ANGELO BANDITS GET $7,500

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

THOSE candidates, or others, who have been fearful there will not be enough voters for the crowd Saturday night when election returns from all county boxes, as well as other counties and the entire state, are dated and broadcast by The Herald may stop worrying.

Heretofore a board has been erected on the courthouse lawn for posting returns from the county boxes. Grover Cunningham, the county Democratic chairman, heretofore has been banded with announcing the returns. Since returns must be obtained by the paper anyway, for publication, and the Texas Election Bureau leased wire will, of course, be located in the Herald office, it was deemed inadvisable and wasteful to duplicate things. So The Herald, after conferring with Mr. Cunningham, announced not only the returns on important races from other counties, and the state totals at 20-minute intervals, will be given the crowd on West First between Main and Seary, but the returns from the county boxes also will be given them.

There will be plenty of room. The freight yard of the T & P across the street may be used. Several thousand persons may be accommodated.

Perhaps the last speech of the campaign in Big Spring for a candidate for governor will be that of Tuesday, 7:30 p. m., at the court house, by Harry G. Knowles of Houston, for Ross Sterling. He is heralded as a fine speaker.

Good news comes from the owners of the Settles hotel. The building is finished above the second floor with the exception of putting in some of the hardware. Carpets already have arrived and everything will be ready for formal opening about September 1.

This should be made a real red-letter event. It will be advertised far and wide.

Settles Hotel Nearly Finished; Carpets Arrive

With all floors above the second finished except for putting in some hardware, and carpets for those floors already received, preparations for the opening of the 16-story Settles hotel at West Third and Hannels streets were to get underway in earnest this week, according to M. L. Tinsley, business representative of M. and Mrs. W. R. Settles.

Mr. Tinsley said furniture for guest rooms and other rooms above the mezzanine floor has long since been bought and will arrive in plenty of time to be installed for the formal opening, which has been tentatively scheduled for September 1.

Beauty Parlor Attendant Hurt

Ruth Edwards McDowell, of the Crawford Hotel Beauty Shop, was injured at noon today when a screen fell on her after she had been shocked by an electrical current from a short circuit in a hair-drying machine.

She is in the Big Spring Hospital with a slight fracture of the skull, where the machine struck her head, said hospital attendants. She is only slightly injured. She was taken to the hospital in an Eberley ambulance.

According to Mrs. Ada Brown, manager of the shop, the operator touched the machine when her hands were damp. As the current passed through her body she fell, a screen falling on her.

A prisoner escaped and one attempted to escape from Sheriff Newt McCleskey, Gaines county, at 11 o'clock today just as he turned east on West First street off Gregg.

Sheriff McCleskey was enroute to Eastland with the men, where they are wanted on a car theft charge.

As the car they were riding in passed over the viaduct, one of the men jumped out of the car and fled. The other attempted to but was caught by the sheriff.

In some manner the man had loosened the handcuffs with which the two men were locked together.

J. CANNON IS MARRIED IN LONDON

Methodist Bishop Surprises His Friends

LONDON, July 21 (AP)—Bishop James Cannon Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, was married at Christ Church, Mayfair, last Tuesday afternoon, to Mrs. McCallum. It was made known today.

The Reverend Dr. Ferram was the officiating clergyman.

None but a few intimate friends knew of the wedding at the time.

Bishop Cannon and his bride are now en route to Brazil by way of Madeira.

Bishop and Mrs. Cannon were married by a special license issued at the faculty office.

The bride's name was given as Helen Hawley McCallum, widow of 210 East 68th street, New York.

A friend of the bishop, Sir Henry Lunn, editor of the Review of the Church was instrumental in obtaining through the archbishop of Canterbury the special license required for the wedding.

Mrs. McCallum was reported to have been Bishop Cannon's secretary for about a year, she came over with him recently and stayed at the home of Sir Henry and Lady Lunn.

Mrs. McCallum, who had not been well, had planned to rest in England until the bishop's return from South America when the couple expected to be married.

It was decided after reaching London that the sea trip to South America would do her good and hurried plans were made for their marriage.

