BUCK IS PASSED BACK AND FORTH IN WARRANT ROW

Office of Attorney
General Retards
Money Flow

The "buck passing" stage was reached today in correspondence explaining why state deficiency warrants have not been mailed to Midland farmers to remunerate them for losses incurred in other years' sterilization of seed and fumigation of cotton.

Not satisfied at a telegraph answer to his own wire query Saturday, Peace Justice B. C. Girdley talked by long distance to the comptroller's office at Austin this morning. Mr. Girdley charged the warrant department in that office, said the whole machinery is being retarded because of a pending opinion from the attorney general's office, saying 100 vouchers, the Midland county have been sent over to the comptroller's office, but that these cannot be mailed until a technicality is resolved.

The opinion concerns affidavits. In several instances, landowners have made "blanket affidavits" for themselves, his tenants and successors, which is violation of the provisions prescribing payment of claims. The claims cannot be paid until all have been approved or disapproved, as the appropriation made by the legislature will have to be prorated if the amount is insufficient to pay in full.

The ruling on the affidavit technically was asked for last Monday, but no reply has been given, Breeler said.

Girdley, Sheriff A. C. Francis and County Judge Elliott H. Barron have done considerable correspondence with the claim board, the comptroller and the attorney general's office, seeking to get the warrants mailed Midland farmers in time for payment of taxes before further and costs are assessed. Instalments of the federal land bank also are coming due.

Delay in payment of pink boll worm claims caused by the comptroller's office having not yet mailed the warrants to farmers according to a letter from Ben F. Chapman to Frank Dale, Midland farmer.

"The office delivered some days ago all claims from Midland and Martin counties to the comptroller for him to write warrants. They will have Howard county in the hands of the comptroller not later than Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, as you see any delay on your warrants, other than for writing, will be charged not to the board, but to the comptroller's office. Of course, I know that they are very much crowded with these extra warrants to write in addition to their regular number. Waving all unexpected delay, warrants should begin to move into your territory next week."

Slang Translated Into Latin British Pastime

LONDON. (UP)—Always enamored of Latin, educated circles in Britain are digesting with interest the new crop of "modern Latin" words put out by Societas Latinae of Munich, the society of scholars founded not long ago to keep that ancient tongue alive for modern international use.

The new crops includes: Crossword puzzles—crucigramma. Bobbed hair—comptus puerilis. Lipstick—stilus fucans. Leading editorial—caput primum.

Bill of exchange—syngrapha. The society's reports contain articles by technicians suggesting words and phrases which will keep Latin abreast of the times in all the sciences and a useful medium for international conversation.

All this is quite in the British key where the teaching of Latin is, in many schools, highly modern. British school boys, age ten, are now busy translating into Latin, "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?" Boys of the Westminster school give each year an original play in Latin which contains so many amusing jokes and bits of modern slang that the London Times prints it in full for the benefit of readers. "Crucigramma" is now a household word in thousands of British homes.

THE FORECAST

WEST TEXAS: Generally fair tonight and Tuesday.

Famous Flier's New Plane Will Not Be Finished

PATTERSON, June 25. (UP)—The plane in which James Robert Wedell, famed speed flier, planned to seek a new record in the London to Melbourne, Australia, flight, will never be completed.

Wedell, who held the land plane record of nearly 305 miles an hour, was killed yesterday when the plane, in which he was giving a novice a first lesson crashed at 200 feet. Observers believed the student "froze" to the stick.

Hitler Aide Makes Merry in Class Parade

Cutting up like any old grad back for a class reunion, Dr. Ernst Hanfstaengl, aide to Chancellor Hitler, is shown in a merry mood as he marched with his Harvard classmates of '09 from the riotous confetti battle in the stadium to the annual baseball game with Yale. Sure, that's a Nazi salute.

TWO HELD FOR BEATING WOMAN

FT. WORTH, June 25. (UP)—Lester Sterne and wife were held here today on robbery charges in connection with the beating of two aged women in the Crosscut community near Brownwood last Tuesday.

The Brown county grand jury was investigating the case. The two were brought here to avert possible mob violence. Mrs. Lige Debusk, 83, and Mrs. Addie Housheller, 80, were recovering from head wounds inflicted by invaders who took $40.

TECH STUDENTS TOUR

LUBBOCK. (UP)—An expedition of Texas Technological college archaeologists will leave for Mexico July 19 and return August 23. The trip will be a part of the regular work of the college and will carry advanced credit.

