Il Duce Throws 40,000 Troops on the Border

TROPICAL STORM IN TEXAS CAUSES DEATH, DAMAGES

HOUSTON, July 26, (UP)—Nine were known dead, twelve were missing and millions in property damage had been reported today as result of the hurricane which swept the gulf coast yesterday. Fear was felt that others may have been killed or injured in isolated small communities.

A giant tidal wave did most of the damage and killing. The Matagorda bay area received the brunt of the winds which exceeded eighty miles in velocity.

Cotton and fruit were destroyed or damaged. The Aransas Pass causeway was swept away and the Corpus Christi causeway was damaged.

The greatest property damage was in the Port O'Connor and Port Lavaca section where about 50 buildings were destroyed. Scores were homeless and it was expected that federal aid would be asked. The wind at Port O'Connor was estimated at 100 miles per hour.

MIDLANDER'S BROTHER LOSSES BEACH CAMP

Fifty cabins of Earl Van Huss' Galveston beach camp were washed away and only his store remained, his brother, Bill Van Huss of Midland, learned today.

Damage from high waves and winds was tremendous, it was learned.

SHOWERS AND COOLER TEMPERATURES HERE

A "trace" of rainfall here this morning caused the mercury to drop several degrees. Wednesday's high was 98, today's, to noon, 86. A low of 71 was established today.

Showers were not general for this area, Fort Stockton, Alpine and McCamey being the only points that reported drizzles. Wink, Pecos and Monahans reported overcast conditions.

BANDIT'S DOCTOR LEAPS TO DEATH

CHICAGO, July 26, (UP)—James Probasco, 67, in whose office officers said John Dillinger received the disguising face lifting operation, jumped to his death from the nineteenth floor department of justice office today, while waiting to be quizzed.

Federal agents said they had information that Probasco had arranged for the operation.

ROUNTREE RITES SET FOR FRIDAY

Funeral rites for J. Paul Rountree, former Midland man who died Wednesday at El Paso following amputation of his right leg at Masonic hospital, will be conducted Friday afternoon. Midland relatives were informed this morning.

His leg was splintered when an automobile in which he was riding, and a street car collided. He spent 10 months in a hospital.

His attorney, W. H. Fryer, filed suit against the El Paso Electric company, and Rountree attended the trial on a stretcher. He received an $8500 judgment.

Leaving Midland today for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Ulmer, Miss Helen Margaret Ulmer, Ed Rountree and E. B. Rountree, Jr. Mrs. Ulmer is a sister and Ed Rountree a brother of the dead man. A son, Herbert A. Rountree, lives at El Paso. Rountree also leaves his widow, Mrs. Nellie Rountree.

RESTRICTION ON CATTLE REMOVED

Notification of unrestricted buying and delivery of cattle under terms of the government relief campaign reached Midland this morning, according to County Farm Agent S. A. Debnam.

Only slightly affected by the glut of the receiving yards in Fort Worth, Dallas and El Paso, rather steady buying had continued here, although delivery was halted briefly. One hundred twenty-one head was shipped Wednesday, making the total for the period about 2,650. One hundred thirty-three applications have been made, 36,769 head left on ranches and farms of applicants, 4,277 head inspected and 997 head condemned and slaughtered.

Since the buying of drought cattle began, 183,886 head had been purchased in Texas through Wednesday, 47,051 condemned. A great number of cattle have been processed at canning plants, so that the indigent may have food.

At Salt Lake City an agreement was reached Wednesday between the government and sheepmen from 12 western states by which the relief administration will pay operators $2 a head for ewes a year old or older and $1.40 a head for Angora goats. Machinery for purchasing sheep and goats will be on the same lines as that governing cattle.

BAR ROOM BALLADS BARRED

HARTFORD, Conn., (UP)—There will be no more bar room ballads sung in Connecticut beer taverns. The liquor commissioner ruled out all forms of entertainment, vocal or instrumental, and limited listening to radio programs to baseball scores and weather reports.

The Hand That Rocks the Cradle

"The cannon fodder of the morrow. They will grow to manhood with no recollections of the horrors of the last war. They'll be taught the glory of dying heroes' deaths for the fatherland—and Hitler." So describes the recent contribution of a famous war correspondent in writing on the general inability of Europe to keep out of war. Below, left, is depicted the artist's conception of the Austrian situation, under the Italian power on one side, the German on the other. Italy's mobilization today and Germany's recent developments on the other makes the conception stand out as a clean-cut prophecy of what is and may happen.

