NAVIN FIELD, Detroit, Oct. 8 (U.P.)-Li'l Brother Nutsey did it again, and the St. Louis Cardinals went into a 3-way tie with Detroit's Tigers in the current baseball championship of the world. The score

The winner was touched for seven hits, but Detroit's usual bunching of bingles was lacking as the junior partner of the great Dizzy bore down with his slants and fast ones.

Speculation centers upon the oice of hurlers for the Tuesday at and deciding game. There is ung Eldon Auker for the Tigers I ready to go, and Tex Cariton ould be a good bet for the Cardidis. It is not altogether improble that Dizzy will get his chance avenge Sunday's upset at the and of young Tommy Bridges. He as pitched with only one day's rest weral times this season, but seval starts of that denomination we been recently, which may disurage his being given the nod. Detroit finished out today's game the a brilliant eighth-inning permance that was nipped for a preless retirement only after a nner had populated third and one do gone down to first. Big Hank reenberg was forced to ground to dlins, however, shortly after a eat throw from Orsatti after a tch near the screen had prevented erringer's scoring from third.

TEXAS DROUGHT CONDITIONS NOT BAD AS PAINTED

'Business Maps Don't Coincide with Rain Maps'

DALLAS. (U.P.)—It was pretty bad, all right, but the drought in Texas was not quite the calamity it was painted, an exhaustive survey by the Texas Daily Press league indicates cates.

The rainfall maps and charts showing estimates of crop conditions placed Texas in the "drought area," but, as one economist pointed out, "business maps don't coincide with rainfall maps."

With most of the state's crops harvested and the proceeds therefrom in circulation or in the bank, and with ranches cleared of surplus or diseased cattle, conditions appear not nearly so bad as calamity howlers predicted, according to the league's review.

Oil was one factor that kept Texas

Oil was one factor that kept Texasbusiness on the upgrade despite the effects of drought, the press league's bulletin disclosed. So far as oil was concerned "there was no crop failure."

crop failure."

Texas received more than twice as much for oil produced in the first six months of 1934 as during the same period of 1933, the survey showed. For the first half of last year the state produced 185,025,583 barrels of oil sold for $78,592,987. For the same period this year the oil income was $197,709,900, although only a little more petroleum was produced—188,506,757 barrels.

"Here is an increase for 1934 of

"Here is an increase for 1934 of $117,116,913," the press league bulletin pointed out. "Of this amount, $24,463,737—or $136,642 daily, 30 days a month for every month since Jan. 1—has been going into the hands of royalty owners alone, covering their owners' one-eighth, with the money being spread over the entire state."

Farmers of the state, directly affected by the drought, aren't in such bad shape, either, the league's statistics show.

Value of the state's five major crops — cotton, wheat, corn, oats, and grain sorghums—is more than $202,000,000 greater than for 1932 and more than $140,000,000 greater than for 1931.

Texas retail stories reported average dollar sales increased 13.4 per cent in July, 1934, over July, 1933, Aggregated sales for the first seven months of this year were 26 per cent greater than for the same period in 1933.

months of this year were 26 per cent greater than for the same period in 1933.

Net revenue for Texas railroads in the first six months of 1934 was 742.5 per cent above net revenue for the same period last year.

Commercial failures in July were 59 per cent fewer than for the same month a year ago.

Texas farmers received an average of $111 in federal payments, or one-sixth as much as their average receipts from all crops in 1933.

So why the calamity howling?

The press league blames it on an exaggerated idea of harm done by the drought which in turn resulted from the scramble for state and federal relief funds.

Instead of counting their blessings, the various communities tabulated their ailments in order to impress relief agencies and thus get a bigger share of relief funds than they would otherwise receive.

Even cattlemen, admittedly the greatest drought sufferers, are not as bad off as vivid tales of starving cattle, dying on the ranges or being slaughtered by government agents, would indicate, the league concludes.

The survey quoted from the magazine "Farm and Ranch" to show that much of the slaughtering was primarily to eradicate tuberculosis and Bang's disease. It was a health measure carried out with funds appropriated long before the drought, the magazine stated.

That so many Texas counties went on the federal "emergency drought relief" lists, according to the magazine, "is evidence that alert farmers sensed the opportunity to cull their herds of unprofitable animals.

Sings Requiem Mass At Mother's Funeral

The Rev. Edw. P. Harrison, O. M. I., of St. Goerge's Catholic church, and his brother, Jack Harrison have returned from Del Rio where they attended the funeral of their grandmother. Mrs. Patrick McGue.

The Midland clergyman sang the solemn requiem high mass for Mrs. McCue at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. He was assisted by priests from Del Rio, San Felipe and Chihuahua.