The party will spend four weeks in studying ruins, lectures, and inspection of ruins, museums, galleries, libraries, palaces, and monuments, under the direction of Dr. W. C. Holden, leader of the recent Yaqui expedition into Sonora, Mexico.

URNS TO FROG LEGS

DILLON, Mont. (UP)—Montana has a new industry. W. G. Squires and H. L. Tolley have imported a number of Louisiana bullfrogs, whose progeny, they contend, will soon be supplying Rocky Mountain states with succulent "frog legs." So far as is known, this is the first time that frogs have been raised commercially in Montana.

ACTS AS STUDENT'S "EYES"

TIPPIN, O. (UP)—To act as "eyes" for his blind brother, Raymond Hixon is in Cincinnati serving as his reader during examinations at the University of Cincinnati. The brother, Robert Hixon, is sightless as the result of an industrial accident two years ago while a student at the institution.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN EXTINGUISH 2ND BUSINESS DISTRICT FIRE IN FIVE DAYS

For the second time in five days, a grave fire threat was put down when the fire department, shortly after midnight, controlled a blaze in the Palace barber shop, in the 100 block of South Main, so that it did little damage to other establishments.

All furnishings of the barber shop were destroyed. Insurance which partially covered the loss in the front of the shop did not extend to several barber chairs and other furnishings in storage in the back. It was learned from T. D. Mize, proprietor.

The alertness and skill of volunteer firemen saved the Self-Serve grocery, of which A. W. Stanley is proprietor. Damage to its establishment, separated from the barber shop only by a thin beaver board partition, was mostly from water and smoke.

SOLUTION TO WOMAN'S DEATH BEING SOUGHT

And Body Found
On Highway

DALLAS, June 25. (UP)—Police today were seeking a solution to mystery of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Arnold on a highway north-west of here. The 21-year-old woman, separated from her husband, and her two-year-old child were found lying on the highway early today after leaving a dance hall with a man.

Five boys returning from swimming happened on the body. A speeding car came along, ran over the body and continued on. It was unknown if the death later in a Dallas hospital was the result of a first injury or the second. The woman's liver and lungs were ruptured, a leg and arm were broken. Officers were seeking the identity of the man seen to leave with the woman before the body was found.

DIST. CANDIDATES DATES ANNOUNCED

The three candidates for district attorney, Frank Shubertman, Bob Hamilton and Cecil Collins, and the three candidates for district judge, C. L. Klapproth, Clyde E. Thomas and Paul Moss, have arranged for the following speaking dates:

Shubertman, July 7, Saturday, district attorneys only—Odessa, July 12, Thursday; Garden City, July 18, Wednesday; Midland, July 20, Friday.

Hamilton, July 21, Saturday (district judges only). As to Howard county, they have several speaking dates, together, and their arrangements point to five or six other public meetings, and Howard county will be thoroughly covered by the candidates.

They have not spoken at Odessa or in Garden City, nor have they had an exclusive speaking date in Midland county.

Compliance Board Ceases to Exist

The Midland NRA compliance board headed by John N. Nobles and set up by business men through the Midland chamber of commerce, and all other local compliance boards, ceased to exist June 15. The following communication from Washington was received by Nobles:

"Local NRA compliance boards, established nine months ago by National Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, in various cities across the country, are being discontinued because they have been performing, now greatly reduced in volume since permanent codes have replaced the president's agreement, in a great majority of instances, will thereafter be performed by the offices of the state NRA compliance director at Houston, Dallas, and El Paso, to whom all complaints concerning NRA violations should in the future be sent.

"Letters have been sent to all compliance boards in the United States by General Johnson, conveying the results of the present and of the administration for the almost invaluable services which they rendered in connection with the organization stage of NRA procedure, which is now yielding place to the second, or administration stage. He pointed out that although the boards were originally set up to serve for a period of 45 days, that period had been extended from time to time and that each time you have willingly and voluntarily continued to devote your time and efforts to aid in the national recovery. The president and this administration fully realize the great amount of work entailed in performing the duties which were assigned to you and sincerely appreciate the manner in which you have unselfishly donated your services in this emergency. The splendid results obtained through your efforts are to a considerable degree responsible for the success the NRA has achieved thus far in attaining the objectives of the recovery program."

"Approximately 75,000 cases have passed through the hands of the local compliance boards during the past two months. Many of them have been adjusted locally without need for further action. In the state of Texas alone, the local compliance boards, of which there were 339, have successfully adjusted 483 cases, involving the restitution of back wages amounting to $10,598.74. Literally thousands of other cases were adjusted, a credit well deserving the appreciation of the president and the administration."

