Dr. Sanders, Mrs. Horton Speak At St. Thomas Meet

Parishioners of St. Thomas catholic church made plans to provide a permanent clinic for the ill child conference, held weekly by Dr. Nell White Sanders and Mrs. Louise Horton, when they met Monday evening at the church.

Started in 1945 Dr. Sanders and Mrs. Horton have held the clinic week for the purpose of caring for Latin American children who are unable to pay for proper medical treatment. Physical examinations and immunizations have been given for nearly two years, and Dr. Sanders pointed out, in beginning to show results. No diptheria was reported last year, nor as there any typhoid, although sanitation in that area could easily use the disease and its spread, he stated.

Dr. Sanders pointed out that although the clinic was originally set up for the Latin-Americans there is no color line, and that now some Negroes have attended the clinics. There were some white children who came for the small pox immunizations, she added.

She declared that the dire need now is for a place where vaccine and records can be stored permanently. She reminded that if a clinic were established that the likelihood that other doctors would become interested would be greater. She added that such a health center would be an economy, rather than an expense to the city, stating that one child can start an epidemic.

Mrs. Louise Horton, city-council health nurse, told the church group that since the clinic was opened there had been a total of 4,863 inoculation shots had been administered. Of that amount there were 1,002 for diptheria, 792 for small pox, 1312 for typhoid and 1003 for whooping cough. She continued that 154 had been given shick tests, and 53 tuberculosis patch tests had been made. Mrs. Horton estimated that an average of 115 attend the clinic each week.

Following the reports given by Dr. Sanders and Mrs. Horton discussion was heard from the church members on what can be done to assist in the improved health conditions. The church had previously chosen the clinic as its project for 1947. Rev. Theo Francis appointed a committee which he will head to make plans for contributing to the movement. Others on the group will be Frank B. Smith, Mrs. C. W. Deats and Mrs. L. D. Jenkins.

Announcement was made that a church bingo party will be held on Feb. 14.

Those who attended the meeting were Father Francis, Mrs. Horton, Dr. Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Iserman, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. O'Keefe, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rueckart, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Settles, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kloesel, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dehlinger, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Burl McAllen, Mrs. J. M. Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Barconate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

Committee To Probe Long Wait Of Ex-GIs For Hospitalization

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Complaints that former GI's are being required to wait too long for hospitalization will be investigated by the House Veterans Committee, Chairman Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass) announced today. The investigation will be handled by a subcommittee headed by Rep. Kearney (R-NY), a veteran of World War I.

The subcommittee, Mrs. Rogers told reporters, will inquire primarily into the adequacy of hospitals operated by the Veterans Administration.

Miss Ferguson Featured In Newspaper Story

Frances Ferguson, a life-long shut-in who perennially radiates good cheer, was featured Sunday in a story carried by the Reporter-Telegram at Midland.

As a long-time resident of Big Spring, Frances is remembered by many here who will not be surprised to learn she still is devoting herself to others.

Among her many activities is that of teacher of a Sunday school class at the First Methodist church in Midland. While residing here, she was once group captain for a group of church women. Although she has been a cripple from birth and has had 69 broken bones in her lifetime, she continues to do just about everything for herself. She still has hobbies, including the ship collection of which she was so fond while living in Big Spring. She keeps alive her many friendships, including a particularly close one with Shine Phillips, Big Spring.

Miss Ferguson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ferguson.

The committee has received many complaints about delays experienced by veterans seeking hospitalization and entitled to it under the law, Mrs. Rogers said.

Despite "repeated promises" that more hospital beds would be forthcoming for women veterans, she said, an acute shortage still exists.

Mrs. Rogers said she is far from satisfied with the speed with which new hospitals are being put into operation.

"We set $500,000,000 aside for veterans' medical research and care three years ago when we passed the G.I. Bill of Rights," she declared. "I'd like to see that program taking shape."

Mrs. Rogers called her committee together today for its first hearings on veterans' legislative proposals for the new congress.

MANILA, Jan. 28. (AP)—An American military commission today convicted three Japanese naval officers of war crimes for beheading four US 13th Airforce corporals who bailed out of a B-24 bomber over Celebes on June 25, 1945.

Capt. Minorou Toyama, second in command of the Makassar naval base, was given life imprisonment and Junior Lieutenants Yoshiyuki Nakamura and Toyaki Inagaki were sentenced to 25 years.

The base commander was sentenced to life in an earlier trial. The corporals, only survivors of a crash which killed six officers, included Gerald D. Carson, Durant, Okla.

Fort McIntosh Will Be Sold

FORT WORTH, Jan. 28. (AP)—Ancient Fort McIntosh at Laredo has been put up for sale, it was announced yesterday, bringing to an end a colorful existence that has seen troops of Spain, Mexico, the Confederacy and the United States.

Announcement of sale of buildings at the fort was made by Marshall W. Amis, regional director of the federal public housing authority. Only the chapel will not be sold on a priority basis. It will be disposed of separately, he said. Assets include 156 buildings, a railroad spur, swimming pool and 207 acres of land.

The fort was named on January 7, 1850, when it was christened for Lt. Col. James S. McIntosh, of Georgia, who died in Mexico City in 1848 from wounds received in the battle of Molina Del Rey.

YMCA To Help Collect Big Fund For Youth

Beginning in February, the local YMCA will participate with 1,400 similar organizations in the United States and Canada in raising the largest peace-time World Youth Fund in history, W. R. Dawes, general secretary, announced today.

