WEST TEX AREA IN DROUGHT ZONE

It's a Horse and No Boloney

It may seem like boloney, but this is a horse. Furthermore, he's one of the most popular horses in Idaho, because when his child jockeys fall off they haven't far to go. It has been suggested that he be sent across the sea as a mount for the Prince of Wales, but his owner, Lester J. Shown, of Anthony, Idaho, shyness with him, wouldn't think of parting with "Shorty the Dachshund."

DARROW BOARD MORE CRITICAL OF THE N.R.A.

Small Business Man Stifled, Second Report Says

WASHINGTON, June 12. (U.P.)—The Darrow board leveled more criticism at the "stifling of small business men" and high prices by the NRA in a second report.

The board criticized especially the retail trade, petroleum, lumber and current codes. It said large petroleum companies have the advantage over independents in the use of profits obtained in one branch of operations, notably pipelines, to finance competition in another branch. He said the small gas station owners were not represented on the planning and coordinating committees.

The board charged that the retail code was changed between acceptance by industry and the signature by the president.

Former Newsboy Candidate for Attorney General

DALLAS—This is the story of a newsboy who dreamed of seeing his name on a lawyer's shingle—and promptly dreamed, when it was there, of something higher.

The lawyer became his county's district attorney, and, while serving three reelected terms in that office, built up another ideal for service—that of becoming "the people's lawyer" for all Texas. "My candidacy for attorney general was not a new thought born in a single day but back yonder in my county when I served as district attorney and hope I can then that I might some day seek opportunity to be the chief law enforcing officer of my state," the dynamic, red-haired Dallasite declared at the opening of his present campaign.

Just six days after they celebrate their third wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. McCraw will sit in their suburban Dallas home and hear election returns they believe will place him far ahead in his race for attorney generalship. Before their marriage July 22, 1931, Mrs. McCraw, Miss Louise Britton, a dark-haired Dallas girl whom McCraw won in a whirlwind courtship.

"I couldn't have said no if it had been in my mind to," Mrs. McCraw smilingly admits. "You see, Bill always wins."

No figure of speech there, for McCraw, big, vigorous and hardworking, has been winning, often over heavy odds, since the day he decided to finance an education by selling papers. Though life has been public office, in terms of money, no bed of roses for this Texan, born 27 years ago at Arlington, he has always been colorful and interesting.

From working as a "devil" in his father's printing shop and moving while he was still a boy, McCraw became at 19 one of the state's youngest lawyers, so young in fact that he was named attorney for the most prominent of his profession had to be removed by court. He was the proudest lad in the state when the name McCraw went up on a shingle.

Two years later, however, he interrupted his career for something more important. At 21 he entered the first officers' training camp at Leon Springs and was commissioned a second lieutenant in cavalry. He transferred to another branch of service and served with the 132nd machine gun brigade in the 36th division in France, where he won a promotion.

At the close of the war he resumed his law practice, and soon was Dallas county's most colorful public official. His third term in office were a record in themselves, as McCraw is the only man ever to hold that position three successive times, but the number of his convictions and the persistence of his prosecutions set a new standard, including a national one for the number of 99-year sentences assessed for robbery.

Criminals facing his energetic prosecution in one year drew sentences totaling more than 2600 years, including 14 life sentences, and the following year, 1928, only 10 acquittals resulted out of 272 criminal cases tried. One of his death penalty cases traveled all the way to the United States supreme court and then was affirmed.

As the district attorney in Dallas is also the civil attorney for the county, McCraw made a name for himself in this field, too.

McCraw lives in a modest white home on a five-acre tract just northeast of Dallas, where they raise chickens and ducks and garden truck and take great pride in fine Bermuda onions, peas and beans and tomatoes. It is the kind of place—shaded by fine old trees, bright with flowers—that calls for leisurely, wholesome living.

"Of course we do most of the work ourselves," Mrs. McCraw declared. "These days Bill comes in from his campaign for a quiet week end at home and works off his surplus energy with a hoe and rake. I've never known him to take a vacation."

Assists in Revival

The Rev. C. L. Jackson, Abilene Missionary Baptist minister, has arrived in Midland to assist in a revival at the Gospel Hall church, 402 East Kentucky.

