Texas' Winter Wheat Crop Better Than First Estimate

AUSTIN, June 11, (U.P.)—Effects of the parching sun on Texas farms were reflected today in the May crop report of the department of agriculture.

"Additional moisture is needed in practically all sections to insure proper growth of row and forage crops," the report said.

Livestock ranges in the northwest and west were indicated as poor. The winter wheat crop in Texas was forecast at 25,740,000 bushels compared with 13,022,000 bushels last year.

AUSTIN, June 11, (U.P.)—J. F. Hair of San Antonio withdrew from the attorney general race today in a communication to the state democratic executive committee which says he is unable to raise the necessary money to run for office.

The latter item probably was caused by a decision to refer the matter to the resolutions committee.

SALVATION ARMY STAGES '34 DRIVE

The annual appeal of the Salvation Army is being made in Midland county this week. W. D. Pedigo, campaigner from the headquarters office, who has been coming here for the past several years to be in charge of the campaign will be made under the supervision of the county advisory board, W. I. Platt, chairman, T. E. Neely, treasurer, Claude O. Crane, other members will be named.

The estimate has been set at $100 for the county. Funds derived from the campaign will be used to carry on the extensive Christian service in this section and the Texas as a division. They operate without regard to class or creed, and the appeal to all who are interested in the neglected and suffering. An effort to administer the affairs of the work as economical as possible is made.

During the past year in this division, meals were found for 476,000 transients, jobs were found for 4,000 men and women, 97,000 families were given general relief, clothing furnished to 6,000 and more than 200 girls were cared for in maternity homes and hospitals. A good percentage of the service is shared by the towns and rural communities.

The appeal is for the entire year. No other authorized canvass will be made.

Couldn't Live With Woman but Couldn't Escape

Telling officers that "nobody could live with that woman," W. B. Thompson of McKinney, Texas, was arrested by Midland officers as he sped westward this afternoon, asserted in an effort to run away from his wife and children.

Officers had received a communication from the wife and from McKinney officers yesterday, warning on the lookout. They spotted the car as it went through Midland at a rapid clip at about 2:10 o'clock this afternoon. Finding Donald Butts' car at the Evans Realty Auto Service they commandeered it and gave chase.

Thompson was overtaken at El Campo Moderno, driving at almost 60 miles an hour. Officers making the arrest were Police Chief Lee Haynes, Constable Chas. Ponder and Deputy Sheriff Fish Pollard.

Frank Buck Plans Radio Programs

SAN ANGELO.—Frank Buck is getting ready with a radio series taking the place of Amos 'n' Andy, when the blackface boys take their regular vacation from July 15 to September 15. The Bring 'Em Back Alive man, formerly of San Angelo and with his parents living here now, is putting together his most interesting adventures tracking down animals in the jungle for the radio public.

The programs will form a series of dramatized adventures which will be broadcast over the radio through them all and linking them into a radio serial. Buck, of course, will play the lead himself. With him in all his adventures will be a typical American boy of about 15. Together they go adventuring in the jungles. Other characters will include Al, Buck's native boy, ship officers, native planters and the like.

The programs will originate in the Chicago NBC studios in the Merchandise Mart. At the same time Frank will run his wild animal display at the World's fair. To write the radio series he has at Chicago Ferrin Fraser, magazine and consulting writer. Fraser's other duties include editing adventures stories for Collier's magazine and working with Frank on two new books.

If the series is as successful as it should be it's quite possible that it will go into a new spin of its own when Amos 'n' Andy return to the air in September.

Midland Oil Maps Favored at Tulsa

Repeat orders for the Permian basin oil map issued by the chamber of commerce are coming in from Tulsa.

Earl Sneed of the Sneed Petroleum corporation wrote Monday for additional maps, saying a supply given him at Tulsa was taken away by friends visiting his office. He said in part:

"I would surely appreciate at least a dozen of these maps. They are wonderful advertisements for Midland. Sneed expects to be in Midland in September with other visiting oil men.

Midland oil men are invited to get supplies of these free maps and mail them in their business correspondence, as they will fit a business envelope, being exactly letter head size.

