50 "Hands" Work 80 Acres Monday For Blind Man

Suggesting the time when neighbors gathered for miles around to clear a farmer's land, or the old log rollings of the east, 50 Midland farmers Monday flocked to the farm of A. B. Wilson and completely worked his 80 acre crop.

Wilson, who lives two miles north of the city, is almost blind. He has been unable to do much work.

Farmers brought teams, cultivators, knives and hoes, and finished the 80 acres at 5 o'clock.

A barbecue was served at noon, the beef having been donated by Clarence Schaefer. John Roberts furnished bread and various other foodstuffs.

Wilson is writing through Peace Justice B. C. Girdley a letter of thanks to every one who assisted.

Allred Promises to Help In Warrant Controversy

Attorney General James V. Allred Monday was rung in on the last-minute fight to get pink boll worm warrants issued. Midland county farmers in time for paying taxes by the Saturday midnight deadline, when Sam R. Preston, friend and political supporter of Allred, talked with him over long-distance telephone.

Allred, at Lufkin for a campaign speech was informed the comptroller's office laid the blame for issuing warrants to a holdup in orders resulting from a pending legal opinion from the attorney general's department.

Allred said the matter had not been brought to his attention, even though he had been in his office at regular intervals taken from campaigning over the state, and that he would immediately take up the matter with First Assistant Attorney General Yarborough.

AGRI. COMMISSIONER WORKS IN MIDLAND'S BEHALF

J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, visited the attorney general's office in Austin Monday urging that immediate decision be made regarding the issuance of pink boll worm warrants.

This was a message received in Midland Monday night. The report also said the attorney general's department sent one of its men to the comptroller's office to confer on "all the pink boll worm county pink boll worm warrant orders" or the "approximately 100," as variously reported by Fred Chapman of the compensation claims board and the comptroller's office.

The chamber of commerce Monday sent a message to the attorney general's department calling for an ending of the delays, and red tape which are keeping farmers from getting their money. B. C. Girdley, Sheriff A. C. Francis, the county judge, and Frank Dale, have also wired, phoned and written urging speedy action.

MEASURE SOUGHT WOULD TRIM MUCH RED TAPE

If the insistence of J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture, is complied with, Midland and other farmers who may in the future have to farm under pink boll worm or other restrictive requirements may escape paying costs accrued as these which have accrued under the present system, according to state officials.

The legislature passed a bill in 1929 to pay for machinery and equipment used in fumigation. McDonald then, the records show, urged compliance with the law, but the money was never made available. The commission of agriculture has renewed his demands that hereafter the state pay these fumigation costs, so the farmer may not be penalized. If McDonald's views win the favor of Midland and any other counties working under state imposed restrictions will not have to wait four or five years to get their money, the law indicates.

MRS. HALEY SEEKS TO GET GOVERNOR'S AID

An urgent plea to Governor Finckson to hasten issuance of pink boll worm warrants was made this week by Mrs. John Haley. Mrs. Haley pointed out the necessity of paying these warrants this week, if at all possible, for farmers might escape tax penalties.

On a previous occasion, Mrs. Haley went to Austin in behalf of the pink boll worm bill and in a conference with the governor was promised she would sign the bill, which she subsequently did.

State Candidate Is Here Monday

Dolph B. Tillison, of Athens, serving his fourth term as clerk in Henderson county was here Monday serving the voters in behalf of his race for state comptroller as he extends his tour of Texas to western counties. He has made most of the eastern counties. From here he went to Sweetwater and to the south and north parts of the state.

Tillison farmed and went to school in his youth, later qualifying to teach, in which profession he was active for 20 years. He was elected county clerk in Henderson in 1930.

His platform pronouncement contains a declaration against job trading for benefit of kinfolks. He also suggests that state employees should not be required to contribute to campaign funds of head officials. Administration of the office in economical manner and employment of efficient help, with care that the business of the office shall be administered for the benefit of the taxpayers is an added campaign promise.

PATIENTS IMPROVING

Mrs. E. H. Shaw underwent an operation in a Midland hospital last night and is reported to be resting well.

Anne Ulmer, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. M. C. Ulmer, was reported improving today, her fever dropping to 102 degrees.

$32,792 GOES TO MARTIN FARMERS

Martin county farmers this week will receive $32,792.05 in cash.

The government checks were received Tuesday by S. A. Debnam, Martin-Midland farm agent, and he will deliver them to farmers from his Stanton office Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The $32,792.05 will go to 535 farmers, and there are 134 more checks yet to come, which will add about $8,000 more farm agent to Martin county, the farm agent said.

These first checks are but half of the total. The remainder will be paid in August or September. This money represents cotton acreage rentals.

Midland county checks are expected any day—in fact, were expected last week.

