POTASH MINING TO BEGIN SOON IN MIDLAND CO.

Shaft to Be Started April 10, Says Agress

Sinking of a shaft for potash mining in Midland county will start here about April 10, final announcements regarding which will be made in Midland likely Tuesday, according to Max Agress, vice president of the Texas Potash corporation.

A potash mining engineer, Allen P. Strahler, is on the ground now, Agress said.

The location for the shaft will be near the O. P. Jones No. 1 core hole, section 9, township 4, block 42, Midland county.

Decision to mine potash in the rich Midland county beds has not awaited lifting of the economic slump, but improved refining methods, Agress said.

Agress, well known potash authority, continued in his classroom manner to show the potash areas as a result of potash development, which in Midland county will supply the world, he said.

"I am very happy to inform you that the potash problem of the United States has been solved. It is only a question of a short time when our Midland deposit will supply America's need of potash. In this connection, it is gratifying to say that the American potash industry 'polyhalite' is the richest potash sulphate material in the world, and once its treatment is understood it produces a very high grade of potassium sulphate 54% (K2O) by a direct simple process."

"We also have the potassium chloride minerals, namely carnallite and sylvite, in mineable thickness, but we do not contemplate working these ores for the present, because these ores are the raw materials from which Germany and France are producing muriate of potash or chloride of potash and have built up an enormous industry with trade agencies and financial connections all over the world and compete with American producers of a like product from a like raw material. With sulphate of potash produced from the Texas mineral polyhalite no foreign producer will be able to compete. Polyhalite, the original and first potash mineral to crystallize from sea water, the richest potash sulphate raw material from which the products of potassium sulphate (K2SO4), magnesium sulphate (MgSO4) and calcium sulphate (CaSO4) are readily produced at a much lower cost than can be produced from the German mixed ores of Kalinite, Kainite, carnallite and sylvite."

"In the southwestern part of Midland county, the deepest portion occupied by the Permian basin, pure polyhalite (K2SO4, MgSO4, CaSO4, 2H2O), has been deposited in commercial thickness and purity and by the peculiar favor of nature has been left undisturbed in its original deposition and purity. This deposit, however, is not of unlimited extent and so far as present knowledge determines this deposit, the Texas Potash corporation controls the entire workable part of this deposit. The potash in sight, blocked out by our core drilling, is estimated by Dr. E. P. Schoch and Dr. E. H. Sellards of the University of Texas at Austin, 57,000,000 tons of (K2O) pure potash—sufficient to supply the United States for 250 years.

U. S. Is Better Prepared "on Paper" Now Than She Was 17 Years Back

More Potential Seen In Fewer Numbers In Service

NEW YORK, April 6.—Seventeen years ago today, when this country entered the World war, our Allies took one look at reports of our undersized and ill-equipped offensive forces and disconsolately agreed that about all they could expect from America was money, food and raw materials for war manufactures.

But if another such emergency should arise today, the situation would be much more encouraging, in spite of the fact that we only have a slightly smaller navy and regular army than on April 6, 1917. The important difference is that, on paper, the United States is infinitely better prepared for war.

If 3,000,000 men now were to spring to arms overnight, authorities would know exactly what to do with them, where and how to train them, and could assign them at once to companies, battalions, regiments which already exist in skeleton form. There was no such organization scheme prior to the national defense act of 1920 and the four-army plan of 1933.

More Men Available More than 30,000 officers and men of the national guard, well trained, uniformed and fairly well equipped, would be immediately available for action. In 1917 most of the national guard was not subject to the call of the president, and its organizations were broken up by the drafting of its individuals.

A mobilization would bring some 30,000 reserve officers from civilian life to take up military duties which they have trained and studied to perform. There was no organized reserve in 1917, and no plan, as at present, for training civilians for reserve commissions.

The United States ranked below the British empire and Germany in tonnage of fighting ships when we entered the war. We now are second only to the British empire, and Germany is out of the picture.

