ROOSEVELT THIRD YEAR OPENS WITH NEWER TROUBLES

Work Relief Bill Is Faced Today with New Demands

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4. (AP)—New troubles for the administration in connection with the $4,880,000,000 relief bill appeared today with a democratic demand that the treasury furnish the Senate with a list of projects for which public works money had been allocated but impounded for other purposes.

In spite of a stubborn Congress and congressional attacks on his New Deal projects, President Roosevelt headed into the second half of his administration apparently confident his major objectives and the country's good are synonymous.

The President, aware that Congress is in a belligerent mood, compared with its docile attitude of two years ago, is planning new strategy to get the essential points of his program into effect.

Finding many Democrats and some progressive Republicans against him, for the moment at least, the President was reported by intimates to be getting ready for a test of his power against theirs.

Surprised by Rebellion
Evidences of the President's determination to push his own program through Congress and to beat down oppositions he opposes, already have impressed Democrats and Republicans alike during the dispute over the $4,880,000,000 (billions) work relief program and the movement for the cash payment of the soldiers' bonus.

Nevertheless, the rebellious attitude adopted by Congress on the work-relief bill after the Senate had defeated his World Court proposal, came as a surprise to the Chief Executive. Confusion over his social security program and the antagonistic attitude assumed in Congress against extension of NRA, also were not anticipated.

Enactment of these three propositions, plus passage of annual supply bills, are considered by Mr. Roosevelt's lieutenants essential to the success of the administration in the next year and to the reelection of the President in 1936.

Room for Argument
All other propositions, such as broadening authority of the Farm Administration, regulating utility holding companies, placing all forms of transportation regulation under one Federal agency, and revision of banking legislation, forming a major portion of the President's program, are held as desirable but not necessarily essential.

The legislative expression of Mr. Roosevelt's policy on all known NRA, AAA, FEERA, FDIC and the rest of the alphabetical agencies. But the accomplishments of the administration at which he is being backward or forward provide material for disputes wherever partisans gather.

Health Still Excellent
White House supporters point to the banking system; the rising business index and many other signs. The opposition refers to the $10,000,000,000 national debt, the gigantic public debt; the power given the President; the challenges in the courts; and the possibility of drastic inflation.

Although 20,000,000 are on direct and indirect relief, in the last two years there have been substantial increases in employment in some industries and in different sections of the country.

Most farm prices have risen, but food prices to consumers have risen to the point where complaints are being heard in cities. For almost every pro there is a con.

Physically and mentally, too, Mr. Roosevelt has stood the grind well. He can still chuckle readily and his physician says his health is excellent.

RAPE CASE GOES TO TRIAL TODAY

Trial of Francisco Torres, charged with rape, began in district court here this morning as the criminal docket was called.

The jury was completed at 11 o'clock and testimony started at 11:30. District Attorney Cecil Coltrane is prosecuting, and T. D. Kimbrough defending the Mexican. The case had been continued from the last term of court.

Indictments returned by the grand jury last week, approximately eight in number, were heard by the court and trial was set for the week of March 18.

MIDLAND PASTOR CLOSES REVIVAL

More than thirty additions to the various churches of Wink were added during the revival meeting held by the Rev. Winston F. Borum, Midland Baptist pastor, closing last Wednesday night. Church leaders here commended highly the able preaching of the Midland man and expressed satisfaction with results.

The Rev. Borum this week will conduct a Baptist training school for young people's work at Monahan. It is a part of the program being conducted throughout the western end of Texas. The Big Spring Baptist association will hold the school in its various towns the following week.

FORT WORTH TRIPPERS RE-ROUTE WEST TEXAS VISIT; PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN HERE WEDNESDAY A. M.

Fort Worth "trippers" spending Tuesday night here on a tour of West Texas cities to advertise the approaching Southwestern Exposition & Fat Stock Show, have changed their itinerary in such a way that they will not reach Midland until 9:30 at night, it was announced today.

The entertainment program, at which time Dr. W. E. Ryan, president of the chamber of commerce, Mayor M. C. Ulmer and other civic leaders will greet the party, will be given Wednesday morning prior to departure of the visitors rather than Tuesday evening.

The change was brought about through decision of the Fort Worth delegation to go from Lamesa west to Seminole, thence to Odessa and back here. They will visit Big Spring Wednesday morning, continuing eastward.

