Dutch Girl Sets Brilliant Record in Taking Degrees in Texas University

AUSTIN—The story of an immigrant girl, who, knowing nothing of the English language, in seven years received a diploma from a Texas high school and two degrees from the University of Texas, and taught languages for two years in the high school system from which she was graduated, is told in the July issue of Texas Outlook, magazine devoted to the teaching profession. The article is written by Miss Lillian Barclay of Waco, and relates the unique achievements of Miss Jakoba Balt, a Dutch girl, who until seven years ago lived in Austria.

How Miss Balt accomplished 11 years work in seven years, with the added difficulty of not knowing the language of the country to which she emigrated and moreover with the added handicap of having to work part-time to help earn her school expenses, Miss Barclay tells as follows:

"Seven years ago Jakobá Balt entered El Paso high school unable to speak English. August 29, 1932, she received her master of arts degree from the University of Texas. In the interim she has graduated from the El Paso high school, received a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Texas, graduating with high honors, taught languages for two years in the Austin high school in El Paso, and finished the work for a master's degree approximately eleven years work finished in seven years.

"But that is nothing unusual," she said. "Anyone, I think, would do it." Perhaps nothing seems unusual to a young girl who speaks fluently five languages.

"Miss Balt was born to Dutch parents on Austrian soil. Dutch was spoken in the home, so it was natural that she learned that language. She lived in a country where German was spoken, hence she just naturally learned to speak German. Her mother had been a teacher of French so of course Jakobá learned to speak French. She said, 'I don't remember learning to speak any of these languages; I just knew them, using any one of them as freely as the other.' And now she has added two other languages to these, English and Spanish. Once a curious girl asked her in which language she dreamed. Smilingly, she answered, 'Why I really do not believe I ever dream. But if I should, I shall try to remember which language it was in and tell you.'

"Looking over a recent map of Europe, Miss Balt pointed out such towns as Utrecht and Leewarden, Holland, Salzburg and Vienna, Austria, Naples and Trieste, Italy, as places she has spent some time. Salzburg, the birthplace of Mozart, and the town of the famous music festivals, was her home. Though until April 4, 1932, I was a loyal subject of Her Majesty, Wilhelmina, the Queen of the Netherlands,' she remarked with a twinkle in her eyes. On that day she became a citizen of the United States.

"Miss Balt received her early education from her father and from private tutors. Later she attended a commercial school. She always read much, having a penchant for philosophy.

"During the World war the Balt's lived in Austria. Miss Balt said, 'I do not remember much about the beginning of the war. I was very young. We were not in the fighting zone, and about the only effect the war had on me was that I had few of the things I wanted and but small portions of the things I could have.'

"Miss Balt does not recall when she began to want to come to America, but soon after the war was over the family definitely decided to emigrate. After application was made, it was nearly two years before it was their turn to come over. "During the long wait," Miss Balt explained, 'my father had me learn English grammar. I mastered the rules, but nothing else.'

"We sailed from Trieste," she continued, 'on the S. S. President Wilson. The voyage was the most thrilling thing that ever happened to me. The only place on the ship I did not explore was the kitchen. An officer took me to the engine room and even down into the place coal was kept. I went to the control room and all the instruments were explained to me. Of course I did not understand all that was said, for I had never heard English spoken until then. I remember one word that puzzled me; it was "wire." I had no notion as to its meaning, but I lost no time finding out when I returned to our cabin. My dictionary was much used on that voyage. Everyone was so kind; oh, the voyage was thrilling, thrilling."

"New York, with the exception of Broadway, was all she had anticipated. It, too, was a thrilling experience.

"But why were you disappointed in Broadway?" Miss Balt was asked.

"Oh, I don't know," she answered. "Everyone in Europe has heard of Broadway, if of no other place. I think I looked forward to seeing it, imagining it would be something like the Hauptallee of Vienna. But it was nothing like that. It just fell short of my expectations."

"After three weeks in New York the Balt's went to El Paso to make their home. On the trip across the continent Miss Balt with her insatiable curiosity learned many more things about the country that was henceforth to be her home. The country was different, the American trains a novelty, the people friendly.

"Miss Balt entered the high school in El Paso in the summer of 1928, couple of months after her arrival in America. According to the rules of the school system a summer student may not take more than three subjects. Jakobá Balt took four subjects and very nearly made the highest grades given in the class that summer.