GIRLS' QUARTET SINGS FOR ROTES

Music by the Hardin & Simmons university girls' quartet entertained members of the Rotary club today. The group having remained over after an appearance at the First Baptist church last night.

Miss Helen Lee Stewart, Midland county winner and third place district winner in the bed room contest, told the club of the changes made in a room at her home in the Pleasant Valley community.

Dr. N. A. Moore, professor of Bible at Hardin & Simmons university, gave a brief inspirational talk in which greetings from his institution were brought to Midland and appreciation was expressed for the substantial patronage shown by the school by Midland.

The quartet, composed of Misses Madelyn Ely, soprano; Ruth King, second soprano; Mary Frances Moore, first alto, and Rosemary Malone, second alto, gave three numbers, depicting remarkable individual ability as well as harmony.

The Rev. Winston F. Borum was in charge of the day's program. President Wemple appointed Addison Wadley chairman of the fellowship committee and Elliott H. Barroil sergeant-at-arms.

Fred Hull Accepts Job at Gladewater

Fred G. Hull, for several years head of the accounting department of the Midland Hardware and Furniture company, has resigned to accept a position as chief accountant of the Gilliland Refining company at Gladewater. It was made public today. He will report there within ten days. Mrs. Hull and daughter, Mary Jeanne, will not leave before September 1, it was announced. The Hulls planned to make their home at Shreveport, he handling the Gladewater position from that point.

ENGLAND, FRANCE PROMISE ITALY TO GIVE PROTECTION

By UNITED PRESS
In an early afternoon drive to crush out nazi terrorists in upper Styria, Austrian troops made onslaught that resulted in at least nine deaths and scores of wounded. Austrian dispatches, while effectively muzzled by government censorship, agreed inflammatory state of affairs exists, which may burst into flame at any time.

War clouds hovered over Europe today. Mussolini sent 40,000 troops to the Austrian frontier as the world, remembering Sarajevo and 1914, watched the nazi unrest in Austria with dismay and apprehension.

At Vienna, there was fighting in the suburbs and in other widespread parts of Austria, especially in upper Styria, where at least six were killed.

The cabinet under Vice Chancellor Prince Ernst Rüdiger Van Starhemberg established a military court to try those involved in yesterday's assassination of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss.

Hangings were certain to result, proxiding fuel for further nazi uprisings. Several hundred national socialists are held in an emergency prison. Mussolini telegraphed to Vienna his pledge that Austria's independence would be preserved. Czechoslovakian forces were reported mobilizing on the frontier.

The Berlin government has blocked the German frontier to prevent an influx of German nazi into Austria, which might prove a spark to set off the war.

Anton Rintelen, Austrian minister to Rome, was accused of inspiring an unsuccessful nazi putsch and committed suicide.

France offered to join Italy and England in concerted action if necessary. England left the initiative to Italy for the present but said that she could be counted on for support.

American Secretary of State Cordell Hull studied the developments, indicated a hands off policy and declined to comment.

League of Nations officials felt that Europe is nearer to war than any time since 1914. British, French and Italian diplomats began conferences in respective capitals to decide action.

Kurt Reith, German minister to Austria, was recalled to Berlin in disgrace for offering aid to nazi rebels. Hitler near the Austrian border kept a close watch on events.

SAFE CONDUCT CLAUSE REPORTED REVOKED
VIENNA, July 26, (AP)—A group of Austrian Nazis Wednesday seized the federal chancellery, killed their bitter enemy, Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, and held the government building until they were given a guarantee of safe conduct to Germany—a guarantee which was revoked when it was discovered that Dollfuss was dead.

VIENNA, July 26, (UP)—The chancellor officially announced tonight that Anton Rintelen, Austrian minister to Rome, who shot himself when held as a suspect in a Nazi putsch, is still alive.

Premier Mussolini is expected to fly to Vienna to attend the Dollfuss funeral Saturday.

Fey Among Those Held Captive
Emil Fey, idol of the Heimwehr and former vice chancellor, was one of those held prisoner from 12:45 p. m. until shortly after 7 o'clock. And it was through him that negotiations were conducted for the surrender of the building in return for safe transit to the border for the rebels.