Total goal has been set at $8,600,000, and the Big Spring unit's quota is $500, Dawes said. However, there will be no general appeal or public fund raising campaign here, Dawes advised, since the YMCA hopes to raise the quota by voluntary gifts from members and friends. A. V. Karcher, who is a representative on the regional World Youth Fund committee, is local fund chairman.

Purpose of the fund is to rebuild facilities destroyed during the war and to help restore approximately 600 secretaries and their families who served in war stricken countries. Dawes said the organization lost about 600 secretaries during the war through death in concentration camps, death before firing squads and starvation and that their families suffered similar misfortunes.

Templars Reset Date For Meeting

Dates have been reset for April 27-30 for the Grand Commandry of Texas Knights of Templar.

Previously the state meeting had been set for April 12-13 but was postponed due to conflicts of fraternal meetings in other southwestern states. The session, which likely will be attended by several from the Big Spring commandry, will be held in San Angelo.

COMPLETE MOVING SERVICE—Kyle Gray Transfer company, specializing in furniture, general drayage, feed and cattle transport, offers complete moving service over a five state radius. Not only is the company in a position to move material with its fleet of nine trucks, but it has an outstanding safety record behind it.

None of the Kyle Gray trucks have had mishaps involving other vehicles since he began operation of his business in 1936 and expanded it in 1940. As to versatility of his staff, he points to how they have handled all sorts of jobs—including the moving of five hives of bees. (Photo by Jack Haynes).

Gray Transfer Now Covers Five States In Area

The quick, competent service of the Kyle Gray Transfer company has won a name for the owner, Kyle Gray, who opened a small trucking concern in Big Spring back in 1936, and has seen it grow into one of West Texas' leading transfer companies. Taking over the transfer business in 1940, Gray expanded his service to customers and during the years has increased business to the extent that the company is now hauling furniture, feed and livestock in five states that include Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas and Louisiana. Their safety record is outstanding. Nine moving vans and cattle trucks are operated by experienced drivers who have achieved an enviable record for the concern. "We haven't had any wrecks involving other vehicles since we started business a long time ago," Gray states.

Becoming more popular is Gray's service of packing and moving household goods to any point within the five state radius. "If a family so desires, they can leave the unpleasant part of moving to us," Gray says. Drivers carefully pack everything from China to pictures and table lamps along with furniture and other household furnishings.

VENETIAN BLINDS CUSTOM MADE TO YOUR OWN SPECIFICATIONS

The recently opened venetian are now for a salesman to cover blind factory of the Big Spring Paint and Paper store, is now practically complete in its equipment and can turn out blinds within a week of their order. O. L. Nabors, owner of both the factory and the store, declared that all essential machines are now in, and the material situation is favorable to the extent that prompt service can be offered. All sizes of blinds can be made and any color can be provided, if an extra fee for paint is paid. The majority of homeowners, however, choose an off-white, and that is the color selected by the company as its basic shade. In addition to manufacture of new blinds, the local concern is offering repair service in which the fixtures are repainted, re-taped and re-corded. When the job involves as many as four blinds or more, the delivery and installing service is free. Out of town orders are welcomed, and plans classification of furniture, feed or livestock the employees at Gray's haven't decided, but one of their moving projects involved five bee hives along with house furnishings which were shipped by truck to Arkansas. Operating at their new location on the East highway for the past year, the transfer company offers day and night service to those with moving problems.

Driver White Has One-Stop Service

A literal one-stop service for truckers is offered in Big Spring by the Driver White Truck company, 1600 East Third street. The completeness of this service has gained the firm many customers, many of whom have been served during the period when new trucking equipment has not been available. The Driver White Truck company is glad that it could help truckers when new equipment could not be purchased, Curtis Driver, manager said. The local White Truck company maintains a complete servicing shop, operated by experienced personnel, and all truckers have a standing invitation to talk over their truck troubles with the management. Truck accessories carried by the Driver company cover well known merchandise. They include Good-year tires, Champion spark plugs, Willard Batteries, American safety tanks and commercial trailers. In the service department, the Driver company has equipment to do steam cleaning and greasing on trucks to owner's entire satisfaction. The Driver White Truck company also is making available White's "Continuing Control System of Truck Management." The system was worked out by White as an aid to truck owners. In working out the plan, White prepared complete instructions, based on studies of large and small fleets in all types of service, for controlling each of three major factors: correct application of the truck to the work it is to do, improved maintenance designed for each vehicle, and better selection of drivers.

The county tax collector-assessor's department experienced an "$1,100 day" Monday as property owners thronged the office in efforts to beat the Jan. 31 deadline for payment of state, county and common school assessments.

Total collected to date amounts to $240,018.98, which leaves the function $37,425.73 short of its goal.

Zoning

houses, boarding and lodging houses, hotels, private clubs, hospitals (except veterinary) and educational institutions will be permitted. The same rules apply to D classifications. There are two C districts on the south side, nestled between the B areas and the business district, and two in the northwest quarter of town.

Basically, all activity other than for dwelling purposes would be excluded from the residential areas, except for the isolated sections set up for possible neighborhood businesses.

In addition, there are certain height and area regulations. For instance, in the A, B and C districts, all structures would be required to be not nearer than 60 feet from the center of the street line, or not less than 25 from the front property line.

In the A and B sections 35-foot heights (or two and a half story) in construction would be permitted, with some additional height earned by greater side clearances.

