WHAT, NO CRISIS!

There is a little lesson in the serio-comic ending to the search for Eimei Kuramoto, Japanese vice consul at Nanking, whose disappearance caused such a flurry the other day.

Kuramoto was found by farmers after five days of wandering among old Ming tombs, unkempt and hungry, toying with the idea of suicide because of some fancied or real disappointment in his work. It was a sadly humorous ending to an incident that had battleships steaming furiously toward China from Japan, and inspired many a head-shaking about "possible grave consequences."

If it is good advice to people that they should count ten before getting in a fight, nations ought to be made to count twenty.

NO MATTER HOW HUMBLE—

Robert Jones has been saved from death on the gallows, and will get a new trial.

You never heard of Robert Jones? He is just an obscure negro down in Mississippi. He shot and killed a police officer who tried to enter Jones' home while searching for the source of a pistol shot.

Now certain of our radical friends will tell you that no southern negro has a ghost of a chance in a case like that. He might escape lynching, but certainly would stand no chance to escape prompt execution.

But the supreme court of Mississippi felt otherwise. It found that the dead peace officer was beyond his rights in trying to enter Jones' home without a proper warrant. It reversed the lower courts and ordered a new trial for Robert Jones.

"The appellant was in his home," the court said, "and no person or officer had a right to enter except in strict accordance with the law. No matter how humble—a man's home is his castle . . ."

Justice is not always the ghastly travesty some of our critics like to make it. In many cases it deals evenly and cleanly—even to the most humble.

BARREL-CHESTED BUNK

Skinny youths who aspire to the barrel-chested bulk of a heavyweight wrestler might just as well forget all about it, says Dr. C. A. Harper, state health officer of Wisconsin. It looks impressive on the bathing beach, but it doesn't necessarily mean a thing.

The barrel-chested man may be just as susceptible to tuberculosis or other pulmonary diseases as the flat-chested one, says the iconoclastic doctor.

Lung space and expansion is important, but the man with a long thin chest may have just as much lung capacity as the one who looks like a pouter pigeon, and the thin-chested fellow, if well-proportioned and well-nourished, may be just as strong as the big fellow.

So there you are, and don't worry if you don't bulge.

Paraguay threatens to scrap all rules of civilized warfare with Bolivia. Munitions makers must have given Paraguay some modern ideas.

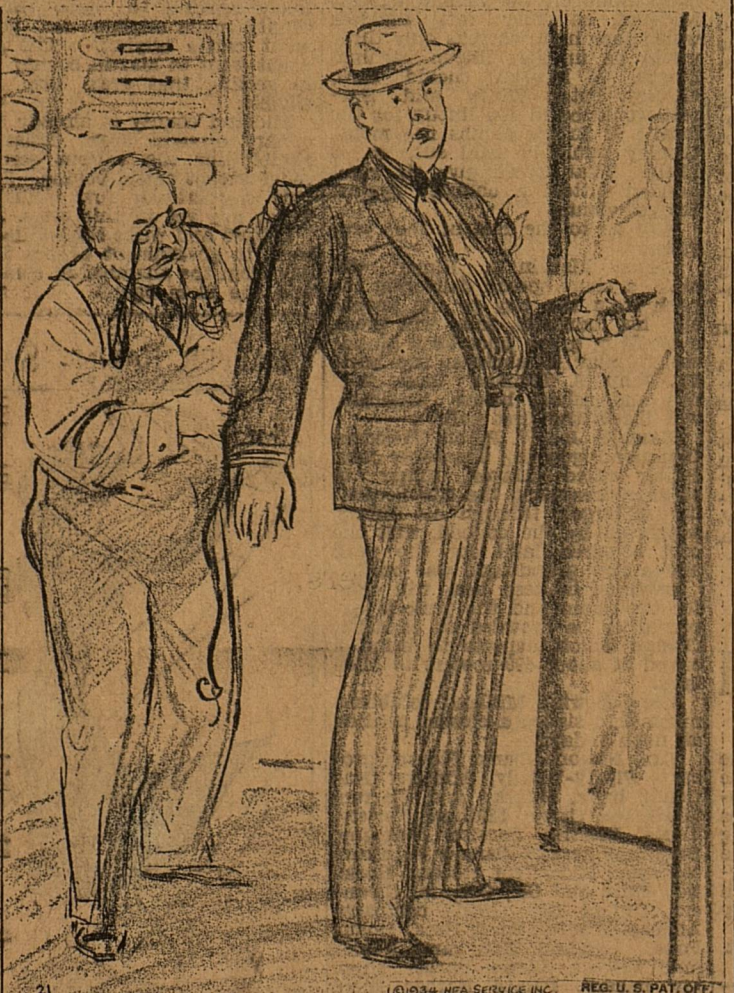

Chicago's male population has fallen off 100,000 since 1930. The gangsters seem to be quite effective taking their enemies for rides.

