'BLOOD PURGE' ADDING VICTIMS

MAURY HUGHES TO SPEAK HERE AT 3

Maury Hughes of Dallas, candidate for governor will address Midland voters at 4:30 this afternoon at the courthouse.

Hughes is among the prominent political leaders of Texas, having served as chairman of the democratic executive committee. He is recognized as an exceptionally eloquent speaker and his friends here hope he will be given a large hearing today.

The Dallas man has been making vigorous speeches in behalf of his candidacy, and drawing good crowds in East and South Texas.

WADLEY'S SALE STARTS FRIDAY

The semi-annual clearance sale at Wadley's will begin this Friday at 7:30 a. m.

This clearance sale has become an institution of West Texas and is looked forward to by people all over this section and Eastern New Mexico.

Addison Wadley, proprietor is trying an unique opening hour, which is 7:30 o'clock Friday morning. He maintains that shoppers prefer the cool of the morning for a sale opening instead of waiting outside in the sun until the middle of the morning.

Due to local conditions, the clearance sale is being held two weeks earlier than usual, and according to Wadley "there are real bargains all over the house which will mean substantial savings for those who buy."

The store will be closed all day Thursday preparing for the sale.

Midland Boy Gets Arm Broken Sunday

Joe Wimshay Haygood, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Haygood, 1023 W. College street, suffered a broken arm Sunday when standing on the running board of his father's automobile as it was backed out of the Humble station on West Wall. He became wedged between the car and a post.

Game at 5 This Afternoon To Draw Great Attendance

Midland will look like the "Deserted Village" at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Nearly everybody will be out rooting for Midland to defeat San Angelo in the ball game at Municipal park.

The game was scheduled for 5 p. m. so that clerks, stenographers, laborers and others working under NRA rules will be off in time to see the contest.

The game only costs a quarter and that includes a grandstand seat. Midland and San Angelo being rival oil towns, the game today is expected to draw many oil men, some of whom formerly lived in the City of the Conchos.

Some stores are planning to remain open until their regular closing time, but they will keep only enough clerks to handle business, permitting all they can possibly spare to get off for the game.

Cecil Roberts Took Horse to Sponsor

The Reporter-Telegram erred Monday in saying J. C. Roberts carried a horse to the Stamford Cowboy reunion for Midland's sponsor, Miss Mollie B. Bagley, to ride.

It was Cecil Roberts who made delivery of Fred Turner's roping horse, "Chigger."

J. C. Roberts, candidate for commissioner of Precinct 1, attended the reunion, and said the crowd was possibly greater than in years past.

Tests Reveal Plane Ride Valuable to Cure Colds

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Beneficial effects of airplane riding on common colds and "sniffles" often have been attested to by pilots, so Dr. Holton Carlson, Chicago physician, conducted a series of 50 tests to get the low down.

"Pilots, stewardesses and other travelers of the air lines," says Dr. Carlson, "have believed that a high flight would cure a cold. We made observations and tests among passengers and found some 50 of them who left Chicago with 'colds' in various stages, from the 'sniffles' on, who arrived at the Newark, N. J. airport with their colds entirely gone."

Irate Hitchhiker Taken In Fence-Building Race

BEND, Ore. (U.P.)—Fred Ott, hitchhiker who showed remarkable patience in attempting to get a ride, got 30 days in jail instead.

Angered because motorists passed him by, Ott carried rocks and built a barricade across the Dallas-California highway near here. Highway Engineer George Soltman arrived and began to clear the road.

Ott piled rocks back on as fast as Soltman removed them, until the sheriff stopped the contest.

SAVED PROSPECTOR

TONOPAH, Nev. (U.P.)—C. R. Terrell, editor of the Tonopah Times-Boanaza, is the authority for the statement that a hot spring in Long Valley, near Bishop, Cal., saved the life of a prospector lost in a winter blizzard.

Terrell said the prospector stood 16 hours in the hot water while snow and cold winds blew overhead before rescuers found him. The editors' edition of the incident occurred 17 years ago.

