Youth Charged in Gorrell Murder Named Holdup Man

DEVELOPMENTS IN STUDENT SLAYING CONTINUE CHANGE

Younger Wilcox Not Involved, Police Chief Says

TULSA, Dec. 5, (U.P.)—Basil James, of Wagoner, Okla., identified Philip Kenamer today as one of the bandits who entered the James home on Thanksgiving eve and conducted a holdup.

RETRACT STATEMENT WILCOX JR. INVOLVED

TULSA, Dec. 5, (U.P.)—Police Chief Charles O. Carr retracted today the statement he was reported to have made Monday that H. F. Wilcox Jr. drove Philip Kenamer, federal judge's son, to a night club from the scene of the killing of John Gorrell.

From developments today it appeared that the young Wilcox had no connection with Kenamer's actions.

SANITY HEARING IS POSTPONED

TULSA, Dec. 5, (U.P.)—A sanity hearing for Philip Kenamer, charged with murder in the Thanksgiving night slaying of John Gorrell, young student dentist, was postponed late yesterday until after his preliminary hearing Dec. 17.

County Attorney Holly Anderson announced the delay as Flint Moss, attorney, emerged from a four-hour conference with Kenamer and said Kenamer told him the whole story of the slaying.

Moss said Kenamer insisted he was alone, that he had no assistance and that no one knew of the killing until after it occurred.

Details of how and why Kenamer, 19-year-old son of Federal Judge Franklin E. Kenamer, came to kill Gorrell, were withheld by the attorney, who said all angles of the case were discussed with young Kenamer.

Meanwhile, as the investigation reached halfway across the continent, Homer F. Wilcox, wealthy Tulsa oil man, said in New York that his son, Homer Jr., sought for questioning, was "on a Christmas shopping tour and will be back in Tulsa in two or three days."

Start Derrick for "Close-in" Wildcat

Building of derrick was begun yesterday on the Wright and Scott No. 1 Panagan wildcat test located in the southern part of Martin county, just across the Midland county line northeast of Germania.

Operators have a contract depth of 4000 feet on the hole, which is centered in a 10,000 acre block. Legal description of the location is 200 feet from the north and east lines of section 22, block 37, township 1 south, which is about three miles east of Germania and a mile north of the highway.

Methodists To Big Spring Meeting

A number of Midland Methodists plan to attend the "Harvest Day" program of the district conference at Big Spring Thursday.

Those who were reported at noon today as planning to go included: Rev. K. C. Miller, Fred Wemple, and Misses Frank Haag, M. H. Crawford, Otis Ligon, Joe Capriola, Jess Prothro, J. H. Rhoden, and possibly others.

Christmas Lights On Tonight, Plan

Unexpected difficulties in installation of the Christmas street lights prevented their being turned on last night but it was expected that they would be burning throughout the business district late this evening.

The lights were installed through cooperation of the merchants and business institutions in a Christmas program sponsored by the retailers committee of the chamber of commerce.

ARMY PLANE HERE

Lieut. Longfellow flying a Douglas Amphibian, army plane, landed at the port from El Paso. He took off later for Dallas.

U. S. Agents Nab Nelson's Widow

Mrs. Helen Gillis, widow of "Baby Face" Nelson, was captured in Chicago on Thanksgiving Day, department of justice agents announced today. She is believed to have been with Nelson when he was fatally wounded while shooting it out with federal men at Barrington, Illinois.

Chief Hunter and Hunted

Inspector Hugh H. Clegg, Justice Department division of investigation, is shown at the left as he gives orders to continue the outlaw fight to the finish. With Mrs. Helen Gillis, widow of "Baby Face" Nelson captured, the search was continued for John Hamilton, right, believed to have been with Nelson when he and two agents were slain in a gun battle at Barrington, Ill.

WIDOW OF "BABY FACE" NELSON, CAPTURED, FACES PRISON TERM IN WISCONSIN; AGENTS WITHHOLD NEWS

CHICAGO, Dec. 5, (U.P.)—Inspector H. H. Clegg, of the United States department of justice, announced today that Mrs. Helen Gillis, wife of the slain "Baby Face" Nelson, would be returned to Madison, Wis., shortly for action on charges of violating probation. She faces eighteen months in prison, it was stated.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5, (U.P.)—Mrs. Helen Gillis, woman public enemy, was announced Tuesday afternoon to be a federal prisoner.

The tiny widow of the notorious George "Baby Face" Nelson was seized here last Thursday, federal authorities announced. A little more than 24 hours after the slaying of her husband, had been found on a muddy prairie near Niles Center last Wednesday—the possum victim of Agents Samuel P. Cowley and Herman E. Hollis, who sacrificed their lives in a game effort to capture him.

Attorney General Cummings in announcing at Washington that the comely brunette had been apprehended here at 10 o'clock Thanksgiving night, intimated the unnamed man with the Nelsons during the gun fight last Tuesday also had been captured.

The same secrecy which had veiled the widow's arrest for five days shrouded all official comment regarding this accomplice.

Strong inference from official sources indicated that elusive John Hamilton, last surviving major figure in the mob, was the third participant in the bloody engagement and it was hinted that, if he had not already been taken, his arrest was imminent.

Mrs. Knight Hurt In Auto Collision

Mrs. W. P. Knight was resting more easily in local hospital today and Mrs. Tom Nancy was recovering from cuts and bruises sustained in an automobile collision at C and Louisiana streets Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Knight suffered a head injury which was believed to be only a scalp wound. Mrs. W. G. Bauman, in the other automobile, escaped injury.