While Dollfuss was said by officials to have been killed immediately, his fate did not become known until after the Nazis had been loaded onto trucks, presumably to start for Germany.

After the day of disorder and excitement, in the course of which an undetermined number of persons were killed, martial law was proclaimed in Vienna and in part of the province of Styria, Nazi stronghold.

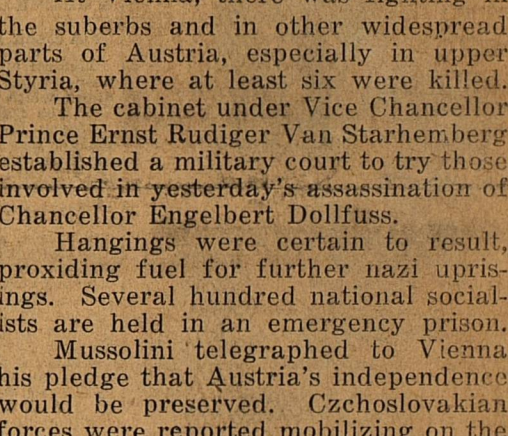

There were reports of fighting in Styria. Shooting was heard in some sections of Vienna.

Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg, minister of social welfare in the Dollfuss cabinet, was named by President Miklas to take over the government as chancellor and began his duties immediately.

The future of the country was beclouded, however. It did not appear at once what the position of Prince Ernst von Starhemberg, vice chancellor, was setting up a new government.

YUCCA AND RITZ CONSOLIDATED

Consolidation of Midland's two model theatres, the Yucca and the Ritz, in a partnership deal which will mean operation of the two houses under one head, was announced here this morning by J. Howard Hodge and Hal Grady.

Under the terms of the consolidation, effective Aug. 5, Hodge will operate the houses, and Grady, Yucca manager, will be transferred to Ada, Okla., where he will assume management of the McSwain, Ritz and Liberty theatres for Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Killough, co-owners of Eastern Oklahoma Theatres, Inc. with the Griffith Amusement company.

The deal was completed with receipt of final approval this morning of the Griffith Amusement company and Fred Morley.

Hodge who this week announced he had bought the Ritz, said both theatres will show first run pictures, that practically the same operating policy of the two houses will be continued. The same rates, 10 and 25 cents at the Yucca and 10, 15 and 25c at the Ritz will continue. The policy is changed only in one regard: three changes in film bills a week, rather than four, will result.

All major producing companies are subscribed to by the two theatres—Warner-First National, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Fox, Paramount, Universal, Columbia, RKO and United Artists. Occasional Western will be shown at the Ritz.

"Entertainment values will be improved as a result of the consolidation," Hodge said, "and a steady" (See THEATRES Page Four)

PROBLEM IN 'HIGH' FINANCE

The ins and outs of high-pressure financial deals are things nobody but an expert can understand; but some of the aspects of their mystery are positively exasperating in their deep incomprehensibility.

For instance, the Federal Trade Commission is told that three power companies in the southwest, tied up somewhere in the Insull chain, committed fantastic inflationary skulduggery back in the palmy days before the Insull crash. All told, it is charged, these firms inflated their values by $20,000,000, paying vast unearned stock dividends and boosting rates sky-high on the basis of fictitious valuations.

Now what we untutored folk who stand on the outside can't fathom is simply this: what was the point of all this phenging, seeing that the Insull chain eventually foundered anyway? The public was taken for $20,000,000, on this particular deal—but it didn't even profit the gang that did the taking.

There's some point to putting over a fast one if you make money thereby; but when insiders wind back of the eight ball too, what's it all about?

TEXON DRIVES WALLACE FROM BOX IN THIRD AND MIDLAND DROPS 7-2 GAME

By JESS RODGERS

The Texon club, which perennially leads the West Texas league, won a 7-2 decision over Midland in Municipal park Wednesday.

Snipe Conley, former Midland baseball club manager and once one of the finest pitchers Dallas infused into its lineup in the Texas league, pitched the last inning for Texon, called to the mound by the cries of the small crowd.

Texon used four pitchers, Ritter giving up on run and three hits in three innings. Haven two hits in two innings and Conley two hits and one run in one inning.

Midland's big righthanded, Wallace, was knocked out of the box in the third, when Dan Harston tripped and Gentry hit a home run. Gentry, a left hander, rifled his drive down first base line and it cut out for a homer. Oddly enough, right handers were hitting them down third base and left handers down the right field foul line all afternoon.