The bride was said to be between 40 and 45 years old.

CLAIMS OF VOTES NOW ARE MADE

Mrs. Ferguson Spikes Report She's Ill; "Will Win"

(By The Associated Press)

Who will be in the gubernatorial run-off after next Saturday's democratic primary election?

Jim Young of Kaufman, and his partisans predicted he would have Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson as an opponent, expressing confidence Young would be high man.

Earle B. Mayfield was equally confident he would have "better than 200,000 votes in my favor" and that "Mrs. Ferguson appears to be the closest candidate at the present time, behind me." He made his 125th speech of the campaign in a radio address at Fort Worth.

Mrs. Ferguson indignantly reports Saturday that she was ill and would Saturday to abandon speaking.

Not ill

"I am not ill and I've got this election won," she said. She planned to be back on the stump this week.

Clint C. Small of Wellington spent Sunday at his Fort Worth headquarters and planned to take up his campaign again today with a speech at Jacksonville at 2 p. m., and another at Dallas at 8 p. m.

Barry Miller, equally confident, issued a statement from his Dallas headquarters enumerating his estimates of strength in various quarters of the state as basis for the prediction he would certainly be in the run-off.

He planned to speak at 2 p. m. today at Waxahachie and 8 p. m. at Fort Worth.

The Fergusons were booked to speak at 2 p. m. at Athens and 8 p. m. at Corsicana.

Ross Sterling of Houston expected today to swing into Southwest Texas, speaking at 10:30 a. m., at Schwerter, 1 p. m. at Granger, 2:30 p. m. at Taylor and San Antonio, at 8 p. m.

From the Alamo City he expected to swing south to the Rio Grande Valley for a speech at Harlingen and another Tuesday night at Corpus Christi.

CHIHUAHUA BALLOTING IS RIOTOUS

EL PASO, Tex., July 21 (AP)—A virtual state of martial law was maintained in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, today to prevent recurrence of sanguinary rioting which accompanied the state election in Juarez yesterday.

Two men were slain, five were stabbed and a policeman was injured seriously before order was restored. A mob of 700 in which women were conspicuous engaged in hand to hand fighting in one Juarez precinct.

Sweetwater Woman Lucky She Took Advice

TRIED ARGOTANE WITH REMARKABLE RESULTS.

"I am now seventy years of age but since taking Argotane I don't feel that old by a good many years," said Mrs. V. R. Horn, Sweetwater, Texas, recently.

"I feel it my duty," she continued, "to tell all the suffering people I can about what Argotane has done for me. About ten years ago I lost my appetite, and my stomach went back on me and I would have indignation after every meal almost. What I ate seemed to sour almost as soon as I would eat it, and caused a slight case of indigestion. I was in a general run down, weak condition and my whole nervous system seemed to go to pieces and any more out of the ordinary would almost make me jump with fright.

"I had taken a great many different things and still suffered but lucky for me, I began reading about so many people being benefited so much from the use of Argotane that I decided to give it a trial. By the time I had taken it a week or so I noticed the indigestion pains were disappearing and this much relief made me feel very hopeful. I kept on with the treatment and my appetite has come back to me, and when I go to my meals now I enjoy every mouthful and can eat anything I want without suffering the least bit from it. My nerves are much better and stronger in every way have had more strength and vitality every day. I keep on Argotane. It is a pleasure for me to tell you about this medicine."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Big Spring at the Collins Bros. Drug Co.—adv.

THOMASON IN WINKLER

WINK, Texas, July 21.—In addition to favoring restricted immigration, I am also for a reorganization of the federal employment service so as to connect the jobless man with the manless job. Mayor R. E. Thomason of El Paso told the voters of Winkler county Saturday, in his campaign for congress.

"Many thousands are now out of employment.

"The government should have a program to stabilize the labor of the country. Such a program was started during the past session of congress, when Rep. Wagner, a New York democrat, introduced a series of three bills looking to that end. But only one of the Wagner bills—that for collecting labor statistics—was passed and no money was appropriated to put it into immediate effect. The program should be completed, so that the federal labor bureau, in cooperation with state exchanges, could place unemployed men on jobs and help employers in need of labor with men.