Mrs. McGue, 79, for 36 years a resident of Del Rio, was a native of Drum King county, Donegal, Ireland; and came to the United States at the age of 16. A widow since 1914, she is survived by four daughters, two sons, eight grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Letters to Scharbauer and John Dublin declare the aged dun gelding to be the best horse in the arena at the present time. He "stepped on himself" at Calgary, Canada, injuring a shoulder; then when Pardee roped a calf the rope broke, flying back and hitting the horse in one eye, almost putting it out. With all of the attendant discomfort, Fort Worth was "the most faithful old thing in the world," giving his best performance each time a calf was turned out for his time a calf was turned out for his rider.

"He never fails to work," Mrs "He never fails to work," Mrs. Pardee wrote friends here. Prior to the shows above mentioned, Pardee had won first money at Sidney, Ia., and the horse was photographed as the "champion roping horse" of the show. He is well known here for having won numerous short races at the local track. His "back breaking" get-away gives him a decided advantage both in racing and in calf roping.

Previously, a band of 30 or 40 "vigilantes" had kidnaped Odell, taken him to an isolated spot, beaten him, and warned him never to come back to the strike scene. Odell armed himself and came back; the indictment is the latest move. All of this is an obvious reflection of a situation in which anger and defiance have gone to undue lengths. Federal conciliators have made unsuccessful attempts to set things straight. It looks as if they ought to make another effort. The "onion war," though small, is taking an ugly turn.

"How about a contract?" he urged. "I didn't talk dough before we left town. I wanted you to hear him first."

"Go to the office." Craft snapped.

"I'll be in in a minute."

Craft leaped to his feet, shouted: "Girls!"

Rehearsal music was started. Craft hurried toward the stage as Charley saluted, turned, and walked into the office to wait. Charley saw a box of cigars, decided to relax, and helped himself. He leaned back in a swivel chair, welcome on his face he extended his hand and said:

"Mr. Seabrook? I'm certainly glad to meet you."

As Seabrook groped through his mind in an effort to place Charley, the latter breezily bubbled on:

"Talked to you just a few minutes ago. I'm Sullivan — Craft's assistant."

He pumped Seabrook's arm vigororusly. At the same time he was looking out of the corners of his eyes at the bottle on the dresser. He saw an opportunity, and was no man to overlook it.

"We want to be sure you're comfortable." he offered, uncautiously. "I've also been appointed as entertainment committee of one. What can you suggest that I do for you?"

"Entertainment committee?" asked Seabrook as he put his hand to his head. "Pardon me—slight headache. I've been reading too much lately."

Charley hid a smile.

"There's nothing like a good book," he agreed. "And — about the entertainment. You see, there's no rehearsal until tomorrow night and—"

Seabrook blurted a surprised interruption.

"I thought you were opening in three days—"

"Had to put the date back," explained Charley, lying glibly. "Couldn't get ready."

Seabrook staged an act of innocent surprise. Charley he pologized. Charley, deep to completely forgot," he apologized. Charley deep for the telephone, to completely forgot," he apologized. Seabrook sighed with relief.
"That's—fine."
"I knew you'd think so," agreed Charley. "Now, how about a run outside for a little fresh air—" Seabrook couldn't restrain a shudder. Charley caught it, and followed through with a suggestion they go and get a bottle of "ever can tell about room service."
"Right-o—" responded Seabrook.
"By the way—what was your name?"
Both men drank. Charley responded:
"Good enough, Charley!" said Seabrook as the liquor warmed him.
"Okay, Brookie, old pal!" said Charley. And the party was on.

IRWIN AND BURRIS FIGHT TONIGHT IN TUBBS HALL, MONAHANS, PROGRAM

Two Midland scrappers will popularize the athletic card held at Monahans tonight.

Jack Irwin and Paul Burris meet Sam Smyer of Pecos and Ray Cauthurn of Pyote.

The rest of the imbroglio brings Ruffin Roan of 128 pounds, Pyote, against O. C. Dumas of 134, Wink in a six round preliminary.

The Burris boy, whose arms flail like an autogyro, fights a fast, crowding battle, as does Irwin.

Tonight marks his ring debut, but his coming out is expected to do him credit. He fights four rounds. Irwin had the spot for 10 rounds He recently did what the wisecracks thought imposible for him, when he held the shifty, cagey Doc Kitchens to a 10-round draw there.

TROM time to time we tell you facts about Chesterfield Cigarettes.

We say that Chesterfields are different from other cigarettes—that the tobaccos are different, the paper is different, and the way they are made is different.

Everything that modern Science knows about or that money can buy is used in making Chesterfield a milder, better-tasting cigarette—a cigarette that Satisfies.

> You can prove what we tell you about Chesterfield. May we ask you to try them -that would seem to be fair enough.
