New Emergency Feed Loan Program Explained Here

FIELD MEN OVER BIG AREA ATTEND MORNING SESSION

Livestock Producers Of All Kinds Are Said Eligible

Charles W. Sherrill, regional director of the crop production loan board; J. Edwin Brown, field director in Texas; and Mr. Davis of the Texas Relief commission explained the new emergency feed loan program to crop production field representatives from the Panhandle to San Antonio and from Abilene to El Paso in a meeting this morning at the Midland chamber of commerce office.

Included in the meeting were relief administrators from several counties, county farm agents and county farm board members.

Davis said complete cooperation in the program would be given by the Texas Relief commission. The clerical work will be handled by the county relief boards and the relief commission will take care of any added expense incident to making out the loan applications.

"President Roosevelt is the best friend the distressed farmers of the United States ever had," Sherrill declared as the gathering applauded. Sherrill explained that the emergency feed loans applied to cattlemen with herds of beef cattle as well as to farmers and dairymen. The feed loans are on all classes of livestock, including chickens. The loans are to begin immediately. The character or integrity of the borrower are to be important factors in borrowing money for feed loans.

The field men made reports on their counties. The chamber secretary made a short talk welcoming the visitors.

Cattlemen can get emergency feed loans from the government, no matter how big their herds are, said Field Inspector Jay of the crop production loan office at Dallas.

Loans are made on a monthly basis. Cattlemen, dairymen, farmers, poultry growers, all types of livestock producers, are eligible.

When applications are made at once. They will be made through the county relief office. It is the plan of the government to furnish loans through loans for distressed stock not slaughtered by the government.

SHERRILL BACK FROM WASHINGTON CONFERENCE

Drought relief funds from the $100,000,000 drought relief appropriation to farmers and stockmen made available by congress for the purchase of feed for farm and range livestock and to plant forage crops in primary drought areas in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, will be disbursed immediately, according to announcement made in Midland today by Charles W. Sherrill, regional manager of the southwest emergency crop and feed loan office of the production credit division of the Farm Credit administration at Dallas.

Sherrill returned Monday morning from a conference in Washington Saturday with S. M. Garwood, production credit commissioner, and Norman Monaghan, assistant director in charge.

Explanation of the regulations governing the loans were made at a meeting in the county court room in Midland today. The meeting was by the local farmers and stockmen conducted by Sherrill and attended by the Federal Emergency Relief administration, county loan committees county agents chamber of commerce executive committee and supervisors of the regional office. Applications for aid will be accepted from the following Texas counties immediately, Sherrill said. Texas counties designated as primary drought area include:

Dallas, Deaf Smith, Dimmit, Ector, Edwards, Frio, Hartley, Kenney, Loving, Maverick, Medina, Midland, Moore, Oldham, Potter, Randall, Real, Reeves, Sherman, Uvalde, Val Verde, Ward, Winkler, Zavala.

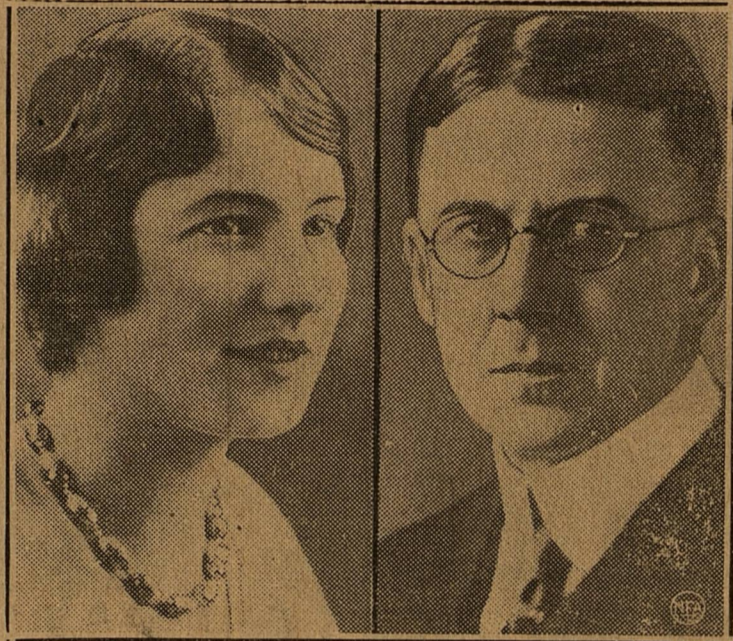

In discussing the provisions of the regulations, Sherrill pointed out that applications can be accepted only from applicants residing in counties designated as primary drought areas. Applicants eligible to receive consideration must have no means or other sources of credit enabling them to undertake the production of a forage crop or crops or to purchase feed for their livestock.

Loans will be advanced in monthly installments, with a supplemental application necessary for each month's requirements.

The loan securing the promissory note given will be subject to non-disturbance agreement to be executed by lien-holders, if any, who must agree to take no steps to enforce the payment or collection of any claim against the borrower nor dispossess him of any property until January 1, 1935.

