BARROW LIENANT CAPTURED

3-POINT PLAN OFFERED STEEL WORKERS TODAY

Impartial Board Is Suggested as a Last Resort

PITTSBURGH, June 15. (U.P.)—A three-point program offered steel workers today by Pres. William Green and the American Federation of Labor will be submitted to a special workers committee for consideration and disposition.

The program entailed a board of three, appointed by the president, to receive complaints of violations of Section 7-A; to mediate any differences and act if necessary; employees shall have the right to bargain collectively; and one of each plant shall meet with workers or their elected representatives to settle all disputes.

As a last resort, the impartial board would have the final decision in disputes.

COTTON RENTALS BRING IN CASH

COLLEGE STATION, June 15.—Nearly half a million dollars weekly is pouring into Texas in the form of cotton land rental payments in the cotton adjustment program, the extension service of Texas A&M college has announced. In the week ending June 4, checks amounting to $456,070 were mailed from the Agricultural Adjustment administration in Washington to 9,819 farmers. The average check was about $46.

Total payments of $2,275,072 had been made to 49,993 farmers in 46 Texas counties through June 4. It is estimated that the remainder of the first installment of the 1934 land rental payments, now due and rapidly arriving, will amount to about 10 million dollars.

The total land rental payments for 1934 in the cotton program, as given by the State Cotton Review board for 189 counties approved up to June 2, will amount to $21,058,740. Unofficial estimates place the total for all 223 cotton counties in the state at about $25,000,000. Half of this amount is now being paid under the second installment due in August and September.

In addition to the land rentals, parity payments of $6,420,806 are scheduled to be paid to the 197,344 cotton contract signers in these 189 approved counties. The unofficial estimate of total parity payments to all 223 cotton counties is estimated at $7,500,000. This payment is due about Christmas.

In addition to these 1934 payments, it is estimated that nearly $15,000,000 was paid last winter under cotton contracts in these 189 approved counties. The unofficial estimate of total parity payments to all 223 cotton counties is estimated at $7,500,000. This payment is due about Christmas.

In the June 2 report on 189 counties released by the State Review board the acres rented to the secretary of agriculture total 4,123,194. This indicates a total reduction for the state of about 4,900,000 acres.

Cotton Adjustment Data Detailed for Midland County

Number of contracts, 288; adjusted average production (lint pounds), 3,835,135; base acreage, 31,389; acres rented to secretary, 12,397; total 1934 rentals, 52,067; 1934 parity payments, 15,341.

THREE-LEGGED DOG HAPPY

PAINESVILLE, O. (U.P.)—"Peggy," a six-month-old poodle dog, born with only three legs, scampered happily about as if unhandicapped. The peculiar animal, with her right front leg missing, is the pet of Florence Yulish, 14. Veterinary experts say that only three legs was rare among dogs, though more common in cattle.

HOME HAS HONESTY DOOR

QUINCY, Mass. (U.P.)—An "honesty door" is an unusual feature of Albert S. Pierson's home on Riverbank road. Since the house was built two years ago, it has had three doors, but only two are used. The third door will not be opened, says Pierson, until he discovers a person thoroughly honest in all his dealings and thoughts.

The World's New Heavy Champion

Max Baer, above, fought one of the most savage fights in the history of the game last night to win a technical knockout over Primo Carnera of Italy in the 11th round. He floored Primo 11 times.

Mighty Assault of Baer Crumbles Primo's Defense

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

RINGSIDE, MADISON GARDEN BOWL, NEW YORK, June 15.—All the savagery and drama of Jack Dempsey's conquest of Luis Angel Firpo—something the prize ring thought never would be equalled—rocketed out of the past last night to awe 52,000 of the faithful again as Max Baer crushed his way to the heavyweight championship over the battered body of huge Primo Carnera.

Eleven times in eleven rounds the floor full-length from left balance to hold the title, crashed to the floor from Baer's blows, twice in the last round, before Referee Arthur Donovan stopped the fight after two minutes and 16 seconds of the 11th amid such chaos and tumult as the ring hasn't seen since Dempsey's most famous triumph in 1923. A twelfth time the giant slid to the floor full-length from left balance in a wild lunge at his foe.

Helpless at the end of the tenth round, when Referee Donovan almost stopped the fight in between two knockdowns, Carnera staggered off for his finish in the eleventh bloody, semi-conscious, but as brave as any man who ever went to so certain a fate.

