Killed in Treacherous Catskills

Crashing in the Catskill mountains west of the Hudson river, with seven aboard, the Curtiss Condor plane of the American Airways, center, was the object of search by a score of planes, state troopers, and hundreds of residents. Last trace of the plane, bound from Newark for Chicago, was in the rough wooded section of Rip Van Winkle legend, after it passed Newburgh. The plane was piloted by Clyde Holbrook, LaGrange, Ill., top left, with Miss Margaret Hockerby, Chicago, top center, stewardess, and Co-Pilot John Barron, 33, Chicago, top right, as other crew members. Below, left to right, are shown three Buffalo, N. Y., passengers, W. B. Bader, H. C. Coppins, and W. A. Cass, Harry Pinsky, formerly of Great Neck, N. Y., was a fourth passenger. All were killed

Flour Added To Rabbit Ear Auction List

A barrel of flour has been added to the articles offered for rabbit ears when the auction sale is held June 30. It is the famous Gold Medal brand.

Les Moore, sales representative from Abilene, is giving eight 24-pound sacks of flour to be bid in with rabbit ears. Moore says half of Gold Medal's stock "eventually, why not now?" applies to the Midland auction—farmers and others who wish to get one or a dozen of the approximate 60 articles offered for the auction sale need to be collecting rabbit ears—why not now?

Dillinger Reported In Minnesota Today

ORTHFIELD, Minn., June 13, (U.P.)—John Dillinger was reported here today by an unemployed taxi driver who said the Indiana outlaw gave him a cigarette, Donald Murray, the driver, said he was sure of the identification because he had hunted Dillinger several times in Chicago.

Eyes of 2 Rabbits Shot Out by Boy With One Bullet

Add freakish stories: Courtney Holt Cowden, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cowden, killed two rabbits with one shot this morning on the O. B. Holt ranch.

That's only the beginning; he shot out all four eyes of the jacks, using a .22 calibre rifle.

This further pads out interest in the campaign of Midland hunters to collect rabbit ears for the June 30 auction to be held here, when merchandise will be "knocked down" to the bidder who puts up the most number of ears for "species." Mrs. S. A. Debnam killed a rabbit and a snake with one shot, and the boys of the Wilson farm at Warfield have killed dozens of rabbits with "nigger shooters."

DEBT NATIONS HEAR WARNING OF PRESIDENT

U. S. Markets Not to Be Thrown Open To Them

WASHINGTON, June 13, (U.P.)—A warning that the way has not been opened to debtor nations to pay the total war debts in goods and services was opened today by the White House.

A note to Britain, suggesting a part payment in goods or services, did not mean that American markets would be opened indiscriminately to foreign products to assist debtors, it was announced.

WASHINGTON, June 13, (U.P.)—President Roosevelt's proposals for conciliation machinery to cope with industrial disputes were sent to congressional leaders today for quick enactment.

West Texas Exerts Ever-Present Yen When One Is Away

West Texas is like a woman—you can't get along with her, and you can't do without her.

So admit, Gordon Nees and Georges Vorbe, old men who left Midland three years ago and who met in the hotel lobby this morning.

"One comes to Midland with his family and dries out in the incessant winds," Nees said. "In a few months, however, one quits noticing that every thing that moves has horns and all the vegetation has thorns and, by the time he is transferred, he develops a chip on his shoulder. He wants to stay and, as long as he is away, he wants to come back."

Nees, former Midland manager of the Petroleum Refining company, has been living at Houston the past few months. He has done work for his company in Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas and Michigan since leaving Midland.

Vorbe returned to the city Tuesday, was manager for the T-P Coal & Oil Co. office here. For three years he has been teaching elementary geology in the University of California, an institution from which he was graduated several years ago and where he formerly had been student assistant for two years.

Vorbe was in charge of a staff of six instructors in geology and, in addition, had to lecture twice a week before his own section which embraced a membership of 1,200 students—the largest class in the university. The greatest classroom of the university had to be utilized for this class and 150 students were turned away from the course.

