OUR SCHOOLS DEMAND SERIOUS THOUGHT

As some millions of school children all over the United States are getting themselves squared away for the coming year, their fathers and mothers might profitably spend a little time in meditation about the present plight of the entire school system.

Few public services have felt the depression more than the schools. Teachers have gone unpaid, school activities have been cut down, some schools have been forced to extend their holiday periods, others have had to close entirely, nearly all have had to drop certain courses and consolidate a number of activities.

Nor is that the worst. While all of this has been happening, there has been developing an influential and vocal group which has insisted that the schools have been getting more than their share of tax revenues even in good times. We are being told that our school system is far more elaborate and more expensive than it need be. It is being argued not only that the school budget must be drastically reduced during the depression, but that the reductions must be permanent.

Anyone who has ever paid taxes will admit that the schools have been costly. It is probably true that many school executives have become a bit self-important in their claims for tax support. Some towns have built school buildings on a too-elaborate scale. Some schools have tried to include too many things in their curricula.

Nevertheless, admitting that there has been extravagance and a lack of judgment in many school boards, one fact more important remains unchanged. It is simply this: our whole society is built up around the public school system, and any drastic change in the school system must have far-reaching effects on the entire nation.

We are committed to a political democracy, and we are now trying to broaden it to make it an industrial democracy as well. To make a go of it we must have a body of citizens whose minds have been given all the training, all the enlightenment, which they can assimilate. The system simply cannot work otherwise.

Before we consent to permanent reductions in our public school services, we must do some very careful thinking.

MEDDLING IN CUBA

The applause which greeted President Roosevelt's announcement that the United States would try to follow a "good neighbor" policy toward its Latin-American neighbors had hardly died down when the Cuban revolution took an unexpected ominous new turn, so that some United States warships had to be dispatched to the troubled island at top speed.

For a nation which had just turned thumbs down on the old policy of intervention, this is certainly a bit of very bad luck. But while our warships stand by in the danger zone, we might as well get our minds straight on one thing:

The only valid excuse we could have for landing armed men on Cuban soil would be to protect American lives and property from unruly mobs. The kind of government the Cubans set up is something else again. Landing marines to keep Americans from being killed is one thing; landing them to tell the Cubans what kind of government we have is sheer meddling. And that kind of meddling, as we have at last begun to discover, simply doesn't pay.

Going To The Movies? Well, Just Drive Right In!

Here's an artist's conception of the Camden, N. J., automobile

By NEA Service CAMDEN, N. J.—Driving an automobile into the movies now is the privilege of the theatre-going motorists of Camden.

The Drive-In-Theatre enables him to see his favorite film stars while sitting in his private box—his car. This new arrangement of the outdoor theatre idea has improved exhibition methods so that a family may enter their car at home, go see a movie, and return home without once getting out of their car.

This new idea will be hailed by the motoring public and the people who don't care to dress for their evening's entertainment. The automobiles enter through a gateway which is formed in the fence, or other suitable enclosure surrounding the field. After paying the admission fee, the car is driven by its occupant into any one of the driveways and then to the first stall, which may be open or unoccupied so that the auto faces the screen.

The individual stalls, which might be compared with seats in an outdoor theatre, are marked off by suitable lines of division on the surface of the driveway. A barrier is placed directly in front of each stall so that the driver cannot run over the strip to the next aisle or driveway.

The front of each stall is inclined or raised so that vision through the windshields may not be obstructed by cars ahead. The angle of each stall may be raised or lowered to meet the requirements of each car. The angle of vision is thus adjusted to the difference in heights of cars and their windshields. People in midjet cars can see as well as spectators in cars with high bodies.

Due to placing the entrance at a higher elevation than the exit, and inclining the aisles toward the exit, cars may enter and leave by their own momentum. This no motor noises may disturb the performances.

Rows of seats placed in front of the first row of autos may accommodate those desiring to view the performance in the conventional manner, and parking space is provided outside the line of vision, for their vehicles.

Lengthy experiments resulted in a perfection of sound distribution so that talking picture dialogues have an even tone throughout the theatre area.

For weeks the utmost secrecy enshrouded the undertaking due to pending patents upon which the whole idea is based. As soon as the patents were officially granted in Washington, D. C., a horde of artisans, architects, carpenters and workmen laid the foundation of the sixty-foot screen stage for the world's first theatre for automobiles. Simultaneously with the patent grants, sound engineers announced that they had perfected what they had not dared to hope for originally—controlled directional sound. In other words, the motorist seated in a car five hundred feet away from the screen stage not only sees the picture but hears the sound as well as the auditor in the first row and vice versa.

