269 HAVE PAID THEIR POLL TAX

With only 16 more days for paying poll tax receipts, a total of only 269 had insured their right to go to the polls this year, according to the latest check from the office of the tax collector.

More poll taxes are expected to be bought this year than during the past two years, inasmuch as federal money has been well circulated among laborers.

Spaw Compiles Ginning Records

Williams-Miller Gin records are in Midland ready for farmers to complete the filling in of their claims. B. H. Spaw, manager of the Midland plant for Williams-Miller, arrived early Friday to help with the claims in any way possible.

More work is expected to be done this morning compiling records. No time was lost as soon as the chamber of commerce and county farm agent showed the need of speed. The records are now at the farm agent's office.

Ft. Davis Woman Out for Sheriff

FORT DAVIS. (U.P.)—Mrs. Louise Sproul has announced herself as a candidate for sheriff of Jeff Davis county, subject to the July democratic primary. Walker Pays Dues With Plum Trees

A man joined the chamber of commerce Friday with trees. O. Walker, nurseryman, said he didn't want to live in a city and not do his share of civic work, so he paid his 1934 membership dues with trees.

Through cooperation of A. B. Cole, city streets foreman, the trees will be planted in Haley park within the next few days. Walker gave the chamber several of his famous Japanese cherry plums, which are said to never fail to make fruit. Walker expects to start work soon on two big park projects in two West Texas towns, as Walker operates all over the area from his large nursery stock here.

Sea Captain Has Never Seen Storm

HOUSTON. (U.P.)—Capt. Fernando Restani, master of the Italian steamship Alberta, which puts in frequently at Texas ports has spent virtually all of his 50 years on the sea but has never encountered a hurricane.

"It must have been luck," he said recently. "Or perhaps a kind providence was watching over me."

Captain Restani has sailed the Adriatic, Mediterranean, Gulf of Mexico, North and South Atlantic and other waters. He has been through the Caribbean, breeding place of hurricanes, during the stormy season.

He has barely missed many hurricanes, among them the one of last summer which swept through Cuba, killing scores of persons on that island and in its principal city, Havana.

"My ship was passing through the Florida Straits when we received the hurricane warning," the Italian captain said. "I felt sure the hurricane would hit us. I was prepared for it, but we made port at New Orleans without encountering it."

With the exception of the time he spent in school Captain Restani has lived on the sea. His father and grandfather were ship captains. He was made a captain at the age of 25.

125 Make Merry at Annual Game Feed at High School

Faculty and board members of the Midland public schools and a number of guests, totalling 125, made merry at the annual bird supper Thursday night in the domestic science rooms of Midland high school.

A total of 288 quail, killed by local hunters during the past few days especially for the occasion, and cooked by George Phillips of the Schenbauer Coffee shop, were served as part of an appetizing menu, other dishes being prepared and furnished by faculty members and the wives of faculty men. Phillips also gave a gallon of fruit salad.

FORD REFUSED HELP, SON SAYS AT ALBUQUERQUE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. (U.P.)—Edsel Ford testified before the senate investigating committee today that the Guardian Detroit Union Group, Inc., borrowed $15,000,000 in 1931 to take up "criticized assets" of unit banks.

Ford, son of Henry Ford, was a director in the group. He said he participated in an agreement under which the Bankers Trust company of New York and the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company of Chicago advanced funds to the Guardian group.

Last minute appeal from high government officials in February 1933 for the Ford Motor company to give financial aid to avert collapse of the Detroit banking structure was refused by Henry Ford, his son, Edsel, told the senate committee.

Charles Borum, manager of the Louisiana hotel, Baton Rouge, La., brother to the Rev. Winston F. Borum, told the senate committee that he read and Dan Bricoco, of Uvalde, Tex., known to be an ardent supporter of the tax, had moved its adoption, the convention acted after hearing two brief statements.

D. M. Hildebrand, president of the Nebraska Livestock Feeders association, said the state organization would not be able to act on the question in time to present their case in Washington next week before congress. He did not, however, fight against adoption of the report.

Charles E. Collins, president of the American national urged adoption as the only thing to be done.