The university, which has a total enrollment of more than 15,000, rating with Columbia as the greatest in the world, offers a certain number of science courses for graduation, and geology is the favorite course.

Vorbe, moreover, was charged with seeing that grades for the elementary geologists were properly marked up, and did research on the floor of the Grand Canyon in the summers, last year's research being devoted to the Algonquin formation.

New Location for Relief Commission

Offices of the Midland county relief commission were moved Wednesday to East Wall street in the John Scharbauer building, one block east of Main street.

The new offices were obtained through the generosity of John Scharbauer, who also donates use of another building being used as a supply house.

The new location allows a small increase in relief funds to be expended locally and permits ventilation and cool working quarters for the office force, through having a south door and freedom from direct sun rays.

James S. Noland Elected President of Lions Club

He's No. 7 to Pick Georgia Peach

The first six marriages are always the toughest. And just to make sure her seventh is going to turn out all right, Virginia Overshiner and her new husband, Arthur J. Cogswell, have agreed to tell one another everything they do when they're apart. The marrying Georgia Peach, who began her marital career after winning a beauty contest in Atlanta, Ga., is here shown with No. 7, a New York engineer.

James S. Noland, Midland oil man, was elected president of the Lions club today to take office next Wednesday. Noland has been an active worker in the organization since its organization, serving on the board of directors and at the head of its major committees, publicity committee, he succeeds Frank Stubbeman, local attorney, as president.

Other officers elected today were Dr. John B. Thomas, first vice president; J. Howard Hodge, second vice president; John P. Butler, treasurer (re-elected); De Lo Douglas, secretary, and D. E. Gabbert, lion tamer and song leader.

Call for election of directors will be made by the new executive either next week or the following week, it was announced.

During President Stubbeman's absence while serving in the state legislature, A. E. Horst, first vice president, has headed the organization much of the past year. The club in previous years, has functioned actively in community activities.

Noteworthy among the projects sponsored by the club have been the erection of the concrete wading pool at Cloverdale park, the providing of eye glasses for needy children of the county, the annual Easter egg hunt and a free picture show party for children at Christmas time. Thousands of Midland county children have been directly benefited or entertained by the club through these activities.

The election today was conducted by nominations from the floor, consequently Noland was elected president without previous notification. Without time for announcing a program of work for the year he spoke enthusiastically of the prospects and pledged the service of the Lions club to the community in all worthy enterprises.

His new position becomes effective June 15. He and Mrs. Ross likely will leave Midland Tuesday.

This pretty South Dakota miss will be a big help to the army flyers' stratosphere hop, without ever leaving the ground. AUSTIN, June 13.—Miss Marie Dresden, director of Texas relief, and Winthrop D. Lane, special engineer with the federal administration, plan to leave today for a trip of inspection to the drought stricken areas of the Panhandle and northwest Texas.

The department of agriculture has designated a number of counties to receive emergency funds for highway construction and other work.

Miss Dresden was notified Tuesday that other counties had been added to the secondary list, as follows:

Andrews, Borden, Cochran, Dawson, Ector, Gaines, Howard, Loving, Martin, Midland, Reeves, Scurry, Terry, Ward, Winkler and Yoakum.

Wimberly May Get Post at Bowie High

EL PASO.—W. W. Wimberly, Austin High school teacher and son of Mrs. W. W. Wimberly Sr. of Midland, probably will be recommended for promotion to a principalship, Dr. E. J. Cummins, C. C. Covington, and Lynn B. Davis, personnel committee members, said Tuesday. They were to meet this afternoon to make the recommendation.

While final decision has not been made, the committee probably will assign Wimberly to Bowie High school, and shift R. R. Jones, newly elected Bowie principal, to the El Paso high school principalship.

The school board is expected to approve the committee's recommendations tonight.

About 20 public school teachers who recently were given one-year contracts will be recommended for three-year contracts, the personnel committee of the school board announced.