JOHNSONS TO LEAVE

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Johnson and children will leave Tuesday morning for Chicago and Duluth, Minn. After attending the international exposition, Mrs. Johnson and the children will visit relatives at Duluth. Mrs. Johnson's former home, and Mr. Johnson will return here.

Smile Vanishes for Pastor's Daughter

Her usual smile and self assurance gone, Norma Milten soberly enters Dedham, Mass., court in custody of Sheriff Caldwell before a fearful session in which she heard a witness link her to the hold-up murder of two policemen of the Needham, Mass., trust company. The 19-year-old daughter of a clergyman, she is charged with being accessory in the crime, for which her husband and two of his associates have already been convicted.

RECOVERY DRIVE HITS NEW PEAK

WASHINGTON, June 25. (UP)—The federal reserve monthly review today reported a new peak in the recovery program since the speculative boom last August.

Figures showed that the May industrial activity was 87 per cent of the 1929-25 average, compared with April's 86 per cent and November's 72 per cent. Increased activity in steel mills, construction and petroleum office decreases in automobiles and textiles.

Turner Official of Highway Association

R. H. Turner, business manager of Hotel Paso Del Norte in El Paso, has been named secretary of the Highway and America Highway association. Turner is well known to many Midland people.

"I feel that we are indeed fortunate in securing his services considering the circumstances under which he is taking the position. He is aware of the association's present financial condition and realizes that the success of his undertaking depends upon his ability to organize and raise funds. However, he is so well sold on the roadway that he is willingly undertaking the job."

Former Principal Seale Visits Here

S. W. Seale, former principal of Midland high school, visited friends in Midland Monday while on route to Andrews on business. Seale has been superintendent of public schools at Sinton for four years, and will head the schools again next year. The former principal, who was here in 1923 said he failed to recognize the new, modern city of Midland as compared with the village of 10 years ago.

FIVE MIDLAND RACE HORSES TO RUN THIS WEEK ON TEXAS 'BRUSH' TRACKS

Local race horses will invade some of the "brush" tracks this week, two of them making their maiden appearances.

Spence Jowell will take his two colts which have been under the training of Doc Bloss to Ackery where a barbecue, rodeo and race meet is expected to attract from 2,000 to 3,000 people Wednesday and Thursday. Races there range downward from the half mile. His four-year-old gelding, King F. and two-year-old filly, Miss Gingham, will make their maiden appearances in competition.

STANTON GANG LETS HOSTAGES GO FREE

LUBBOCK, June 25. (UP)—The search for four outlaws, led by Ed (Perchmouth) Stanton, who escaped the Lubbock jail yesterday spread to 25 West Texas counties today, with no trace of the desperadoes.

Officers patrolled the New Mexico boundary on the west and the brakes of Dickens county on the east. Stanton faced the death penalty on conviction for the slaying of Sheriff John Moseley at Tulia last January.

The others who escaped were William Doupe, sentenced to 10 years for burglary; A. H. Nelson, convicted of robbery, and J. B. Stephens, burglary.

They seized a machine gun and rifles, kidnaped Walter Posey, banker, and Campbell Elkins, assistant justice of the peace, and fled in Elkins' car. The hostages were released unharmed last night on a lonely road after the desperadoes had a three-hour start on pursuers.

The escape was effected by slugging Bedford Carpenter, deputy, with a pipe wrench from the cell bulkhead. They smashed two iron doors, took the jail keys and looted the arsenal.

The army air corps at Lubbock offered the services of an army plane in their chase and the ship was flown to Hobbs, N. M., covering much of the Texas-New Mexico border country without spotting the desperadoes' automobile.

The surprise attack of the four prisoners on Carpenter was made as he and a group of jail trustees were entering the cell block Sunday morning to feed the prisoners on the third floor.

The cell section is shut off from the remainder of the jail by a partition of solid iron, with a door of solid metal opening into a foyer to the run-around part of the cell block. A door of iron bars opens directly into the run-around. Prisoners at night are locked into cells adjacent to the run-around.

The four prisoners, all considered dangerous criminals, were locked in the same cell. They had tried and cut loose an iron strap from the cell bulkhead, and had broken or broken the metal into five strips, tried open the door leading into the run-around and then the door opening into the foyer. In that pass, the desperadoes, who were crouched, waiting for Carpenter.

Carpenter said he was attacked and beaten about the face and that he drew his gun, only to find the desperadoes quickly pinion and disarm him.

