JURY CHARGED WITH PROBING GAMBLING HERE

Murder Case Stands Out in Light Docket

Charging the grand jury to investigate especially the misdemeanors of gambling and the felonies of operating gambling houses, Judge Charles L. Klapproth opened a five weeks term of district court here this morning. He charged that no attention should be given the fact that alleged gambling houses had been closed, but that evidence leading to the fact that such operation had at any time existed should be sufficient grounds for indictment. Liquor violations of all kinds also were mentioned by the judge in his charge to the jury, explaining in detail how the recent 3.2 beer law affects such laws.

On the grand jury were Ben F. Whitefield, foreman, T. R. Wilson, Chas. Berry, Herd Midkiff, A. G. Bohannon, M. C. Ulmer, George T. Abell, Pat. Bodine, Kato Adams, Allen Watts, L. C. Link and E. W. Angus.

Although a light docket faces the court, the criminal case of the state against John Ward, charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of George Tom, Stanton and Midland ranchman, occupied the chief interest. The case recently was set for July 16.

Arrayed in prosecution of the case were District Attorney Bob Hamilton, George W. Dunaway and Judge John Litterer of Big Spring. Defense attorneys were Joe Seymour and C. W. Tate.

25 Scouts Leave For Camp Tuesday

Camp Louise Pharr, of the San Angelo council, located on Spring creek near Mertzon, will be the center of activity for all scouts of the Buffalo Trail council beginning Tuesday and lasting through July 24. This place was selected as the best camp site in this territory because of its ideal location and availability. Its newly completed administration building, shady groves of pecan trees and a swimming hole that will appeal to any boy are the features of this place.

Twenty five Midland scouts of two troops will leave here at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning for the camp. The scouts of troop 51 will be under the direction of Scoutmaster Alvon Patterson and scouts of troop 54 will be under the Rev. Winston F. Boyer and Minister K. C. Tucker. This is the greatest number of scouts to participate in the annual camp since there were four active troops in Midland.

The Midland scout council has arranged for the benefit of parents and friends to have a short wave radio station installed at the camp and messages can be sent to and from the camp at regular intervals and the campfire programs at night will be broadcast also. G. B. Brock, army airport radio operator, has constructed the radio equipment and will operate from the camp and messages will be handled here by Robert Harmon. This is seen as a real improvement of the camp as bulletins can be sent and parents may talk direct to their sons.

Buster Howard and Wallace Wimberly of Troop 54 will not be able to attend the camp except over the week ends.

3.2 Election to Be Called in Stanton

STANTON.—A petition to the county commissioners of Martin county, bearing the required number of qualified voters, will be presented requesting that an election be called to vote on 3.2 beer on the same day the primary election, Saturday, July 28.

At the special election held August 26, 1933, the following was the vote on the 3.2 beer question: For sale of beer—203; against, 295.

There is a majority of 92 votes for the wets to overcome if they expect to place 3.2 on tap in Martin county, but they claim since there is 3.2 on sale 20 miles distance on both sides of Stanton, and there are a number of poll tax payers eligible to vote in the coming election that at the last who favor 3.2, optimism that the proposition will carry, is prevalent in the camp of the wets. But the dews are just as optimistic that the 3.2 beverage will go down by a worse defeat than a year ago.

Argument Over Nickel Blamed For Slaying

LAKE BRIDGEPORT, July 9, (AP)—Officers blame an argument over a nickel's worth of ice for the killing of U. E. Byars, storekeeper, and the wounding in the leg of Charles Anderson, Anderson and his son, Edgar, both of Fort Worth, are charged with murder.

Officers said Byars slapped Mrs. Anderson in the argument over the ice and that her husband and son took it up, the shooting following.

WARRANTS REACH FARMERS TODAY

State deficiency warrants, about 250 of them, were received today by Midland farmers. The warrants represent remuneration for a fight of farmers of the so-called pink boll worm zone against the pest through sterilization and fumigation.

Value of the warrants will range from $28,000 to $32,000 and is estimated by the Midland chamber of commerce, which with the Big Spring chamber made a six-year fight to lift the ban and to reimburse farmers for expenditures. The late Rep. B. Frank Haag and his successor, Rep. Frank Slubbeman, assisted by friends in the legislature, worked untiringly to get the remuneration bill passed at Austin and to get the $500,000 appropriated.

The warrants must be discounted upon cashing because of the treasury's deficit. The only recent announcement made in Midland on the discount rate was an advertisement in the paper that a six-year fight to lift the ban and to reimburse farmers for expenditures. The late Rep. B. Frank Haag and his successor, Rep. Frank Slubbeman, assisted by friends in the legislature, worked untiringly to get the remuneration bill passed at Austin and to get the $500,000 appropriated.

