PRESIDENT TAKES UP PLAN ADJUST TAXATION TANGLE

Conference Planned On Business and Tax Matters

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20, (U.P.)—President Roosevelt has ordered a comprehensive study of federal, state and municipal taxes to work out a program eliminating overlapping levies. Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. received today.

The president expects to get enough data to call a general conference next summer and decide which government can collect the taxes most economically. Federal, state, local and municipal tax experts will be represented, it was announced.

PRESIDENT TO MEET WITH BUSINESSMEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20, (U.P.)—President Roosevelt and business leaders plan to get together soon for a heart to heart discussion of business problems, it was learned today.

The conference, at the White House, will take place at the earliest "possible moment" between the president and 90 industrial leaders, it was announced.

LIBRARY PROGRAM FOR CHRISTMAS

Following is the program to be given at the Midland County Library Saturday, December 22:

Pre-school age: "A Little Girls' Wishes," by Shirley Bunson.

South Ward School: "Christmas Wishes," by Anna Lois Campbell.

Valley View School: "Keep Smiling," by Peggy and George Woody.

Junior High School: "The Frosted Pine Cone," by Elma Jean Noble.

Trucks Needed for Distributing Toys

One truck had been offered for distribution of toys Christmas eve, the chamber of commerce office reported this morning. The South-Central Ice & Utilities company had made the offer.

Other trucks will be needed for distributing the toys to needy children of Midland, it was announced, and those who will give the services of the machines are asked to notify the chamber office.

The toys, donated by Midland people, were moved yesterday to the Petroleum building where they are being prepared for distribution.

NRA Prosecutions Speed Enforcement

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20, (U.P.)—Blue eagle removals in the future are to be followed quickly by prosecution for code violations, Sol A. Rosenblatt, NRA compliance enforcement director, said today.

He announced nine regional centers for greatly speeded code compliance effort.

THREE PLANES LAND

Two navy scout land planes, with Lieut. C. A. R. Lindgren in command, landed at the airport today enroute from Norfolk, Va., to San Diego, California.

Major A. W. Smith, piloting a O-43, made a round trip to Brooks Field at San Antonio today, landing at the airport here.

JACK COTTER IMPROVED

Jack Cotter, ill at a Midland hospital where he was brought from the ranch was reported improved today.

Mrs. Klatt, who underwent an operation two weeks ago, will soon be ready to return to her home, it was said, and Mrs. Waddell and baby are doing well.

White House Romance?

Romance again hovers over the White House, if there is any basis in fact for insistent Washington reports of the recent game, left, will become the bride of John Buttiger, right, recent Chicago Tribune correspondent, now with the Will Hays film organization. Buttiger has refused to comment and the Roosevelt's daughter, divorced last summer from Curtis Dall, New York broker, was "out" to questioners.

Tangles With Huey

BANDITS MAKE OFF WITH $40,000 LOOT

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20, (U.P.)—Four bandits headed by Robert Matis, Pennsylvania's number one public enemy, today looted the Philadelphia Electric company's payroll office of between $40,000 and $48,000.

Air Liner Reaches Remote Island Port

PARAMARIBO, Dutch Guiana, Dec. 20, (U.P.)—The Fokker seaplane "Snip" of the KLM airline arrived today on its flight from Porto Príncipe, Verde islands, with Christmas mail.

The craft left Amsterdam Friday and will go on to Venezuela.

Outwits Eagle; Shoots Bird as Car in Motion

Carl Young, building and loan representative, outwitted a wise old Mexican eagle the other day, en route to Alpine.

He was driving along the highway near Saragosa when he spied the eagle some distance from the road. He had a shotgun in the car but could not pull up and get his gun ready in time, as he saw the eagle prepare to fly.

Thinking quickly, Young gave his car the gas, driving on past the bird and the eagle changed his mind about taking off. Young then got his gun handy, turned around and came back down the road at about forty miles per hour. The road was wide, so that he could turn loose his steering wheel long enough to shoot.