In 1917 we had neither combat airplanes nor pilots. Today we are third in the world in number of war planes. However, according to Major C. J. H. MacKenzie-Keeney, British pioneer in aviation development, we are sixth in number of factories making fighting planes and motors. And the machines we have, he calculates, are so low and inefficient that American air forces theoretically could be defeated even by the tiny Belgian armada, or by 30 per cent of the British, 40 per cent of the French, or 50 per cent of the Italian, Russian or Japanese air forces. Of course there are many American experts who disagree.

Scarcity of Officers There are other unfavorable aspects of the comparative picture. At the time of our declaration of war the total strength of our army was 190,000—less by 60,000 than the peace time armies of Italy, Japan and about one-fourth the size of the British, French or German armies before they began fighting. Today the United States has a maximum military strength of 430,000, more than half reserves, France and Italy each have fifteen times that number, counting trained reserves, and Japan five times as many. Even Germany, with a regular army of 11,000 officers and 250,000 men, has an additional trained reserve of 1,000,000.

AMERICA OF 1934 PARADES HER MIGHT

MARLIN, April 6. (U.P.)—Mrs. Beulah Lewallen, 47, of Falls county died at a Waco hospital today from effects of a shotgun wound in the back.

Slain Real Estate Operator Is Found

INDIANAPOLIS, April 6. (U.P.)—Bert Callahan, 45, real estate operator, was found slain at his luxurious furnished bachelor apartment today. He was shot in the body but death perhaps was hastened by smothering.

A $2,000 ring was missing. His body was fully clothed, a bath towel was wrapped around his head and a rug was over his head. The knuckles of the right hand were cracked and bloody, indicating a struggle.

100 EXPECTED AT DAD-SON BANQUET

Ticket sales for the Father and Son banquet sponsored by the Knights of Zocah and held at 8 o'clock tonight at the Masonic hall were described as "satisfactory." At noon, there had been approximately 70 tickets sold; however, preparations are being made to take care of 100 people.

The Knights of Zocah is the highest organization of the Boy Scouts of America, composed of boys 15 years old or above who have obtained a high rank in scout work. Proceeds from the sale of banquet tickets will go toward purchasing equipment for a meeting place of the organization. Tickets are only 50c each and every father in Midland is urged to bring his son to the banquet, whether or not he is of scout age. Those who have no sons will be supplied boys who have no fathers, or whose fathers were not enabled to attend.

OFFICERS SHOT AS THEY OFFER TO ASSIST TRIO

Offense Near Miami; Killers Make Escape

MIAMI, Okla., April 6. (U.P.)—Bandits believed to have been Clyde Barrow, Raymond Hamilton and Bonnie Parker killed one officer and kidnaped another they had wounded near Commerce today.

The slain officer was Cal Campbell, 65, Commerce constable. He was slain several miles north of Miami, having been shot with a machine gun, the sheriff's office here was informed.

The kidnaped officer was Percy Boyd, Commerce police chief. It was not known how seriously he was wounded. The officers were shot when they stopped to aid three persons whose automobile was stuck in the mud on the highway near Commerce.

The bandits were identified by description as Barrow and Parker. They forced other persons to push them out of the mud and escaped with Boyd. They drove west and were believed to have turned into Kansas which is a short distance north of Commerce. The automobile in which they were riding was a V-eight Ford with yellow wheels.

HAMILTON'S STOLEN CAR DISCOVERED

HOUSTON, April 6. (U.P.)—The sedan which Raymond Hamilton stole Sunday in his dash from North Texas with a kidnaped woman prisoner was found abandoned near here today. In the meantime police advised that a wrecked car containing a machine gun had been found ten miles south of Conroe.

MAN CONFESSES BANK ROBBERY

AUSTIN, April 6. (U.P.)—Raymond D. McCarty, 24, confessed the $1,877 robbery of the Home State bank of Marble Falls yesterday, according to Sheriff H. A. Barnett, of Burnet county.