Applications must be submitted to the emergency crop and feed loan committee for the county in which the applicant's livestock is located and for forage crops to be planted. Headquarters of the county loan committee will be at the office of the local county relief administrator who will serve as a member of the county committee. Stenographic (See LOAN, Page Six)

Accuses Premier as Seducer

In an Edmonton, Alta., trial sensational throughout Canada, Vivian MacMillan, 22, left, of Edmonton, Alta., faces Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta, right, with seduction charges, asking unnamed damages. The girl declares she was induced by the premier to work in Edmonton, that Brownlee persuaded her to live at his home, then threatened to discharge her if she refused his advances. The premier, denying the charges, filed a $10,000 counter suit.

MINISTER'S ALLEGED HANDWRITING FREEHAND FORGERY, EXPERT INFORMS

SAN ANTONIO, June 28, (U.P.)—A handwriting expert testified signatures on a marriage application and a license are freehand forgeries.

Mrs. Wineta Welburn, who seeks divorce, alleging she married the minister last July 24, will present experts to show the signatures genuine, the plaintiff's counsel indicated.

The minister denies he married the woman, and denies parentage of her child.

The former pastor of the Government Hill Methodist church said that the signatures on the license were supposed to have been filed notice of intent to marry the plaintiff, he spent the morning calling on members of his flock and the afternoon preparing the next day's sermon.

The day of the alleged wedding the preacher said, he spent all day preparing for a baseball game between the single and married men of his congregation. He played on the single men's team, he further testified. The defense will offer a newspaper clipping in evidence to verify the date of the game.

Throughout the trial, the courtroom has been crowded with congregation members from his pastorate. Sentiment appeared to be with Welburn.

STAUDT SPEAKER FOR ROTARY CLUB

Explanation of acid treatment of oil wells was made in a talk at the Rotary club today by John Staudt, research engineer of Dowell, Inc., chemical concern which is locating a warehouse and its Permian Basin and New Mexico headquarters here.

Staudt, for some time at Odessa, has been promoted to Tulsa, but appeared before the Rotary club upon request made to his company.

The speaker described the field of work in which his company is interested in a non-technical manner, showing how the acid treatment enlarges the pores of formations in which oil exists, thereby making the flow easier. Problems of injecting the acid without damage to equipment and without spoiling the well in any way were discussed briefly.

Mrs. W. Earl Miller, sister of Father Edw. P. Harrison, member of the club, appeared on the program, rendering a series of difficult piano numbers. Mrs. Miller, who lives at Del Rio, is visiting here for two weeks.

Ed Stewart, president of the Abilene Rotary club and who headed the recent entertainment here of the 41st district conference of Rotary, visited the Midland organization and made a brief talk. He (See STAUDT, Page Six)

LOW COUNTY RATE ASSURED ANOTHER YEAR, EQUALIZATION BD. ANNOUNCES

The county board of equalization has concluded consideration of values for 1934 taxes which will be due October 1. The board expresses its gratification for the fact that no value has been reduced to any appreciable extent, which makes it possible to keep the county rate at $1.10. The county rate was cut in 1933 from $1.50 to $1.10, this being the first change in the county rate since 1925, when it was raised from $1.25 to $1.50.

The board expressed appreciation to citizens with whom adjustments were made and to representatives of the oil companies, who were fair in their renditions. Reports from the office of A. C. Francis, tax collector, showed a decided increase in taxes paid since the inauguration of various forms of public utility savings made possible by payment before July 1. It is pointed out that if the total Midland county delinquency were paid the saving would amount to some $32,005.35. Savings already made by individuals range from $1.53 to $89.13.

Time Dims Sarajevo's Memory of Assassination Just 20 Years Ago

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

SARAJEVO, June 28.—"On this historic spot Gavril Princip proclaimed liberty on St. Vitus' day, June 28, 1914." Such is the inscription on a plain memorial tablet set in a house on the river quay-side in Sarajevo. On February 1, 1930 this tablet was unveiled, the date coinciding with the fifteenth anniversary of the death of Princip in an Austrian prison. The Yugoslav government officially took no part in the ceremonies. In fact, it forbade any speeches being made. But one of the 80 young Bosnian and Serb students, arrested with Princip 20 years ago, went to the tribune and, addressing the assembled crowd, said: "People, we have met here to pay tribute to him who was greatest among us. At present the most dignified tribute is silence."

After two minutes of quiet, the speaker wound up the ceremonies by saying: "Glory to the hero, Gavril Princip."

And the crowd responded by chanting in unison: "Glory! Glory! Glory!"

Who was this hero, this great young man? He was the perpetrator of the most fatal crime in the history of the modern world. For he assassinated the Archduke Franz Ferdinand and his wife in Sarajevo on June 28, 20 years ago today. This murder of the heir to the Austrian throne resulted in the ultimatum by the Austro-Hungarian empire to the old Serbia and let loose the fatal chain of events which led to the wholesale human butchery of the World War.

