PRODUCERS MAY ENJOY NEIGHBORHOOD MOVIES

Somehow or other the people of the United States, the common people who go no farther than the neighborhood movie house for their entertainment, seem to be a class entirely apart from those great industrialists to whom they look for their future welfare and morals.

Take the movie industry, as an example. High up in the steel towers of New York, or out in the guarded studios of Hollywood, sit the Mayers and the Warners and the Goldwyns with no other contact with the millions who daily enjoy their products than the money that comes streaming to them through long devious channels.

All they know about the likes and dislikes of their patrons comes to them only through reports of their hireings or criticisms in the newspapers. Direct contact with the people themselves, where they may hear and feel the truth about their pictures, these potentates of the screen rarely if ever attain.

For it is only through the neighborhood movie house in the larger cities, and the one or two theaters in the smaller towns out in the country, that the reactions of the American people to the new productions can be gauged properly. Such little theaters are in the majority in this country and these most of us common folk attend.

Let one of these chief executives visit a neighborhood movie theater on a Saturday or Sunday afternoon, or any evening of the week, and he will have a far different feeling than any he might have had at the premiere of his latest production on the city's leading screen.

The reason is that children attend these neighborhood shows, with their parents, and children are the most natural and outspoken of critics. They give vent to their emotions by yelling and applauding and booing; and if you will just analyze these reactions, in the light of the pictures presented, you will find that the young ones are pretty fair judges, at that.

You will find that the children boo down the pictures which their elders have been trying to have outlawed or restricted in deference to the moral education of these same youngsters. You will find that pure entertainment, with a loud and hearty laugh, is most to be desired.

And you'll find finally what Hollywood only lately has discovered, that those undying children's classics like 'Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" and "David Copperfield" and "Little Women" are far more enjoyed than any picture Mae West could give us.

Perhaps, after all, those sitting atop the movie towers are noticing this truth, or are heeding those who have, for word comes that we shall see more of the older classics and less of the sexy stuff.

"... WHICH IS ABSURD"

In the days when we struggled through geometry, we all met that method of disproof which led up to a final conclusion ". . . . which is absurd."

The kind of dictatorship which insists that people shall have only such plays, books, movies, and newspapers as the rulers believe are best for them, always runs afoul of these absurdities in wholesale lots.

"TOOK ALL KINDS OF PILLS, THEN CEREAL BROUGHT RELIEF"

Constipation, Due to Insuffi-cient "Bulk," Relieved by Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

A fine letter from Mrs. Snyder: "I have had trouble" with my bowels for years, taking all kinds of pills and drugs, with no relief.

"One year ago, I saw Kellogg's ALL-Bran and bought a package. I have good movements every day. I am 73 years old. I am telling my friends what bran has done for me."—Mrs. Sallie Snyder, 918 N. Craft Ave., Hollywood, Cal.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

Research shows that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B, as well as iron, an element of the blood. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient to correct common constipation. With each meal, in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN resists digestion better than the "bulk" in leafy vegetables. How much better to use this food in place of patent much money the Townsendites have collected for their old age pension drive and how the money is spent was being discussed late Thursday on Capitol Hill.

Chairman Doughton (Dem., N.C.) of the house ways and means committee said he thought the committee should look into contributions to the Townsend plan association.

Rep. Blanton (Dem., Texas) said there was evidence an "enormous sum" had been collected from "unsuspecting, credulous old people who can't afford it." He indicated members of the Townsend clubs were asked to pay 25 cents for a pamphict and that Townsendites claim a membership of 22,000,000.

Dr. F. E. Townsend, author of the plan to pay every one over 60 a $200 monthly pension if they would quit work, quickly denied any "enormous sum." He said $40,000 had been collected.