A student sued his college for wasting his time, but he lost. Good thing, or he would have been encouraged to sue his parents next.

A young archaeologist has left for the Arctic to look for traces of Eskimo civilization. Perhaps he's given up hope of finding any signs of civilization around here.

Socialists have voted to resist war to the end, so they can tell their grandchildren how they fought the war to resist war.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

There I met a fellow They called him Mr. Mann He couldn't make a rain drop Or stop the blowing sand

I went on out to El Paso The place you've heard about I ran right into a big sand storm And it put my good eye out. There I saw the Border Patrol

Along the Rio Grande They couldn't make a rain drop Or stop the blowing sand.

Chorus: I went back to Big Spring I didn't see any water All I saw was sand I can't make a rain drop Neither can the other man

But I can go back to Arkansas Just as soon as I can.

This may be sung to any tune that will fit it. G. T. Parker, Stanton, Texas.

Dear Quack:—I am sending a little lyric for publication if you have space without crowding out better reading matter. I wrote this about a year ago, just for fun, but you know if this dry weather and depression holds on four or five years longer I am afraid the fun will all be gone, but I'm going back to Arkansas When I let my home in Arkansas I just got back to Arkansas All I had was on my back And I didn't have half a load I drifted out to Texas Got covered up in sand Now I'm going back to Arkansas Just as soon as I can. Chorus: O-la-o-lai I'm going back to Arkansas Just as soon as I can.

I drifted into Stanton One night at 3 a. m. Started out next morning And met a man named Jim Jim he is a cashier And a mighty fine young man But he can't make a rain drop Or stop the blowing sand.

I went on out to Midland I met a man named Jeff He roped a train on the old T.P. For he told me so himself Jeff is still at Midland A mighty fine old man But he can't make a rain drop Or stop the blowing sand.

I went on out to Monahans To pass the time away They said it hadn't rained for the past 10 years And a sand storm every day

WENT BROKE STUDYING

PHILADELPHIA. (U.P.)—Take it from Raymond Yun, 24, being broke is bad enough, but when a Yun hasn't a yen and it's 10,000 miles home it's something to worry about. Yun, whose home is in Korea, faced that problem recently when his money ran out while he was trying to finish his studies as a sophomore in the School of Music at Temple University here. But as usual during the four years he has been in this country his ability to do a variety of odd jobs saved him.

THE NEW Firestone HIGH SPEED TIRE FOR 1934 Gives You

- WIDER TREAD OF FLATTER CONTOUR MORE TOUGHER RUBBER GUM-DIPPED HIGH STRETCH CORDS DEEPER NON-SKID MORE THAN 50% LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE

SAFEST TIRE FIRESTONE EVER BUILT

THE New Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934 was built to give you the same dependable service it provided for the 33 drivers who started in the torturous 500-mile grind at Indianapolis May 30.

This new tire has a wider tread of flatter contour, deeper non-skid, more and tougher rubber, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Besides being Safety Protected on the outside it is Safety Protected on the inside. Eight additional pounds of pure rubber are absorbed by every one hundred pounds of cords.

This additional rubber is so placed that it surrounds every cotton fiber inside every cord in every ply. This is accomplished by soaking the cords in liquid rubber by a Firestone patented process. This patented process, Gum-Dipping, is not used in any other tire built.

Heat caused by internal friction of cotton fibers destroys tires—causes separation and blowouts.

Gum-Dipping counteracts friction and heat—provides greater adhesion and binds the cotton and rubber together into one cohesive unit of greater strength, assuring car owners of the greatest Safety, Protection and Economy that it is possible for human ingenuity to build into a tire.

The most amazing proof of this extra strength, safety and dependability is the fact that everyone of the 33 drivers at Indianapolis chose and bought Firestone High Speed Tires. Race drivers KNOW tire construction—they will not risk their lives or chance of victory on any other than Firestone.

When the gruelling race started, motors roared, crowds cheered, speeds increased to 105 miles an hour—yes, to 150 miles on the straightaways.