Wimberly has had 10 years' teaching experience, including a principalship in New Mexico, and three years as assistant principal at Austin high.

Wimberly formerly taught mechanical drawing at El Paso high school, and has been teaching the same subject at Austin high.

He has an A. B. degree from Simmons university. His wife is a science teacher at El Paso high school.

Bond Commission Got Big Surprise

AUSTIN.—Members of the Texas Bond commission, the agency set up by the legislature to sell Texas bonds to provide funds for relief of districts, were in what they described as a "hot spot" when they received bids recently on an issue of $3,750,000 of the securities.

Only one bid, offering a premium of $2,875, was received. The commission figured the premium should have been many times this amount and was tempted to reject the offer.

The fact that the Texas Relief commission was urgently in need of funds and the possibility that advertisement might react adversely caused acceptance of the bid.

"We would have been in a pretty pickle if on readvertisement we failed to get as good a bid," one of the commissioners remarked.

"And what if no bids were received with the Relief commission in need of immediate funds?"

The commission had expected a premium of at least $10,000 with one member looking for an offer of $140,000.

RESIGNATION A CONTINUANCE OF LOUD CRITICISM

No Hope for Little Business Man, He Writes F.D.R.

WASHINGTON, June 13, (U.P.)—W. O. Thompson, vigorous dissenting member of the Darrow review board, resigned today, charging that the NEA McCraw revealed more clearly a trend toward fascism.

In a letter to President Roosevelt he said there was no hope for the small business man under present code setups. He said the nation faced a choice of government sustained monopoly or a socialized system of control.

McCRAW TO SPEAK HERE THURSDAY

AMARILLO, June 13.—Reports of majority support in his race for attorney general were received here Sunday by William McCraw of Dallas county as the response to his seven-day swing through this section.

McCraw's northwest Texas campaign manager, John A. Storey of Vernon, and Judge Joseph H. Aynesworth of Borger, Hutchinson county manager, sent assurances. "Everywhere," McCraw said, "I have got pledges of support, even in quarters where I least expected it. I'm confident of a big majority in the west, where people appreciate a clean, constructive campaign, and vote on merit rather than personalities."

"The people have responded to my pledge to give uncompromising assistance, when requested, to cities and towns engaged in utility rate reduction controversies, just as they have to my promise of safeguards in banking and insurance and piecemeal construction and other work."

McCraw will leave Amarillo today to carry his campaign to Plainview, Lubbock, Big Spring, Midland and El Paso. He likely will speak at Midland Thursday afternoon and either spend the night here or go to Odessa for a speech that evening.

From there they rode the Pan-American airways to their destination.

WE MIGHT PUT SCIENCE TO BENEFICIAL USE

The job of the scientist, says Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace in a recent Scientific American, is not finished when he has handed the world a new discovery. He ought to be prepared to insist that his discovery be used to benefit mankind.

The secretary's remark is not a new complaint, but since it is one that has been consistently ignored for many decades, it is worth while to stop and have another look at it.

"Instead of complacent after-dinner speeches in sweeping defense of science," says Mr. Wallace, "I should like to find our more articulate scientists insisting that the benefactions of science be used only in ways that are plainly in the general welfare."

"It would be encouraging to find, among scientists everywhere, some evidence of honest indignation at the way the gifts of science have been turned against society and therefore against science itself."

It takes only a very little thought to reveal what the secretary is talking about.

Brilliant men, for example, discover the secret of flight, and enable men to soar through the air like the birds; and so far the chief result has been to make war infinitely more horrible and to include women and children on its casualty lists.

Other brilliant men devise ways of enabling man to increase immeasurably his capacity to produce useful things. As a result, a few men get very rich, while a great depression sweeps down on the land and millions of men are unable to get jobs of any description.

Still other brilliant men make it possible for voices and music to be sent hundreds of miles through the air; and we get, accordingly, a mass of trivialities, banalities, and stupidities thrown at our firesides every night in a volume to make the angels weep.

You could cite many more examples, but these are enough to show that the secretary was quite justified in making his protest.