Seeing the car's return, the eagle clumsily began to leave the ground, getting under way parallel to Young's car. Young fired, the eagle faltered but changed his course and flew westward. Less than a half mile away he flopped to the ground, dead. His wings measured six feet, and five inches from tip to tip.

COURT HOUSE TO BUILD DAMS

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (U.P.)—The foundation of the old Clay county court house being razed will be used to construct dams on soil erosion projects. CCC workers appropriated the lower part of the historic structure.

HUEY LAWMAKERS VOTE REPRISALS AT ALEXANDRIA

Would Oust Holders Of City Offices Not in Accord

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 20, (U.P.)—The Louisiana legislature, before adjourning since die today, voted to vacate every city office in Alexandria where the sirens sounded last fall when Huey was giving a political speech.

The legislature provided that the governor fill the offices until the 1936 election.

HUEY LOSES EFFORT CANCEL LABEL ACTION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20, (U.P.)—Huey Long's second attempt to cancel service of the $500,000 label suit brought against him by General Samuel T. Ainsell was overruled by Justice Cogan in district supreme court today.

Midland Dubbed Model Town by Vermont Tourist

Selecting Midland as the "model town" after traveling 3,000 miles through 30 states, W. A. Wheeler of Vermont, wrote a highly complimentary letter to Mayor M. C. Ulmer upon reaching Bradenton, Fla.

"Leaving our home in Jericho, Vermont, the first of July with my friends, Mrs. Wheeler and I started on a four months tour of the United States," Mr. Wheeler wrote.

"Before getting back to our winter quarters in Florida, we traveled 3,000 miles through nearly 30 states, covering nearly all of the states west of Chicago.

"On our way back, we entered your state at El Paso, on to Dallas, south to Houston, etc. We were all enthused over your large state, but what I wish to say is this, that your little city of Midland was the most model town we were in.

"We stayed a night there and were all impressed with your fine buildings, clean streets and general orderliness.

"Your state as a whole seems to lack the squalid towns so characteristic of the western states.

"The city fathers of Midland certainly have reason to be proud."

Mrs. Borum Speaks At Rotary Ann Meet

Mrs. Winston F. Borum read "The Christmas Story" as special number on the luncheon program of the Rotary Anns at the monthly meeting of the organization today.

Short reports on the luncheon of Abilene Rotary Anns attended by a number of Midland women several weeks ago were given by Mrs. R. V. Lawrence and Mrs. Joe Fyfe.

Mrs. Percy Mims, president of the Rotary Anns, presided at the luncheon which was attended by all but about four members.

He noticed them, he said, while walking along the shore of the island and descended a rocky cliff to reach them because he believed they were parts of an aircraft.

ROSS WRIGHT RUNS Market at Nobles

Ross Wright, formerly of Cleburne, has located at Midland and is manager of the meat market at the Nobles grocery, recently opened by J. O. Nobles.

Wright is a brother of Hy Wright, for several years manager of the M System market.

Our father was running a meat market when we were born," Ross Wright said. "There were four of us boys. Hy and I kept on in the meat market business and the other two boys made good."

Charges Railroads Suffer "Dry Rot"

BOSTON, Dec. 20, (U.P.)—American railroads are suffering from "dry rot" monopoly, Joseph B. Eastman, rail contractor, told the chamber of commerce here today. He urged carriers to modernize their equipment and cooperate to keep up with the twentieth century pace.

POLE SNAPS, KILLS CLIMBER

TOLEDO, (U.P.)—An abandoned telephone pole which Chester Henning, 64, climbed in rear of his home, swayed perilously as he reached the top, then snapped at the base and plunged him to his death. When the pole broke, Henning tumbled to the ground. He had climbed it to fasten a wire at the top.