Lot area requirements in the various areas for two families would be: B, 6,000; C, 5,000; D, 4,000. In the C and D areas, the lot area would have to represent at least 500 square feet per family.

Veteran Hired As Supervisor

Rainosek Buys Logan Feed And Hatchery

Announcement of the purchase of Logan Feed and Hatchery by E. P. (Jack) Rainosek was made here Monday.

Rainosek, who resides in Odessa at the present time, said that the trade became effective Jan. 22 and that the name of the concern, located at E. 3rd and Young, was being changed to Westex Feed & Hatchery.

Beauford Stuteville, who has been with Vernon Logan, the former owner, for several years, has been named manager of the business. Rainosek said that for the present he would reside in Odessa but that he ultimately planned to move to Big Spring.

The same scope of business will be followed by the Westex Feed & Hatchery, prepared feeds by leading mills, supplements, hay, etc. calculated to fill any livestock and poultry needs.

In addition, Rainosek said that the concern's 85,000 egg hatchery would be put into operation to supply customers in this and other areas with their baby chick needs.

Logan announced that his plans were indefinite, but that he likely would engage in ranching. He started in business in 1925 with his father at Colorado City and came here in 1930 to open his business. Gratitude for support was expressed by Logan, who said he hoped to continue his home here.

Engineer Receives Authority To Survey Highway In County

S. J. Treadaway, Abilene, district engineer for the state highway department, has received authority to make a survey of the section of the Big Spring-Lenora-Andrews highway in Howard county.

In a letter to the Howard county commissioners court, Treadaway said that he had been instructed to make the survey, but that it could not be made at the present time due to shortage of field personnel.

He indicated that he would put crews on the project as soon as possible. The announcement of the authorization was made by County Judge W. S. Morrison and followed on the heels of designation of the section last week by the state highway commission.

The section in Howard county—approximately 12 miles in length—was the last non-designated portion of the route from Big Spring to connect with the New Mexico state line through Andrews. Previously, surveys had been made on the section from Andrews to Lenora, in central Martin county, and contract may be let on this portion sometime the forepart of 1947.

The road from Andrews west to the state line has been completed as a surfaced highway. Designation of the Howard county portion was urged upon the state highway commission and the state highway engineer in Austin on Dec. 10 by the retiring and incoming commissioners courts, together with chamber of commerce representatives.

Careless Shooting Of Air Rifles Hit

Several complaints on careless shooting of air rifles, especially in the south part of town, have been made to the officials during the past few days, Herbert W. Whitney, acting city manager, reported today.

The city will not seek to prohibit boys from shooting air rifles, Whitney said, but more care will be urged, and the boys are being asked to refrain from using their rifles in residential areas. Some broken windows have been reported in the complaints, he said.

Parking Meters Get Queer Coins

Big Spring police warned today that insertion of any articles for the purpose of impairing operation of parking meters constitutes a violation of a city ordinance.

Several meters have been inoperative during the past few days due to tampering, officers said, and any subjects apprehended for such offense may expect prosecution.

Obligation To Control Profits

Business is under moral obligation to do something about curbing rampant profits. Labor has been in the spotlight since V-day, particularly because of the prolonged strikes which enforced, in a large measure, wage demands. Now that the wave has spent itself largely, labor has been counseled to undertake further wage demands with utmost reluctance on the grounds that such a step would stimulate the upward price spiral. While there have been exceptions, in the main labor has been slow to press demands. Business is under equal obligation to do its part in combatting inflation by such a simple medium of refraining from lush profits. The CIO argues that price booms since 1945 have been five times the two and half per cent necessary to meet wage increases. This figure may or may not be accurate, and certainly it cannot be applied across the board with fairness due to the variance of the cost of labor in different industries. Too, the material situation enters into the picture. But even if the statement is half right, there is something obviously wrong.

One report, by the National City bank, shows that profits have increased in many lines of business up as high as 156 per cent over 1945. Only the electrical equipment and automotive fields have shown a decline in margin of profit. Now not all businesses have gone hog wild on the subject of profits, and many are entitled to better margins than they were getting, particularly the minority which showed operation losses or so near the borderline as to be precarious. It is noteworthy that industries represented by some of the most forthright leaders in the fight to remove price controls have been the most abusive in the field of terrific profits. They certainly have done little to give substance to their arguments that some competition and production would drive prices down. Competition cannot function with effect unless and until we move out of the period of shortages, and we are not out of these woods yet. Meanwhile, business should exercise temperance in profits in order to keep prices down. Unless it does, it will come to the conference table with labor, ere long, with dirty hands.

The Nation Today—James Marlow—

Compulsory Arbitration Explained

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Is there any one way to stop strikes? Is there any law Congress can pass to stop them? If there is, no one has come up with it. Yet, you'll hear people say: A compulsory arbitration law could stop them. It isn't that simple. Congress won't pass such a law, at least not now. Compulsory arbitration means simply: "I'll decide for you." Neither employers nor unions want the government, through law, to be able to decide their problems for them. Compulsory arbitration would go like this: A union and an employer can't agree. The union threatens to strike. The employer threatens to close down his plant. The government steps in and says: "There can be no strike and no shutdown. This case must be submitted to arbitration." The government would set up one man, or a group of men, as arbitrator. Or the government would order an arbitration board set up this way: One man representing the union, another the boss, and a third the public. After hearing the arguments on both sides, the board would give a decision which would be final. Union and employer would have to accept it. Unions and employers both strongly oppose compulsory arbitration. The National Association of Manufacturers has come out flatly against it. There's no serious talk in Congress of such a step. But why are unions and employers against it? It would take away their freedom to strike or shutdown a plant, freedom to settle problems as they see fit. In short: Freedom to slug it out. Through compulsory arbitration the government would be able to say pretty well what wages should be. If so, the next step would be to say what prices should be. In time, if it set wages, it would have to set prices. If that time came, we'd no longer have what is now called a "free economy." Government would control labor and business.