LSU MAY LOSE STANDING THRU LONG'S TACTICS

Domination Charges Heard by College Executives

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 5, (U.P.)—Louisiana State university today faced the possibility of being dropped from the list of accredited colleges because of alleged domination by Senator Huey Long.

"FREE PRESS" STORY BARRED AT UNIVERSITY

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 5, (U.P.)—Newspapers bearing accounts of the "Free Press" fight at Louisiana State university today were removed from journalism reading rooms on the campus today.

Allred and Wife To Be Welcomed To "Home Town"

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS
AUSTIN (U.P.)—Although Governor-elect and Mrs. James V. Allred have been residents of Austin for nearly four years the capital city is planning to give them an elaborate reception when Allred is inaugurated governor next January.

General arrangements for the inaugural ball will be placed in charge of Anne Fells, Austin attorney, who was one of Allred's local campaign managers. The chamber of commerce and other civic organizations will co-operate in making the event one of the most extensive ever held in honor of an incoming governor.

The main portion of the event will be held at the gymnasium of the University of Texas campus. Smaller celebrations will be at downtown hotels.

The inaugural ball always is the highlight of the season. It brings hundreds of well wishers from all parts of the state to the capital. True, most of them are politicians but scores come just to be witnesses at the function and observe the "goings on."

Mrs. Allred, her friends say, has not yet selected her gown for the inaugural ball. Many Austin show-stoppers are seeking the honor of making the dress and the one chosen will be the envy of all others. Mrs. Allred's intimates believe she will wear a gown in which blue is predominant. It is one of Mrs. Allred's favorite colors.

Allred, busy making plans for his administration in addition to keeping a check on the activities of his large attorney general's department has given little time to the inauguration plans.

It is likely that he and Lieutenant-governor-elect Walter Woodruff of Houston will be sworn in at an outside ceremony, weather permitting. The ceremony would be held at the entrance to the Capitol to accommodate the huge crowds that always gather for the occasion.

If the weather is inclement the inauguration will be held in the hall of the house of representatives, which is inadequate as to space.

It is recalled that when Governor Miriam A. Ferguson was inaugurated two years ago the house hall was packed so tightly that the governor's party experienced difficulty in gaining entrance to the platform while crowds blocked both front and rear entrances and necessitated employment of special guards to keep them in hand.

PTA MEETING IS POSTPONED

Mrs. Thos H. Head of San Angelo, president of the sixth district PTA, who was to speak here tomorrow, is ill and cannot fill the appointment, a telegram received this morning by Mrs. Herbert King, district vice president, said.

The meeting will be postponed pending her recovery.

The meeting which PTA members from Stanton, Odessa, and Andrews were expected to attend was to have included two sessions, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. A luncheon for Mrs. Head, preceding the afternoon session, was also planned.

Mrs. Head has reported a 93 per cent increase in PTA membership in the sixth district, that being the largest increase shown in the state.

Called to Dallas By Father's Injury

Mrs. R. M. Barron and Guy E. Bennett and children left this morning for Dallas, having been called there following an injury to their father, J. L. Carter, in an elevator accident. An elevator in which he and another Dallas man were riding was said to have dropped thirty feet, Carter sustaining fractured bones.

CHARTER GRANTED

AUSTIN, Dec. 5.—The Health Refining company of Gladewater was chartered today. Incorporators were Adair Heath, Rosalie Heath and J. R. Beasley.

Waves BATTER Lake Freighter After Rescue of 25

Waves lashed by the storm that drove the Great Lakes Freighter Henry Cort onto the breakwater at Muskegon, Mich., battered the vessel and threatened to tear it to pieces following the rescue of all 25 members of the crew, a feat that cost the life of a Coast Guardsman. This picture reveals how the storm ironically drove the boat on the rocks at the foot of the breakwater (left) put there to warn it away.

ALLIES NAMED IN ARMS PLOT

"TENDERS" ORDER SIGNED; ALLOWS FIVE DAYS GRACE

AUSTIN, Dec. 5, (U.P.)—The state-wide order requiring tenders for transportation of refined oil products in Texas was signed by the railroad commission today, effective December 7.

The order gave the commission another yardstick to measure the legal production of crude oil in Texas and it stop-gate to prevent refined products from hot oil from moving into commerce. The order prohibits the movement of any crude oil products without a permit.

CARL ESTES DEMANDS REASON FOR DELAY

KILGORE, Dec. 5, (U.P.)—Carl Estes, Longview publisher, declared today that he would demand legislative investigation to determine why the railroad commission order was not made effective at once.

He charged that the five days of grace "were given to permit independent refiners to get rid of huge stocks of hot oil now on hand."

Trade Commission, Nye Launch Attack

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5, (U.P.)—The federal trade commission and Senator Gerald P. Nye were in a double barreled attack on private utilities today. The commission, in a report, questioned the right and need of holding companies. Senator Nye said he was collecting data on alleged monopolistic practices in the natural gas industry.

Farmers Here Paid $44,908.49 Rental

Rental payments to cotton growers of Midland county had reached a total of $44,908.49 in a survey by the Associated Press as of November 22. First checks to farmers of this county totaled $23,957.95 and the second payment amounted to $20,950.53.

The total payments to farmers of the state of Texas had reached a total of $22,078,943.86.

First Birthday of Repeal Finds Tax Revenue Disappointing, Survey Says

By United Press
Prohibition still was an issue today as the nation celebrated the first year of repeal.