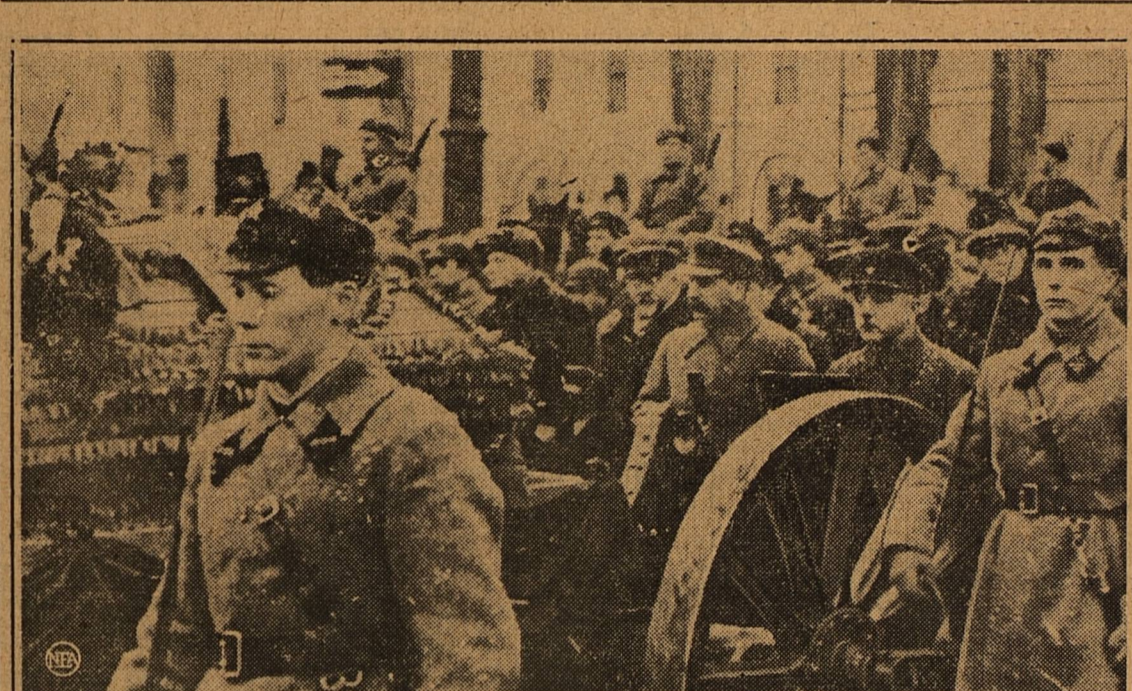

SORORITIES TO STAGE SHOW

COLUMBIA, Mo. (U.P.)—Ten University of Missouri sororities will stage a Christmas doll show. Among fairy tale characters that will be depicted are "Alice in Wonderland," "Peter Pan," "The Sleeping Beauty," "Cinderella," "The Four Clever Brothers" and "Snow-white and Rose-red."

CUTTER RUSHES TO Aid of Freighter

NEW YORK, Dec. 20, (U.P.)—The coast guard cutter Champlain pounded through heavy seas today to rescue the distressed and rudderless freighter, Severance, lashed by high waves and a stiff gale 18 miles off the Long Island shore.

Stalin Marches in Funeral of Stain Aid

The funeral for Sergei Kirov, assassinated member of the high council of the Soviet party and one of Joseph Stalin's chief lieutenants, was the most impressive behind Kirov's casket, black mous-tached Stalin in the center, with Y. M. Molotov and K. E. Vor-shelov close behind him.

NATIONALIZATION OF UNIVERSITIES IS URGED IN REPORT

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 20, (U.P.)—Dr. Lotus D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, in his 51st annual report to the board of regents, today advocated the nationalization of universities, with highly developed centers of learning.

He advocated a "carefully situated university" for each section of the country to carry on advanced research under scholarships for picked men.

PIECES OF PLANE BELIEVED ULM'S

HONOLULU, Dec. 20, (U.P.)—Pieces of wood resembling parts of an airplane, possibly that in which Lieut. Charles T. P. Ulm and two companions disappeared Dec. 4, were found on a new stratum developed at Hihala Island, northwesternmost of the Hawaiian Islands.

The fragments appeared to be part of an airplane strut and a piece of fuselage board about seven feet long.

No plane other than Ulm's has been lost recently in these waters.

The finder, Aylmer Robinson, delivered the pieces to Lieut. Russell Scott of the United States Army. Scott flew with them to Luke Field this afternoon, where they are being examined by army authorities.