Many farmers will use part of their checks for payment of taxes, in order to escape added penalties and costs which go into effect after Saturday.

Equalization Board In Session 2nd Day

The commissioners court, sitting as an equalization board, was in its second day of session today.

Private owners attended the hearing Monday and approved, for the most part, the proceedings. Representatives of oil companies and of utilities appeared today.

Valuation last year was reduced to $1.10, and it was hoped it would not be necessary to increase the figure.

Big Spring Winner Of Match by 24-16

The downhill race of the championship of the Sand Belt Golf association is showing Big Spring worthy of Midland's steel-shafts.

Representatives of oil companies and of utilities appeared today. Valuation last year was reduced to $1.10, and it was hoped it would not be necessary to increase the figure.

But Big Spring is not dropping behind, even if its club is not picking up, in the race. While Midland was winning a 24-16 decision over Colorado Sunday, Big Spring took Stanton for the same score. That has been going on since the recent Midland-Big Spring match, when Midland lacked only two points of clean-sweeping the hosts.

The two-city rivalry is growing in interest.

CANDIDATE WITHDRAWS

BIG SPRING.—Smith McKinnon withdrew as a candidate for the office of sheriff of Howard county. He said he was withdrawing because of financial strain brought on by the prolonged illness of his wife.

McKinnon, now constable of precinct No. 1, expressed his appreciation to "my friends for their support and cooperation" in his candidacy and regretted that he was forced by financial conditions to refrain from seeing his campaign through.

PRODUCTION CUT IN EAST TEXAS IS SUGGESTED TODAY

New Order Expected To Be Posted Immediately

AUSTIN, June 26, (U.P.)—Don Griffin, chief petroleum engineer of the railroad commission, today recommended a reduction in the East Texas oil allowable of 108,640 barrels, at the statewide hearing.

He testified that 400,000 barrels daily was the most efficient withdrawal rate for the field and asked that the output be curbed to that figure. The reduction would require a new order limiting the well production to four per cent of the higher potential. The June 22 production, on the basis of five per cent, was 508,640 barrels.

Current orders expire Saturday and new ones were expected by the last of the week.

In the ship's radio room, his role may be more than that of an ordinary seaman, since it will be connecting link between the president and the world during the cruise. There will be no newspaper men aboard the vessel. All information regarding the president will be radioed to Washington, and there released to the press.

ROBT. JONES IS IDENTIFIED MON.

EL PASO, June 26.—Robert Jones, held in Port of Spain, Trinidad, Monday was identified as Arthur C. Wilson, accused slayer of Mrs. Irene DeBolt, Sheriff Chris P. Fox was advised in a cablegram from Dist. Attorney Roy Jackson.

Leo Rattigan, brother of the slain woman, identified Jones as Wilson, the district attorney said.

In the laconic cablegram—"Rattigan identifies Wilson"—Sheriff Fox saw the successful conclusion of a spectacular search throughout the world since Nov. 7, 1933, when the nude body of Mrs. DeBolt, rich and attractive Cleveland widow, was found on the desert near Van Horn.

Sheriff Fox said that the district attorney probably will leave Port of Spain today with Jones on the return trip if extradition is granted.

Jones, a lone steward on the liner Lady Nelson, was arrested June 2 by colonial police on request of United States authorities. He was first questioned in Georgetown, British Guiana, and placed under suspicion because of his alleged resemblance to Wilson.

Asst. District Attorney John W. Penn said the identification apparently was made when Mr. Jackson and Rattigan visited Jones in his cell today.

The extradition hearing was set for this morning.

TYLER, June 26, (U.P.)—Charges against Dr. E. F. Jarrel of Tyler in connection with the alleged sale of state jobs were dismissed today.

If 'I's and Ands' Made Pots, Pans— We Want Our $40!

If every Midlander had been given the $40 per capita appropriation made by the New Deal session congress adjourned last week, there would have been $180,000 jingling in the pockets of Midland residents.

Closing its sessions with record appropriations, more than five billion dollars, congress has spent $40 for each person in the United States. Midland population is estimated at 4,500, which multiplied by $40 would give a total of $180,000. The 1930 census accredited Midland with a population of 5,484.

Dowell Incorporated Gets Warehouse Started Today

Construction started Tuesday morning on the West Texas-New Mexico station of Dowell Incorporated, the largest oil well chemical treating compound manufacturers in the world.

Contract was let to V. O. Baile of Midland to build a steel warehouse 60 by 30 feet. Two 10,000 gallon steel storage tanks will be built, and from one to five tank cars will be on the company's siding at Midland. The warehouse is located immediately west of the old Abilene Plumbing Supply building.