"Public works such as highways, rivers and harbors, public buildings, flood control and irrigation projects, should be accelerated during times of business depression.

"I am against yellow dog contracts.

"I am for limiting the authority of federal courts to grant injunctions in labor disputes.

"I am for human rights as well as property rights.

"I am the friend of organized labor and my record in public office will attest it.

"I am for high wages and decent living conditions. Cheap labor never made a country or built any cities."

Reverting to his reference to immigration restriction, the El Paso candidate said that "as mayor of a border city of more than one hundred thousand people, I have been in a position to know what a burden the alien has placed upon our schools, hospitals, charities, jails and courts. I am going to do everything in my power, if elected to congress, to help pass a law to make restriction of Mexican immigration a permanent policy.

"As a member of the state legislature, I was author of the law requiring every voter to make out his own ballot and at a later session I helped amend it so as to require voters to be American citizens. This eliminated several thousand illiterate Mexican voters in Texas and helped to destroy corrupt politics in border counties.

"As mayor of El Paso, I approved an ordinance that no contractor can do public work for the city who does not work American citizens exclusively."

Thomason Saturday repeated his approval of a tariff on such West Texas products as crude oil, wool, sheep, goats and cattle. He insisted that railway freight schedules must be revised to eliminate the discriminatory differentials that hit directly at West Texas shipping and promised that he will work persistently for the development of West Texas communities, in no matter what part of his district a demand arises.

Thomason was scheduled to speak at a public meeting here Saturday night. Sunday, he will return home to devote the last week of his campaign to El Paso county, closing Thursday night with a great rally in his home city.

REGIONAL POULTRY SHOW IS ORGANIZED AT SLATON

SLATON, Texas, July 21.—A regional poultry show for the Texas Panhandle-Plains section, including 54 counties, was definitely assured Thursday when 50 poultrymen, county agents and chamber of commerce leaders attended a luncheon here as guests of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce and organized the Texas Panhandle-Plains Poultry Show association.

Slaton was selected as the regional show's permanent home, and the show will be held here each year. Temporary officers of the association were named as follows: L. A. Wilson, Slaton, chairman; Wm. A. Wilson, Lamesa, secretary; and D. F. Eaton, Lubbock, chairman of the committee to draft the permanent organization plans.

Six others will be appointed by the temporary chairman to aid Mr. Eaton in outlining the organization's structure.

Sentiment expressed here at Thursday's meeting indicated a likelihood that the first show will be held next December, probably using the dates that had been set for holding the local poultry show, Dec. 4, 5 and 6.

Fourteen towns and cities of the Panhandle-Plains area were represented at the meeting here Thursday. They are: Lubbock, Amarillo, Falls, Post, Lamesa, Brownfield, Littlefield, Lovelock, Tahoka, Spur, Rotan, Shamwater, Meadow and Slaton.

The following counties are included in the regional show's territory: Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingworth, Farmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Hall, Childress, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell and Nolan.

Thirty of these 54 counties have already pledged their active support and unflinching loyalty to the regional show, co-operating in its development and steady improvement in the interest of a better poultry industry throughout the Panhandle-Plains section which it will serve. It is expected that the other counties will soon announce their support of the plan.

Action by the meeting held here Thursday was unanimous and enthusiastic, and predictions were freely made that the regional poultry show will become the outstanding event of its kind in Texas.

Houston Man Dies After Explosion

SAN ANTONIO, July 21 (AP)—Hurled half way through a closed window and burned fatally when a locked gas-filled room, exploded into a raging holocaust Sunday at the Grand Courts tourist hotel, Brooks Smith, Jr., 42, of Houston, died early today at a hospital here.

The man died after lapsing into unconsciousness which followed a brief period of consciousness immediately after the explosion. He was unable to talk rationally before he became unconscious.

