COOPERATION ASKED BY GOVERNOR-ELECT

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 27. (U.P.)—James V. Allred today called for "whole hearted cooperation of the legislature and the confidence of a 'hopeful people'."

He will leave tomorrow to attend the legion convention at Houston. Wells and will go to Austin Wednesday.

He said the "joy of winning is somewhat sobered by thoughts of the tremendous responsibilities now imposed upon me. I approach these tasks prayerfully and in all humility."

PILOT SAFE AFTER FORCED LANDING

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 27. (U.P.)—Earl Fleet, mail pilot for the TWA, Inc. airlines, missing since yesterday, was reported today saved and his plane undamaged after a forced landing near Laquesta, 20 miles from Las Vegas. He had been unable to reach a communication point earlier and had been the object of search since he was unreported on his schedule at Albuquerque.

Ferguson Grins In Spite of Vote Expression

AUSTIN, Aug. 27. (U.P.)—Former Governor James E. Ferguson took defeat of his endorsed candidate, Tom F. Hunter, with a smile today.

He predicted that the sales tax will yet come in Texas. "The election is over but these 'statesmen' might as well put it in their pipes that the sales tax is the only thing that will save them," he said. He added that "it is pretty hard to win an election when my name is not on the ballot."

Picture May Be Old Master

A painting of Madonna and child he bought as junk for $6 may prove to be worth a fortune to Jeremiah Leonard, Somerville, Mass., sign painter and collector of second-hand art. Experts believe it to be from the brush of either Sassoferrata or Correggio, old Italian masters. If so, the painting, shown above, might bring $150,000.

WELLS CAVE IN DURING HEAVY RAINS; FARMERS ARE BUSILY BUYING SEED

Two water wells caved in at the McClintic Bros. ranch twenty miles east of Midland, Friday as "Fighting Hollow" became a raging torrent and flowed with from three to seven feet of water in a southeasterly direction.

Rain at the McClintic headquarters gauged seven inches.

The two wells, approximately thirty feet deep, caved at the top when water rose around the surface tank and overflowed adjacent territory. A large watering trough near the tank had only three or four inches of its walls showing above the lake which formed. One of the wells had a concrete curb at the top, the other a wooden framework. The earth gave way, allowing the heavy material to fall in, carrying with it a large quantity of gravel and dirt.

It will be necessary to drill one of the wells out completely and to clean the other.

The draw which ran with water flowed steadily toward the Kenton Boone ranch to the southeast.

McClintic Bros. were pulling two tractors to work on the area, preparing to plant 200 acres of sorghum cane.

The J. O. Nobles ranch, ten miles west of Midland and north of the airport, gauged six inches of rain Friday morning after receiving a shower the night before. Surface water resulted in all draws and lowlands of that area.

Ranches west and northwest of Odessa received rain, but lighter. The Elliott F. Cowden ranch in Ector county had rain all over it, getting lighter to the west. The C. M. Golden ranch in Winkler county had a good shower over the entire place, although it was much lighter than in the immediate vicinity of Midland. E. W. Cowden reported lake water and from an inch to two inches over his ranch south of Odessa. In a southeasterly direction the old Proctor ranch received only light rains, it was reported.

From Midland to Odessa, soon after the Friday morning rains, water flowed over the highways in half of the distance, tourists said. The water flowed through a highway culvert, just west of the airport at such a terrific rate that it was forced in the air on the low side, resembling the activities of a geyser for several hours.

In Andrews county, where the highway 137 right of way is not fenced, cattle were watering in barrow pits and lakes rather than at the windmills.

Roads leading across country to old fields of Ector and Andrews counties were reported extremely muddy but passable and all operations were continuing activities as usual.

Feed stores today reported a heavy increase in sales of planting seed. Farmers were buying corn, hegar, maize, barley, oats, turnip seed and other varieties. They expected to get good winter pasture from the small grains and to make row crops from the sorghums as result of the wet fields.

COMMISSIONERS MAKE REDUCTION FOR 2ND TIME Liberal Tax Payment Is Necessary for Operation

The commissioners court met today to adopt the budget for the year ending December 31, 1935, and after carefully considering the proposed expenditures for the coming year it was unanimously agreed that the rate be set at $1 on $100 valuation.

This is the second reduction to the county tax rate during the present term of this court, the rate having been reduced from $1.50 to $1.10 last year and to $1 this year.

