midland succumbed at 1:15 this afternoon in the Shannon hospital at San Angelo from a basal skull fracture sustained in an automobile accident near Sterling City Tuesday night.

Death closely followed information from surgeons that slight chances of recovery were being manifest for the first time since the attorney was brought into the hospital.

He had lingered near death since 10:45 Tuesday night, when his automobile overturned after striking a truck near Sterling City. Clarence Scharbauer, Paul T. Vickers and County Judge Elliott H. Barron of Midland, riding with the representative, were injured. All are recovering, Vickers being the only member of the party still confined to his bed.

Haag was thrown an estimated 40 feet from the car, which turned over three times and was reduced to a twisted mass of debris. The representative was unconscious when found, and never regained consciousness.

Reports of an operation at the hospital this morning in an effort to relieve pressure on the brain could not be confirmed, a nurse at the hospital telling The Reporter-Telegram over long distance telephone shortly after the representative's death that none had been made.

The Johnson Funeral home of San Angelo was preparing Rep. Haag's body for being returned to Midland this afternoon by the Ellis mortuary. Newbie W. Ellis expected to leave Midland for San Angelo at 2 o'clock.

No arrangements for services had been made, members of the representative's family rendered prostrate with grief.

Judge Barron, who remained by the side of the representative throughout the two days and nights, said every possible recourse to surgical science had been done to bring about Rep. Haag's recovery, but that the common cold and a respiratory ailment had gradually grown weaker until the moment he expired.

ARRESTS CAUSE FUROR OVER WIDE AREA

FORT WORTH, July 13. — The bodies of three men, slain Saturday night, officers said in a dispute over a division of $72,000 loot taken in a depot mail robbery here last Feb. 21, were found Wednesday night half submerged in the Trinity river beneath a bridge east of Riverside section.

The discovery climaxed a four day mystery marked by the charging of four men with murder, the solving of the mail robbery and the finding of $100,000 worth of bootleg narcotics in the palatial home of O. D. Stevens, principal suspect, northeast of Handley.

The slain men were Jack Sturdivant, 28, Eula; Harry (Hy) Rutherford, 28, Abilene; and J. B. (Beefy) Rutherford, 30, Dallas, Harry's brother.

The bodies were bound together in metal fence wire.

Charged with their deaths are Stevens, W. D. May, M. D. Howard, alias Pettijohn, and M. T. Howland, alias Pettijohn, all of whom are on $30,000 bond each. The four murder suspects, and Claude Hill and Weldon Routt, the latter in jail in Dallas, also face federal charges in the mail robbery.

Bonds of $50,000 each have been set in federal court.

Deputy Sheriff H. W. Rhodes, on his way home after sheriff's deputies had ended a search of the Post office near Birdville, discovered the bodies after a stench and the appearance of oil on the surface of the river had attracted his attention.

MIDLAND ASSURED BY COMMISSION OF EARLY COMPLETION OF HIGHWAY WORK, AND OF NEW ROAD JUNCTURE

Early completion of topping along the eastern segment and scarfing of the western loop of Highway 1 has been ordered by the state highway commission following the appearance before that body in Austin of representatives of the Midland county commissioners court and of the Midland chamber of commerce.

At the same time, an informal conference promised to give Midland a paved connection with the Odessa-Andrews road, but did not designate the point where juncture will be made. Two state commissioners said the road would be built, but that the matter would have to be tabled 30 days, at the conclusion of which the commission would open formal bids.

The connection with the oil field road would bring to Midland much trade that goes from Gaines and Andrews counties to the south plains, it is believed.

The Midland party was composed of Rep. B. Frank Haag of the 88th representative district of Texas, County Judge Elliott H. Barron, Chamber of Commerce Secretary Paul T. Vickers and Clarence Scharbauer, cattlemen and hotel owner.

Haag was the principal spokesman, and Judge Barron were the principal spokesmen for Midland, and put up arguments before the commission.

An informal hearing to the Midland delegation was given by Commissioner D. K. Martin, former college classmate of Scharbauer.

On Aug. 20, the formal hearing will be held, and Judge Barron will represent Midland.

While at Austin, the Midland party looked over proposed atlatfor plans as drawn up by Engineer Kuehne, who will come to Midland soon to submit blueprints and cost specifications for a proposed self-liquidating plant, which would be community operated. Building of such a plant would be under the agency of funds provided by the national recovery act. A conference will be arranged when Kuehne arrives.

