HISTORIC FINALE

When Secretary of the Navy Swanson recently signed an order directing the scrapping of 17 over-age destroyers, he closed the careers of some rather historic vessels.

For among these 17 obsolete warships were five which once played a spectacular role. They were the first American fighting ships to enter the European war zone, and play an active part in it, after the United States declared war on Germany.

This country had been in the war only a few weeks when that little destroyer flotilla reached an English port. They were the first visible, tangible sign of American participation in the conflict; as such, they bore significance infinitely greater than that of any other ships in our whole navy.

And now they're going out of existence—the destroyers Conygham, Porter, McDougal, Wainwright and Davis. Their passing is a reminder of a historic event.

SHE SET AN EXAMPLE

It is hard to think of any other person in the films whose final illness would have caused as much genuine sorrow throughout the country as has that of Marie Dressler. And in that fact there is a little object lesson for the moguls of Hollywood.

Miss Dressler won the love of the country for various reasons. She was a first-rate actress, for one thing. None of her pictures ever skated over to the edge of the salacious; when you saw a Marie Dressler film advertised, you knew in advance that you could go without seeing anything to make you blush.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything with taking a stand on anything).

He immediately moved to town and started in. He painted the town red inside and out for about six months and then when his money was gone he moved back to the country. About 10 or 15 years later he was notified that another relative had died and had left him another $20,000. A lawyer drove out and told him the news.

The old country boy engaged in deep thought. "I don't think I can accept it," he finally said.

"Why?" the lawyer asked. "I'm not as strong as I once was," he explained, "and I doubt if I could go through all that again and live."

An old story is about the end of the Civil war. It was just about the time Grant was taking Richmond and a Confederate soldier was limping along the road. He was so thin and worn that he could hardly walk. His shoes were all out at the bottom and he stopped at a creek to bathe his bleeding feet. A Union skirmisher, fat and well-fed, all decked out in a brand new uniform, stepped from behind a tree and pointed a musket at the Southerner. "Now, I've got you," he said. "Yes," drawled the old rebel boy, "and it's a hell of a git you got."

A Scotchman was complaining because the street car company had reduced its fare from 10 cents to 5 cents. "These big public utility companies are sure making it hard on thrifty folks," he said. "Now when I walk to town all I save is a nickel!"

It was on Sunday morning and an old country boy was just wandering around a big city looking at the tall buildings. He was there on a visit. And a man who also was a visitor in the city stopped him. "Can you tell me where the Second Presbyterian church is?" he asked.

"Mister," replied the old country boy, "I don't even know where the first one is."

KNEE-ACTION RIDE

Look back down the years. Think of the biggest strides motoring has taken. The self-starter—saving drivers from the drudgery of cranking. The sliding gear transmission—making it easier to learn to drive, easier to keep on driving. The safety gas tank—located out of harm's way, and as far from the driver as possible. The streamlined car—a thing of beauty, a practical advantage for speed and fuel saving. No Draft Ventilation—the first basic body improvement since the invention of the closed car. Now think of the greatest motoring advancement of 1934—one of the greatest of all time—Knee-Action. Chevrolet pioneered them all in the low-price field. And, with the exception of Knee-Action, Chevrolet has forced all other low-priced cars to adopt them too. Knee-Action will be next. Nobody who pays the price of a Knee-Action car will long be satisfied to get anything less than Chevrolet's wonderfully smooth and easy Knee-Action ride. Prove it with a ride, then compare Chevrolet's low prices—the lowest ever placed on cars of this size, quality and equipment.

Midland Women, County Agent and Home Demonstration Agent off to Farmers' Short Course Held at A. and M. College

The twenty-fifth annual Farmers' short course will bring to men and women, boys and girls a practical knowledge of subjects needed to make a farm a happy and profitable place in which to live. A balanced program of work and fun has been arranged. The daily schedule, beginning Monday and continuing through Aug. 3, stresses actual practice in nearly every phase of home making, crop and livestock production and manufacture and grading of many products.

Inspirational meetings will be held for men and women each morning from 8 to 9 o'clock in the assembly hall. Among the important speakers secured for these programs are Bishop Clinton S. Quinn of Houston, Dean E. J. Kyle, Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston, Dr. C. Hardy, president of Baylor college, Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, vice-chairman of the state board of education, O. H. Benson, national director of rural scouting, A. C. Williams, general agent of the farm credit administration, C. A. Cobb, chief of cotton section AAA, Marvin Jones, chairman of the agricultural committee of the house of representatives, and W. L. Clayton, head of Anderson Clayton company.