Gardner, heavy hitting first baseman for the visitors, went hitless for the first time this season.

One of the oddest angles to the game was the fact Bailey White, Midland first sacker, made three errors, one of them when he had an excellent chance to complete a lightning double play. With one on first and one on second, Gardner drove a hard line ball to center that was shoestrung by Surrait, who threw to Rose at second to double off Grant, and Rose whiffed to double the runner off first. The ball was in there, but White, usually the last man on the club to miss up a play, was having a bad moment and dropped the ball.

Estes was the leading hitter for Midland, collecting three hits in four trips to bat. Gentry, with a home run, a triple and a single, and Grant, with two doubles and a single led the visitors. Both went to bat five times.

Midland made seven errors, Texon three. Earned runs were: Texon 4, Midland 2.

Vote for Clyde Bradford for Representative of the 88th District

Born on a farm and has spent practically all of his life in West Texas, in recent years as a contractor and independent oil operator. Now serving as County Commissioner of Ward county, he has, since being in office, supported at Austin, Texas, during a recent session of the Legislature, the Pink Boll Worm Bill, in behalf of the cotton farmers of his County. He has furthermore appeared at Austin and Fort Worth before the Texas Railroad Commission, and has assisted in securing a larger allowable production of oil for Ward and other West Texas Counties, which were being discriminated against in favor of East Texas and other areas. He has been instrumental in securing while in office lower taxes for the farmer and rancher in his district, and has fought for tax reductions in favor of the oil men. He is a member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the Agricultural and Livestock Committee of that body. He is not under any control or obligation or allegiance, political or otherwise, to any faction or special interest. He is a firm believer in efficient economy and fairness in all government. He will if elected work for the agricultural, livestock and oil business of his district to have it given the consideration and relief to which it is entitled. He will if elected strictly be interested in giving this district and West Texas representation to which it is entitled.

Securities Drop As War Notes Are Sounded

NEW YORK, July 26, (U.P.)—Wild rumors from Europe caused a drastic break in securities prices on Wall Street today. Stocks were one to ten points lower and hundreds of new 1934 lows were recorded. German, Austrian and Italian bonds were off three to five points. Trading turned quiet in mid-afternoon and shares were holding steady near the lows.

ALL INVITED TO ELECTION PARTY

For the careful attention of the public: In the past, on election night, The Reporter-Telegram has conducted an "election party," giving a complete, unrestricted bulletin board service on all local, district and state contests. This year, due to limitations imposed on us by the Texas Election Bureau, such complete bulletin board service cannot be given on state races, although, as in the past, we will give returns on district and county races gathered by us, independently of the bureau, as rapidly as they are received. You are invited to attend the party. To meet this deficiency in state service, and with consent of the bureau, we will issue an election extra Saturday night when sufficient returns have been compiled. The Texas Election Bureau is a cooperative agency operated for more than 20 years by the Texas Managing Editors association. Its sole purpose being to gather election returns for newspaper use only. The returns are gathered at great expense. At its last meeting, Lt. Temple, the Managing Editors association incorporated the bureau and decided that returns hereafter supplied by it may not be broadcast, or placed on bulletin boards. The Reporter-Telegram interprets the broadcasting clause to include giving of reports on state races over the telephone, and asks the public to cooperate by not telephoning for returns other than precinct, county and district—the latter being compiled by The Reporter-Telegram independently of the Texas Election Bureau. The party begins shortly after 7 o'clock, and reports will be given on the local setup every two hours until the final count.

OIL NOTES

BY F. D. GARDNER
After an unsuccessful attempt at a drill-stem test yesterday in which the packer failed to hold, the Humble No. 1 Means, 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 2, block A-35, rubble school land survey, was scheduled to try another test today. The total depth is now 4278 feet in lime.

Later reports on the Continental No. 1 Clayton-Johnson, 660 feet from the south and east lines of section 34, block 32, township 4 north, T. & P. Railway survey, Borden county, are that it is drilling in salt at a depth of 1800 feet. The salt wa stopped at 1060 feet.