Compulsory arbitration would not be a guarantee against strikes, while this country pretended to be free, no law could compel men to work. Further, the Supreme Court probably would decide compulsory arbitration was unconstitutional. The reason: It would compel workers and employers to accept working conditions against their will. Some unions and employers have voluntary arbitration agreements. But that's different from a law compelling arbitration. But there is a lot of talk in Congress about setting up mediation for unions and employers as a means of cutting down the number of strikes. Mediation is different from arbitration. Under a mediation law—before there could be a strike or shutdown—union and employer would have to let a government official try to help them settle their problem.

Affairs Of The World—DeWitt MacKenzie

Atomic Issue Must Be Settled

General George C. Kenney, chief of the strategic air command at Andrews Field, Md., tells us that in a future war our United States would be the first target and would be reached by a Trans-Polar assault which might result in a casualty list of 25,000,000 men, women and children in the first 24 hours. The general thus bluntly advised the Women's Patriotic Conference on Defense in Washington. He asserted that, above all, the enemy would strive for a quick knockout, the attack coming over the shortest air routes from the European-Asiatic land mass, across the North Polar basin.

Kenney said the attack would be made "by both piloted and pilotless aircraft, by radio-controlled missiles, by rockets—all loaded with atomic bombs, super-explosives, super-incendiaries, bacterial weapons or whatever means of mass destruction happens to be in vogue at the time." Just to make sure that he got his idea home, the general added that "four atomic bombs of the old Hiroshima-Nagasaki type, properly placed, would knock New York City out of commission."

That's the strong mustard, and obviously is so intended by General Kenney. He has deliberately emphasized one of the gravest dangers of the day—the development of another global conflict which would bring into play not only the atomic bomb but many other fearsome agents of death which have been created since the close of World War II. His purpose naturally is to spur the minds of men to devising ways of averting such catastrophe.

Broadway—Jack O'Brian

Glamor Of Old New York Survives

NEW YORK — Some of the old Broadway observers like O. O. McIntyre frequently were accused of raising corn, or at least over romanticizing the familiar aspects of New York, but I really don't think they did. The same old familiar things along the Big Street always have a fresh appeal. When I take visitors from my home town into the various so-called yoked delights, they seem to get exactly the same kick I got when I first visited New York. They seem to get the identical boot watching the manually adept man in the change booth at the Automat toss out ten nickels exactly. Then they watch with delight as the coffee spurts out exactly to the cup's rim. And they seem to want to see the same places I moseyed among in my early sight-seeing days. CHINATOWN is a calm and law abiding community, but it continues to bear every Oriental suggestion of intrigue and romance. I still am asked that old question about how many opium dens are there, and whether there are underground passageways scooting about beneath the streets. "When was the last tong war?" is a question offered with every expectation of having me answer, "Oh, a couple of weeks ago."

The European attitude that every other American totes an illegal gun under the left armpit is no more popular a misapprehension than our own domestic belief that citizens of Chinese ancestry go about cutting throats and selling narcotics and pretty young girls. I was passing through the bright, narrow streets of Chinatown several days ago, escorting a credulous pair of young ladies from my home town, of high school age. They squealed in delighted apprehension as they pointed out two Chinese standing in what they believed was furtive, threatening fashion, in a dim doorway. A match flickered dramatically on an Oriental face as he lit a cigaret. The girls wanted to cut across Pell St. and escape while there still was time. BUT in that flicker of the match I recognized the face, and called out, "Hello, Jim."

fellow said, coming up and shaking hands. I introduced him to the girls, who lost a little of their frightened manner when Jim said, in a most civilized fashion, as befits a college student, "How do you do?" to each of the youngsters. They were relieved at not having their little necks carved. But I'm sure they were deeply disappointed as Jim went on to explain that since the time when he had worked as a bartender in the hotel where I lived, he had been overseas in the infantry and now was continuing his schooling under the G. I. Bill. He had stopped in that doorway to borrow a light out of the wind. I'm afraid the girls will never get over their disillusionment. A Clean Getaway With The Bath tub TULSA, Okla., (AP)—A routine police report on the burglary of the F. M. Kelly residence contained this revealing information: "Thieves entered the house, took the bathroom equipment, including a tub, lavatory bowl — and all the fixtures."

HOT SEAT

The Nocturnal Tiger

NEW YORK. (AP)—He got so he came every night—that Tiger. He came in my dreams before dawn. I would be snoring away and all of a sudden there would be a great gold and black striped Bengal Tiger crouched on the foot of my bed. He was a beautiful tiger with a terrible smile and a great slowly switching tail. The first time he came I just lay there silently fearful that he would catapult in a fearful arc with me at the end. But the tiger never left his haunches. He yawned with that incredibly smug self-satisfied yawn of the cat family, a delirious contentment of the muscles. Fascinated, I watched the stiff bristled black lips part like waves to disclose the red furnace of his mouth. I tried with my gaze to seize his fiery eyes—black pools in an amber wrapper. He looked indifferently away. Then, through some unfortunate reflex, the big toe of my right foot wiggled. He turned to it with the quick attention of a kitten. He stretched out a fabulous paw—and I awoke, perspiring like a train window on a frigid day. I told my wife about it the next morning. "Quit eating peanuts before going to bed," she said. But that tiger wasn't peanuts. He came again a few nights later. This time he grabbed my right foot in both paws, put his great mouth around it—and I woke up with my wife shaking me and asking why I was mumbling "Help! Help! Help!" She decided the tiger meant

