James Cagney Plays Movie Star Role in His Latest Picture

A picture within a picture may apply to describe James Cagney's latest for Warner Bros., "Lady Killer," showing tomorrow and Friday at the Ritz theatre, for in it Cagney appears as a motion picture star.

While many in Hollywood recognize in the role that Cagney plays the counterpart of another male star in pictures, who actually rose to screen prominence by the very methods that Cagney uses to attain stardom in "Lady Killer," the important feature about the latest Cagney opus is the fact that in his role he is called upon to portray as a movie actor the very roles that has led to his present popularity in pictures.

In other words, he appears in "Lady Killer" first as a gangster who flees to Hollywood in an effort to get away from his former mates and from the police who desire to question him. It will be remembered that Cagney's first hit was as a gangster in "Public Enemy." Then after he has broken into the movies as an extra gangster, he builds himself up with the producer by writing his own voluminous fan mail in a sort of high pressure publicity campaign strongly reminiscent of his own work in "Hard to Handle."

Mae Clarke, who two years ago helped Cagney spring to fame in "Public Enemy" by standing for the pushing of a grapefruit into her face again is on the receiving end of the typical Cagneyman mannerisms when it comes to handling refractory "moll" sweethearts who refuse to be dropped.

Margaret Lindsay plays the role of leading lady to Cagney, the movie star. Others in the cast include Leslie Fenton, Raymond Hatton, Douglas Dumbrille and George Blackwood. Roy Del Ruth directed

Tennis Catches the Fancy of the Naomi Class and a Church

Introducing the Sunday school class that takes its tennis seriously—

"The Naomi Bible class, which, through its recreational club, leased the country club court last spring and summer, plans to build its own court soon.

The 20 tennis-playing members met last week and elected a committee to make a study of the possibilities for such a plan, with resultant recommendations later to the entire group.

Miss Laura Jesse was named chairman, Mrs. Fletcher Curry vice chairman, Miss Lois McWilliams secretary, and Miss Lucille Cole treasurer.

The Church of Christ put a fast one by the tennis fans—building a court and playing the first matches Monday, and no one, evidently, was aware of the matter until it had been done.

The court is at the corner of S. Colorado and Dakota.

K. C. Tucker, young minister of the church, did much of the work.

Massed Band to Play At Closing Program

ABILENE.—Program to be played at the massed band concert at the Simmons auditorium Friday evening as the closing event of the West Texas high school band contest was announced Tuesday night by Prof. D. O. Wiley director of the tournament.

Three judges, together with Prof. Wiley will direct numbers in the concert. The Simmons band leader said that 250 pieces, picked from the fifteen or more bands who will compete, will play in the program. This is the largest band known to have presented a program in Abilene.

Col. Earl D. Irons, called "dean of Texas band conductors," will conduct two of his own compositions in the fourth number of the program. Col. Irons is now director of the North Texas Aggie band. Russell W. Wiley, conductor of the Phillips university band of Enid, Okla., will direct "Triumphal March" from Greg's famous suite "Sigurd Jorsalfar." Wilson T. Betts, the third judge, former president of the Southwestern Band and Orchestra conservatory and dean of the Simmons summer band school, will direct "Gains," a modern number by Gillette.

Prof. Wiley will direct the opening march, "Tribute to Sousa," by Goldman and "Finlandia," by Sibelius, the closing number.

At the close of the program announcements of winners will be made and trophies and medals will be presented winning bands and soloists. The program will begin at 8:15. A small admission charge is being made to help defray expenses of the contest.

Midlanders Go to Banquet at Lamesa

About 350 people attended the banquet of the Lamesa chamber of commerce Tuesday night, according to Ralph T. Buey, who with Mrs. Buey, were among the guests.