FT. WORTH LEADERS COMPOSE THE PARTY
Twenty-six West Texas cities will be visited today, tomorrow and Wednesday by those members of the Roundup Club who are making the organization's fourth of a series of six tours in the interest of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show here March 15 to 24.

The itinerary will take the Stock Show ambassadors through much of the range country where graze the pubred herds from which are selected many of the prize winning entries to be seen at the Exposition.

More buyers are expected at the show this year than ever before, John B. Davis, secretary-manager of the exposition, announced in telling those in charge of the tour that they should suggest to their West Texas neighbors that entries be increased in feeder and stocker divisions.

Buyers will be here from virtually every section of the United States and in large numbers from south Northern States as Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, Illinois and Missouri, to bid at the auction sales, which are a feature of the Exposition.

An auction sale for feeder cattle in carload lots was introduced at the Exposition for the first time last year when consignments sold at satisfactory prices, officials of the Exposition explained.

W. O. Gatten is chairman of the tour. A group of rodeo performers increased and Lucas and Cleone Holcomb, cowgirls, and Bob Calen, the singing roper of the rodeo, will go along.

Officers who will make the three-day tour, which will start at the Chamber of Commerce at 7 a. m. today, are:

J. Ferrell, Cities Service Oil Co.; W. S. Shelton, county clerk; Champ Clark, First National Bank; E. D. Ebersole, Blackstone Hotel; T. B. Baker, Texas Hotel; E. C. Jordan, Monning Dry Goods Company; Guy Hukel, Armour & Co.; Campell Smith, Waples-Plattner; F. A. Moore, Fort Worth Paper Company; Zeta

Grecian Military Strength Massed

ATHENS, Greece, Mar. 4. (AP)—Harassed on two fronts, the Greek government today dispatched infantry, artillery and warships into Macedonia, Crete and the Aegean sea against rebels who thus far had swept all before them.

Twenty-two bombing planes took off there to bomb warships which put to sea under command of rebel officers.

It was reported that government airplanes wrecked the home of former Premier Venizelos, leader of the revolution.

ATHENS, Greece, March 4. (AP)—Revolt against the Greek Government spread Sunday to Thrace and Macedonia, important sections of the mainland, with the island of Crete already in the hands of revolutionaries.

As the harassed Government called out naval reserves, reports came that the rebellion had reached Alexandropolis and other towns in Thrace, in the northeastern corner of Greece, between Macedonia and Turkey.

Information that Seres, Eastern Macedonia, had been recaptured from the rebels indicated the uprising is more extensive than at first believed. This was the first news of disturbances in that section.

Loyal airplanes struck again at the five naval vessels manned by rebels, standing off the shores of Crete.

Former Premier Rebels
Former Premier Eleutherios Venizelos openly joined the forces of sedition in Crete, where he lives. He became head of an anti-Government movement which hourly grew more serious.

Athens was quiet, although under martial law and in a state of siege. Following strict censorship, the Government suspended some sections of the Constitution.

The Government announced that aircraft had located the five ships which they pursued Saturday down the Aegean Sea, overtaking the Cruiser Averoff and scoring a direct hit with an aerial bomb while the vessel lay in Souda Bay, near Crete.

Watchers from the shore said a huge column of smoke arose from the ship after the bomb struck, leading to the belief that it might have been put out of action.

Reports telling of the arrival of five ships in Crete said three of them were severely damaged.

SAM R. WEAVER, BUSINESS LEADER HERE, DIES SUNDAY; FUNERAL IS HELD AT BIG SPRING THIS MORNING

Sam R. Weaver, 40, manager of the Midland Hardware & Furniture company, died Sunday morning at 8 o'clock after an illness which had lasted for almost five months. He had been at a Big Spring hospital for several weeks, pneumonia setting up after an operation and forming the immediate cause of his death.

Funeral services were held at the Eberly funeral home, Big Spring, this morning at 10 o'clock, the Rev. Winston F. Borum, Midland Baptist pastor officiating. Scores of local citizens, friends of the Weaver family, drove there for the service. The body will be taken by way of Fort Worth, where Mr. Weaver's mother is ill, to Memphis, Tenn., for burial, with final rites there tomorrow.

Mrs. Sam R. Weaver and her ten-year old daughter, Rebecca Rae, survive. Other immediate survivors are his mother, Mrs. Willie Weaver of Fort Worth, and five brothers, E. E. and K. C. Weaver of Fort Worth, J. C. Weaver of Matthews, Tex., J. C. Weaver of Houston and J. R. Weaver of Lansing, Mich.