In New York, city leaders claimed drunkenness had increased while hotel men and enforcement officers said conditions were better.

In Chicago, benefit was seen because gangsters were out of the racket.

In Texas, liquor was said to be plentiful for those wishing to drink. Aftonian was under way for complete prohibition and wets were for complete repeal.

Sixteen states remain dry legally, in one way or another, while the 17th, Kentucky, is neither cat nor dog nor moist. Kentucky officially is wet, but the laws restricting drinking are so stringent that the Internal Revenue Bureau regards Gov. Ruby Laffoon's state as dry.

Aided Shipment out of Germany, Says DuPont Chief

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5, (U.P.)—Charges that the allied governments "connived" to aid shipments of powder and other munitions from Germany following the war were made at the arms inquiry today.

The charges were contained in a letter from Alken Simons, vice president of the Dupont company, to company officials.

Evidence was presented yesterday that Herbert Hoover, the secretary of commerce, interested himself to the extent of assembling American arms makers to receive their views, press dispatches said.

At about the same time, in 1925, the man who became president was said to have arranged a meeting between the gun makers and a group of state department officials and several of the delegates to the Geneva arms conference of that year.

The gun makers had, too, the active help of John Q. Tilson, then a representative from Connecticut and majority leader. It was testified that he aided the munitions men to meet state department officials and wrote them that he had pleaded their case with the late Senator Burton of Ohio, chairman of the American delegation to the Geneva conference.

To Re-Open Turkey Shoot for 3 Days

Turkey shoots will be held again Friday, Saturday and Sunday, it was announced by Legion post officers today, beginning at one o'clock each afternoon. Four turkeys were left from the previous shoot. This time only 22 calibre rifles or pistols will be used and the head of the turkey will be the target.

In addition, prizes will be offered for best scores in shooting at bull's eye targets. The regular Christmas shoot will open December 14.

OIL MEN ON VISIT

A. L. Leverson, chief geologist of the Tide Water Oil company of Houston, is a Midland visitor today, conferring with local representatives of the company for the West Texas region.

L. L. Lookabaugh of Dallas and W. A. Bristow of Wichita Falls came in last night and are visiting local oil men.

Family of Buck Hunters at Llano

LLANO (U.P.)—Honors for the most successful hunting family in Llano so far this season go to Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Inks and their 13-year-old son, Jim Moss, each of whom bagged a deer while hunting on the A. F. Moss ranch in Llano county.

Mr. and Mrs. Inks and son killed a big-sized, medium-sized and a little-sized deer, respectively.

The two big deer had eight points each, but the larger, bagged by Mr. Inks, weighed 116 pounds, dressed. Mrs. Inks' deer weighed 90 pounds. The little deer, killed by the little-sized Inks, had five points and weighed 80 pounds dressed.

This made the fourth buck which young Inks has bagged during his hunting career, having killed his limit last season and one in 1932.

NO TRACE OF AUSTRALIANS FOR 24 HOURS

Position Lost, Crew Frantically Sent SOS Calls

HONOLULU, Dec. 5, (U.P.)—Darkness settled over the vast Pacific tonight, shrouding the fate of Flight Lieutenant Charles T. P. Ulm's Honolulu-bound monoplane, which dropped into the sea when its fuel gave out.

It was not known if Captain Charles T. P. Ulm, Leonard Skilling and George McC. Littlejohn, were alive or dead.

HUNT CONTINUED THROUGHOUT NIGHT

HONOLULU, Dec. 4, (U.P.)—Darkness settled over the vast Pacific tonight, shrouding the fate of Flight Lieutenant Charles T. P. Ulm's Honolulu-bound monoplane, which dropped into the sea when its fuel gave out.

Patrol planes after roaring in wide circles throughout the day, were forced back to their bases at night but 23 navy craft and scores of Japanese fishing sampans, continuing the search for the luckless flier.

No Trace Found
The liner President Coolidge reported arrival at the spot where the plane and its three passengers were believed to have touched the sea. No trace could be found of the missing flier whose frantic message "will land in sea" urged rescuers.

At 8:15 p. m. (12:45 a. m. Wednesday CST) more than eleven hours after word was flashed that the plane was landing at sea, the Coolidge messenger it had found no trace of the flier.

Added hope that the men, who were en route here on the first leg of an 18,000 mile dash to Australia, might be found came in offers of aid by the Japanese fishing fleet. Nightly, these craft put to sea for cruises taking them several hundred miles out.

Searchers believed Ulm and his companions, co-pilot George Littlejohn and Navigator-Radio Operator J. L. Skilling might be adrift within 200 miles of Oahu Island, on which Honolulu is situated.

Far Flung Search
The far-flung naval search was carried on by 18 submarines, the light mine layers Beaver, Widgeon and Sagull; the coast guard cutter Itasca, and the coast guard patrol boat Tiger.

Read Admiral Harry E. Farnell, commander of Pearl Harbor naval station, Admiral Sinclair Gammon, commander of the submarine base, and Commander E. W. Todd were cooperating in directing a coordinated search.

The patrol planes were ordered to return to their base as darkness fell, but the air craft will spray the darkness all night with searchlights hoping to locate the flier or see their distress flares.

On every island of the Archipelago a lookout was kept by local authorities and newspapermen on the possibility the plane "Star of Australia" might be washed ashore.

Searching craft were covering an area within a radius of 300 miles from Oahu because it was not known whether the missing plane had overshot its goal or fallen short on the flight to chart a commercial flying venture.

Hope was held that the land plane would float, unless it became water-logged or a wind arose to swamp it, until the searchers found it.