Hurricanes Thought To Have Disappeared

BROWNSVILLE, June 11, (U.P.)—With barometers here and at Tampico normal, observers believed the tropical hurricane which was headed this way had either disappeared in the gulf or turned northward toward New Orleans and Florida.

Houston reported the barometer there normal but it had dropped at Freeport, with high tides at Freeport and Galveston.

DROUGHT RELIEF PLAN SUGGESTS A NEW PLAN FOR CATTLE ADJUSTMENT

COLLEGE STATION, June 11.—A hint as to what the much debated cattle adjustment plan may be like has been found in the relief offered farmers and ranchers in six Texas primary douth counties by the agricultural adjustment administration and federal emergency relief administration. As outlined by O. B. Martin, extension service director of Texas A. and M. college, distressed beef and dairy cattle are to be brought on a definite price schedule, with stated shares divided between owner and mortgage holder. Cattle purchased are to be destroyed if diseased or processed for relief purposes if sound.

Those who accept the government offer are to sign contracts with the agricultural adjustment administration in which they agree to cooperate in any future adjustment program for cattle. Producers also agree not to allow the females in their herds to exceed by January 1, 1936 more than 80 per cent of the average number for 1932-33.

To families needing a few cows for home food supply, particularly milk, the federal emergency relief administration will lend the cows and finance the necessary feed purchase on notes. The same is true of the rancher who wishes to keep a few head for foundation stock. The limit of such loans is three cows for home food supply and 30 cows for breeding purposes.

The buying schedule calls for a price of $12 per head for condemned cubs two years old and over, and $13 to $20 per head for sound cubs of this age. Owner would receive $6 per head and mortgage holder from $6 to $14. For cattle one to two years of age the rate is $10 for diseased animals, and $11 to $15 per head for sound ones. In this class owners will get $5 per head and mortgage holder from $5 to $10 per head. For cattle under one year of age $4 per head will be paid for condemned stock and $5 to $8 per head for sound stock. Owners will receive $3 per head and mortgage holder from $1 to 5 per head.

County agents are to be drought relief directors in their counties and are to organize product committees for administering the relief. Counties named in the primary drought area are Dallas, Halley, Sherman, Moore, Oklahoma and Potter. Midland and other counties have petitioned to be included.

Midland Hopes to Sell Horses to the Government

Self-Appointed "Traffic Cop" Is Arrested

Because it was believed his evident sense of responsibility to keeping traffic in line somewhere between here and Odessa Sunday night prove dangerous, Midland county man who waved a shotgun at motorists was placed in jail by Midland officers.

The procedure was something like this, motorists reported to the sheriff's office: "The man placed himself prominently in the road, and displayed his shotgun even more prominently.

"We got rules that have to be observed," the amazed motorist was informed. "I would answer the motorist, evincing his willingness to cooperate and looking at the gun out of the side of his eye. "What are the rules?" "Get goin', you —"

And the motorist went, several of them it was reported to the sheriff.

The man was released today, and will be observed by physicians for several days.

Midland horse breeders will get a share of the government's expenditure of probably $450,000 for army horses late in the summer, it was indicated today in a visit here by Captain Harry A. Fudge from Fort Reno, Okla., who is inspecting government stallions and their progeny.

Captain Fudge is making a preliminary trip of inspection. After his tour of the southwest it will be an easier and more economical task for the army horse buyers to go direct to the ranches after the number of horses indicated as being available.

Thoroughbred stallions heading the horse herds of the Floyds, Francis and Dublin, Scharbauer Cattle company, Tom Nance and Will P. Edwards were inspected from here. The captain will go then to the Spence Jewell and son ranch at Kent, also visiting the Means Bros. and other herds in the mountains.

Not only are the stallions themselves inspected, but also the type of horse herds of the crops which are resulting from the government station's plan of propagation of the thoroughbred industry. Breeders whose mares do not measure in quality and whose colts are not growing out according to the standards set are denied the use of the government stallions.

More than 600 applications are on file at Fort Reno now, Captain Fudge said, from ranchmen and horse breeders who desire the use of these stallions. Only those who give all qualifications, having good ranches and equipment, good mares and proper references as business men are favored.