I had too many blankets on the bed. She lightened the covers until I slept in shivering naps. But still the tiger came with his terrible grin. My wife began to think I must have something on my conscience. I read drugstore dreambooks and Freud and Jung and all the other Marco Polos of the sleep world. The dreambooks suggested that such nightmares reflect a feeling of guilt or insecurity. But I never have robbed an orphan or knuckled by mother or wife. And I am eating three meals a day. What did I have to worry about that would dream to a bedside tiger every night? The other day I went to the store and bought a new pair of shoes. I had been wearing a pair left over from before the war. "Been overseas?" asked the clerk. "Yes, why?" "Your feet have grown. Most fellows found they did. You need a larger size. The ones you wore in here must've been killing you." So I bought a larger pair, and boy, they feel wonderful. And for three nights that tiger hasn't come at all. Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — It took breathtaking Bob Gros of California to do what no diplomat or newsmen so far has done regarding the A-bomb and Russia. He got a hint from Soviet Ambassador Novikov that Russia has either the secret of the A-bomb or an adequate defense against it. Mrs. La Felice Dickinson, President of the general federation of women's clubs, headed the delegation and told Truman quite frankly that women generally were disturbed because he hadn't appointed as many women to government jobs as Roosevelt had. She reminded the President that the state department had built up a roster of 80 well-known American women capable of handling important government work and urged him to bring the list up to date. Dr. Katherine McHale, of the Association of University Women, was equally strong in urging the appointment of more women to government.

WASHINGTON — It took breathtaking Bob Gros of California to do what no diplomat or newsmen so far has done regarding the A-bomb and Russia. He got a hint from Soviet Ambassador Novikov that Russia has either the secret of the A-bomb or an adequate defense against it. Mrs. La Felice Dickinson, President of the general federation of women's clubs, headed the delegation and told Truman quite frankly that women generally were disturbed because he hadn't appointed as many women to government jobs as Roosevelt had. Dr. Katherine McHale, of the Association of University Women, was equally strong in urging the appointment of more women to government.

and Anna Lord Strauss, of the League of Women Voters, all assured Truman that they had given Miss Perkins' nomination their full backing. "I watched President Roosevelt work for a long time," Truman continued. "I knew then, but didn't realize fully, just how large a portion of the President's time was taken in finding the right people for the right job. I want you to know that nobody makes my appointments for me. I make them on the basis of my own judgment." Mrs. Dickinson strongly urged the appointment of a woman to the existing vacancy on the Federal Communications Commission, but didn't suggest any names. The women's club leader pointed out that women make up the overwhelming majority of daytime radio listeners, yet had no representation whatsoever on the FCC. (Some of the women present favor Marion Martin, former women's director of the Republican national committee, for the FCC vacancy; others are backing former Congresswoman Chase Going Woodhouse of Connecticut.) Mrs. Dickinson also proposed that a woman be named assistant secretary of state, because of the enormous interest and great stake that the women of the country have in keeping the peace. Truman said the suggestion was interesting. Note—One idea some of the women have discussed but didn't mention to the President, was the appointment of qualified women as assistant secretaries of war and navy.

GEN. MARSHALL ON RUSSIA

When General Marshall took the oath as secretary of state the other day, some of his old friends on the general staff recalled a hitherto untold incident which followed Marshall's sensational press conference in 1941, when he predicted the Red Army would collapse like an accordion before the Nazis. The incident illustrates that though Marshall can make mistakes, he also profits from them. The day after Marshall's press conference on Russia, Gen. Leslie J. McNair, late chief of the army ground forces, walked into a meeting of the general staff and stated flatly he disagreed with his chief. Marshall, however, stuck to his guns, and cited Russia's inability to produce. "George," replied McNair grimly, "you've made a mistake on Russia. I haven't seen their army, but it's a revolutionary army. You couldn't beat Napoleon when his was a revolutionary force. You couldn't beat Washington's revolutionary army, and you'll never beat Stalin." What McNair said made a deep impression on Marshall. Two years later Marshall was talking with a French general in Washington about the collapse of the French army. "We couldn't fight," said the Frenchman. "Our weapons were out of date." "That's not the reason," retorted Marshall. "You could have fought even if you had 1905 rifles, but you didn't. France couldn't fight because it didn't have the courage to fight. You'll see, when the time of liberation comes, the French underground will be a revolutionary underground. Then it will fight."

GEN. VAUGHN'S SPLEEN

A newsmen telephoned White House military aide Gen. Harry Vaughan the other day to check on the rumor that Donald Nelson, former WPB administrator, or Leon Henderson, former OPA administrator, might be placed in charge of war assets. The doughy general, who once boasted that he sold wrist watches on the Russian black market, and whose position close to Truman is based on their old training days in the Missouri national guard, commented respectfully on Nelson, saying that he considered him a man of great ability. Pouncing on the rest of the query, the Missouri general said: "But I'll tell you this much. If the President were forced to make a choice between Leon Henderson and Mickey Mouse, you can bet your last dollar that Mickey Mouse would be a dead cinch to get the appointment." Note—During the war, Henderson was entrusted with organizing OPA, and in the opinion of most observers, performed a thankless but essential job of preventing inflation. Steers Try For Sixth Scarp In Angelo Debate Tonight

Improved Bobcats Also Unbeaten

Given new life through the forfeit handed them by the Abilene high school coaching staff, the Big Spring basketball Steers invale San Angelo this evening to try for their sixth victory in as many starts in 3AA league competition.