Turkish Atmosphere

Save for a monument to the murdered Archduke and Archduchess erected by the Austro-Hungarian government in 1917, the tablet to Princip and the naming of one of the bridges of the town—"Princip bridge"—there is little in Sarajevo to indicate its evil reputation or show much change at all.

Today the Yugoslav flag flies where once the Austro-Hungarian banners flapped. Today the big barracks are filled with Yugoslav instead of Austrian and Hungarian troops. There is also a certain amount of modernization of the ancient Bosnia, of which Sarajevo is the capital. The Austrian masters made some modern improvements.

The Yugoslavs have carried on this work. But in all essentials Sarajevo is what it has always been: a Turkish-looking town. And the religion of a considerable part of the townfolk is Moslem, for in 1389 the Turks broke the back of Serb power in the great battle of Kosovo. And for centuries then the Turks held the Balkans.

"City of Mosques"

Sarajevo lies in a cup surrounded by high mountains. Today it is a city of 200,000 people. The new suburbs are climbing up the mountain sides. But no matter from where the town is viewed, it justifies its title of "City of the 101 Mosques." Everywhere domes and slender minarets are to be seen. West and East are strangely juxtaposed, but the East is predominant, just as there is a majority of Moslems in the municipal council and often a Moslem mayor. The West is evident with its electric lights, its street car lines, its two new streets of the modern shopping center, its hotels, opera house and museum.

But a short turn, and one is in a maze of narrow, twisting streets—a door into the Arabian Nights. Here are the Turkish wood-l houses with their latticed windows. Mosques. Real Oriental bazaars, each tiny shop with its wares proprietor busy at his job. A noisy lane of brass-workers, hammering out their copper and brass bowls. A street of tin workers, leather workers. The strident cries of mule-drivers. The musical calls of the peddlers of melons, baked meats, coffee, lemonade and drinking water.

"Prayer is Better Than Sleep"

Here is a crowd around a soothsayer, who will tell your fortune in the pile of sand he has before him. There is another crowd around a man, who writes letters for the illiterate. The men are dressed in loose, baggy trousers, often in very bright colors, and most of them wear the red fez cap. The Moslem women, padding along in their soft leather slippers with the upturned toes, are all veiled.

There is a Babel of noises such as one hears only in an Oriental town. Then suddenly, five times a day, there is a hush. Life seems suddenly stricken still. For up in the minaret, just as the Moslem muzzains are to be faintly heard shouting the ancient Arab call to service, winding up with the reminder:

"Prayer is better than sleep! Prayer is better than sleep!"

And the prayers—often—are for world peace.