The Rev. J. D. Jackson is pastor.

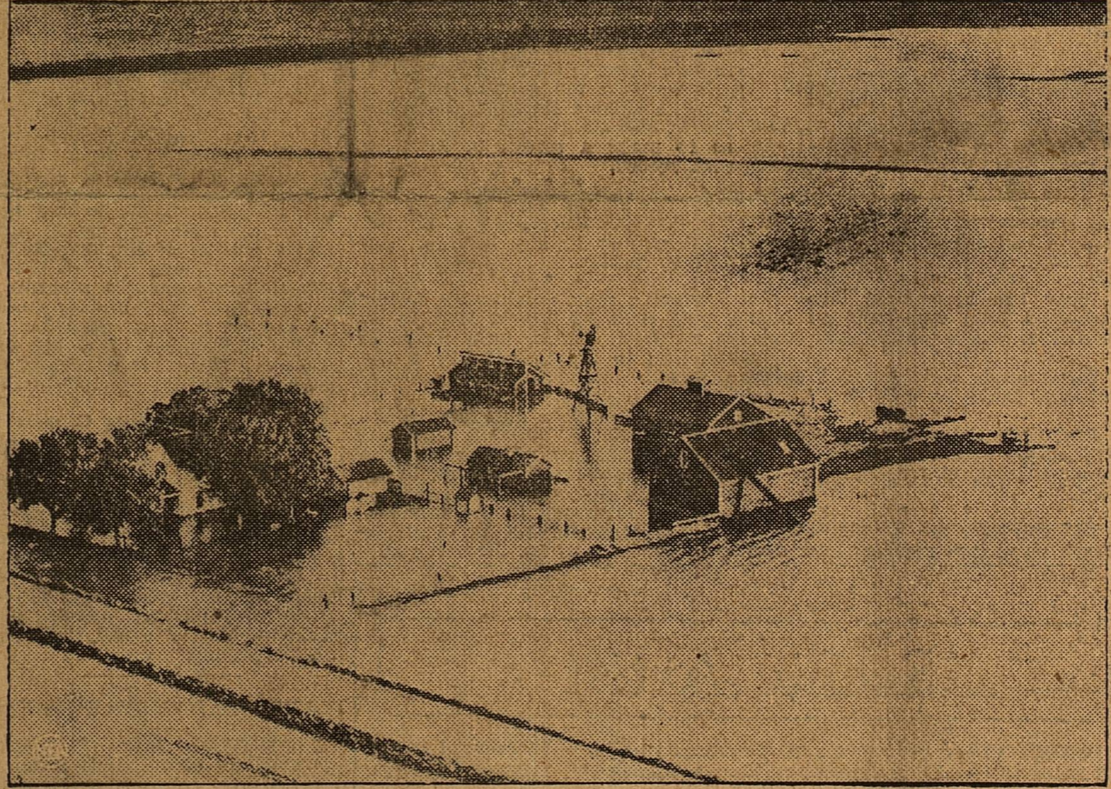

Prayed For Rain—Got a Flood!

Prayers of Iowa farmers for rain were answered a hundredfold when the heavens gushed and damaging floods swept the state, parched by months of drought.

Here is a remarkable picture of the toll taken by the deluge, the wreck of a train caused by wash-out of tracks near Council Bluffs, Ia., when Honey creek became a raging torrent overnight. With cars piled from the rails and flood debris littering the tracks, workmen are toiling to reopen the way for trains.

From the Frying Pan Into the Flood

The farmer who lived here hoped long and anxiously for rain and he finally got it. When the downpour near Sioux City, Ia., had subsided, most of his land was submerged and water swirled about his porch and through barnyard. Drainage canals and creeks in northern and western Iowa overflowed and the torrents swept many square miles of farming country, forcing families to flee homes.

POLICEMAN AND 2 GUNMEN SLAIN

MIAMI, Okla., June 12. (U.P.)—Jack Dunaway, merchant policeman, and two unidentified gunmen were slain in a battle on Main street today.

Dunaway was shot as he and two companions walked up to an automobile containing two suspicious looking characters. The officers returned the fire.

It was believed that the gunmen had been planning to hold up a drug store.