The Bobcats come up against a team yet unbeaten in circuit play and obviously improving with each outing. The two quintets split a series earlier in the campaign. Last weekend, while the Longhorns were taking that awful kicking around by the Abilene club, the Bobcats were playing steady, deliberate ball to win the Big Lake Invitational tournament, beating some good teams along the way.

One of San Angelo's league victories came at the expense of the Abilene troupe and that in the War Bird gymnasium.

Steer starters tonight will probably be Capt. Horace Rankin and Eddie Houser at forwards, Delmar Turner at center and Ike Robb and Harold Berry in the back-courts.

Interscholastic league rules insist that a boy attend school at least one day after becoming eligible in order to qualify himself for athletic competition, which is why Elton Poor cost the Abilene Eagles a ball game last Friday night and put Big Spring back on top the 3AA heap.

Poor failed his work last spring and became ineligible for football. He passed enough subjects in the fall term to qualify him but had yet to attend school a full day.

Grantham Opens Gloves Drills

Obie Bristow and Lou Baker, tub-beaters for the Feb. 6-7-8 Golden Gloves boxing tournament here, toured the hinterlands Monday seeking material for the bash convention and came back with assurance that Colorado City and Snyder as well as Lamesa would be represented here.

Most of the scrappers coming in from those areas will be in the high school division, according to Baker, but at least two open entries are due from Lamesa, which last year supplied open champions in the heavyweight and lightweight divisions.

K. C. Grantham, who will probably seek the open welterweight championship here, started his training grind at the Salvation Army citadel last night but says he doesn't intend to don the mittens for at least a week.

Grantham, who is a staff sergeant with the US Army recruiting team here, lives in Coahoma and will probably do most of his training at home. A brother who formerly campaigned in Golden Gloves tournaments will probably help him round into condition.

Two of the regular trainers, George Clutchey and John Williams, were not on hand for the week's opening drills but the scrappers on hand went through brief drills, nonetheless.

Jimmy Eppler, expected to make a major bid for the lightweight championship of the high school division, was present as were Vernon Smith, veteran middleweight, Carroll Cannon, Roy McMillan, Horace Ivey and others.

Clutchey and Williams are expected to be back in harness tonight.

Baylor Thumps TCU, 58 to 46

WACO, Jan. 28. (AP)—Texas Christian university extended its losing streak to 15 straight last night, Baylor scoring a 58-46 victory in a Southwestern conference basketball game.

Never ahead in the game, the Frogs cut the margin with a luke-warm rally against Bear substitutes in the last minutes of play. At the half, Baylor led, 23-16.

Tiny LeRoy Pasco, TCU guard, scored 15 points to take high point honors of the game, with teammate Gene Schmidt next in line with 11. Bill Johnson paced Baylor scoring with 10 points.

Flanagan To Coach COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 28. (AP)—Texas A.&M. college lost a halfback and gained an assistant freshman coach yesterday. Marion Flanagan, regular halfback in 1943 and last fall until injured, said he had decided to quit football as a player.

Flanagan reinjured a knee last year. Coach Homer Norton said he would use Flanagan as assistant frosh coach next season.

BADGERS HEADS PARADE CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (AP)—Wisconsin was back atop the Big Nine basketball standings today by virtue of a field goal by Walt Lautenbach in the last two seconds which defeated Northwestern 45-44.

the Abilene new term did not begin until Monday.

Coach Jake Bentley held him out of the Saturday go with Lamesa, but the Eagles lost that one, anyway. He had not played in any game previous to the Big Spring contest.

The Big Spring officials didn't enter a protest against the boy. Abilene's tutors volunteered the information yesterday.

Ben Earl Shattuck, the Odessa boy who won the sportsmanship award in last year's Golden Gloves tournament here, was beaten in the finals of the Odessa tournament last week while campaigning as a welterweight.

The Odessa scraps drew amazingly good crowds, according to the reports from the Ector county capital.

Joe Langston and Claude McAden, who'll run the business end of the local professional baseball club this year — if such becomes a reality — dropped into town over the weekend to see about moving their worldly goods here from Abilene.

The two have finished their term's work in Abilene colleges and may take spring courses at Howard County Jaycee. Langston was in McMurray, McAden in Hardin-Simmons.

The Longhorn league, which is still on the planning board but gives promise of functioning this year, has been placed in Zone Six of a new minor league setup, whatever that means.

Nine other organizations, ranging from AA to D classification, were grouped with the Long horn family. They are Kansas-Oklahoma-Missouri, Sooner State, East Texas, Evangeline, Texas, W-T-NM, Lone Star, Cotton State leagues and Southern Association.

Presidents of the ten circuits will meet with George Trautman to exchange ideas for the betterment of baseball prior to the season. Trautman is the new minor league czar.

The Boston baseball Braves recently staged a "suggestions-for-improving-Brave Field" contest and gave away such prizes as a new automobile, a bicycle, dozens of nylon hose and season passes to the winners.

All of which brings a question to mind. We're wondering if the Brooklyn Dodgers got their new automobiles as promised by Branch Rickey last fall.