The thrill-sodden crowd, losing one sullen, hoarse roar after another that swept in waves across the arena, arose for the "kill." Once the smugging Baer, wearing his battered champion's title, had betted the champion to the floor. Again Carnera went down from a right high to the head, his tree-like legs barely able to hold him up. Donovan, who had betted Baer to win himself for the final smash, Troughton his crushed and swollen lips the champion whispered as he turned his head to the referee:

"Finish, finish, I am finish."

Donovan wrestled in between them, stayed Baer's finishing hand, pushed him back toward his corner, the new heavyweight champion of the world.

Carnera started to protest and his seconds roared wildly about the ring. Then they threw a robe about his battered, bleeding head and led him down the steps, toward the end of the trail for the monster man of the ring, the peasant from Segusia, Italy, eight short years ago, a freak in a circus.

He'd declined afterwards that he hadn't had enough, that Donovan shouldn't have stopped it, that he could have continued, but he spoke from his heart and his courage more than his senses. He was one of the most terribly beaten champions in all heavyweight history, crushed almost as badly as was Jess Willard under Dempsey's iron-thewed fists at Toledo in 1919.

Every time this grinning, devious, contemptuous Baer, the Livermore ladies' man, threw his cobblestone fists into the great hulk of the Italian he all but tore him apart. That the challenger fought only in flashes probably accounted for the fact that Carnera lasted as long as he did.

Three times Carnera was on the floor in the first round, and three more times in the second he flopped down, terribly hurt, but dragging Baer with him as he grabbed his tormentor's arms trying to keep his balance. Again in the third a right to the chin flattened the mammoth.

There were no more knockdowns until the tenth, although Carnera

SUBSTITUTE OIL PLAN GETS RIGHT OF WAY IN HOUSE

Investigation to Be Launched into the Ills of Industry

WASHINGTON, June 15. (U.P.)—The house rules committee today gave legislative right of way to the Cole resolution providing for investigation of the petroleum industry.

The vote was unanimous. In probability the resolution will be brought up today. The resolution, introduced by Rep. William O. Cole Jr. (D. Md.) is a substitute for the Disney oil production control bill, which was rejected by the house interstate commerce committee yesterday. It would empower the interstate commerce committee or the subcommittee to make detailed investigation into the practices of the oil industry, including those concerning the shipment of hot oil.

ADDITIONAL SHOW AT CUMMINS TEST

C. J. (Red) Davidson's No. 1 H. E. Cummins, northwestern Ecor county wildcat, was making a batter of oil per hour this morning, having encountered the additional showing at 4.288 at about 6 o'clock.

The line was being spliced, preparatory to resuming drilling about noon. The well was making gas estimated at from five million to six million cubic feet.

The first showing was encountered at 4.221 and gas had been increasing as the hole was deepened. No. 1 Cummins has an elevation of 3,294 feet and is credited with having topped the brown lime at 3,225 feet and the gray lime at slightly below 4,075 feet. Its first gas was in the top of the Yates sand at 2,740 feet. Location is 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 10, block 45, township 1 north, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, on an Empire block.

Numerous land, royalty and lease owners of properties around the Cummins well live at Midland.

Corn Is Likely Only Product to Advance

Because of Drought

SAN ANGELO.—Drought conditions over the nation likely will not affect the price of canned goods, this fall with the exception of corn and its products, in the opinion of W. A. Halameck, vice-president and secretary of the Martin-Glover company.

There is a large crop and a sizable carry-over in fruits, beans and other staples, Halameck said. Beans and spinach were not packed in the south until a recent year, he said, but Texas adds a large pack to the total now.

Flour has already advanced and likely will continue to rise, despite a large cut in the wheat crop because of drought, Halameck said, because of the huge surplus of wheat already in existence and because of foreign wheat.

Incidentally, consumption of bread and other wheat products has decreased greatly, others foods taking their place. This also would tend to hold flour prices down.

McCraw Praises Hamilton Verdict

EL PASO, June 15.—(Sp.)—Highest praise for the work of District Attorney Max Rogers of Groveton in getting the death penalty on Raymond Hamilton at Painesville was voiced today by William McCraw as he brought his campaign for the attorney generalship to El Paso.

McCraw also wired his congratulations to Rogers, who is manager of the McCraw campaign in the 12th judicial district.