The new outdoor theatre presented an unusual acoustical problem but, recognizing the fact that the new project might be a forerunner of scores of similar theatres presenting the same general acoustical problems, sound engineers applied themselves to working out a practical solution. How well they succeeded may be judged from the fact that even in a rain storm with all the car windows closed the sound may be clearly heard within the cars, yet the volume is not objectionably loud at any location in the theatre. With the heating of cars in winter months, it becomes possible for the enterprise to remain open during the "cold" season, which always has retarded outdoor entertainment heretofore.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

In checking over papers from around the country one of our staff members clipped an article about some queer laws which an attorney had discovered. It seems that the lawyer had been making the collection for a long time and the laws represent various states and localities and also various eras. For instance:

"It is illegal to peel an orange in a California hotel."

"I can explain that one. From what I have heard California people say, oranges grow so big out there that the peeling from one orange would create a traffic jam in the average hotel lobby."

"Hire a neighbor's cook and you can be imprisoned in Florida."

"That law is based on the scriptures—coveting your neighbor's maid-servant, you know."

"A North Carolina law says twin beds must be at least two feet apart." Sounds hazardous.

"A Washington law forbids the use of the phonograph." That law should be amended to include saxophones. (And some people's radios)."

"It is against the law in Nebraska for a woman to wear a skirt more than eight inches from the floor"

"In Bellingham, Wash., a law prohibits women from taking more than three steps backward at a time while dancing."

Evidently the two laws just mentioned should have been used in the same place. The latter would prevent women from stepping on the heels of their own skirts.

"It is unlawful for a woman to wear a bracelet watch on her ankle in Elizabeth, Tenn." That's probably because some near-sighted woman might want to consult her watch in a down town section, thereby causing a traffic hazard.

"In Connecticut it is unlawful to shave on Sunday." That's an easy one. The barbers worked some legislation in that state.

"Wild men or wild women cannot be exhibited in Nebraska." However, there is no law yet against letting the wild men or wild women see the Nebraska people.

"It is against the law in New York to descend from a balloon in a parachute." Early wise men probably passed that law as a protection to residents who want to take sun baths in privacy on pent house roofs.

"In Vancouver, Can., it is against the law to ride a bicycle faster than two miles an hour." The law should be amended to read "backwards, uphill and against the wind."

"Pishing from the back of any animal is illegal in Idaho." Does this include crocodiles?

"A Texas law forbids the carrying of pliers in a vehicle." Yes, Tex as people ought to carry knives.

"A statute in Kansas requires that every able bodied citizen between the ages of 21 and 60 should kill grasshoppers one day each in every year." If they don't, the grass hoppers will be making the statutes in another year.

cabaret owners, he found time to take a census of the Chinese city and to institute motorcycle police patrols. Colonel Yuan, who speaks Japanese fluently, left a monument in Mukden. Years ago he reorganized the police force there. Old timers in Peiping now are wondering to what extent he will undertake to do for Peiping what General Smedley Butler, once of the United States Marines, tried to do for Philadelphia.

THIS means that the Chesterfield formula—that is, the leaf and the manufacturing formula—is different from that of other cigarettes.

For a cigarette to be milder and to taste better, it has to have in it ripe, mild, mellow tobacco, and the right quantity of the right kinds of Turkish tobacco. Then the cigarette has to be made right.

You can prove for yourself that Chesterfields are not like other cigarettes. They're milder... they taste better.

SELF-STYLED AUTHORITY DECLARES CLASS A DISTRICT DUE TO SEE AN ODD ASSORTMENT OF POOR MATCHES

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article was prepared exclusively for the Big Spring Herald by Curtis Bishop, self-styled distinguished sports authority, and cannot be reprinted in any magazine, novel, or newspaper without his individual permission. Bishop wrote this story because he had nothing else to do at the time.

By Curtis Bishop
BIG SPRING—The depression may be over in some necks of the woods but it is just beginning for the glacial fans of District 4. For unless miracles happen between now and September 24th this division of the state interscholastic league, still in its infancy as divisions go, is due to undergo its most uninteresting campaign in its brief two year history.