Bumby Maberry, negro trusty, weighing 130 pounds, opened a door into the cell block, and Elkins and Nelson, who was holding the desperado with a gun, ordered them to release Stanton.

The prisoners tied Carpenter's hands behind his back, and forced him into the elevator, which Nelson operated.

Posey, bank president, was standing in the lobby on the first floor, when the prisoners came down. Nelson covered him and also Elkins, who was sitting on a table in the jail front lobby. The desperadoes went into the apartment usually occupied by Jailer James M. Josey, who, with his family, is away on a vacation, and tore the telephone from the wall. Mrs. Josey went into the apartment and asked Nelson if they had killed her husband. He answered that no one would be hurt if she kept quiet.

Keys the desperadoes took from the main cell block were used to open the gun case, from which they took a sub-machine gun, two 30-30 rifles, one sawed-off shotgun and a pistol. They also found several clips of shells and a drum of cartridges for the machine gun.

The prisoners escaped in Elkin's new sedan which was parked in front of the jail. The car was seen speeding three miles west of Woodrow, west of Lubbock, then was seen near Ropesville and finally 10 miles west of the jail. The four men found a steel safe in the trunk of the car. Last May 29 officers searching a store and several saw blades in Stanton's cell. How he had obtained them, they never learned. Several days later they found in his cell a fake pistol fashioned from soap and the barrel of a fountain pen.

Gold Dust Didn't Buy Food For Coast Miner's Family

MADERA, Cal. (UP)—Like King Midas of old, J. A. Walter, a Coarsegold miner, had plenty of gold, but he and his family faced starvation.

Walter came to Madera with a small flask of gold dust he had panned from the creek, after the store at Coarsegold told him it no longer had a license to buy gold. He went into one Madera grocery and offered the dust in payment for food for himself, his wife and their five children. The store refused to take it. It was the same in other stores. Finally, he went to the county welfare department. "What am I to do?" he asked. "My family and I cannot eat gold dust and we'll starve before I can send it to San Francisco and wait for a government check to come back."

Finally, H. M. Scott, welfare officer furnished Walter with cash from his own pocket and sent the gold dust to San Francisco. Walter agreed to reimburse him from the returns.

Victims Explain No Threats Made to Them

Perchmouth Stanton's gang treated Walter Posey and Campbell H. Elkins with courtesy, they told A. F. Phillips, representative of a paper concern. Phillips was in Midland this afternoon.

"They were kind to us for the most part," Posey, banker, said. "We were kept in the car for 12 hours and carefully watched, but not threatened. When the bandits and kidnapers bought gasoline for the car they held their guns warily, but not where they could be seen."

"We were released eight miles north of Big Spring at 8 o'clock Sunday afternoon and made our way to a telephone, where I called Lubbock."

S. E. Cove of Lubbock drove to Big Spring for the men, left without the car when the bandits drove off after promising to "let you know where the car is when we are through with it. It'll be in good condition."

DEATH TOLL OF STORM IS 12

CHICAGO, June 25. (UP)—The death toll of two storms reached 12 today, with six fatalities from the week end gale which swept Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois, doing damage of $1,000,000.

Midwest deaths from drowning and fire numbered 10 over the week end. The first storm Thursday took six lives.

MARRIED ON FERRY

GOOSE CREEK. (P)—No one would accuse Mr. and Mrs. Joe Atkins of Goose Creek of being orthodox in the choice of a place for the wedding. They took their marriage vows on the San Jacinto river ferry at Morgan Point.

"I was riding across the ferry when the couple came up and asked me to marry them," said W. F. Roark, pastor of the Morgan Point Assembly of God church. "That's the first time I ever performed the ceremony over water, and I believe it's the first wedding on a ferryboat in this end of the country."

The bridegroom is 19, and the bride, the former Miss Melba Davis, 16.

ROOSEVELT TALKS TO ALL

President Franklin D. Roosevelt made a statement recently which is held to apply to citizens of every town in America. He said in a speech:
'It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled or where the door of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error or shortcoming; who does actually try to do the deed; who knows the great enthusiasm, the great devotion, spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.'

Lesson on "Esther" Heard by Naomis

"Esther" was the lesson subject at the Naomi class meeting Sunday morning. Mrs. J. M. White taught the lesson, illustrating different points on a blackboard, on which was drawn a plan of the king's palace. Mrs. O. A. Lamar played the offertory. Group captains of the class are asked to meet at the home of Mrs. Carl W. Covington, 403 N. Colorado, Thursday evening at 7:30 for a business session.

White House Napkin Wrinkled - So What?