Vorbe Returns From California

Georges Vorbe, former manager of the T-P Coal and Oil Co. office at Midland, was in Midland today from Berkeley, Calif., where he returned two years ago. He expected to go to Fort Worth for several days, after which he hopes to relocate in Midland.

Vorbe, former instructor in the University of California science department, was well known on Midland tennis courts.

Crop Losses Are Enormous in Area

Blasting winds of the past few days have continued havoc wrought crops earlier by sand storms. Hundreds of acres in this area have been reported lost, one farmer reporting a loss of 90 per cent. Farmers who planted in sand furrows have suffered less from "sand scorching" than those who used no such protection. Such furrows makes for eddying of the sand currents, it is explained.

Revival Reported A Great Success

BIG SPRING—Sunday night close one of the best revivals that E. 4th Baptist has experienced for some time. The Rev. Winston Bowen, Midland, did the preaching and Cecil Floyd led the singing with Mrs. Hugh Thane, Miss Ruth Cotton and Mrs. Woodie W. Smith at the pianos.

There were forty-two additions to the church, 27 coming by baptism and 15 by letter.

Pastor Woodie W. Smith bap-tized 24 during the closing service. Others will be baptized next Sunday evening at the regular service. There were a number of re-claimations and consecrations during the revival.

Mr. Borum delighted Big Spring people with his plain gospel preaching. Pastor Smith said: "I have never had better help in a revival."

SIXTEEN COUNTIES INCLUDING MIDLAND DESIGNATED TODAY

"Pleased to advise Midland county included in drought relief area."

This was the laconic message received Tuesday by the chamber of commerce, county and R. M. Barron, county crop board chairman, from Sen. Tom Connally.

A meeting of representatives of 10 drought-stricken counties was almost broken up by rejoicing here this morning when the telegram from Sen. Connally was read.

16 West Texas Counties in Classification

WASHINGTON, June 12. (U.P.)—Midland county, Texas, was added today to the list of "secondary" drought area counties.

Other Texas counties added were Andrews, Borden, Cochran, Dawson, Ector, Gaines, Howard, Loving, Martin, Reeves, Scurry, Terry, Ward, Winkler and Yoakum.

The officially designated drought area now includes 560 counties in twenty states.

AUSTIN, June 12. (U.P.)—Relief Director Marie Dresden and Winthrop Liss, federal administration engineer, will leave tomorrow to inspect the Texas drought area.

CC TO SUPPORT EDUCATION PLAN

Directors of the chamber of commerce Monday night voted unanimously to assist the home demonstration agent in an educational program. Action was taken on motion of Allen J. Watts, who said the chamber were enough farm development in Midland county "warrant still further cooperation."

Report was made by George Phillips, chairman of the retailers committee, that interest was growing in the rabbit ear auction set for June 30. Report was made on the joint effort of the county commissioners court and chamber of commerce to get additional drought relief for Midland county. The directors without formal action expressed zealous interest in a proposed big racing and rodeo event in the fall. T. Paul Barron explained the importance of the 1935 Rotary convention, stating it would be one of the biggest and "best-spending" conventions ever held in Midland.

W. B. Simpson presided. Directors participating were A. E. Horsch, W. F. Hejl, Joe D. Chambers, Phillipus and Barron.

PECOS TO HOLD JULY 4TH RODEO

PECOS, June 12.—By far the largest rodeo ever held in this country is scheduled for July 3 and 4 at Pecos, when the fifth annual American Legion rodeo will be held. The event, started five years ago, has grown in size and popularity every year, and the 1934 show promises to surpass by a wide margin anything of the kind held before.

Two full days of bronc riding, bulldogging, horse racing, steer roping, and other events will draw a large crowd from all over the county. Expert rodeo performers from far and near will compete for the purses, which are larger than any in the past, and far greater than any others offered in rodeos on the same date anywhere in West Texas.

Several novelty numbers are also offered, including a wild cow milking contest on both days, and a girls' race of 300 yards. Issa DeRacy, Pecos cowgirl and calf roping champion of the trans-Pecos region, will defend her title against all other girl contestants. Dances and other celebrations will take place during both evenings.