For none of the five clubs that will take the field in quest of the championship won in 1931 and 1932 that Henning's marauding Sweetwater Mustangs appear competent to creditably bear this sector's colors in playoff competition, and it would seem that Henning's Mustangs are the only club to have a chance.

So pronounced is the lack of material, in fact, that to choose a favorite is an important task. It is almost a foregone conclusion that the team of last year are the least of five evils. Every club was torn apart by graduation, even to the more or less listless McCamey Badgers, and the result is that sawdust is being scattered in its big Spring and San Angelo need expect nothing out of the ordinary, if that much, this season.

Out of the all-star contingent of last year are gone George Delker, Elmer Dyer, Leroy Grimsley, Ney Sheridan, Fred Martin, and Homer Barnett—gone, in fact, is almost everyone but ambitious underweight youngsters who may in time follow in their predecessor's footsteps, but not this year. Their legs are too short for the necessary lengthy strides.

At Sweetwater, where championship teams have been bred each year that District 3 had been in existence, tall, blonde Ed Hennig will attempt, with no illusions as to any success that he might achieve, to replace Sheridan, Sam Baugh, Spiegel Woods, Ray Holbert, Dollar Dodson, Leroy Grimsley, and one or two others from that fine Mustang team that won this sector's first victory in playoff competition from the Austin High club of El Paso, then to lose on a snow-blanketed field to Amarillo in the quarterfinals. Virgil Jones is back to handle the brunt of the backfield assignments, but the Ponies must still find a ball-carrier, a punter, and a passer, not to mention a forward wall for the newcomers to cavort behind.

Harry Taylor is better off at San Angelo than most of his contemporaries, but do not think for a moment that the former T.C.U. star does not also have his worries. The biggest will be to replace George Delker, who for two years did most of the Bobcats' punting, ball-carrying, passing, and accounted for a share of the defense. Missing also among the Graveyard Field home-sters are Squid Carruthers, the elongated center, Blackie Galloway, scrapping guard, and Walter Schuchard, the clever wingman. But behemoths still roam the Comingo country, and any pre-season comparison is bound to favor the San Angelo entry. Which, as the situation stands, is not saying too much.

Hardest hit by graduation and the eight-semester rule are the Big Spring Steers, under the guidance of Caches Olie Brislow and George Brown for the third consecutive year. There is not a single backfield regular on hand for the stiffest schedule that a Big Spring team has ever faced, and any competition that might take the field in their new black and gold jerseys will average less than 150 pounds. The line prospects are somewhat brighter, with Bob Flowers, Olie Cordell, Jack Dean, and Herbert Fletcher returning to the fold, but adequate reserves are lacking and with Pampa, Lubbock, and Austin High of El Paso all booked for early season games it is no wonder that the two Steer mentors are growing grayer and sadder at an alarming rate.

Coach "Slim" Hill, whose previous experiences date back to Weldon Chapman's hey-day at Cisco, and who last year aided Clyde Parks, takes over the tutelage of the McCamey Badgers, but has no cause to boast of anything his eleven will accomplish. Missing along the front of District 4 are Clyde Smalley, Perry, and above all, Homer Barnett, the rangy, scrapping tackle who waged a game battle against overwhelming odds for two seasons.

The Colorado Wolves, still in a competition despite their franky-expressed wishes to the contrary, are as well off, but no better, than their neighbors. Coach Jim Cantrell has Captain Red Church and Elvie Steiner, crack gridsters, both, around whom to build his forward wall, but will have to get along the best he can with inexperienced, light replacements for "Bud" Hill, the speedy fullback, P. J. Burris, and Pat Knieft in the backfield.

So there you are, take your pick. Which is the least of the five evils?

Canyon Youth on Byrd Expedition

CANYON (UP)—A 20-year old Texas boy will accompany Admiral Richard Byrd when his party of explorers sail from Boston for another expedition to the Antarctic region. J. H. Hill, Jr. son of Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the West Texas State Teachers college, a sophomore at the University of Texas, where he has been taking a pre-aeronautical course in the boy.

Odessa Points To Crane Game

ODESSA.—With the first game of the football season, against Crane here, on September 30, only two weeks away, the Odessa High School Broncho squad continues daily practice in the fundamentals of football with Coach Anthony Hunt well pleased with the progress made.

Twenty-five men at present are eligible for the team and are on hand each afternoon for the extensive drill the coach is putting his players through.