When the horrible emergency of a wrinkled napkin occurs at a White House banquet table there is no time to get a fresh one, just what is done? Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, the president's daughter, reveals the answer to this momentous question and tells about one woman whose job she does not covet. The object of Mrs. Dall's sympathy is Mrs. Henrietta Nesbit, official housekeeper of the White House. On the napkin issue, Mrs. Dall quotes Mrs. Nesbit as follows: "I was taking a last minute look at the dinner table. My eye fell on a napkin which was very badly ironed. The monogram was all wrinkled. And I was horrified to see that it was at a lady's place. There wasn't time to get another so I just switched it to a gentleman's place. You know he'd be much less apt to notice."

Mrs. Dall reveals the tremendous amount of care and planning that go with Mrs. Nesbit's job and observes that "like most executives she finds the eight hour day does not apply to her case." Mrs. Roosevelt called me upstairs the other day," Mrs. Nesbit told Mrs. Dall. "She told me she had noticed a shortage of napkins at tea, and asked me what was the matter. I had to explain that we seemed to have had a good many souvenir hunters in the White House lately. We had missed a few teaspoons, too. I'd already ordered some new silver spoons and napkins so that we'd have enough, but they had not as yet arrived."

Mrs. Nesbit, relates Mrs. Dall, looks out for the mountain goats and canary birds sent to the White House by presidential admirers, as well as ordering groceries whether for a dinner for five or a hundred and ten, and also gives the cooks the recipes and tests them before they are served. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hamlett have returned from a visit at National park, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City, Las Vegas and Pampa. They went by automobile through Royal gorge with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Epkin, then taking a train through eastern Kentucky, visiting her relatives, and through Tennessee, where they stopped at Clarksville, native home of the Hamletts. The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

The more fire losses in a year the more it costs all property owners to insure their property. Let's keep up the year-round fire prevention program.

Meanwhile, let's not forget to pat these firemen on the back and let them know how we appreciate the wonderful work they have been doing. When you consider that they have to leave their beds or their places of business and rush to a blaze twice as fast as a group of paid firemen would, all coming from the fire station, you get some idea of what fast workers they are. And they don't get paid a cent.

Not only did they hold last night's fire within the walls but they stopped it at the sheet rock partition. The grocery store in the same 25-foot building with the barber shop was damaged but it wasn't burned out.

Old Al Stanley is doing his best to keep ahead of hard luck but it has been right after him. He moved out of the Loraine street building adjoining the Every-Ready the night before the fire over there. Then he moved next door to Slim's barber shop and hadn't been there a week before the fire caught him.

Midland got along without fires for a long time, especially downtown, and it had a beneficial effect on the key rate. We have to practice fire prevention the year round to keep down these blazes.

TOWN HAS 5,000 VISITORS

CADIZ, O. (U.P.)—Difficult it would be to find a more remote town than Deerville. Its 90-soul population is well hidden in the southeastern Ohio hills. But Deerville annually is host to upward of 5,000 visitors on Memorial day. Soldiers of three wars are buried in its two tiny cemeteries, which fact, along with a special program and service on the day, heavily pushed by the community, draws memorialists from a wide area.

NOT TOO OLD FOR A PARTY BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

WILLOUGHBY, O. (U.P.)—Never too old for "a party," Mrs. Hattie Ferris, this town's perennial debutante, has just gone through a whirl of fetes tendered her on her 97th birthday anniversary and has asked for more. Never once complaining of being tired, Mrs. Ferris survived three gay birthday parties and topped off the day by marching in a Memorial day parade.

MAY BUSINESS UP

TOLEDO, O. (U.P.)—May business was up 30 per cent in Toledo over May, 1933, according to monthly clearing house reports. Bank debts for the month were $97,279,555, as compared with $71,375,668 for the corresponding month last year. Real estate transfers numbered 693 during the month, to 698 for the same period last year.

WEAVES AS A HOBBY

MADISON, Wis. (U.P.)—In a special "loom room" in her colonial home, Mrs. John Main, carries on her hobby of weaving colonial designs in covers, bags and scarfs. She is the daughter of the late Frederick Jackson Turner, an authority on American history, who received a Pulitzer history prize. Mrs. Main has a large loom made at the mountain school at Berea, Ky.