A big feature of the short course is made up by certain special courses which are held in addition to the regular schedule. These have a limited enrollment.

County agents will meet Tuesday morning by districts and home demonstration agents will meet Tuesday afternoon. The home demonstration agents will also meet Wednesday and Thursday mornings.

Women from Midland will take courses in grape juice making, tufted bed spread making, propagation of roses, practice in home making of spray materials, "Pepping Up the Clubs," "Dining In," "Outing, grading corn, grading and handling of eggs, "A Poet Looks at Home-making," essentials of farm sanitation, practice in budding and grafting actual counting, picking and drawing of poultry, "Causes of Tomato Wilt," "Pictures for Your Home." They will attend the wardrobe demonstration contest, "My New Bedroom," Texas Home Demonstration association, meeting of girls' club sponsors and will inspect all products made at the various centers during the week, including leather, woolen and wooden goods, grape juice, cheese, mattresses, ropes, baskets, comforts, rugs, chairs, chair sulting and tile.

Entertainment in the evenings will be varied. Women will attend a tea on President Walton's lawn Friday afternoon. Each night from 6:30 to 7:30 a vesper service will be held. After these entertainments will range from a tour of A. and M. buildings with departments furnishing entertainment and a show at the stadium, two band concerts and community singing. The entertainment has been so arranged that it may be duplicated in rural communities.

Attending from Midland are Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hallman, Mr. S. A. Debnam, Mmes. S. E. Gee, George Stewart, J. D. Bartlett, Floyd Counsell, Jr., Henry Lookler, Leonard Hallman, S. H. Gwyn, S. J. Wimberly and Palmer, Evans, Misses Miller, Helen Lee Stewart, Maxine Belle and Edythe Bizzell.

Church Women to Meet Monday in Joint Session

To bring church women of Midland into a closer relationship, the Baptist Women's Missionary society will entertain members of other Midland churches at 3:30 Monday afternoon at the Baptist church auditorium.

Mrs. H. B. Dunagan, society president, will preside. An interesting and inspirational program has been arranged.

Women from the Catholic, Episcopal, Church of Christ, Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian churches will attend the joint meeting, the second of its kind to be held in Midland.

County Club Girls Select Projects

Wardrobe demonstrators who have enrolled for 1934-35 are Pearl Wilson of Warfield, Dorothy Brunson of Valley View, Nihil Lee Stanley of Prairie Lee, Imogene Head of Stokes, Mrs. Stewart of Pleasant Valley and Hazel Pearcey of McClintic.

Wardrobes were planned by Warfield club girls, with an estimated expenditures varying from $10 to $20.

Doll, Model Shows Held Next Saturday

The Doll show sponsored by the Midland county library will be held Saturday, August 4, in the children's room at the library. Dolls may be brought to the library any time this week. The children's room is open from 2:30 until 5:00 daily, and the exhibits may be viewed then.

Any one may enter dolls and prizes will be given for the following: oldest doll, next to the oldest, largest doll, next to the largest, smallest doll, next to the smallest, most unusual doll, sweetest, cutest, prettiest dolls; best family or collection of small dolls; oddest, hand-dressed, best dressed dolls; the most old-fashioned doll; the cleverest rag doll; the neatest, cleanest, most life-like, most lovable dolls; and others. Any kind of doll may be entered.

The dolls should be brought to the library before closing time Friday.

Boys are reminded again of the model show to take place also on Saturday.

Miss Wilson Speaks To Busy Bee Club

Miss M. Elizabeth Wilson, county health nurse, addressed the Busy Bee club Friday afternoon on new health findings. The meeting was held at the Howard Pool home.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. R. O. Brooks, P. P. Barber, S. H. Gwyn, O. N. Tyner, Jim Huddle, Ira Lord and Kaywood of Houston, Miss Wilson and the hostess.

Unemployed Girls Have a Chance to Enroll in School

Any unemployed women or girls in Midland between the ages of 18 and 30 who might be interested in going to school free in El Paso can learn details from the Midland chamber of commerce.

Only 60 from all this area of West Texas will be accepted and the chances for getting in the school are not great, officials said, but a communication from El Paso offers the opportunity to Midland women and says that part of the traveling expenses might even be paid.

New educational opportunities for women having leisure through unemployment will be provided by the workers educational bureau of the FERA.

