Barbara's Prince Went Away

Discord Drowns Out Rudy Vallee's Love Song

Charges Cruelty

FAY—"I don't want Rudy. If anybody does, she's welcome. He ranks A-1 as a fiance and a fizzle as a husband."

RUDY—"I'll be happy to answer every charge of Mrs. Vallee. Do I love Alice Faye? No, she's not my type."

ALICE—"Simply ridiculous. The charge that she kept a love tryst with Vallee at Miami Beach and that they embraced."

Her honeymoon plans went all awry, with the bridegroom dodging process servers, but Barbara Hutton, Woolworth heiress, still was smiling joyfully as she posed in San Francisco, as shown here, on her wedding trip to the Orient.

One of the most sensational and bitterly fought legal battles in Los Angeles history is believed impending, as Rudy Vallee, famed crooner, prepares to fight his separate maintenance suit of Mrs. Vallee, the former Fay Webb, branding it a "shakedown." Mrs. Vallee charges Rudy with misconduct with Alice Faye, blond radio star, and two "Jane Does." Vallee hits back by impugning his wife's conduct, and promising astounding revelations if he is "pushed."

Cruelty has wrecked her romance, Mrs. Dorothy Weir Brock, above, daughter of E. T. Weir, steel magnate, charges in a Reno divorce suit filed against George D. Brock, Jr., of Pittsburgh. The Brocks were married ten years ago and have no children.

Two men who manned machine guns liberated five long-term convicts from the Eastham prison farm this morning in a daring fusillade that left two guards on the ground.

TWO MEN, BELIEVED TO BE BARROW AND AIDE, FREE 5 TODAY

CROCKETT, Jan. 16. (UP).—Two men who manned machine guns liberated five long-term convicts from the Eastham prison farm this morning in a daring fusillade that left two guards on the ground.

One of the men was believed to be Clyde Barrow, Southwest fugitive gunman.

Those who escaped were: Raymond Hamilton, Dallas county ally of Barrow, and serving total sentences of 263 years from convictions ranging from hijacking to murder;

A. B. Franch, Hunt county, serving a 12-year sentence for robbery with firearms;

W. H. Bybe, Stephens county, serving a life sentence for murder; Joe Palmer, Limestone county, twenty-five years for robbery with firearms.

Major Crawford, Lovelady, guard, was in a critical condition at the Huntsville prison hospital.

Olen Bozeman of Groesbeck and Huntsville was slightly wounded. The delivery was made at 7 o'clock this morning as the men prepared to leave camp to chop wood. As they reached the open guns roared and the guards fled.

The convicts sought shelter, and the five who escaped ran for a waiting black sedan as if their delivery had been prearranged.

Later they were seen to be given weapons. All are classified as dangerous.

Witnesses said the raiders conducted the ambush from a ditch on the prison farm. No effort to take the prisoners peacefully was made, and guards had no chance to raise their guns.

Weldon residents reported seeing the raiders and convicts speeding northwestward through the town.

All available deputies and rangers are watching the roads.

STEEN MAY DRILL MANY OIL TESTS

ODESSA, Tex., Jan. 16. (AP).—The Odessa News-Times says the Steen Drilling company, which has established headquarters here, is rumored planning to drill approximately 60 wells in Andrews county and 12 in Ector county. Ector operations are scheduled to start in March.

Thirty employees of the company moved to Odessa last week, and materials are being shipped in for operations in the Fullman Petroleum company area in Andrews county and the Superior Oil company in Ector county. The company has completed more than 50 wells in East Texas for Superior, the News-Times says.

Stanton Rancher Orders Wolf Bait

A check came from Stanton Tuesday for 1,500 coyote baits. Earl Powell, sheep and cattleman of Marshall county, is joining in the poison campaign.

Eddie B. Ligon, government predatory animal control worker, has ordered 20,000 baits to be delivered by Midland next Tuesday, and any rancher or farmer who wants any of these baits is expected to order them this week.

EX-BAYLOR GRID CAPTAIN KILLED

WACO, Jan. 16. (UP).—Charles K. Taylor, Waco, ex-captain of a Baylor university football team and coach of the Hillsboro high school eleven until the close of the 1932 season, was killed in an automobile-truck collision.