We have today enough marvelous inventions to turn the earth into a fruitful and idyllic garden spot. If we ever learn how to use them sensibly we can do exactly that.

ARRESTED IN COURTROOM

LANSING, Mich. (U.P.)—William Shannon, 35, of Lansing, recently decided that a courtroom is not the exact place for slumber. Attending court recently, Shannon, in a somewhat inebriated condition, leaned over into the lap of a woman sitting next to him and went to sleep. When he was finally aroused by police officers he was placed under arrest on a charge of being intoxicated.

AUTOMINDED DESERT ISLAND

BASS HARBOR, Me. (U.P.)—It was moving day for the residents of Gulls Island. The entire population—70 families—moved to the mainland, a few miles away, because no automobiles were allowed on the island and they had tired of commuting by boat every time they wished to go for an automobile ride. Bass Harbor has an enlarged population as a result.

Repet Hughes:

"Our lives are like newspapers; the headlines in our memories do not concern the periods when we were serene. Our front page stuff is our disasters. Our crises of depression. The big storms we have gone through enrich our memories; the gains are forgotten. Life is kept interesting by its uncertainties and dangers. The depression will unquestionably loom large in all history. We ought, therefore, to exact from it pride in the great problems that defy us. We ought to meet our defeat with pluck, and fight the fight as a fight, not as a case of mumps or dums. The return of prosperity will be slow and broken by bleak defelements. Why, then, can't we make the best of the depression while it is fresh and lively? For the secret of happiness lies in not waiting until the events is only a remembrance before enjoying it."

An old story:

It was out in a western town and two old boys from away out entered a restaurant. They were pretty hard themselves but they were waited upon by a waitress who was really tough. They ordered pie. The waitress set the pie before them but one piece was large and the other was small. One of them protested.

"How is it we order the same pie and pay the same price and you bring him the big piece and me a small piece?" he demanded.

"I don't cut the pie; I just serve the damn thing," the waitress replied.

Berlin Offers Bonuses to Raise the Birthrate and to Insure More Health

BERLIN, (U.P.)—The authorities, led by Mayor Gustav Sahn, have decided to give 2,000 bonuses to families with three or more children for the purpose of increasing the Berlin birthrate.

The city medical experts hope that with such measures the increasing death rate can be fought. Statistics show that the deaths per 1,000 persons are 11, against nine births. The experts emphasize that if the balance of population is to be secured for the future there must be 17 new-born children for each 1,000 inhabitants.

The bonus will be paid only after thorough examination into the basic health, not only of the parents, but also of brothers and sisters of the parents, and the grandparents if possible. If the grandparents are dead, the cause of death must be certified.

Great Honor

The sponsorship of the city is a big honor for the families found healthy after the examination. The certification that the family is taken as "God family" will be presented by the city medical councillor himself or by a high municipal official. From that moment the family will be entitled to call itself "God family of the City of Berlin."

Upon certification, the family receives for the third child 30 marks per month for the first year. Afterwards until the 14th birthday of the child, the bonus is 20 marks per month.

A Precaution

To provide against mothers giving the third child better nourishment than the two elder children, in order not to lose the child (and incidentally the monthly bonus), the authorities have set the condition that all three children must be alive, if the bonus is to be paid. If one of the three children dies the payments automatically cease.

It is expected that the Berlin measures soon will be followed by other German cities.

Electric REFRIGERATION means— LOW FIRST COST... BELOW 50° TEMPERATURE in the hottest weather.. LOW OPERATING COST..

You can't consider any single feature of mechanical refrigeration and arrive at any definite conclusion about its actual cost, for many important points must be considered—principal among which are first cost, the quality of work done and operating cost.

Electric refrigerators are low in price—some models selling for around $100.00. This low first cost is an important item in most homes.

Electric refrigerators, developed by trial and error by the best engineers available, are built with ample reserve power to assure constant temperatures of below 50 degrees even in the hottest weather, which means another saving—in food costs.