The estimate July 1 for Texas was 10,914,000 acres as compared to 18,050,000 at the same time last year. At New York the market jumped $2 per bale today on buying stimulated by the report which is smaller than the trade expected.

PEN 700 DROUGHT CATTLE; BUY 1,132

Awaiting orders from the government as to where to ship, L. A. Brunson and Dr. I. E. Barr, buyers in the federal drought relief campaign, had approximately 700 head of cows, calves and steers in the stock pens this morning.

A total of 1,132 head had been bought within a week, with more than 200 slaughtered because they were unfit for food.

Although the cattle bought here to date were from the driest pastures and represented the poorest stock, the buyers said quality and prices were ahead of those in purchases made in other sections.

Hitler Aide Warns the Nations of German Readiness to Protect Self

Find it Doubly Difficult to Get Married

KOENIGSBURG, Germany, July 9, (AP)—Rudolph Hess, cabinet minister known as Chancellor Hitler's "second self" in an amazing address Sunday pleaded for an understanding with France, sounded a warning against impending war and defied any nation to invade Germany.

The speech was delivered before Nazi chieftains of Prussia and was broadcast throughout the nation. Translations then were broadcast to the remotest corners of the world, showing the emphasis placed on this pronouncement, which followed by just a week the bloody "purge" of the Nazi party.

The speech was amazing not only because of its appeal to France, but also because of an implied warning war threatens Europe and its defiance to invaders.

The appeal to France was underscored by Hess as he suddenly switched from German to French and shouted, speaking of the miseries of war.

"Malheur pour nous, malheur pour vous, et malheur pour le monde." (Unhappiness for us, unhappiness for you, unhappiness for all, for the world.)

"I turn to the comrades of the front, both here and on the other side of the trenches," said Hess. "Be honest; didn't we experience horror at the thought of death?"

"When hand grenades were hurled at us, when poisonous gas threatened to choke us, despite our gas masks, when we heard the cries of anguish from the dying, when horror of every kind surrounded us, did we not ask ourselves, 'Can not humanity be spared all this?'"

"To be sure, out there in the trenches we felt ourselves real men. We knew we were defending the Fatherland. We would not have missed the experience.

"Yet, we, the first fighters, want to avoid another war wherein the trench soldiers will again pay the bill."

"I say as a veteran to veterans across the borderland, I as a leader of our people ask the leaders of other peoples: Must this be? Can we not by mutual good will spare humanity another war?"

Hess then explained why he (and thereby the Nazi regime) had not had supported pleas for international understanding.

Without mentioning names he apparently referred to former Chancellor Brüning's radio appeal to French Premier Laval in 1931 among other events of pre-Hitler days.

Probably also he had in mind the charges of the slain former Chancellor Brüning's radio appeal to French Premier Laval in 1931 among other events of pre-Hitler days.

"I will tell you why," said Hess. "Because my voice would have joined the voices of traitors to our people, the voices of those who sacrificed the honor of our nation, whose conscience as far as Germany is concerned rests on the Versailles treaty."

"Today I may speak because a man of my nation has rehabilitated Germany's honor before the world, because this man silenced the voices of traitors because the whole world knows the National Socialist fighter is no coward."

"Today I may speak because the leader of my people himself stretched out the hand of peace to the world."

"Today I must speak because I thereby am supporting the man who is trying at the last minute to avert a catastrophe."

Hess then became defiant.

"I raise my voice, also, however," he said, "because I want to warn the world against mistaking the Germany of today—the Germany of peace—for the Germany of yesterday—the Germany of pacifism."

"Let this be remembered: Despite our memories of the terrors of war, despite the fact that the younger generation wants war as little as does the older, the way is not open for a new war."

"Just as the French people during the war defended every handful of native soil with all their power and would do so again in case of need, just so we Germans would defend ours today."

"The French trench soldier will especially understand us if we say to those who play with the idea of war: Just you dare attack us! Just you dare to march into Germany!"

"The world would then learn to feel the spirit of new Germany. It would fight as no people ever yet fought for liberty."

"The French people know how one defends one's own soil! Every bit of forest, every hillock, every farmstead would have to be counted with blood."

"Old and young would dig themselves into their native soil to defend it. With unparalleled fanaticism they would oppose the attempt."

CONNELLS LEAVE

W. N. Connell and daughter, Miss Eleanor, left this morning for California. Mrs. Connell will join them later.

If you don't think the routine of a marriage license clerk can be a little complicated, what would you do if Violet Hilton (left), one of the Siamese twins, came along with her prospective husband, Maurice Lambert, and asked for a license to wed? It flustered the New York authorities, but they finally ruled against granting the permit. Violet, Lambert and Daisy, the other twin, are shown bearing up under the bad news at the New York license bureau.

Germany Wonders at Let-down Given To Popular Prince

BY MILTON BRONNER

European Manager of NEA Service NEW YORK, July 9.—Thousands of Berliners and Potsdamers are wondering what the future holds for Auwi.