Judge Barron and Vickers went before the Texas relief and rehabilitation committee for getting application blanks for other projects Midland might choose to consider as her quota under industrial recovery act funds.

It was found that Midland is likely to get its quota, that several counties are holding up machinery for the whole by slowness in making application.

Highway commissioners agreed informally to designate a new road on No. 9 from Sterling City to Midland if Glasscock county will furnish right of way through that county. Midland county is ready to (See FUTURE ROADS, page 4)

BODY OF SACRA SENT TO OKLA. FOR INTERMENT

J. A. Sacra of El Paso, who died Wednesday from injuries received in an automobile accident Sunday afternoon, was sent Wednesday night to Curoell, Okla. Funeral services will probably be held Friday.

Sacra, connected with a packing establishment at El Paso, came to Midland last week end with Ed Adron to transact business with Virgil C. Ray. While riding north of Odessa late Sunday, a tire blew out and the car overturned, injuring all three occupants and causing the death Tuesday of Ray, and Wednesday of Sacra. Adron, only slightly injured, returned to El Paso.

Sacra, born Dec. 15, 1887, had lived in the El Paso for 18 years. He is survived by his wife and two sons, John Richard and Hugo Edwin, who were at his bedside at death.

The body was prepared for burial by the Barrow mortuary.

16 Prisoners Are Picked up Today

Sixteen prisoners were "picked up" at Midland this morning by "Uncle" Bud Russell, agent of the Texas penitentiary, and driven away in the "one-way bus." These were left here to escape him. The reason for their capture was that they were on the list of fugitives who gathered the prisoners from El Paso jails.

With the prisoners when they left here was Ruby Hedges, wife of Sid Hedges. She is to serve a two-year sentence for kidnaping. Her husband is serving time for a similar conviction.

Russell, about 60, has never lost but one prisoner in the 36 years he has handled prisoners for the state, and he brought this one back months later, after trying to resign and his resignation being rejected.

He tells prisoners in his chain gang they may "cheat on the chain as much as you like, but keep away from those locks." It is his boast he has never missed a running man, and two have fallen dead in trying to escape him. The reason for one fugitive got away from him was attributed to the prisoner's mingling with a church crowd so that Russell could not shoot without danger to others.

He has hunted more prisoners than any man in the country.

Chicago Described At Rotary Meet

Approximately 20 members attended.

OTHER VICTIMS SHOCKED AT NEWS

Paul T. Vickers, secretary of the Midland chamber of commerce, and Clarence Scharbauer, cattlemen and owner of the hostelry that bears his name, expressed sorrow at news of Rep. Haag's death.

"A good man who was recognized as one of the most popular young members at Austin, and one whose death without doubt will leave the entire representative district stunned," Vickers said in his bedroom at Hotel Scharbauer. "I am profoundly moved at his passing."

"Rep. Haag was my friend, and a friend to everyone," Scharbauer said. "He was progressive and sought for the common good as few men have done. His death is a blow to all."

Examine Bodies

The bodies were removed to a funeral home where examination for bullet wounds and other marks of violence was begun.

Sheriff Wright and his deputies hastened to a bridge over Big Post creek after Wright, District Attorney Jesse Martin and Postal Inspector J. W. Adams, on their way from their office in Dallas, in a four hour grilling during the afternoon.

They had abandoned their search for the night, and returned this morning to drag the creek to Trinity river and to probe deep holes in nearby sand pits.

Rhodes, descending the bank of the river to view the grisly bundles more closely discovered fresh shoe prints, he said, leading to the edge of the river where the bodies lay. He notified the sheriff's men, district attorney's office immediately.

The mystery was precipitated early Sunday night after E. M. Bilger, Jr., 7, pointed excitedly to a bulky object under the bridge leading from the Edenville road to Birdville, crying to his father, E. M. Bilger, Bedford.

"Look, daddy, there's a fish trap," Bilger and T. W. Mumford, also of Bedford, dragged the object from the river, finding it to be a crude, rock-weighted wire basket containing the clothes of three men. The clothing had been slashed and torn as it was removed from the bodies. A bullet hole was found in the collar of a dark blue shirt, that of J. B. Rutherford.

Bilger and Mumford notified authorities who arrested more than a half score of suspects within the next few hours in Dallas, in Fort Worth and near Handley. A search of the clothing revealed identification cards, rings, watches, and money. From one small card, officers took a Dallas address where officers found the wives of Sturdivant and J. B. Rutherford. It was the two women Monday that state authorities elicited information leading to charges against the four men. The women revealed the association of the three missing men with the suspects in the mail robbery.