Four Killed When Ranch Home Burns

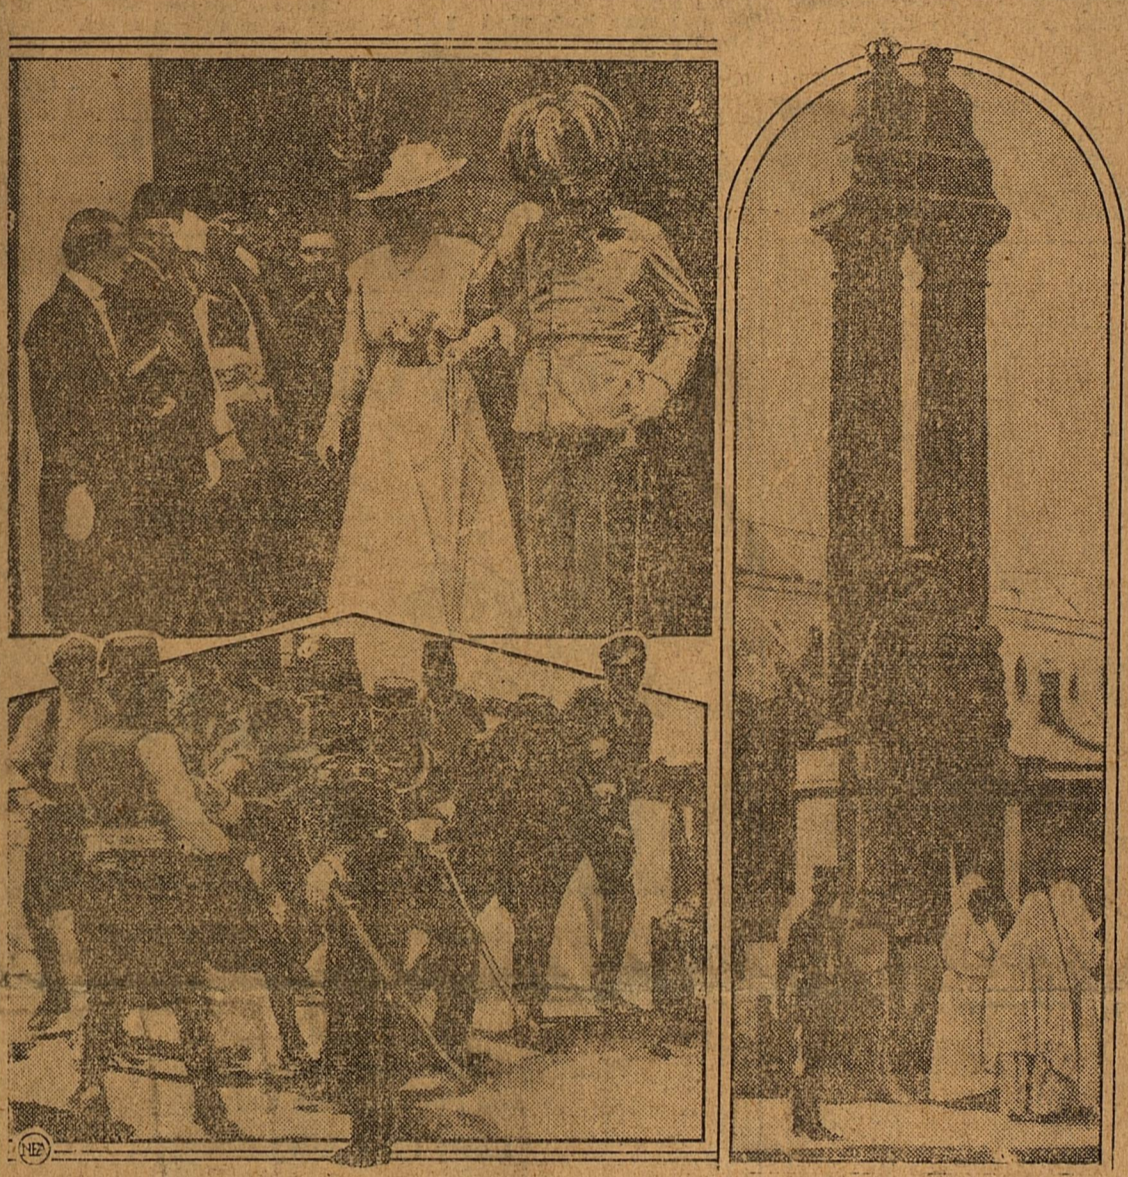

LONGVIEW, June 28, (U.P.)—Four Gregg countians, one a woman, were indicted on charges of paying other people's poll tax.

The grand jury said the purpose of these indicted was "to use the poll tax receipts for unlawful voting." The offense is a felony.

Four Indicted On Poll Tax Charges

HANFORD, Calif., June 28, (U.P.)—Four burned to death when fire trapped them in their four-room ranchhouse.

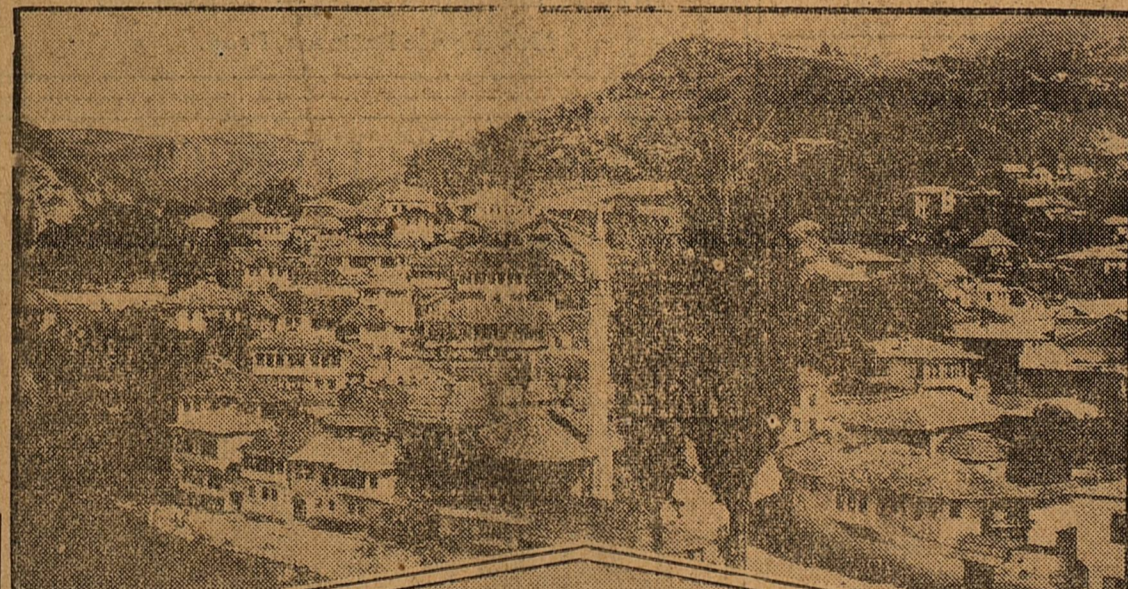

Victims were Albert Koloff, rancher, his two young sons and Mrs. Jennie Larkin, housekeeper.

The awesome shadow of a great war slowly was descending over the unsuspecting world of 1914 when, as shown upper left, the Archduke Franz Ferdinand—Austria's throne heir—and his wife, the Duchess Von Hohenberg, left the Senate House in Sarajevo. A few minutes later Gavril Princip, a Serbian student, had slain them, and lower left you see the young assassin as Serbian police seized him after the fatal shooting. At right: A memorial to the Archduke, erected by Austrians on the exact spot of the assassination.