The army buys horses which are the property of one thoroughbred stallion. Out of the government stallion bought last year only one horse purchased was sired by other than a government stallion. These stallions, "Czar of Russia," Lenin, Telesky and Hitler, he talks incoherently about the Rock of Gibraltar, the River Nile, the Amazon, of Japan and Russia at war, and quotes long passages from Scripture.

Officers said he told them he had "done 14 years" in the state penitentiary at Huntsville.

He was densed in overalls, wore a checkered shirt and a silk-stocking cap. A piece of an old plaid jacket hung from a string under one arm, and a pair of lense-less aviator's goggles suspended from a small rope tied about his waist.

ALL PASSENGERS DEAD, REPORT OF AIRMEN INDICATES

Big Plane Last Seen Over Catskills of New York State

LIVINGSTON MANOR, N. Y., June 11, (U.P.)—The big American airplane transport plane which vanished with seven persons Saturday night was found in Catskill mountains today, destroyed by fire and with all the occupants dead.

The plane was found by William Hallowell and son ranch at Kent, also visiting the Means Bros. and other herds in the mountains.

Not only are the stallions themselves inspected, but also the type of horse herds of the crops which are resulting from the government station's plan of propagation of the thoroughbred industry. IN TERMS OF THE PAST, TODAY IS A FAILURE

One of the strangest things about modern America is the fondness of everybody seems to have developed for looking back at the past.

You get samples of this everywhere. It ranges all the way from the collection of antiques to the desire to look at photographs of the pre-Spanish era.

In one city there was held recently a grand reunion of people who had been public schoolmates half a century ago. Thousands of them turned out for an elaborate picnic and sat about talking over old times. And they seemed to be just about unanimous in the belief that "people had more fun" in the old days.

They talked about sleigh rides in the winters, about oyster stew suppers at farm homes, about children who bummed free rides on horse cars, about spelling bees and Sunday School picnics and the other diversions of the youth of 50 years ago.

They felt rather sorry for their children and grandchildren, who have to grow up in the modern world and miss all those little pleasures that used to be.

Now this attitude, to repeat, is an extremely common one nowadays; and it testifies, not so much to an idyllic quality in American life in the past as to a deep and fundamental dissatisfaction with the American life of today.

We wouldn't keep looking back over our shoulders so much if we found the life about us all that it ought to be. It is the comparison that makes the past look so attractive.

Somehow the present hasn't lived up to our expectations; and this is not solely the fault of the depression, because we had very bad depressions in those good old days.

To understand it, you have to look at the whole development of American life in this century; the nation's emergence as a world power, the spectacular growth of great cities and great industries, the arrival of the automobile age, and the World war.

All these things held out great promise; and in no case has the reality been quite as nice as what we had expected. Life has grown more eventful, perhaps, but hardly richer.

Somehow we must readjust our society so that greater emphasis will be put on purely human values. We shall be a lot happier when we no longer feel the urge to look wistfully back at the day before yesterday.

TOWARD STABILITY

The fact that the birth rate in the United States is steadily declining may be an encouraging sign, instead of the reverse, according to Dr. W. S. Thompson, director of the Scripps Foundation for Research in Population.

A population which is not increasing rapidly, as American population has been increasing ever since the republic was founded, should develop a more stable society than has been possible in the past, predicts Dr. Thompson.