Chinese Pagodas, Temples and Incense Stir Fancy of Sailor Boy from Midland

A sailor in China doesn't need an eye-opener when he awakens in the morning judging from the following account of a visit to Soochow by Herbert L. Woods, Midland boy who recently was rescued from the ocean when the U. S. S. Fulton went down off Shanghai.

Soochow, China, is a city of 700,000 people and is 60 miles from Shanghai, on the Shanghai Nanking railway, the trip takes about two hours by train. The city has been given the name "The Venice of the Far East," because of the many canals that intersect within the city. It is one of the oldest and most famous cities in China, and the admiration of the Chinese for the place is expressed by the familiar saying "Heaven above and Soochow and Hangchow below."

The history of the city covers more than two thousand four hundred years. 225 B. C., Prince Ho Lu ordered the city to be built for him to serve as his capital. The city was to have eight water gates like Heaven, and to be square like the earth. The wall of the city is 15 miles long, 28 feet in height with battlements rising above to the height of another six feet, and is 18 feet thick. A moat 100 yards wide surrounds the city, and is now a part of the canal system. Boats enter the canal through water gates. Within the walls are 300 streets, and many small canals, which are crossed by over 200 stone bridges. It is said that China has more boats than all the rest of the world combined. When we see the large number in use in Soochow, we can believe that this statement is true. Soochow is on the Grand canal which extends from Hangchow to Peking, and is evidence of the advanced state of China at a time when Europe was peopled with barbarous thieves. There are seven pagodas in and around the city.

In addition to its fame as a birthplace of many scholars, Soochow is also widely known in China as the birthplace of the famous sing-song girls. Soochow women are noted for their beauty and the pleasing softness of their dialect. Soochow remains an important center for silk industry. Merchants from all over China come to the markets of Soochow to buy from the hundreds of different kinds of silks and gazes.

One of the most interesting things I saw was Liu Yuan (Mr. Liu's garden). This garden is the most famous in Soochow, and its trees, ancient rocks, pagodas, pavilions, rockeries, and pools are an interesting sight. This garden was owned by a railway millionaire, Mr. Shang whose heirs have kept it open to the public. It has no less than 60 rooms and 12 separate small gardens.

We then traveled by ricksha to Si Yuan of Westgarden. Here we found a magnificent monastery and temple in which are to be found the 500 Gilded Lohan and the 1000 Haired Goddess of Mercy. Its ponds, bridges and trees are an example of the best in China. One can see the native people praying as they kneel in front of their favorite God, after which they place a few sticks of burning incense in a box.

At the time I visited the temple there were at least 100 of these different Buddas, who visited within a short time, as musk was burning from the incense box. This made the odor very strong and made a burning sensation in the eyes. "The 1000 Haired Goddess of Mercy is a sight never to be forgotten. We went next to "Tiger Hill." The pagoda on this hill was built about 600 A. D., and has been leaning for many hundred years. History says 600,000 men were required to prepare the grave and to bury the first king, Ho Lu, on this hill. Sword pool is where a brave warrior whetted his sword to kill a large white tiger which had appeared on the hill to rob the king's grave three nights after the burial. Hence the name "Tiger Hill." "Thousand Men rock" is beside the pool and is supposed to support that number of men at one time. "The Nodding rock" nearby is supposed to have nodded approval of an historical talk.

We next descended down the rock pathway about nine blocks to where our rickshas were waiting to carry us to the next wonder "Beardless temple," erected about 800 years ago, although some say it is very much older. Its entire construction is of stone and brick, the walls being 10 feet thick, made of large brightly polished bricks. It was made as a fire-proof archive for the sacred books of Buddhism. HUNDREDS ARE SHOT DOWN AS COUP REACTION

Grim Silence Greeted Promise to Give List of Dead

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Copyright, 1934, By Ass'd Press

BERLIN, July 3.—Hundreds of persons have been summarily executed for their eyes and faces, ruthlessly suppression of revolts in name, a reliable source stated Monday night, as the full significance of the party's "blood purge" became more evident.

Short "Trials"

More than 60 persons were shot down in Berlin alone, said this authority, indicating that previous reports that only a score or so fell were far short of the real facts.

The government, which has been promising an "authentic" list of those executed, Monday night again postponed giving it out when it had been expected.