The bureau will be under direction of Miss Hilda W. Smith at Washington.

The El Paso school will be sponsored by and quartered at the Y. W. C. A. where the students will be housed and classes held.

The school begins Aug. 1 and will last two months. If there is enough demand another school of two months duration will be held at the conclusion of the first one.

The objectives of the school are: To provide training for these women in clear thinking through the study of those questions closely related to their daily lives as workers and citizens.

That they may improve in their chosen fields of action.

That they may secure the advantages of study, of discussion and of association with those equally interested in the economic problems of our times and with seeking to find a solution for them.

In short, a school is being provided where the unemployed woman may enjoy all the cultural advantages that her more fortunate sister, financially, is enjoying.

After the courses are completed the Y. W. C. A. will try to secure employment for the women.

Miss Smith in Charge.

The resident educational school was granted by Miss Smith to El Paso and surrounding territory. Good who some food will be provided and recreational activities arranged. Every effort will be made not only to provide opportunity for study, but for companionship and enjoyment as well.

The curriculum is to be as varied as the interests and needs of the students require. The focus of instruction will be current industrial and social problems of daily concern to workers, and the relating of the subject matter to their own experiences. Among the suggested subjects are the social sciences, science, public speaking, personality, English letter-writing, health hygiene with a nurse in attendance to give instruction in the care of the human body.

Interest Shown In Balloon Race

A great deal of interest has been shown in the Balloon race sponsored by the Midland county library for the boys and girls who frequent the Children's room. As soon as a child reads a book on the list, or approved by the librarian, he will be given a gayly colored paper balloon with his name and the number of the route he has chosen on it. For each book he reads his balloon will be moved forward a space in the sky above the city silhouetted on the bulletin board. The one who reads the required number of twelve books first will win the race. Picture books and books that are too easy will not be counted.

FISH HEAD PUZZLED OHIOANS

CLEVELAND, (U.P.)—Lake Erie, as far as snake-wise observers know, has no sea serpents, but the finding of a huge fish's head on an east side beach here has been causing plenty of head-scratching. The head, found alone, by a 12-year-old boy, weighed 35 pounds. Its general formation and color led observers to believe it could have belonged to some sort of shark.

"WATER WITCH" ACTIVE

BEREA, O. (U.P.)—The "water witch," with his peach wood divining rod, has returned to the Greater Cleveland area for the first time in years. The "water witch" told A. M. Menke to drill at a certain spot for water 12 feet below the surface. Menke found water there, as directed, but only after drilling a 90-foot shaft.

THE ANSWER TO SUBSTITUTION IS ALWAYS "NO"

"MORE FOR YOUR MONEY"...but MORE WHAT?

How can any shopper know what she is getting when she accepts untried, unadvertised products?

She can't!

In appearance, these substitutes may imitate products of recognized quality.

But quality goes deeper than a pretty label!

You may be told the imitation package "holds a little more" for the money.

Usually, it holds little more than disappointment!

Such substitutes are urged upon unsuspecting shoppers for just one reason.

There is more profit in selling them.

The merchant who tells you these imitations are "just as good" as brands you know, and commands his clerks to do likewise, is looking only at today's sales slips. Not at tomorrow's loyal patronage.

When a product is sold cheaper than one of recognized quality, you may be sure it is made cheaper. Then how can it be "just as good?"