A game has been scheduled with Rankin to be played there on October 28, making a total of seven games on the team's schedule. Remaining open dates, expected to be filled in a few days are on October 7 and 14.

All backfield men are being given practice at the various positions and the line is being shifted around frequently to determine what player is best at. No announcement has been made as to possible positions to be taken by the players.

Odessa May Stage More Auto Races

Another automobile racing event for Odessa, next month or on Thanksgiving, is being worked out by John Middagh, who put on the races there Labor day.

By having the races put up an entrance fee it is thought that a better racing event will be arranged, and Middagh has that plan for the next meet. With a field of eight or more racers, an interesting meet is assured, he said.

CHICAGO (UP)—The 1,554 members of the regular and reserve guide section at A Century of Progress are daily dressing guests at the fair in 27 languages, a checkup by exposition officials revealed.

These 27 tongues, the officials declare, are in addition to English and two different sign languages.

U. S. Navy Airmen Better Balbo's Record

The United States Navy added another achievement to its annals when six of its planes flew 2059 miles from Norfolk, Va., to Coco Solo, Canal Zone, on the longest nonstop formation flight in history. One of the planes is pictured here as it taxied to take-off at Norfolk.

TWO ODESSA ERRORS AND ONE HIT OFF TEXON BAT GIVE TEXON BALL CLUB SERIES OVER ODESSA OILERS

ODESSA, Sept. 19.—With both teams playing bang-up ball, the Texon Oilers, WestTex Independent league champs, won a close game from the Odessa Oilers, Permian Basin league champs, when in the last of the eighth they converted two Odessa errors and a single into runs, to give them a 2-0 victory. The lone runs of the hot fought game were scored after two were out, and but for the errors, the game may have gone extra innings as the two pitchers Allen and Harris were hurting great ball.

Park Allen, Odessa's ace right-hander, had defeated Texon three days before, by a 6-3 score. But today, although Odessa had runners on third several times, they could not push over a needed run. This game, the third of the series, was played at Texon, as was the first game.

Besides Allen's good pitching, Travis at second, and Briggs and Estes in outfield, stood out for Odessa. Housserlight, third, Leedy and Guerra were best for Texon. Odessa was without their star infielder, Red Brown, and their hard hitting outfielder, Miller Harris, which was quite a handicap at such a crucial time.

EAGLE PASS (UP)—Roosevelt Drive is the name of a new three-mile highway in the Quemado Valley, connecting the Del Rio-Eagle Pass highway with the Brackettville highway.

GAMBLING SAVED C. OF C.

CAPITOLA, Cal. (UP)—Capitola's Chamber of Commerce needed money badly if it were to continue in existence. Somebody remembered Monte Carlo in merry old France was reputed to have earned dividends. The summer resort town turned out for an Americanized version of the great gambling casino, played "bingo" until late at night. Yes, the Chamber will continue telling the world about Capitola.

DAHLIA WAS TOMATO PLANT

SANTA CRUZ, Cal. (UP)—Joe Hughes took one look at his garden the other day, puffed out his chest and told the neighbors to "come a running." Said Joe, "I wantcha to look at my big dahlia." The crowd looked, laughed, but went home amazed. Joe's dahlia turned out to be a tomato plant—only 25 small tomatoes had grown so closely together they resembled a large, red dahlia amid the green foliage.

KILLED IN SELF DEFENSE
HENDERSON, Tex. (UP)—Self-defense was the plea entered by Wallace Reed on a charge of killing a rooster here belonging to Mrs. C. B. Clark. Reed was acquitted in one of the most hotly contested court battles argued in Justice J. A. Ward's court. The rooster attacked him while he was doctoring a hen, Reed testified.

Talking Picture of Mr. Hutton

"I don't need Almee Semple McPherson Hutton... I don't need any woman"... Yes, those were the very words of David M. Hutton, estranged husband of the California evangelist, when he reached New York to begin a vaudeville tour. Here you see him busy on the telephone soon after his arrival.

NERVOUS WOMEN

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
"I am so nervous it seems as though should fly"... "My nerves are all on edge"... "I wish I were dead"... How often have we heard these expressions from some woman who has become so tired and run-down that her nerves can no longer stand the strain.

IT LOOKED LIKE A BARGAIN

Today, the windows and shelves of many stores are crowded with packages bearing "bargain" prices. With prices so low, not getting your money's worth seems almost impossible.

But it pays to remember that while some of these products are bargains, others are not.