Taylor was riding in a bakery truck with Douglas Pitts when it collided with a passenger car driver by Earle de Graffenreid, New York. Mrs. B. J. de Graffenreid of Waco was seriously injured.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (UP).—The house began a debate on the loan bond guarantee bill. Majority leaders are hopeful for passage of the administration measure before adjournment.

Brevities

Sixty-five attended the quarterly Sunday school faculty banquet at the Baptist church annex Monday night.

Speakers were W. W. Lackey, Jim Kendrick, H. G. Bedford, W. H. Pratt, and the Rev. Winston P. Borum. J. C. Hudman read a report of work done in 1933, and Claud O. Crone made a brief report.

Charles Borum, brother of the Baptist pastor, sang.

Refreshments were served by Martha Louise Nobles, Willie Marie Coffey, Eula Mae Caffery, Imogene Hale, Thelma Cooper, Imogene Helen and Annie Faye Dunagan.

Golfers will meet at country club at 7 o'clock this evening to elect the Midland director of the Sand Belt Golf association, and a team captain.

Probably 75 per cent of farmers seeking pink boll worm remuneration are either receiving direct relief or are engaged in civil works program. Payment of the pink boll worm money would take many of these off the charity list.

It has been customary for the U. S. government to join state governments in paying the cost of quarantine when enter-state movements were concerned.

These farmers obeyed the quarantine not to protect themselves, because entomologists say the pink boll worm probably never would do any harm in West Texas, but to protect the rest of the cotton growing South.

This organization might pile arguments up interminably, but these are the salient points in seeking federal appropriation to help pay the farmers, not in bounty or a gift, but to pay them a debt that the State of Texas and the U. S. government owe them.

750 ATTEND STYLE SHOW GIVEN BY CLOTHING DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL

A style show presented by the clothing department taught by Miss Kathleen Mullino, drew about 750 visitors to the high school this morning, exclusive of 700 students from the two high schools.

Dresses exhibited were made by the girls who wore them. In a brief program, Dr. John B. Thomas, Mrs. J. D. Young and Mrs. Bob Preston spoke.

Modeling children's garments were: Patsy Arrington, Mr. D. Cox Jr., Nina Marie Mitchell, Cora Ann Mason, Betty Lee Hayes, Dorothy Fay Brown, Willie Mae Riddle, Virginia Ann Dunagan, Robbie Jean Gregory, Billy Frances Prothro, and Lillian Faye Manning.

MA TO PARDON ARTHUR FULTON

Conditional pardon for Arthur Fulton of Midland was announced from Austin this morning by the United Press.

Fulton, along with Monroe Routen, Donald Sessions and "Rattle-snake" Azell, was sentenced following conviction on charges of robbing the safe of off Silver Grill cafe here in 1929. Fulton's penalty was set at nine years.

Sixteen hundred dollars and a $500 diamond were in the safe and were never recovered. The safe was found by a Mexican months later in a pasture southeast of Midland, the door blown off, but nothing but non-negotiable papers left in it.

HUEY LONG MEN ARRESTED TODAY

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 16. (UP).—Eleven men were charged with violating the temporary restraining order enjoining a registrar from soliciting names of registrars on rolls, after a raid on the office of a registrar here today.

The men included Registrar of Voters C. S. Barnes and representatives of Senator Huey Long's organization.

Habes corpus writs obtained their release soon afterward.

Women Win Right To Vote but Are Slow to Qualify

Fewer than 150 Midland county women have paid their poll taxes, a recent check-up shows.

It took centuries of effort to get votes for the women, and now many of them are forgetting the long hard fight and won't be able to use the ballot this year unless they pay their poll taxes by Jan. 31.

A propaganda campaign being carried on by the Midland Rotary club to induce poll tax payments applies to women as well as men. The Rotary club has no ax to grind, is 100 per cent out of politics and has no candidates to reward, nor any to punish, but is interested in good citizenship and holds that the highest type of citizenship in a democracy can only be realized when people vote.

Little Theatre Player Injured In Stage Drama

MONAHANS, (AP).—What was once considered an inviolate tradition of the stage was amended here when an actor was injured and a doctor turned "thumbs down" on the old axiom "The play must go on."

"Train checks" were issued, and the audience returned the following week to see the drama.