When the rate was reduced last year the commissioners expressed the belief that Midland county citizens would show their appreciation of the reduction by substantial tax payments and during the year considerable publicity was given the matter of tax collections, and it was found that the response was "very gratifying" at the end of the year. The court wishes again to emphasize the fact that the reduction in the 1934 rate is made with the expectation of liberal tax payments in 1934 and 1935 and it is shown that the low rate cannot be maintained without the fullest cooperation of tax payers.

Midland county bonds are all worth par and above. Something over a year ago the commissioners court bought a $5,000 block of Midland county road bonds for $2,750 today the owners of the same issue are reluctant to allow them to be taken up at par. All bonds and warrants are paid up to date, all interest and sinking funds are in splendid condition, the credit of the county is A-1, and with another year of cooperation between tax payers and county like last year, conditions will still be financially sound.

In order to continue the county activities with the low tax rate it is necessary to continue to practice rigid economy in all county offices and to operate at the lowest possible cash. Midland county citizens will be called upon to save themselves tax money this year by cooperating with the assessors office. It is found that a considerable saving can be made if property owners will render their property at the time they come to the collector's office to pay their taxes.

"If you want to encourage the county officials to continue to reduce your taxes, show your willingness to assist by giving the assessors clerk your rendition when you pay your taxes," the court asked.

THE DEVIL AND THE WOLVES Aimed at By the Rev. Crim

The devil and the wolves will catch hell when the Rev. B. B. Crim, evangelist, comes here Sept. 16 to conduct a revival in a tabernacle to be constructed on the vacant lot west of the First Baptist church.

Curry, manager of Hotel Llano, filled with typical questions of the hunter. For instance—

"—and how is the hunting there? I want to bring my dogs. As you know, it is expensive and troublesome to carry a pack of dogs, but if there is anything out there to run I'll bring the pack of fox and wolf hounds that ever straddled a trail. Have you plenty wolves? What kind of a country do you run in? Has it rained enough to make grass to run on? How far from town is it to good wolf hunting?"

"What I would like to have is a good place by a tank or well on a ranch where I can establish a camp and leave my nigger and dogs. I have the best hunting nigger in the world and a pack of dogs that caught 22 out of 25 wolves chased last year."

Lest anyone think the wolves will catch all the evangelist's attention, it may be explained the Rev. Winston F. Borum, Baptist pastor, has been written a letter asking similar information on the sinking gentry. Both the minister and the hotel manager will submit a sort of census.

"I'll have the greater list, no doubt," Mr. Borum said. "Evanglist Crim is equally good at firing buckshot and Biblical shrapnel, and his nose is equally cold on the trails of errant humanity and wily wolves."

THREE CHILDREN HURT BY SHELL

LONE OAK, Aug. 27. (U.P.)—A German shell which fell as a dud behind the American lines during the World war exploded today as children were playing with it. All were seriously injured and one was killed. The children were Jack Cason, 12, lost his right hand; Dick Cason, 14, suffered a mangled right knee and leg; and Joe Thornton, 10, was wounded in the knees.

Rural School Tax Rates Set by County Trustees

During the past few weeks the trustees of Midland county have met and adopted their budget and recommended the necessary tax rates for the 1934 sessions.

The commissioners court met today and fixed the common school tax rates as recommended by the trustees, as follows:

- McClintic school—Local maintenance, 25 cents.
- Valley View—Local maintenance, 50 cents; interest and sinking fund, 25 cents.
- Stokes school—Local maintenance, 50 cents; interest and sinking fund, 25 cents.
- Pleasant Valley—Local maintenance, 50 cents.
- Warfield—Local maintenance, 50 cents.
- Prairie Lee—Local maintenance, 50 cents; interest and sinking fund, 25 cents.
- Cotton Flats—Local maintenance, 40 cents.
- Stephenson, Local maintenance, 75 cents.

There are only three schools out of the eight in the county with bonds outstanding, all interest and principal on bonds is paid to date and two schools are one year ahead with their bonds.

All 1933-34 teachers' salaries were paid and there is sufficient money due from the state available fund to care for the indebtedness for the year.

All schools will have nine-months terms except one, two schools will receive state aid during the year, most schools will open Sept. 3, but some will open later in order to give children an opportunity to assist in cotton picking.

Announcement of teachers follows:

- McClintic, A. B. Steen.
- Valley View, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fleming.
- Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Alcorn.
- Pleasant Valley, Miss Tommie Smith.

WATCH PRESENTED VICKERS BY CLASS

The appreciation of the Men's Bible class for Paul T. Vickers, former teacher, found expression Sunday in its presentation to him of an engraved watch. The presentation was made by Class President Harry L. Haight.