McCarty, arrested at a Marble Falls beer garden last night, was said to have signed a statement made in the Travis county jail early today. Finger prints found in the bank caused the arrest of McCarty for questioning. Charges were expected to be filed.

ONLY PART WAY

The Vinson-Trammell navy bill, authorizing construction of 102 warships and 1140 airplanes for the United States navy during the next five years, is now a law, passed by Congress and signed by the president. But it is worth noticing that the law does not actually commit the country to immediate construction of these armaments.

As President Roosevelt pointed out in signing the bill, what we have here is simply a formal statement of policy. Congress and the executive have gone on record as favoring the building up of the navy to the strength authorized by the treaties to which the United States is a party.

However, the bill appropriates no money for this work. Not one keel will be laid down as a result of it. There is a vast difference between ships authorized and ships appropriated for. Until this bill is supplemented by an actual appropriation measure, it is a gesture and nothing more.

ENCOURAGING PRECEDENT

The settlement of the threatened auto strike is one of the most encouraging things that has happened in the industrial sector for a long time.

Here was a case in which the clash of the contending factions seemed to parallel that storied collision of the irresistible force with the immovable object. Each side was absolutely determined not to yield.

Bitterness and rancour were in the air. The stage was set for a disastrous industrial struggle.

That it was possible, in such a case, for both sides to find a common meeting ground augurs well for the future of industrial relations. Industrial warfare, according to this demonstration, is not necessary; even the bitterest disagreements can be straightened out if the parties involved are willing to make the effort.

May the case set a precedent for the future!

GANGSTER BRAINS

Most newspaper readers, probably, would like to know more about this Fred Goetz, the gangster who was taken for a ride the other night after several years of activity as one of Chicago's worst gunmen.

This gangster never came from one of those slum regions that breed most of our criminals. He was a small-town product, of a good family. Furthermore, he was a college man, an honor student at a great university, and an athlete of considerable prominence.

All in all, he was emphatically not the kind of material of which gangsters are made. Yet he plunged into the underworld, became a hired killer, served as counsellor to the notorious Fred Burke—and died at last, gangland-style, in a ditch, full of bullets.

A strange and tragic story must await the telling there, if one could only get at it!

NEUTRALITY IN WARTIME

If you insist that your country keep out of war, you must be prepared to assume unaccustomed burdens and to yield rights you have been used to assert.

So warns Dr. Charles Warren, assistant attorney general in the Wilson administration, in a recent discussion of the problem of neutrality.

He illustrates his warning by asserting that in the case of a foreign war we could insure our neutrality only by passing stringent laws and enforcing them rigidly.

Such laws, he says, should permit the president to prohibit all sales of munitions to belligerents, should forbid the shipment of munitions on United States ships, and should forbid the flotation in this country of loans for belligerents.

Such laws, as he says, would be rather irksome. But he is probably quite right in asserting that they would be the price of true neutrality in any large-scale future war.

Congress again has insisted on being independent—Independent Democrat and independent Republican.

What Has Happened At Cannes, Mary is accepted at once by Lady Riversleigh's gay crowd. To her surprise she discovers that Tommy Trent, rich, amusing, irresponsible playboy whom she had known in New York is there. They go to a gay party.

CHAPTER V The party at Nina Portlisse's was all that Lady Riversleigh had said it would be—it was even more. Old and young, of all nationalities and seemingly of all ranks, were there, dancing, drinking, singing and making love in the wild throng. Mary was surprised to see the Bagdalls—the Major one of the most formal of British army officers, his wife even more conservative if such a thing were possible, and their daughter who was so drab she looked and acted like a middle-aged spinster. Evidently the pace was too swift for them, for they were about to leave.

He also explained how he kept his bank in such condition as follows: "I go a long ways on character. But I go a longer ways on collateral. When a man has both character and collateral I loan him about half what he asks. Most any man who wants to borrow money at a bank can get along on about half what he asks for."