Those executed were given a three-minute trial before three judges, an eyewitness, who obviously was a member of the Hitler squad of eight, revealed last night.

The "traitors" executed in this man's presence all refused bandages for their eyes and faces, and one of them with the cry of "Heil Hitler, Heil Germany."

Secure thus far in his position, to which he waded through this ocean of blood, Hitler prepared to consolidate himself and his colleagues by forcing from power the mainstay of the conservatives, Vice Chancellor Von Papen.

An authoritative source said that Von Papen, a staunch friend of President Von Hindenburg, a devout Catholic and a critic of many Nazi policies, will go out of office today.

Present plans, said this informant, call for elevation to the vice chancellorship of Herman Wilhelm Goerring, Prussian premier and co-purser with Hitler, in Saturday's suppression of "traitors."

The president of the reich warned Von Papen must not be harmed.

The Nazi solidarity president, regarded 24 hours ago as a sick old man, exposed his iron hand to the strife-torn nation by making the reichswehr (regular army) directly responsible for the sad fate of his friend and protege, Von Papen.

Not long after this became known a spokesman for the propaganda ministry stated that it has been definitely established that the vice chancellor had no connection with the attempted rebellion which led to executions.

INDUSTRIALISTS VISIT FAIR

NEW YORK (U.P.)—A party of 20 German manufacturers have arrived here en route to the Century of Progress at Chicago. The trip has been organized by the Leipzig Trade Fair, long visited by American business men to establish and develop closer business relations between the United States and Germany. The German industrialists will visit Niagara Falls, Detroit en route to Chicago and on their return will stop at Washington and Philadelphia. The Chicago visit the third tour of its kind, is proving very popular in Germany.

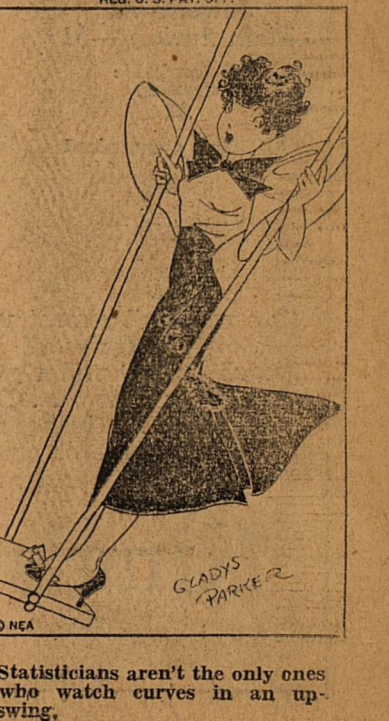

SMALLEST CO-ED GRADUATE

FORT WORTH, Tex. (U.P.)—Miss Gertrude Wiedman of Hufsmith, Tex., this spring became the smallest person ever to graduate from Texas Christian University. Twenty-two years old, Miss Wiedman wore a size 12 gown, size No. one shoes. She is four feet and four inches tall and weighs 85 pounds.

CHECK PLAYS BIG PART

FORT WORTH, Tex. (U.P.)—Eighty-seven per cent of the buying and selling in the United States is done with checks, Dr. R. H. Montgomery of the University of Texas Economics Department said. Even when money is used the greater part of it is paper money, which in a sense is a form of a check.

ing my nose at Hitler, Von Papen et al.

Tomorrow is July 4. You're welcome for the information. I haven't decided whether I should sleep all day or just sleep practically all the day.

Nope! There is the baseball game with San Angelo at 3:30 o'clock. Also, there are two cracker-jack shows in town. BUT NO RODEO! WOW! How I'd like to see some good steer ridin' and some good short races with old Fort Worth coming in about three lengths ahead of the field. But where is Fort Worth? Answer me that.

Midland should be the rodeo and horse racing center of West Texas. Well, I'll leave that to you to decide.

This afternoon's ball game with San Angelo is to start at 5 o'clock and I'd like to bet a good July watermelon that the Midland Coits pour it on the Concho boys. There's too much water around Angelo to raise a good ball team, together with the numerous sheep that graze on the Angelo diamond. Pour it on 'em, Coits.