Traces History
Of Indian Tribe
BUCKHOLTS. (U.P.)—A strip of land known as the Reynold Lake Valley farm, five miles south of Buckholts overlooking Little river to the north, is being explored by a party of geologists and geographers. The party is searching for traces of an Indian tribe. Explorations there indicate that the area between Norman Valley bridge on Little river eastward to the Hollazaw bridge, once formed an Indian pueblo.

The powerful Lapan and Comanche tribes who dominated the Southwest, held their great powwows and war dances there, and drank from an ancient spring which now supplies Reynold Lake.

D. W. Humphries, who lives near Sharp, has a collection of about 2,500 arrowheads, square axes, Indian rock plows, hoes, bread rocks, beads and pottery which he gathered from graves during and since the creation of a levee south of the river. Mr. Humphries said that certain relics found on the spot are sound evidence that it was once an Indian settlement.

A feature of the old camp is the manner in which the dead were buried. Explorers say that the mounds were buried near the river bank and the graves on the hillside in accordance with the religious belief the squaws were protected against evil spirits of water on one side and graves on the other.

MASS FLIGHT ACROSS PACIFIC BIG SUCCESS WHEN ALL SEABOATS IN PERFECT CONDITION TAXI TO RAMP

HONOLULU, Jan. 12. (U.P.)—The greatest mass flight in aviation history was completed with clocklike precision here Thursday as six American navy planes carrying thirty men on a swift 2,400-mile "routine" transfer from California to Hawaii alighted at Pearl Harbor in 1-2-3.

All Honolulu roared and screamed with the din of welcome as the big planes loomed out of the north-east, thundered past Sinister Koko head, then over picturesque Diamond head and the glittering sands of Waikiki and on to the gentle waters of Pearl Harbor.

The over-all elapsed time of the planes in the air was 26 hours and 12 minutes, but the flying time in formation from the Golden Gate across the perilous stretch of the Pacific to Pearl Harbor was 24 hours and 45 minutes, official time.

The first plane, carrying Lieut. Comm. Kneifer McGinnis, in charge of the flight, knifed the glassy waters of Pearl Harbor at 5:59 p. m., eastern standard time, and came to rest one minute later. At 6:01 p. m. plane number 2 landed. Thus they came down with the military rhythm of a squad of Annapolis midshipmen.

On or about January 11, 1934, six great seaplanes, pride of Uncle Sam's air forces, lifted a total of 120,000 pounds from the placid waters of Paradise Cove in San Francisco.

PRESIDENT'S BALL WILL TURN MONEY INTO FUND TO CARE FOR AFFLICTED

It is a humane as well as happy thought which lies behind the plan to raise an endowment for the Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and offer it to President Roosevelt as a gift on his birthday, January 30th. A series of balls in his honor is projected for communities in all parts of the country, including Midland, the proceeds of which will be turned over to this beneficent institution. Nothing could be nearer the heart of the president. It is he who has made Warm Springs and what it symbolizes. People recall his own gallant, successful and uncompromising fight against the affliction which overtook him, and which threatened to end completely his public life. They also remember how his sympathy and hopes turned to the help and relief of others crippled as he temporarily had been. Now at Warm Springs an establishment with skilled and experienced treatment is able to work almost miracles of recovery, and needs only larger resources in order to extend its benefits more widely. All here hope that this plan to delight and cheer the president by such a birthday present, insuring as it would the larger success of Warm Springs, will be carried out enthusiastically and triumphantly.

Something of the history of the Warm Springs institution: In the fall of 1924, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who had been severely disabled in 1921 by infantile paralysis, learned of a young man, also a victim of "Polio" who had spent three successive summers bathing in the warm water pools of Warm Springs.

This young man, practically helpless, had been helped each day into the pool. He quickly found that he could move his limbs in the water and by persistent effort and exercise so increased their strength that at the end of the third summer he was able to walk once more with the aid of a cane.

Roosevelt went to Warm Springs in the spring of 1925 and spent several weeks, exercising and swimming in the pools. He was so impressed with the improvement of other patients, as well as his own, that he decided in 1926 to conduct some experimental work.