Already possessing the reputation of the finest show in West Texas, the Pecos rodeo will again be the high spot of Fourth of July entertainment in this section.

THE COUNTRY DOCTOR "RESPECTED BY ALL"

"... with purity and holiness will I pass my life and practice my art... into whatever houses I enter I will go for the advantage of the sick and I will abstain from every voluntary act of mischief and corruption... While I continue to keep this oath inviolate, may it be granted to me to enjoy life and the practice of my art, respected always by men..."

It is not likely that Dr. A. R. Dafeo thought of those words from the ancient Hippocratic oath of his profession when he turned his little car through the dim dawn, from his neat warm brick home at Callander to the shabby house at Corbell where a prodigy awaited him: Quintuplet baby sisters!

It is not likely that he has thought of them often at all since the day, many years ago at Toronto, when he took the oath to minister unselfishly to the sick and the suffering.

"Respected always by all men..." They say, up there in the backwoods Ontario neighborhood where Dr. Dafeo has practiced medicine for 28 years, that he has earned 50 times over every penny he has been able to collect.

His patients are poor, most of them, never calling the doctor until the last minute, or at all if they think they have a chance to ride through without him.

Yet Dr. Dafeo's pockets are stuffed with letters from medical men of the cities wanting to know details of the one-in-a-million case of the Dionne quintuplets. Note how this stocky, bluff, and hearty man almost forced his attendance on father Dionne when he saw it was needed.

Note the gruff warning to Dionne that "he'd better get a hired girl or start making arrangements for a new wife."

Note the 4 a. m. trip of Dr. Dafeo to the Dionne home, the calm way in which he relieved the trembling midwife when a third baby had been born and two more were yet to come.

Note the untroubled way in which this country doctor regarded the whole thing as just another case in his long succession of 1500 childbirths, how with a kindly dictatorship over the household and its visitors he kept life in the five infants by old-fashioned methods and home-spun facilities. And how he proposes to charge Dionne $3 a child—$15 for the most famous medical case in years, his usual fee for delivery of one child.

It is good indeed to look upon Dr. Dafeo, a medico of the old school, who saw his duty and did it, and who would only snort at the suggestion that there was anything extraordinary about that.

Worthy successor to a long line of worthy physicians, "respected always by all men."

AFTER MANY DAYS

Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days, said the Preacher.