"This is a splendid victory for the state of Texas against its public enemy No. 1," McCraw, who as Dallas county district attorney set a national record for robbery convictions, said. "The fact that Texas is riding itself of the hoodlum in a lawful and orderly manner bespeaks an aroused public conscience, and a new day in which such terrorism as was Hamilton's and Clyde Barrow's will not be possible."

"It has long been my plea, as district attorney of my own county and as president of the District and County Attorneys' association of Texas, that there should be greater coordination among the prosecutors of the state, as well as among the law enforcement officers. If that were done, the fine work which District Attorney Rogers has accomplished would be found often."

McCraw declared that the vast majority of Texas prosecutors are able, courageous men, but "they should have every facility and the greatest cooperation in their work. As attorney general, I will lend every resource of the department whenever they ask for assistance."

Nothing was heard this morning as to McCraw's failure to visit Midland today. A letter was received from El Paso, but contained no reference to the Midland visit.

Sings, Fiance Dead

Death glared in the wings as Leah Ray, 19, right, with never a tremor, sang a song in a Detroit theatre thanking her sweetheart for a lovely evening. She went on for her act knowing that her fiance, Harry Pinsky, was a passenger on the missing airliner that a few hours later was found in the Catskills, seven dead in its wreckage.

Asks Vindication

Saying his dead brother, Rex Waller, was shot down by Spletts-flosser because the candidate for state treasurer would not comply with the terms of an extortion letter, Dennis Waller, above, who says he has the letter, is seeking the office "to vindicate the Waller name and to clear my brother of stigma." The letter was sent through the mails in March, he says, demanding, "You place $5,000 in some bank in Texas and send me the deposit slip or I will kill you." The shooting was not a culmination of family trouble, Waller says.

HUTCHISON FOR COMMISSIONER

Announcement was made today by W. A. Hutchison, well known ranchman living in the southern part of Midland county, that he is a candidate for commissioner of precinct number three.

Hutchison has operated his ranch in that section for more than 25 years, he and his family have lived on the place practically all that time except for spending school terms here when they had children in the public schools.

In addition to his ranch operations, the candidate has represented cattle loan companies for many years, serving as appraiser and inspector of both cattle and lands. That experience necessitated a keen knowledge of property values throughout West Texas and gave him a basis for comparative values in taxation and other matters of county business.

Hutchison said he was making the race without a detailed platform, but he had no "axe to grind" and was not representing any faction or group; but that he would give his time and the best of his business ability to serving his precinct and the entire county if elected.

JURORS DIVIDED IN STEVENS CASE

It was reported standing six for acquittal, six for conviction.

DIVORCE IS HINTED FOR CURTIS DALLS

RENO, Nev., June 15. (U.P.)—The second divorce in the Roosevelt family since the president took office impended today.

Anna Roosevelt Dall, only daughter of the Roosevelts, left Washington yesterday for Reno to establish residence preparatory to divorcing Curtis Dall, New York and Chicago broker.

A year ago Elliott Roosevelt, second son, came here to divorce his wife, the former Elizabeth Donner of Philadelphia.

Martin Takes Trip Over Drought Area

COLLEGE STATION.—"The real catastrophe in the Texas drought area is that there is no subsoil moisture," O. B. Martin, director of the Texas A&M college extension service and state drought relief director, said on his return from a recent 200-mile drive through the drought area. "There are some good cross sections in the area where there are strips of green land between the dry, barren spots, but this is due to surface moisture gathered from the showers of the past two or three weeks and will not last. It may look good now to the casual observer, but in a short time the hot winds and the dry soil will absorb any moisture there is and the grass and leaves will be removed from the secondary Counties in the primary drought area in Texas are: Oldham, Potter, Moore, Sherman, Dallam, Hartley, and Deaf Smith, which recently has been removed from the secondary drought classification list and put on the primary list."

Drought relief work is progressing favorably in these counties, according to Martin, through the cooperative efforts of the drought relief commission of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, the Federal Emergency Relief administration, represented by the Texas Relief commission, the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, and the extension service.

This area distressed beef and dairy cattle are being bought on a definite price schedule and destroyed if diseased, or processed for relief if sound. Twenty-five inspectors of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry are in the Texas counties now appraising and classifying cattle. Those farmers and ranchers who have contracts agree to cooperate in any future adjustment program for cattle.

A canning plant, where the sound cattle are to be processed for relief under the drought relief plans, opened June 11 in Amarillo. Nineteen other canning plants were operated in the state last year, but this one is to be the model for the plants to be opened in the other drought areas of the United States.