Modernized suburbs of ill-famed Sarajevo "climb up the side of the mountains" which encircle the town, as you see in the general view above. But in the main,

the Sarajevo of today is little changed from the Sarajevo that brought disaster to the world in 1914. Pictured below is a typical scene in a bazaar, where Moslem merchants hold sway in the shadows of the mosques that dot the skyline with their scores of domes and slender minarets.

LAST RITES TODAY FOR CHAS. EDWARDS

Last rites were heard this morning at 10 o'clock for Charles Edwards, 54, widely known West Texas cattleman, who died late Tuesday as result of peritonitis following an acute attack of appendicitis. The funeral services were held at the Edwards family residence, 420 West Indiana street, with interment following at Fairview cemetery.

The Rev. Winston F. Borum, pastor of the First Baptist church, preached the funeral sermon. He was assisted by the Rev. K. C. Minner, Methodist pastor. W. W. Lackey directed the music by a select choir.

The Rev. Borum, in his sermon, paid tribute to the unselfish and useful life of Charles Edwards and depicted the eternal reward for those who adhere to scriptural teachings. Prayer and scripture reading were given by the Rev. Minner.

A profusion of flowers and a tuncular procession composed of hundreds of automobiles loaded with family friends paid tribute to the esteem in which Mr. Edwards was held.

In addition to Midland citizens, hundreds were here from Odessa, Crane, Kermit, Wink, Monahans and from many towns distant. Many former residents of Midland returned here for the funeral services.

Mr. Edwards had spent the week end at the ranch of his son, Charles Edwards Jr., at Maryneal. His daughter, Miss Jerra Edwards, deputy county clerk here, accompanied him. He became ill but did not consult a doctor until his return here Monday morning. An emergency operation followed but the condition of Mr. Edwards grew steadily worse, death coming at about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Immediate survivors are his widow, three children, Mrs. J. Eugene Cowden of Kerr county, Miss Jerra Edwards of Midland and Charles Edwards Jr. of Maryneal, two brothers, Wesley Edwards of Maryneal and John H. Edwards of Midland; a sister, Mrs. J. F. Gilmore of Portland, Oregon, and five grandsons, the children of Mr. and Mrs. J. Eugene Cowden.

Mr. Edwards had engaged in the cattle business since boyhood. Born at Strawn, Tex., February 9, 1880, he came here with his parents in 1893. He was educated in the Midland public schools, then forming a cattle partnership with his brother, John H. Edwards, which has continued to the present time. They have been operators of the Stapic- (See LAST RITES Page Six)

FOR FAILURE OF A TRUST

A federal court jury in New York has convicted Joseph W. Harriman of misapplication of funds and other misdeeds in connection with the failure of the Harriman National Bank and Trust Co. The verdict simply confirms the widespread public belief that one of the factors leading up to our late lamented banking crisis was the personal failure of some of the bankers as individuals.

To be sure, it would be exceedingly unjust to blame the whole banking debacle on shortcomings such as those of which Mr. Harriman stands convicted. There was a vast number of contributory causes, and many bankers to complete probity saw their banks collapse through no fault of their own.

Nevertheless, it remains true that the era culminating in the banking holiday of 1933 was marked by many instances in which bankers forgot their duty to their depositors and to the public at large. The Harriman verdict is a reminder that in at least some of these cases the bankers can be held accountable.

Letters to Ye Editor

Dear Sir: I am of the opinion that chirography is on the down grade. When I went to school I was taught that plain writing, fully decipherable, was necessary. If you could make it fancy with a lot of graceful flourishes with birds heads, wings and tails so much the better but that was not necessary for general use. That stuff was thrown in to sort of show off but it was an element of adversity. That does not seem necessary any longer. But of one thing I am certain and that is this: any person should be able to at least write plainly and legibly so that the person receiving the missive would be in no doubt as to what was intended to convey. This scribble involves many letters each day. It is not for the typewritten explanation at the foot of each letter they might as well be signed by Mahatma Gandhi for no one on this green earth of ours could tell who the letter is from. The typewriter to a large extent does away with the necessity for using the pen but when the pen is used why not make it legible. When Clarence Scharbauer or John Scharbauer sign a letter or check you can tell exactly who signed it and you can read the writing without any exertion. A handwriting expert once told me that forgeries were most successful where there was illegible signatures. For the love of Mike write plainly and if you do, if you have any kind of a bank account, it might save you a few shekels, which is Jewish for money. HARRY LIVINGSTON HAIGHT.

Auto 'Blutzed' After It Hit Reading Pedestrian

READING, Pa. (U.P.)—Did you ever feel your automobile "blutzed"?

Well, George E. Sponagle did. Testifying in his own defense on charges of having failed to stop after striking a man with his automobile Sponagle said:

"I felt the car blutz at the crossing, but I didn't know I had struck anyone."