There is some hearsay around here about Tom Nance being subpoenaed as a witness in Loving county court to testify about some horses he saw in somebody's corral. It seems that the horses were "puddin'-toos." Imagine a breeder of thoroughbreds having to go that far to testify about puddin'-toos.

"Well forget it," she said. "I'm fond of you, Tommy—I always have been. It was my fault as much as yours. This place goes to one's head."

"Yes—and not altogether yes," said Tommy, in a low voice. "I want to tell you, Mary. I'd marry you if you were free—and would have me. I've never said that to any woman, before. I've never felt this way about any one in all my life."

"Perhaps," said Mary gently, "it has gone to my head."

"All right, be cross. This swell marriage has gone to your head."

"You've spoiled everything," she said. "And just when I was having such a glorious time."

"When girls like you turn into prudes—"

"I'm not a prude. Just because I don't want to kiss you, you have no right to say that. You're crazy."

But when he returned he saw Mary running toward the drive. He followed her, but she had a head start. She jumped into her car and was down the road as fast as she could go. He leaped into his car and was off, after her.

NOW EATS ANY KIND OF FOOD, AND NO CONSTIPATION

Mr. Durigan Finds Relief in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Here is his enthusiastic letter:

"I am 70 years of age, and for 40 of these years there never was a week but what I had to take a pill or some kind of cathartic.

"I took everything, but gained only temporary relief. Until last spring my daughter, who is a nurse in a hospital, brought me some Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

"At the end of the week, I knew I had something that was it, and I kept on taking it. I haven't taken a cathartic since. I can eat meat any time, as often as I like, or any other kind of food, and no constipation." Mr. L. M. Durigan, 6811 Buffalo Ave., Jacksonville, Florida.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help muscle tone. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much safer than patent medicines. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green packages. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

PRAYER FOR PEACE

On Seventieth Anniversary of the United States Entry in World War, April 6, 1917

By Helen Welshimer

WE pray for peace . . . Oh, must we always ask Thee To let spring come serenely to green fields? To let us watch our sons grow tall, not fearing The aftermath a finished battle fields?

AS trees go down in Lebanon You told us Empires would pass, then visioned peace would come When men would dream of half-forgotten battles, Weave legendry about a silenced drum.

MAY we have peace—we are so tired of turmoil, Oh, always somewhere there are roads that ring With flash of steel, blue armor or the khaki Where men fight vainly for a petty thing.

THERE is no difference, God, in men who battle; Alike they dream of how the firelight throws Brave gold across the hair of some loved woman. One dream alone each weary soldier knows:

A LONG, long road, far-winding to a haven Where is peace beyond a half-glimpsed door. A half-forgotten silence that comes singing, An end, dear God, to panoply of war!

Wynekoops Meet Again at Prison

Reunion at the prison door came for Earle Wynekoop and his mother, Dr. Alice Wynekoop, as the aged woman entered Illinois women's reformatory at Dwight to serve a 25-year term for murder of Earle's wife. Earle avoided his mother's trial and it was their first meeting since they were grilled in Chicago after the slaying, Nov. 21. With them, right, is shown the prison's assistant superintendent.

Lack of Apartment Houses Causes Rise in Prices for Rent

DALLAS, (U.P.)—Scarcity of dwellings and apartment houses has caused a general upward trend in Texas rental prices, a United Press survey has revealed.

Although rentals for residential buildings have dropped an average of 20 to 25 per cent from the peak years of 1929 and 1930, the general rental average increase to date is approximately 10 to 15 per cent.

Chambers of commerce in major cities reported the scarcity of dwellings and apartment houses due to additional businesses, industries and manufacturing plants moving from other states to Texas.

Real estate boards of the same cities report the shortage was brought about by families which doubled up under a single roof during the depression years now separating and absorbing the surplus houses.

The real estate boards said the reduction of rentals to a figure within the wage earner's present income largely was responsible for the absorption.

Construction of business buildings and residential houses is inactive throughout the state, the real estate boards reports. Most of the carpenter work is being done under remodeling plans.