Robinson's find was the first of anything resembling parts of an airplane since the Star of Australia dropped into the ocean.

He noticed them, he said, while walking along the shore of the island and descended a rocky cliff to reach them because he believed they were parts of an aircraft.

Detour to Legion Shoot Range Given

Blocking of the highway at the entrance of the American Legion's turkey shoot temporarily damaged business yesterday, W. V. Bennett, post commander, said today. However, Bennett outlined details of approach where by marksmen may continue to patronize the shooting range.

Turn left at the east detour, Bennett said, go to the first plank gate south of the highway, drive through and go west to the east border of the old college lake.

Only one turkey was killed Wednesday, J. H. Fine bringing home the Christmas meat. Five shooters competed.

The range will operate each afternoon unless rain or sandstorms prevent, Bennett said. If all turkeys are not killed by Christmas, the shoot will continue until they are gone.

Overdue Book Fines May Be Cancelled

Fines on overdue books at the Midland county library will be remitted if holders of such books comply with a plan offered today by Miss Marguerite Hester, librarian.

Between December 24 and January 1, all books on which fines were due prior to December 24 may be dropped in a locked box which will be placed outside the main door of the library and the fine cards will be cancelled.

Rent books are excepted.

Final Invitation Issued to Lion-Rotary-Yucca Party

Father Edw. P. Harrison, publicity chairman for the Rotary-Lion-Yucca Christmas party for children Saturday morning, issued a final statement of invitation today.

The free picture show and gift distribution is scheduled for 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning at the Yucca theatre. Father Harrison's message said:

"We are now, I might say, on the very threshold of Christmas. It is only natural, therefore, that we be thoroughly imbued with the season's spirit. But to grasp more fully the true significance and the deep meaning of Christmas, one must needs go back in spirit through the centuries to that first Christmas night when in a cave partly scooped out of the hillside, partly by nature, outside the walls of a small Palestinian town, a Child was born who was the true Son of the eternal God. In that mystery not only did Christ leave His regal palace in paradise, but was even born into this world a babe in poverty, taking upon Himself the form of a servant. Christ gave all for love of humankind.

"It is not until we grasp the meaning of that first Christmas that we can appreciate the old yet ever new adage, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'

"Now, at the near approach of another Christmas, we renew all these thoughts and we naturally turn our minds to youth, to Santa Claus, to give and to receive, to greet our friends with 'A Merry, Merry Christmas.'

"Every child is awaiting hopefully, yet almost breathlessly, the arrival of Old Santa, wondering if he will come this year, or if he does come if he will bring everything that has been asked for. To make sure that he will come and bring you what you want, make sure to see him Saturday morning.

"To you, the children of Midland and vicinity it is my pleasure to extend an invitation to our Christmas party which will be given at the Yucca theatre this coming Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock with Santa Claus as your host. Don't forget, this party is being sponsored by your friends, the Lions and Rotarians of Midland with the personal cooperation of Lion Howard Hodge, to spread sunshine and happiness over your childhood days. Mr. Hodge has arranged a program of short subjects and cartoons for your amusement and Old Santa will be there to greet you, not only with a Merry Christmas but also a Christmas gift."

FORT STOCKTON, (P.)—The city of Fort Stockton has started work on construction of a new city sewage disposal plant, financed through the PWA. J. S. Clements of Dallas holds the contract for the work.

GUARDSMEN KILL 2 DURING NIGHT TO STOP RIOTS

Court House Burned As Enraged Mob Seeks Negro

SHELBYVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 20, (U.P.)—Local officials today belatedly mob violence was completely dispersed, after 300 national guardsmen entered Shelbyville early today to establish order and protect property from the mob which burned the court house and threatened destruction of other public buildings.

The military occupation followed a night of terror in which two members of the mob were killed in an attempt to take E. K. Harris, negro, whose trial on assault charges had been declared a mistrial.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN THWART MOB EFFORTS

SHELBYVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 20, (P.)—A mob of several hundred persons, two of the number already slain and others wounded, milled about the ruins of the county courthouse last night as an army of national guardsmen hurried here to quell disorders growing out of a futile attempt to seize a negro.