I've heard reliably that Emily is back in town.

I noticed by yesterday's Reporter-Telegram that Hitler's position has been cemented by the failure of the latest coup. That word "coup" seems to be an abbreviation for the French expression "coup d'etat". Now the word "coup" probably is a good English word and I am not making any sort of challenge about it. All I am contending is that the French started this business of rising against the existing government so far as modern history is concerned.

But about that Hitler bird. I never have liked the way he flings his left foot (now I haven't said a word about his moustache). Germany has many men of more brain power than Hitler and has many more men who can unify the various political units of that country. But, where are they?

If I were a German and opposed the present power, I'd be darned if I'd go out behind a beer garden and blow my brains out! I'd flee to Switzerland and join that memorable group there—besides thumb-

Lascivious Books Hit by Scouters

Character building is the only reward scouters and scout officials of the Buffalo Trail council hope to achieve in their spending of time and money, said K. C. Tucker, minister of the Church of Christ. Mr. Tucker attended the Thursday night meeting of the group at Big Spring.

magazines and books that litter the stands," the minister said. "Throughout the meeting emphasis was placed on the necessity of stressing character building in all scout work. "The scout movement should have the moral and financial support of every citizen who believes in developing character and citizenship," the minister said. "If you have a boy," he said, addressing parents, "make a sacrifice to give him one or two weeks in camp this summer. Character building pays a big dividend. "Today there are groups of radicals trying to sow seeds of discord to tear down worthwhile endeavor. All good citizens should encourage those projects that make for real manhood. The destiny of the future lies in the youth of today." Midland extended an invitation to all scouts of the council to be guests at the annual swimming carnival to be held at Pagoda pool in August.

HARDWARE AND ICEMEN WIN MONDAY NIGHT GAMES; NEW LIGHTS INSTALLED

BY DR. DAVID M. ELLIS

Midland Hardware took the measure of the Midland Auto Supply in a game of lots of hitting and errors. Thompson of the Auto team furnished the thrill for the crowd with a running, one-handed catch of J. M. Mills' liner in the fifth inning with B. Morgan on second following his fourth consecutive hit of the game.

The Icemen handed the Grocery guzzlers a 6-2 score in a neatly played game, except for wrangling in a latter inning. The new lights are the answer to a fielder's prayer. Fielders going in all directions and making good catches in both games.

Joe Brown Coming In Hilarious Yarn By Damon Runyon

Joe E. Brown, the king clown of the screen, is scheduled to be the feature attraction at the Ritz theatre tomorrow and Thursday in his latest First National picture, "A Very Honorable Guy," which promises to be one of his greatest rib ticklers.

The story by Damon Runyon, noted sports writer and short story author is one of the most unique and laughable imaginable. Runyon has taken a tin horn sport who has won the reputation of never going back on his word and carried him through the vicissitudes of such bad luck that he is compelled to sell his own body to pay his debts under a contract which gives him thirty days of life before delivering himself as a corpse. Joe E. has the role of the gambler who is as dumb as he is honest, with Hobart Cavanaugh portraying a pickpocket whom he is trying to reform, acting as his foil in the part of his bosom pal.

Alice White has the role of gold digging chorus girl whose affections vacillate between the gambler and a mad doctor with their financial ups and downs. Robert Barratt is the doctor and rival for the love of the pretty chorus girl. Irene Franklin plays the role of Miss White's mother, a typical money grabbing parent who is out to see that her daughter marries for money and not for love.

Alan Dinehart heads a band of crooks of which he is the brain. Others in the cast include Arthur Vinton, George Pat Collins, Harold Huber, James Donlan, Harry Warren and Al Dubin, the latter two being the Warner Bros. First National ace song writers who play their own profession in the film.

Earl Baldwin prepared the screen play which was directed by Lloyd Bacon.

We also saw the people kneeling and praying in front of their favorite Gods. From here we went to the Chinese Y. M. C. A., which is near the center of the city in an ideal location, and built and supported entirely with Chinese funds and controlled by a Chinese board of directors and a general secretary.