Touhy Plans to Exterminate Capone Syndicate When Times Grow Better

By C. C. NICOLET
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1933, by United Press)

The senate racket investigating committee will find, when it turns its searchlight on Chicago, that the city's underworld affairs are divided among four gangs, two of which present the prospect of old-fashioned boom area gunplay as the big money days come back under a city or two.

Already the pickup in spoils is noticeable. Forty concessions at a Century of Progress exposition are owned by gangsters. The swarm of ex-city's underworld takes in sources of cash back to the city. As the profits grow the incentive to fight grows also—and the Roger Touhy mob is casting longing eyes at the major share of loot collected by the smoother, far less tough Capone syndicate.

In addition to the Capone syndicate and the Touhy gang, two important groups maintain a major degree of underworld influence. One is the gang of George "Bugs" Moran who is chief of the cleaning and dyeing racket, and has a share in the slot-machine industry.

The other is headed jointly by William Skidmore, David "Puddy" Anxter, and Bill Johnson. It concentrates on gambling and prostitution.

In addition, the Associated Contractors and the Survey and Estimate bureau do a big business in connection with contracting and building—when there is any contracting and building. Their influence has dropped of late, except for the building revival produced by the World Fair.

Humphries, dominant figure in the Capone syndicate, and tough Touhy, who, once his mob gets in the money, will be out to eliminate Humphries, are the dominant figures today. Humphries likes to use brains instead of strong arm tactics. He doesn't like being called a racketeer—he is a "business man." Good looking, six feet tall, flashy in dress, he has a dangerous capacity for calmness in a crisis.

With liquor no longer profitable and left largely to independent operators, the gangs are likely these (See GANGDOM, page 4)

BIG JOB BEFORE CONGRESS

Committee leaders in the House and Senate, according to advices from Washington, are already getting busy in preparation for the work they will have to do when the next session of Congress opens in January.

In spite of the tremendous accomplishments of the past session, there will inevitably be an abundance of work for the next one, and it is encouraging to see that preparations are already being made for it.

It is already apparent, for example, that the taxation system will have to be revised extensively. It ought to be possible for this government to find a way of collecting taxes from such men as Messrs. Mitchell, Morgan, Kahn, et al., and the job of doing it can hardly be left until the session opens. A lot of good hard spade work this summer will make things go a lot more smoothly and efficiently when January comes around.

The action of Queen Wilhelmina of Holland in reducing the rents on her extensive estates by 50 per cent in order to help Dutch farmers to overcome their economic difficulties shows a disposition on her part to meet her subjects all of halfway.

Armies Are to Meet In Difficult Battle

By MAJ. PAUL WAKEFIELD
Written for the United Press
MINERAL WELLS. (UP)—Staff and communication officers of the 56th Cavalry brigade commanded by Brig. General Jacob F. Wolters, in annual encampment here spent Saturday in the thick brush of the Brazos river country near Camp Wolters getting familiar with the terrain over which the brigade will execute what regular army men declare to be "one of the most difficult problems a brigade of cavalry could be assigned to."

Over a terrain, broken with ravines and thickly covered by underbrush, the "Blue Army" will meet their enemy, the "Red Army," in the major problem during the camp maneuvers. The country over which the forces will fight was picked by the brigade commander particularly for the difficulties which it offers in the problem.
Although orders are secret and only General Wolters knows the zero hour for his Blue forces to "hop off," it is unofficially known that hopes of a contact with the enemy will be possible shortly after daylight on the morning of July 16. In the broken ravine country troopers will be forced to dismount and infiltrate

Pan-American Road Complete in Fall

MEXICO CITY. (UP)—The Pan-American highway from Monterrey to Mexico City will be impassable to motor traffic until the rainy season ends next November or December, according to observers who have inspected the road recently. It had been hoped to put it in satisfactory shape for American automobile tourists' use this summer.

Under the handicap which the rain imposes, construction work is proceeding steadily. Approximately 30,000 men are employed.
The increasing popularity of Monterrey among motorists from the southwestern states of the United States is an indication of the number who probably will visit Mexico City once the highway is completed. The road from Laredo to Monterrey is hard-surfaced.

Meanwhile, the communications department has announced that other trunk highways will be constructed as quickly as the government, in cooperation with the states affected, can supply the necessary funds. In order to increase the mileage of the other proposed highways, the standard width of paving has been reduced from 18 to 12 feet.