Spurred Life Boat
Ulm spun a life boat before taking off from Oakland yesterday at 7:41 p. m. (CST) and neither he nor his companions carried life preservers. There was speculation (See LOST FLYERS, page 6)

PUTTING CHRISTMAS SPIRIT IN BUSINESS

Christmas, 1934, is a reminder that the heyday of the "go-getter" is past, believes Vash Young, author of "A Fortune to Share" and the man who has sold more than a million dollars worth of insurance every year during the depression.

"The Christmas season," says Mr. Young in the December Rotarian Magazine, "finds business and professional men of the world faced with great changes in prospect. Perhaps the greatest of these is the growing realization that instead of making getting our first consideration, with public welfare taking care of itself, we shall have to put public welfare first and to find a way to do business in spite of change. For my own part, I believe that such a change will make for greater all around prosperity than we have ever known before, and I am certain that every one of us will be happier."

"This," he continues, "will make it hard for the out and out go-getter who can think only from his own selfish viewpoint. But the go-getter is already in a jam and he should welcome anything that promises to better his outlook. Go-getting has never made for real happiness, for the man who practices it nearly always becomes cynical, insincere, shifty, and cast down by failure, or puffed up by passing successes. He may make a big showing for a time, but rarely does he show the stamina and consistent results over the years that go with go-getting."

"I offer this conclusion, not as an opinion, but as a fact based on observation of business and professional men under all sorts of conditions."

"In trying to apply the lesson of Christmas to my daily work, and from watching others who have made the same effort, I know that it is really more blessed and far more practical to give than to receive. The go-giver, the man to whom service is a way of doing, starts by being kind to himself in the way I have indicated. In seeking to give his best to his fellows he works without the tension that goes with go-getting. He does not suffer from either the violent ups and downs that go with go-getting. The giving habit keeps him calm and poised. He is never trapped in his own falsehoods, because he speaks the truth. Having only the right motives, he has nothing to conceal or fear. And the practical side to it all is that usually he finds that in return the world gives to him more than he ever expected—in prosperity of all kinds instead of money prosperity only."

THE REAL DELINQUENT

Every so often some die-hard suggests that the trouble with our young people is that we have been too sparing with the rod. A sound thrashing every so often, we are told, would work wonders with some of these youngsters whom we find exceptionally hard to handle.

Maybe so. But Father E. J. Flanagan, head of a Boy's Home in Omaha, suggests that it is the fathers of delinquent children who need the licking. He boldly proposes that when a child gets into trouble with the law, and is found to have been regularly neglected by his dad, dad be called in and given a dozen or so where he will notice them most.

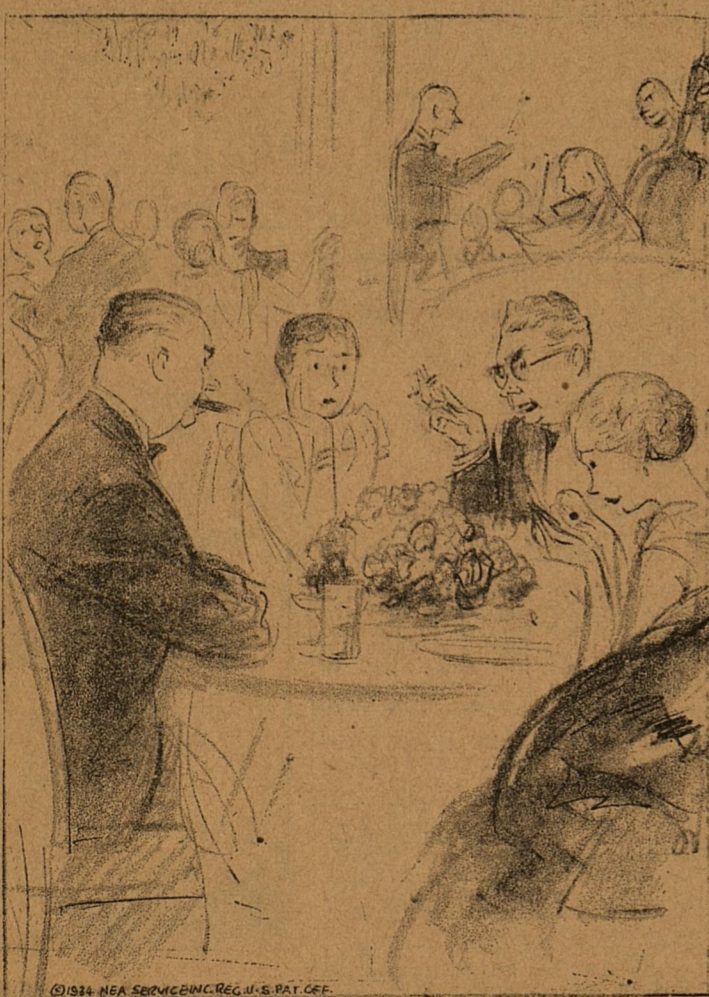

Father Flanagan points out that parental neglect is responsible for juvenile delinquency in a tremendous proportion of cases. In such cases, obviously, it is the parent who needs correction far more than the child.

Maybe if California wants to get rid of its Communists, they'd be welcome in Cincinnati. They'd do almost anything there to start an uprising of the Reds.

It looks as if Aimee Semple McPherson might be slipping. A small-time evangelist has tied her for kidnapping honors and another preacher is one snake bite ahead of her.