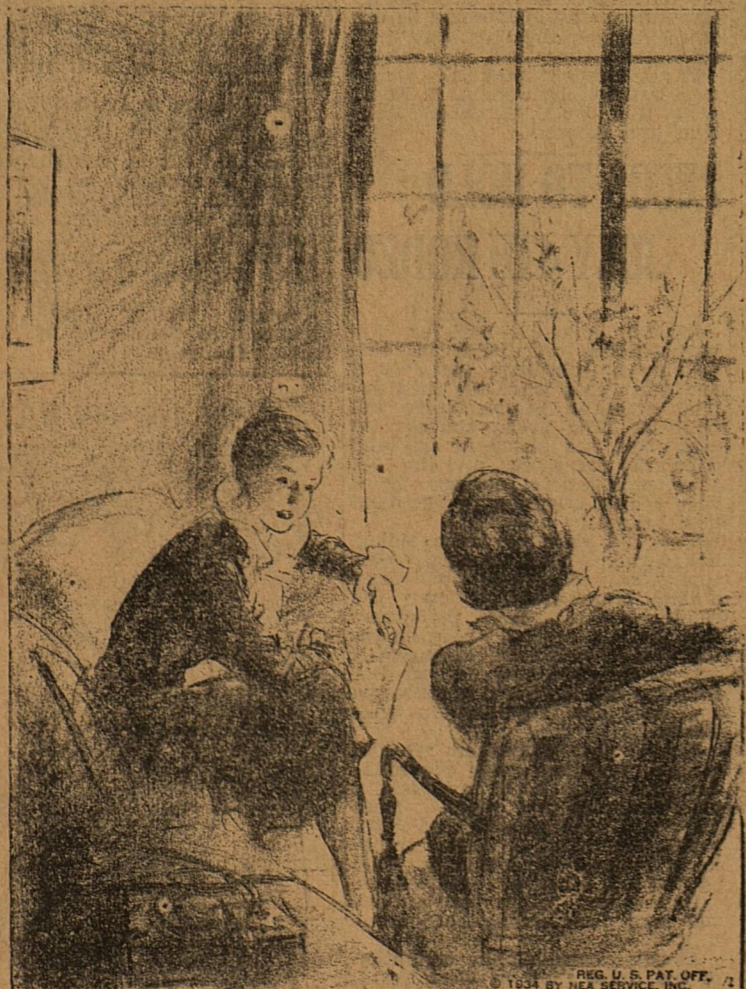

Four years ago the farmers of South Dakota were moved by accounts of a devastating drought in Arkansas. They not only sympathized; they did something about it. They sent to Arkansas carloads and truckloads of food for people and feed for animals.

Today, shipments of hay and other provender are on their way to South Dakota from Arkansas. A score of carloads of hay and cottonseed meal have been pledged by Arkansas farmers to be sent northward.

The Arkansas farmers didn't forget. Their governor, Futrell, gave them a chance to show that "the people of this state never forget a friend."