In some of the unfamiliar packages you see so frequently today, there is cheap merchandise—the offering of a few manufacturers who have gone too far in their efforts to make your dollars buy more quantity.

No matter how strongly you are urged to buy these "bargain brands"—or how often you are told they are "just as good"—it is safer to refuse them unless you are fully familiar with their value.

Look for the real bargains now among brands which you know—by your own experience, through their advertising, or by the reputations of their makers. Ask for them by name! Insist on getting what you ask for!

Fay Wray and Gene Raymond at Ritz in Screen Production, and Stage Show Is To Show Twice on the Wednesday Bill

Are domestic happiness and professional success compatible? Does a man continue to love his wife when her salary pays the bills? These are the problems discussed in "Ann Carver's Profession," a Columbia picture showing at the Ritz Theatre today and tomorrow. "Ann Carver's Profession" deals with the career of a woman lawyer whose sensational courtroom exploits establish her as the outstanding feminine barrister of New York City. Her husband, meanwhile, is forging ahead slowly as an architect, but it is her salary which maintains their household.

Bailey

Is it possible that their marriage can be happy? Or is domestic tragedy inevitable?

Edward Buzzell, the director, believes this story is one of the most significant yet written for the screen in that it deals with problems faced by all professional women. Fay Wray plays Ann Carver and Gene Raymond her husband, Claire Dodd, Claude Gillingwater, Jessie Ralph and Arthur Pierson are also cast in important roles.

A big double bill is featured Wednesday in addition to the above picture, on the stage you will see Sheriff Loyal Underwood and his "Range Riders," the outstanding cowboy organization on the air today, coming direct from radio KNX "The Voice of Hollywood." The Sheriff as he is known to hundreds of thousands of radio fans throughout the entire West, Alaska and Canada for his production of the Arizona Wranglers, has gathered about him a number of cowboys who for the past four years have been playing in pictures with Tom Mix, Hoot Gibson, Buck Jones, Tim McCoy, Ken Maynard and other Western stars and has built up a musical organization of singing and playing buckeroos that have proved the sensation in the theaters of Southern California.

The group is stopping here en route to Dallas, where it is billed for an engagement on the Paramount-Public circuit.

Matinee will open Wed. at 2:30 stage show on at 4:15. Nite show opens at 7:15, stage show on at 9 o'clock. Admission will be matinee-10-25c night 10-25-35c.

Odessa Students Off for College

ODESSA—While many students are moving to Odessa to attend school several are leaving to attend college this week.

At least 16 Odessa young people are planning to leave in a few days for various schools.

Norma Hinton will return to Texas University, where she is a senior in business administration. Mildred Henderson will return to C. I. A. as a junior in dietetics. Sophomores returning to college campuses are John Midgagh and William Henderson, A. & M.; and Howard and Hubert Hinton, Texas University.

Students who are going away to school for the first year of study include: Roy Barnes, Texas Military Academy; Francine Fowler, Stevens College; Harve and Jewell Mayfield, Texas University; Vernon Adams, Sul Ross State Teachers College; Kathryn Hayes, a Santa Monica, California, college; Marguerite Rose, West Texas State Teachers College; Vaughn Kelly, Texas University; Joe McCowan, Abilene Christian college; and Ella Jean Harris, Texas University.

ELECT CHEER LEADERS

Misses Alta Taylor, Modesta Good, and Dorothy Dublin were chosen by the pep squad of the Big Spring high school as cheer leaders for the ensuing school year.

The squad, containing more than 150 members, is being supervised by Misses Dorothy Jordan and Nell Brown.

The cheering unit has started practicing.

DARING DASH FOR LIBERTY

The desperado's next sensational escapade came last Labor Day. From the Dallas, Tex., jail, to which he had been transferred, Bailey made one of the most daring single-handed prison escapes in history. In some manner, saws and a revolver had been smuggled to him. He sawed his way out of a death cell, locked up three guards at the point of his pistol, kidnaped a turkey and fled in the latter's auto in a wild dash for liberty.

Four hours later, after one of the most thrilling manhunt in history, Bailey was captured at Ardmore, Okla., 100 miles away, when his auto crashed into a curb while officers were chasing him. Bailey surrendered without resistance and was taken to Oklahoma City to await trial.

WHEN THE NET CLOSED

Asleep on a cot in the farm yard was a large man, a rifle beside him, a machine gun leaning against the porch nearby and two heavy automatic pistols within arm's reach. The officers approached cautiously, removed the guns, covered the sleeper with their own weapons and woke him up.