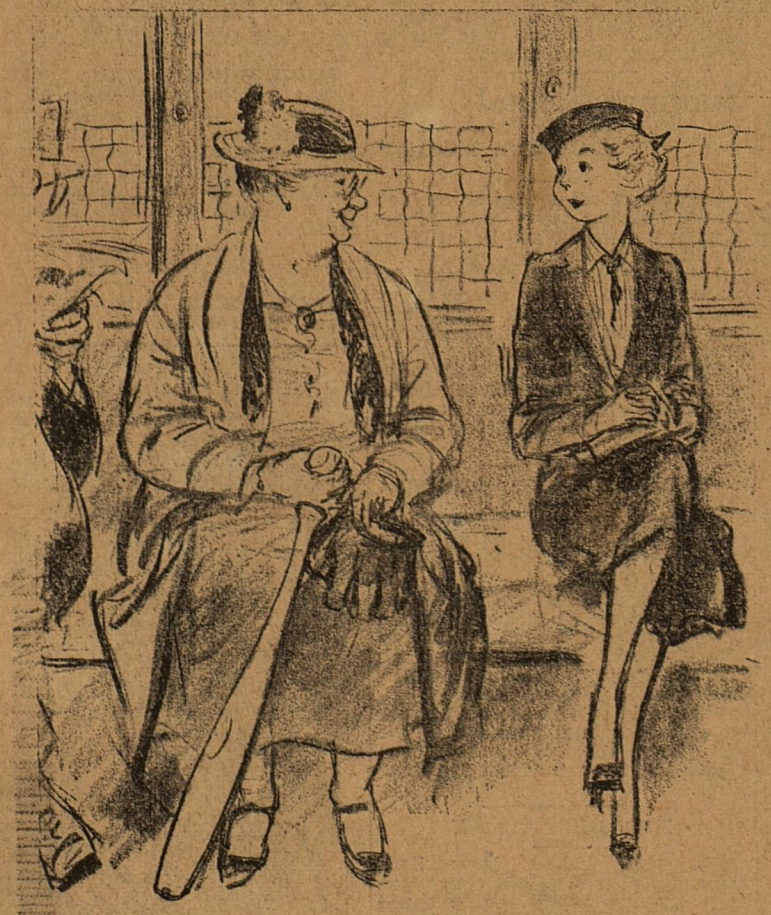

Fewer people will be moving into the large cities. There will be less of the wasteful "mushroom" development of the kind that brings alternating booms and slumps. People will not shift from place to place and from job to job so much. Life will move along more evenly and with fewer disturbances.

Usually a declining birth rate is looked upon as ominous. It is noteworthy that this expert on the subject takes a more hopeful view.

Many congressmen were disgruntled over not being invited to review the U. S. fleet. Now, look out for the next naval appropriation!

Senator Frazier and Representative Lemke of North Dakota went to Manchester, Pa., to address a farmers' rally in Manchester, Md. Talk about farmers' relief—they got it that day in Maryland.

Duke Kimbrough was putting out Ferguson Forums Saturday. He said he was throwing his support to someone who could get elected this time, rather than to run for office himself. I believe Duke is the lawyer who said he had found it cheaper to rent an office than to run for one.

Why is it I always get back to the lawyer? I promised not long ago not to get on them any more, just because I had too much to say about their burdensome language, and here I am bringing Duke into this. However, he doesn't mind my jumping on him. He said a while back that if he ran for district attorney he would rather have me against him than for him, believing that every vote I took at him would benefit his candidacy. But he didn't run.

'Coldest Woman' Makes Hot Denial

Called the "coldest woman in Hollywood," Elissa Landi, film beauty, above, suing for divorce, regards the title as an unjust stigma. She declares she chose a hermit's life because of her "high regard for the marriage contract," after her husband, John Cecil Lawrence, London attorney, refused to go to Hollywood to reside, fearing he would lapse into obscurity as "Mr. Elissa Landi." She charges mental cruelty in asking freedom from Lawrence.

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell Abandon Idealism

Eighteen months ago the world-famous team of Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell dissolved on the completion of "Tess of the Storm Country."

Today, after an interlude marked by a flood of protests against the separation from screen fans and film exhibitors throughout the civilized world, these two favorites are appearing in their twelfth co-starring vehicle, "Change of Heart," at the Yucca theatre.

With them appears a brilliant supporting cast, headed by James Duni and Ginger Rogers. Beryl Mercer, Gustav Von Seyffertitz, Fiske O'Hara, Irene Franklin, Shirley Temple, Jane Barwell and Nella Walker also have important roles.

But with the country cheerfully on its way back to prosperity, and the public now in a mood to look back over the past four years with real belief, Janet and Charlie abandon idealism and present brand-new portrayals to their admirers. It is a new and more mature Janet who appears in "Change of Heart," a Janet who has laid aside the juvenile aspects of her former films in favor of a womanly characterization. And the story, taken from Kathleen Norris' vivid novel of romance during the depression, "Manhattan Love Song," gives her a perfect vehicle in which to make this transition.

John G. Blystone, whose long list of successes includes such films as "My Lips Betray" and "Tollable David," directed.

Veteran Seaman Knows Bad Luck

BIG SPRING.—Harry Martin, veteran seaman and soldier of fortune, spent a short time in Big Spring enroute to Houston where he will continue his wanderings.