Twenty-three patients were placed under observation for periods of five (See PRESIDENT'S BALL, page 4)

31 Masons Hear Pemberton Talk

Thirty-one Masons were present at the first meeting held by Midland Lodge number 623 A. F. and A. M. in 1934, Thursday evening.

Dr. L. B. Pemberton's address on the subject, "Six Reasons Why I Am Happy and Privileged to Be a Mason," was received with interest. The outline of his address follows:

1—"Because I believe Masonry to be of divine origin.
2—"Because of its influence over the world.
3—"Because of its fellowship—brotherly love—relief and truth.
4—"Because it teaches the Fatherhood of God and the universal brotherhood of man.
5—"Because Masonry enables me to achieve success in life which helps me live well, laugh often and love much—to gain the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children. To live in the world to make it better than when I found it, whether the relief of pain, a perfect poem or a rescued soul. To appreciate earth's beauty, and never fail to express it. To fill my life with things well done and my task accomplished. To live a life that will be an inspiration—leave a memory that will be a benediction.
6—"Because it teaches love of God—home and heavenly father—work in the fellowcraft degree will be given at a called meeting Monday night at 7:30.

Canyon Explorer Sees Bleak South

CANYON. (U.P.)—Joe Hill of Canyon, has seen his first penguins—those strange birds of the Antarctic which resemble solemn little men in dress suits. Men on the Byrd ship imitated their gait and manner as they saw as the birds came to make its way between great icebergs.

Joe's recent letters, home state that he is still personal aide of Admiral Byrd and that he feels himself most fortunate to be associated daily with a man "who is watched by the whole world and worshipped by many." His long hours of labor are occupied in making snow sleds, skis, and "feet" for the airplanes.

Unless he is changed, his duties "on the ice" will be in the tractor service which is a part of the airplane division. He states that one of the problems to be solved is how to make the tractor usable on ice by adding a lubricant which will not freeze and by devising some means of keeping the engines warm.

In this work Joe will be associated with Fred Dennis, who has serviced the Lindbergh planes.

For diversion the men enjoy motion pictures, having 80 different films with them.

He finds himself at once homesick and happy and says, "I have at my finger tips all the things I have ever wished for."

Dr. and Mrs. Hill and their household bear from the Byrd Expedition almost daily by means of the short wave radio set.

Basketball Men Here Organize

A meeting of basketball players Thursday night resulted in the organization of a club composed of ex-Midland players. The club will be composed of about 30 and games will be matched with outside teams rather than having several teams—so as to throw a much stronger team out for games.

Numerous teams in surrounding communities have tried to get games here this year and it is hoped that all these teams will confer with the Midland team soon and schedule games.

The old automotive garage building has been secured for use at night and lights are being put in today. Finishing is being done by players themselves and a membership fee of $1.50 per player was made. The club has all the material necessary now for the immediate starting of practice. The goals are in good shape from last year and have been loaned to the high school for use in the afternoons.

On the Farm and Range

S. A. DEBNAM County Agent

MISS MYRTLE MILLER Home Agent

"Safe Agriculture—Two years reserve of food and feed on every homestead in Midland County."

Cotton options have been signed by local farmers who plowed up cotton in 1933, and have been forwarded to Washington, D. C., by the county agent. Returns are expected on these options at the earliest date after contract for reduction acreage in 1934-35 have been accepted and approved in Washington.

Pink boll worm claims have been returned to the office in Austin by a number of men. Others are working out the claims with the cooperation of the gins, the chamber of commerce and the county agent. Gin records which are not available at the present time will be in a few days, according to information received today. Ten days is the limit placed on these sheets of information so the work is progressing rapidly.

Three small vineyards have been put out from cuttings in the last nine years by J. M. Franks of Prairie Lee. Several other farmers have expressed their intentions of starting vineyards in the near future. Berries have also proved successful in this county.