The survey showed Dallas has few buildings under construction, with a small percentage of remodeling being done. Vacancies in business buildings have increased, and business space and office rentals have declined.

A shortage of houses and apartments was reported in the better neighborhoods. What building of homes going on was reported in suburban districts. Rents here were reported increased as much as 10 to 15 per cent within the last six months. Tenant movement here was reported excessive in the rent houses and apartment buildings.

The Fort Worth chamber of commerce reported construction there almost too small to give a comparative figure, with few if any new homes being built. Authorities said the situation was partly due to the lack of financing facilities.

However, there is no shortage of houses and apartments, although families living under one roof have separated. This separating has caused an increased demand for rental houses and apartments which have been vacant for months.

Rentals in Fort Worth have not increased and were unchanged during the last two years, the survey revealed. Rents were reported 10 to 20 per cent lower than in Dallas. Tenant movement in Fort Worth was considerably smaller than anywhere else in the state.

Small business and residential construction was reported under way in Houston, due to difficulty in obtaining loans to finance the projects. Several large homes above the $50,000 margin have been built and one home costing $75,000 was reported. Rents there have increased 10 per cent on all classes of houses and apartments within the last year, the survey showed.

Vacant houses were reported filling rapidly in El Paso, also due to the separating of families under a single roof. Rentals which have dropped as much as 35 per cent have steadied, but no increase was revealed in the survey.

The El Paso chamber of commerce reported construction of new buildings and houses has been at a standstill the last few months. Only permits granted within the last three months were for remodeling purposes, the reports stated.

Austin was reported doing some building in both business and residential sections. The percentage of construction, however, was small. Rents there were reported increased 10 to 15 per cent.

In several of the cities rents for apartments were being increased by agreement between owners and operators, the real estate boards and chambers of commerce reported. The effect of the agreements was largely felt in Dallas.

Vote For Our Schools!

A Vote For These Men Is A Vote For Our Schools

DR. JNO. B. THOMAS
(For re-election)

President, well known for his thrift, economy, and business ability. Very active for the schools.

R. V. LAWRENCE
(For re-election)

Invaluable member of committee on school property. Very active for the schools.

JAMES S. NOLAND

On tax committee, and representing largest taxpaying interests. Very active for the schools.

Our schools are the pride of Midland. They are famous throughout the State, and are receiving national recognition on account of their excellent scholastic reputation, their wise business management, their strong financial rating, and their remarkable, cultural, character-building program. The school spirit in Midland has been called "the strongest spirit in Midland, and stronger than that in any other known community."

The school board has not borrowed a cent in six years, and the schools have been maintained at the peak of efficiency throughout the depression—a record equalled by no other school in Texas, and during this time the property valuations have been reduced more than 40 per cent. The athletic field, the Mexican School, and the Negro School have been built, and ten thousand dollars of their own school bonds have been retired without a tax levy, an increase in the rate, or a bond issue. One series of bonds has been refunded and sold to the State, in which six thousand dollars of the principal was reduced and one-half of one per cent in the rate. While this deal did not reduce the present annual payments, it reduced the total indebtedness of the school district, and the benefit will be realized at the maturity of the bonds. The largest taxpayer in the district said recently: "We pay taxes in almost every county in Texas, but the Midland school is the best managed school I have ever seen."

Three of the present board members who have helped no little in securing and maintaining the high standards and enviable reputation of our schools are:

Dr. Jno. B. Thomas,
and
James S. Noland

Their names have been placed on the OFFICIAL BALLOT for re-election by a petition signed by a large number of loyal and representative patrons and citizens who realize and appreciate the fact that we have good schools, and who wish to maintain them unimpaired.

These men have had successful experience, and are now rendering faithful, patriotic, and efficient service for our schools. Their re-election means HARMONY, CO-OPERATION, EFFICIENCY, and PROGRESS. Who in Midland is not proud of our schools? These men have helped to make them what they are and are still helping to give Midland the best school at the lowest cost in keeping with efficiency and the welfare of the children, whose interests are paramount. If you are for our schools, vote for these men. If you believe in one of the best schools in the State, vote for these men. No strong business concern would change management, when the business is as carefully and as successfully managed as our schools are. We believe that the patrons of our splendid schools, and others who want the best schools for Midland, will not change directors at this time.