At these terrific speeds the cars plunge into the treacherous turns—tires are braced against the scorching brick track—so hot the tires fairly smoke at times—they give—yield and stretch—every conceivable force works to tear the tire to pieces, yet Firestone High Speed Tires "come back" on the straightaways. Not once during the entire race did a tire fail—not one of the 132 tires on the cars gave way to endanger the lives of the drivers.

Surely this is the most amazing proof ever known of Extra Strength, SAFETY and dependability. Call on the Firestone Service Dealer or Service Store nearest you TODAY. Equip your car with New Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934.

Protect yourself and family with this Extra Safety. Choose the tires that Champions Buy!

MAKE THIS TEST YOURSELF

Note how the rubber in a Firestone Tire clings to the high stretch Gum-Dipped cords. This greater adhesion and strength is made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, which saturates and insulates every fiber with live, liquid rubber.

Note how rubber pulls away from cords not Gum-Dipped. Regardless of number of cord plies in tires not built with Gum-Dipped cords, friction develops intense heat, separating plies—often causing blowouts. Firestone Tires are protected by Gum-Dipping.

Your Firestone Dealer is prepared to let you make, for yourself, the amazing test illustrated above.

Helpful Health Suggestions

Care of the Typhoid Patient
Following are a few suggestions on the care of typhoid fever.

1. Every ounce of strength must be saved. Do not allow the patient to raise himself, or attempt to feed himself, and always give water through drinking tubes.
2. Relief of annoying symptoms and discomforts, such as uncomfortable bed, harsh lighting and glares, sleeplessness, headaches, bed-sore, coughing, etc.
3. Plenty of air space with abundance of fresh air.
4. Room as quiet as possible; avoid the noise and excitement of visitors.
5. Patient should be kept clean and everything around him sweet and clean. A cleansing bath every day is necessary, and maybe several cooling baths for high temperature.
6. The patient's hands should be washed frequently during the day. Particular attention should be given the mouth and tongue, as a brown coating forms, and the lips may crack from drying.
7. Precautions should be taken to prevent spreading the disease in the family. The nurse or attendant should wear a gown and cap, and carefully disinfect her hands after each treatment, avoiding anything with her hands before doing so. The patient should be covered with screens to protect from flies, if no flyproof room is available. Separate eating utensils are used for the patient which should be disinfected by boiling after use.
8. For disinfecting the urine, carbolic acid 2.5% may be used. For disinfecting stools unslacked lime and hot water is effective. These disinfectants should be left in contact with the excreta long enough to thoroughly penetrate them. The sputum and other discharges may be burned or scalded. Bedding and patient's night clothes and towels should be disinfected by boiling or immersion for one hour in bichloride of mercury solution. Thermometers should be kept in some germicidal solution, and rinsed well before using. Bed-pans must always contain some liquid disinfectant. The nurse or attendant should have been immunized to typhoid fever.

Every care should be taken to make food attractive and tempting to the patient, as it is necessary that the body have enough food to repair the heavy loss of tissue burned up by the fever. The doctor will prescribe the diet.

9. Cooperate with the doctor and build up the confidence of the patient in his doctor. Strive for a cheerful atmosphere.

Summer Fruits Ready for Jelly

How many kinds of jam and jelly do you plan to make this summer? If you start at the beginning of the fresh fruit season, and put up some from each crop, you will have at least 30 varieties on your pantry shelf by the time frost comes. Did you realize that?

What a satisfaction that would be next winter! Raspberry jam for the children's bread, currant jelly to go with fowl—a jam or a jelly for every occasion would be right on hand.

Of course, the only way to attain such a goal is to begin right away to make jam and jelly from the fruits as they come on the market. Strawberries, cherries, and raspberries come first, begging to be made into jellies. Blackberries follow in and very soon after them the whole berry family—tuckleberries, blueberries, loganberries—can be added to the row of gleaming glasses.

If you take advantage of each fruit as it comes on the market, there really isn't much work to acquiring a jam closet which will be the pride of the house when cold weather comes. The best idea is to make a batch at a time—10 or 12 glasses—using the modern methods which require only a few minutes' effort. Use these recipes for fruits available now, and you will have a running start toward the jam cupboard complete.

Red or Black Currant Jelly
5 cups (2 1/2 lbs.) juice
7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar
1/2 bottle fruit pectin

With red currants, crush about 4 pounds fully ripe fruit and add 1 cup water.