Cotton growers should not let their interest in the cash land rentals offered by the government on land retired in 1934 from cotton production blind them to the importance of the cash parity payment of one cent per pound on 40 per cent of the average five-year production. The coming campaign will definitely establish each farm's domestic allotment of cotton which will be 40 per cent of the average five-year production for the years 1928-32. In 1934 contract signers will receive $5 per bale on their domestic allotment, but it may be more than this in 1935 and the land rentals may be smaller that year, depending on how much acreage reduction is required to keep up cotton prices. The tenant shares in the parity payment according to his usual share agreement. Speaking of the division of the land rental payments, the landlord who has a written or verbal contract for 1934 with a managing share tenant must either agree to a rentals as stipulated in the contract or 50-50 division of the government money, or satisfy the tenant by private agreement, if he wishes to cooperate in the plan. What is commonly known in Texas as a "third and fourth" tenant may qualify as a managing share tenant if he operates an entire farm without landlord supervision. Such a tenant may sign a cotton contract for presentation to his local cotton committee if the landlord will sign with him. In every case the landlord must sign the cotton contract except where a cash-tenant has a contract with landlord for both 1934 and 1935.

The excess of pork and lard on the home market the last few years due to declining exports abroad, has driven down hog prices and forced an adjustment of both corn and hog production through the new government corn-hog program, according to R. M. Regenbrecht, extension service of Texas A. and M. college. Every farmer who has grown and sold hogs during the last two years will be given an opportunity to cooperate with the agricultural adjustment administration in reducing corn and hog production in 1934 and 1935. Farmers interested in the plan for reduction and the payments that will be made to those who sign contracts should see S. A. Debnam, county agent, after February 1. The campaign for explaining the plan, signing contracts, and organizing county corn-hog production control associations is expected to begin soon.

Farmers who sign corn-hog contracts must agree to reduce their corn acreage 20 per cent below the average of 1932-33, and to curtail their litters of pigs and hogs according to their litters by 25 per cent. Farmers who cooperate in the plan will be paid 30 cents per bushel less local administrative costs for the corn they don't raise next year on their retired corn acres. They will be paid 75 per cent hog crop they market. The five-year average corn yield 1929-33 will determine the yield on the retired acres.

Farmers who have been in the habit of buying feeder pigs to feed out may continue to do so after signing the contract but they must agree not to buy and feed more than they did in 1932 and 1933. Payments, however, will be made only on the hogs raised and sold by the farmer.

Half the corn payment of 15 cents per bushel is promised as soon as possible after the contract is accepted, and the remainder next fall. Of the hog payment $2 is promised as soon as possible after the contract is accepted, $1 next November, and the remaining $2 per head less administrative expense in February, 1935. Ten acres of corn and three litters of hogs per year have been set by the administration as minimums for entering into the corn-hog contract, though a farmer who has ten acres of corn and no hogs, or one raising three litters of pigs but growing no corn can sign a contract and receive the corn reduction benefit or the hog reduction benefit according to which he has. But the ruling is that any farmer who grows above the minimum of both corn and hogs must sign a contract to reduce both before he can participate in the benefits of the plan. It is not necessary for a farmer to produce 75 per cent of his base period average, but it is expected that he will continue to farm and produce some hogs and corn.

Raising 219 out of 239 baby chickens, Mrs. J. O. McMorris, of Tarzan has 63 laying pullets, has had eggs, and chickens for a family of six and a cash profit of $27.30, with expenses paid, on poultry for 1933. Mrs. McMorris' story follows: "When we moved back to the farm last spring, I did not have any chickens. With such little money as I had, I decided to buy baby chickens and raise some hens. Two hundred thirty-nine baby chickens were bought at five cents each. I raised 219 fryers. Six dollars worth of roosters were sold. We ate all the chickens that we wanted and out of what we raised we got 63 pullets. "They began to lay at the age of four and one-half months. Through August, September and November, I sold 50¢ worth of eggs per day, besides what we used at home. Since the first of December, I have sold a dozen a day in addition to those

The Town Quack

Europe apparently would pay the war debts by sending over a lot of liquor. That might be the quickest way of making the debts liquid.

Last year, according to Cook, fresh vegetables, including tomatoes, were grown to supply the family through canning, and $40 worth (green) was sold last year. According to Cook a garden can be grown in bad years in this country.