Another development in the situation came when the Interstate Commerce commission cooperating with the relief agencies authorized freight reductions on livestock and feed for the drought area. Actual reductions are made by the railroads, with the relief authority of the Interstate Commerce commission. The reductions authorized amount to 33 to 50 per cent below the regular rates and apply to hay, coarse grains, livestock feed, and to livestock shipments into grazing areas. The rate on livestock will be 85 per cent of the regular rate to the feeding point, with the privilege of return shipment at 15 per cent of the regular rate. This is intended to encourage the return of foundation stock and future maintenance of the beef and dairy industries in the drought region.

Many a dame gets off lighter than that.

Did you ever stop to think what a hard time a president has? Herbert Hoover was criticized continually for doing nothing and President Roosevelt is constantly catching it for doing too much. Where is the happy medium for a president?

I know a man whose wife and her kin make him crawl so much that he is beginning to believe he is a centipede.

Timidity gets people into as much trouble as brazenness does.

I have heard a new theory on the "gentlemen prefer blondes" idea. A man remarked upon the subject: "I prefer blondes when I am looking at a pretty blonde. I prefer brunettes when I am looking at a pretty brunette."

A lie which is told every day: "I'll make a memorandum of that and call you up tomorrow."

A little girl was kidnaped and forced to undergo hardships. She was returned home and was the object of much limelight. Her father had the idea of getting her a movie contract. He failed and went home disappointed. But I think the little girl is much better off. At her age she needs to play. If he had secured her the movie contract she would have had hardships almost as bad as those she suffered while she was kidnaped.

The room was further adorned with water ball decorations, bright umbrellas and varied colored balloons, giving the atmosphere of the revue.

NEGLECT OF COMMON CONSTIPATION IS A SERIOUS MATTER

Prevent This Condition with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

The first question your doctor asks is whether you are constipated or not. He knows that this condition may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. It is often the starting point of serious illness.

You can prevent and relieve common constipation so easily. Just eat a delicious cereal once a day. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

Isn't this "cereal way" safer and far more pleasant than taking patent medicines—so often harmful? Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If seriously ill, see your doctor—ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all."

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Portion of "X" Ranch Is Sold

ALBANY, June 14.—The largest real estate deal here in years was completed this week with conveyance by Reynolds Cattle Co., pioneer cattle and ranch corporation of Fort Worth, to T. G. Hendrick of Abilene and Odessa, of 20,768 acres of the Reynolds "X" ranch lying in Shackelford, Throckmorton and Haskell counties for a cash consideration of $245,808.

This acquisition makes a total of nearly 45,000 acres in a single block purchased by Col. Hendrick, prominent West Texas landowner and owner of the Hendrick oil pool in Winkler county, beginning with the Colbert Land & Cattle company ranch of 8,000 acres on the Brazos, in Shackelford county, purchased three years ago, and the addition of 15,000 acres purchased from Jack Farmer in August 1933, all situated along the permanent water supply of a tributary of the Brazos, a portion of the land originally owned and operated 50 years ago by the pioneer Monroe Cattle Co. of Monroe City, Missouri.

Not until 1895 was helium gas discovered on the earth.

Canning Kitchen Adopts a Slogan

SAN MARCOS, (U.P.)—Two hours from the garden to the can" is the slogan adopted by the new $2,500 relief canning kitchen here.

Nearly 85,000 shining tin cans are stacked in the kitchen awaiting farmers' produce. The canning plant has a daily output of 1,000 to 1,500 cans.

A farmer who hauls his produce to the plant will receive about 45 per cent of his vegetables, canned.

in payment. He will be returned about 40 per cent of his canned meat.

The remainder is turned over to the Texas Relief commission's commissary for distribution to destitute persons.

Commodity clerks estimate the farmer will net more for his produce at the canning kitchen than at commercial markets. He will receive, for example, about $2 per bushel for roasting ears and about $1 per bushel for tomatoes.

A bushel of roasting ears is sufficient for 43 cans of corn. The farmer will receive about 20 cans, each worth approximately 10 cents on the market.

MADISON, Wis.—What has become of the college man of the supplements, enveloped in a racoon coat, flask on hip, golf clubs in one hand, co-ed in the other, speeding along in an expensive car—drunker than a goat? This 1929 caricature is familiar to all. Is it possible that in four short years he has vanished?

The depression, post-prohibition college man, to put it bluntly, is a dull fellow. He combines with a youthful hopefulness a lack of imagination and a staggering amount of intellectual decay. Accepting the 1929 caricature at face value, in comparison this present group of college students drink less, "pets" less and thinks less.