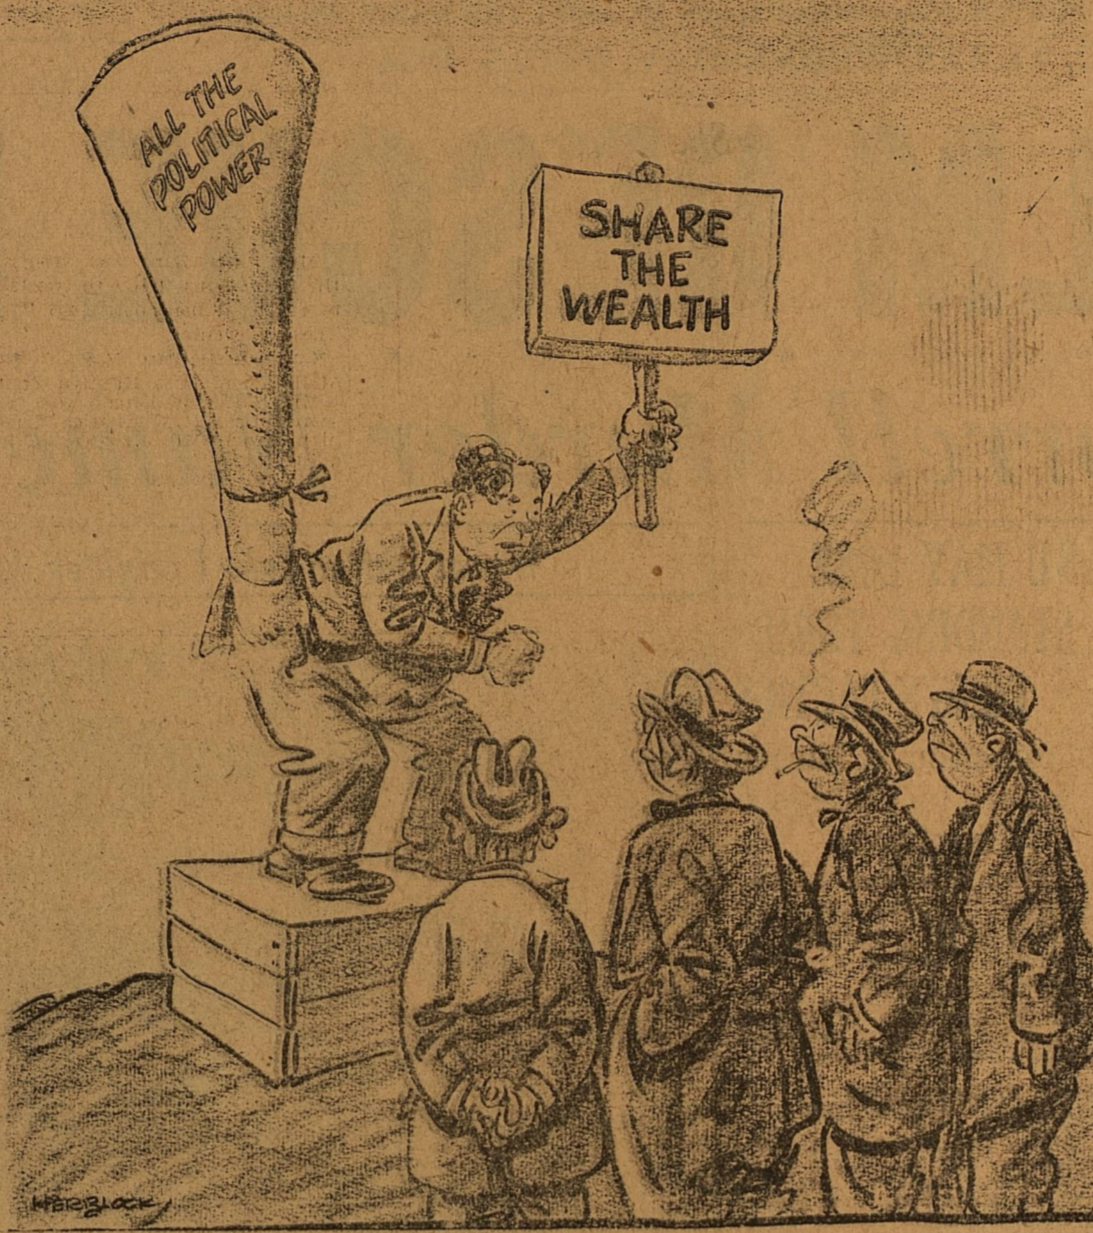

That Kansas weather forecaster who admitted it was getting cooler when the mercury dropped from 102 to 60 probably will feel safe in ordering his coal by February.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything with taking a stand on anything).

Shakespeare: "He jests at scars that never felt a wound."
College joke: "I feel as though I had known you for years."
"You certainly do."

It was out in a country school and the teacher had asked one of the pupils to give the name of some bird.
"The only bird I know is a mug-wump," an old country boy replied.
"What is a mug-wump?" asked the teacher.
"It's a bird that sits on a fence with its mug on one side and the wump on the other."

A classic story is about two Polish Jews who found themselves together in a railroad compartment over in Galicia. They were business competitors. One asked the other where he was going.
"To Warsaw," was the reply.
The other one thought this over for a moment or so.
"Now Isaac," he said, "I happen to know you are going to Warsaw, so why are you trying to deceive me?"

The government or some relief agency was spending some money on a side road and they made a contract with an old country boy to fix it up. And after it had been completed an inspector came around and he had much fault to find.
He grumbled at everything. He said the crown was not high enough, the shoulders were too steep, the ditches were too shallow and so on. The country boy finally got fed up on his complaints.
"How is she for length, Inspector?" he asked.