Too much realism was blamed for the accident, which severed the ligaments of R. E. Browning's left hand. Playing the role of an Alaskan army officer in a Rex Beach play, he met the villain's gun play with a paralyzing swing upon the arm with a convenient bottle from the bar—with the result the bottle shattered and so injured his left hand a doctor required four hours to rejoin the ligaments.

Browning played with the Midland little theatre before associating himself with a Monahans oil company. While he was playing in a Midland production directed by Mrs. George T. Abell, he saw two accidents in one night. Sam Warren, foreman of the composing room for The Reporter-Telegram, was shot in the foot with a soap bullet, with such force that he was unable to go on for a few moments, and Sam K. Wasaf, playing a villain's role, held to a knife when he fell on the stage and badly cut his hand.

CONFIDENCE VOTE GIVEN WESTBROOK

AUSTIN, Jan. 16. (UP).—The relief commission today passed a resolution endorsing Director Westbrook and department heads of the relief administration.

The vote followed a statement in commission meeting regarding rumors of a movement in West Texas to have Westbrook supplanted by D. A. Bandett, Stamford, manager of the West Texas chamber of commerce.

Meat Cannery for Mitchell Co. Asked

COLORADO (AP).—Two hundred Mitchell county residents have signed a petition to get a relief cannery for this county, to be operated according to Plan 1, which entails relief funds furnishing equipment and labor, and the producer furnishing the products, with the relief organization receiving half of the canned vegetable products and 35 per cent of the meat products, the producer receiving half of the vegetables and 65 per cent of the meats.

Ben Baskin, county farm agent, and Miss Emma Gunter, home agent, are assisting in the campaign.

CLARK TO DEFEND TITLE AT SANTONE

By BILL PARGER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Clarence Clark, the husky Bloomfield, N. J., professional who won the 1933 Texas Open with a card of 144-143-287, is expected to defend his title February 8-9-10-11, at San Antonio. After a year's lapse the Texas Open will be revived and if Clark successfully defends his crown he will be the second repeater in the tournament's 11-year history.

William Mehlnorn, who again is in competition after a two-years rest, won the Texas Open titles in 1923 and 1929. Mehlnorn favored the San Antonio Brackemridge Park course over others and could always shoot his best shots while playing in the Alamo City.

The record of Texas Open champions follows:
1922—Bob McDougal.
1923—Walter Hagen.

Gene Sarazen, ranked by many critics as America's leading professional, has never won the Texas Open although he has competed in most of the San Antonio tournaments. In 1933, Sarazen finished in a second place tie with Gus Moreland, Texas amateur champion. Both had cards of 288—one stroke behind Clark.

COOPER FAILS
Another who has never won but has competed in most of the Texas Opens is Harry Cooper, the only Texas professional who has captured the rich Los Angeles Open and other major tournaments. Cooper has long nursed a desire to win the Texas Open. He had a good chance in 1932 but let it slip away when he three-putted two consecutive greens. He has announced his intentions of again trying for the Texas Open title.

Harry has always found it difficult to win a tournament or an exhibition match in Texas. While he was living in the Lone Star State he could never beat Jack Burke of Houston for the Texas P. G. A. title. Regardless of whether he wins or loses "Lighthorse Harry" always has a gallery because he is one of the most daring shot-makers in the professional ranks.

Junior College for Goose Creek Asked

GOOSE CREEK (UP)—Establishment of a junior college here will be sought at the state board of education meeting in Austin January 29.

Petitions signed by 284 residents of the independent Goose Creek school district asked that the junior college district be created and that an election be called to vote a tenth of a mill levy (10 cents on $100) to maintain the college for the first year. Valuations of the district are estimated at $22,298,508.

Sponsors of the movement for the college believe a $25,000 will be enough to purchase needed equipment and pay operation costs the first year. Tuitions from students outside the district would supplement the revenue from taxation.

Many people in the district seek post-graduate at the high school but are denied entrance because of crowded conditions. It was set out in the petitions. Plans are to hold the junior college classes in the high school building after regular school hours.

Stafford Fails at Law at West Point

HOUSTON, Jan. 16 (UP)—Harrison Stafford, all-southwest conference halfback in 1930 at the University of Texas, is on his way back home after failing to make the scholastic standing at West Point, according to R. W. Franklin of Houston.