Electric refrigerators cost little to operate. The savings in food alone will in many instances be greater than the small addition to your electric service bill.

HOKUS POKUS THOROUGHLY DRUBS CLUB OF SCRUGGS MOTOR CO.

NEAR SHUTOUT IS ACHIEVED IN A SLOW GAME

By JESS RODGERS

The dark horse of the Nocturne smote the powerful Scruggs team last night and, but for a questionable decision of the umpire, would have shut out the hitherto top-heavy favorites.

Hokus Pokus won the game 11 to 1, and started business in the second inning, when four runs were shoved over. Another was scored in the fourth, and the club went hog wild in the sixth, when six runs were tabulated.

The Scruggs run came in the third on hits by A. Estes and Woods.

The Midland Hardware team, in spite of a 17-8 lead at one time narrowly escaped a drubbing at the hands of Midland Auto Supply, the game ending 17 to 14. Hardware exhibited plenty of scoring punch, shoving over runs in every inning, helped by six walks. The Auto Supply failed to tab runs in only two innings.

AMARILLO RACE

CARD IS FILLING

AMARILLO. — The Tri-State fair's horse racing program which starts here Friday afternoon at 2:30 will be conducted exactly as the meetings at the famous Arlington Downs track near Fort Worth. Seven races will be run each day with eight entries in each race.

Faithful in every detail to the method used by officials at Arlington Downs the fair's program will give Panhandle racing fans all the thrills and excitement of any major track.

Under the guidance of Sidney S. Bender, nationally known handicapper, the conditions for the Amarillo races have been made so that every race will be a contest insofar as it is possible to rate horses.

	40	14	13	6

Every one knows that every so often a long shot comes in to upset the carefully planned dope, which, of course, produces one of racing's greatest thrills.

Trainers, riders and color licenses must be paid before any horse can race here.

All weights assigned to horses will be the actual poundage carried. A double-check system will be used to guarantee this. Jockeys will weigh in the secretary's office and again at the tracks under the judges stand.

Bender has been in Amarillo for several days arranging details. He came here from Dayton, Ohio, where he was an official at the big meeting there. He contacted horse owners and jockeys in Kansas City and reported he had succeeded in signing up outstanding horses and riders to race here.

Thirty-five thoroughbreds were in the stables here Monday morning. Over 100 horses from the Panhandle meeting were expected to move over Tuesday. Counting the 35 horses on hand Monday, 125 definite reservations had been made up to that date. With the Panhandle and Kansas City entries to come in along with several others, officials expected over 250 racers to be in the nine-day meeting.

The meeting will close with the Panhandle derby the feature of the final day on Monday, June 23. This race will attract the Southwest's best thoroughbreds, for a $500 added purse is being offered.

PAIR OF PITCHERS NEEDED BY CATS

By W. WINSTON COPELAND

United Press Staff Correspondent FORT WORTH (UP)—What a pair of top-notch pitchers could do for the Fort Worth Panthers almost sends Manager Del Pratt into a nightmare every time he thinks about it.

With two consistent flingers to aid the veteran Dick Whitworth, Pratt would appear a virtual certainty to put his club into the Texas league play-off.

The Cats are in second division now, but the mire is not so thick. The distance between them and the first division could be overcome in a short time with winning ball.

Pratt may have one of his highly desired pitchers in Claude Jonnard, twin brother of Clarence Jonnard, Dallas catcher.

Jonnard is recognized as an able twirler. Difficulty over contracts was the principal thing that kept him out of American Association clubs.

It may be that if he can win as consistently as Whitworth it will give other pitchers rest from relief duty and increase their earning powers, offsetting the need for another new pitcher.

The Cats are hitting in the upper deck of the league but they are in the lower half in games won and lost. With five men clubbing above the 300 mark and four others just below the coveted crest there is ample stick work to support good pitching.

But most of the season the Cats have had to pile up a football score before they could win. The opposition hit too freely.

Whitworth is pitching around the 700 mark for games won and lost. He is the only Fort Worth pitcher above the 500 line.