And Harvey Bailey, showing no more resentment than a complaint over his disturbed sleep, roused himself, submitted to the handcuffs and was taken to Fort Worth.

"Okay, fellows—I know when I'm licked," was Bailey's smiling comment.

Believed "Brains" of Gang

While the actual kidnaping is thought to have been committed by Bates and George "Machine Gun" Kelly, who is still at large, Bailey is regarded by government officers as "the brain" of the gang.

Bates was later captured in Denver and returned to Oklahoma City for trial. Kelly is a son-in-law of Mrs. Shannon, wife of the farm's owner, having married a daughter who was born of Mrs. Shannon's first marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Shannon and their son, Armon, also were arrested. Some of the marked ransom money was found on Bailey. The capture of Bailey was gratifying to the government, because it apparently had killed two birds with one stone. Federal agents who had been working day and night to round up the Union Station killers suddenly had thrust upon them the Urschel kidnaping. Now they had Bailey, who was wanted for both jobs.

GOVERNOR'S CHAIRS CHAINED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (UP).—Gov. W. H. Alfalfa Bill Murray became tired of having impudently visitors "get right up in my face" to make their pleas for whatever they wanted, so he had his clerk think up a way to stop the bother. The two chairs nearest Murray's in his private office now are chained to the wall and can be hiked over only a certain distance toward the chief executive. The closest approach is three feet.

PATIENTS RECOVERING

Deiton Walker, who was operated upon a month ago in a Midland hospital for a ruptured appendix will be removed to his home tomorrow. Mrs. Laura Wilson of Andrews was operated upon Sunday and is recovering steadily.

Eugene Wasson, a school boy at Crane received a broken leg yesterday while practicing football and was brought to the hospital and was operated upon today in order to get the bones properly set.

STORK SURPRISED MOTHER

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (UP).—Mrs. Doris Torres expected an increase in her family of six to seven, but was totally unprepared when the stork brought triplets. The new arrivals were placed in oatmeal boxes by Dr. Mary Tinley, who hurried them to Mercy hospital where they were placed in a baby incubator.

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP).—Fishermen seeking terrapin for their tables have been notified by the Fish and Game Department of the open season on red-leg commencing Nov. 2 and continuing until March 14. The terrapin, considered a choice table delicacy, is found in several streams in Central Pennsylvania, usually lying in the mud bottoms of streams and ponds.

Odessa Students Elect Officers

ODESSA—Officers have been elected by three of the Odessa high school classes, Superintendent Murray H. Fly said.

Dar Whittenburg is president of the senior class, Sylvia Smith is vice-president, Ruth Fernandes secretary, treasurer, and Mrs. Una Dyer is sponsor.

Mrs. J. T. Long has been appointed sponsor for the freshman class, which will organize soon.

Demand for Ranch Land Increasing

SAN ANGELO—A marked increase in the demand for West Texas ranch land has brought several large sales.

The largest was at Menard when L. P. Powell of San Saba and Big Lake bought the 20,000 acre Flying H ranch of Harold Bevans for $250,000 cash. Possession of the ranch, located 25 miles from Menard in Sotolicher county, will be given Nov. 1. Bevans retains the cattle on the ranch, a brand that has been in the family 35 years.

The purchase brought Powell's holdings in West Texas to about 75,000 acres and made him one of the largest ranch owners in Texas. He is an oil operator and profited heavily in royalty sales from wells brought in on his place near Big Lake in 1925. He owns other ranches near Big Lake, in Menard county and in San Saba county.

In another large deal here, Dr. Edward H. Jones of New York City purchased 10,238.6 acres, comprising

About Aug. 1 Smith missed his guests, and found they had retired for the winter.

Better Light Better Sight!

The human eye is accustomed to the illumination of the sun, which is a thousand times as brilliant as the best illumination found in the home, yet many homes have less than a tenth of the light that should be used to prevent eyestrain. Better light means better sight, less eye fatigue and the endless troubles that can result from it. This is especially true with children whose young eyes are particularly susceptible to poor lighting. It is not possible to have too much illumination in a home, but it is frequently true that the average home has too much glare from improperly shaded lights. Lighting experts of the Texas Electric Service Company will be glad to consult with you without charge on the proper illumination of your home, both from the standpoint of beauty and utility.