Fed by gasoline, poured on by the mob, flames destroyed the $15,000 brick building which a few hours earlier had held the object of the mob's fury—a negro charged with assaulting a 14-year old white girl.

The negro was whisked away, clad in a soldier's uniform, and wearing a gas mask, and taken to Nashville.

From over the state, 500 guardsmen were mobilized and rushed into Shelbyville under orders from Gov. Hill McAlister.

Angered by the ruse and apparently intent upon showing their wrath on guardsmen and the county officers, the mob allegedly sprinkled the 75-year-old Bedford county courthouse with gasoline and set fire to it. The building was a mass of flames with the mob estimated between 300 and 500, milling about the square.

Firemen said the mob hindered them in fighting the flames. Dynamite, which had been tossed into the courthouse building during the height of the disturbance in the day, exploded, but no one was injured.

Convicts Go Free by Foiling 'T.B.'

Three bloody attempts of the mob to invade the courthouse and carry off the alleged assassin were stopped by the guardsmen. The mob members milled through the streets, menacing any negro who appeared. Threats to invade the negro section of Shelbyville were heard. The crowd burned four national guard trucks.

The negro, E. K. Harris, was ready for trial when Circuit Judge T. L. Coleman ended the case at 3 p. m. yesterday by declaring a mistrial. The jury was dismissed and Harris hustled through the crowd to an automobile which sped away for Nashville.

Shortly afterward a Nashville photographer was escorted to the edge of town and ordered to return to Nashville.

All the dead, dying and wounded were white.

The dead: Raleigh Edwards, 30, housepainter, bayoneted through the stomach. An unidentified white man.

Dying: Pat Lawes, reported by his friends to be a relative of the girl involved in the case, shot through the head.

Gilbert Freeman, shot through the lungs and stomach.

Wounded: Mead Jones, shot in the hand and feet and bayoneted in the feet, condition serious.

Everett Patterson, shot in the leg. Herschel Neely, minor gunshot wounds.

Guard Water Works

On request of Dr. C. T. Carney, an alderman, a police guard was placed around the water works plant. He said he had received word that an attempt would be made to burn it.

Staking their lives in a perilous medical experiment for hope of liberty, two Colorado life-term convicts have won and will be freed from prison before Christmas by order of Gov. E. C. Johnson.

The pair was inoculated with a new serum developed to prevent tuberculosis, then injections of the disease germs injected into their veins. After months of experiment, they were pronounced in perfect condition. Above, an orderly is shown giving the last "shot" to Mike Schmidt, while Warden Roy Best, Governor Johnson, and Carl Erickson, other inmate look on. Left, below, is Schmidt; right, Erickson.

FLYING HAZARDS WORLD-WIDE

When the United States army undertook to fly the air mail, during that emergency period of unpleasant memory, the citizens generally were profoundly shocked at the number of deaths that ensued. Not only was this loss of fine young men a tragic thing; it seemed to hint that our air force was imperfectly trained and inadequately equipped.