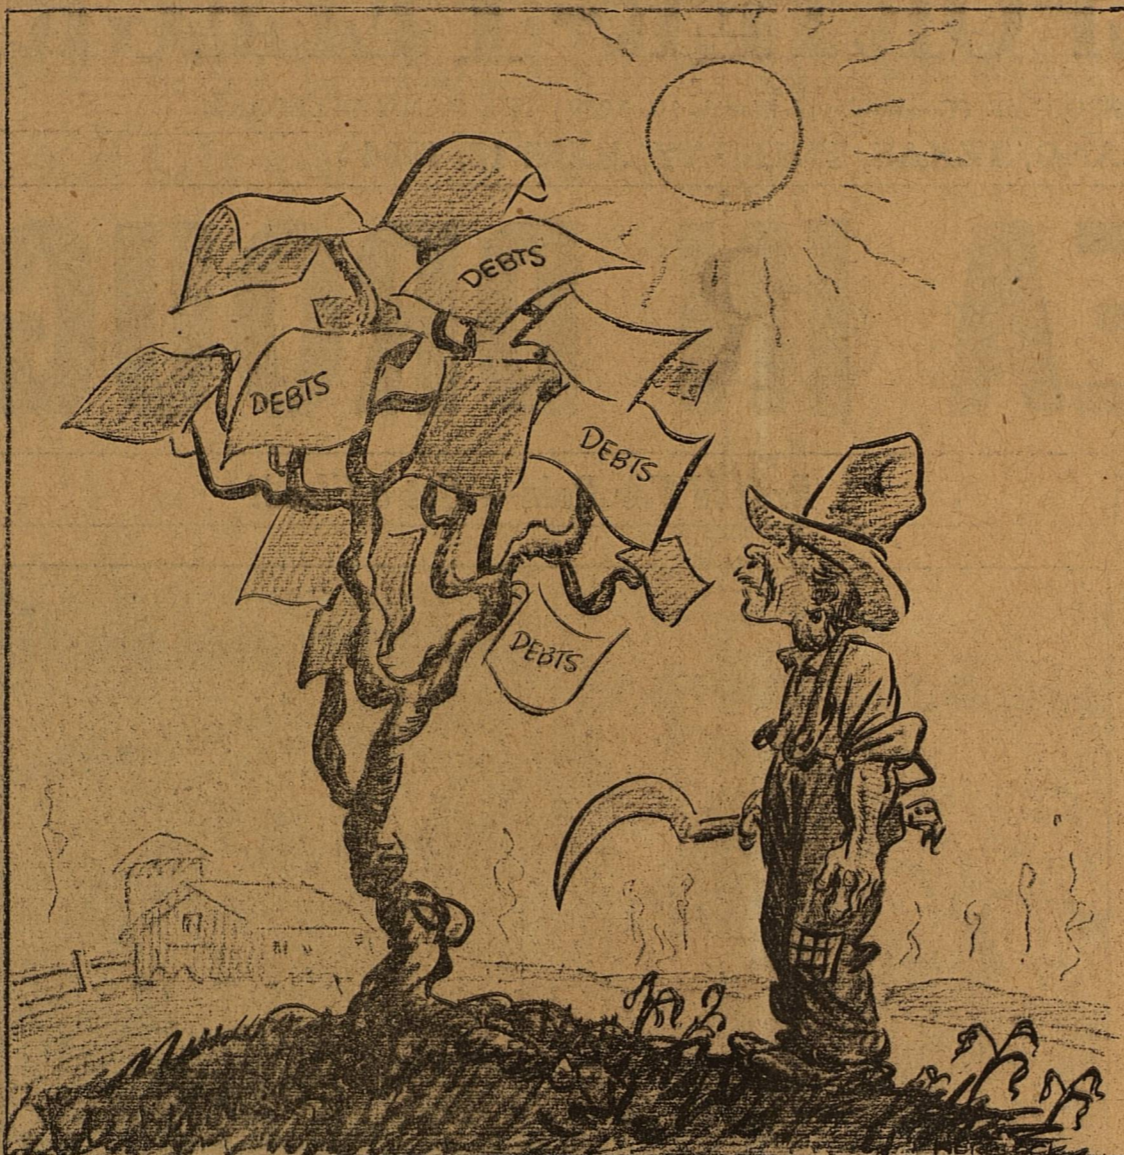

And the bread which the South Dakota farmers cast upon the waters in 1930 is returning to them after four years. So long as such things happen, we know that gratitude, and sympathy, and neighborliness are not dead, but need only a tragedy like the seared crops of the northwest to bring them forth.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

there was so little activity among candidates? Maybe I haven't been looking around but it seems to me that they are waiting until the last minute to begin their electioneering.

However, I am glad to note the absence of mud slinging. The candidate who slings mud usually does so to make a screen to hide his own record.

It's somewhat like the old saying, "A hit dog always howls." That applies in any business, not just to politics.

When a man reaches his forties it's all right for him to feel like he is 25 but it usually isn't becoming for him to try to act like a 25-year old.

Janet Gaynor Grows up in Film at Yucca

Janet Gaynor thinks that playing the role of a very young and very idealistic maiden in about 20 pictures is enough.

In her new Fox Film offering, "Change of Heart," now playing at the Yucca theatre, the screen's foremost romantic actress is surprising millions of admirers with a characterization radically different from anything she has ever before attempted.

The new vehicle, which, incidentally, marks the first professional reunion of Miss Gaynor and Charles Farrell in a year and a half, presents the petite star as a college graduate who goes forth from the halls of learning to face a depression-torn world. With calm philosophy and a microscopic bankroll she sets bravely about the task of making good in the hostile atmosphere of a big city, where she finds her university degree "with highest honors" of little use.

This role, calling as it does for a maturity and womanliness heretofore foreign to her portrayals, is acclaimed by film fans. James Dunn and Ginger Rogers have the principal supporting roles in the picture, with Evelyn Meyer, Guyav Von Seyffertitz, Irene Franklyn and other favorites in important parts. John Blystone directed the picture, taken from Kathleen Norris' novel, "Manhattan Love Song."

Zoo attendants did not suggest where Eddy should hunt for the eggs, or why five pounds of them were wanted—immediately.

Enrollment at Training School Is Seventy-three

Seventy-three young people enrolled at the Baptist training school Monday evening, making a large increase over previous first night enrollments.

Five courses are being offered this year. A primary class in story telling is being taught by Miss Evelyn Adams. Classes in junior and intermediate manuals are being conducted by Mrs. George H. Hallom and Miss Marjorie Waro. The Rev. Willis Ray, district missionary who is conducting the school, is giving instruction on advanced B. Y. P. U. methods for seniors and adults. The Rev. Winston F. Borum is teaching "Pledge's Progress."

Classes are divided into two periods, 7 o'clock to 7:45 and 8 o'clock to 8:45. The 15 minute intermission is spent in recreation. Refreshments last night were served by the Alice Smith circle of the Women's Missionary society.

Classes will be held every night this week. On Friday evening a brief review of the courses will be held, after which examinations will be given. Concluding the training school will be a party for all those enrolled given on the church lawn by the Evangelists.