Martin, who during his 45 years sailing the seven seas, has figured in 16 marine disasters, including burning, wrecked and torpedoed ships, thinks he can absorb a little more punishment from Dame Luck.

Put to Sea At 4
Martin began his sea career at the age of 14, when he ran away from home, sliding down a cargo chute of a freighter docked in Portland, Oregon, his home. Harry hid until the ship had put out to sea, and after an impromptu spanking administered by the captain, was given a job as cabin-boy.

His initial voyage almost cured him of the sea lure. His ship, the Dorothy Ricks, was pounded to pieces off Cape Horn, with the survivors, 18 in all including Martin, adrift on a raft. Only eleven men remained at the rescue when they were picked up by a passing liner

Figures in Wreck

But the sea has a way of subtly insinuating itself into a man's soul and Harry Martin was no exception. He shipped out again on the Marjorie Fagan, a square-rigged vessel, and it was only a week before she broke in two after running into a heavy sea.

Two days and nights, Martin, with a few others, clung to a floating broken spar. He was washed near enough to swim to shore.

Intermittently during the next three and a half decades, Martin's fate stuck with him. Another sailing vessel on which he shipped, the Gilbert Morgan, was battered to pieces in the Straits of Magellan. The next wreck occurred when the steamship Eagle went down in a storm, leaving Martin and 11 others afloat in a small dingy. They were picked up five days later.

His Typhoon
Then Martin, to whom shipwrecks were becoming a habit, picked the Golden Gate, the original vessel of that name, which ran squarely into a typhoon. With Martin aboard there was only one course open to the ship. It sank too.

Though he was on ships after that that went down, Martin didn't experience anything thrilling until the war, when two Austrian ships were torpedoed, one in the Mediterranean and one in the South Pacific, bound for home with wounded soldiers on board. Since the war, Martin says he has signed on two ships that went down and one that was seized by

"Journal of a Crime" Hits Home with Smashing Power; Chatterton Is Great

Although the picture public is led to expect nothing but the best in the way of film entertainment from Ruth Chatterton, yet never has she given such a demonstration of sheer power in the portrayal of scenes of tremendous emotion as she does in "Journal of a Crime," the First National picture showing today and tomorrow at the Ritz theatre.

In the role of a highly sensitive woman of fine breeding who is goaded into committing murder to keep a ruthless love pirate from wrecking her home, she gives a character portrayal that is masterfully superior even to her work in "Frisco Jenny" or "Madams X."

No better actor could have been chosen to play opposite Miss Chatterton than the cool, suave man-of-the-world, Adolphe Menjou, who gives a virile and convincing performance as the playright husband whose infatuation for the beautiful and popular star of his musical production brings about the tragedy.

His portrayal of the philandering husband whose indifference is at first turned to hatred upon discovering his wife's guilt, then later changing to scorn and finally to pity that eventually leads to a rebirth of love, is both ably and subtly conveyed.

Claire Dodd gives a splendid performance in the role of the home wrecker, the beautiful idol of Paris, in whose self-centered life nothing counts except her own selfish pleasures and the plaudits of the multitude in which she basks her vanity.

Noel Madison gives an excellent portrayal of the criminal accused of the murder, as does Douglas Drumville in the role of the prosecutor who sends him to the guillotine, and George Barbier as the producer in whose theatre the drama centers. The less conspicuous roles are well handled by Henry O'Neill, Phillip Reed, Henry Kolker and others.

the district to assist delinquent tax payers in working out a solution of their tax problems.

Every delinquent account has been compiled in ledger form to facilitate computing of amounts due and savings to be had by paying before July 1.

Reagan called attention to the state law which pertains to delinquent tax payments which allows for payment of back taxes between now July 1 with only 6 per cent interest. Thereafter, such taxes bear 10 per cent penalty plus 6 per cent interest.

A $100 delinquent account can be paid before July 1 for $106, he pointed out, where as if it is paid July 1 or after it will take $131 to pay the same amount.

The district officials said that since 1930 cost of administering and maintaining the schools had decreased 36 per cent while taxes had been reduced 36-2-3 per cent. At the same time delinquent payments have increased, making it more and more difficult to operate and at the same time preserve economies for the tax payer.