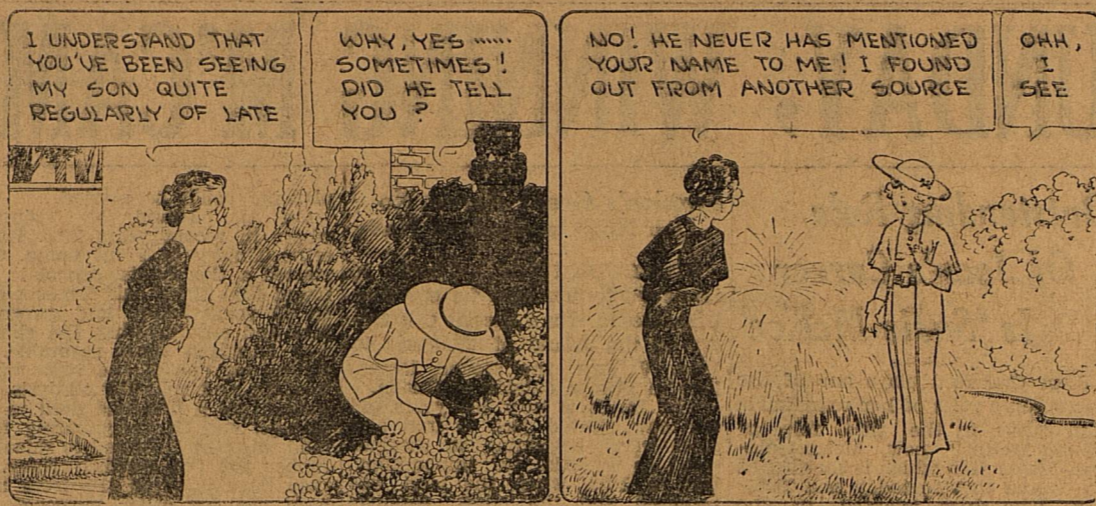

GONZAGA HONORS NUN

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis. (U.P.)—Sister Mary Silza Sheehan, a sister of Notre Dame, recently retired upon completion of 50 years of teaching the first grade class at Notre Dame primary school. She was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Education by Gonzaga college of Spokane, Wash. It was the first honorary degree ever conferred upon a woman by the institution.

TUSK 50,000 YEARS OLD

FEELEY, Mont. (U.P.)—A fossilized walrus tusk, believed to be more than 50,000 years old, was found near here by C. L. Christie. Geologists believe the tusk was buried along the banks of a once-great river which flowed through this valley before the Glacial age—and at a time when the Rocky mountains, which rim Feeley, were "mole-hills."

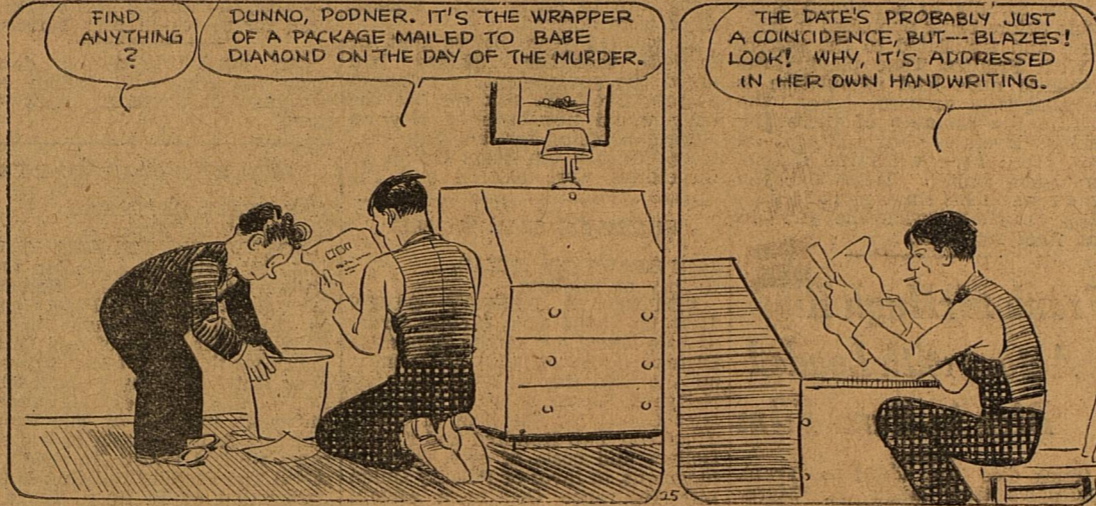

Hugo Grotius, the great Dutch scholar of his day, had a good law practice at 17 and was attorney general at 24.

COLTS HAVE FIELD DAY SUNDAY, WINNING M'CAMNEY GAME 16 TO 2

Home Brewed

BY R. C. HANKINS

The Colts were not the only Midland boys who enjoyed Sunday's sultry afternoon.