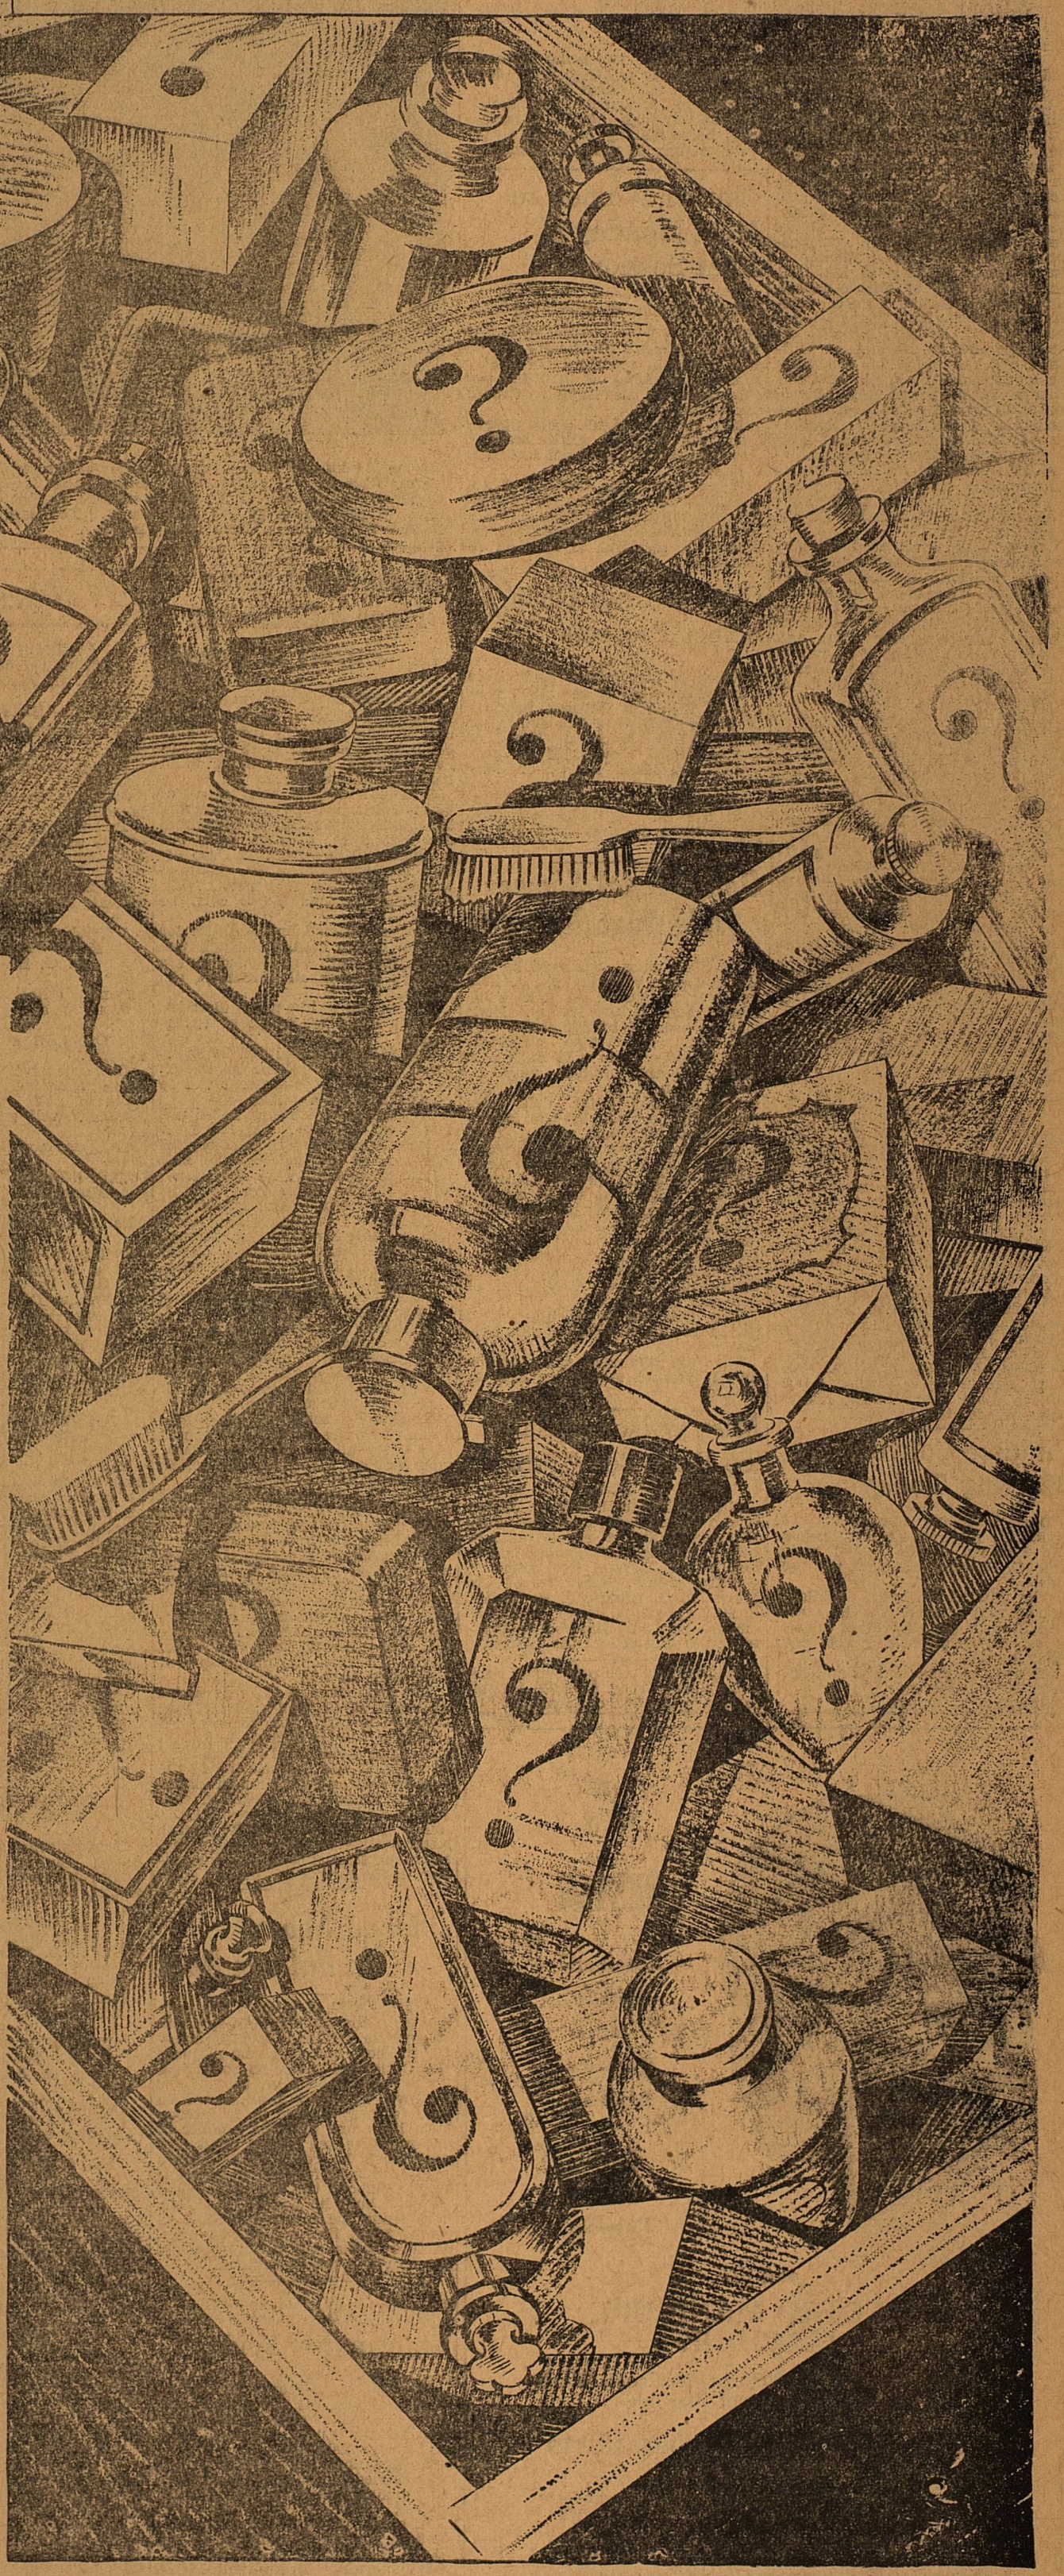

Honest value is a product's only inlet to the advertising columns of this newspaper.

The packaged merchandise which you read of here has a reputation at stake.

It must make good to hold your confidence, and ours. False claims would be fatal.