Judge Charles Coombes of Stamford was the principal speaker. He was introduced by Judge Gordon McGuire. Toastmaster Rogers had the various guests introduce themselves. Judge Coombes, one of the best known wits in West Texas, kept the large audience in a merry mood. He said somebody in Lamesa had asked him his age that evening and his reply was that, as he had graduated from high school with Lorraine Buey and the inquirer, one could guess it. Actually, Judge Coombes, then a lawyer at Anson, helped the then Lorraine Davis write her valedictory high school address.

John M. Gist brought a laugh when he introduced himself as that "gentleman from Odessa."

Tarpon Catch Opens The Fishing Season

BROWNSVILLE (P).—The fishing season along the southern coast of Texas has officially opened for the summer with the catching of the first tarpon and the arrival of jackfish, mackerel, and other fish which migrate in the winter.

Although tarpon were caught in the waters of the coast here the first week in January, they migrated soon afterward and did not return until the early part of this month. The first tarpon was landed recently by a winter tourist, who tagged him in the Valley's campaign of cooperation with the U. S. bureau of fisheries in studying the habits of the tarpon.

Fishing in the coastal waters here is expected to be better than in the past when the mile-long jetties at Brazos-Santiago pass are completed. The jetties will protect the pass out to a depth of 25 feet, making the water calm and improve fishing generally.

Large catches of trout and redfish are being made daily.

They Left Pups

HALT LAKE CITY, Utah. (UP).—Perhaps it should be considered a fair exchange, but an uninvited guest entered the home of R. M. Thomas, took $1.50 in cash, and left two brindle whippet pups in exchange.

History

Barfield succeeded Stephenson as sheriff, serving two terms before being replaced by W. C. (Bill) Fowler, present sheriff.

Sugg Carter started the first picture show to be located in McCamey. It was an open air affair. Oscar Korn of Houston built McCamey's first enclosed theatre and at one time owned and operated three motion picture houses here. The only theatre here now is owned by the Korn interests and is operated by H. Peyton Priddy.

Vaudeville and tent shows thrived here in the early days and the rougher they were, the better the oil field workers liked them.

Dr. W. S. Sample was the town's first registered dentist and Dr. F. E. Gibbons was the first registered physician.

Burlison avenue was laid out to be McCamey's main thoroughfare, but Fifth street, on the highway, became the "Main Street" of the booming town. McCamey's first pavement was put down in 1929 and has been added to from time to time since then until today, McCamey has several miles of hard surfaced streets. As many as 10 automobiles have been stuck in the mud on Main street at one time before the day of paving. In dry weather the sand and dust was ankle deep.

Fuel gas was first piped here from Bakersville during the winter of 1929, but the gas was more or less unsuitable and gas from the Big Lake field was piped here in 1931 by the Southern Union Gas com-

Art Shires Will Go to Ft. Worth

TOLEDO, O., April 25.—Charles Arthur Shires, who came to be known as "What a Man" in the various leagues in which he played first base, is going back to play ball for Fort Worth.

Just how much it is costing Fort Worth to secure the services of Shires, President Waldo Shank of the Toledo Mudhens declined to say. He did say it was a cash transaction and that Outfielder Max West, another Texan, is going back with Shires.

Two Trees Scorn Zero

MANSFIELD, O. (UP).—During recent cold waves, while pedestrians and motorists fought their way through snowdrifts here, two trees, a peach and a dogwood, were optimistically blossoming at the home of Alvin Reed. Temperatures here fell as low as 40 degrees below zero while the blooms were defying the cold.

The people of McCamey are anxious to have all of West Texas join in their birthday celebration Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The way tobacco is cut has a lot to do with the way Chesterfield burns and tastes

There are many different ways of cutting tobacco. A long time ago, it used to be cut on what was known as a Pease Cutter, but this darkened the tobacco, and it was not uniform. The cutters today are the most improved, modern, up-to-the-minute type. They cut uniformly, and cut in long shreds. The tobacco in Chesterfield is cut right—you can judge for yourself how Chesterfields burn and how they taste.

Everything that science knows is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder... the cigarette that tastes better.