With black currants, crush about 3 pounds fully ripe fruit and add 3 cups water.

To prepare juice, bring mixture to a boil, cover, and simmer 10 minutes. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice.

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1/2 minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 11 glasses (6 fluid ounces each.)

Red Raspberry Jam
4 cups (2 lbs.) prepared fruit
7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar
1/2 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, crush or grind about 2 quarts fully ripe berries.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cool slightly to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 10 glasses (6 fluid ounces each.)

Old Mansion Used To Create Mood in Film Drama at Ritz

One of the famous brownstone mansions that still front New York's world famous Fifth Avenue, is the setting of Paramount's film version of the stage hit "Double Door," which comes to the Ritz theatre tomorrow and Saturday. The title derives its significance from the fact that these houses all have double portals, a special sign of the opulence and power of their owners.

The story concerns the activities of the eccentric old spinster, Victoria Van Bret, tyrannical ruler of the enormous Van Bret fortunes. When her attempt to destroy the romance of her younger half-brother is frustrated, she attempts to murder his bride. The discovery and defeat of her plot breaks her control of the family and frees the young couple to live their own lives.

BY R. C. HANKINS

The women will play ball this season.

Reminding one of the crack league here three summers back, 2 or three clubs will be organized in a meeting slated for 8 a. m. Friday, west side of the court house. In the meantime, those who cannot attend the organization meeting may register at the home of Mrs. Red Snyder, 521 W. Wall.

There must be plenty of interest, the women warn, or the venture will fall through.

In the good old days of women's playground ball there was an inter-city league. Remember the entries? The Petroleum club, Business Girls, Betty Co-Eds, Stanton, etc. They used to steal the thunder of the men's league, large crowds going to the Rainwater diamond to watch them play.

The court house lawn is getting to be a regular Trafalgar square for meetings. All you need is a soap box and a shade of stage presence. The public ambles over to see what the argument is about. Last night's playground ball meeting called by President Earl Dickson was almost broken up by a playful member who turned the hose on the assembly. This was the benediction pronounced by Ironhead.

No longer will outfielders run over automobiles, garbage cans, alley apples and perambulators in the outfields out South Main way. The softball prey turned in an order this morning for two additional flood lights. Whereas infielders and the utility fielder have had all the advantage in the past, those who chase the baton ball in the gardens will have equal chances at the fielding percentages now. Play-ground ball has been played to capacity crowds here for years, and the lighting equipment is superior to any seen by this agency, but the harassed fielder has seen many times when the ball started dropping on him about the size of a pea and suddenly loomed up before him the size of a concrete mixer. Small wonder the ball gets lost occasionally; it is hard to understand why a fielder doesn't get lost in the shuffle. It is likely the lights will be installed by Monday night.

Interesting figure: Tom Beasley writes in The Big Spring Herald that 252 players are registered in the softball association of that hamlet.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this opportunity to express our gratitude and appreciation of the many acts of sympathy and friendship expressed to us by telegrams, phone calls and in person for our temporary business set-back.

We are very thankful no one was seriously injured in the catastrophe and temporary arrangements have been made to carry on the business of the Ever-Ready Auto Service at the Petroleum Service Station (phones 73 and 234), where we are equipped to give our patrons the same conscientious service we have carried on for the past 12 years.

The same personnel will continue our business and to this group of the highest type of America's young manhood, we wish to express our sincere gratitude for their unflinching loyalty and genuine desire to share our ups and downs with us. We are truly glad none of you suffered serious injury and we will be up and at 'em again with both barrels before many days.

THE BIG NEWS IS, THIS NEW "G-3" IS A SENSATION!

AND HERE'S WHY

HERE'S the tire that stood up under the toughest punishment a test fleet ever handed out. Brakes gave out—but the "G-3" All-Weather kept right on rolling. It kept its grip 43% longer than former All-Weathers—twice as long as other makes of tires tested against it.

That's the big news that Goodyear told in advertising—and it started a rush of buyers to our stores—and to every Goodyear dealer's straight across the country. This tire certainly has what car owners want—more miles of safety at no extra cost. Come in—see its heavier, wider, flatter tread with GRIP in the center—and see why Supertwist, Goodyear's patented ply material, provides the only body that can stand up to this mighty tread!

A WORD TO THE WISE

It is very possible the restrictions being placed on crude rubber will affect tire prices. Therefore, by buying now, you may save some money.

MORE NEWS!