New Steam Plane To Receive Tests

AKRON, O. (UP)—Way has been cleared for test flights of Harold S. Johnston's airplane propelled by a steam engine. The department of commerce recently gave Johnston permission to make experimental tests.

The plane, believed to be the first to be propelled by steam, now is under construction. It was inspected by department of commerce officials who gave their official sanction to the motor for flight tests.
The motor uses crude oil to generate steam.

Tallest Man in Camp Is 7 Feet

Sam had to fashion a pair of pants out of two pair; was compelled to nail apple boxes onto the end of his coat, so his feet would not hang over the edge, and must send to Fort Worth for his size 15 shoes.

The tall San Diego youth was assigned to the Emigrant Gap camp.

Wandering Bear Caught in Loop

LARAMIE, Wyo. (UP).—A bear that went over the mountain to see what he could see was roped by two Laramie plains cowboys.

Clint and Lou Wallis, regular, hard-riding cow pokes, saw the bear one day while they were riding the range. The animal fell an easy prey to the lariat of one of the Wallis brothers and was taken to Bosler, Wyo., 18 miles north of Laramie.

The bear entertained the natives of Bosler by breaking the lariat and climbing a telephone pole. He finally was recaptured and taken to the Wallis ranch.

COCKY STAMFORD CLUB OFFERS TO PAY EXPENSES IF IT LOSES SERIES

Summerhill Returns From Trip to Austin

By JESS RODGERS

Determined to make a serious effort to win over the Stamford club to visit here Monday and Tuesday of next week, "Doc" Ellis of the Papposes has announced that he will draft two or three men from some of the other clubs of the league. At present, the skipper is undecided on who the men will be except in one case. H. L. Straughan, pitcher, of the Blackmons, will be one of the Papposes and will undoubtedly start the second game.

While it is unknown what kind of club the visitors will bring, its agreement to pay its own expenses if it comes off loser in both contests stamps it as one that is at least confident.

The Stamford club has tried in vain to match a series with a local club and was never successful until this week, when final negotiations were completed with a telegram to Ellis stating the Jones county men would be here Monday. Besides an extra pitcher, Ellis will have three gardeners listed on his club since the departure of "Red the Mighty" Hill for Pecos.

6 BORROWED CARS test four of America's leading brands of 25c motor oils—and every car brings in the verdict "Gulf-lube lasts longer!"

America's greatest 25c motor oil

When the figures were averaged, here was the amazing result—Gulf-lube went 28 1/2% farther before a quart of oil had to be added. It beat every oil in every car!

Switch to Gulf-lube! You'll buy less oil. You'll pay less for repairs—for the oil that lasts longer is a better lubricant. Get Gulf-lube at any Gulf station!

Orient Panther Turned Out to Be Windmill Squeak

SAN ANGELO.—The "panther," which was heard in the Orient community last week and turned out to be an unloved windmill, according to information there Wednesday morning.

Elmer Allen saw a fox in the Oscar Brown pasture, and when this was retold a time or two it became a "panther." Unwitting grinding of a windmill which needed oil made the fox which had turned "panther" more of a reality to several who heard it.

days to turn to kidnappings, payroll and bank robberies, automobile theft and sale of stolen securities. But mostly, their income is from the extortion rackets of which almost every variety is practiced in Chicago.

Some of the leading extortion schemes are:

Cleaning and dyeing: The racketeers operate big plants at low cost in open shop states near Chicago. The same cleaning fluid is used over and over. Garments are returned soiled. If the customer objects, a brusker makes it clear he is lucky not to be beaten up—and there is no complaint.

Contracting: Bidders who will not split profits with the racketeers are kept from getting contracts by the force of threats.

Plate glass: A merchant's window is broken. If he does not buy glass for replacement from the racketeer outfit at a high price, his new pane will be broken.

Butter and eggs: The dealer or consumer who objects to second grade eggs and rancid butter is readily convinced it would be "unwise" to make a complaint.

Charities: Racketeers "muscle in" on charity drives.

Financing: Racketeers insist on a split from legitimate business men before permitting them to borrow money to finance business operations. Racketeers and some loan companies work together.

Transportation: "Everything that rolls" is controlled by the racketeers, is the boast, and it is almost literally true in Chicago.

Protective associations: These make up the great body of racketeering. Merchants and business men of all kinds are forced to join for "their own protection." If they don't join, their refusal is met with violence.