Thirty-five pounds of cheese was made by Miss Mardis Carden and her mother of Cotton Flat, after attending a county cheese demonstration at the court house last summer. Five pounds of cheese was made each week. There was a continuous supply of cheese from the time the first ripened until all was gone.

Seven hundred twenty pounds of American cheese was reported by 44 Midland and Martin county demonstrators and cooperators.

Presidents who will lead home demonstration clubs of Midland county in 1934 are, Mrs. Bill Countess, Cotton Flat; Mrs. D. A. Ray, Valley View; Mrs. C. Flowers, Stokes; Mrs. J. E. Wallace, Midland southeast independent school district; Mrs. Howard Poole, "Busy Bee," northeast Midland independent school district, and Mrs. E. D. Ward, McClintic.

Ninety women and 16 girls were enrolled January 1 to begin the home demonstration program of 1934. Demonstrations are food, wardrobe, and pantry. Demonstrators in Cotton Flat—women: 4-H pantry, Mrs. Bill Locklar; wardrobe, Mrs. Floyd Countess Jr. and Miss Elsie Campbell; McClintic—women: 4-H pantry, Mrs. Curtis Fisher; wardrobe, Mrs. E. D. Ward; bedroom, Mrs. R. D. Blacklock. Girl demonstrators of McClintic are: Hazel Peary, wardrobe; Ora Fae Trulova, garden; Reita Mae Trulova, bedroom. Stokes—women: 4-H pantry, Mrs. J. C. Brooks; wardrobe, Mrs. John T. Bell; girls are: wardrobe, Bessie Lena Bell; garden, Eula Gene Parker; bedroom, Lois Park-er. Busy Bee—women: Mrs. S. D. Wimberly, wardrobe demonstrator; Mrs. S. H. Gwyn; Southeast Midland independent—wardrobe, Miss Ruth Norton and Mrs. J. E. Wallace; Prairie Lee—girl demonstrators, Lou Alma Henshaw, wardrobe; Lottie Mae Bryant, garden; Lola Livingston, bedroom. Valley View—girls: Ethel Wilson, wardrobe; Dorothy Carley, garden, Sarah Ann Stewart, bedroom. Wardell girls—Pearl Wilson, wardrobe; Leota Crain, garden, Billie Walker, bedroom.

A demonstration is an example to show the practical application of an established fact. One demonstrator in a subject is enrolled in each community. Members who are not demonstrators are cooperators with the demonstrator in the demonstration. Demonstrations are outlined by specialists in the subject by A. and M. college. Definite goals are worked out by the cooperators and the agent for the county.

Mystery Novel On Screen Sat. At Yucca Theatre

"Fog," one of the most popular mystery novels of the past year, has reached the talking picture screen. The Valentine Williams, Dorothy Rice Sims yarn which ran serially in the Saturday Evening Post recently, has been filmed by Columbia Studios, and is showing at the Yucca theatre Saturday.

Laid entirely on board a transatlantic liner at sea, the story starts with the murder of an eccentric millionaire. A mystery crystal-gazing seeress next dies, and the ship's doctor is the third to meet a like fate. There are a half-dozen possible suspects, and the solving of the mystery and the apprehending of the real criminal, and his motive for the killings, form an intensely interesting and absorbing drama.

In screen form, it is proving to be as entertaining as it was in print. The cast is headed by Mary Brian, Donald Cook and Reginald Denny, with a supporting roster of players that numbers over a dozen of the best character actors in Hollywood.

English citizens buy about 2500 automobiles every week; about one-fifth of these are delivered in London.

Home Demonstration Work calls a meeting of the council for Saturday, Jan. 13, at 1:30 p. m. All members are urged to attend.

Lochabay Interest Bought by Coston

Mike N. Coston, proprietor of the Postoffice cafe for several years, has bought the interest of Harry Lochabay in the Scharbauer Coffee shop and is now actively engaged in the operation of that business with George Phillips.

Both Coston and Phillips are restaurant men and chefs of long experience and have been located here for the past six or seven years. Lochabay has not announced his plans for the immediate future.