Total delinquent roll total $6,991 or $10,711 more than was assessed for school purposes last year.

Prompt payment of taxes accomplish a double good now, district officials declared. It will relieve the schools' burden and the burdens of the tax payer.

BIG SPRING—Cooperation in a mutual plan of adjustment through payment of delinquent taxes is being urged here by the Big Spring Independent school district.

Payment of back taxes before July 1, 1934, will not only enable the administration to continue economies instituted but it will also effect a generous saving to the payer.

WHAT A TIRE! WHAT A TIRE! See it here! Goodyear test drivers burned out brakes—wrecked cars — pounded the roads night and day — and it kept its grip twice as long as other tires!

IF YOU think the non-skid tread on your present tires wore out too soon — you're right!

Ordinary treads can't stand the strain of modern driving.

But come in today and see a tire that will!

The new "G-3" All-Weather! It has a wider tread — flatter tread — more rubber in the tread — more non-skid blocks in the center of the tread — and gives 43% longer non-skid mileage than the best previous Goodyear All-Weather.

No matter what car you drive — no matter how you drive — this tire will give you more miles of safety — AT NO EXTRA COST!

WARNING!

Watch the rest of the industry try to copy this amazing tire. Watch them try to duplicate Goodyear's claims. But, remember, you have to have "non-skid" before you can have "non-skid mileage." And to have "non-skid," you have to have GRIP where you see it here — GRIP in the center of the tread — the place where it counts, because it's the spot where the tire contacts the road. Look at the grip on this Goodyear Tire and ask yourself why buy any tire that lacks this safety? And keep in mind that you cannot successfully build this type of non-skid tire without the extra-durability of Supertwist cords.

On the eve of the battle between Max Baer and Primo Carnera there aren't three experts who will concede that the champion is even likely to lose, according to a story by Dick Williams printed in Liberty magazine revealing a most amazing series of inconsistencies surrounding the Italian's boxing career.

Williams lists some of these: "His honesty as a pugilist has been questioned, his ability challenged, his courage impugned, his physical equipment scoffed at, his very right to live as he has chosen debated. He defeated little Tommy Loughran by stepping on his feet and out-boxing him, when by all the laws of common sense and physics he should have destroyed him completely. And he earned his chance at Jack Sharkey's championship by catching poor Ernie Schaaf more dead than alive and pushing him into eternal darkness with a mild shove in the cheek."

Schaaf died after a knock out by Carnera, which the writer relates sent the big fighter into a fit of panicky despondency for weeks afterwards. In the face of the various inconsistencies in Carnera's life, Williams cites the following reasons for the experts refusing to predict his defeat.

"For one thing, the sheer tonnage of the man. He is the biggest fighter ever to hold the championship. He is by all odds the most powerful, and by the admission of the smart boys everywhere he is one of the two or three fastest and cleverest. Not since Jim Corbett has a man carried the sheer speed into a heavyweight fight that this Italian freak carries. Even Tunney, for all his admitted science was not as fast with his hands and feet as Carnera. Loughran, Sharkey, Tom Gibbons, Jack Johnson—none of them carried the sheer speed of hand and foot Carnera has. Even Baer, with the catrap speed and enthusiasm of youth, will not compare with him in agility."

Here is what George Elliott Jr., manager of the Odessa Oilers, has to say about the baseball game staged here June 8 between his club and the Midland Colts.

"Proving that they could play winning ball in rain and mud, as well as on a dry sunny day, the Odessa Oilers motored over to Midland and chalked up an 11 to 5 victory. The game was played in a

MIDLAND INFIELD SPARKLES; GOOD HITTING

Behind the five-hit pitching of Burl Cramer, the Colts Sunday hammered H. Standifer and Timmons for 13 hits and that many runs.

Cramer was complete master of the Stanton crew in every inning but the eighth, when a terrific home run by H. Standifer robbed him of a shutout. The other four hits were of the luckiest kind, pop-ups that fell just out of reach of the infielders.

"Bony" Surratt starred both at bat and in the field, hammering out three hits, one a double, scoring twice, and handling nine chances without a bobble.

Surratt is by far the best short stop to wear a Midland uniform since the days of the old West Texas league. White, flashy first baseman, made several dazzling stops of bad thrown balls.