Auwi is Berlinese jargon for Prince August Wilhelm, fourth son of the exiled Kaiser.

For three years he has been the big Nazi Exhibit. As a royal princeling who is an ardent Nazi when the Nazis began to grow in influence and even when they came into power, the ex-kaiser maintained a rigid silence regarding them. Ex-Crown Prince Wilhelm, who belonged to the Steel Helmets, never donned a Nazi uniform nor did any of his other brothers.

Except Auwi.

Auwi became an officer in the Potsdam Brown Shirts. He made speeches. He was placed on the list of Nazi candidates for Reichstag and was duly elected. He took his seat proudly done up in his brown shirt, like the rest of his congeners. When Hitler viewed big parades in Berlin or Potsdam, Auwi was right there on the platform still doing his Exhibit A job.

2 COMMISSIONERS OFFER TO RESIGN; NO ACTION TAKEN

Bitter Charges Made And Johnson Gets In a Huff

AUSTIN, July 9, (AP)—Jack Reed and Ed Hussion, members of the state relief commission, volunteered to resign today, challenging other commissioners to do likewise.

"We should hang our heads in shame and make apologies to the people of Texas for allowing politics to influence every action we take," Reed declared.

The resignations were presented after Director Adam Johnson left the meeting in a huff. No official action was taken today, as there was no quorum present.

Relief Commissioner W. A. Brooks agreed with Commissioners Reed and Hussion that it would be best for all commissioners to resign because the "present commission has never worked harmoniously and can never do so."

Reed and Hussion declared they would formally resign before the next meeting.

"I regret having been a member of a commission that allowed itself to get into such damn shambles as we've gotten into," Reed said. "The relief commission has done a terrible job. I challenge other members to resign. That will be the first material good we've done."

Hussion said, "For the welfare of unfortunate Texas I also offer my resignation and ask other members to do likewise. The best interests of Texas can't be served by the constant quibbling that has been going on. I hope Mr. Estes and other members will also resign and permit an entirely new start in relief administration."

Lack of a quorum prevented a hearing on an important report of the state board of control on relief purchases and a long delay of the medical relief report. Evidently absentee members realized that a bare quorum would permit the ousting of Johnson, reinstated last month.

B. E. Giesecke and Governor Ferguson, ex-officio chairman, were the only others present. Giesecke, Witt appointee, said he couldn't quit because it would embarrass Witt's gubernatorial candidacy but said, "Relief subjects have suffered seriously by our quibbling over majority."

New Dormitory For Sul Ross

ALPINE.—A telegram from Hon. R. E. Thomson to Dr. H. W. Morelock, president of Sul Ross State Teachers college, announced a grant of $47,500 has been authorized under the public works program for a boys dormitory at Sul Ross.

During the long term the building will be used as a cooperative boys' dormitory and during the summer session as headquarters for the art colony and summer students. The cooperative dormitory, when completed, will serve the useful purpose of assisting worthy and needy young men through college by giving them part-time employment in the dining hall and by allowing them credit on their board bill for all groceries and supplies brought from home.

MORE HOPE FOR FARMERS

If the statistics compiled by L. H. Bean, economic adviser for the AAA, tell the whole story, a genuine and substantial recovery seems to be setting in for the farmer. Farm prices, reports Mr. Bean, have gone up very materially. The farmer's cash income, during the first four months of this year, was approximately 43 per cent above the income for the same period last year.

ARISTOCRACY LEVELED

There's something slightly instructive in that recent story about the blue-blooded Illinois lady who got pinched in Pennsylvania for a traffic violation and who, because she didn't happen to have the cash with her to pay her fine, had to spend two days in jail. The lady didn't like it at all, and she protest that "such things are not for people of my sort."

BURNING UP COFFEE

Once more that feature of present-day life which future generations will find hardest to understand or forgive—the voluntary destruction of foodstuffs at a time when many people are going hungry—pops into the news. This time it occurs in Brazil, where more than 63,000,000 pounds of coffee are being burned so growers, marketers, and shippers, can receive a fair price for their work.

According to the new code, you can get only one packet of matches with each tobacco purchase. This looks like a conspiracy among cigaret manufacturers to discourage pipe smoking.

IT LOOKED LIKE A BARGAIN

Today, the windows and shelves of many stores are crowded with packages bearing "bargain" prices. With prices so low, not getting your money's worth seems almost impossible.

No matter how strongly you are urged to buy these "bargain brands"—or how often you are told they are "just as good"—it is safer to refuse them unless you are fully familiar with their value.

But it pays to remember that while some of these products are bargains, others are not.

Look for the real bargains now among brands which you know—by your own experience, through their advertising, or by the reputations of their makers. Ask for them by name! Insist on getting what you ask for!