The explosion, which shook the entire building, and was heard a mile away, brought other occupants of the hotel to Smith's room. They found the door locked, and J. B. Jennings, V. Muhl and G. Muhl

These indignant citizens declared that tourists and intercity traveling the local motorists off the road, abused the tourist camp privileges and raced through the towns at has its disadvantages, as the state-would indicate.

He began to see that it might not be so much fun after all.

"As a matter of fact," he stammered, "it's your dress from Mrs.
Jerome's shop."
Gwendolyn's face flushed with anger.
She snatched the package from him, held up the crumpled, torn, mud-splashed remains of what once had been an expensive evening frook of pale green taffeta.
She started at the dress in dismay, then looked up at a red-faced Tony.
"Tony, what's the meaning of this outrage, anyway?" she demanded. The tone of her voice should have warned him.
"W-why, I-I just dropped in at the shop and Mary Lou asked me to bring the dress around to you..."
At that remark Gwendolyn flew into a rage.
"I've never heard of anything so low, so rottenly mean. You think you're making a fool of me, don't you, Tony Titherington? You and Mary Lou. Don't think I can't see through this trick. It's a put-up job between you two to make me feel small. If you ever so much as dare to show your face at this house again I'll..."
Here Gwendolyn's imagination tailed her. She flung the rag of a dress in his face, and slammed the door.
"Whew!" Tony ejaculated, a moment later. "I seem to have torn it, and no mistake. Oh, damn this dress..."
Seeing a dust bin handy, he threw the dress into it, slammed down the lid with a gesture of disgust and stalked off to get some lunch.

He wondered if Mary Lou had known what would happen when he delivered the dress to Gwendolyn.
Or had it been entirely his fault for getting the dress into such a mess?
If she supposed it was, but it was too late now for regrets.

WESTBROOK BOWS TO BIG SPRING CONTINGENT

Just another gentle splash for the Big Spring ball shoggers. Westbrook came and departed, leaving sixty percent of the gain in this city beautiful.

Richardson Refinery Twirler Has 'Em Eating

After trailing behind a one run lead for four frames, Big Spring All-Stars climbed aboard the band wagon in the fifth, nicked LeRoy Gressett for five hits and two runs to take the lead, and finished up the fray by gleaming three runs off the offerings of Lewis, to cop a 6 and 2 tilt from Westbrook Sunday afternoon.

Connelly, Richardson Refinery twirler, kept the Westbrook sticks whiffing the sweet breeze during the afternoon, limiting the hits to six, and striking out ten of the Dusty D. overall gate.

City League schedule, by the way and so forth, will take on a different aspect at the end of this week. The Barbers will be way out, or else way down. They meet Osdens and Richardson. Should they cop the two they will have a seat grip on the league flagpole.

Texas League solons look with wrinkled brows upon the success, inasmuch, of the Waco Cubs. As Jayle Talbot, Jr. puts it, "Whereas the monthly Cub payroll is only slightly over $6,000, there are several outfits in the Gardner circuit putting out twice that much in salaries alone. They are losing money and the Prattmen are making money, a most important distinction." So it is. Primarily ball club owners crave the jack. Waco has turned long years ago that if they get at their eggs in the agit receipt book that that would be hatched could be a bunch of ducklings.

Sam Brown took one on the bean the ball garden Sunday. The all went from Lewis' hands, once north to Brown's head, once northeast over the fence, another ball gone astray.

Leo Brady the Abilene netter popped over here and copped the nnie tounery. Ray Brown, the Big Spring hope, was vanquished by an Abilene representative. Few people saw the matches. Probably much support was given those deavoring to promote the tournament as is given various other arms of athletics in this section of d.

SINGER WINS TITLE BY KNOCKOUT IN FIRST ROUND

CLEVELAND DEFEATS YANKS

Associated Press Sports Writer Eddie Morgan of Cleveland won a game by a home run in the ninth yesterday. He slammed his 18th circuit blow of the season with one out and one on base to defeat the New York Yankees, 9 to 8, and to undo the work of those more famous home run hitters, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig. Ruth poled his 34th homer off Milburn Shoffner, a perennial victim of the Ruthian drives, in the fourth inning. Gehrig hit his 26th a moment later and another in the next inning. Bill Falk gave Morgan something of a race for the place in the spotlight by hitting for the circuit when he appeared as a pinch batsman in the sixth.