Sand Belt golfers waded into Colorado at the country club links and posted a 26 to 14 win that adds impressively to the neat lead the club already had in its march to the championship.

Two individual and one low ball matches were dropped.

The club has not lost a team match this season, and has never won by a lesser score than that hung up Sunday.

The Kat Klaw, which had been tied 5th with Hobbs, N. M., for first place in its league, went down for the first time Sunday, losing to Crane, 24-16. Some of the ladder was unable to make the trip.

The Midland team was made up, in order, of Billy Moran, Pat Riley, Bill Simpson, Johnson, Felix Stonepocker, Harrold Dean, Earl Whitcomb and Norris.

To get back to the Sand Belt, here are results: Elliott Miller, No. 1, lost to E. C. Nix, 5 and 3, and Don Sivalls, No. 4, dropped a match to Merritt, 1 up 19. Neither Midland shotmaker had lost a previous match. C. L. Jackson won from Coston, 6-4, and the low ball was lost 3-2, in the first foursome. In the second foursome, Neil, Sivalls' mate, won from Billingsley, 4-3. Midland taking the low ball, up 18. In the third foursome, H. S. Ferguson won from Newman, 1 up 18, and Frank Johnson beat McCleary, 6-5. Midland winning the low ball match, 4-3. De Lo Domingas won from Geer, 4-3. Joe D. Chambers from Poid, 2-1. The Midland members of the fourth foursome winning low ball 3-2.

The lineup of clubs before the match showed Midland had 164 points, 30 points ahead of the nearest club, Big Spring, which was second with 134 points, and other clubs as follows: Stanton 110, Colorado 108, Lamesa 106, and Snyder 100. Results of Big Spring's Sunday match had not been learned at noon.

Got a job for a baseball player? If so, telephone Scoop Ligon, Joe Pylon or John Butler. This agency hasn't been told what sort of work the three men needing to be placed can do but, judging from their work Sunday against McCamey, we'd suggest against.

Harve Light, golfing professor, hadn't played but twice in two years, but he had some nice holes Sunday on the municipal course at Big Spring. He was co-medalist of a pretty fair tournament in central Texas three years ago and won third place in match play. Smooth swing, long hitter and a slick putter on the grass carpet.

MIDLAND TO OPEN SECOND HALF IN CITY

By JESS RODGERS.

Midland war clubs drummed significantly again yesterday, their throbs going out to all corners of the Permian as the siege guns of the Colts scored almost at will to take a 16 to 2 decision over McCamey.

Every Colt hit safely at least once and the club accounted for 17 hits, driving Bryan to the showers in the fifth when none was out and two runs had filtered across.

A fusillade of seven runs was the club's greeting to Choate, relief hurler, making a total of nine in that inning, and three more were chalked up in the seventh and eighth. Richter, playing on a second base led the clotting with three hits in five appearances, and Coffey, new third baseman, three in six trips. Cramer, Gridley, A. Rose and L. Rose contributed two hits each.

A total of 12 errors, four of them by Gleaton, second baseman, kept McCamey in the cauldron.

Midland scored two in the second, two in the third, nine in the fifth, two in the seventh and one in the eighth. McCamey's brace of runs came in the ninth, when Rose "eased up."

Rose gave up seven hits collected four strikeouts and issued three walks. Brilliant fielding behind him all afternoon allowed him to "coast" most of the period. He gave evidence his recent back injury has about healed.

The second half begins Sunday and Midland expects to get a game here to open the period. The schedule will be released Wednesday or Thursday it is expected.

Only a $90 crowd saw the game, and this was divided with out of town customers.

"The management cannot overestimate the importance of more local support," one official said.

Midland is now in the flag race to win, and will show to good advantage, win or lose, with the support of the fans."

The official said two fast games are billed with San Angelo on July 3 and 4, as well as several other home appearances before those dates. With the completion of the new grand stand, baseball has come into of own here and as many games as the public will support will be billed.

NOT "GAMBLERS"

JUAREZ, (UP)—Croupiers, card dealers, and other gambling casino employees are not gamblers, according to the Chihuahua labor board's ruling.

"Previously, we were not allowed to belong to the central union," Genaro Fuentes, president of the newly organized gambling house employees' association, said.

"Of course we are not gamblers—we work for regular wages."

Outstanding Role Of Joan's Career Is 'Sadie McKee'

Joan Crawford plays one of the outstanding roles of her remarkable film career in the title role of "Sadie McKee," now Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film which is showing at the Yucca theatre today and Tuesday. The story, adapted to the screen by John Meehan, is one of Verna Delmar's most popular novels. It ran serially in a national magazine before being published in book form and translated to the screen.