"I took two courses in English, one in Spanish, another new language, and mathematics," she said. "The English was the hardest. I remember we had to read articles in such magazines as the Literary Digest and make talks before the class on what we had read. How I used my dictionary that summer! And my talks were far from being masterpieces of oratory in English," she concluded.

"What impressed you most in the American school?" Miss Balt was asked.

"The attitude of the pupils toward their studies," she replied. 'I

Indian Crafts Taught Girl Scouts at Camp

Learning Indian crafts, taught by girls from the Santa Fe Indian school, is one of the special activities Elizabeth Payne, girl scout, will have at Camp Mary White, near Roswell, N. M.

The instructors are Josephine Myers and Hazel Peet. They will teach bead and leather work, and pottery making.

One hundred and seven scouts are enrolled in the camp, making a capacity number of campers.

Cowboy ballads will make up the first program during the new camping period. Leaders taking training courses have shadow pictures for their program tonight.

Turtles Snap At Each Other
EL PASO. (UP)—A battle is brewing in the ranks of the Mystic and Mysterious Order of Turtles, officers admitted here, and the bone of contention is too much money.

Organized in 1932 for the purpose of holding Juarez beer parties, picnics, and keeping the treasury empty, the order sees disension because money has accumulated in the treasury.

One faction, composed of new members, wants to go in for pomp and ritual and uniforms, Hard Shiel Royal Martin revealed.

The other camp, including original members, want to "blow the money on foolishness."

"Foolishness is the main object of the order," declared Hard Shiel Martin.

Attempts to iron out differences will be made at a watermelon picnic soon.

If you should go away
By HELEN WELSHIMER

If you should go away tonight,
Tomorrow on parade
I'd act as though I didn't care...
But oh, I am afraid

THAT when the street lamps start to shine,
And people, two and two,
Go strolling through dark quietness
The way we used to do,

WHILE I should walk, heart-hurt, alone,
Pretending to be proud,
As though I really liked to go
Unhindered in the crowd—

I'D catch my breath in sudden pain,
So frightening and steep,
I'd hurry home and lock the door,
And cry myself to sleep.

was also surprised to find out that students could go to school and work at the same time. Perhaps that is done in other countries, but it had not come to my attention.

"The following year Miss Balt took five instead of the usual four subjects in high school and worked in the principal's office to earn part of her living expenses. She graduated the following summer, one year and three months after she had entered an American school, her grades ranking among the highest of the graduating class.

"That fall she entered the El Paso junior college, and later attended the School of Mines. For her senior year she came to the University of Texas and received her bachelor of arts in June, 1930. The next year she secured a position in the Austin high school of El Paso, teaching Spanish, German, and French, a position she still holds. In the summers she returned to the University of Texas for further study, and on August 29, 1932, received her master of arts degree, just seven years and a few months after her arrival in America, knowing nothing of the English language except the rules of grammar. "But I knew those so thoroughly that my high school teacher had little new to teach me in English grammar," she said.

"Just now Miss Balt is looking forward to working on a doctor of philosophy degree, but has not made up her mind where she will do the work."

SCHMIDT SAYS TCU MAY FOOL THE DOPESTERS

By W. WINSTON COPELAND
United Press Staff Correspondent,
FORT WORTH, (UP).—Pre-season dopesters who are counting Texas Christian university out of the Southwest conference football race this fall may meet with surprises.

Coach Francis A. Schmidt is not worried by the loss of virtually all of his last year's championship team, which went through the season without defeat.

"The team will be young but the prospects are pretty fair," Coach Schmidt told the United Press.

"We have several lettermen for the line and we have several promising quarterbacks. There will be a

TCU'S SCHEDULE
FORT WORTH, (UP).—Twelve games are on the Texas Christian university football schedule this fall, six of them Southwest conference tilts.

The schedule:

Sept. 15, Austin College at Sherman.
Sept. 22, Daniel Baker, at Brownwood.
Sept. 29, N. Texas Teachers, at Denton.
Oct. 7, Arkansas, at Fayetteville, Ark. x
Oct. 14, Simmons, at Fort Worth.
Oct. 21, Texas A. & M., at Fort Worth. x
Oct. 28, Centenary, at Shreveport, La.
Nov. 4, Baylor, at Waco. x
Nov. 11, North Dakota U., at Fort Worth.
Nov. 18, Texas, at Austin. x
Nov. 25, Rice, at Fort Worth. x
Dec. 2, Southern Methodist, at Fort Worth. x (x denotes conference games).

flock of promising new men. They'll be new, yes, but they'll have the fight."