The coming of Dowell Incorporated to Midland added immediately five families, and a single man, three men are already here and three truck operators will be transferred from Odessa to Midland within about two weeks.

Negotiations for a location for the plant in Midland were started about a month ago between John Staudt, now promoted to branch research engineer at Tulsa, and the Midland committee of commerce, which obtained trackage data and housing facilities for the men. The final contract letting was in charge of N. E. Crawford, representative of the board of directors of Dowell Incorporated, with headquarters in Midland, Mich., who is in Midland, now in personal charge of starting the new station.

The company will operate five trucks from the Midland supply depot to all areas of West Texas and New Mexico. Midland is also office headquarters for the company, offices having already been taken in the Petroleum building at Hobbs and others, according to Crawford, may be opened in other West Texas points, but all will be under the Midland office.

Crawford, who is in charge of operations throughout the Midland area, said Tuesday, the company might increase its storage at Midland by 30,000 gallons and was building for future expansion.

The city is laying a two-inch water main to the supply depot and the Texas Electric Service company is installing a 3-phase electric power unit for use in running pumps and compressors.

The material is non-inflammable and non-volatile. It is an inhibitive acid, whose main component is hydrochloric acid. The company owns patents on its inhibitive process. The raw acid, which is said to eat on castings as well as lime and sand, is used, and has instituted suits for what it alleges are infringements of patents.

The nearest plants to Midland are at Wichita Falls and Pampa. Other supply depots are being opened at Newton, Kans., Seminole, Okla., Luling, La., and Bastrop, La. Midland is to be connected with the main branch office at Tulsa by teleype.

O. N. Maness is manager at Midland and headquarters will be in Ward B. Tennis and E. A. Keeler, and these three, with the truck drivers to move here within about two weeks and office secretary, making a personnel of seven to start.

Dowell Incorporated is a subsidiary of The Dow Chemical company of Midland, Mich., one of the largest chemical manufacturers in the United States and the world's biggest manufacturers of some chemicals, such as bromides and phenol. The company also has a subsidiary at Wilmington, N. C., which makes bromine from sea water, making 97 parts of bromine from a million parts of sea water.

This is the principal chemical used in making city gasoline.

The Dow Chemical company also owns the Long Beach, Calif., which makes bromine from sea water, making 97 parts of bromine from a million parts of sea water.

Depression Helps Some, Prof. Says

FORT WORTH (U.P.)—The popular idea that a business depression injures the country is a fallacy, believes Dr. R. H. Montgomery, professor of economics at the University of Texas.

"A depression hurts some but it helps others," Dr. Montgomery explained to members of the Women's club here.

For instance, he said, 25 commodities have not declined in price during the depression and some actually have gone higher.

WOMEN AT WORK

The girl at the typewriter, the girl behind the sales counter, and the woman engaged in skilled professional work are so much a part of the economic picture in the United States that it is hard to imagine a great city without its women workers.

Yet Herbert S. Mills, professor emeritus of economics at Vassar College, reminded alumnae of that institution the other day that woman's freedom in choosing a career in the home, business or professional life has been definitely curtailed in three great countries, and warned that if they value this freedom they must be prepared to defend it.

In Germany women once more are taking the Victorian role of home-maker—and giving up all work outside the home. In Italy they are honored only as mothers of men. In Russia, on the contrary, home life is ignored and the wife who spends her days toiling in the factory or fields must forego her heritage of home-making and rearing a family.

No matter how one may feel about the desirability of women confining their activities to the home or working outside it, young women in this country who have definite leanings toward one or the other—or wish to combine both—should give thanks for the privilege. For others, this particular phase of the German, Italian, and Russian innovations in government remains one of the most interesting to watch.

CANADIAN RECIPROCITY

The new tariff deal, which empowers the president to make mutually beneficial import and export agreements with other countries; adjusting tariffs accordingly, opens the way to new consideration of closer relations with Canada.

It was in 1911 that President Taft tried to engineer a reciprocity treaty with Canada. It was passed by Congress, but later rejected by the Dominion government.

Now it is reported that Canada again is exploring the possibilities of such arrangement. With the completely new view of foreign trade which now prevails throughout the world, there are possibilities here.

Five years ago the United States and Canada carried on the greatest two-nation commerce in the world. Today there must still be vast possibilities for trade between us, which will be equally advantageous to both. Certainly no two nations are more closely linked by geography and every consideration of true neighborliness that should enable them to help each other in trade.

There is reason to believe that, among the many trade proposals which will be put before President Roosevelt under his new tariff powers, one of the first will be plans for wider and mutually beneficial trade with Canada.

EVERYONE A GARDENER

School children in Los Angeles and other cities learn gardening just as they learn the multiplication table or spelling. Courses begin in the third and fourth grades for those who wish it, and are required in the fifth and sixth grades.