Vickers, who goes to McAllen to assume the duties of secretary of the chamber of commerce, is succeeded by District Judge Charles L. Klapproth.

Haight said in his presentation speech:

"In many ways we feel this is an unfortunate day for Midland and particularly unfortunate for the Men's class. We have had you as the guiding spirit for so many years that we will find it difficult to turn to other influence. You have lusted us to your heart's content. You have called us down and then plattered us with praise to the point of great appreciation. Your loyalty to the principles of this class has been like the guiding star in the heavens. You have kept us all looking upward. You have done glorious work. You have made and still keep as friends the entire membership of this class. Our best wishes go with you to your new post of duty. This class feels that you should have something to take with you, and has delegated me to present to you this watch, properly engraved. It will tell you what time to get up in the morning and what time you should get home at night. Success be with you in your new post of duty."

John T. Heuprich, manager of the Sweetwater board of city development, and Walter Booth, Sweetwater cattleman, and their families drove 115 miles to attend the meeting.

Following the class address members went to the court house lawn where several pictures were taken for the Associated Press, which plans to release them over its general service.

One hundred fifty attended.

RELIEF PLANS TO OCCUPY ITS ENTIRE SESSION $9,500,000 in Relief Bonds Likely to Be Voted

AUSTIN, Aug. 27. (U.P.)—The legislature met today in the third called session to vote $9,500,000 relief bonds.

Governor Ferguson said other legislation must wait until the legislative and unemployed are provided for. Other matters expected to come up include changes in the election laws, changes in the oil laws and possibly a sales tax bill.

Provision for winter relief is the first topic to go before the session. It may be the only one submitted in the governor's first message. When relief is attended to, she has promised to submit other topics. Only those she submits may be acted upon at this "name check" session. Others must wait the regular session of a new legislature next January.

Among the contemplated topics is creation of a state agency to accept proffered federal aid for completion of the Buchanan dam on the Colorado river. Work upon it as a private enterprise ceased with the installment collapse.

Possibly she will submit, also, further remission of penalties against delinquent tax owners. Considerable opposition exists to further tax leniency.

Opinion was divided upon whether she will open up oil legislation to the special session. She has advocated a commission to handle oil and gas, separate from the railroad commission. A bill to that effect passed the house at a former session but was blocked in the senate. Bolstering of the present laws under which the railroad commission is attempting to regulate gas and oil production may also get before the special session.

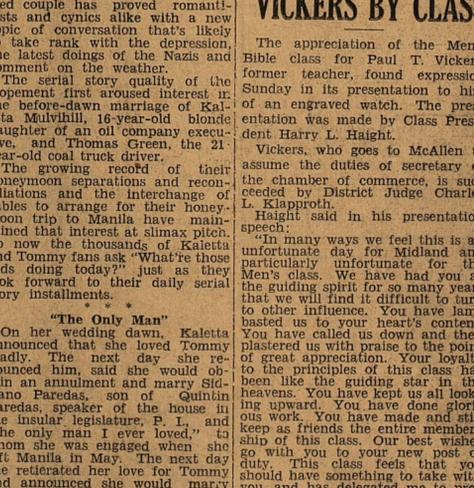

A flood of requests has come to the governor for the submission of local bills. These, usually, are held back until major topics have received action.

The senate will have before it for confirmation a number of appointments made by the governor since the last session. These include:

- Fred S. Rogers Austin, (formerly of Bonham) as member of state board of pardons and paroles.
- Dr. George F. Bellas, San Antonio, member of the state board of dental examiners.
- M. E. Dooley, Wolfe City, member of the state pharmacy board.
- E. B. Lewis, Center, district attorney.
- L. C. Puckett, as member of state embalming board.

Without submission by the governor, the legislature can again vote (See SPECIAL SESSION, page 4)

CHINA PAYS APPALLING TOLL FOR WEAKNESS

Half a million people may starve to death this summer because of the drought.

Not in a century has there been a drought so severe. Crops have withered under a blazing sun which has kept the temperature at 115 degrees, day and night, for weeks. Rivers have dried up, springs have stopped flowing.

There is no food to be had at all, over wide areas; in scores of villages and towns even the supply of drinking water has become exhausted.

The federal government wants to do something to relieve suffering, but it is so weak, so overburdened with previous efforts to combat the drought and so short of funds that it is very doubtful that it will be able to do anything effective.