Woody Baker, who had been waiting several days on his application for entry into Texas Christian university, was to have departed this morning for Fort Worth. The Purple baseball coach got his athletic scholarship through Mileaway's talented son will make a bid for an infield post on the Horned Frog diamond team this spring.

Midland's football team will play the same schedule this fall it chugged through in 1946, which means the Bulldogs will meet Brownfield, Plainview, Austin high of El Paso and Ysleta in addition to their regular 3AA commitments.

The Canines won all their non-conference assignments last fall but finished in the league cellar.

Knott Challenges Courtney Tonight Both teams will be trying to move forward a notch in the District 21B standings tonight when the Knott Hillbillies challenge the Courtney Eagles in a basketball game at Courtney.

A victory for Courtney would put the Eagles in a tie for second place with the idle Coahoma Bulldogs. A triumph for Knott, however, would move the Hillbillies into a tie for third place with Courtney.

Abilene Conquers Midland, 30-21 ABILENE, Jan. 28.—Cashing in on 14 of 18 free tosses, the Abilene Eagles found their way back to the victory path Monday night by ousting the Midland Bulldogs 30-21.

The Eagles pushed to the front, 7-5 at the end of the first period, and the Bulldogs never caught up. Duane Hendley, with three field goals and six gratis throws, was top scorer for the night.

Martin, Detton Draw In BSAC Feature Monday

The house record was shattered again last night at Pat O'Dowdy's grapple arena in the West Texas Auction barn and the gladiators responded with perhaps their most engaging performance of the season.

Gorilla Pogi and Johnny Carlin had at it in the opener. Urged on by the spectators who were in his corner for a chance, Pogi disposed of Carlin after spotting the Bostonian a fall.

The Argentine ape-man played second fiddle to the Yankee at making faces and let Carlin hog the spotlight in trying to bully the through but had it when the chips were down.

Carlin copped the first fall with a flip and a spin in 9 1/2 minutes. Referee Olon Boynton coerced John into removing a band of tape from his wrist after that outing, only after he had threatened to send the tin-ear to the showers.

Pogi had complained that it felt too much like sand paper when Carlin played it across his blinkers, which he did often.

A half crab hold evened matters for The Gorilla in just 4 1/2 minutes and the lights went out for Carlin the third time. Out when Pogi forced him to give up with a surboard clasp.

In the grand finale, Wayne Martin and Dory Detton went 60 minutes to a photo finish. The outcome was ever in doubt and both warriors were so spent yet occupied at the end, they didn't hear the final gong.

Detton had won the first fall with a flying head scissors and top body pin in 28 minutes while Martin squared it with a Japanese toe hold in 12 minutes.

Pete Howze and Milas Woods came up with some extraordinary scores during league play. . . In his final game, Milas came home with a 136 while Pete was sweating out a glorious 133. . . Each claimed he had been sabotaged and would return with a gun to get the remainder of the pins.

A couple of boys who haven't bowled with us in a long time were doing all the good Monday night. . . Co-incidentally, their last names are the same. . . Before league play, Doyle Campbell made eight strikes in a row to get a score of 255 and that with a miss in the first frame. . . Then in league play, Wendell Campbell led the Texas Electric-Hiway team in tally-making with a 212.

Fans Urged To Attend Ball Parley Tonight

Tonight's baseball parley in Room Two at the Settles hotel, which has been called by Cliff Wiley, is by no means a closed session.

Fans who desire to lend moral or physical support to the citizens' committee drive for a park-building fund are urged to attend. Starting time is 7 o'clock.

Wiley has expressed belief that the campaign can be wound up in four or five days. Objective is $15,000, which will pay for a steel grandstand and a lighting system.

Lou Baker and Jack Smith, two of the committeemen, have been busy the past week selecting aides for the drive and preparing maps for concentrated action. The committee will be broken up into teams and each group will go to work on an assigned section downtown.

Big Spring's baseball future should be fairly well determined by week's end, Wiley said. Whether or not professional baseball ever returns here, the chairman says a park is needed here for the use of municipal and high school teams.

Yearlings Lose To Sterling 5's

Sterling City basketball teams vanquished two Big Spring Junior high quintets here Monday night but only after Jim McWhorter's brigades had fought them all the way down to the wire.

The Eagle reserves edged the Yearlings, 23-21, in a "sudden death" around, the second overtime period of play.

Sterling's Junior high aggregation eased by McWhorter's bench warmers in another thriller, 18-17. Billy Carlisle, Howard Jones and James Fannin proved outstanding for the Big Spring regulars.

The Yearling mentor plans on taking his charges to San Angelo's invitational tournament this weekend.

Tyler Club Turned Over To Legion By The Associated Press Tyler's Lone Star League baseball franchise will have 500 to 1,000 owners, and it's not a stock deal either.

Three Tyler men — H. M. Bell, banker; Bryan Payne and W. F. Kenney, oil operators and officials of the Tyler club last season, gave the franchise to Favre Baldwin American Legion post.

Here's how it will work: The Legion post will lease the city-owned park — one of the finest in the country and use only one full season since being built in 1940 with federal help. The Legion then will lease the park to Harry Faulkner and Hack Miller, operators of the baseball club, on a flat guarantee per season, plus a percentage, if greater than the guarantee.

Last year there were 1,100 members of the Legion post. This year there already are more than 500 with the membership drive yet to come. Each member will be, in a sense, a shareholder in the baseball club.