Beer and soft drinks: Racketeers have left legal brewing severely alone in Chicago, but once beer or any soft drink leaves the distribution plant, it is prey for the underworld. Distributors and drivers must pay their cut.

Funerals: Morticians and their drivers must give cuts to racketeers. If not, funerals are stopped on the streets, and in some cases bodies have been stolen from the hearses.

Murders

Three men were killed just before they were to have been paid $9,000 for their part in the robbery. It was believed that the men were slain when suspects they were to be cheated of their share in the loot, they threatened exposure of the robbery. Still another theory, given less credence by authorities, was that the three men had been paid and then had been slain and robbed by the others.

Deputy Sheriff Rimmer saw the three slain men conversing late Saturday night on a street near the corner where they had been paid and then had been slain and robbed by the others.

Reconstructing the events leading to the killing, investigators believe that shortly after 10 p. m. Saturday the group of men boarded automobiles and went either to the home of May or that of Stevens, about three miles northeast of Handley.

Shots were heard by neighbors in that vicinity at about 10 p. m. Saturday. They said the shots were in the direction of the May and Stevens homes, which are only a few hundred yards apart on a sandstone hill. It is believed that the victims were either shot or struck dead blows on the head. Working hastily, the slayers apparently stripped the bodies of clothing, one, bundled the clothing into one length of fence wire and the bodies in another. Perhaps the bundles were taken in separate automobiles from the scene of the slaying. A heavy coat, used by the victims, has never been found.

"The Warrior's Husband" Today

Jesse L. Lasky's second independent production for Fox Film, "The Warrior's Husband," has its premiere here today at the Yucca theatre. It is scheduled to film an engagement of two days. Liberty Magazine has given this film a 4-star (extraordinary) rating.

Based on the successful stage play by Julian Thompson, which has been one of the most successful runs on Broadway during the past season, the story is said to be one of the most novel ever portrayed in a motion picture. It deals with the era of the mythical Amazons, when women wore whatever passed for the pants in those days, and the men were considered the fair sex. In what is reported as a new way of handling a comic situation, the film reveals an intimate love story set amid the pomp and the glories of a strange past. There are legions of fighting women who go out to do battle and to conquer, and to bring home for their men the prizes of victorious war.

The featured role in "The Warrior's Husband" is portrayed by the lovely Elissa Landi, and Marjorie Rambeau is cast in the towering, domineering leader of the Amazons, Ernest Truex, who will be remembered for his outstanding performance in "Whistling in the Dark," his first screen role, and to bring home for their men the prizes of victorious war.

Mammoth Refinery Used on Location

One of the largest and most colorful natural settings of its type ever seen in motion pictures was utilized for the filming of "State Trooper," a Columbia picture showing at the Ritz theatre Friday and Saturday, when the 1200-acre refinery of the Standard Oil Company at Sanguedo, California, was turned over to the motion picture organization to obtain authentic scenes for the production which tells a story of the petroleum industry of the far West.

Director D. Ross Lederman and members of his company spent one solid week at the enormous plant shooting exteriors on a set, the value of which is estimated at $15,000,000. "State Trooper" which is set against a background of a gasoline price-slashing war, has a brilliant cast consisting of Regis Toomey, Evalyn Knapp, Walter McGrail, Edwin Maxwell, Lew Kelly, Raymond Hatton, Barbara Weeks, Matthew Betz and Don Chapman.

The screen play was written by Lambert Hillier and Stuart Anthony.

GIRL NEAR DEATH FROM WRECK AT BIG SPRING

Miss Mattie Lawson, 18, San Angelo, lies gravely injured in a Big Spring hospital as a result of head injuries received about 1:30 this morning when the car in which she rode with J. Lawson, her father, and Mrs. Laura Lawson, struck a high top near the sign near the Howard-Martin line.

A heavy siver of a 1 1/2 inch board was driven nearly 3 inches into her skull when the board thrust itself through the windshield and through the back of the coupe in which the family rode.

Some chance is held for recovery, according to a telephone message from The Big Spring Herald.

SPAIN'S POLICE CORPS CHANGED

MADRID, (UP)—Spain's crack police corps, the "Guardia Civil," is in the process of reorganization, but its picturesque uniform with the "tricornier" hat will be retained.