Jimmy Fox also had the satisfaction of winning a ball game by the home run route. Fox connected with Guy Cantrell's delivery for No. 26 with one mabe on base in the eighth and enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to defeat the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 3. Other results of this homer were to give Lefty Grove his 13th victory of the year, and Cantrell his first American League defeat the day after the Tigers acquired him from Toronto, and to put the Athletics four games ahead of the Washington Senators, defeated at St. Louis.

The Senators produced a pinch homer by Joe Judge in the ninth inning followed by a similar clout by Art Shires, who supplanted Judge at first base, but they only produced three runs, not enough to overcome the St. Louis lead and the Browns won, 8 to 6.

To complete the American League's cycle, Bob Reeves of Boston hit a homer with two on base in his one time at bat in the Red Sox second game but it only served to prolong the agony. Chicago's White Sox pulled out a 5 to 4 victory in the ninth inning of the second game after pounding out a 16 to 4 decision in the opener as Ted Lyons scored his 14th victory of the season.

The National League produced no least minute homers, but there were plenty of them and an even more plentiful supply of hits as Brooklyn and Chicago suffered sharp let-downs after the finish of their crucial series. The St. Louis Cardinals handed the league leaders a 15 to 8 trouncing, driving Bill Clark from the mound with seven runs in the second inning. The Cards made five errors but atoned for them by pounding out 17 hits, two of them homers.

Chicago went down with hardy a murmur under the assaults of the New York Giants, who likewise made 17 blows and won by a 13 to 5 count. The Cubs led only in the first two innings, when they scored four of their runs. Hack Wilson hit his 26th home run of the year as the final Cub gesture of the game. The result of these two games put Chicago one point closer to Brooklyn and left the teams in their virtual tie for first place.

Boston and Cincinnati, battling for sixth place, failed to reach a decision in their attempts to break the current tie. The Reds won the first game 5 to 3 with a home run barrage behind the effective pitching of Red Lucas but Boston reversed the result in the second, pounding three pitchers for a 13 to 1 triumph as Tom Zachary held the Reds.

FERGUSON GAINS HERE

Small May Rank Second; Sterling Stronger

Though stacked out beyond tiers and tiers of counties in Texas checked piece-quilt of 'spanish domain, and not located in what politicians know as the popular black land district, where you've got to get votes if you're elected, interest in the race for the Democratic nomination for governor was no less tense in Howard county one week before election time, than in any other part of the state.

The gains that obviously have been made in other sections during the past week for Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson have had a parallel in Howard county.

All indications were that the Fergusons would run true to form and keep intact their record of never having failed to lead the ticket in Howard county. Most observers were quite certain that Ferguson would top the field of eleven—seven of them active candidates. In the rural district sixty per cent of the votes will be for "Ma," one man predicted.

Within the city of Big Spring the voting will be pretty well checked, it appeared. Clint Small was seen by many as the leading candidate for the four local boxes. Ferguson's strength in the city will be far from negligible, while Thomas B. Love, Earle Mayfield and Barry Miller were expected to be found running pretty evenly.

this county it will be Barry Miller, according to all indications. Here has some personal friends here who have worked for him, although they concede he hasn't much of a chance of getting into the run-off. There are a number of persons bound to him by fraternal ties and, finally, he is known to have considerable support in the ranks of organized labor.

The attorney general's race also has been brought before the people of this county with the pleas of the candidates for nomination for the county and precinct offices, many of whom are unopposed.

Attorney General Clyde E. Thomas has been the principal proponent, publicly, of the candidacy of Attorney General Robert Lee Bobbitt for his first elective term, while the cause of Cecil Storey of Vernon has been espoused by C. P. Rogers. Both speakers are local attorneys.