Woman Wool Buyer Comes to Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP).—The only woman wool buyer in America is Miss Ruby Connelly, buyer for Russel F. Ritten Company of Boston. She is a resident of Dillon, Montana.
Miss Connelly arrived here with Bob Barney and since their arrival they have bought 200,000 pounds of fall wool. They came to San Angelo in an airplane of the company, the flying time between here and Boston being only 24 hours.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

Even a princess may need a flick of powder on her royal nose or a bit of rouge on her lips. At least so thinks the Greek colony in Paris for they sent Princess Marina as a wedding gift a platinum and gold vanity box made to carry everything a modern woman needs, all bearing the two crests (hers and Prince George's) in rubies and diamonds.

Her lingerie was made by Russian emigres and her bed-linen by Irish work girls. And every traditional marriage truly it would seem.

Oh yes, the train of her wedding gown was over fourteen yards long, attached to the shoulders, and requiring a special harness to keep it from dragging off the shoulders.

Don't ever say handkerchiefs can't be different. Here is the newest idea:

The newest handkerchiefs have lower case applied or embroidered initials right in the middle, brought on apparently by the Gertrude Stein influence. If you haven't time to wait for initials, there's a new clip-cord done with a border of cords woven in and clipped off that furnishes all the decoration you need. But everything's monogrammed, umbrellas playing cards, mufflers, bath robes, dresser sets, bags, night gowns and step-ins.

Wesley Bible Class Meets Tuesday

Mrs. Mary S. Ray and Mrs. W. T. Beauchamp took part on the program presented at the business and social meeting of the Wesley Bible class Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. A. Black. Mrs. Ray read the devotional from the fourth chapter of Psalms. Mrs. Beauchamp gave a reading, "Character Insurance." Fifteen members and one visitor, Mrs. McLester, were present. Succeeding the business meeting, refreshments were served and a social hour held.

Vivid Colors Put Fabrics in Shade

Color, this year, has gained ascendancy over line, and fabric. Such unusual combinations as magenta and purple, olive green and vermilion, and blue violet and wine are the sensation of the dress market. Not as hard to wear as you might imagine, they are extremely timely for they add a luxurious, gaily under dark winter coats. At the left of the sketch, a military tunic dress of green crepe with gold lame strips about the collar, cuffs and belt is portrayed. A facing of the green crepe is cleverly done down the front of the tunic. The skirt is slender with a tiny slit at one side. French-flag blue with a braided band about the draped neckline and tunic edge is used for the dress in the center. The shirred bodice and raglan sleeves are flattering. Velvet, the color of 'creme de menthe forms the two-piece dress at the right. The high cut collar collapses softly about the throat and is tied with a bright red ribbon. The rather full sleeves are gathered to a wrist band.

Entre Nous Club Meets With Mrs. Zant

Mrs. J. B. Zant was hostess to the Entre Nous club with two tables of bridge at her home, 1405 W. III., Tuesday evening.

Club guests were Miss Kathleen Mullino and Miss Kathlyn Zant. Miss Lotta Williams won high score prize, Mrs. Charles Black high cut and Miss Kathleen Mullino guest prize.

At the conclusion of the game, refreshments were served to Misses Lotta Williams, Cordelia Taylor, Theresa Klapproth, Juliette Wiccott, Mrs. Charles Black, Mrs. Aldrege Estes, and the hostess.

by Emperor Maximilian, when a group of boy singers were ordered to sing daily mass under the auspices of the Court Orchestra of Vienna. Under the care and tutelage of the State, their reason for being has been to sing fine, musical works—choral, operatic, and religious. The great masters, Haydn, Mozart, and Schubert were members of this organization. Members of the Choir Boys—or Saengerknaben, as they are called—live today as always in the ancient imperial castle, the Vienna Hofburg, where once trod Hapsburg royalty. Here the boys work, study, eat, play, and sleep. They pay nothing but have dedicated their boyhood to music. Thousands of Austrian boys try each year to gain entrance by passing the rigid examinations, but of these only forty are housed in the castle and 22 of these are picked for the final program. These 22 will appear in Abilene.

This is the third transcontinental tour of the group. They have sung before large audiences in almost every civilized nation. Says the New York Sun of them: "Their whole program exuded an irresistible charm."

Is This Too Good for Your Cough?

Cremulium may be a better help than you need. It combines seven helps in one. It is made for quick relief for safety.

Mild coughs often yield to lesser helps. No one can tell. No one knows which factor will do most for any certain cough. So careful people, more and more, are using Cremulium for any cough that sticks. The cost is a little more than a single help. But your druggist is authorized to guarantee it, so it costs nothing if it fails to bring you quick relief. Coughs are dangerous. For safety's sake, deal with them in the best way known. (adv.)

As Navy Sank West Point—In a Sea of Mud

Sea Serpent Is Just an 'Overripe' Basking Shark

Copyright, 1934, Wrathall's.

Just when British Columbia was all agitated over finding of a "sea serpent," a joy killer came along in the person of Biologist W. A. Clemens of Nanaimo, B. C., and exploded the idea. He proved that the 30-foot carcass shown here at Prince Rupert, B. C., was merely a "peterhinus maximus," otherwise a wax-nosed or basking shark. The creature was described as having a skin like sandpaper, a head like a horse, and hide covered partly by hair and partly by spine-like quills. It had been dead for two months, as the small boys in the picture indicate by holding their noses.