The Michigan brother flew to Dallas upon receipt of news several days ago that death was expected.

Born at Garland, Tex., Sam R. Weaver was educated in the public schools there. He went to work for the Burton Lingo company in 1916, continuing until America entered the world war. He then joined the army and saw eighteen months' service overseas. After his discharge, he again went to work for the Burton Lingo company, being located at Mineral Wells, Merkel and later at Big Spring. There he served as chamber of commerce president, member of the school board and other capacities of civic leadership.

He was transferred then to Midland and then to Midland two years ago as manager of the hardware firm of which Willard Burton of Fort Worth is president.

While living here, Mr. Weaver was a director in the chamber of commerce, was a member of the Rotary club and identified himself with measures of civic progress. Under his leadership, the business of which he was manager expanded its territory in the sale of nationally known products of which it was distributor.

He and Mrs. Weaver had been married for eighteen years. The burial Tuesday will be at the cemetery where her relatives are buried. Her father, J. R. Wood, lives at Memphis. He had been at Big Spring at the bedside of his son-in-law for several days, returning to Memphis Saturday.

A number of family friends, including a delegation of seven members of the Midland Rotary club, went to Big Spring yesterday morning upon receipt of news of Mr. Weaver's death.

Ward's 60-Year Verdict Affirmed

John F. Ward, sentenced here last fall to 60 years in the state penitentiary on conviction of murder of George Tom at Stanton, must serve the sentence, according to a verdict rendered last Wednesday by the court of criminal appeals at Austin.

Ward still in jail here, had appealed the sentence. Officers said today he probably would be removed to the penitentiary at an early date.

THREE KILLED, BUILDINGS ARE BADLY DAMAGED

Forney, Rockwall in Center of Storm Early Today

FORNEY, Tex., Mar. 4. (AP)—A tornado ripped through this farming community early today.

A negro farmer and two negro children were reported killed, Mrs. B. G. Edwards was injured and damage at Forney alone was estimated at upwards of $100,000.

Communication lines were disrupted, seven large buildings in Forney were wrecked and about 100 homes damaged, some completely demolished.

Two warehouses containing 1,000 bales of cotton were ripped to pieces, a depot was unroofed, a store blown about, knocked about and numerous hay barns blown down.

At Rockwall, farther north, the storm damaged two drug stores and unroofed numerous barns and out-houses in the farming section. No one was hurt.

SANDSTORM, RAIN HIT SIMULTANEOUSLY

Midland and vicinity were visited by a shower and sandstorm at the same time Sunday afternoon. A high wind, blowing throughout the day, brought lowering clouds and a rain shower about mid-afternoon. Before the shower had ceased, a rolling cloud of sand approached from the northwest, settling in the midst of the rain and throwing mud on streets, cars and pedestrians. A hard sandstorm blew at Seminole and on the plains to the north.

Wind velocity increased sharply around noon today and at one o'clock, had reached 22 miles an hour on the ground's surface, army records heretofore held. Readings on the winds aloft are not taken at the noon hour but were believed to have increased considerably.

Gulf Ordivician Attains Title of World's Deepest

By PAUL OSBORNE
West Texas today claimed the record for the deepest drilling operation in the world when Gulf Production Company No. 103 McElroy, Ordivician test of western Upton county, drilled to below 11,377 feet, a record heretofore held by General Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Berry, in the San Joaquin Valley, California.

The better than two mile deep Gulf test was spudded on March 21, 1933, and except for a month shut down last December to comply with NRA rulings, has been making holes for its performance on so outstanding a record.

Ray Albaugh, No. 1 Robinson, Dawson county, wildcat well was shut down this morning at 4,028 feet with a fishing job occasioned when an air pocket blew the tools up the hole. Percentages of time have been recorded in the well from 3,900 feet to the present depth, but solid line is not yet being drilled.

Chief subjects discussed during the day were rural scouting, church cooperation, inter-racial problems of scouting, and "cubbing." "Cubbing" includes activities for boys from 10 to 12 years old, below Scout age.

Formation of plans for sending scouts and scouters to the National Jamboree at Washington, D. C., in the summer were also talked over.

Four cities, Amarillo, Brownwood, San Angelo, and Roswell N. M., have extended invitations for the next conference to be held in October but no definite decision has been made as to the meeting place.

Operation Corrects Misplaced Organs

LEAGUE OF NATIONS NO BETTER THAN ITS MEMBERS

If you have innocently wondered why the League of Nations was quite unable to do anything in the least effective along the line of slowing up Japan's seizure of territory in Manchuria, you might profitably read the current cable dispatches about Italy's dispute with Abyssinia.