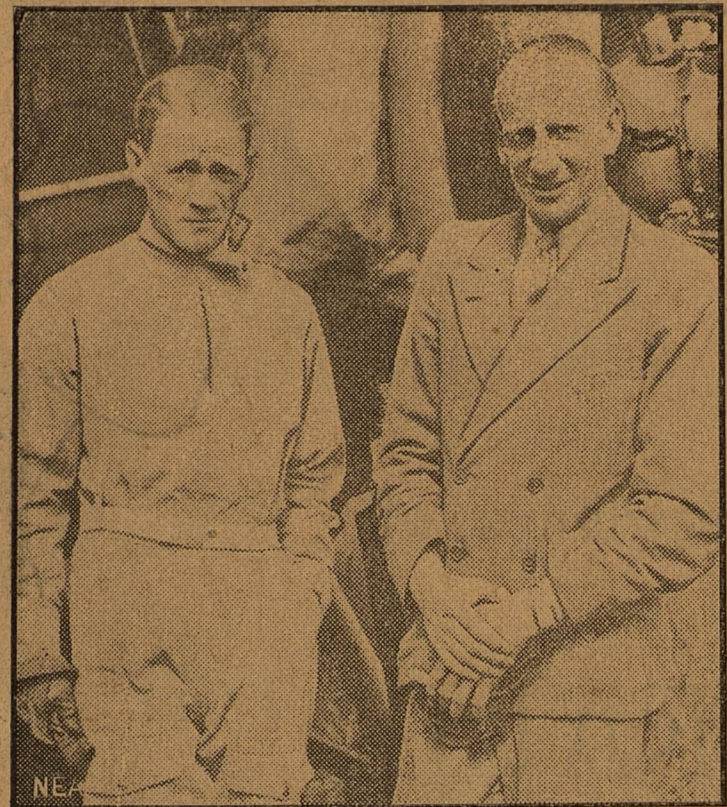

Whenever you shop, ask for these standard, advertised brands. And get them. Always be warned by the words "just as good" that there is something better.

Let the names you know guide you to constant quality. To definite purity. To honest weight. To good products that give full value in return for the money you spend!

TWO POINTS OUT OF A POSSIBLE 32 WILL WIN SAND BELT FOR MIDLAND

Midland wins the championship of the Sand Belt Golf association at Stanton this afternoon one of two ways. 1. If any Midland player wins an individual match, counting two points. 2. If any Big Spring player loses an individual match. Big Spring can tie the championship only one way. By winning every point in her last two matches while Midland is losing every point. The championship will be decided, in other words, when the first Midland fairway bombardier sheathes his putter and starts for the clubhouse, or in Stanton's case, the nearest shade. It is the greatest upset ever turned in in the life of the Sand Belt. Midland is in first place with 22 points. Big Spring in second with 17. A casual checkup of the records shows that Don Sivals and Elliot Miller have contributed most of the individual points to the Midland aggregate, each having won all his individual matches except one. Miller is first in individual scoring with 25 out of a possible total of 32 points. Sivals second with 26 points. Miller will miss today's match, however, thus giving Sivals

Six Phillips Oil Co. Employees Here

Six new employees of the Phillips Petroleum company moved to Midland last week from Shawnee, Okla., San Antonio and San Angelo. E. E. Payne the seventh employe of Phillips' zone office was already living here. The personnel here are David C. Hensell—Shawnee head of the land department; Paul Schlosser, San Angelo, district geologist; R. E. McClung, San Angelo, land man; A. L. Hornaday, San Angelo, geologist; Frank Beck, San Angelo, sample man; Mrs. Edna Liddell, San Angelo, stenographer.

It Is News When Machinery Bought

Earl Cunningham, superintendent of the Oil Well Drilling company, with main Permian basin offices in Midland, bought a new rotary drilling outfit a few days ago to be used in the Lea county, N. M., field. Four years ago a simple statement about the purchase of a new land well drilling outfit wouldn't have been news. But this is the first new drilling machinery bought in southeastern New Mexico in four years. The significance of this story is that all the black that resulted when the East Texas field came in, has been taken up. The oil development industry in the Permian basin is again approaching normalcy, purchases of new machinery indicates.

Black Colts to Play Tahoka Club at 3:30

Midland Black Colts will play their second game with Tahoka here Sunday afternoon at 3:30 at Municipal park. The Midland team recently beat the Tahoka club, stretching their season's winning to 16, having lost only two games.

'Uncle Rich' Driver Dies in Mo. Clinic

Death in a Savannah, Mo. hospital Wednesday, of R. M. (Uncle Rich) Driver, 74, was learned Saturday morning by Midland relatives. Funeral rites will be read sometime Monday, arrangements not having been completed early Saturday afternoon. The aged resident, who moved to Midland in 1907 and worked several years as a carpenter contractor, had been suffering from cancer for several months. He left for Missouri hospital July 20, and his condition continued to be serious to the time of his death. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Jack Eppe of Donie, Texas, and Mrs. F. C. Collins of Teague, Texas; a brother, L. A. Driver of Brownville, Texas; two nephews, G. C. and S. L. Driver of Midland; a niece, Mrs. V. H. Heideberg of Midland, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. W. B. Driver, in whose home north of the country club he lived the past two years.