McClain To Succeed Trigg On SMU Job

DALLAS, Jan. 28. (AP)—A former Southern Methodist university backfield star, Clinton McClain, yesterday was named line coach of the Mustangs. Head football coach and athletic director Matty Bill said McClain would replace Charlie Trigg, resigned.

McClain played for SMU in 1938-1940. He was backfield coach at New York university last season and played with the Jersey City professional team.

Trigg resigned to become an automobile dealer in Eldorado Texas, Bell said.

WINTER YOUR BEEF HERD ON Protein for profit! Grass, plus protein, is what your Beef Herd needs to keep in good condition during winter months and insure a good calf crop. Grass supplies the carbohydrates cattle need, but winter grass, hay or silage is deficient in protein that is necessary to maintain their bodies and build a strong calf. Cattleman can now get Cottonseed and Soybean Cake and Meal once again! Two pounds, daily, will supply the amount of protein needed by each cow. Feeding this amount of protein concentrates will save you money, because each pound of Cottonseed Cake or Soybean Cake is worth more as a winter feed for beef cattle than three pounds of ground shelled corn.

Stomach Distress Is Gone After 10 Years Of Suffering

A modern oilerrick is as much as 126 feet high and weighs as much as 283 tons.

One man recently stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn out, headachy, swollen with gas and terribly constipated. Recently he started taking INNER-AID and says the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared the second day. Bowels are regular now, gas and headaches are gone and he feels like a new man.

INNER-AID contains 12 Great Herbs: they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores.

SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE HERALD

Mahon Is Urged To Support Deficiency Fund

Rep. George Mahon is being urged to support a deficiency appropriation of $300,000 for the US Geological survey co-operative program.

It is estimated by E. V. Spence, member of the state board of water engineers, that if the appropriation is not forthcoming, the amount of federal funds available for co-operative work with the state board will be curtailed by $11,000. In turn, Spence predicted that this also would mean withdrawal of state funds for some investigative work "as it is quite important that the expenditures of co-operative funds be disbursed equally."

Debate On Mines Damaging British Ships Delayed

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 28. (P)—At the request of Albania, the British delegation expressed willingness today to postpone debate until late this week on its complaint to the United Nations Security Council that Albanian mines damaged two British warships and killed 44 men in Corfu channel last October.

The British consented to postponement to give an official Albanian spokesman a reasonable time to reach New York, but indicated they could not countenance an indefinite delay.

Albanian Premier Enver Hoxha cabled the U. N. Secretariat last Friday that he had appointed Hysni Kapo as his representative and that Kapo and his assistants would "soon depart, but owing to great difficulties of communications it is impossible to fix the date of his arrival in New York."

Until receipt of that communication, Sir Alexander Cadogan, the chief British delegate, had intended to go ahead with a detailed allegation that Albania had obstructed open waters and damaged British warships.

WINDJAMMER UNDER SAIL—The 316-foot, 2,796-ton barque Pamir sails in a favoring wind about 85 miles northeast of Sydney, Australia, after a run from New Zealand with a cargo of timber. The vessel has a steel hull.

Workers Fattening Federal Cash Box

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (P)—An average of 2,000,000 workers are fattening the government's cash box $10,000,000 each year by overpaying social security taxes.

Social security board officials disclosed the figures today with some tips on what to do about it.

The maximum any worker owes for social security is $30 a year regardless of what his salary may be. The tax is one percent on the employer and one percent on the employe on wages up to $3,000 a year.

The $10,000,000 total of overpayments averaged in recent years isn't all "gravy" for the government, for some workers — and employers, when the overpayment results from a "mistake" — get refunds. These amounted to $2,939,000 for the last year reported.

No one gets a refund without applying for it, however, and without convincing evidence that his taxes were overpaid. Neither does he get any extra credit toward federal old age and survivors insurance by leaving the extra money with the government.

Officials said there are several ways in which overpayments occur:

Bender Proposes Drastic Cut In Govt. Spending

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (P)—Rep. Bender (R-Ohio), proposed today that congress slash spending for "normal government functions" 25 per cent below the 1932 outlay.

"I want to do what President Roosevelt promised to do in his first campaign for president," Bender told reporters as he announced that he is preparing legislation to carry out this latest economy suggestion.

Bender did not make clear immediately how much of a saving his proposal might effect if adopted.

Total government spending in 1932 amounted to $4,948,000,000. But of that amount only $2,641,000,000 is listed under "civil and miscellaneous" expenditures—that is exclusive of defense, pensions and interest on the debt.

President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget for next year includes only $1,427,000,000 for "general government" but some $13,700,000,000 is allotted for items other than defense, veterans and the debt.

It was Bender who, at the outset of the first GOP-dominated congress in 16 years, sent each Republican member a new broom bearing this tag: "Here's yours; let's do the job."

Feb. 8 Deadline For C-C Voting

Ballots for election of new directors for the Big Spring chamber of commerce have been mailed to members and Feb. 8 has been set as the deadline for voting. J. H. Greene, chamber manager, announced today.

There are 30 names listed on the ballots, and 10 new two-year term directors are to be elected by the membership. After the election, the new directors will meet with the 10 holdover directors and elect others to complete the slate and also choose new officers for the year. The directors elected by the membership may choose up to 10 others to serve for a one-year term.

Greene urged members to submit their marked ballots as rapidly as possible. It is necessary to close the voting on Feb. 8, he said, in order that the directors may meet and elect officers before the annual banquet scheduled for Feb. 18.