The word "blutz" caused Judge R. Robert Mays to glance at the jury. The jurymen nodded understandingly and the trial continued.

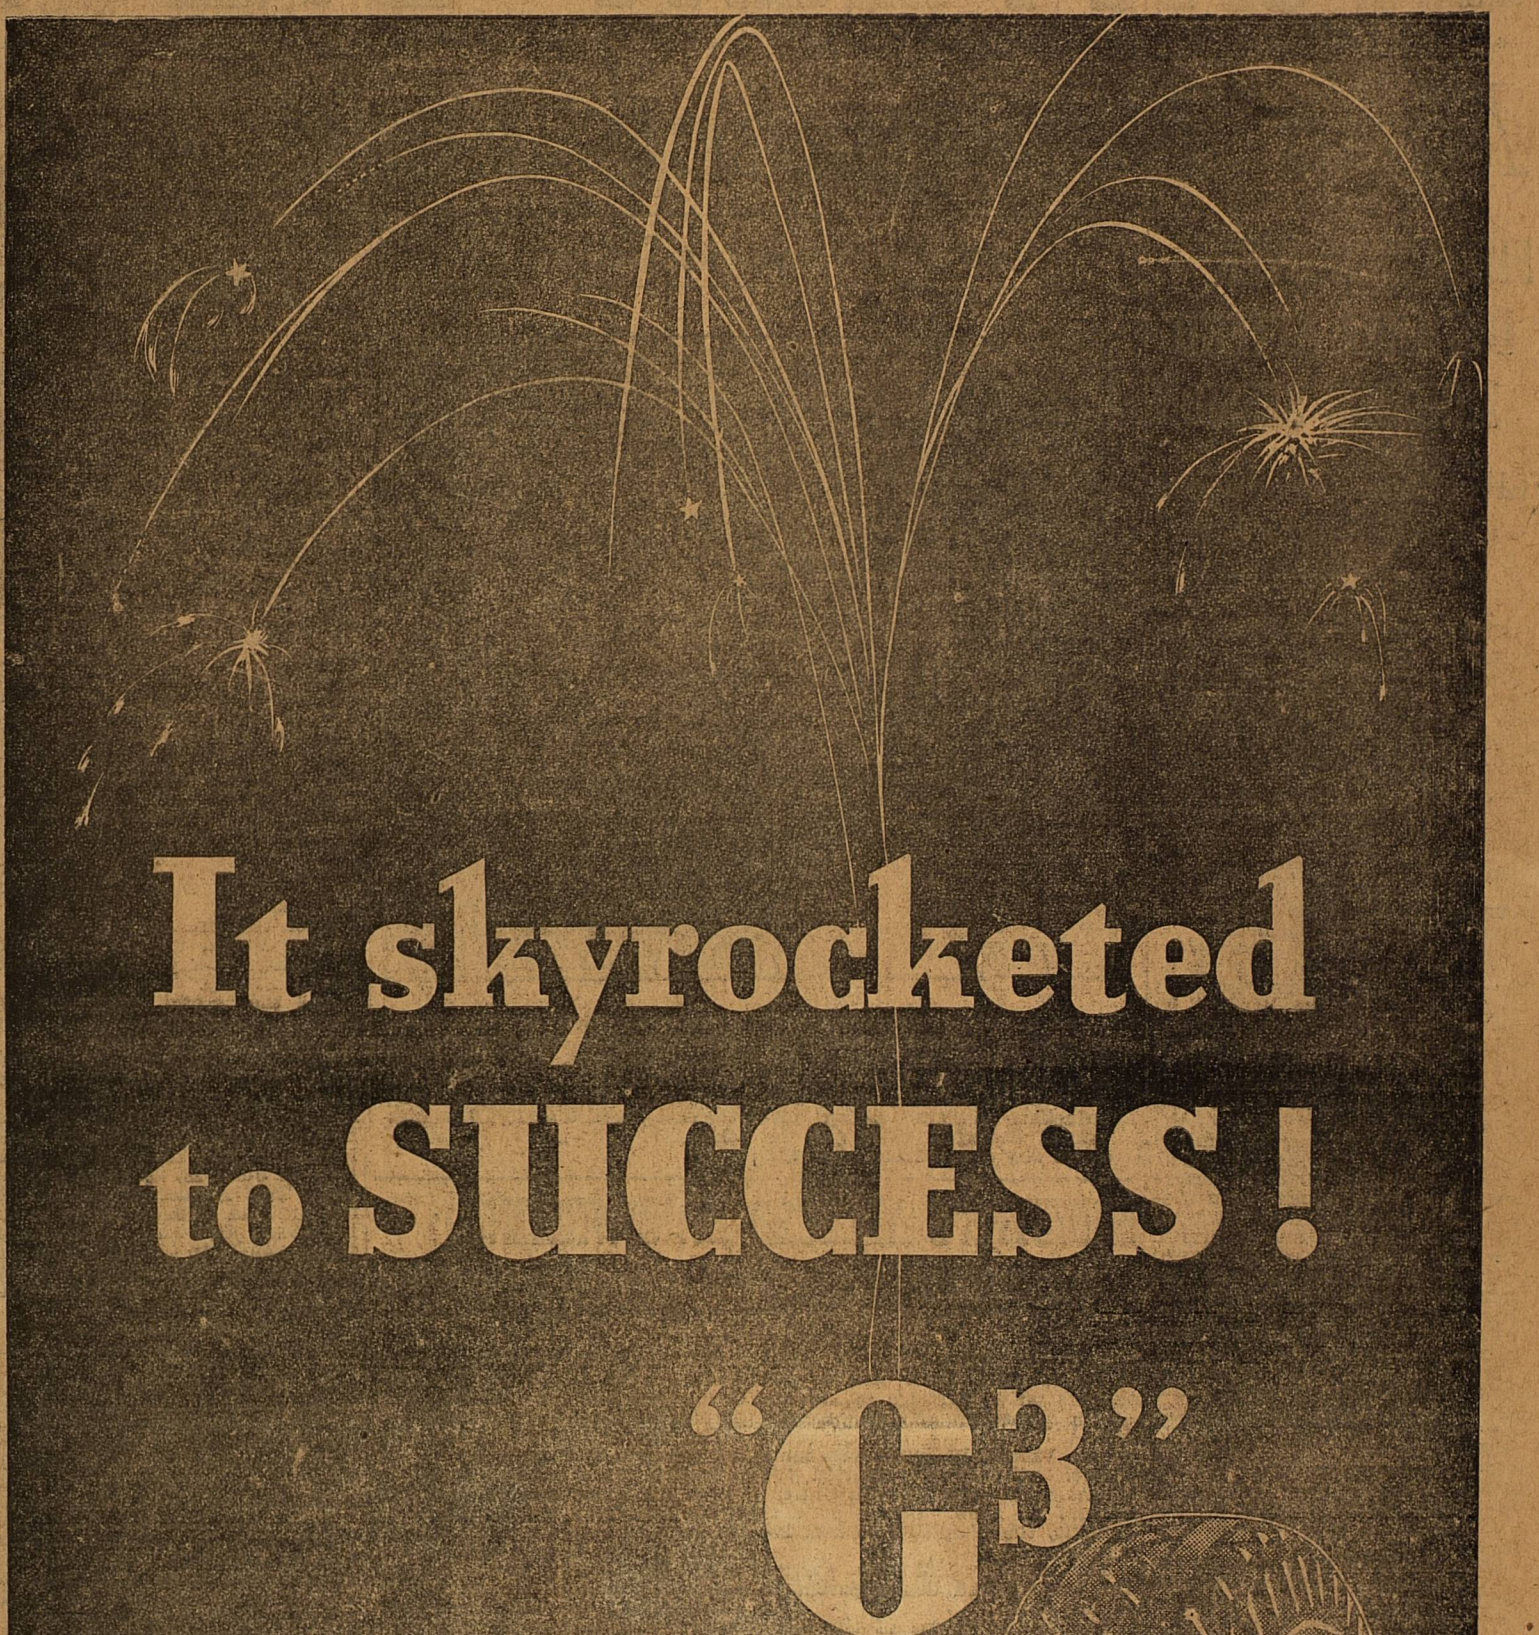

"Blutz" is Pennsylvania Dutch for "bump" and Sponagle was acquitted.

HOW CAN YOU JUDGE THE VALUE BEHIND AN UNKNOWN LABEL?

IT IS EASY enough to buy wisely when you can see what you are getting.

But how about those products that you can't see?

Foods, drugs, toilet necessities—all hidden by a bottle or a package.

If you do not recognize the name on the label, how can you judge the value behind it?

You can't!

Shopping experience has proved this to millions of women. But experience uses bitter methods. Costly methods.

When you buy only those products which you see advertised regularly week after week, in newspapers and magazines—when you are guided by the names you know—you are safe.

But when you experiment with untried brands—substitute products which you are told are "just as good"—you may be sorry.

The manufacturer who knows the wisdom of advertising also knows the folly of false claims.

His integrity is the integrity of his product. Your good will is the rock on which he stands. If it crumbles, his success goes with it into dust.

The truthful, consistent advertising of any manufacturer is proof of his pride in the merchandise he offers you.

But it is even more than that. It is his promise of constant quality and definite purity. Of honest weight. Of full value in return for your money and your confidence.

These facts are published by this newspaper in an earnest attempt to help you buy more wisely.

When you shop, accurate information is your best protection against the disappointment which often hides behind an unknown label.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep... Vigor... Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes.

Home Brewed

BY R. C. HANKINS

They'll be singing the saga of a club that dropped seven games in a row and then pulled out to be the talk of the town.

Three men, Bryan C. Henderson, Harvey Light and Roy Long have been wheeled into the Goodyear hangar. Two of them, Light and Long, saw service Tues. night and acted on the club like an injection of adrenalin.