That is the way Schmidt views the task of rebuilding last year's eleven, which was one of the ranking teams of the nation. Twelve lettermen from last year will provide the nucleus.

Schmidt must reconstruct his line from end to end. He must try to fill the shoes of three all-conference linemen, including the great Johnny Vaughn, all-American guard. Someone must be found to throw into the gaps left at tackles by Foster Howell and Ben Boswell, both all-conference men.

Both of Schmidt's first string ends—Madison Pruitt, who stood head and shoulders above any other end in the conference last year, and Dan Salkeld, one of the best pass receivers in the Southwest—were graduated.

For these holes in the line, Schmidt will have four lettermen. Cy Perkins, 190-pound two-letter grinder from Olney, will be knocking for one of the tackles, with L. Bassinger, Fort Worth, L. Brown, San Antonio, and Bud Taylor, Austin, all one-letter players, plugging hard for guard posts.

M. Goodwin, 220-pound Hot Springs, Ark., sophomore, is viewed as a likely candidate for the other tackle position.

At ends Schmidt promises to be well-equipped despite the losses of Pruitt and Salkeld. Big, 186-pound Adolph Dietzel of San Antonio, basketball star and letterman, will again be eligible. Capt. Jack Graves, Beaumont, has had two years' experience. At end, as has Jack Langdon, Cleburne, and W. Meyers, 179 pounds, Jacksboro.

With this supply of wing material, providing all prove up to expectations, Schmidt may swing Langdon into the backfield, he said, where the loss of Blannard Spearman's mastery generalship, as well as his, Buster Brannon's, Hubert Dennis' and Red Oliver's fancy running and passing, will be keenly felt.

Graduation left but four letter backs on the squad, each with one year's experience. They are John Kitchin, fullback, Okmulgee, Okla.; J. Coleman, Waco, quarter; Charles Casper, San Antonio, and Jack Wallace, Texarkana, halfbacks.

All are light men, and Schmidt will probably need some beef to balance the speed. Langdon weighs 150 pounds and has had experience in the backfield. Schmidt may use him at fullback.

The center berth, to replace Townsend who was graduated, is a wide-open race. Two centers, neither of whom earned a letter, are left over from last year's squad. They are W. Ames, Slaton, and H. Floore, Fort Worth.

BAYLOR GRID HOPES FANNED

WACO, (UP).—After two years of complete subordination to Southwest conference foes, the Baylor university Golden Bears have hopes of again being in the running for the bunting this fall.

With a supply of new athletes the Baylor coaches are highly hopeful of entertaining Green and Gold followers with a winner. Only four of last year's players will be missing—Raymond D. Reeves and John Edwards, half and center, co-captains of the 1932 team, Stone (Red) Wells, and Maurice Ewing, who recently was elected coach at Gainesville high school.

Many who have watched Baylor football teams come and go say the material for the new season will be the best here since the championship days of John S. Tanner, Wesley Bradshaw, et al. About 50 athletes will gather on historic old Carroll field for the preliminary workouts on September 11. Then Coaches Jennings, Boney, Koch, Ralph R. Wolf and Jim Crow will know more about it.

Baylor last year a football championship back in 1924. The Bears previously won the title in 1915 and 1922.

Besides football, Coach Wolf believes he has even a better balanced basketball machine coming up for next year than the one that copped the 1932 championship. He also has some excellent track stars awaiting the season.

Coach Jennings expects to do more in baseball next season than his team did in the past race.

Coaching School Uses the Screen

LUBBOCK, (UP).—Motion pictures of several championship football games will be one of the features at the Texas Technological college coaching school which will be held July 31 to August 12, according to Head Coach Pete Cawthon.

Coach Andy Kerr of Colgate is bringing a complete moving picture of the Colgate vs. Brown game played last fall, showing the double wing back offense of the Colgate team which won them the championship of the East last year.

The short punt formation involving great passing attacks by the Michigan university Wolverines, the winners of the Big Ten championship last fall, will be demonstrated in pictures of at least three Michigan games which Coach Harry Kibbe is bringing. This short punt will be the most popular system at the coaching school this year, since 75 per cent of the high school coaches use it.

Bernie Bierman's single wing back formation, that hard driving offense which put Tulane university at the peak of the football world, will be demonstrated in a film of the Southern California vs. Tulane game played in the Rose Bowl at Los Angeles two years ago.