Tom Wingo, who bought an interest in the Postoffice cafe a few months ago, continues to manage that business.

to seventeen weeks. All made improvement, some to remarkable degrees. At the close of the detailed report of each case, was made to three prominent orthopedic surgeons. Each expressed unqualified approval and concurred in the establishment of a hydro-therapeutic center at Warm Springs.

On July 28th, 1927, the Warm Springs Foundation, backed by a number of prominent and public spirited men, was incorporated to be developed and administered without personal gain or profit.

The policy of the trustees has developed Warm Springs as an orthopedic center. This development brought about a position of leadership, which, under the direction of the president, is now ready to coordinate all of the many individual efforts in the fight against infantile paralysis into a national crusade.

The endowment fund, made possible by the citizens of the country, will enable the foundation to carry on an intensive campaign.

Jimmy Noland, chairman of the Midland ball, will announce committees within a few days. Admission will be a minimum of $1.50, and the dance will be given in the ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

"THE WAY TO LOVE"

ANN DVORAK EDWARD EVERETT HORTON A Paramount Picture

Chevalier Gets Rave for Work In Latest Film

Not a thing has been overlooked in the Paramount production of "The Way to Love," coming to the Ritz theatre Sunday and Monday.

From the unique opening where-in twenty cameo-like characters in singing review before the camera in a colorful kaleidoscope of rhythmic photography, to the final and satisfactory fadeout, the story is literally packed with Maurice Chevalier material.

The new songs written by Ralph Rainger and Leo Robin, carefully tailored to fit the star's personality, not only are musical treats but add materially to the plot motivation.

Chevalier portrays the part of a poor Parisian youth who is a walking advertisement for a love shop run by the formidable Edward Everett Horton. In his peregrinations about town he rescues a girl from a barbarous gypsy knife thrower and conveys her in the roof top boxes of friends.

There he unfolds to her, as only the impetuous Maurice can, his one great ambition to be a guide for tourists who wish to see his beloved Paris. But the girl with whom he is falling in love doesn't think she is good enough for him, goes back to the gypsy knife-thrower.

So Maurice with Edward Everett Horton goes on a bender at various night clubs one night. And, with alcoholic courage wrestles with the knife-thrower and takes the girl. Ann Dvorak in her first dramatic smash role is the heroine.

Among other players who contributed to the story interest are Arthur Pierson, Minna Gombel, Blanche Frederick, Nydia Westman, John Miljan, Billy Bevan and Grace Bradley.

disco bay, and with drumming motors, headed out the Golden Gate towards Honolulu. This is America's answer to Italy's challenge when Commander Bibbo led his band of flyers from Rome, Italy, to Chicago.

No "Spectacular Stunt" "We had orders to transfer the squadron to Honolulu," said Rear Admiral A. W. Johnson, commander of the San Diego aircraft forces, "so rather than dismantle the planes and ship them over by boat we decided to fly."

"It's not a spectacular stunt," he added, "just a routine transfer." Personnel and the planes are the same which recently flew 2700 miles from Norfolk, Va., with one stop to Coco Solo, C. Z., a distance of 1850 miles. Lieut. Comm. Kneller McGinnis, who led the squadron on its last flight, will be in charge.

The great low-winged, twin-motored seaplanes were ordered to headquarters at Paradise Cove preparatory to the start of their flight. In this secluded spot on the Marin side of San Francisco bay they were serviced by a "mother ship"—the U. S. S. Ganett. Ashore, several navy aerologists kept 24-hour vigil over the weather instruments to determine the exact time of departure.

When conditions for take-off and for successful flight across the 2,000-odd miles to Honolulu were judged perfect, the six planes headed out towards the Golden Gate, thus starting another chapter in aviation's history.

Three hundred miles over the planes passed over the naval ship Sandpiper, another 300 miles and the enlisted crew of the Scheerck wildly waved hats at the gallant armada.

From there on to the final destination naval boats were stationed at 300-mile intervals to report progress of the flight and to render assistance if needed. Approximately half way to their goal was the flagship Wright, from whose ship Admiral Johnson kept in constant touch with the flight by radio.

The ambitious attempt established a new record in non-stop military flights and was the longest hop ever made by a squadron of planes. Twice before have America's military forces attempted to conquer—by air—the stretch of turbulent seas between here and Honolulu. Civilian planes have tried, too, and succeeded in three instances.