Cheap Money Rates For Home Repairs

Midland people can borrow enough money to make repairs to their houses and have to pay back, both principal and interest, at the rate of less than $2 per month. Or they can borrow as much as $1,000 and pay it back at the rate of $7.91 per month, which includes both principal and interest. The interest rate is only 5 per cent. Midlanders interested in painting, papering, re-flooring, or otherwise repairing their houses; or those who wish to build a bath room, enlarge a porch, stop leaky roofs, wire their houses for electricity, and do scores of other things to improve their houses, can borrow money from the Home Owners' Loan corporation. They can get all needed data from Clint Myrick or George W. Dunaway. These cheap loans present an extraordinary opportunity for people to repair or modernize their houses at a low cost on easy payments.

SUPT. LACKEY IS BACK FROM MEET

Supt. W. W. Lackey has returned from a three-day curriculum conference at Austin, at which school administrators, supervisors and curriculum workers from all parts of Texas and from many schools, colleges, and universities of the nation were present. The conference was sponsored by the University of Texas at the request of the executive committee of the Texas state curriculum revision program. Twenty speakers, each an expert and a recognized authority in his field, appeared on the program. Three sessions were held each day, from 10 to 12 on the morning from 2 to 4 in the afternoon, and from 8 to 10 in the evening, all sessions being held in the $300,000 Hogg memorial auditorium on the main campus of the university. Some of the themes included in the program were: The need for revision of what should be done in the elementary school, the organization of instruction, what should be done on the high school, problems of integration and the Texas program of curriculum revision. Professional books acquired by the Midland superintendent, books which cover four courses in the University of Texas in curriculum, and which bear on topics of the conference include the following: Curriculum Principles and Practices by Hopkins; The Cultural, Social and Psychological Determinants of Curriculum Making by Ayer. The Twenty-Third Year Book of the N.E.A., including The Foundations and Technique of Curriculum-Making. The Thirty-Third Year Book of the N.E.A., including The Activity Movement. The Psychology of Exceptional Children by Scheidemann. Organization and Administration of the Secondary School by Douglass. Administration of Pupil Personnel by Heck. The Individual Pupil by Mort. Intelligence Testing: Methods and Results by Pintner. The Use and Interpretation of Educational Tests by Greene and Jorgensen. Two famous out-of-state lecturers on the program were: Dr. H. L. Caswell, professor of elementary education, George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tennessee, curriculum consultant for Arkansas, Florida, Virginia, and Dr. Carleton Washburne, superintendent Winnetka public schools, Winnetka, Ill., who was granted a year's leave of absence by his board of education to go abroad to make a comprehensive study of educational programs of foreign nations. Due to a conflict in dates the Mid-

RIG BUILDERS ON SUB-REGION BOARD

Five West Texas rig contractors were placed on the sub-regional practices committee at a meeting held in Midland following the return of P. O. Sill, Midland and Joe Seabour, Odessa, delegates to the national meeting in Tulsa. The five are: Roy Simmons, Hobbs; Andrew Poteet, McCamey; Joe Stubbfield, Breckenridge; C. E. Steele, Wink, and A. W. Thomas, Midland. The association with headquarters at Midland includes all of New Mexico and the territory in Texas from Fort Worth to El Paso and from San Antonio to Lubbock. Rig building contractors whose names have not been enrolled on the membership roster have been asked by President A. W. Thomas to send their names to Secretary B. F. Robbins, Big Spring. Delegates to the Tulsa meeting say all work will be done according to an accepted code.

SILL ON IMPORTANT REGIONAL COMMITTEE

P. O. Sill, rig contractor of Midland man is a member of a regional committee of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and New Mexico, at the national meeting of rig builders in Tulsa recently. The committee of which the Midland man is a member is a regional practice committee which is to deal with wage scales, contract prices, working hours and other matters affecting the rig contracting business. Sill with Joe Seabour of Odessa, was sent by the West Texas Rig Builders association, formed recently in Midland, to Tulsa as delegates to represent West Texas and New Mexico.

YOUNG MEN LEAD IN CRIME

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A majority of the major crimes against life and property are committed by boys and young men, the annual report of the Criminal Justice association reveals. Based on statistics for 1933, the report shows that the average for those arrested for burglary is 21; for robbery, 23; for larceny, 26; while 15 per cent of the total arrests for burglary were of boys under 16.