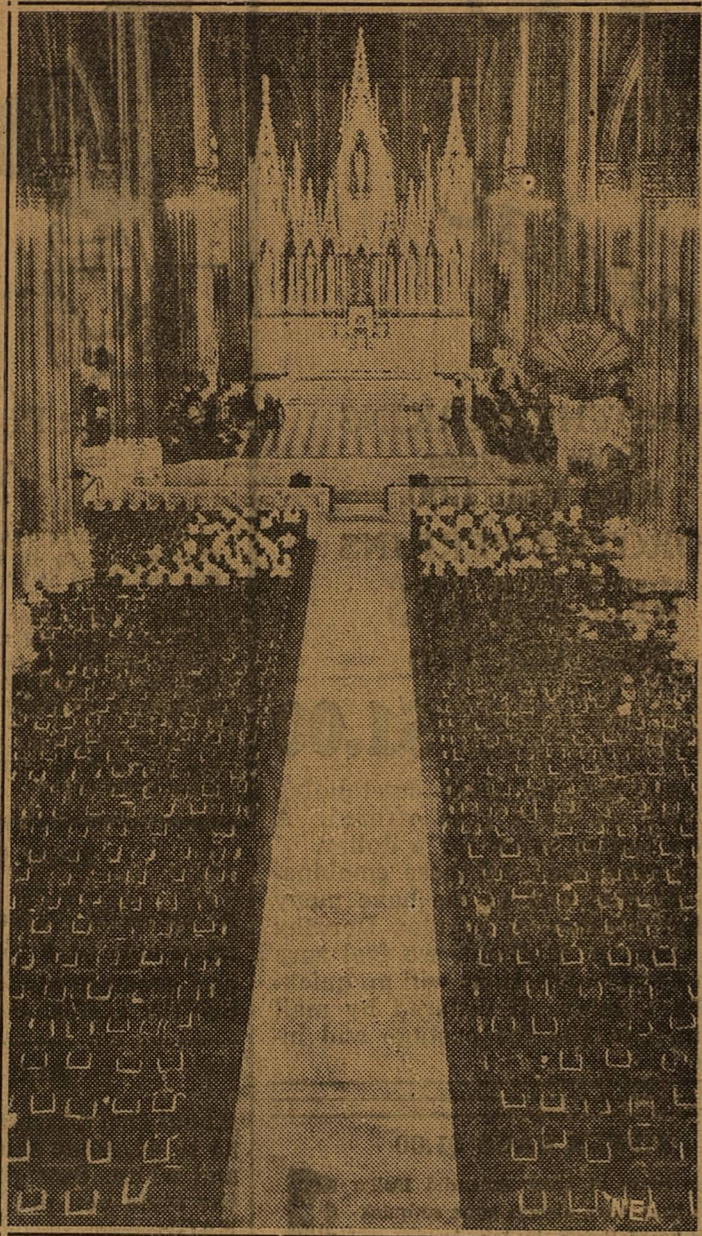

Vickers Students in Recital Thursday

The Vickers studio will present a group of students in recital on Thursday evening at the Yucca theatre about 8 o'clock. Included in this recital, which is the last recital of the year's work, will be interpretative ballet, acrobatic, song and tap numbers.

Those who will take part in this recital are Francis Burris, Rose Kincaid, Joyce Beauchamp, Maie Beauchamp, Granada Saye, Nell Hornsby, Janie McMullan, Marguerite Bivens, Ernestine Holder, Clayton Upham, Elizabeth Ann Cowden, Mary Lee Sluder, and Sharon Lee Cornelius.

Navy Worships in Famous Shrine

Midland Party To Attend Fair

A party of six have already signed up to leave Midland June 20 for Chicago and six or seven other boys and girls are planning to make the trip. The party will be conducted by Mrs. Paul T. Vickers, who conducted a party to the World's fair last year.

Those who have already completed plans to go are: Misses Doris Black, Eddy Gene Cole, Leona Layvon, Madeline Roberts, Kitty Carpenter of El Paso and Nab L. Dickey of Phoenix, Ariz. The trip this year includes a boat sail to Milwaukee. The party will be taken for extensive sight-seeing trips over Chicago by Mrs. Vickers, who formerly lived there while attending dramatic and expression schools. It is expected 10 or 12 will go from here in the June 20 party, as the total expense, rail fare, hotels, meals, and World fair expenses, including the boat and sight-seeing trips is less than $65 from Midland and return.