The first naval flight to Honolulu was attempted in 1925 when two ships, with Commander John Rodgers, now dead, in command, flew from Crissy field, San Francisco.

Neither reached its destination. Other Honolulu Flights One plane was forced down 300 miles off the barren Northern California coast. The Rodgers' ship went down 900 miles short of its goal and was found after 10 days of drifting.

Lieuts. Mattland and Hagenberger of the army attempted the perilous hop. They succeeded. Ernie Smith, a civilian pilot, who had planned to race the army flyers managed to reach the islands but crashed in landing.

In the memorable Dole flight of 1927 only two of the five actual starters succeeded. Arthur Goebel won the race and Martin Jensen followed him in.

The last plane to reach the islands after a flight from the mainland was the gallant Southern Cross of Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith, the English ace who continued on to Australia in a record-breaking flight.

Officials of the 12th naval district here were unanimous in the opinion that the entire armada would succeed in reaching its goal.

Panhandle Not So Cold as Old Days

AMARILLO, (AP)—The dawning of a new year in the Panhandle with the temperature up to 55 recalled to oldtimers, by way of contrast, the severe blizzard which swept the plains on January 1, 1883. Many of them describe it as the worst storm in the history of West Texas.

L. Gough, a cowboy on the famous T-Anchor ranch at the time, is among those who went through the blizzard. He and two other cowboys, Taylor Ray and Percy Drake, were riding across the prairie between the Palo Duro canyon and the Dixon creek pasture, present site of Borger. On New Year's eve they camp-

Dentist Takes Cake With Advertisement

McALLEN (AP)—Dr. A. B. Cockrum, McAllen dentist whose pointed classified advertisements in local newspapers usually get him the desired results, has added this gem to his collection:

"Notice to that person who borrowed without my consent the heart, liver and lungs of my office radio: You made a poor selection, since this radio has never been worth while. May I make you a present of the cabinet, which you failed to take with you? Should you decide to accept my offer, just come up to see me sometime," using your own method of entrance. Dr. A. B. Cockrum."

The doctor's pithy advertisements several weeks ago for his lost pup brought several varieties of hounds but the right dog appeared.

A Japanese legend has it that music was devised by the gods to lure the sun goddess from a cave where she had retired.

CONFUSION ENDED ON BRAN

New Ruling Makes Labels Accurate

To protect the buying public, the United States Food and Drug Administration has advised that every package of cereal labeled "Bran" state on the label exactly what it contains.

Before this ruling, even part-bran products were sometimes mistakenly referred to as "Bran." It was not easy for the purchaser to distinguish between a cereal that was entirely bran, or all bran with flavoring, and another that was mostly wheat.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is labeled "ALL-BRAN Deliciously Flavored with Malt, Sugar and Salt," a statement which describes the product fairly and honestly.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has won millions of friends because it corrects most types of common constipation safely and pleasantly. It furnishes generous "bulk"—needed to promote normal elimination.

However, ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all." Certain types of intestinal disorders should be treated only on a physician's advice.

When you buy a bran cereal for the relief of constipation, read the wording on the package. The facts are there! Make sure by asking for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It furnishes "bulk" in a form for satisfactory results.

At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

1934 NO RED INK WANTED LET'S HOPE IT WON'T BE NEEDED IN TEXAS

1933 CODING... 250 thousand jobless boys marching off to the field and forest camps of the CCC... 22 million people who "saw the Fair"... wheat and cotton doing better... millions of wage earners back at work?

What a year that was! It left history behind it. In the telephone business, things went from bad to worse through almost all the first seven months of the year. In that time we lost about 16,000 telephones in Texas. Our long distance calls were at a low ebb. On our ledgers, columns of red figures grew longer and longer.

And then... came a turn! For us, the most hopeful thing that happened in 1933 was the fact that in August we stopped losing telephones. In the last months of the year we gained telephones. And while the gain was hardly a bare fraction of the tens of thousands lost during the depression, it was good to know that the long decline apparently was ended.

1934 No one can say what 1934 may hold. But