The courses may be continued through high school. Neighbors donate land for school gardens; volunteers tend them through the vacation season.

If there is anything better to teach children than some element knowledge of growing things and how to make them grow, it is hard to think what it might be. Pathetic is the ignorance of many city-bound people of how to grow vegetables or flowers or trees, how to make a garden or landscape a lawn.

Every man is better equipped for life with this knowledge, and better off for even so shallow a contact with Mother Earth. Many a school system might profitably adopt this plan.

The one game that has no play-off after a tie is the race to a railroad crossing.

CHASE FOUR RUNS ACROSS IN SIXTH TO SEW UP GAME MARKED BY PITCHING DUEL; ICERS MOVE UP A NOTCH

Midland Hardware's playground ball team planted a bomb under Scruggs Motors last night in the eighth league and blew the Chrysler and Plymouth drivers out of first place, a position Scruggsmen had figured belonged to them if simple.

Four runs in the sixth inning turned the trick, after the Scruggsmen had led 3-1 up to that time. The game ended 5-4. Johnny Sherron was on the mound for the winners.

The winning of Southern Ice over Midland Auto Supply, by an 18-7 runaway, brought the Icemen into the top second place with the Scruggs team.

All in all, it was a great night for Hardware and for the Icemen.

The box scores:

Imagine the surprise of the Wales golfer who, upon stepping in a trap to play his ball, began sinking out of sight. He was rescued just before his chin reached the quicksand.

A Hawick golfer, in driving at the second hole, placed his ball in the headlights of a passing car. The motorist drove 10 miles before stopping, giving the player the longest drive of his life.

John Ball once wagered he could play Hoylake in a dense fog, (1) under 90, (2) not lose a ball, (3) finish under two hours. He won all three bets, shooting 91 with a black ball.

A Hertfordshire golfer killed a partridge in flight with his tee shot and was fined by the game warden for not having a hunting license.

Finding himself up against a poor opponent in the semi-final round of a tournament, a Mr. Harry Dearth, as a sporting gesture, put on a complete suit of medieval armor. He was beaten 2 to 1.

At Duddingston a player's spoon second shot landed and stuck on the back of a sheep. The player, after much coaxing, managed to persuade the animal to stand still long enough for him to make a niblick shot to the green.

Fields Starring as A Nutty Inventor in 'You're Telling Me'

"You're Telling Me" is the title of W. C. Fields' first starring picture for Paramount, which comes to the Ritz theatre tomorrow and Thursday.

Featured with Fields are Larry "Buster" Crabbe, Joan Marsh and Adrienne Ames. Erle Kenton directed.

The picture, the screen play of which was written by Walter DeLeon and Paul Jones, tells the humorous story of the adventures which befall a goofy inventor who tries to be a big name in his home town.

His daughter can't marry the man she loves, because she lives on the wrong side of the tracks. "Decent people just won't associate with them Bisbees," say the high-hats.

But when old pop runs into a foreign princess and they become side-kicks, things change. And the clever manner in which she and Fields turn the tables on the town, and bring about his daughter's happiness, brings this laugh-filled film drama to a most hilarious ending.

Spencer Tracy at Yucca Wednesday In a Comedy Riot

One of the funniest plays in the history of the modern theatre, often called a "classic in laughs," comes to the Yucca theatre Wednesday.

It is "The Show-Off" starring Spencer Tracy with Madge Evans at the head of a notable cast.

From the evening of its first production on the stage of the Playhouse, New York, "The Show-Off" was a smash hit. It broke attendance records during its New York showing, and since has been played in virtually every city in America.

The playwright was George Kelly, to whom the play is said to have netted a fortune.

Istanbul Noises Oriental In Spite of Modern Times

ISTANBUL (U.P.)—Though Istanbul has been Europeanized in many respects to the eye, it still remains an Oriental city to the ear.

The muezzin's call from the minaret is less heard, but the "cries of Istanbul" outdo all traffic noises.

The street cars clatter and the chauffeurs make great use of their horns, but the street vendors surpass them all.

With the corks, who do their little part in the symphony, the water vendor arrives in the small hours of the morning.

Practically all houses receive the city's water supply. But nobody of any standing will drink water from the tap although it is quite healthy.

For internal use they will take nothing less than water from one of the famous 23 springs which now flow in the suburbs of the metropolis.

The sale of this water is an important business and the water vendor is a prominent figure in the city's life.

There are two types of them. Most of the vendors carry their barrel of water on their backs, while the more prosperous have a cart.

Their call is a deep monosyllabic basso.

Next come the vegetable dealers, who call out their different wares. Simultaneously the fruit men arrive, closely followed by the hawking butchers.