First Streamline Steam Locomotive Faces Test Soon

This first streamlined high power steam locomotive soon will be given a series of tests by the New York Central railroad to demonstrate the rail line's faith in steam, despite recent advances in Diesel-powered locomotives in the west. The engine, named the Commodore Vanderbilt, after founder of the road, is streamlined to cut air resistance 35 per cent at a speed of 70 to 90 miles an hour.

Arlen, Lupino Romance Team In New Movie

The new Paramount picture, "Ready for Love," which comes today to the Yucca Theatre, tells the story of a young girl who knows how to get into trouble, but better still, knows how to get out again. The cast is headed by Richard Arlen, Ida Lupino and Marjorie Rambeau, with Marion Gering as the director. In "Ready for Love," Ida Lupino plays the role of Marigold Tate, a young, impetuous girl who upon her arrival in a small town creates a bad reputation and becomes involved in a scandal. But Marigold is not the type to be downed by a bad reputation, and with perfect unconcern makes scandal pay her big dividends.

Richard Arlen, as a young editor, is actually responsible for Marigold's plight, for it is he who misinterprets an innocent lark on Marigold's part and spreads it across the front page of his newspaper until Marigold finds herself the center of a national scandal. How the intrepid Marigold and the serious editor come to grips and fight each other, tooth and nail, even as they fall in love, supplies "Ready for Love" with its dramatic punch.

Tuberculosis is the greatest cause of death among children of school age (except accidents). Christmas Seals help to fight this disease. They are now being sold by the Texas Tuberculosis Association.

MAY CLOSE FAMED MINE

VANCOUVER, B. C. (U.P.)—The famous Granby mine at Aynoo, once the greatest producer of copper in the British Empire, may be abandoned shortly. The cavernous workings, from which millions of tons of gold, copper and silver ore have been taken since March, 1914, have been declared no longer profitable and will likely be closed down after a shareholders' meeting in New York on Dec. 12.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

co-operation of the courts." Many of his critics, particularly the distillers and liquor dealers, however, insist that taxes are far too high, and say that if they were reduced drastically, there would remain no incentive for the illicit distiller to remain in business. The federal government collects $2 for every gallon of whisky distilled in this country and $7 for every gallon imported. State taxes add $1 or so more, thus making good legal liquor far more expensive to the consumer than it was before the World War.

Blended Whisky Blended whisky of good quality costs nearly $2 a pint in practically all wet states, although occasionally at special bargain sales a whisky of dubious origin is retailed for $1 a quart.

Bonded liquor is scarce and will grow scarcer for the next few months, although many large distillers, anticipating repeal, have large stocks of whiskies which will receive that hallmark of quality during the next two years.

The nation's 524 brewers perhaps are the happiest of all those who hope to benefit from repeal. Consumption of beer and ale is approaching the all-time high record of 2,000,000,000 gallons consumed in 1914. Citizens drank about 1,022,000,000 gallons during the first ten months of this year.

Distillers Happy The distillers are far less pleased with the prospect of hard liquor drunk by Americans during the first ten months of 1934. They look back sadly to 1913 when the country downed 260,000,000 gallons.

Quality of whisky and wine gradually is becoming better, as distillers standardize their formulae and their ingredients become older. Experts say that many a first grade blend now is just as excellent a drink as it was before prohibition.

The explicit black labels on all bottles, however, give some customers theitters, as they read that the fluid they are about to drink consists of 20 per cent whisky, 80 per cent grain alcohol and assorted dashes of heading oil, prune juice, and sherry.

Frank Labels These utterly frank labels are the work of one of the New Deal's alphabetical agencies; the F. A. C. Federal Alcohol Control Administration, headed by Joseph Choate.

The lanky-sandy-haired Choate is one of the capital's busiest men, trying to establish laws fair to all concerned, and then trying to force all concerned to obey them.

He has drawn up regulations concerning honest labeling, outlawing trick bottles which look bigger than they are, and setting up limits of tolerance so that distillers can't sell dry whisky. Bourbon and vice-versa is one of the terms are supposed once to have done.

Choate believes with Morgenthau that as the regulations become further codified and the bootleggers further obliterated, the United States will have a liquor control system as near perfect as it is possible to establish.

Standardize Laws They hope particularly that the states themselves will seek eventually to standardize their liquor laws, the multiplicity of which now is one of the chief stumbling blocks to orderly marketing.

The organized drinker, in the words of F. Scott McBride, veteran Anti-Saloon League leader, believe that repeal is "A tragic failure."

They claim that return of liquor has brought with it a "wave of recklessness" on the nation's highways; caused riots and bloodshed in connection with liquor strikes, and been responsible for "many train wrecks and fires."

The prohibitionists have criticized Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt for her decision to serve wine in the White House. Although she personally does not drink, Mrs. Roosevelt has decided to place two wine glasses before each guest at state dinners in the White House.

The glasses will be filled only with American wine. Mrs. Roosevelt says she wants it understood particularly that no one will be expected to drain his two glasses, unless he really wants to.

Car Registration Rules Are Further Explained More detailed explanation of the rules for registering cars was given today by the tax collector's office, as follows:

Any new car or car which has been in storage since April 1, 1934, which is registered during this month is registered for four months and the license expires March 31, 1935.

The 1935 plates can not be purchased until February 1, 1935 and may be registered at any time after that till March 31st, without becoming delinquent. New cars bought in January or March or old cars which have been out of use may be registered for the remaining part of the period covered by 1934 plates and for 1935 if desired but will have to be registered for the remaining two or one month of the 1934 period. Or in other words such cars can not be registered for 1935 only.