The "Guardia Civil" was organized in 1844 by the Duke of Alameda as a rural guard, its main task being that of exterminating the romantic Spanish bandits who liked to roam the roads and mountains of Andalusia, and who became famous in song and story. The "Guardia Civil" was extraordinarily successful in its assignment. This it was at the "Guardia Civil's" main duties consisted in protecting highways, railroads, and doing police duty in small villages. In the days when the Bourbon monarchy under King Alfonso XIII began being harassed on all sides, the original mission of the "Guardia Civil" was often forgotten and it was used for other purposes. "Guardia Civil" units were sent to Morocco to fight along with the army in the campaigns of 1920-25. Furthermore, they began to be utilized more and more in doing police service in the big cities, something which was outside of their original purpose.

When the monarchy was in its last days, the "Guardia Civil" was a corps of 30,000, with a record of never having participated in any rebel movement. On April 14, 1931, General Jose Sanjurjo, who commanded the corps, decided that the people of Spain wanted the Republic, and that the "Guardia Civil" would not interfere. A coup de grace to the monarchy consisted in the fact that on the afternoon of April 14 the "Guardias Civiles" calmly remained on horseback, or on foot, doing nothing, when the new Republican tricolor blew above them.

Boom Pugilist For Magistrate

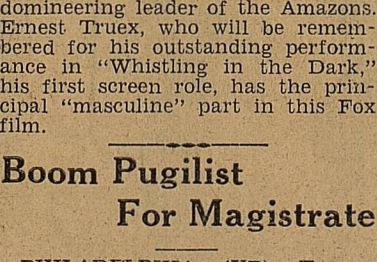

PHILADELPHIA, (UP)—Tommy Loughran, South Philadelphia pugilist, is being urged to seek the Democratic nomination for magistrate by independent republicans.

Calling themselves New Deal Democrats, the group is planning the organization of a political club and an active campaign to win the nomination for Tommy.

"We're tired of voting for candidates selected by a political machine," James Dinning, 30, is heading the new party, said, "and we know that Tommy would make an honest, just magistrate."

"While he isn't interested in politics, I think that we can persuade him to run as a civic duty."

San Angelo Signs Lease for Airport

SAN ANGELO.—The city commission authorized Mayor Brown F. Lee to sign a lease to the San Angelo municipal airport for the year beginning January 1, 1934, with Lieutenant Herbert C. Chambers, U. S. air service, and W. E. Glover, southwestern representative for the Waco airplane.

The lease had been signed also by the trustees of the airport, and had been drawn up and approved by the aviation committee of the board of city development. The airport is under lease until January 1 with Mrs. Audrey Mosey.

Under the provision of the lease the airport must be kept in condition to meet the requirements of the bureau of aeronautics of the department of commerce and they must keep on hand at all times a passenger ship for taxi service. The lease gives the new lessee the renewal of two years more at terms mutually agreed upon by the city and the trustees.

Lieut. Chambers is now stationed on Long Island, having been transferred there from Honolulu, where he has been in active service for three years. He expects to resign from the service and take over the aviation school on the field.

Glover was born in Ballinger and has been the southwestern representative for the Waco ships for the last few years. He sold about 25 ships last year in this territory.

INDUSTRIES GO UNDER FASCISTS

ROME, (UP)—The Fascist government has undertaken control of the basic industries of the country in what in reality amounts to a complete nationalization of industry, but maintaining the principle of private property.

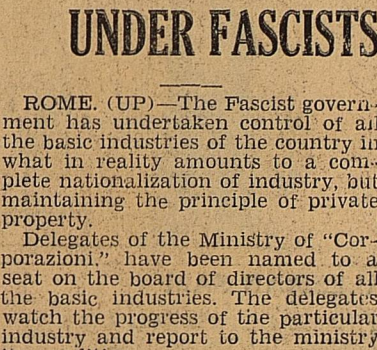

Delegates of the Ministry of "Corporazioni," have been named to a seat on the board of directors of all the basic industries. The delegates watch the progress of the particular industry and report to the ministry its condition.

The watchful eye of industry, too, calls the attention of the management of a particular to any failure to make that industry successful. Before a new industry can be started or a new factory built, the matter must be referred to the ministry for decision. This is to prevent any too heavy extension of plants. The plan is to keep all industries as healthy as possible and not to have any idle plants due to excessive building.

The government also has control over new plants for the production of electric energy and its distribution as well as the enlargement of existing plants for the same purpose. Special authority has been given to the Ministry of Corporations and the Ministry of Public Works for this branch of industry.

Present regulations regarding the concessions of water-power stations remain unaltered, according to a previous agreement from the Ministry of Corporations.