The tax collector's race, in which six men, all well known in the county, are waging a fight on an exceedingly high plane, is practically the only point of interest in county politics. There are contests for county judge, county attorney and county superintendent and county treasurer as well as for each of the county commissioner's post with the exception of that for Precinct No. 4, represented by W. B. Speed. Two are candidates for justice of the peace, precinct 1, and three for constable of precinct 1.

CANZONERI, BASS TO CLASH

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP)—Benny Bass of Philadelphia and Tony Canzoneri of New York occupy the place of honor in national boxing this week. They clash in a ten-round bout at Philadelphia tonight.

Canzoneri has lost one of the most average 15-round battles Madison Square Garden has ever seen a little more than two years ago. Bass at that time was recognized as featherweight champion by the National Boxing Association while Canzoneri was recognized by the New York State Athletic Commission. Tony won the decision after 15 rounds of the bitter kind of fighting. Since then Bass has won a title and Canzoneri has lost one. Bass holds the junior welterweight title in states where that division is recognized. Canzoneri has been campaigning as a lightweight since he lost his featherweight crown to Andre Rousty who subsequently passed it on to Bat Battalino.

Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, offers an attraction Wednesday night. Panama Al Brown, generally recognized bantamweight champion, meets Domenico Bernasconi of Italy in the 10-round headliner.

AMERICANS TO MEET FRANCE

AUTEUIL, France, July 21 (AP)—America's Davis Cup tennis team once more has gained the Davis Cup challenge round and will meet France for the historic trophy on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The youngsters from across the Atlantic cleared the last hurdle when they eliminated Italy in the interzone finals and with Big Bill Tilden once more making a dramatic entrance upon the scene, look forward confidently to the challenge round.

The outlook at present is for Tilden and George Lott to handle the singles assignments against Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra with John Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison pairing in doubles against a French team that may be composed of Jacques Brugnon and Christian Bessus. The French have indicated they have little hope of winning the doubles and prefer to save Cochet and Borotra for singles duty alone.

SPUD LEAD DOWN TO PAIR

BY GAYLE TALBOT JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

Emerging from a wild week-end in which they found themselves scrapped to a standstill by the rejuvenated Dallas Steers, the loopy-leading Wichita Falls clan discovered today that the advantage over the field had been whittled down to a pair of games and that they faced a long, arduous road trip through the southern provinces.

Although it is far too early to predict that the "Brownies"—which Commissioner Landis would insist in his proper appellation—are not to win the second half, the fact remains they are finding it double tough to regain the long lead they enjoyed when the season was split.

In Sunday's double bill at the oil city, the Steers baited thirteen rounds to win the opener, 13-6-12, and then held the Spuds to a 5-5 deadlock in the night cap, halted by darkness. Only a three run rally in the last of the seventh saved the leaders from a double loss.

The day was costly one for the Mavericks, Catcher Tobin receiving a severe spike wound that will keep him out for at least a week and Old Governor Alexander, appearing as a relief fliker in the first tilt, wrenching a knee that sent him hobbling to the bench. Milt Steafank, who had won five straight games for the Spuds, was batted from the hill in the opener, in which five pitchers toiled for the Steers.

Both the Fort Worth Cats and Waco Cubs seized the opportunity to win and close in on the first-half champs, the Cats taking their opener at Shreveport, 4 to 2, and the Prattman starting their home stand with a 7 to 6 victory over Houston. The Cubs, opening an extended engagement under their own aegis, will have a grand opportunity to tag the Spuds during the present week.

Home: by Les Mallon and Dick Whitworth in the closing innings gave the Panthers their decision at Shreveport. Oscar Tuero held the invaders scoreless for six innings, but weakened toward the last and was charged with his second straight loss. Whitworth limited the Spuds to six hits, three of them by McClanahan.

Del Pratt resurrected the old squeeze play to give his Cubs the jump on Houston. With the score tied in the last of the eighth, one out and the bases jammed, Del bunted and put the winning run across. The Buffs, with 16 hits off Stein and Thurman, roundly outdid the homebats, but a brace of homers by Gene Rye kept the Cubs in the game.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Rector of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Will you kindly write something on "What is a wife's loyalty to her husband?"