Fans entertain hopes Jonnard will produce and that before the season is too far gone another pitcher will be added or the others on the roster develop winning habits.

Prizes for Rodeo Amount to $1000

PORT ISABEL. (P)—More than $1,000 in prizes, including silver cups, rods, and reels, will be awarded anglers winning in the first annual Tarpon rodeo here August 8 to 12, inclusive.

The prizes include two large silver trophies given by the Missouri Pacific lines—one a grand prize and the other a trophy for the woman scoring most points.

The Port Isabel chamber of commerce is making preparations for the rodeo. Three fishing boats have been launched and several others are under construction. The chamber of commerce hopes to bring about 50 boats from other points on the Texas coast, including Galveston, for the affair.

CHEVROLET'S

newest creation is here!

Presenting

THE 4-DOOR SPORT SEDAN

A new Fisher body type for five passengers furnished in the deluxe manner and equipped with a smart spacious streamline trunk built in at the rear

CHEVROLET proudly presents the new Sport Sedan as the most beautiful model ever built by Chevrolet or any other manufacturer of low-priced cars. The genius of Fisher Body designers was allowed full scope in designing this latest addition to the Chevrolet line. And your own eyes will tell you that these makers of masterpieces have never created anything finer. On a long chassis embodying Chevrolet's combination of exclusive features—fully-enclosed Kneec-Action, an 80-mile-an-hour, 80-horsepower engine, cable-controlled brakes, and all the rest—is mounted a body that combines full five-passenger capacity, the luxury of custom cars, and the convenience of exceptional luggage space. There is no crowding in this smart car—Fisher craftsmen have provided plenty of leg room and elbow room. And there are more de luxe touches than we have space to tell about. If appearance and convenience come first with you, and you wish to stay in the low-price field—here, beyond a doubt, is your car.

PEOPLE who have an eye for handsome lines will admire the way the spacious trunk merges into the body lines. The long, streamlined sweep sets this car apart in any company. And make no mistake about it—handsome as this trunk is, it is a decidedly practical feature. It holds enough for a cross-continent tour, and specially-designed locks make it tamper-proof. You will appreciate it more, the longer you drive this smart and roomy model.

When Jockey H. Moran's mount, Trivento, jumped the barrier at the start of a race in Melbourne, Australia, Moran wasn't fast enough in ducking the rope. It caught him under the chin, as shown above, and unseated him. The strange part about the accident was that Moran's neck was intact, but he broke both forearms in the fall!

Fight Off? No! Just a Baer Story

After much thumping of Max Baer's chest, three physicians, acting on the complaint of Bill Brown, New York boxing commissioner, that the Californian was physically unfit to fight Primo Carnera, June 14, found the challenger in perfect condition. Brown's objection was overruled by other members of the board. The photo shows two medicos examining Baer, with Carnera waiting on the left.

NEA Service Staff Correspondent (Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

NEW YORK.—Faming youth still flames in Gotham, but these days it's ablaze with purpose instead of capriciousness. It still sows wild oats, of course, but in neat rows, and with an eye to the harvest. Even in the Broadway night spots youth is having a rather calculating fling. It has made up its mind to do a little drinking—but only a little. It stays out late—but it prefers not to stay out all night. It is sophisticated about matters of sex—but isn't especially concerned with the adolescent indiscretions which used to masquerade as romance.

On Park avenue the younger generation goes in for good manners. It gets around a good deal with elder people, listens attentively to talk about business while having a cocktail with papa in the library, and studies its lessons with a kind of uneasy diligence prompted by the possibility that some day it may have to earn its own living.

In Greenwich Village, home base of young Bohemianism, there has been a decided change since the hey-day of the re-hey generation. Listen to Barney Gallant on the subject. For a long time Gallant, a former newspaperman, has been the best-known night-club operator in the district.

"The depression was the finest thing that could have happened to the young folks," he said. "It made them look around for other ways to spend their time, and brought the realization that they had been missing a lot of things that money couldn't buy. They've grown thoughtful and deliberate; infinitely more adult. They have developed social consciousness, but they're less radical than you'd expect."