Light is fast. He coached the Wentworth Military academy track team to 14 Missouri junior college records, and taught Cy Leland how to run.

Henderson will roam the outfield. Another fast man. When a foot ball is tucked under his arm he bears down like an express.

Henderson will roam the outfield.

Thin Tires Unsafe For Holiday Travel

Midland tire dealers are taking an active part in the national effort being made to insure a safe and sane Fourth of July in their home towns by urging the inspection that will remedy or eliminate doubtful tires which may mar the holiday.

"There are undoubtedly more cars in operation now than there were at the same time last year," said Ralph Lowe, Midland Goodyear dealer, commenting upon the situation.

"It is now pretty generally known that tires that are thin and will wear out stand a good deal of summer driving on hot pavements. It is only natural that more tires will go in warm weather than cold because hot days expand their air pressures and thin casings won't stand the added strain.

"About the best insurance for trouble free driving, Lowe pointed out, is to take a few minutes for a careful checkup at a reliable service station. His company will make this inspection no charge and without obligation.

"We have a complete new line of Goodyear's new 'G-3' All-Weather tires which will give 43 per cent more mileage by actual test," concluded Lowe.

Pontiac Chief Says Business Increases

Declaring that business has been highly satisfactory so far this year, H. J. Klingler, president and general manager of the Pontiac Motor company, who is paying his first visit to Dallas as head of his great General Motors division, looks forward to an era during which the motoring public will replace its old worn out obsolete cars in ever increasing numbers.

"Pontiac sales during the first six months of this year are materially ahead of 1933," said Klingler. "The buying season is being prolonged over a longer period than usual this year and we have every reason to hope for its continuation through June and July.

Commenting on the reaction to the recent general price reduction in the industry the Pontiac chief said, "I believe every student of business conditions will admit that the automobile industry always has been in the lead when it comes to showing the way back to prosperity, and its most recent motor car business again have shown their willingness to cooperate with the administration in giving a helping hand to the recovery act.

A younger brother, Oran Edwards, was associated with the two for many years. He died in a base hospital during the world war while in the naval service.

Charles Edwards served for seven years as a member of the Midland school board and had been an active leader in civic, educational and financial affairs here.

All of the immediate family members were here by Wednesday morning except Mrs. Gilmore who could not reach here in time for the funeral. Active escorts at the funeral were Charles Gibbs and Jax M. Cowden of San Angelo, Roy C. Cowden, Proctor, Paul Brown, C. M. Goldsmith, R. W. Patterson, P. G. Dabney and Elliott H. Barron.

Employment for 200 Seen for This Area

"President Roosevelt approved big allotment project for your area, insuring jobs for as many as 200."

The Reporter-Telegram by the Inter-City News Service of Washington, had everyone guessing this morning.

No one seems to know what the project is, but all admitted anything offering jobs for 200 would offer value to the city and the county.

Resumption of road work was held by many to be the "project" referred to, some a high school gymnasium, others an employment allotment from here to the Red Bluff dam.

A query of the news service failed to bring additional information.

More Congrats On Rain That Wasn't

"Congratulations on your rain. Do you need some cotton planting seed? Can haul promptly from Lamesa. Wire us your requirements collect."

This telegram to J. M. Planigan, proprietor of the Midland Feed store, from the Chapman Ranch Sales company shows part of the far-reaching effect of a rumor that Midland had received a 15-inch rain Tuesday night.

Telegrams Wednesday came from as far away as New Orleans, where the market "quited" as a result of a rumor great cotton acreage was washed away here.

Planigan wired the feed company no rain had fallen—not even 15 drops.

Warrant Row File Not Yet Complete

Possibility that deficiency warrants to repay farmers for pink boll worm control over a five-year period may not be mailed for a week, was seen in correspondence reaching Peace Justice B. C. Girley's desk this morning.

He received copies of correspondence sent him from the comptroller's office, explaining the reason for the delay. Two reports from the claims board were not closed, however, but are expected Friday.

Five Midland Race Horses "In Money"

"Brush" tracks at Haskell and at Ackery saw five Midland race horses finish in the money Wednesday. Foreign Relations, Bloss up, was first in the third race, over the half mile, at Haskell, paying 5.50 to win. Tiger d'Or was second. Ted third. Other horses in the bet were Mahatma, Mike, Duvall and Brazos river.

George Keith, Bloss up, was third in the fifth race, the five-eighths race. Aganaldie was first, and Pinto Pete second. Other horses entered were Escopay and Miss Reina.

Clara Bow, five year old bay mare belonging to L. E. Cook and ridden by Curtis Cook, led the way in the quarter mile event at Ackery. Spence Jewell's Miss Apron, two year old sorrel filly, was second. Aged horses made up the rest of the entries. The Jewell filly ran wide at the turn and carried 145 pounds, but was close at the finish.

Jewell's King F four year old sorrel, ran second in the half mile. An Oklahoma horse running first. The Jewell entry, in training only a month, was given a poor ride by Derrick, Big Spring jockey.

Cook will run his horses at Ackery again today.