There is still no small remnant left of men who would interpret loyalty to one's husband to mean that the wife shall reflect the mind and heart of her husband. Especially in this time of republicanism and religion. They feel that for the wife to be true to her own convictions in these matters reflects on them socially and in their business careers.

The new freedom the last decade has brought to women has also brought new responsibilities. She can no longer comfortably sit back and say: "John has a mind of his own, so I don't need any."

Mutual interdependence and loyalty form the keystone of the marriage arch. So constructed it will carry domestic life across every gulf of difference and connect it with greater happiness ahead. The idea is explored that the wife shines in her husband's light, if she shines at all. The shot fired in Serbia in 1914 summoned men to war as their ancient occupation, and women to every other task beneath the sun.

Woman has never been the fond parasite some deluded writers depict. She has always exercised tremendous influence both for good and evil. When her native energies were repressed in one direction, she usually found a vent for them elsewhere. In our time her skill in manifold vocations has been demonstrated to such an extent that British parliamentarians bitterly complain of her usurpations in the economic realm.

The extension of the franchise in this and other countries to women incurs additional responsibility without the handicap of traditional embarrassments. The wife who allows John to think for her is as remiss as the husband who allows Mary to do his thinking for him.

Both masculine and feminine viewpoints are essential for the adequate transaction of private and public affairs. Husband and wife do not necessarily think alike because they think together. But they are better able to solve personal and national problems by thinking together. Wise couples will divide their labors of body and mind according to sexual aptitudes and qualifications. And they are far-sighted husbands and wives who spend their time discussing major issues, such as peace and war or child training. Instead of everlastingly gnawing on the meatless bones of little tattle, gossip, and chronic fault-finding.

Philadelphia, Pa.

I am thinking of going West since I find it hard to get on in the East. But I do not know much about the West. Can you tell me of any book which will help me to understand our people out there?

I am glad you ask for information about the people. It would have been easy to inquire concerning the trade situation, the chances of suitable employment, or the wage earning scale of various vocations and industries. But if the newcomer does not try to know those among whom he settles, he is handicapped from the start. Both Tarkington's book, "The Plutocrat," shows the Westerner from Omaha in his contact with the young high-brows of the Atlantic seaboard. Both types are basically American. Nevertheless there is a difference between "The Terrible Tinker" and his prospective son-in-law. The play founded upon the book emphasizes that difference. If you get an opportunity see that play. It will be more illuminating for you than the reading of many volumes. Yet you should read all you can put your hands on, and compare what they offer with newspaper and magazine articles on the subject. Subscribe to a couple of standard journals published in the Western locality you may have in mind, or the West is a term covering huge areas and diversified occupations. The States of Washington and Oregon alone are an empire in themselves.

A volume has recently appeared entitled "When the West Is Gone," by Professor Frederick L. Paxson, published by Henry Holt & Co., of New York. It is compact, modest in price and first rate in quality. The author traces the course of American expansion from the beginning until now. His survey, by quote "The New York Times" Book Review, "is scholarly, balanced and broad and the comments are thoughtful and . . . suggestive."

By all available means cultivate a sympathetic acquaintance with our vigorous and upstanding fellow citizens beyond the Mississippi. They are second to none in hospitality, generosity and kindness. They are also equally sure about themselves and their methods, sometimes an an extreme. Horace Greely's advice, "Go West, young man," may not be an unqualifiedly given as it was when uttered. But if accepted in the temper I suggest it still has fine possibilities in it.

Colorado 'Miss' Dusky, Takes Long Trip to Movie Show

Miss Lillie Booker did an "Ellen on the Ice" and landed in the Howard county jail. Lillie—Miss Lillie, she insisted—ran away from her Colorado home. Big Spring was her destination, but the red stone building isn't any place for a 15-year-old negress, so her papa came after her. "Where you been?" inquired the grey haired negro as Deputy D. Dunn ushered the girl out of jail. "I been to the picture show Friday night, and stayed out so long I was afraid to come home." "Then all I got to say is that you sure must have seen a big picture show."