These few sentences present a living nightmare. They do not apply, of course, to the United States. They do apply, however, to China. They were taken from a recent news dispatch telling of the horrible crisis which China is facing this summer.

The Chinese drought is one of the worst in living memory. So is the one that has hit the United States. Indeed, the weather seems to have been about the same in each nation—much heat, no rain, a steady depletion of all water supplies, a burning and blistering of all growing things.

In the United States it has meant great financial loss for the farmers and higher prices for the city dwellers.

In China it is meaning nothing less than wide-spread starvation—people dying by the scores of thousands because they cannot get food and water.

The contrast is instructive. The disaster was the same, in each case; but in one land there was a social and economic organization capable of meeting the crisis, while in the other land there was not.

In other words, these terrible natural catastrophes that come upon us every so often can be robbed of their worst terrors if society is organized to meet them properly.

Mankind can triumph over nature if it will. Its worst dangers are those which come when the human element itself proves incapable of meeting the challenge which fate periodically offers.

SCHOOLS AND SCHOOLS

Twelve English schoolboys, says a cable from London, are about to start for the United States, to spend a year in an American private school. They are going on scholarships as part of a scheme to promote better understanding between the two nations.

Laudable as the idea is, there are people who would praise it a little more enthusiastically if they knew just what private school these lads are to attend. For there are, in the United States, private schools and private schools.

Some of them are very excellent indeed, and some of them are pale and snobbish imitations of English schools; and it is to be hoped that these young Britishers don't get into one of the latter variety.

A young Englishman tossed into the right kind of American school could learn much about this country. If he got into the wrong kind, however—the insufferable kind where headmaster, instructors and old grads all feel vaguely ashamed because the school isn't an exact duplicate of Eton or Rugby—he would simply be wasting a year.

Scientists agree that radio isn't the cause of the drought. Huh! We could have told 'em that. Too many programs are all wet.

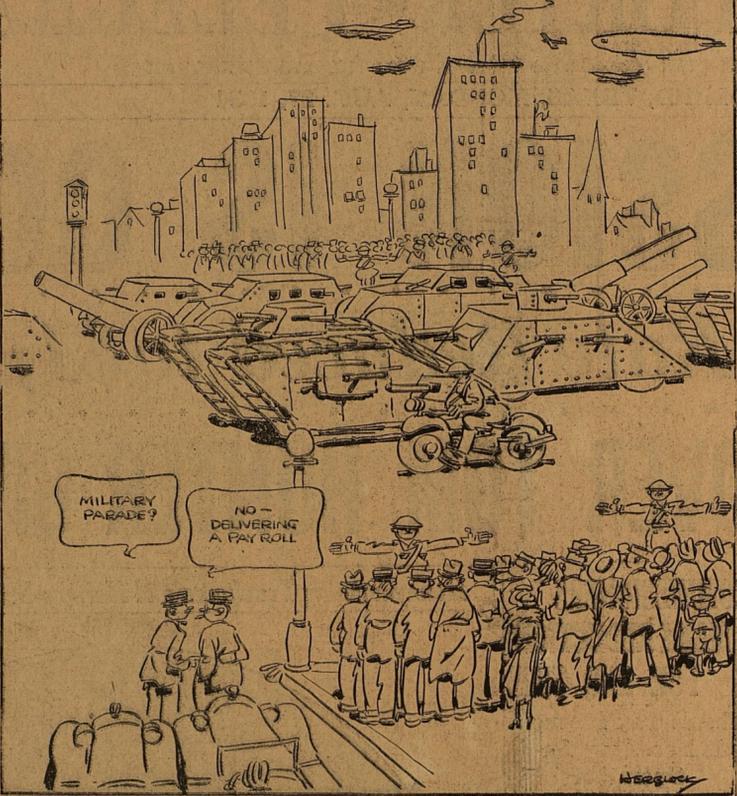

Speaking of giving America back to the Indians, maybe we could give Louisiana back to the French, if they'd agree to take Huey Long with it.