Just what has been happening in those sun-smitten outposts along the Ethiopian border is not at all clear—won't be clear, probably, until the smoke clears away and a good many young men of both races have died.

But it is evident that the excellent old game of imperialism is being played anew, and the wind-up will probably see a new sector of Africa experiencing the joys of European rule.

Two or three things are rather significant.

One is the fact that Abyssinia appealed to the League of Nations to settle the dispute, and that Italy refused to permit it. Another is that France, according to a recent cable, "has agreed tacitly to give Italy a free hand in dealing with Abyssinia, even to taking over most of the country."

In other words, Italy is behaving toward Abyssinia—with Europe's general consent—in much the same way that Japan behaved toward China; and this need not imply a criticism of either nation, because that is the way strong nations almost invariably behave toward weak ones.

Our own nation got possession of California and the other southwestern states in much the same way, incidentally.

Now the thing to bear in mind in this connection is simply the fact that a stream can rise no higher than its source. An international organization cannot impose on any nation a rule of conduct which all its member nations are not ready to accept for themselves.

The league, to be brief, could not keep Japan from taking what it wanted in the Orient because the leading members of the league have done the same sort of thing themselves and are prepared to do it again if they see fit.

The plain fact, then, is that no international league can keep the peace until the nations which compose it are ready to turn over a new leaf, individually, in their own dealings with other nations.

The Italian squabble with Abyssinia is clear proof that we have not yet reached that point. It explains why the league was impotent when Japan raided Manchuria.

WORK IS FIRST REQUIREMENT

Secretary Ickes makes a good point by informing the Senate munitions committee that PWA funds spent on naval construction produce less employment than a good many other public works undertakings.

This statement has some significance in view of the fact that the PWA has allotted some $238,000,000 to naval construction.

The issue here is not whether we need more warships. Considering the uncertain state of international relations, a great many citizens will feel more comfortable when our fleet is built up to treaty strength.

But if we are to do that, why should we not make straightforward appropriations of the money needed, in the customary fashion?

Money for public works is supposed, primarily, to increase employment. If naval construction is not an especially good way of attaining that goal, it might be wise to allot the money somewhere else.

The woman warden of the Oklahoma jail from which 31 convicts escaped must be wishing now that she had attended to her knitting—at home.

FEMININE FANCIES BY KATHLEEN EILAND

Some one has said that we are supposed to weep at moving pictures. If that's so, then it is just another example of our not liking to do what we are supposed to do.

All the same, we defy anybody to see the troubles of the "right-colored" negro girl and her black-as-Egypt mother in Claudette Colbert's new picture without at least sniffing a few times.

Spring is almost here. We are sure of it, when a Sunday school class becomes lyrical enough to name its contest groups for roses and poppies and tulips and snapdragons.

We notice that all the aviators and winners and people generally who defy death are quoted as using this or that cigarette as a soother for the nerves.

Of course, newspaper workers don't defy death—only time and the wrath of their fellow men—but we think that somebody should speak up and say a word for their stand-by—good old chewing gum.

GARDEN Gossip

Don't put off making window boxes until spring is upon you. There will be plenty of other tasks to perform during that busy period.

Make your boxes now in your leisure and next summer you will be delighted to find a window full of fragrant beauty.

Here is one form of gardening that the most crowded city dweller may enjoy, for it takes no land at all. Any window, even one that is shaded most of the day, can be used.

Boxes which spend most of the day in shade offer a special problem. If the shade is that of a building, perhaps, only foliage plants can be grown, such as ferns, fancy leaved caladiums, crotons, rubber plants, and other florists' subject. If there is some sun, tuberous rooted begonias will probably do well.

Impatiens, the Zanzibar balsam, bearing flowers of salmon or rose on bushy plants 18 inches tall, are excellent in semi-shaded places. Violas thrive in partial shade, and the list of flowers which will do well increases as the amount of sun is enlarged.

Rich soil of the type which florists call potting soil, should be used in window boxes, for there is so little of it to feed the flowers, it needs abundant plant food.

young lawyer lost his case and as he had faith in his client, he became the fact that so many men had taken the stand and perjured themselves.

"It's shameful, disgraceful," the lawyer said to his client, "that a dozen of your countrymen will get up there and swear falsely to defraud you out of your money." "The lawyer started to get more wrought up and more excited. "I wouldn't worry too much about it," the Greek finally said, "I didn't lose him the $500 in the first place."