The clean Center Leaves are the mildest leaves They Taste Better!

We like telling you that Luckies are made of only clean center-leaves. For the clean center leaves are the mildest leaves—they cost more—they taste better. And we're proud of the fact that these choice tobaccos receive the benefit of Lucky Strike's famous process—"It's toasted" for throat protection. But here's a point that's just as impressive: Luckies are round, firm, fully packed with long golden strands of fine tobacco—no loose ends. That's why Luckies "keep in condition"—why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out. Truly, Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat.

HARDWARE MEN GO INTO EXTRA INNINGS TO BEAT ICEMEN 6 TO 5

SCRUGGS HAS HARD TIME WITH THE GOODYEARS

It took nine innings to do it, but Midland Hardware won a decision Monday night over Southern Ice, 6 and 5.

Hardware led 4 to 3 until the sixth when White put them out a run ahead when he tripled with two on the paths. Hardware tied the score in its frame and won in the ninth when Ronald Morgan doubled with two on ahead.

Two costly errors on first base contributed to the Icemens' loss.

In the second game, Scruggs out-hit Lowe's Goodyear club 12 to 11, but made seven errors while the rubbermen were making only one. Scruggs took the game, 12 and 9, by virtue of having stacked up an imposing lead earlier in the game. In the ninth the Loves converted five hits into four runs.

Scruggs used E. B. Estes on the mound, saving Straughan for tonight's tussle with Hokus Pokus.

Albany Cowmen Buy 300 Head in Midland

E. G. Cooper and Jess W. Reynolds are here from Albany, preparing to ship Wednesday 300 head of cows and calves, bought from Frank Ingham, to their Shackelford county ranch.

Cooper, in addition to being a cattleman, has been interested in race horses for the past twenty years. At present he has two animals ready to start at the Bainbridge, Ohio, meet, which opens June 23. The horses were wintered at Bainbridge under the care of a trainer. Cooper will go there soon to see the animals run in a number of northern and midwestern meets.

A brown mare, six years old, named Ill Will, has been run by Cooper since she was a two year old. She is sired by Runfro, out of Grace Colnett, and has been a substantial winner in the so-called cheap races.

The other horse is a four year old brown gelding named Fred Baker, sired by Sunshot out of a Divonico mare. He runs the 5/2 furlongs and three-quarters while the mare is entered in events ranging from the three-quarters to a mile and 70 yards.

WIN BY BAER WOULD HELP THE GAME BELIEVES THE OLD MANASSA MAULER

BY JACK DEMPSEY
 NEW YORK—His international flavor adds interest to the 15-round contest between Primo Carnera and Max Baer in the Garden Bowl on June 14, but not as much as the champion being a foreigner should. A fighter has to be colorful to draw the people no matter where he hails from.

The fans demand a punching heavyweight champion, a clubber, and, unfortunately for Carnera, he is a slapper-downer. Primo seldom sends the custom-er home with something to talk about which is why they haven't cottoned to him to any great extent.

There is no question but that a decisive and satisfactory victory by Baer would put back some of the old-time zip in the game.

I know how strong and attractive an international battle can be for the fans of this country. I remember the furore over my contest with Georges Carpentier—the Battle of the Century, Tex Rickard, prince of promoters, called it—in Jersey City on July 2, 1921.

It was America against France that murky afternoon, and Rickard and we principals cashed in handsomely. The spectacle was the real turning point toward the golden era of professional boxing. It brought the first million-dollar gate.

I never will forget Rickard's meeting me at the arena he had pitched on Boy's thirty acres. It was one of the mighty few times that I saw him nervous. Perhaps it was excitement.

He led me to the uppermost tier. "Didn't I tell you!" exclaimed the ordinarily cold Rickard, stomping his cane, as we stood proudly overlooking the tremendous turn-out. Tex, the old prospector, saw pay dirt again, and for the first time I felt the thrill of striking a bonanza.

"This thing is just starting," ejaculated Rickard. "Now hurry up and get dressed. It looks like rain. And don't kill this fellow, or you'll ruin the game."

I want to take this opportunity