DOG EARNED LICENSE FEE

BLYTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Bill Heim's dog paid its own license conference at Austin, at which school administrators, supervisors and curriculum workers from all parts of Texas and from many schools, colleges, and universities of the nation were present. The conference was sponsored by the University of Texas at the request of the executive committee of the Texas state curriculum revision program. Twenty speakers, each an expert and a recognized authority in his field, appeared on the program.

ROBBED AT SWIMMING HOLE

COLLEGEVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Was his face red! Edward Galley of Landsdale went to a picnic party near here. He took a dip in the old swimming hole, but, upon emerging, discovered someone had ransacked his automobile of all his personal equipment. He was forced to walk home attired in nothing more than swimming trunks.

LOW WATER TRUITS

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (AP)—Plymouth, where the Pilgrims landed, is losing business because of a lack of water, despite the fact that the ocean is at its front door. The channel leading to the town pier is not deep enough to allow large steamers to land, and special excursion trips have been turned down on that account. The town is expected to authorize such dredging of the channel as may be necessary to permit boats of deep draft to bring parties here from Boston.

MARRIAGES INCREASE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburghers either have more money in their pockets, or are becoming more loving. Books at the marriage license bureau show: 1,386 marriage licenses issued during June, only 83 less than in the same month of boom year of 1929; 858 in the same month of 1932; licenses issued in June of 1933 and Charles Hendrickson, veteran clerk, explains: "It's love and money."

Solatario Ores Assay $56 a Ton

Davis mountain silver and gold ore assayed $56 per ton on the first taken this year from the Solatario mine, 38 miles southeast of Casa Piedra, in the Big Bend area, proving a profitable venture, and is among the few paying gold and silver mines in Texas, records show.

Dennis Hughes Badly Burned

Severely burned when an engine in a pumping station of the Tidal University lease, Crane county backfired and ignited a tank of gasoline, Dennis Hughes of Midland is recovering in a Midland hospital. His clothing was burned from his body and he was severely injured on the hands and right leg, and received third degree burns on the back. Hughes, a truck driver for Magnolia, had been substituting in the pump station while another employe was on vacation.

Fannin Transferred B'Spring to Abilene

Cam L. Fannin, former Midland man, deputy internal revenue collector, will be transferred Aug. 1 from Big Spring to Abilene. He and H. C. Broadus, a deputy at Big Spring, will have offices in the Federal building at Abilene. Midland county is still in their district and Fannin will come to Midland occasionally. He and Mrs. Fannin were here Saturday to vote.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Ross returned to their home at Royce City Saturday after visiting here with their son and daughter-in-law, M. and Mrs. Alf Rea.

But It's Midland Co., Mich., Folks

Midland county has plenty of oil! But it's Midland county, Michigan! Following is a clipping from the Tulsa Tribune regarding oil in Midland county, Michigan: The first commercial oil well in Michigan was drilled in 1924 in the Saginaw town lot pool, but it soon layed out. Hunt said. There later was a hot play in the Muskegon area, with wells being drilled within 30 or 40 yards of each other, but that field was soon sucked dry. In December, 1928, activity began in Midland county, the origin of the central Michigan pool. Porter pool of Midland county was discovered in February, 1933, and since then some 250 wells have been drilled in the area, and about 6,000,000 barrels of oil taken from the ground. Some of the wells in the area have had potentials as high as 25,000 barrels, and some have produced 400,000 barrels and are still flowing. "Michigan producers are operating on very restricted withdrawals," Hunt said. "We now have a 75-barrel flat allowable with 5 per cent over that minimum. Previously the 5 per cent was allowed on potentials over 100 barrels."

Sewing Machines Needed in Midland

Five sewing machines are needed in the push to help clothe needy Midland people. Any public spirited person who will lend a pedal or electric sewing machine for the sewing room to be open August 6 under general direction of Miss Myrtle Miller, home demonstration agent, is asked to take the machine to the relief office in the Midland hotel building on East Wall street. The machines will be operated by competent seamstresses with relief funds. Garments will be made for the needy. Donation of machines will be "Good Samaritan" acts, relief workers say. The machines will be taken care of and may be had back by their owners at any time they wish.

CITY GETS PUBLICITY

Publicity from Midland on the oil industry is now receiving probably the best "play" since Midland became the Permian basin headquarters. Dal Dalrymple, new oil auditor of the Tulsa-Tribune, ran four Midland stories in Sunday's issue. The news is supplied by the Midland chamber of commerce office, which also sends a weekly batch of oil news to 10 other large dailies.