With Franconi playing the romantic male lead stimulation is automatically aroused. For the private life romance of these two famous lovers is thus reflected on the screen in a whirlwind drama. In "Sadie McKee," Tone for the first time in his three pictures with Miss Crawford "wins the girl" in the final sequence.

Frank McHugh Ribs Actors with Loaded Dice in Reno Film

Trick dice are added to Frank McHugh's trick laugh in "Merry Wives of Reno," the Warner Bros. picture showing today and tomorrow at the Ritz theatre. The sequence depicts a party in a Reno hotel room and Frank, in the course of a friendly little game of "African golf," throws a seven that number of times in succession for the benefit of the camera.

Margaret Lindsay, Donald Woods, Glenda Farrell, Hugh Herbert, Hobart Cavanaugh and other members of the cast gathered about to watch the experiment. Throwing a seven with dice is a real accomplishment for any player in the game of galloping dominoes.

Imagine, then, throwing it seven times in a row.

Difficult as it was, Frank succeeded and while he was later accepting credit for his masterful handling of the dice, following the photographing of the scene, along came Pat Malley, property man, to re-claim the "precious" bones.

While McHugh fled, Pat explained that the dice were, perhaps the best loaded dice in Hollywood.

The picture is a hilarious comedy of the Reno divorce mill, written by Robert Lord and directed by H. Bruce Humberstone.

FIRES ARE COSTLY

BRECKENRIDGE (UP)—It may be different in your city, but every time a fire alarm—true or false—is turned in here it costs the city $5.88.

This is the cost of answering the alarm and not for putting out the fire. Fire Chief Roy Caswell said. If there is a fire, of course, the cost mounts in proportion to the size of the conflagration.

Sweden's Great Forest No Use Now to Modern Navy

STOCKHOLM (UP)—Thanks to its navy's former need for oak timber, Sweden has a special oak forest on the island of Visingsoe in Lake Vettern, the second largest lake in Europe outside of Russia.

The forest is now 100 years old and saw started just as iron and steel were beginning to displace wood as material for shipbuilding. But in 1832, when the land was acquired and the first saplings planted how were the admirals of the navy and the members of the legislature to know that wooden ships were doomed?

It was ten years before that, or in 1823, that the Riksdag had urged the government to establish a state forest for oak so that the navy would not have to rely on private supplies for building material. It took ten years before all formalities were cleared and the planting could be started.

On the island of Visingsoe, where in recent years Mrs. Katherine Tingley of Point Loma, Cal., started a theosophist school it was found that three oak trees planted 40 years before had grown so fast and straight that the climate was adjudged most favorable. In return for one of the trees which was cut and split for analysis, the woman got a life-time deed to her cottage, and the neighboring farm land was then acquired to raise oak timber for the Swedish Navy. As they have matured the trees have been cut for other purposes, but none for war vessels. Today the stand is still one of the finest in Sweden, though the best planks are used for staves in beer barrels.

Our word "eskimo" is derived from the Algonquin Indian word "eskumauget," meaning "raw eaters."

Students Honestly Admit Preference to Their Bed

CLEVELAND, (UP)—Three-fourths of the men students and more than half of the women of Western Reserve university would rather sleep Sunday mornings than go to church. They admitted so in a questionnaire designed to determine the religious learnings of students.

The questionnaire revealed that: Seventy-six per cent of the men and 55 per cent of the women would rather sleep Sundays than attend services.

Fifteen per cent of the men turned either agnostic or atheistic during their college attendance. Not one girl became a disbeliever because of college influence. Most of them believed prayer useful and prayed in a crisis. Most of them would prefer to be married by a minister than a justice of the peace.

They were almost unanimous in their opinion that depression had had no effect on their religious attitudes.

The questionnaire directed by Marshall Stalley, candidate for a closed that a majority of students attended church on an average of once in a fortnight.

Most of them gave as their chief reason for attending services enjoyment of the sermon, while others admitted frankly they went because of family pressure or because they liked the music and rituals.

A Roman clockmaker, Dante Batarini, pulled a large motor-car contained six passengers 300 yards up a hill, with a rope held in his teeth.

SHANGHAI, June 25, (UP)—Nine Chinese girls, between the ages of 13 and 19, tied themselves together, jumped in the river and were drowned in a strange suicide pact. It was revealed today. Unrequited love was blamed.