Richter, with two timely hits and three runs batted in, paced the Midland batters. Girdley also was able to solve Stanton pitchers for two hits.

Richter, with two timely hits, was good for two of the visitors' hits. H. Standifer pitched good ball the first three innings but his wildness forced him to retire in favor of Timmons, who was batted briskly for the rest of the game.

"There were a few errors, due to the muddy ball, but the most errors were on the part of the Midland management, who displayed some poor sportsmanship or else a very high temper. The game was made very slow, due to the Midland manager, as well as a few Midland players, running out and bawling out Umpire Dawkins of McCamey, who was calling balls and strikes. The wild show which they staged should have been stopped, or banished from the ball park. The umpiring seemed fair and good, but Midland's batters must have thought they were soldiers and were supposed to take the bat off their shoulder and swing at the ball. They let many a good strike go by, and one must swing at the ball to hit it, and win ball games."

All of which, from what this reporter can gather, proves that George paid little attention to the game, particularly the umpiring. We've an idea he was watching the rain clouds. Which, after all, was more merciful than George's flat attempts to dissuade the Midland fans. There was a bit of chaffing, as Major Hoopie so fittingly puts it, but George must admit when talking with himself the umpiring deserved it. No, we did not see the game.

Kat Klaw Shotmakers Pull up in Tie With Hobbs by Clean-Sweeping Stanton

They said, all who professed to know anything about golf, that no club would have any chance against Hobbs in the Kat Klaw.

Which may be the very reason Midland clean-swept Stanton Sunday on the country club links, to pull up at the half way mark tied with the New Mexicans for first place.

Midland and Hobbs each scored 106 points during the period.

Hobbs is still rated the favorite down the home stretch, but the Midland contingent, taking courage from the stand of the senior organization here, the Sand Belt, is playing the best golf since its organization last season, "having learned that the strength of opposing clubs is not created by local fear, or minimized by local cockiness," as one literary-minded shotmaker put it.

The Sunday win brings considerable attention to the Midland golfing contingent, as the Sand Belt closed the first half of the season with a 30 to 10 win over Big Spring to go 30 points in the van of that club, which had been in second position.

Features of Midland's 32 to 8 win over Stanton:

Henry Shaw beat Forest King, 5 and 4, and Pat Riley put out Burnam, 7 and 6.

Bill Simpson took Harding, 5 and 4, Harold Dean winning from Moffett, 2 and 1. The low ball match in this foursome was won by Midland easily, 7 and 6.

Red Knight won from Kennedy, 5 and 3, Harry Adams taking his match with Crane, 5 and 4.

In the fourth foursome, Harvey Harrison won from Panell, 5 and 3, Billy Moran winning from Ledbetter, 5 and 4.

Personals

Angelo Smyrie and G. R. McDaniel left Sunday morning on a vacation trip to Monterey, Mexico. They went by way of Laredo, expecting to be gone a week.

Mrs. Burton Boone, her daughter, Virginia, and Mrs. Annie Boone, returned Sunday from a week's vacation at Corpus Christi. Mrs. Boone's sister, Miss Eddie Stevenson, teacher in the Corpus schools, returned with them.

Miss Merle Aldman of Baird is visiting here.

CO-EDS JOIN CAMP

AUSTIN (UP)—Three coeds were among 21 students who left here for a summer geology camp in McCulloch county, conducted by the University of Texas.

The geologists were Misses Mildred Whelan, Fort Worth, and Marie Gramman and Katherine Archer, Austin. They will stay at a private home in Brady, approved by the dean of women of the university.

Men students will have their quarters in a 27-room hotel, to which they are taking their own bedding and a cook who has prepared meals for University of Texas geology camps for years.

Besides students from Texas, the camp roster includes men from the Universities of North Carolina and Michigan.

"U. R. EASY'S" CHECK "N. G." STATE HIGHWAY SINKS

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (UP)—A check for five dollars, accepted by a bartender and approved by a tavern owner, was returned the next day after the bank had discovered the signature, "U. R. Easy."

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UP)—Three hundred feet of the state highway between here and Hinesburg sank out of sight almost overnight. The road passes through a swampy section and apparently was undermined by water.