We then traveled through the narrow streets, which were only wide enough for two rickshaws, to the great pagoda. This is the highest in China, and is the glory of Soochow. It has nine stories and is 250 feet high, 60 feet in diameter at the base, and 40 feet in diameter at the top. Each story is proportionately shorter, each balcony narrower, and each door and window smaller. It is of massive construction and carries its 800 years well. From the top an excellent view of surrounding country can be had. We could see within this area, which has a radius of 30 miles, approximately 100,000 villages and hamlets, which have a total population of five million. We went to the city temple. This is under the whole province. It has been in continuous use since 300 A. D. There are 15 separate temples and perhaps 600 different gods to be worshipped. This completed the sight-seeing and we are thence wheeled back to the up to date railway station.

Electricity Discoverer Done in Invisible Paint

PHILADELPHIA (U.P.)—Benjamin Franklin may have discovered electricity with a kite, but he never suspected that he would be painted invisibly.

Charles Bittinger, Washington artist, is finishing a set of four murals depicting scenes from the life of Franklin for the Franklin Institute here. The paintings which Bittinger uses leave no visible trace on the walls.

But from time to time Bittinger turns out the lights and switches on special ultra-violet ray lamps which make his work visible to the naked eye.

He explained that when the murals are completed a visitor will see only blank walls when he first enters Franklin Institute. Then, upon passing a certain point the visitor's body will intercept a beam of infra red rays which cannot be seen.

Interruption of this beam of light will automatically start a photoelectric apparatus which will turn off the ordinary electric lights in that section of the building and simultaneously turn on the invisible ultra-violet rays so the murals can be seen. A few minutes later the murals will vanish as the electric lights come on again.

DOUBLE CALF BORN DEAD

MT. PLEASANT, Pa. (U.P.)—A double calf was borne by one of R. B. Lowry's Guernsey cows. The offspring, born dead, had two bodies, tails and heads. There were eight legs, two of which protruded from the shoulders. Two ears and two eyes in their natural position. The other two ears were pointed in the middle of the head. One pair of eyes extended from a middle socket.

Wyatt C. Headrick, Fort Worth architect, was a business visitor here last night.

What Do You Think of The Idea?

Opening the store at 7:30 in the morning and closing at 5:30 in the afternoon?

It will give you an opportunity to shop before it gets so very warm in the middle of the day and it will give the sales force an opportunity to get away earlier in the afternoon.

If you approve of this, we will appreciate your telling us. We may continue this thruout the balance of the summer.

FRIDAY, JULY 6th and for the eight days of THE JULY CLEARANCE SALE the store will open at 7:30 and close at 5:30 with your permission, for we want you to know that this store wants to serve you as you wish to be served.

11,000 TEXANS* — Men and Women

THE HUMBLE COMPANY employs more than 11,000 men and women. All of them live in Texas, and all of them have their eyes open to what the Texas public wants in products and service. Individually and as a group, they realize the fundamental necessity of giving the motorist the right product at the right price with the right kind of service. So they are keenly interested in what you—a practical buyer—think. They want to know what you have to say and to suggest. They extend this open invitation: walk in our door at any time and give us the benefit of your experience with Humble products and Humble service. The door is open.

*If all Humble employes with their families lived in one place, they would make the seventh largest city in Texas.

$83,000,000.00 working for a Greater Texas

LIFE INSURANCE FUNDS are reservoirs of thrift which feed the streams of progress. The funds of Texas legal reserve life insurance companies play an important part in the progress of Texas, through financing community development projects and home ownership.

At the close of 1933 these companies had $83,000,000.00 working for a greater Texas . . . invested in loans on farms and city property, in state, county and municipal bonds, in home office buildings and real estate.

This $83,000,000.00 is money in motion, constantly increasing, and parts of it constantly being paid back and reinvested. Every Texan shares the benefits of these investments. Not only are needed improvements made possible, but the money is put into circulation . . . spent for raw materials and labor.

In 1933 these companies put into circulation an additional $30,000,000.00 . . . in payrolls, taxes, purchases and payments to policyholders and beneficiaries.

When you show a preference for insurance in a Texas legal reserve life company you join hands with these companies and their 1,200,000 other policyholders in making Texas a better state in which to live and make a living.