In some of the unfamiliar packages you see so frequently today, there is cheap merchandise—the offering of a few manufacturers who have gone too far in their efforts to make your dollars buy more quantity. Products in which these manufacturers have sacrificed quality to make a low price still lower and, seemingly, more attractive.

Many of these reliable brands now cost less than they have in years. But only the price has been reduced. The quality—which originally made these products popular with you and many others—still remains as high as ever.

Judge Klapproth Is Men's Speaker

BY CLASS REPORTER

District Judge Charles L. Klapproth spoke before the Men's class in the Scharbauer hotel yesterday. He chose as his text "Asa Relies on God." He gave a clear and convincing delineation of his subject and held the close attention of the class to the end.

There were 147 in attendance. President Harry L. Haight addressed the members to the general effect that no appeal should be made to any member of any other class in the city; that, while every one is welcome, the policy of the Men's class is to invite men who are not affiliated with other classes in Midland; that churches in Midland, being the most important institutions in the city, should be upheld in their work to the fullest extent and that the Men's class being non-denominational is in full sympathy with all of their work. Do not neglect your own church, he said in conclusion.

Mrs. Lamar acted as accompanist in the absence of the regular accompanist.

LOCALS BEATEN BY 8-1; WIN SECOND FOR VISITORS

Midland was kept to the cellar floor Sunday afternoon, when McCamey batted out an 8 to 1 decision. The game was the second won in as many starts this half for McCamey, the second lost for Midland.

Choate, McCamey hurler, gave up six hits, two of them being ringing triples from the bat of Surratt. L. Rose was nicked for 14 hits.

Morgan Aid's Son Jailed as Picket

Corliss Lamont, son of the wealthy Thomas W. Lamont, Morgan partner, got himself arrested for the first time when he dared defy a Jersey City, N. J., ban against peaceful picketing. Young Lamont, an avowed liberal, is shown leaving the police station where, he said, he was "treated like a common criminal." He had been picketing a furniture company.

Germany--

came last February. For months the rank and file of the Brown Shirts all over Germany had been shaking tin boxes in the faces of the citizens. They were collecting "voluntary" contributions for Hitler's winter relief fund.

Then one day in February it was announced in the Berlin papers that, while the Brown Shirts were collecting relief for the poor, many of their own ranks were hard up. Therefore, the officers of the Brown Shirts had "graciously resolved" to do a little collecting themselves. Forgetting their high position, they would appear on the streets of the metropolis and collect "voluntary" contributions which would go to the faithful rank and file of Hitler's private army in Berlin.

Karl Ernst, head of the Berlin Storm Troops, shot the other day as a traitor by order of Hitler, was one of the star performers. But the biggest star of all was Auwi, the best where he would collect contributions for his men was prominently printed. He would go into the swish hotels on Unter den Linden and he would also collect in certain streets where the aristocrats and the wealthy dwell.

Auwi had one grand day. All dolled up in brown shirt and cap, officers' epaulettes and the rest of the togethery, he shook his tin box like a good fellow. In the meantime, the newspaper photographers clicked their cameras and straw-haired maidens sighed with admiration at his "self-sacrifice" in acting just like an ordinary human being.

His collections easily mounted up. Many people, with an old sneaking admiration for royalty, were willing to part with a bunch of marks just to get a princely "Danke soeben."

But, later, things did not break

At the Yucca Today, Tuesday

"Schnozzle Durante" and Lups Velez in "Hollywood Party," which shows Mickey Mouse and lots of other prominent stars.

so well for Auwi. The big shots in the Nazi regime, angered at the rumor that they might favor the return to royalty, took pains to emphasize in their newspapers and their speeches that they had not fought for fifteen years only to bring back a discredited monarchy.

That was a hot shot at Auwi's father and family. He has not been so very prominent since then.

Sylvia Sidney Has New Role In Shy Comedy

A different, but extremely fascinating Sylvia Sidney, free for the time of the necessity of appearing morbid, unhappy or frustrated, may be seen in Paramount's delicious comedy satire "Thirty Day Princess," showing today and tomorrow at the Ritz theatre.

As the little actress who was hired to impersonate a princess, and wound up wishing that she were a real princess, so that she could hold the love of the handsome newspaper publisher, Miss Sidney is easy to look at, beautifully garbed, and refreshingly witty.

Topping the supporting cast is Cary Grant, who could overcome any woman's resistance, as the handsome, impetuous publisher; Lucien Littlefield, Vince Barnett.

The story is an expert adaptation of Clarence Buddington Kelland's popular magazine story, credit being due Preston Sturges and Frank Partos for the clever adaptation, and Sam Hellman and Edwin Justin Mayer for the bright and racy dialogue.

Marion Gering, one of Hollywood's more important directorial lights has sufficient reason to be proud of this racy, flippant celluloid comedy.