Governor of Long's State Gunning for Insulting Crawfish

WASHINGTON, Apr. 6. (U.P.)—Former Governor John M. Parker of Louisiana, political enemy of Huey Long, entered the lists against the senator in renewal of wrangling in which Long had been involved this week.

Parker, a character witness for Daniel Moore at the hearing on Moore's nomination as collector of internal revenue, charged that Long had spirited witnesses out of the state during proceedings against Long.

Greyhound Racing Unusual Setting For Robinson Film

"Dark Hazard," the first National picture with Edward G. Robinson in the stellar role which comes to the Ritz theatre Sunday and Monday, for the first time shows dog racing on the screen as the background for a most unusually dramatic picture.

The theme of the story deals with a man's mad passion for gambling which costs him love and home. Robinson, as the inveterate but well-meaning gambler will bet on any kind of game, but his chief weakness is for greyhound racing.

The exciting racing scenes shown in the picture, were taken at the popular Compton race tracks near Los Angeles, at which Greyhounds chase a mechanical rabbit about a five-eighths mile course to the cheering of wildly enthusiastic crowds.

Genevieve Tobin has the leading feminine role as the unhappy wife of a gambler, while others in the cast include Glenda Farrell, who portrays the happy-go-lucky former flame of Robinson; Robert Barrat, Gordon Westcott, Robert Cavannaugh, George Meeker and Henry E. Walthall.

CHAMBER CALLS MONDAY MEETING

Filling station operators and garage men, cafe operators and hotel and tourist camp operators are asked to attend a 30-minute meeting at the chamber of commerce office Monday night at 7:30.

George Phillips, representing cafe men, W. F. Hejl, service station operators, and Charles B. Addison, hotel and tourist camp operators, were appointed by Dr. W. E. Ryan, chamber of commerce president, to get an attendance of men in their lines of business for the Monday night meeting.

President Frank Mackay of the Broadway of America told a group of business men at the meeting Thursday night that Midland is likely to lose at least 25 per cent of its tourist business next year if Midland and other towns do not aid in advertising the Broadway, or Bankhead.

President Mackay, now serving his second term as president because of his unselfish work for the road, was introduced by W. B. Simpson, long time personal friend. Simpson praised Mackay for his work and generous financial support.

Scharbauer Advises Against a Change

John Scharbauer, familiarly known as Uncle John, came to Midland from Fort Worth yesterday. He was approached as to his attitude on the school board election that comes up Saturday.

I further understand that Midland has taken its place, entirely upon its merits, among the best schools in the whole country. It naturally occurred to me that to make any change in its management would not be to the interest of the community.

Let well enough alone would be about the way I feel in the matter. The men who are now in office have proven their ability and are fully experienced in their work. It is therefore logical that a change in the personnel of the school board would likely tend to diminish the efficiency of the system.

These and many other things have been developed, but that doesn't mean our army has been equipped with them. For example, complete mechanization of cavalry units has been a cherished plan of the army almost ever since the war.

Won't Let Princess Forget About Title

CINCINNATI, (U.P.)—Princess Natasha Vassili, wife of a deposed Romanoff, would forget her title, but Cincinnati people won't let her. They seem to like to talk to nobility. The princess and her husband operate a beauty salon here.

"If you please, princess," says a woman, with fluttering deference, "could I have my hair washed today?" A waiter advises, "Princess, we can recommend our boiled beef with horseradish sauce today."

"What the hell!" is the comment of the princess, who would rather be called Mrs. Romanoff. The princess' sister-in-law, Princess Yousouppoff, recently was awarded $126,000 by a London court in her suit charging that an American film company's "Rasputin and the Empress" libeled her.