Now, with repeal, it's no longer considered smart to get drunk, and drinking hasn't the element of bravado that made it attractive in speakeasy days. Gallant concludes, "You'll find the average youngster is proud of knowing something about wines, and maybe fancy cocktails. But he no longer brags about how many slugs of whisky he can hold."

Most significant thing about Gallant's judgment of the trend is that recently he gave his smart club, stock and barrels to his head waiter, and walked out. He believes the vogue for the small, hide-away places has passed.

Roger Wolf Kahn, son of the late Otto Kahn, banker and opera patron, knows a lot about the behavior of young people because he has watched them from a thousand orchestra stages.

He believes youngsters are maturing earlier. "By the time they are in their middle teens they have a pretty fair idea of where they're going and what they want to do. Sometimes I think they have less fun than they used to have. They're more formal in behavior and dress. They don't go in for the hot-spots or intimate hang-outs, and they have smaller, quieter parties.

"But maybe it's just a change in tastes. College kids used to demoralize their proms by buying drinks for the musicians, taking over the instruments, and trying to do the conducting. That's all over. They used to want us to play in frantic, jittery tempos and would walk out if we tried to play in the slow time that's favored

They used to just stroll around the floor, and talk and giggle. Now they pay attention to the actual business of dancing, and seem to enjoy it. Kids of 17 still come and dance until 3 o'clock in the morning, but they don't get unruly about it.

"And, by the way, have you noticed that there are a lot less 'I-love-you's and 'cuddles' and 'kisses' in the songs of today? The younger crowd wants less mush in the lyrics and more real music, with almost symphonic orchestrations."

A key figure in Broadway night life is Nils T. Grankind, the "N. T. G." who started the first of the modern type of cabarets eight years ago.

Because he plays host to thousands of out-of-towners bent on having a devil of a time, and to students who are as irrepressible and in his current show there's not a girl hailing from Gotham. "In the last few years an entirely new type of chorus girl has come along," he said. "They're clever, decent kids, interested in show business and ambitious enough to take dancing and vocal lessons so they can get better jobs. They have a strenuous routine, which means guarding their health, staying away from liquor, and getting plenty of sleep. They are never permitted to sit with the customers, or even to meet them. In fact, the tragedy of their lives is that they scarcely meet any men at all."

Where War Takes Appalling Toll

With thousands of their best troops dead, Bolivia and Paraguay have rebuffed all peace moves and are reported massing their armies for one of the greatest battles of their savage struggle for the Gran Chaco, which has raged since June, 1932.

More Chance," "Learn to Croon" and dozens of other hits Bing Crosby made famous, have written six new songs for Paramount's production of Earl Carroll's "Murder at the Vanities," showing today and tomorrow at the Ritz theatre.

The picture, directed by Mitchell Lelen, is a combination musical show and murder mystery based upon the Broadway play by Carroll and Rufus King.

Others in the cast include Gertrude Michael, Toby Wing, Barbara Fritchie, and Dorothy Stickney.

Citizens of the historic old county-seat are dazedly striving to adjust themselves to their changed status.

"Too good to be true," is still a common attitude. Many a recipient of the manna in the form of lease and royalty checks are almost afraid to spend their newfound wealth.

'Glamour' Brings 'Rhumba Exotic'

Several tuneful new song hits and a colorful new Rhumba form a part of "Glamour," the Universal domestic drama which comes to the Yucca theatre on Thursday, with Constance Cummings and Paul Lukas in featured roles.

The glorious voice of Philip Reed, newcomer to the screen from the New York musical comedy stage, is heard in these songs, which have already achieved tremendous popularity on the radio.

Other instrumental pieces, included in the musical score of the picture, are "Goin' to Town" and "Long Live Love," as well as "Rhumba Exotic" composed as the accompaniment for a colorful Spanish dance performed by Miss Cummings and Reed.