Stafford, dropped because of law grades, lives at Wharton, Tex. He plans to re-enter the University of Texas, Franklin said.

You Figure Profit In This Oil Deal

CONROE (UP)—Humble Oil and Refining company, paid out $365,000 to kill the crater well of the Conroe oil field, a high official of the company estimated, to save oil valued at approximately $300,000,000.

Humble gave Jim Abercrombie and Dan Harrison, Houston independent operators, $300,000 for the privilege of attempting to shut off the uncontrolled flow of their "ruined" Alexander No. 1 well. Drilling a relief well through which water was pumped into the oil sand to stop the crater well's flow cost $32,000. Safety measures cost $10,000, and H. John Eastman, California driller who diverted the relief well diagonally to the bottom of the crater well, was paid a $3,000 fee.

A company geologist feared the 600,000,000 barrel reserve in the field would be ruined by the crater well but that half of it had been saved by shutting-in of the Alexander No. 1. With oil at $1.11 a barrel the computed saving of the field is $300,000,000.

The ruined well brought its owners about $1,500,000 in oil which bubbled over the crater's rim, and the fee paid by Humble to kill it.

Victoria May Get New College Plant

VICTORIA (UP)—Founding of the Owens Welder Memorial college here is planned with a $35,000 gift, by the heirs of the late James F. Welder to St. Joseph's high school, formerly St. Joseph's college.

Plans are to augment the donation by sale of the old school building and property and to build a new $100,000 institution on a 12-acre tract owned by the Sisters of Nazareth academy.

Announcement of the gift was made recently by Rev. Arthur J. Dressaers, archbishop at San Antonio.

Terms of the donation were that the name of the school should be changed to the Owens Welder Memorial college in honor of Mrs. James F. Welder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Owens, early residents of Victoria. Her husband was a prominent ranchman here before his death several years ago.

Nothing Mysterious But the Name Now

Son-of-a-gun, the name of which when used in the legislative halls made Odessa famous, and a listing of the ingredients of which would require not only a butcher, but a polyslot, will cease to be an infrequent delicacy in this area of West Texas.

Heretofore, the tasty stew was served only on roundups and at other large gatherings; now it will appear daily on the tables of the ordinary family.

Miss Myrtle Miller, home demonstration agent of Midland and Martin counties, learned the recipe and straightway began supervising the canning of the "West Texas dish."

Several pantries have been stocked to the highest shelves with son-of-a-gun and other canned meats.

Ham-Curing Test Staged at Lubbock

LUBBOCK (UP)—One of the two ham curing experiments in Texas is under way at the state experiment sub-station where more than 300 pounds of ham and 220 pounds of bacon are being used. This is the third annual curing and storage experiment conducted by Don L. Jones, superintendent.

Ten hogs weighing alive 2,565 pounds, were killed by Roy Snyder, meat specialist at College Station, Victoria. Her husband was a prominent ranchman here before his death several years ago.

Hams will be cured for one and a half, two, two and a half and three days, per pound. The bacon will be cured for one and for one and a half days.

After being smoked the hams and bacon will be stored in a test on four different methods, namely, yellow-wash as recommended by the U. S. department of agriculture, lime, lard and refined cottonseed oil.

There are at the station now some hams, shoulders and a bacon that have been in a lime cure for over 11 months. These were cured following the killing last January.

Grady's Publicity Given Recognition

Publicity written by Hal Grady, manager of the Yuca theatre of Midland, on a recent picture, "Only Yesterday," is being held up by a film booking company as the best exploitation in several states, and various Oklahoma newspapers are using copies of it in their picture "traders."

A copy of the story written by Grady appears in the Evening News of Ada, listed as "Comments as carried in The Midland (Tex.) Reporter-Telegram" and gives special mention to Grady's picture of Margaret Sullivan for one of the greatest stars of the future.

Houston Cleans up In Night Football

HOUSTON (UP)—Night football has played high school athletics but on the favorable side of the ledger, Superintendent of Schools E. L. Oberholzer said in a report to the board of trustees.

Approximately $6,000 was left in the athletic fund after expenses and some debt had been paid, his report showed. He credited night football games with the increased revenue.

The trustees voted to continue nocturnal playing next season.