Inaugurates Plan To Collect Taxes

AUSTIN, (U.P.)—Travis county has inaugurated a plan whereby it hopes to collect some delinquent taxes. The county commissioners passed an order requiring payment of delinquent taxes before the county will pay for materials furnished or services rendered.

"A large amount of taxes are past due in Travis county by individuals, firms and corporations, many of whom in the conduct of the county's business present claims for payment of services rendered or for sales to the county," the order read.

"It is not compatible with good business administration for the county to pay tax money to those who are delinquent in paying tax money to support the county government. It is not right or just to those citizens who have paid their taxes and is a detriment to the proper handling of the county's finances."

Bible classes at the University of Texas have the highest percentage of hours passed and the lowest percentage of hours failed. The college of law has the lowest percentage of hours passed and the largest percentage of hours failed.

Of the students enrolled in Bible classes 88.1 per cent passed. Only 71.6 per cent of the school of law students passed. Of the total semester hours last long term, passing grades were recorded in 79 per cent of which 16 per cent were "A."

HARD WINTER FOR DEER

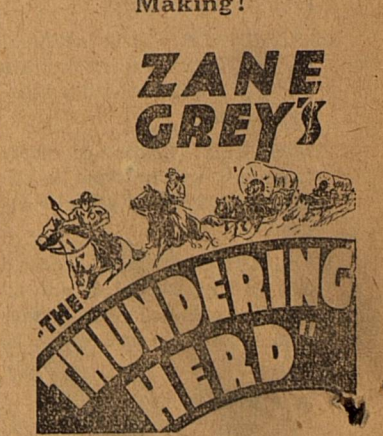

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. (U.P.)—The deer throughout Windham county are thin and weak after the unusually severe winter, and sportsmen are pleading with dog owners to keep their dogs from harrasing the deer.

When the United States entered the World war in 1917, the air divisions of the National Guard were among the first ready for the front.

lizer factories, chemical plants, nitrogen, and many other allied industries will be eager to locate in West Texas and with the cooperation of our Texas people bring added prosperity to our wonderful state. This is not a task, but a natural sequence."

British.

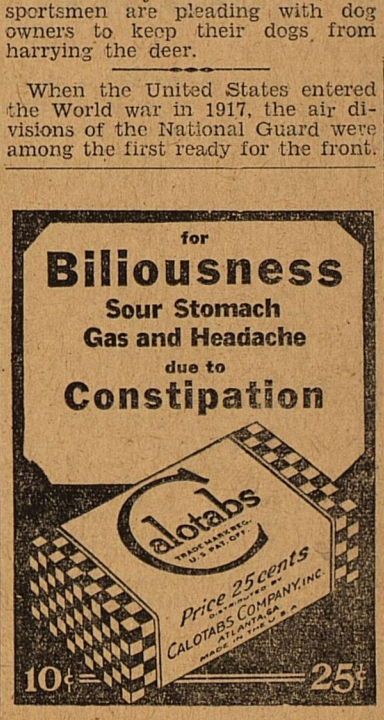

We also had to depend on the Allies for machine guns—the Chaucaut anti-aircraft gun, the Lewis gun and the Browning machine gun, both the latter inventions of Americans. We had no 37 mm. guns, infantry howitzers or trench mortars worth mentioning. For field artillery we had a few 5-inch pieces of German manufacture! These proved unsatisfactory anyway, so we bought the famous French 75's. We had absolutely no medium or heavy mobile artillery, no practical instruments for indirect fire. We had some motor transport facilities; thanks to General Pershing's truck supply trains used while chasing Villa in Mexico. But we had no air service chemical warfare or tank corps.

Naturally the picture quite different now. Technicians have developed armor-piercing bullets, better machine guns, semi-automatic shredder arms which probably will replace the old-style rifles, fast airplanes, speedy trucks, and spotting and range-finding instruments and anti-aircraft artillery which conceivably may erase the threat of serious offensive fire from the air. It is possible only to speculate on the now horrors our chemists have brewed against any future enemy.