A story is told about a young lawyer who was consulted by a Greek who had a small business. The Greek insisted that he had loaned $500 to another Greek and while he had not taken any note, he had four reputable Greeks who would swear that the loan was made in their presence. He explained that the man who had borrowed the money was trying to get out of paying it back. And the young lawyer brought suit and when the trial was had the other Greek produced at least a dozen witnesses who swore that they had seen the Greek pay back the $500 that was borrowed. And the

Unusual Domestic Drama Playing in "Imitation of Life"

The screen has shown nothing finer than "Imitation of Life," John M. Stahl's Universal production drama which has opened an engagement at the Yucatan with Claudette Colbert in the starring role.

Stahl has long been known as a master in the direction of domestic drama, and here he has undoubtedly exceeded all his past efforts. This may also be said of the versatile Miss Colbert, who delivers in this picture a characterization which she has never before approached. In moods of gaiety or of tragic drama she is equally effective, and at all times altogether charming.

Warren Williams is an attractive figure as her lover in the later sequences of the story, and Ned Sparks is his delightful self as the sour-visaged Elmer. Koshelle Hudson and Fredi Washington are pleasing as the two young girls in the story, the first as the white daughter of the widowed Miss Colbert, and the latter as the mulatto child of Louise Beavers. Miss Beavers is excellent in the greatest screen role ever played by a colored person. Of the children, three-year-old Baby Jane is revealed as a remarkable child actress of definite starring possibilities.

"Imitation of Life" perfectly directed and played, is the sort of picture that one expects once in a season, and deal with domestic problems in a manner which is absorbingly interesting.

14 MILE DEATH DROP

NEARLY 14 miles into the stratosphere rose the huge balloon, Stryx, manned by three Russians, Paul Fedosenko, Andrey Vasenko and Ilya Ouskskin. A record had been made. Then came the descent. Suddenly the spherical gondola broke from its moorings and crashed to earth. The three aeronauts were killed instantly. In memory of these men, the U. S. S. R. has issued three stamps, each reproducing the picture of one of the flyers, with the balloon in the background.

Your Income Tax (CLIP THIS DAILY)

No. 31 Extension for Filing Returns and Payment of Tax

It is important that the taxpayer render on or before the due date, which is March 15 if the return is filed on the calendar year basis, as complete and final return of income as possible. However, when by reason of illness, absence from home, inability to secure the necessary data, or for other good and sufficient reasons additional time is required, a reasonable extension of time may be granted. Application should be made in writing to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer files his returns on or before the due date of the return, a full recital of the causes for the delay being given. Except in the case of taxpayers who are abroad, no extension may be granted for a period of more than 6 months.

An extension of time for filing the return does not extend the time for payment of the tax, or any installment thereof, unless so specified in the extension. Application for an extension of time for payment of the tax, or any installment thereof, should be made on form 1127 to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue through the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer's return is filed. The applicant should set forth under oath the specific reason for desiring an extension and should clearly indicate what hardship, if any, would result if the extension were not granted. In addition, a statement of assets and liabilities showing the taxpayer's financial condition as of the last day of the preceding month, or as of the close of the last taxable period, and a separate statement of receipts and disbursements for each of the 3 months immediately preceding the month in which the application is filed should be submitted. The amount of tax for which the extension of time of payment is desired should be stated. The Commissioner will not consider an extension of time of payment unless request is made on or before the due date of the tax or installment thereof. If the extension is granted, interest at the rate of 6 per cent a year is collectible from the date the payment should have been made if there had been no extension to the expiration of the period of the extension.

Crop Aid Still Open To Farmers, Renters

There is still an opportunity for landowners and renters on the third- and fourth who are on relief rolls to obtain horses, tools, or other necessary equipment for crop-making through government aid, Colonel Sparkman, rural supervisor of the Texas Relief commission in cooperation with the Federal government in Midland, Martin, and Andrews counties, announced today.

He stressed the fact that there are two important conditions which must be met before such aid may be obtained: first, the landowner or renter must be on relief; and second, if the man is a renter, he must obtain from the landowner a waiver permitting the government first rights of repayment. Interest on government loans is set at 5 1/2 per cent.

Sparkman will be in Midland and receive applications for such aid on Tuesday and Wednesday of each week.

About 50 families have received this aid in the three counties under his supervision, Sparkman said. Eleven Midland county families are included.