Coach Noble Kizer of Purdue will show the Northwestern vs. Purdue game played last fall, in which the Notre Dame shifting offense radiates with intricate timing, perfect blocking, and infinite power back to the weak side, with the unequalled weak side spinning attack.

This is the third annual coaching school to be held at Tech. Registration fee for the school will be $25.

Soviet Recognition Brewing?

Visit of Bernard Baruch, upper right, American financier, to Vichy, France, revived reports he will discuss unofficially American recognition of Soviet Russia with Maxim Litvinoff, lower left, Russian foreign minister, who is staying incognito at Royat, 30 miles from Vichy. Reported presence of Leon Trotsky, center, exiled Russian leader, at Royat served to revive rumors he may become Russian ambassador to the U. S., if this country recognizes the Soviet.

Westerners Are To See Venus

WASHINGTON, (UP).—At six o'clock in the morning of Aug. 17 you may get a beautiful eyeful of Venus (the one in the sky) if you live in Pacific coast states.

On that date, according to the American Nature association, there will be a remarkable close conjunction of Jupiter and Venus. They will be separated by a distance of only six minutes of arc, or a fifth of the diameter of the moon. As distances go in the heavens, this is closer than some of the decisions made in a baseball game.

The result will be that these two planets will resemble a magnificent double star in the western sky.

Although they seem close together Venus will be about 128,000,000 miles from the earth, with Jupiter, bashful-like, 383,000,000 miles away.

Loses Gold Tooth Cheering for Team

VISALIA, Cal. (UP).—A most voracious baseball fan is Calvin H. Leisure of Visalia. The other night, at a local game, he yelled for the home team, felt something in his mouth, spat it out and continued to cheer.

A few minutes later he discovered he had lost a gold tooth which had come loose.

WOODEN BARRACKS USED

Wood from them is being cut up under direction of the San Antonio Relief committee, to provide fuel for unemployed next winter. Three woodyards are being stocked.

SEVEN EASTERN HORSES READY

By W. WINSTON COPELAND
United Press Staff Correspondent,
FORT WORTH, (UP).—Date for the fall horse-racing season at Arlington Downs, between here and Dallas, should be forthcoming within a short time.

Seven thoroughbred horses owned by W. T. Waggoner, owner of the Arlington Downs, have been brought back from eastern and northern tracks to rest and train for the event.

The races can be held anytime after August 31, when the recently passed horse-racing law goes into effect. It probably will be held late in September.

So long has it been since Texans have gone to the window and laid down their bets on horses, they may have become a bit rusty. Horse-racing was barred 24 years ago.

"The legalized 'certificate system,' is a softer way of saying pari-mutuels. Racing fans who have followed or attended races where they employ the pari-mutuel system will find the Texas betting quite similar.

There are some striking exceptions. The better must be at the track to place his bet. Also there will be no posting of odds at the track.

At eastern and northern tracks the odds on each horse are placed on a bulletin board at the track.

If the better at Texas races is a "wise-guy" he probably will not have much trouble in finding out just about how the odds lay.

To place a bet, the one merely walks up to the bookmakers window, plunks down his $2 or up, and receives a card with the name of the horse he chose on it.

If his horse finishes first, he returns to the window, presents his card, and gathers back his ante plus his earnings. If the horse finishes second or third, the returns are smaller.

The word "booze" is an English corruption of the Turkish word "buze", which is used in Syria to include sherbets and similar iced drinks.

State Takes Bow To World at Fair

Texas will say "How do you do?" to the world with a lavish production of the world-famous opera "Aida," on Texas day, August 23, in Soldier field, at the World's fair.

Eight celebrated concert and opera stars will join with a mammoth ensemble of talented and deftly trained Texas singers in presenting the spectacle amid gorgeous settings recreating ancient Egypt of 2000 B. C.

State-wide representation of cities and civic and music organizations will accompany the Texas grand opera to Chicago on the "Texas opera special" for the event, it was announced by Mrs. John Wesley Graham of Houston, World's fair music chairman and leader in preparation for the opera undertaking.

Vittorio Verse of Metropolitan opera house directing fame will be the conductor. The opera will be rendered in its entirety and in English. Elephants, camels and other animals appropriate to the beautiful Egyptian scenes also will be used. A great 100-foot wide triple stage will be employed lending opportunity for unusual effects in opera production.

For the famous "Triumphal scene," the three stages will all be in spectacular array simultaneously for a pageantry of animals on the lower setting, the singers on the middle section, and the exquisitely clad dancers on the glass floor above.