Says No. 1 Howe, 2310 feet from the south line and 330 feet from the west line of section 12, block 26, public school land survey, Winkler county, is trying to jar tools which were blown 1200 feet up in the hole when 6,000,000 to 7,000,000 cubic feet of gas were encountered at 2635 feet. Top of the lime was at 2470 feet, which is about 225 feet higher than the Wahlenmaier No. 1 Leak in section 2, 1-2 miles to the northwest. The Wahlenmaier well is a 50 barrel producer.

Gulf No. 103 McElroy, much discussed deep test, is now being waited for cement to set. 7 5-8 inch casing was run several days ago to a depth of 10,301 feet.

The allowable on the three wells in the Fuhman pool in Andrews county has been raised from 176 to 333 barrels. The wells have a combined potential of 913 barrels.

J. P. Cusack, who will be remembered by friends from the time spent here previously, is considering making Midland his headquarters for independent operations. He was more recently head of the Kansas division of the Skelly company.

LOANS AVAILABLE TO REPAIR HOMES

Advices were received today by Clinton Myrick, appraiser, and George W. Dunaway, attorney, that loans are available in this county for home reconiditioning under the Home Owners' Loan corporation's broadened powers.

The act of April 27, 1934, enacted by congress made available loans for repairing, remodeling and modernizing to the following groups, the local officials said: (1) those who have already secured loans from the corporation; (2) those who are eligible to have their mortgages taken over by the corporation; and (3) those who own their homes clear of any mortgages, but only if they cannot get reconiditioning loans locally. The money borrowed not being used to pay mortgages. Complete details may be secured from Myrick or Dunaway, it was announced.

cellor, will be. The price, at first reported in charge of the ministers not captured by the nazis, later was found to be in Vienna. He was expected in Vienna tonight.

Whether the naming of Schuschnigg was a temporary affair was the subject of speculation. Von Starhemberg, a leader of the Heimwehr is in a strong position.

During the negotiations between the nazis holding the chancellor and some 160 prisoners—they captured numerous civil servants as well as Fey, Dollfuss and Karl Karwinsky, underscretary of security—the name of Anton Rintelen, minister to Rome, was mentioned.

Rintelen, who despite nazi leanings was able to maintain a place with the Dollfuss government, is another enigmatic figure in the affair.

"We have agreed on Rintelen," said Fey as he stood on the balcony of the captured and barricaded government building and talked to Odo Sautradeter-Sturm, minister of social welfare, acting as negotiator for the government.

Whether he was wanted as a guarantee of safety for the nazis or as a new head of the government was not made clear. It had been reported earlier that he was to succeed Dollfuss.

The whole episode was replete with unprecedented situations. Rebels, members of an outlawed party, had invaded the very headquarters of the government itself, killed the head of the government, who a few hours before had been threatening to hang them for terrorism, and captured everybody in sight.

Earlier another group of nazis had captured the government radio station and held it long enough to broadcast an announcement that Dollfuss had resigned and that Rintelen was head of the government.

The army and the Heimwehr, representing the power of the government, deployed in the square before the building, ordering the greatly outnumbered and comparatively poorly equipped rebels to surrender. They threatened to attack if they did not.

Fey, loyal government man, came to the balcony accompanied by two nazi guards, who apparently were holding revolvers to his back, and negotiated for the release and safe transit to a foreign country for the men who killed his chief.

Against the threats of the Heimwehr and the army the Nazis threatened death to Fey and the other prisoners unless they were allowed to go to Germany.

The extent to which the Nazis longed for to start a "putsch" against the government they have been harassing with bombs and incendiarism—prepared for the coming of the day when they would be responsible for the outbreak.

It was clear, however, that there must have been some general understanding, since fighting broke out in Styria, where the Nazis were reported to have seized several towns in which they have many sympathizers.

After his release Fey made a radio speech in which he said Dollfuss was shot in a separate room from the apartments in which the other cabinet members were confined.

The Nazis, he said, gave him and his companions an opportunity to see the wounded chancellor, who in his dying condition begged that his family be taken care of, and expressed the belief that bloodshed could be avoided in Austria.

The next time he saw Dollfuss the chancellor was dead, Fey said. The body lay in his office at 9 p. m.

(Dollfuss' family, composed of Frau Dollfuss and two children, was in Riccione, Italy. The wife was prostrated with grief when she learned that he had been slain.

The family was vacationing with that of Premier Mussolini of Italy and Dollfuss himself had an engagement to see Mussolini later this week to talk about the future of his nation.)