Coolidge Prosperity Recipe Excites Will's Curoosity; Recalls Rockefeller Visits

Mr. Hoover gets the last laugh.

By WIL L. ROGERS
Well, all I know is just what I read in the papers. With Coolidge writing for the papers why we got a lot of new reading to do now. He had one in the other day that kind of jarred all of us, and made us wonder if he wasn't having a Ghost Writer do some of his stuff. It advised the working man to spend his money and buy everything that he could possibly afford, and in that way help out the whole world. Well, I don't know if that would put more money into circulation and make more jobs for those that had none. Now that is absolutely some against all the laws we have been brought up to, we have always been taught to save and put by every dollar that we could, and not buy anything unless we absolutely needed it and to spend no money for things that we could do without. Now all at once we are advised to everybody to start spending. It will help somebody else, imagine telling the working man to spend, that if he don't put his money into circulation why he won't have a job very long. That is what Mr. Coolidge said. Now that sounds so unlike him. Here is a man that the whole basis of his popularity is based on his economy and thrift, and all at once to help out a situation, why he says "Spend." So its hard to tell what to believe nowadays.
Speaking of Prosperity, which about all we are doing is repackaging of it. Why I read with great interest the other day the celebrating of the ninety some birthday of our general benefactor Mr. Rockefeller. It and it brought back many happy thoughts of my meeting with him every winter when I would play my little "talk dates" at Daytona Beach, Florida. He would always come to the Auditorium and bring all the people from his winter household servants and all. The three years I did that he was right there and he would not miss a single "tag." He was as keen and alert as any one in the audience and was always well versed on Topics as on Oil Gravity. He knew as much about the disarmament Conference as he did what the Dutch Shell were doing. I always had a few local jokes about him, and would go down off the "program" and shake hands with him and he would quietly ask me to come to his home on the following morning an olive breakfast with him, at eight o'clock. In fact after the first time I would not only give in the chance to ask me, but would encourage it. I would stand by his seat till he had to do something to get rid of me, so the exact thing would be to "Come have breakfast with us." Then after a fine breakfast, when he would give us all a dime each as he came down in the morning, we would go nearby to the Golf Course, and he would play eight holes. It took a pretty tough day that kept him away. The reason for the eight holes only was that the eighth hole was over by a back road where he could have his car meet him, and go direct home from that hole. I don't play the game. (Not even at three at night for money). But he made lots of holes in what you call Par. He was always straight down the course, not so terribly far but ON IT.
The old fellow looks like he is extremely happy and satisfied, and I think feels that he has been of some service to his Country as well as to the passing Mototist. He has not only filled the Country's tanks, but has filled many a diseased man with hope of a cure.
Then its the lesson he has been to other rich men. We all have a good deal of Sheep in us. If somebody does something, we are awful liable to jump over the same place he did. So its his lesson to other rich men, that had made them more liberal. Now we have hardly any great rich man that has not come from of Charity that he is extremely interested in. They know that to just be rich in this Country is no longer any novelty, its not the wealth they had that we remember, its what they did with it. Just last week the Prince of Wales made almost a prayer over the Radio that England might develop some one in

Bodies of Three Children Found

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., July 21 (AP)—The bodies of three children who apparently had been killed and then hurled into the waters of a quarry hole near here, were discovered by four boys today. The children were between the ages of 6 and 9 years old.
Two of the bodies were those of boys, the other that of a girl. All three apparently had been strangled by strips of cloth drawn tightly about their throats.
Residents of Martinsburg who viewed the bodies were unable to identify them, and, as no inquiries have been made of officials here, authorities assumed that the children were slain elsewhere, brought here by automobile, and hurled into the quarry hole, which borders on the state highway between Martinsburg and Charlestown. Physicians said the bodies had been in the water about eight hours.
Authorities believe the three children were all of the same family but beyond their sandy hair, there was no clue either to their relationship or their identity.