The depression, post-prohibition college man, to put it bluntly, is a dull fellow. He combines with a youthful hopefulness a lack of imagination and a staggering amount of intellectual decay. Accepting the 1929 caricature at face value, in comparison this present group of college students drink less, "pets" less and thinks less.

At a university such as Wisconsin, whose liberal tradition has attracted students from all over the world, whose citizens are as conservative as any chamber of commerce, and whose environment is so conducive to pleasure, there are naturally many types. On the periphery are the scholars who work their way through school, intent solely upon an education. In the inner circle are the hangers on from 1929, playboys who still have money and who prefer Bacchus to books. At the core, and comprising the great majority of students, is the future backbone of the Middle West, upright, honest, and dull men and women, from farm, village and city.

What has repeal done to these students? Do they still drink as much as "belly"? Alcoholicly speaking they do not. More students drink beer than before, but less indulge in hard liquor. For money is scarce. And it is no longer considered smart to drink.

What about the wild fraternity parties that used to be so prevalent according to the movies? A look at the financial records of most of the houses around the campus will indicate the answer. No money, no drinks. And again, the present crop of college men and women are so young that the bliss of a good, hard drunk is either unknown or unattractive. Parents still consider drinking a glass of 3.2 a sign of Bacchic irresponsibility but they get used to lipstick and they'll get used to snids before the next war.

Is this college town, then, on a football weekend, a model of propriety? Far from it. This college town on a football weekend is not unfamiliar with the breath of whisky fumes. But without a doubt the most boisterous drunks, the most offensive staggerers and the most obnoxious playboys are John Smith '05, Tom Jones '17, Harry Brown '22 and their immediate cohorts. The students have a right to smile at this paradoxical behavior of the older generation.

But surely, Mrs. Weisendank from Sun Prairie will hasten to interpolate, the boys and girls of today "pet" outrageously? That will depend upon what the lady means by "pet." Since the older generation invented the phrase they should be

Three stars—Clark Gable, William Powell and Myrna Loy—united for the first time, come to the Yucca theatre starting at a Saturday night preview and continuing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new production, "Manhattan Melodrama."

Laid in New York, the picture presents Gable as a big-shot gambler and racketeer, powerful and dramatic figure of the city's smart night life.

Powell is the district attorney who, reared with Gable and always his friend, is forced to choose between faithfulness to his public trust and prosecution of his pal for murder.

Miss Loy is the woman in both their lives, loved by both.

Col. W. S. Van Dyke, who gave the screen "Eskimo," "Trader Horn" and other outstanding successes, directed. The producer was David O. Selznick, who made "Dinner at Eight," "Little Women," "Kong," "Dancing Lady" and other hits.

The supporting cast includes Leo Carrillo, Nat Pendleton, George Sidney, Isabel Jewell, Muriel Evans, Thomas Jackson, Claudette Kaye, Frank Conroy, Noel Madison, Micky Rooney and Jimmy Butler.

"Manhattan Melodrama" was an original story by Arthur Caesar, adapted to the screen by Oliver H. P. Garrett and Joseph L. Mankiewicz. It was photographed by James Wong Howe, A. S. C., who handled the camera on "Viva Villa!" and other hit pictures.

Mexican Story
Presents Raft
In Thrill Role

"The Trumpet Blows," George Raft's latest starring picture for Paramount, comes to the Ritz theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Supporting him are Adolphe Menjou, Frances Drake, Sidney Toier, Katherine DeMille, Edward Ellis and Nydia Westman.

The story, an original by Porter

Emerson Browne, is a romance of Mexico, laid against the colorful, thrilling background of the bull ring.

Directed by Stephen Roberts, it tells of Raft, a dashing young Mexican, who has been educated in the United States to dampen his ambition of becoming a matador. His elder brother, Menjou, is a retired bandit of the "Robin Hood" type, now a respected, wealthy cattle rancher.

Menjou loves his brother dearly and tries to keep him from bull fighting. Frances Drake, a charming dancing girl, brought to the hacienda to celebrate Raft's return to Mexico, draws him into an impulsive romance. When he discovers his brother is in love with her, he immediately leaves for Mexico City and the bull ring.

The ensuing rivalry between the brothers and the romantic and tragic phases of the young matador's rise to prominence in the arenas, serve as the elements for the gripping and convincing climax.