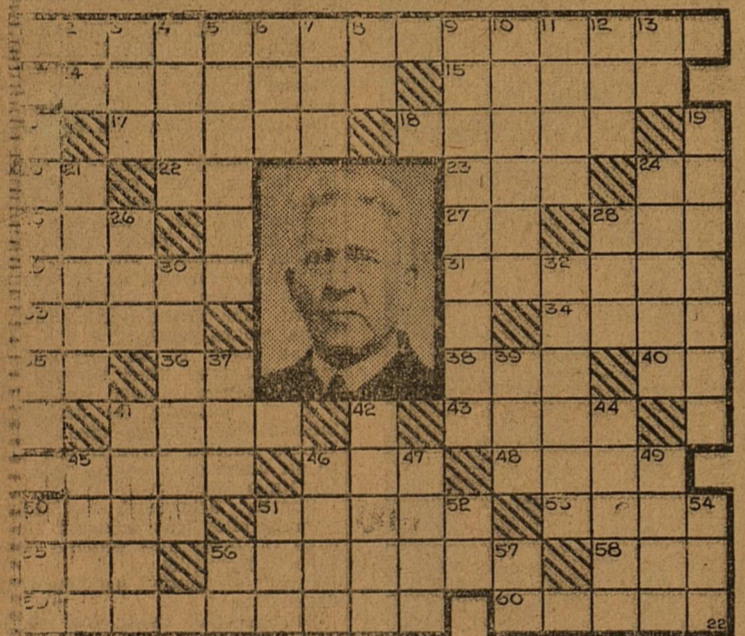

However, it is evident that by comparison with other nations' air forces the American army flyers take care of themselves pretty well.

When a bombing plane of the Royal Air Force crashed near Birmingham, England, the other day, killing three men, it brought the Royal Air Force's casualty list for the year to 32.

Such a total may not be scandalously high, but it does indicate that military aviation is an affair of abnormal risks under even the best of circumstances, and that our army flying corps may have a better record, comparatively, than we supposed.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" at everything with taking a stand on anything.) Joe Haygood says he has never had an affinity, because he talks in his sleep. A local man is light on his feet, because 30 years ago, when he underwent an operation, a sponge was left in his stomach. Why Henry Ford and John D. Rockefeller are good friends; Henry makes cars, and John makes the cars go. The best thing about Christmas: It is the season when 99 per cent of the people try to forget unpleasant things. A local man is so unlucky that the only light he ever had was in a queensware store—he had to pay $500 for broken dishes.

Black Hills Report Placed on Display DEADWOOD, S. D. (U.P.)—A rare copy of the report of Lieut. G. K. Warren on the first military expedition into the Black Hills, has been discovered here and now is on display. Jefferson Davis was Secretary of War under President Franklin Pierce when the report, accompanied by elaborate maps, was published. Known as the Sioux expedition, the caravan was under command of Gen. W. S. Harney. Little was known of western South Dakota when the expedition left the military camp established at Fort Pierre in 1855, except that it was dangerous, Indian infested territory without trails or markers. The expedition followed a general course south to the White River, then to the Platt River, to Fort Kearney in Nebraska, and then westward to Fort Laramie in Wyoming, returning northeastward to Fort Pierre. It arrived there Oct. 26, 1855. F. V. Hayden, geologist with the party, described the Black Hills as a "delightful country after the barren prairie" through which the expedition passed. "The Black Hills which appear in the distance and derive their name from their dark and gloomy appearance, contain an inexhaustible quantity of the finest timber, mostly pine, which will doubtless remain undisturbed for many years to come," the report said.

Midland Geologist Marries in East; Brings Bride Here

John M. Hills, assistant geologist for the Amoco Petroleum company, returned to Midland this morning accompanied by his bride of a few days.

Mr. Hills left Midland for the East Dec. 5. On Dec. 18 he received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Chicago. His undergraduate work was done at Lafayette College, Easton, Penn.

On Dec. 11 he married Miss Sally Ward at the home of the bride's parents, Professor and Mrs. Freeman Ward, of Lafayette College. The wedding was a quiet affair, only the immediate family attending, and the service was read by Dr. Harris, Lafayette college chaplain.

Mrs. Hills is a graduate of Pembroke College, Brown University, Providence, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Hills are at home at 403 N. Colorado.

"Bible Day" Program For Wednesday Club At Mrs. Butler's

The Wednesday club held its "Bible Day" meeting at the home of Mrs. Jno. P. Butler, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Rev. Kenneth C. Minter, pastor of the First Methodist church, delivered the afternoon's address on "The Philosophy and Inspiration of the Bible," showing the stream of thought as it develops from the creation to the redemption in heaven and how God revealed himself to a people set apart.

Mrs. C. M. Goldsmith was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Sam Preston and Mr. Minter were guests.

Twelve club members were present.

Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

Christmas Program Given by Mothers Self Culture Club

"The First Gift," a one-act play by Manley giving the story of the Christmas miracle, was read by Mrs. W. J. Coleman at the meeting of the Mothers Self Culture club, at the home of Mrs. Fred Turner Wednesday afternoon.

In keeping with the Bible program, roll call was answered with Bible verses.

The Christmas carols, "Silent Night" and "Joy to the World," were sung by club members accompanied by Mrs. Coleman, who had charge of the program for the afternoon.

After the program period, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Preston Bridgewater, J. M. Haygood, W. J. Coleman, James Nolan, W. E. Ryan and E. D. Richardson.

"Distaff Side" Is Read on Wednesday By Mrs. Henderson

Mrs. Fred Wilcox was hostess to the Mrs. Henderson club in its last pre-holiday meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wade Heath.

Mrs. Bryan Henderson read "The Distaff Side" as the drama of the afternoon.

Six guests were present including: Misses Vada Crawley, Kathleen Mulholland, Mrs. W. C. Maxwell, Bryan Ware, Jno. Dublin, and Leonard Proctor.

An air of Christmas festivity was given to the entertaining rooms by the gaily-decorated Christmas tree.

At the close of the study hour, Christmas refreshments were served to the guests and the following club members: Misses Foy Proctor, T. B. Flood, Elliott Barron, Chas. Klapprott, J. Howard Hodge, Geo. T. Abell, De Lo Douglas, Bryan C. Henderson, R. D. Scruggs, E. Hazen Woods, Glenn Brunson, Bob Hamilton, Miss Stella Maye Laniham and the hostesses.

The club will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Scruggs, with Mrs. Henderson hostess and Mrs. Hodge reading.

BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS

In German provinces all try to blow sparks on each other from a suspended Yule log brand.

4 shopping days to Christmas

GERMANY

In some parts of Germany the people burn a Yule-log. Sometimes this is a huge log that will last through the three days' festivities, and sometimes it is one so small that the family sit before it until it is entirely consumed. Sometimes a part of the log is suspended from the ceiling of the room and each person present blows at it hoping to make a spark fall on some watching face. Others carry a piece of the log to bed with them to protect them from lightning.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

Another way of recognizing the person that is a darling of the gods: Does he have the ability to tie these tricky eight-loop Christmas bows?

With the all-town cantata and the school cantata and programs Midland is enjoying a goodly share of Christmas music, a fact which wins our hearty indorsement.

Pfefferusse

Two cups brown sugar, 1 cup molasses, 1-2 cup butter or other shortening, 4 cups flour, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon cloves, 1-2 lemon (grated rind and juice), 1-2 cup blanched and shredded almonds, 1-2 cup shredded citron.

Whites of 2 eggs, 3-4 cup shredded coconut, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1-3 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat whites of eggs until stiff and fold in sugar. Put in double boiler over hot water and beat until mixture is tepid. Add salt, cocoanut, cornstarch and vanilla and mix lightly. Drop from teaspoon onto oiled cookie sheet and bake thirty minutes in a slow oven (300 degrees F.).

Christmas Time Is Cookie Time; These Recipes Will Please

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

Christmas New Year and Twelfthday cakes have long been supposed to carry blessings and healing with them. In the old days, a piece of each was kept from year to year as a talisman and guard against evil.

Even modern Christmas cookies carry a special message of peace and good will, especially if you make them yourself with some large or small ultimate consumer in affectionate mind.

If the cookies must be sent through the mail, though, be sure to pack carefully, otherwise they will be broken and crumbly. Line the bottom, top and sides with crumpled paper. Then put the cookies in firmly, so they can't shake, and adjust corrugated paper around the outside of the box.

Cookies that are made into fancy shapes, must be rolled. The dough should be well chilled. So make it up and allow for one or two hours in the refrigerator.

Lebkuchen

The famous Lebkuchen is a delicious honey cookie that the German housewife bakes at Christmas time. It keeps almost indefinitely and should be made several days before using.

One pound strained honey, 1 pound pulverized sugar, 6 eggs, 1-2 pound blanched and shredded almonds, 1-2 pound shredded citron, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 teaspoon cloves, 2 teaspoons grated nutmeg, grated rind 2 lemons, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 4 cups flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt.