CLIPPER SMITH'S COAST SQUAD TO INVADE TCU CAMP

PORT WORTH, Dec. 5.—The Pacific Coast and the Southwest Conference will meet here Saturday when the T. C. U. Horned Frogs play the invading Santa Clara Broncos in the first football game ever played between the two institutions.

The Broncos have the more impressive record of the two teams this season. They tied Stanford, 7 to 7, in an early season game and have lost only to the strong St. Mary's eleven, by a 7-to-0 score. They hold victories over such strong Pacific Coast teams as the San Francisco Olympic Club, the University of California and Loyola of Los Angeles.

The Frogs came out of the S. M. U. game last Saturday without any major injuries and expect to be able to throw their full strength against the invaders. The Meyers are determined to make a good showing for themselves and the Southwest and are working hard in practice sessions this week.

The Broncos, with a squad of 23 players, will arrive in Fort Worth Friday. Those making the trip are: Ends, Bryce Brown, James Arnerich, Burns Campbell, Norman Blum, Frank Smith and William Dutton; tackles, Floyd Schick, Carl Gadonski, Richard Haugland and Robert McGee; guards, Lou Spadefore, Richard Bassi, Homer Helmsich, Vilas Down, Henry Delmas and Lionel Rodgers; cutters, Glen Higgins and Owen McCusker; quarterbacks, Joseph Salathio and William Hall; fullbacks, Frank Sobrero, Robert Basshardt, Ray Kallisk, Harold Carlson and Don De Rosa; fullbacks, Nello Palaschi and John Pifer. Accompanying the squad will be Head Coach M. J. "Clipper" Smith, Line Coach L. T. "Buck" Shaw, Dr. Edward Aramali, team physician, Trainer Henry Schmidt, Student Manager Joseph Guthrie and Rev. Hugh Donovan, faculty representative.

Oil Notes

By PAUL OSBORNE Mesager reports of scattered drilling progress made most of the oil news of the day, with several wells, particularly those in Winkler county, closely watched for drilling information within a few days.

Of these, Fox-Butler and Jeffries No. 1 Brown and Altman had drilled ahead this morning to 2,643 feet in sand and lime with no reported increase in gas. A half mile northwest, Maxwell No. 1 Clapp yesterday recovered lost line and tools and started drilling ahead at 2,520 feet. Both are about six miles east of the central part of the Hendrick pool.

In the Sayre area, Magnolia No. 4 Walton has drilled ahead seven feet after cementing casing at 2,761 feet to shut off gas. The Walton appears to be the next completion in the area, which recently went on production with the discovery of Sayre Oil Company No. 1 Howe.

Skelly Oil Company No. 1-D Grayson, deep test in Reagan county, is being closely watched for a marker which will start coring operations. Reported depth this morning was 3,643 feet in limestone.

ECTOR county's most interesting wildcat test, Landreth Production Company No. 1 Johnson in section 47, block 43, township 1 south, was drilled to anhydrite this morning just below 3,170 feet.

Defly et al No. 3 Hayzlett, inside location in Ward county, was reported yesterday to be experiencing trouble with a batted bit at total depth of 1,540 feet. Unable to pull the bit up through casing, drillers are pouring in sand to wear the tool down to inside casing diameter.

Lost Flyers--

here whether the plane's empty gasoline tanks, which ran dry of their 605 gallons of fuel, would enable the craft to remain aloft only a brief time or for hours. Flying through stormy weather at an altitude of 12,000 feet, Lieutenant Ulm maneuvered two hours, attempting to pick up the radio direction beacon before sending out his first SOS.

For 18 hours the silver and orange-colored monoplane had roared on its way over the ocean, but at 7:30 a. m. (Hawaii Time) 12 noon (EST) came the first warning from the voyagers they were facing trouble. Last Messages "We have very little gasoline left," Operator Skilling messaged. "About half an hour later, came another message, telling anxious listeners the Star of Australia was off its course to the island and appealing for the radio beacon, which was being broadcast continually. "I don't know if I am north or south of the islands," Ulm said. And later: "Have no position. Must be badly lost."

There quickly followed appeals for a launch and for the army and navy to stand by. Within a half hour these messages telling of the fliers' peril came through the air: 9:03 a. m. "SOS!" 9:08 a. m. "Going down into sea now. Plane will float." 9:13 a. m. "SOS! SOS! SOS!" 9:24 a. m. "We are turning into wind. Come pick us up." 9:30 a. m. "On water now. SOS!"

Special Rates for El Paso-Steer Game

Special weekend rates to El Paso for the Big Spring-Bowie High School championship football game Saturday are being offered Midland and Big Spring people, according to information from the Midland agent of the T. & P. line. No special train is to be run, but extra cars will be attached to the Sunshine Special which leaves here at 10:13 p. m. Friday night. A round trip rate of $3.00 per person is offered for chair car coach passengers, who will return on the eastbound train leaving El Paso at 9 p. m., El Paso time, Saturday. A stayover until the same time Sunday night is optional with those purchasing tourist sleeper fares, according to the agent. These, for round trip, will be $7.65, and lower berths may be had for an additional $3.00, uppers being $2.40. A special agent of the line will be on the train to sell chair car tickets, so it will not be necessary to purchase them before boarding. However, those wishing tourist sleeper accommodations are requested to notify the depot agent here, who will make the reservations through Big Spring.