Social Science to Be Afforded Studes

AUSTIN-Fifty Texas college graduates interested in social work will receive scholarships entitling them to a semester of training at one of four colleges at St. Louis, New Orleans, and Atlanta. It was announced today by Val M. Keating, social service consultant of the Texas Relief Commission. These scholarships, made available by the federal emergency relief administration, will be awarded to students between 21 and 35 years of age who have had some undergraduate work in the social sciences. Those accepting the scholarships will be expected to remain after their period of training, on the staff of the relief commission for one year. A majority of the students will be selected from the staffs of the county welfare boards. Schools which they will attend are Tulane, New Orleans; and Washington and St. Louis universities at St. Louis. Negro students selected will go to the Atlanta School of Social Work for negro students in Georgia. The scholarships will include tuition and a minimum for maintenance, and are made possible from the fund available for training purposes in Texas. Other proposals for training welfare workers in Texas include a six-week institute at Dallas beginning October 1, for relief workers and a small group of carefully selected college graduates; employment of an itinerant case worker from October 1 to May 15 to conduct schools in various sections of the state for members of the case work staffs; four and one-half months of supervised work for college graduates at Dallas; six weeks institute beginning April 1 at Dallas for relief workers and college group. The total expenditure for this training including the scholarships will be about $23,000, Mrs. Keating said.

SORRY I ROBBED YOUR TRAPS, CHARLIE... I KNOW IT WASNT RIGHT... AND I PROMISE I WONT TAKE NOTHING FROM NOBODY AGAIN! I'M AWFUL SORRY!

THAT'S ALL RIGHT, BATEESE... WE'LL LET BYGONES BE BYGONES! I CAN FORGIVE ANY MAN WHO MAKES MISTAKES AND THEN RESOLVES TO CHANGE HIS WAYS! LET'S FORGET IT!!

GLAD YOU FEEL THAT WAY, CHARLIE... SO LONG, AND GOOD LUCK!

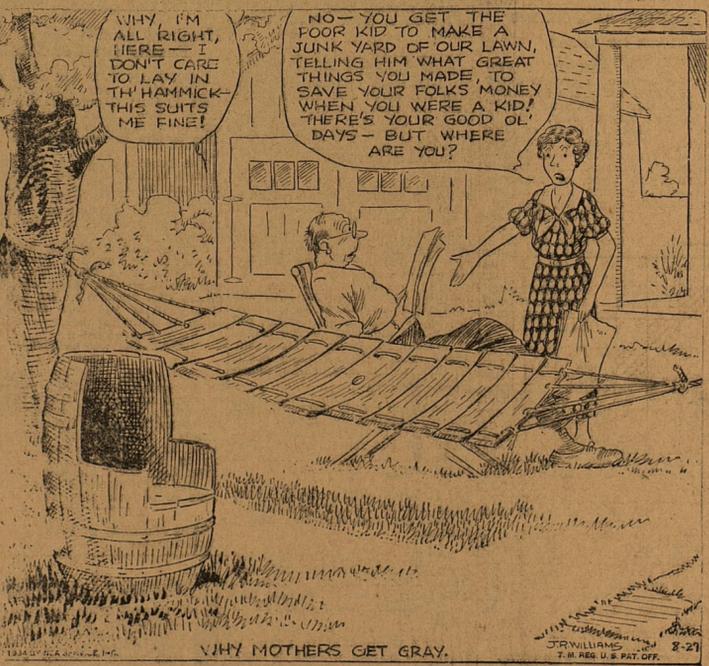

WHAT MADE CHARLIE SUDDENLY SPRING INTO ACTION? WHAT HAS HE DISCOVERED?

WHY I'M ALL RIGHT, HERE - I DON'T CARE TO LAY IN TH' HAMMICK - THIS SUITS ME FINE!

NO - YOU GET THE FOOR KID TO MAKE A JUNK YARD OF OUR LAWN, TELLING HIM WHAT GREAT THINGS YOU MADE, TO SAVE YOUR FOLKS MONEY WHEN YOU WERE A KID! THERE'S YOUR GOOD OL' DAYS - BUT WHERE ARE YOU?

WELL, BROTHER SAPS, HERE WE ARE, LEFT WITH FOUR BITS! TAKE IT DOWN, CHARLEY, AND PUT IT IN THE HOTEL SAFE, BEFORE THAT HOOPLE MUG COMES BACK AN' WINS IT OFF US IN A SPELLING BEE OF THREE-LETTER WORDS!

YOU DID A SWELL PIECE OF PICKING, DUKE, WHEN YOU PUT TH' FINGER ON THAT GUY AS BEING SOFT WOOD TO WHITTLE.

SAY - HOW ARE WE GONNA HURDLE TH' HOTEL BILL, NOW? THEY'LL KEEP US ON TH' LEASH, HERE, FOR SIX MONTHS, PAYING IT OFF IN DISHWATER!

EVIDENTLY THE MAJOR MOPPED UP!