Beat honey until hot the night before the cookies are to be made. Stir in enough sifted flour to make a stiff dough and set aside to cool.

In the morning beat eggs until very light with sugar and work into the honey mixture. Use a wooden spoon and work until smooth.

I warn you that this stirring is hard work. Mix and sift soda, spices and salt with flour and add with lemon rind, citron and nuts to first mixture. Knead lightly, adding more flour if necessary.

Roll into a sheet about 1-4 inch thick and cut in oblong pieces one and one-half inches wide by three inches long. Bake on an oiled pan in a moderate oven for fifteen minutes. When cool cover with a thin icing made by mixing confectioner's sugar to a paste with boiling water. The recipe makes about eight dozen cookies. If you use half the rule be sure to use half of each ingredient.

Hard Tack

This is a delightful black walnut cookie that keeps well. It's as American in its origin as lebkuchen is German.

Two eggs, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 cup flour, 1 cup stoned and chopped dates, 1 cup black walnut meats, 1-4 teaspoon soda, 1-8 teaspoon salt.

Beat eggs until light beating in sugar. Mix and sift soda, salt and flour and add with dates and nuts to first mixture. Stir until thoroughly blended. Spread thin on an oiled and floured cookie sheet or dripping pan and bake fifteen minutes in a moderate oven, 350 to 375 degrees F. Cut in strips an inch wide and three inches long as soon as removing from oven.

Christmas Should Be Mother's Day Off, Writer Believes

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Last year two men issued an ultimatum just before Christmas. Both said the same thing but for different reasons: "We are going out for Christmas dinner."

Cases were different. The wife of one had had a long sick spell, and she was still weak. "No use in your getting sick again," said her husband. "The kids won't want to eat anyway and we'll go up to the hotel and have a bite."

The other had no better reason than that his wife was entitled to rest and holiday.

But in this case there were complications. You see grandma and grandpa were coming to spend the day. And grandma boasted that she had raised a family of four boys and had never missed cooking a big family dinner on every holiday in twenty-some-odd years.

What would grandma say?

Even Grandma Approves

them off somewhere for a "bought dinner."

However Helen thought, "It really would be grand not to have to spend the whole day in the kitchen, and the day before, too, you might say." So she consented and when Jim went over early with the car and returned with his parents for breakfast and all the excitement and package opening, she timidly broke the news.

Grandma with her new scarf around her shoulders got up and went over and put her arm around her son's neck. "Jim," she said, "I never was so proud of you as I am this minute. We'd love to go and make some Christmas calls on people we haven't seen for a while."

It was a successful day all around, but as Helen said that night, "I wouldn't want to do it every year, but it's been a grand rest. One of the best times I've ever had."

The repercussion of the first case was different. There were no visitors, but the aunt of the sick wife heard they had "gone out" for their dinner.

Cataclysm Falls

For a week her tongue was busy in that town. She predicted that Sally would lose her husband in a year and added that such a mother would gladly see her children in an asylum. "Any mother who couldn't stay at home and cook the fixings on Christmas of all days in the year"—and so on!

Well, the sky didn't fall. There were no divorces. Soon it was forgotten.

But the moral is that whether dinner is eaten at home or elsewhere all hands should remember mother shouldn't have to give the party entirely and come out of it too tired to remember what had happened.

WOMAN CUTS WOOD AT 78

WAYNE, Mo. (UP)—Despite her 78 years, Lizzie Burnham is a pretty spry woman. She cuts wood, carries water from a spring and carries home her own groceries from the village two miles away. Only recently, she pulled and threshed a half-acre of beans.

ORIGIN "PRAIRIE SCHOONER"

SAN ANTONIO (UP)—The term "prairie schooner" as applied to covered wagons originated in South Texas, Ray Leeman, editor of The South Texan has discovered. It grew out of the idea of Gail Borden Jr., who placed sails on wagons used on sand flats along Galveston bay. They became known as prairie schooners and the term was later applied to all plains wagons.