Whenever outstanding quality makes any packaged product popular with you and other shoppers, somebody soon offers you something "just as good" at a "bargain" price.

Before you even think of buying it, look at the label. When the brand is unfamiliar—when you know nothing of the maker's reputation—isn't it folly to take a chance on unknown quality just to "save" a few cents?

There are too many genuine bargains today to waste good money on false ones! Prices are down. Many reliable brands, long-known to you through your own experience or by their advertising, now cost far less than they have in years.

Ask for them by name. And insist on getting them. It is the best way to avoid buying merchandise in which quality has been sacrificed to make a low price still lower!

LETTINGS UNDER N. R. A. DELAYED TILL AUGUST 15

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 3.—The slowness of the federal bureau of roads in approving projects submitted by the Texas highway commission has caused the first lettings under the national recovery act...

"If we are to throw overboard all our previous work it might delay many contracts this year," said Commissioner W. R. Ely, "whereas our plan is to get work under way as soon as possible to effect maximum relief during the winter."

Indian Drugs Aid Physicians

CHICAGO. (UP)—Modern medicine owes many remarkable cures to recent inventions and discoveries, but still turns for many cures to drugs and herbs discovered by Indians long before Columbus was born.

Not only were the drugs discovered by Indians, but they were used to cure the same diseases that physicians prescribe them for today.

Derby Winner Kept His Check

CINCINNATI. (UP)—In the shuffle of great events since the running of the English Derby last year, most persons have forgotten Billy Coyne—the Cincinnati elevator man who bought a $250 sweepstakes ticket and won what the boys on the corner call "a cold $50,000."

Coyne bought a home in Ft. Thomas, Ky., and has lived quietly and well, without extravagance. For some time he retained his elevator job.

The sharks have been after him with everything from fancy patents to the lost pocketbook game, Coyne said. "They have bothered the life out of us, but I wasn't interested, and threatened to have one of them arrested."

EXECUTED OWN SENTENCE SAN RAFAEL, Cal. (UP)—Frank E. Pellz was given a sentence which he himself was charged with executing. Found guilty of reckless driving after several similar offenses, he agreed to write to the state traffic office and request that his driving license be permanently revoked.

Bond Issue

In the stress of recent economic conditions, it has been largely a case of survival of the fittest in employment," he said. "Those least fitted for work and those incapacitated physically have been thrown out of employment."

Drought conditions in at least 17 counties of the state, which at times produce bountiful crops, accentuate the condition.

Investigation

reduce their hours below 52, specified in paragraph 2 of the agreement.

Q—A waitress is paid 80 cents a day and tips. Must the 80 cents be raised to the minimum wage of $14?

Q—Can an employer force employees to take time off during the day to come within the hour limit on a seven-day schedule?

Q—Is there any limitation on the maximum hours of operation of a store or service?

The act also is designed to improve navigation on the Tennessee river and provide flood control throughout the river valley. Eventually additional dams will be built. Map shows the territory to be immediately benefited.

The law authorizes the federal government to distribute power directly to municipalities, associations and ultimate consumers if private power companies refuse to enter into equitable agreements for selling to consumers.

The administration believes the development will provide cheap power for old and new industries throughout the southeastern states, increase employment, bring prosperity and elevate living standards in the entire area.

The one idea behind the President's N. R. A. movement is to PUT MORE FOLKS TO WORK.

Merely shortening hours will accomplish nothing. We must put more folks to earning, so that they can spend, which will create more jobs for more folks.

It may call for a sacrifice; in fact, in our local section we are sure it will, but it is WORTH a sacrifice, for if everyone will do his part, this plan will pull us out of this depression, but it will not work with the "Let George Do It" spirit.

We all made sacrifices during the war and we believe that sacrifices in support of President Roosevelt now are just as vital and just as necessary as the sacrifices we made for President Wilson then.

This store has added four to its payroll and has not reduced salaries one penny.

We did not particularly need this extra help, we could have gotten along without them, at least during this season end but we believe if everyone does his part, we will need this extra help and more.

It called for a sacrifice, for this store hasn't made a dime in three years; in fact, it has lost plenty of money but THIS IS THE ONLY WAY OUT.

This store is doing its part and will appreciate your co-operation, your suggestions and your business.

We are working in shifts and below are the hours of each sales person. If you have a preference as to which sales person serves you this may be of interest:
